U. S. GERMAN ENVOY DEMANDS HIS VIEWS BE KEPT SECRET

GENERAL PICTURE OF SITUATION IN EUROPE OUTLINED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (U.P.)—Hugh Wilson, U. S. ambassador to Germany, today told the senate military affairs committee his views on the European situation but insisted that his testimony be kept secret. Committee members said Wilson demanded secrecy and the official stenographer be debarred from the room before he would talk.

The ambassador gave out just a general picture, one member said. "He refused to answer many questions on the ground that his usefulness abroad might be impaired."

Chairman Morris Sheppard, D., Tex., said Wilson was heard "on the same basis as Ambassador Joseph Kennedy and William Bullitt were heard recently at a joint session of the senate and house military affairs committees."

Wilson held a brief conference with Sheppard and several Democratic members of the committee before testifying.

Sen. H. Styles Bridges, R., N. H., who requested the ambassador's appearance, said that his testimony was "most general."

Bridges said earlier he wanted to determine whether Wilson's views of the European situation coincided with those held by Kennedy and Bullitt. He had said he had reason to believe that they did not.

Asked later whether he had satisfied his belief, Bridges said: "It was difficult to obtain any specific information because the ambassador declined to answer many questions on the ground that his usefulness might be impaired."

Wilson said that, yesterday afternoon the committee concerning a French mission's visit to the United States to buy 500 war planes had indicated that the committee was "most general."

Car Wrecked; Man's Pants Catch Ablaze

Although matches in his pocket caught fire, burning his trousers and his right leg, Homer Morgan, 40, Glenns Ferry motorist, escaped serious injury when his car was wrecked on the highway and bursted off a telephone pole six miles east of Glenns Ferry.

Morgan was arrested by a state highway patrolman and was fined $25 and costs by Justice L. T. Dixon at Glenns Ferry. The man's driver license was suspended for 60 days, the state traffic officer said here.

The autoist paid his fine and was released. The charge was reckless driving.

Morgan and his two passengers were considerably bruised, but the driver's minor burns on the leg were the worst injury. The matches caught fire in his pocket after Morgan's car left the road, broke off the pole and then landed back on the highway. The car was completely demolished, the traffic officer said.

The accident occurred on U. S. 30. The officer indicated that credit for good fortune the driver's pants, pocket flares might have caught fire to exploding gasoline in the tank, which would have resulted in a serious injury to the three occupants of the car.

CLIMAX NEAR IN SPAIN'S CONFLICT, ENGLAND LEARNS

LONDON, Feb. 17 (U.P.)—Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax has indicated to conservative members of the house of commons foreign affairs committee that the climax of the Spanish civil war is expected at zero temperature. It was understood today.

Coincidentally it was reported in diplomatic circles that both the British and French special envoys to the nationalist government had been instructed to ask Generalissimo Francisco Franco how far he would go in accepting the three-point peace program advanced by loyalist Premier Juan Negrin just before the fall of Catalonia.

These points were outlined by Negrin on Feb. 1: (1) A guarantee of independence and integrity for Spain; (2) freedom from all foreign influences and a free life for the Spanish people; (3) no persecution of the civil population and no reprisals.

All Cabinet Present Lord Halifax made his statement at a secret meeting last night at which not only the conservative members of the house foreign committee but nearly all members of the cabinet were present.

Indicating that the climax—that is, an end-of-the-civil-war might be expected at any time, Lord Halifax added that Generalissimo Franco still insisted on unconditional surrender and the loyalists were holding out for conditions.

Nothing Definite A United Press international said viscount Halifax, after reviewing the British government's decision in principle to recognize the nationalist government, emphasized he was unable to fill in the details because nothing had been definitely settled.

But he added conditions of recognition were being discussed. He said that the British government was in contact with the nationalist government through the French government.

Throngs Jam Frisco For Opening of Fair

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17 (U.P.)—A promise of sunshine and a threat of a traffic jam were forthcoming today as San Francisco and the entire bay area joined in celebrating the opening tomorrow of the $50,000,000 Golden Gate International exposition.

Winding up four days of a preview celebration that turned San Francisco and its neighboring cities into "wild west" camps, the citizens found themselves gripped by even more last-minute excitement than fair officials hopefully had anticipated.

With the weatherman's announcement that bright sunshine and warm temperatures would prevail over the week-end, it was estimated that as many as 300,000 persons would jam the mid-day island site of the fair on the first of 268 days of the "Fareast of the Pacific" is to run.

Just how many of those who wish to attend opening-day festivities would get on the fair grounds was another question, although fair leaders and the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge were geared for capacity loads.

The fair will be opened to the public tomorrow at 8 a. m. but will not be officially opened until 10 a. m. when the president of the United States will arrive.

At noon the fair will be dedicated by President Roosevelt from the U. S. Capitol in Washington. At 2 p. m. the president will arrive in San Francisco.

INSANE ASYLUM BURNS AS 1,797 LED TO SAFETY

QUEBEC, Feb. 17 (U.P.)—Fire and fuel tank explosions completed the destruction of the Beauport insane asylum early today when 1,797 hysterical patients had been led or dragged to safety into a 15-below-zero temperature under the direction of a battalion of militia.

The fire had been raging in the east wing since 11 p. m. Yesterday but did not get completely out of control until last night. There it reached the central building, which with five wings comprises the vast institution operated by the Roman Catholic order of grey nuns.

Flames began exploding from flaming embers 1,500 feet. A hurried call was sent for troops and the 1,300 inmates still in the building were evacuated.

Many of the patients were violent. Some had not been out of their rooms for years.

Patients Safely Quarantined Soon after midnight, however, all patients had been safely quarantined in other parts of Quebec. In jails, then, barracks and even in private homes.

By 8:00 a. m. the fire had nearly burned itself out. Only a few walls remained standing. Firemen, however, continued to pour streams of water on the ruins. Damage was estimated at $2,000,000.

The casualties were: One patient died of a heart attack and two firemen injured.

Base at Guam Is Included in Airplane Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (U.P.)—The house naval affairs committee today reported favorably, with only one dissenting vote, a $52,000,000 authorization bill for 11 major naval air bases in the Pacific ocean and the United States. The measure includes the controversial base at Guam.

The only dissenting vote on the report came from Rep. Joseph Shannon, D., Mo., who voted "no."

Republican members of the committee gave no indication they would file a minority report.

House majority leaders said they expected to take the bill up early next week, probably Tuesday.

The most controversial item in the bill was $45,000,000 for harbor work on the island of Guam, some 1,600 miles from the Japanese mainland.

Retain Guam Project The committee voted earlier to retain the Guam project, which Republican members argued would invite serious diplomatic difficulty with Japan.

Naval officials testified before the committee that no fortifications were to be placed on Guam, but said the navy might eventually ask that $40,000,000 be spent to fortify the island so it could hold against a major attack for at least a month—until the continental defenses could be organized.

115 Base Planes The chain of air bases authorized in the Vinson bill would permit the basing of 115 more planes in the Pacific in far-flung bases from Alaska to the Canal Zone.

The bill included $1,500,000 for the construction of a new base at Point Gore, in the mouth of the Columbia river.

WEED WAR ADDS ADDITIONAL PLAN

Reaction of Twin Falls county farmers today had assured addition of "weed cultivation" to the method used in the county's war on noxious weeds.

Approximately 80 persons assembled at district court last night to hear the weed campaign continued and to hear the plans for cultivation as an added weapon. General meetings were already in use.

Eight in Sight—Although no sign-up was conducted at the meeting, it was indicated that at least 60 acres would be secured with enough more in sight to make the cultivation program worthwhile.

H. L. Spence, Jr., extension division agronomist, who heads the WPA campaign against weed parasites, explained the time-tested worth of the cultivation method and described it as the most economical of all systems. He termed it also the most practical and effective.

Explains Method—J. P. Hunt, director of the county weed bureau, said that the interest shown will justify the equipment in buying the necessary equipment to supplement chemical warfare with cultivation. He explained the latter method by which the equipment would cultivate infested fields on regular schedule for two years.

Estimated maximum cost would be about $15 per acre for each year, making a total of $30 per acre for the entire two-year period. Estimated cost runs about $15 to $25 per acre. WPA will provide labor under county supervision, but farmers will be required for operation costs of equipment.

"It exempts specifically any truck engaged in farm-to-market shipping," he said. "It is only when a truck operator gets into a true commercial field of competing for business that he is subject to this act."

IDAHO GOP HEADS WILL FIGHT ADDED PROPERTY TAX

LEADERS MANAGE RECONSIDERATION ON PASSED BILL

BOISE, Feb. 17 (U.P.)—Republican administration leaders, threatened with the passage of a bill which would create county school equalization funds raised by additional property tax levies, today threw their weight against the measure.

The bill, passed by the house, slipped through the senate late yesterday by a 27 to 14 vote, but the senate leaders managed to secure a notice of reconsideration which will bring the bill back for another vote.

The measure provides that county commissioners may set up county school equalization funds for which not more than three mills may be levied.

Added Levy
It passed the senate on an appeal from Sen. Philip Ryan, 2nd district, who said that his county school districts were short of funds. He explained the bill would create a method by which additional school taxes could be levied by his county.

Administration leaders charged, however, the bill was presented by the education lobby, which desired more funds for school purposes.

They estimated if every county in the state levied the maximum three mills extra, the tax would raise $1,750,000.

Fish, Game Bills Pass
Passed were three fish and game bills which would prohibit shipment from the state of game birds by hunters; define open season for trapping of fur-bearing animals; prohibit maintenance of hunting lodges and dude ranches on game preserves.

Also passed were bills which would allow county officers to trade in obsolete and worn equipment for new; grant civil service commissions to cities of the first class; allow deductions of federal taxes in computation of net income for payment of the state income tax; prohibit sale of adulterated sausage; allow the city of Lewiston to increase its maximum tax levy from 15 to 17 1/2 mills.

MARY JOYCE

By ROBERT FAIRBANKS
SUN VALLEY, Ida. (U.P.)—It has become a find for men at this winter resort to take a lady friend riding, especially on moonlight nights. So recently Mary Joyce, famed Alaskan musher and the only woman ever to drive a dog team the 1,000 miles from Juneau to Fairbanks, Alaska, was asked to come here with her team of 11 huskies.

Miss Joyce will remain until April when she will return to Taku, Alaska, the summer resort she owns 40 miles from Juneau.

To reach here, Miss Joyce traveled by dog team, airplane, boat and train. Her dogs had been in the air before, but they never traveled on trains or boats. She said the dogs did not get seasick, but they resented being caged and were anxious to have fresh air.

Until Miss Joyce arrived in Seattle, railroad officials were concerned how to transport the huskies to Sun Valley. They did not know whether the dogs were caged or on leash. It was planned to use a motor bus to carry them, which would have been a horse-car.

It was feared the dogs would fight if they were not separated by something like the shells in horse-car. However, with the dogs in cages, they were consigned to the express company.

River Pilot and Pilot, Too
In addition to her skill as a musher, Miss Joyce is an expert pilot on the Taku river, a licensed radio operator, an airplane pilot and a movie star.

Miss Joyce made a movie last summer soon after she moved her government team to operate the government radio station KATJ last June. The picture, which has not been released, will probably be called "Golden River."

The scenes were made in the Taku river where "The Call of the Yukon" was made. They were under dog teams are used both winter and summer in Alaska. They are the principal mode of transportation in many regions. In summer the huskies are used to pull carts.

Miss Joyce lights her dogs herself, also has 18 others who live in Alaska. She said it only takes a few days to train them. "They're easy about work. They're the only human beings that are," and that indicates how she feels about the huskies. Her proudest of them and with tolerance in observing remarks with tolerance in observing remarks.

Three Teams on Hand
The dogs Miss Joyce brought made the third team here. The other two teams each have eight dogs and a leader. One of the three Miss Joyce's, is a regular Alaskan husky team while the other

Club Group Studies Dramatic Technique

BURLEY, Feb. 17 (Special)—Mrs. L. S. Powers was program chairman at the 42nd regular meeting Friday night of the Delta Sigma chapter of the Delphic club in the district court room. Ten members were present.

Mrs. Powers introduced the subject, "A Study of Modern Play Making." Mrs. W. A. Shear discussed "The Story of the Plot" and Mrs. Ross Youmans talked on "Technique of the Plot." "Use of Dramatic Devices" was the subject chosen by Mrs. Lawrence Dunn, and "Rhythm of Character and Incident" by Miss Rena Carr.

Group discussion concerned the theme and symbolism of the play and a study of the dialogue. Mrs. Arthur Coleman was in charge of the current events section of the meeting and talked on "Picket Line and Conference." The next meeting will be Feb. 24.

Miss Joyce was 27 years old when she completed her 1,000 mile trip to Fairbanks on March 26, 1928. Her actual traveling time was 32 days, although she started Dec. 22, 1925. She averaged about 25 miles a day, but she stopped along the way several times.

When she arrived in Fairbanks, she delivered to the mayor the letter she carried from Juneau. The Fairbanks Ice Carnival association presented her with a silver cup a foot high, bearing a suitable inscription about her accomplishment. Miss Joyce used only five huskies on that trip.

Ketchum will See Parade to Open Festival

That's the final word from committee in charge of the Ketchum festival first annual event of its kind, slated here Sunday.

The parade, at 1:30 p. m., will see dog sled teams, sleighs, cutters, skiers, lumberjacks and lots more marching down the main street, according to General Chairman Ole Reeve.

Next event will be dog-sled races, expected to draw some of Idaho's fastest outfits. Mike O'Parrell is chairman of that portion of the program. The finish line will be at the center of town.

Ski-joring and bobbed racing will add variety, and lumberjacks will provide a touch of the forest frontier in log-splitting and sawing contests.

Children between 12 and 15 will have their own dog race, as will the ladies. Novel feature will be a race between old-fashioned "work" bobsleds. Another is to be pulling competition for work dogs used to haul mountain loads.

Big Barbecue
Beef barbecue and fire beer for everybody is booked for 8 p. m., followed by the carnival dance. Jack Bowden is town marshal and ski-joring chairman; Tom Pica is bobbed race chairman; Ole Reeve is handling special events; Pappy Hayter is chairman of the lumberjack contests; Herb Bocot is barbecue chairman; Blanche McGill is dance chairman, and J. A. Hicks is publicity chief.

Reno Proud
RENO, Nev. (U.P.)—Reno is really getting on the map, and not on account of its divorce facilities. During one month the Chamber of Commerce had requests for information from 30 states and seven foreign countries. They numbered 476, ranging from sports to agriculture and only 34 relative to divorce.

Military School Sends 32 Cadets To Idaho Resort

SUN VALLEY, Feb. 17 (Special)—The Missouri Military academy will descend on Sun Valley 32 strong here Sunday.

That many cadets from the military school at Mexico, Mo., will have a six-day stay at Challenger up on an educational trip of the type that first-class prep schools are now undertaking. All of the youths will try to learn skiing during their short stay.

The boys will be under supervision of Col. C. R. Strubbing. The cadets don't know it yet, but they'll get in on an added touch of old-west atmosphere because their arrival is timed with the first annual Ketchum carnival, also slated for Sunday.

TUMBLE
This tumbling business is a bit strenuous.

Society

Satirical Merriment Marks Kiwanis Meet

When the women "took over the reins" at the Kiwanis club dinner last evening at the Park hotel, it was evident that much sleuthing had been done, so apt were the lampoons thrust at guests and club members alike. In fact, the program might have been sub-titled, "What you think your neighbor doesn't know about you."

Following the address of welcome by Wilbur S. Hill, club president, Mrs. R. J. Schwendiman, general program chairman, took charge, announcing the numbers. Had Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen been in the audience, they could have taken some tips on future acts from Dr. Frank J. McAttee and R. P. Robinson. Their satire "slaughtered" the Kiwanis membership.

Plenty of satire Nor did the women guests escape the barbs. Mrs. Charles B. Beymer, Mrs. Joseph Scott, Mrs. R. J. Gilbert and Mrs. Harry Block, over a couple of bridge hands, "told all" concerning the feminine members of the dinner party.

Mrs. U. N. Terry led the men in singing a group of original songs composed by the men, which the men were not too gently satirized. Mrs. O. P. Duval played the piano accompaniment. James Reynolds led the group in the singing of the opening song.

Mrs. R. P. Robinson presented an hilarious burlesque of a program of magic, looked at the magic with Patricia Smith played a series of pianofortes. Among the dedications were "Farmer in the Dell," to the agricultural presenters, "Soldier's Love," to the merchants, and a wedding march, to J. B. Trullinger.

The program also included several musical numbers. Jack Thomas sang "Old Man River" accompanied by Miss Eunice Ewer. Miss Mary Hoover played a piano selection. Miss Jean Pierce and Miss Joyce Pierce gave two vocal duets, accompanied by Miss Smith, Billy Watts and Marie Guerry appeared in "Gypsy" and "Small Fry" blackface songs and dance acts which were so well received at the table.

Almost military in tailored neatness, were the smart decorations for the several long tables at which covers were arranged for the 120 guests attending.

Budding lilac branches, to which minute cherries had been attached, were arranged at intervals. The length of the tables, in close proximity were small hatched ties with red, white and blue.

Triads of flags, those of the United States, Great Britain and Kiwanis, interspersed with red, white and blue, and white and blue, topped the cake.

Miniature replicas of the birthday cake were served to each child. Favors were balloons and Valentine's trinkets. Symbols of the Valentine season made the home attractive for the jolly party.

Mrs. Hollenbeck was assisted in serving by Mrs. G. W. Gerlach. Bidden to the celebration were Hal Hollenbeck, brother, and Valentin Hollenbeck, Carolyn Hollenbeck, Burton Sigman and Bobby Sigman, cousins of the honoree. Betty Pink, Junior and Joseph Allen, friends of George and Martha Washington, arranged on a reflector, centered another table, and the patriotic motif was favored at the third table. Hatched-shaped cookies, individual cherry pies and huge gum drops in the favored colors, reflected the decorations of the men.

Mrs. Childs and Mrs. Murphy will entertain at the next meeting.

HONOR COMES TO LOCAL STUDENT Miss Margaret Davis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Davis, Twin Falls, was elected to Delta Delta Delta, national pre-medical fraternity.

APPLICATION FOR PROGRAMS FILED WITH FCC HEADS

By JAMES E. ROPER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—The Mormon church has asked the Federal Communications Commission for permission to purchase and operate a powerful short-wave radio station capable of blanketing South America and Europe with "American culture" programs.

It was learned that the church-controlled Radio Service corporation of Utah has asked the FCC for authority to buy and transfer to Salt Lake City short wave station WQXA now owned by the Church Federation of Labor.

Officials of the corporation said they would equip the station with directional antennae for "beaming" programs to specific countries and increase its power from 500 to 10,000 watts—enough to send its signals virtually in any part of the world.

Culture Programs

The station would attempt to present the better side of American culture to foreign countries, the officials said, by offering varied programs of news and entertainment, and educational features.

The application said the corporation also would conduct intensive scientific experiments with the short wave station, operating on a non-commercial basis, the station would make possible the study of directional antennae at great distances, transmission of signals across the north and south poles and other problems confronting the broadcast industry.

The Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints—the Mormons—already owns and operates a 50,000-watt station KSL at Salt Lake City.

500 Missionaries to Listen

Eugene Pack, chief engineer for KSL, told the commission the church planned to use 500 of its missionaries as listeners in foreign countries. These listeners, scattered in 25 nations, would be trained to operate short wave receiving sets and aid in preparing programs suitable for various nationalities.

A church representative in a particular country will be in an excellent position to plan programs for that country, the corporation said. "We will know the country's particular tastes and state of mind and will be on hand to detect the source reaction if something goes wrong."

Fleece Grown Here Granted Ogden Honors

Prize wool fleece produced by A. E. Holmquist and his sons, Lloyd and Harry, has won the other cash award today to prove that south Idaho fleeces are among the best.

Mr. Holmquist received a check for $12, plus a blue ribbon indicating of first place at the Ogden livestock show. The award came for first premium in slow one-quarter blood fleece. The same fleece won first place and a cash prize at the Western Idaho State fair in Boise last season, and was displayed at the Twin Falls county fair, which had no wool competition.

Mr. Holmquist and Lloyd operate a ranch one mile north and three-fourths of a mile east of Washington school. Harry runs the ranch three miles west and one mile north of Five Points West.

Public Forum

THROWING MONEY AWAY

Editor, Evening Times.

In the Evening Times of a recent date there appeared an editorial purporting to answer a letter of mine in the Public Forum, wherein I urged Idaho's agricultural products advertising campaign as throwing money away. Your writer accuses me of inconsistency and also misinterprets my statements.

If, as your editorial writer claims (and I do not think the Idaho advertising campaign would hurt him) up the present advertising campaign is predicated solely upon an attempt to reach the higher class of society, it is even more wasteful than I had thought.

A study of this higher class buying habits will show they can afford all ranges of prices and variety of foods. The newest thing on the market is what they want. Starting with the first of the year, their purchases of potatoes will begin with new potatoes from Cuba, and from Florida; as the season advances, the early California and Texas potatoes are next purchased; and so on through the year, with Idaho's enjoying their brief term of popularity. So you see, among this class of society, Idaho's potatoes are but one of many other potatoes.

As to the other statements in the editorial, I will say I used the illustration of the White Rose potato to illustrate what superior grading and packing means in higher prices.

As to Maine's success, a study of the campaign will show that it was more because of the forming of growers' cooperatives, which in turn established new standards of grading and packing and marketing; and too, because of the promotional work of the field-men who traveled over the eastern states, setting up display, promoting contents and quality of the product.

The Idaho potato is exclusively an Idaho state product. Being grown locally, its planting and marketing can be controlled by growers' cooperatives assisted by the state. California citrus cooperatives and the farmers' referendum laws are an example. Thus quantity and quality standards can be observed, and the shipping to different markets can be controlled to avoid glut and to get the highest prices possible.

I will cite here an instance of grading which will bring my farmer or cooperative higher prices for his potatoes than if marketed under the old way of 100-lb. sacks: Pack a 30 or 40 pound wooden box with uniform sized Idaho Russets; each washed, waxed, and stamped with a trademark, then wrapped individually—of course a farmer's whole crop of potatoes could not be marketed, due to irregularities of size and demand, but for that portion which is marketed, the return would give him a very good profit.

URGES SEE FOR YOURSELF

ON RECOVERY PLAN

To the Editor:

May I ask space in the Forum to inform those readers who are sufficiently interested in the welfare and prosperity of our nation to understand the Townsend plan, that in writing their congressman for a copy of the bill embodying the plan and introduced in congress during this session, that they specify H. R. 2 introduced by Rep. Joe Hendricks of Florida.

Owing to the similarity of the titles of several bills introduced this session there naturally is confusion in the mind of your congressman as to which bill you refer unless you specify H. R. 2.

This bill, the most talked about, debated, ridiculed, vilified, lauded and by many almost revered, has aroused more public interest than any bill that has been before congress in recent years. With all this aroused public interest one continually hears business and professional men as well as mechanics and laborers discussing the plan, who from their statements (or rather from their statements) prove conclusively that they have never studied or perhaps even read the bill but have gained what information they have from the Daily of a newspaper.

The most common mistake is that the bill calls for $200 per month to those eligible. The next is that congress shall be required to issue new money to meet these payments. Neither of these statements are in accordance with the bill.

Surely if this plan is worth the time to talk over and discuss, it is worth a penny post card addressed to our congressman requesting a copy of the bill embodying the plan, that we may be informed as to just what it stands for.

The main objectors seem to be those who are ignorant of the workings of the plan, and those in the big income brackets who can figure out the way of dodging payment of their just share of taxation should this bill, H. R. 2, be passed. Naturally those of the last group, through selfish motives, even avoid the plan, but to all others let me suggest that right now you request of your congressman a copy of this bill, H. R. 2, and judge its merits for yourself by a personal knowledge of what the bill is. You will also be better able to understand and enjoy the debate when the fight reaches the floor of congress as it seems almost certain it will during this session.

Thanking you respectfully,

CHAS. H. PURKIS

LAST RITES HELD FOR MRS. PAGE

BURLEY, Feb. 17 (Special)—At

Mrs. Page died at the hospital here Sunday following an illness of six weeks.

She was an active member of the L. D. S. church and in 1913 was the youngest Gold Star mother in the delegation to France. The funeral was conferred upon her for raising her brother, who was killed in the World War.

Order of Service

Deputy Sheriff George Bray gave the invocation.

Mrs. Edith Corless sang "Face to Face" after which H. O. Hall, Bishop M. P. Rasmussen of Springfield, and E. Nichols spoke. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Johnson sang "Some Time, Somewhere." Closing remarks were made by Bishop Oliver. A vocal duet was sung by Kenneth Riggs and Mrs. Harvey Johnson, "Saved by Grace." Closing prayer was by Delmaria Page.

Guard of Honor

Interment was in the family plot in the Burley cemetery under the direction of the Burley funeral home. Riley Judd, brother of Mrs. Page from Nephi, Utah, gave the grave dedication.

Flower bearers were members of the first ward Relief society under the direction of Mrs. Fern McCulloch. The Burley fire department stood on guard at the entrance to the grave.

Sheriff As Bearers

Palbearers were Clarence Phillips, Sheriff W. F. Mansfield of Rupert, Sheriff Buck Davis of Power county, Art Parker of Twin Falls, Sterling Clark and Percy Worthington. Honorary palbearers were Mayor H. L. Harper, George Bray, Lester McKean, J. P. Deardorff, Seth Harper, and Jack Henderson. Many beautiful floral tributes were sent in honor of the deceased, and a great number of friends and relatives attended the funeral services.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement and also for the beautiful floral offerings.
