

"Free Speech" Injunction Upheld

U.S. COURT SAYS HAGUE CAN NOT STOP MEETINGS

NEWS IN BRIEF

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26 (AP).—The U. S. circuit court of appeals in a two to one decision today up-held with modifications a federal district court free speech injunction preventing Mayor Frank Hague and his Jersey City, N. J., administration from banning speeches and meetings sponsored by the Congress of Industrial Organizations and other groups.

Hague had appealed from the injunction granted by Federal Judge William Clark Nov. 2 on the grounds it would result in disorder and bloodshed in Jersey City.

The free speech injunction was obtained by the CIO, the American Civil Liberties union and other groups on the ground Hague was depriving them of their civil rights.

Modifications Required.—The modifications in the court's opinion were required in that, "it enjoined the appellants from enforcing their deliberate policy of forbidding the appellants or their sympathizers to hold meetings upon the public streets or places of Jersey City other than parks unless and until the defendants acting in their official capacities, attempt to enforce the deliberate policy of forbidding meetings of any kind in Jersey City."

The court said the ordinance restricting public parades and public assemblies in Jersey City "is not constitutional in view of the fact it permits the imposition of previous restraint upon the right of the individual to speak before an assembly of his fellows in a public place."

Prohibits Assembly.—The ordinance, therefore, "prohibits peaceable assembly upon terms repugnant to free speech."

"Freedom of speech and of the press are fundamental civil rights which are safeguarded to the individual by the due process clause of the 14th amendment."

FRANCO TROOPS TAKE BARCELONA

(From Page One)—From almost every balcony as the nationalistic marching bands beat of Barcelona where five converging columns were welcomed by cheering crowds.

Children Sing.—When our automobile reached the streets known as the Diagonal, headed by the heart of the city, the first group we saw was a band of crippled children who raised their crutches in welcome and sang the national hymn.

Closer to the heart of the city, the crowd stopped our automobile and ran from the houses to embrace the incoming troops. An old woman kissed the hand of a nationalist officer with me. Men clanked rifles and of our car and waved the nationalist flag.

At the great plaza Catalunya, thousands of persons surged forward. The cheering crowd was so great that it was only with difficulty that we managed to get through to the cable office in the subway station to file this dispatch.

Crowds Swarm.—In the plaza, officers I knew to be hard-bitten men had tears in their eyes as they were embraced by girls and women so nearly hysterical that they hardly could speak.

Soldiers, with bayonets snapping, marched through every avenue. Many of them were singing. Other times crowds swarmed around them so densely that their columns halted.

Nationalist officers said they appeared to be no doubt that the population had undergone severe hardships.

Children on the street asked first for food. The older demonstrators usually greeted the troops with cheers and embraces but they, too, asked for food after the first outburst of enthusiastic welcome.

Girls Join in Birthday Ball Ticket Selling

(From Page One)—check the girls in and out each day. Tickets are available at headquarters, the armories.

Sales Progress.—Mrs. Alvin Smith, after noon that sales over the county are "progressing rapidly" and that from present indications it is believed the fund raised, to aid crippled children in this county, will be substantial.

Tickets are also on sale at the Elks club and in Twin Falls, where, as well as by community centers in the various towns throughout the county.

Cost of a ticket is 25 cents, admitting one couple to the President's dance. Half the funds raised will go to the national fund, the other half will be held at Hamilton on the only President's birthday ball in this county.

Idaho Students aren't Quite This Rampant—Or are They?

Boys will be boys—but it's tough on the "cops" in a college town, according to newspaper accounts received here by the former University of Illinois students.

And just to show you that University of Idaho students are apparently more restrained than their collegiate "brothers" in other states, here's the account of a snow battle control fight escaped through the rear door, unlatched by one of scores of friendly hands.

The two lead officers drew block ahead, got out, hitched to their trousers, and started out wild pursuit of the offenders. Whirlpells criss-crossed their path from every perspective, many finding focal points.

"More than 500 inmates of fraternity row mounded themselves a

SEED SPUD CROP DECLINES IN '38

BOISE, Jan. 26 (Special).—National production of certified seed potatoes in 1938 was 28 per cent smaller than the record crop of 1937, but 13 per cent larger than the five-year (1932-36) average, according to the bureau of agricultural economics.

The reports of certifying agencies in 26 states indicate that the total quantity certified in 1938 is 11,204,488 bushels, compared with 15,485,430 bushels in 1937 and 9,881,052 bushels, the average for the five-year period.

The 1938 production was the largest on record for the Dakotas, Oregon and Utah; it was the next to the largest for Minnesota, Washington and Colorado. On the other hand, Vermont produced in 1938 the smallest quantity of any year on record.

Production in 16 states was smaller in 1938 than in 1937, while in 10 other states it was larger. The decrease in the number of bushels certified in 1938 was in the following order: Maine, Minnesota, Nebraska, California, New Jersey, Washington, Montana, Pennsylvania, New York, Vermont, Louisiana, Wyoming, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Ohio and North Carolina. The increases in 1938 over 1937 occurred in this order: North Dakota, Wisconsin, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, South Dakota, Michigan, Oregon, Maryland and Kentucky.

Of the varieties certified in 1938, Columbia constituted 38.8 per cent of the total, followed by the following in the order of the percentages of the total quantity certified: Columbia (38.8), Green Mountain (15.2), Netted Gem (5.4), Katahdin (4.1), Russet Rural (3.9), Chippewa (3.1), White Rose (2.5), Early Wonder (2.2), Rural New Yorker (2.2), Spaulding (2.1), Burbank Russet (1.5), Burbank (1.4), other varieties (4.2).

Prices offered to growers for certified seed potatoes on Dec. 1, 1938, averaged about 20 cents a bushel higher than a year earlier. Prices this year ranged mostly from about 65 cents to $1 a bushel, although prices were as low as 53 to 60 cents in a few states and as high as $1.50 or more in two or three states. Movement of the crop from growers this year has been slower than last year in a majority of states. Only about one-eighth of the total quantity of potatoes certified had been sold by growers up to Dec. 1.

Idaho's production during 1938 was 273,783 bushels, the bureau of agricultural economics reported.

For the first time in Idaho's history, it was noted Gem, which aggregated 243,800 bushels.

NATIONAL UNION STOCKS LARGER

BOISE, Jan. 26 (Special).—Onion stocks in the hands of growers and dealers on Jan. 1, 1939, were 28 per cent larger than on Jan. 1, 1938, but eight per cent smaller than the quantity held on Jan. 1, 1937. This estimate by the crop reporting bureau of agricultural economics is based on reports from crop correspondents on field investigations and other check data.

A total of 3,359,000 sacks (100 pounds) is indicated to have been on hand Jan. 1, 1939, compared with 2,115,000 sacks a year earlier, and with 3,662,000 sacks on Jan. 1, 1937.

Stocks in the eastern states (New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania) are eight per cent lighter than a year ago, while holdings in the central and western areas show increases over Jan. 1, 1938, stocks of 10 and 12 per cent, respectively.

Shrinkage and waste to Jan. 1 was heavier this season than last. At the same time, however, the loss of shrinkage and waste to Jan. 1 was somewhat lighter than last year, total shrinkage and waste to Jan. 1 was larger than a year earlier, because of the loss of shrinkage and waste to Jan. 1.

Disappearance, however, was not large enough to effect the increase in production, and as a consequence more onions were held by growers and local dealers at the beginning of this year than last.

Of the estimated disappearance of 7,783,000 sacks from the 1938 crop to Jan. 1, about 13 per cent can be accounted for as movement to various parts by rail or boat. About 19 per cent is estimated to have been lost in shrinkage and waste to Jan. 1.

The farm, this leaves 28 per cent for motor truck movement and local sales. The shipping season to Jan. 1, 1939, has been characterized by heavy motor truck shipments and relatively light movement by rail and boat.
