Senate Passes Bill Extending Life of Export-Import Bank

BITTER DEBATES MARK APPROVAL OF DEMOS' ACT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (U.P.)—After hot debate over loans to foreign countries the senate today passed a house-approved bill extending operations of the export-import bank and the commodity credit corporation until June 30, 1941.

The bill provided that outstanding loans and other obligations of the export-import bank shall not exceed $100,000,000. It increases the borrowing authority of the Commodity Credit Corporation from $500,000,000 to $600,000,000.

Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., demanded to know whether the administration had any assurance that a $600,000,000 export-import bank loan to Haiti would be repaid "without sending the marines to Haiti again."

He criticized the bank's commitments to foreign governments or to institutions owned by foreign governments, and recalled the last time the marines were sent to Haiti.

"Are we going to send the marines there again?" he asked.

"No," replied Sen. Robert F. Wagner, D. N. Y., who was in charge of the bill. "We've adopted the good neighbor policy, and the senator ought to know that the people of the United States approve that policy and do not approve of sending marines anywhere to collect military debts."

"Have you any assurance that we can get the money back without the marines?" Taft snapped.

"Yes," Wagner said. "Haiti is an honorable country and is not in default of this loan."

Sen. William H. King, D. Utah, who urged curbing of the borrowing powers of both the export-import bank and the commodity credit corporation, defended the bank's operations.

He said the bank had been successful in turning money to the export-import bank in excess of $100,000,000. That will be the amount before the bill can be sent to the President for signature.

STORE MAN DIES, THEN IS BURNED

George Richardson, about 70, owner of a local meat and second hand store, died yesterday morning. His body was badly burned when, apparently after death, it fell on a heated stove.

The body of Richardson was discovered by Fire Chief Fred Perry after he and his force had answered an alarm turned in by a passerby who informed them that the Richardson store was on fire. The heat of the stove, after being turned on, had also ignited several bottles which the man had wrapped around his body, apparently to warm himself after building a fire in the stove and waiting for it to burn.

It was the smoke and flames from the stove, as well as from Richardson's clothing, which attracted the passerby.

Heart Failure Probable
Dr. James Greer, county coroner, said after an investigation that death was probably due to heart failure. Police said the man had complained of feeling ill for more than a week.

Richardson had been in the new and second hand business at 326 Main avenue since 1925. He was 70 years old. Prior to that, he had been in the hardware business at 326 Main avenue.

Richardson was a well-known figure in the community. He was a member of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and the Twin Falls Rotary Club.

Defense Starts Plea In Hines Racket Case

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (U.P.)—The defense began today the summation it hopes will clear Tammany district leader James J. Hines of racket charges after losing two motions to strike out certain testimony against him and two others for dismissal of the indictment.

Harvard Student Spends 18 Years In College Study

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 23 (U.P.)—George Howard Burch, 30, claimed the title of the nation's No. 1 perpetual college boy today.

Now completing his 18th year at Harvard university, and his 14th year as a student at the Harvard graduate school of arts and sciences, Burch said he planned to continue his studies indefinitely.

An advanced student in philosophy, he said he had no particular aim in view.

During his marathon college career he was married and became the father of two children. An independent income permits him to be philosophical.

Solons May Complete Toll Action Today

BOSTON, Feb. 23 (U.P.)—Possibility that house action on the toll bridge might be completed by tonight was seen here today with forecast that the toll may be lowered by suspension of rules this afternoon from second to third reading.

Normally, the second reading in the house was to be today with final reading Friday.

Rep. E. E. Loughton, Twin Falls, asked late yesterday whether the measure, which would allow the state to buy the Twin Falls-Jerome bridge by issuance of $500,000 in treasury notes, be rushed to third reading before tonight. Suspension of rules would be necessary.

The committee on appropriations recommended Wednesday afternoon that the bill "do pass" in rejecting it out to the house.

If approved in the house, the bill will go to the senate. It provides that the state would finance the purchase by levying a very small tax on all automobiles which do not pay an income tax in Idaho. The tax could not be passed on to motorists.

A toll bridge committee would administer the act.

Evidence Points to Hoax in Reported Submarine's Torpedo Bombing of Ship

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (U.P.)—Evidence accumulated today that someone somewhere in the southeast Atlantic, south of Europe, or the Azores islands had played a grim joke on an uneasy world.

The joke, if it was a joke, was this: Radio message sent from a place and by a person unknown yesterday morning:

"SOS . . . SOS . . . Torpedoed by unknown submarine. Help! Help! Help! Sinking. 22.10 north 24.45 west. 8 a. m. PECC."

The message was heard by only one ship—the United States freighter ship, Tulsa, en route from Hamburg, Germany, to Savannah, Ga., which was then some 100 miles south and west of the Azores. The position given in the message is some 300 miles south of the Azores.

At dusk last night, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia arrived there and found no trace of a ship, no wreckage, no oil slick. The weather was good, visibility was excellent. It searched the entire area, then turned the search over to the Greek freighter, Mount Pelion, which also had responded to the message relayed by the Tulsa.

Meanwhile, in Europe and the United States, marine authorities and experts tried frantically to identify the sending point, then presumed to be a ship in distress, from the call letters, PECC. It was found that three letters had been assigned to a tiny Dutch fishing trawler, Plandria, too small to have been that far from its home port—Amsterdam. They had been assigned in 1936 to a Dutch freighter of the same name, but when the freighter was sold to French interests it was renamed and given new call letters.

The final theory was that it might have been the British tanker Pecten, en route from Trinidad to Southampton, but today, that theory was exploded, when Lloyd's reported in London the Pecten had been in normal radio communication with the Tulsa head station this morning.

The position was that far west—300 miles due west of the Canary Islands—to be within the normal range of operation of Spanish national submarines—and Tulsa was too far east of the local of the present maneuvers of the United States fleet to have intercepted and garbled a mock message pertaining to the maneuvers.

The submarine of any power had torpedoed a merchant ship at sea was inconceivable to diplomatic and marine experts.

Officers of the navy radio at Washington said they believed the message a hoax.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (U.P.)—The navy department today announced a theory that the unidentified ship which wrecked yesterday that it had been torpedoed in the Atlantic might actually have struck a floating mine.

They disclosed such a mine was known to have been drifting in the general area of the Atlantic from which the mysterious SOS call came.

Navy officials emphasized that they had received no information regarding the authenticity of the wireless message, and that the ship, which they believed had been in distress or its ultimate fate.

GOP TAKES FIRST STEP IN ENDING STATES' BURDEN

BOISE, Feb. 23 (U.P.)—The unemployed of Idaho will have to look to the counties, not the state, for direct and work relief in the future under a policy laid down today by leaders of the state legislature.

The Republican majority took the first step in a strategy of turning direct relief back to the counties. Rep. R. E. Leighton, R., Twin Falls, a member of the house appropriations committee, revealed the plan.

The committee introduced in the house a bill which would appropriate $1,000,000 to the division of public assistance for aid to crippled children, in addition to the regular public assistance appropriation.

Leighton said.

The bill would lift from the counties the load of this type of assistance. The responsibility for direct relief would be placed on the state, which would be carried on by a federal government will be thrown onto the counties as the next step in the program, Leighton said.

"This move will prevent any possibility of a special session of the legislature," Sen. C. C. Barlow, chairman of the senate appropriations committee, told Leighton. "It will place the responsibility where it belongs, on the shoulders of local people."

"This bill will correct the danger of the relief load becoming heavier and heavier because persons refuse to assume the responsibility for it, shoving it off on the state and national governments," Leighton added.

Three measures which would meet partially the demands of Idaho's unemployed were introduced in the senate by Sen. W. Scott Hall, D., Owyhee.

Enabling Legislation
The plans would: 1. Ask the public to contribute to the state fund for unemployed in state foreign and recreational centers. 2. Request the federal government to provide for prompt construction of high-level power lines from the Grand Coulee and Bonneville to southeastern Idaho. 3. Request the federal government to provide the department of public assistance to publish twice-yearly the salaries of department personnel.

A measure to amend the law to repeal the state egg grading law off the state's egg grading law. A house bill to amend the law remains in the senate.

A bill aimed at the ousting of Lester Abbot, secretary of the veterans' department, was introduced.

FIRST CRIMINAL CHARGE TO TEST WAGES AND HOURS LAW

COMPANY NAMED FOR FAILURE TO GIVE PROPER PAY

BOSTON, Feb. 23 (AP)—In the first such criminal proceeding in the nation, a federal grand jury today indicted the Brown Stitching Contract Company of Lawrence and its treasurer for alleged violation of the wages and hours law.

The company and treasurer, Nathan Brown, were charged with failing to pay minimum wages and with falsifying company records to conceal this failure.

The grand jury reported to Federal Judge George C. Sweeney after hearing evidence presented by Assistant U. S. Attorney General Joseph E. Brill of Washington.

The treasurer and the company, a Massachusetts corporation, were charged in the indictment with not paying employees the legal 25-cent-an-hour minimum wage. The company, which employs about 300 workers, knittes women's shoes for factories in New Hampshire, Maine and Massachusetts.

President Named

Its president, Samuel Cohen, was not named in the indictment.

Because Brown also is general manager in charge of operations, he was regarded liable as an employer.

Each of the indictment's four counts represented a different type of offense. Forty witnesses, mostly girls, had testified before the grand jury since Monday.

It charged that employees were instructed to punch time cards in such a manner as would show that they worked fewer hours than they actually did. This was done, according to the indictment, so that time cards would show that the piece work apparently was paid at the rate of 25 cents an hour.

Work After Hours

In some instances, the indictment charged, employees were ordered to do home work without being paid for it, and in some cases were ordered to do home work without reporting the hours worked there.

The second count charged defendants with keeping false records of hours worked by employees. The third charged failure to keep true records as required by law, and the fourth charged that the company had falsified goods made by underpaid employees.

The defendants were expected to be arraigned Tuesday.

COUNTIES TO GET RELIEF HANDLING

Grant welfare board and state adjutant of the American Legion was killed in the house. It would have changed the personnel of the board.

The house passed a bill authorizing irrigation districts to withhold water from land delinquent in water payments more than one year.

Veto Annulled

Gov. C. A. Holtzworth vetoed a bill creating a bureau of industrial hygiene in the division of public health in the department of public welfare and the senate sustained the veto.

The senate passed a resolution recommending the withdrawal of the future of granting loans to farmers from the department of public assistance endorsement fund.

The action came after Mr. Hall said the bureau of public investment was "in such a mess that I can't get the stench out of my nostrils."

Two bills to abolish the state fruit and vegetable commission were turned back to agriculture committee in the senate.

The senate passed and sent to the governor a house bill to make more stringent the motor vehicle laws of the state in order to promote safe driving.

DENY BATTLE REPORT

PAID, Feb. 23 (AP)—The French press today vigorously denounced a report published abroad yesterday of fighting on the Tunisian frontier between French and Italian troops.

The paper pointed out that official Italian dispatches have backed up official French insistence that no fighting occurred.

Purse Stolen

Mrs. Ed George, of the Vogue, late last night reported to local police theft of a black antique bag from her parked machine. She said she parked her car and went into the store for a few minutes. When she returned the bag had been stolen. In the bag was $1 and small change, a check book, two fountain pens and personal effects. Value of the bag itself was placed at $14.50.

From Extended Trip

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Bacon, Twin Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Rich, Burley, returned last evening from an extended motor trip, following the National Western Growers' convention at San Angelo, Tex. Mr. Rich is president of the national association. They visited in New Mexico and Arizona and attended the Golden Gate exposition at San Francisco en route home. Mr. and Mrs. Bacon also visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoxworth, Huntington Park, and Bob Bacon, student at Stanford University.

Violence Earns OIVORGE DECREE

Because her husband allegedly attacked her last May 1, and threatened to "kill" her, Mrs. M. J. Gault, Burley, mother of four children, won a divorce decree today from District Judge J. W. Porter.

Mrs. Gault was an uncontested divorce on grounds of cruelty by Harvey Harty. The wife received custody of three daughters ranging in age from 5, 12 and 13, and a son, 10.

The divorced pair was wed Aug. 8, 1925 at Burley.

FOR SMOKING PLEASURE AT ITS BEST—LET UP, LIGHT UP A CAMEL

15 TELEPHONE CALLS PER MINUTE, 7200 in each day that she's on duty is the average number of calls Josephine Shelley puts through on a big, busy switchboard. Plenty of nerve strain in a job like that! No wonder she welcomes a restful pause with a mild, tasty Camel now and then. Miss Shelley says:

WHEN REST PERIODS COME ALONG, I ENJOY LETTING UP AND LIGHTING UP A CAMEL. CAMELS ARE SO MILD AND MELLOW. I LOVE THEIR RICH, RIPE TASTE, AND THEY NEVER GET ON MY NERVES!

HEVYBURN, PAUL CAGE CLUBS WIN

HEVYBURN, Feb. 23 (Special)—Play got underway in the monthly tournament of the Mini-Cass Class B sub-district here this morning with Hevlyburn and Paul Cage clubs winning victories in the opening games.

Hevlyburn easily won the opener from the Paul Cage high school club by a score of 37-18. However, the Paul club had a tough time edging Albion cagers by a score of 27-25.

Albion held a lead going into the final minute of play, but the favorites spurred to win the contest just before the final gun.

This afternoon Acquia tangled with Declo boys and Malta girls met Acquia girls.

Tonight Paul girls play Albion, Malta boys meet Paul and Albion boys get their second test of the day against Declo.

Seen Today

Small dog hiding fearfully under bed covers while police looked for clue as to relatives of local man found dead of natural causes in another room. City workers putting in new sewer line to serve library building to be constructed here. WPA men blasting in neighborhood of county hospital while engaging in highway widening work, and power line making great flash as quantity of rock and dirt comes in contact with it. Elderly man in brown jacket, wagging his head disapprovingly as reporter and deputy light cigarettes in county office, telling the two men: "One more nail in your coffin."

Small conservation folks meeting in district courtroom and county worker downstairs remarking that he sometimes conserves soil, too, under his fingernails. A week-end trip to Sun Valley. The assembly was in favor of the journey and applications are now in for room reservations at the resort. Time for the journey has not yet been promoted.

Wine Promotion

Cole Minnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Minnick, has been promoted to assistant supply sergeant of the 10th Infantry at Honolulu, Hawaii, according to word received here. He will be home for a four month furlough Oct. 1. During four years service in the regular army he spent 15 months at Fort Douglas, Utah, and the remainder of the time in Hawaii.

AGED FILER MAN SAYS NOT GUILTY

A 76-year-old former barber pleaded not guilty in probate court today to charges that he supplied liquor to a minor.

He is George Rex Flier. The aged man was released from the court after arraignment before Judge C. A. Bailey, who set 10 a. m. March 1 for trial.

His arrest was by C. D. McKinley, Flier marshal, is accused of procuring a bottle of wine from the liquor dispensary at Flier and turning it over to C. H. Brummett, anti-foot-ball end on last fall's Flier Wildcat team.

The outgoing barber told Judge Bailey that he thought Brummett was of legal age because "he's a great, big fellow."

Mrs. Holloway Paid Impressive Tribute

Final rites were paid Mrs. Leticia Miranda Holloway, 80, pioneer Twin Falls resident, yesterday afternoon at the Baptist church. Mrs. Holloway died Sunday.

Rev. Roy E. Barnett, pastor, officiated. Mrs. O. Hatchekowsky and Miss Edna Graham sang "Meadow There" and "When They Ring Those Golden Bells." Mrs. Barnett played the piano accompaniment.

His grandsons, Roy Holloway, Carol Holloway, Pay Holloway, Price Holloway, Glenn Wright and Louis Wright, were pallbearers.

Quantities of floral tributes expressed the esteem with which friends and relatives regarded Mrs. Holloway.

Interment was in Twin Falls cemetery, under the direction of the White mortuary.

TOLL

The Chamber of Commerce hopes to do it, but unless the Idaho legislature takes action this week to remove the toll from the rim-to-rim bridge, this section will be branded in the 1938 Combs travel books as the only Idaho area with a toll barrier.

The Comco travel bureau at Denver requested today that the questionnaire concerning the toll information on toll bridges, ferries, steamship service and toll roads be dispatched to Denver as soon as possible. The bureau, given out to thousands of tourists each year, go to press March 10.

Idaho bill to permit state purchase of the toll bridge is now before the house at Boise. Miss Vivian Anderson, C. C. secretary, said she would wait until Monday before replying to the Continental Oil company's query.

KIMBERLY SHOWS MEASLES SPREAD

Spread of measles at Kimberly continued during the last week when 42 new cases being reported from that community. It was shown here that afternoon in a report for that period released by officials of the district health unit.

The disease, starting among youngsters attending the first and second grades of the Bickel school a few months ago, has since spread to all at the present time practically every community in the county has noted from one to several cases, records show.

Two additional cases of the disease were reported this week at Murtaugh, bringing the total for the period to 44. In Twin Falls spread of the disease seems to have abated.

Boise Man Asks Chance at Audit

Formal request that his company be considered when the next contract for auditing the books of Twin Falls county is voted by the commissioners was received by the board today from Charles H. Davis, Boise auditor and accountant.

The contract for years has gone to Middleton, McCarthy and company. Davis informed the board that his firm has books of 13 out of the 44 Idaho counties.

WAFB

JASPER, Ind., Feb. 23 (UP)—Robert Scherke, 32, four times a father, went to work as usual today unperturbed that his wife still was awaiting the arrival of a twin to a boy born eight days ago.

He is a woodworker of modest means. He believes there is no point in staying home and pacing the floor.

"I've been a father four times and have gotten over the stage of being nervous," he said. "I've got to stay on the job because there'll be another mouth to feed soon."

Mrs. Scherle is 39. She gave birth to the first twin—her fourth child—Feb. 15. He weighed five pounds. She named him William Joseph. Her other children ranged in age from five to 11 years.

The delayed birth already was three days beyond that of a similar case at Kansas City two weeks ago.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 LBS. A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 18 million of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste matter. Frequent or scanty urination with ammonia and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. It may be due to bacteria or poisons in your blood. When due to function, such as in rheumatism, it may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, a tingling numbness, swollen feet, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Kidney Pills, used successfully by millions for generations. They will regulate and will help to keep 18 million of your filters in top-notch condition. 15 million of kidney trouble flush out poisons from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

POLICEMEN HALT ANTI-NAZI CROWD

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 23 (UP)—Herman Schwinn, west coast director of the German-American Nazi Bund, stood in the doorway of his home last night, watching police struggling with a crowd of 2000 anti-Nazi demonstrators who had stormed it, and said: "We're not worried. If police can't clear the street, we'll do it ourselves." He gestured to a group of husky uniformed bund members standing inside the hall, his own "strong-arm" squad. He did not call upon them, however, because, after a riotous half hour, police succeeded in quelling the attackers, who had thrown first a barrage of over-ripe eggs and tomatoes, then their full force of rocks, the latter shattering windows and, Schwinn said, injuring several bund members within the hall.

The attack, which police said was led by members of the Socialist Workers' party and the Young People's Socialist League, began as bund members arrived at the restaurant-hall for a Washington's birthday party. The American-Nazis and their womenfolk were pummeled with the rotten eggs and vegetables. When some 300 persons had ducked and run into the building, the hall of rocks began. Many guests fled when police appeared, and sporadic street fighting broke out, presumably between departing bund members and the attackers.

It was at this point that Schwinn appeared in the doorway and expressed confidence in the ability of his "strong-arm" squads to handle the situation, about 10:30 p. m. When the mob had been dispersed, the bund director said only two of those injured by stones were hurt painfully.

When the rioting had subsided, Schwinn went inside and directed the bund members to the Washington's birthday party.

Buhl Groups Plan For Easter Week

BUIL, Feb. 23 (Special)—Tentative plans for a community-wide Easter week service to be held at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. April 3, were made a special meeting this week of heads of the various musical organizations of Buhl.

John Eddy and Harold Packer represented the women's and men's choruses and Mrs. John Eddy, Mrs. W. A. Gray, Rev. Earl R. Berg and Jake C. Jacobson, Jr. represented the combined choruses. The sand committee is also seeking to sponsor a special music week event the first week in May, by setting up a program of music that will run through the entire week. Keen interest is being shown by all the musical organizations of the community.

Former Idahoan Gains Prominence

MURTAUGH, Feb. 23 (Special)—Mrs. Dwight Thayer Shaw, formerly Miss Faye Finley, one-time resident of Idaho and now of Washington, D. C., was director of the Jefferson high school capella chorus of Falls church, Va., which sang on the national broadcasting system recently from Washington, D. C. The songs were sung in connection with the National Youth Movement.

Mrs. Shaw formerly lived at Falls church and also at Burlington, N. C. She is prominent in musical circles in the national capital, where she is minister of music at one of the larger churches.

She is the daughter of the late Rev. Finley of Hansen, and Mrs. Finley, now of Washington and the niece of Mrs. W. C. Hall, Mrs. T. B. Mitchell and T. W. Whitworth, Murtaugh, and Mrs. Willis Simpson, Jerome.

ORDER

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 23 (U.P.)—Sheriff Will W. Wood said today he wasn't running a "tourist attraction" at county police headquarters and that his order to deputies to quit wearing cowboy boots would stand.

Wood shrugged at protests that he was robbing the west Texas county of its frontier color. He said his men no longer chased criminals on horseback and it was "silly" for them to wear boots.

"Besides they're uncomfortable," he said. "I ought to know, I wore

WHY try to open stuffy nostrils by blowing into your handkerchief until your nose is red? Simply insert a little Mentholatum into each nostril. Note how effectively, yet gently, it relieves the stuffiness and soothes irritated membranes. Instead of being a "blowhard," use Mentholatum. It's the clean, gentle way to open stopped-up nostrils due to colds.

CLASS B TITLE PLAY FLARES ON 4 FRONTS

Filly Upsets Tradition to Win $50,000 Derby by Five Lengths

Favorites Win In 1st Day Encounters

Play for regional crowns and right to enter district tournaments was well under way in all of the Class B sub-districts of this region today as the last two regions opened elimination campaigns this morning. Two of the sub-districts, at Glens Ferry and Hailey, had started play last night.

At Glens Ferry, play in the western division was started with two girls games. At Hailey, in the Wood River sub-district, the teams ran true to form with Carey edging Hailey. Bellevue girls winning over Carey and Bellevue girls nipping the Gooding State school.

GLENN'S FERRY

The state high school champion Hagerman girls team got off to a good start and kept its record intact for this campaign by downing Glens Ferry maidens by a 26-10 count.

Mitchell Takes Two Ski Titles

SUN VALLEY, Feb. 23 (Special)—Dick Mitchell, Reno, Nev., swept to first place in the downhill and slalom races to win the combined events of the annual Sun Valley ski club's meet here yesterday.

Mitchell came down the Proctor mountain course in one hour and 50 seconds in the downhill race. Sam Waggoner of Quincy, Mass., was second. Al Taylor of Reno, Nev., third, and Wolfgang Leitz, Los Angeles, fourth.

In the women's division, pretty Marian McKean of Berkeley, Calif., finished first by doing the course in 2:12. Nancy Reynolds, Mount Clare, N. J., was second. Al Taylor of Reno, Nev., third, and Wolfgang Leitz, Los Angeles, fourth.

Mrs. McKean won first place in the slalom race and took the combined events prize.

Play Opens in Amateur Meet

BOISE, Feb. 23 (Special)—Play got under way today in the annual Idaho state amateur basketball tournament with 14 of the strongest quintets of the state entered in the meet.

Seven of the teams are local clubs and seven are from out of town. The games will be played today and the final set for Saturday night.

First round contests were: Boise Lark's business college vs. Shoshone Redskins; Boise's Union vs. Moscow; Caldwell's Fremont vs. Lemhi; Red Devils, Gooding Jaycees and Nampa B's, and V. Olexa drive boys.

Engen Easily Captures National Ski Event

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 23 (UP)—Alf Engen, Sun Valley, Idaho, ski easily yesterday won the national combined cross-country and jumping championship staged at Eckers hill in the Wasatch mountains east of here by amassing 442.2 points in the two-day competition to lead his nearest rival by more than 70 points.

Spurs Scabiscuit

Proving his superiority in the jumps, Engen leaped 12 and 156 feet to capture the event after he finished second Tuesday in the cross-country race. Official jumps for the Wren brothers varied only one foot in two tries, each posting a jump of 140 feet with Gordon's second try setting the 142 feet, superior by one foot to Lester's.

In a special jumping tournament held in connection with the national meet, Reidar Andersen, Norway, who has won medals in all sections of the United States this year, again proved his superiority over a choice field of international stars. Bested in distance by Olav Ulland, also of Norway, who had the longest leap of the day at 222 feet, Andersen's grace in the air gave him 226.3 points, 62 ahead of Ulland who finished second.

Deckard Beats Lash Again

BOISTON, Feb. 23 (UP)—Track critics today discounted Don Lash's second straight two-mile defeat by Charles S. Decker as a fluke. Decker, a 22-year-old, and blazed the setbacks on Don's experiments with the pace.

The former University of Indiana runner, were equipped by a special when Decker had finished in the Veterans of Foreign Wars' track meet last night. The Bloomington, Ind., runner's victory followed Monday night's triumph in the Seton Hall games at Newark.

Lash has been experimenting with holding back enough to come home with a speed last lap sprint to win. If Decker had registered an exceptionally good time, some might have been attracted to his victory, but last night his clocking was 2:14.4, and his time in the indoor record time of 2:08.

Ullmann, Gunnar, who holds the indoor mile record of 4:04.5, won his specialty in 4:15.8 last night.

Play Opens in U.S. Indoor Tennis Meet

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 (UP)—The national indoor singles tennis championship beginning today heralded the start of a search for a young man, or more, to play the gap left in the United States' Davis cup team when Don Budge turned professional.

Bobby Riggs of Chicago, No. 2 Davis cup singles player last year and almost certain No. 1 choice this year, doesn't care for indoor competition and is not entered, but all of the contenders for the No. 2 job are on hand.

The top candidate is Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., who has been mopping up the Florida winter circuit. Sabin is seeded No. 1 to take the title left undebated by Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, who is on a tour of the Orient.

The U.S.A. doesn't usually pay much attention to conquests in the citrus league, but Sabin's record is second because he beat the Mako in winning five straight titles. Mako was runnerup to Budge for the national singles title at Forest Hills and is the No. 3 player of the nation.

Mako, doubles-partner of Budge last year, was seeded No. 2. Sidney B. Wood, Jr., New York, No. 3, and Frank Bowden, New York, runnerup to McNeill last year, No. 4. The other seeded players in order are J. Gilbert Hall, Joe Fishback, Gregory Mangin, and Frank A. Froehling.

The tennis fathers also will take this opportunity to get a better look at Jack Tibbald of Los Angeles, who has been picked as a doubles partner by Mako and seems assured of a Davis cup ranking along with them.

Convicts Tricky, But Lose to Big League Stars

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., Feb. 23 (UP)—Dick Bartel, Chicago Cubs shortstop, bluffed today every time he thought of his seventh inning home run against Folsom's "Black Sleep" in an exhibition game yesterday.

But he was conspired by eight other big league stars who found the convict team a filibuster to scoring in hitting and running and outclassing on an unrelenting combination when it came to tricky. Bartel's catastrophe came after he had singled in the seventh, the solo score.

Cooker now, the Cubs speed merchant took his lead off second while the pitcher fumbled with his glove. Seven of the 2,000 prisoner spectators groaned, then laughed, then yelled. The second baseman was at Bartel's elbow, and he had the ball. Bartel was out, the victim of one of baseball's oldest games—the hidden ball trick.

The big leaguers won 15-2.

Stanley Game Group Sets 1939 Plans

STANISHOKE, Feb. 23 (Special)—Stanley Wild Life society held a meeting at the Stanishoke Hotel, where a program for the coming year, including the planting of trout, according to George Buehner, former Stanishoke and Twin Falls business man now of Stanley.

Buehner said that Charles Langer was elected president. Secretary was elected president. Secretary was elected president. Secretary was elected president.

Seoville Tops Billiard Stars

By United Press
Frank Seoville, Buffalo, moved out of a three-way tie for fourth place in the world's three-cushion billiard championship last night with a double victory over Otto Rasmussen, Philadelphia. He now holds an undisputed fourth place with an average of 536 for 15 victories in 38 matches.

Joe Channan, New York, the leader, and Jas. Bozeman, Chicago, second, and Arthur Thurnwald, Kansas, Wis., third, were idle last night.

Clarence Jackson, Detroit, split a match with Charlie McCort at Cleveland.

Today's games: Tim Denton, Kansas City, meets Thurnwald at Kansas City; John L. Langer, New York, meets Seoville at New York.

'A' Drawings To be Made Here Tonight

Coaches and high school principals from the eight Class A schools of this district will convene at the Twin Falls High school tonight at 7:30 p. m. to make plans for the annual tournament here on the evenings of March 8, 9, 10 and 11.

Purpose of the meeting, which will be presided over by Ed Hooper, Twin Falls high school principal and tournament manager, will be to discuss admission prices, ticket sales, and other matters of the final day and broadcast of games.

The pairings for the first round will be announced at the gathering.

Second Ward In Tournament

Twin Falls Second Ward M-Men today held the Twin Falls state championship and tournament of the 1, 13, 15, and 17. The local club, made up of former high school stars, last night gathered their way into that meet to celebrate the winter fared in good shape, though the fire crop did not develop so well, the winter being too open.

Celey Baum Wins 2nd Straight Dog Derby

ASHTON, Feb. 23 (Special)—Celey Baum, pride of Ashton, today was hailed in these parts as the greatest musher in the land after winning his second successive American Dog derby here yesterday over a field of ace drivers of the northwest.

He made the 8.6 mile course in 33 minutes, a mark much slower than last year's, due to the sloppy condition of the track. The race was run in a rather high tunnel behind the time of year. Last year Baum covered a 10-mile track in 26:31.

Durocher Hurts Hand in Fight With Golf Caddy

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 23 (UP)—Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, injured a finger yesterday in a fight with a golf caddy.

Durocher reportedly saw a caddy with his right arm and the side of the caddy's face.

Patrick Edward Cuskey, 18-year-old Ellsbeth, N. J., brought, works out on the light bag while ring critics hail him as a corner. Cuskey, a hard hitter, has scored eight straight knockouts, but is limited to six-round bouts if New York because of a state law forbidding boxers from entering 10-rounders until they are 21.

Kimberly Sets Lineup for Pocatello Card

KIMBERLY, Feb. 23 (Special)—Announcement of the lineup for the Pocatello-Kimberly high school basketball game was made today by Sup. L. A. Thomas.

The Bulldogs, under the guidance of Coach Louis Denton, will meet the Redskins, coached by Jimmy O'Brien, former Junior mentor, on the evening of Tuesday, March 7.

Lineup is as follows:

Bill Dent, 120, Pocatello, vs. Frankie Stanger, 133, Kimberly.
Earl Bell, 124, Pocatello, vs. Eddie Quenell, 120, Kimberly.
Ray McNeil, 120, Pocatello, vs. Bob Smith, 120, Kimberly.
Earl Bell, 124, Pocatello, vs. Keith Shewmaker, 133, Kimberly.
Dale Hammond, 135, Pocatello, vs. Jimmie, 135, Kimberly.
Blaine Anderson, 150, Pocatello, vs. Jack Harkle, 150, Kimberly.
Dick Peterson, 160, Pocatello, vs. Peris Dickerson, 160, Kimberly.

Bigger Gate Looms for Galento Fight

MIAMI, Feb. 23 (UP)—A few hundred more persons will be in the stadium tonight to see what fight was that didn't happen last night when the Tony Galento-Feldman fight was rained out.

While advance sales are still far short of the 5,000 first promised, the stadium, which is a 24-hour playground, was an undoubted draw to promoter George Carver. With numerous other boxing attractions, the fight probably would not have lost $25,000, but now it may have $20,000 Carver said there was $10,000 in the cash box.

Tony is a favorite to knock Feldman, whom he outwitted 35 points in an early round. If he does not, it may cost him a huge heavyweight title shot at Joe Louis.

Mac Says Biggest Sports Center of World is Hawaii

BY HENRY McLENNAN
SONOLU, T. H., Feb. 23 (UP)—The biggest sport center in the United States is not Madison Square Garden or the Chicago Coliseum or any other one of the famous arenas of the United States or the Hawaiian Islands.

Hidden deep in the miles and miles of green and waving sugar cane fields of the Hawaiian Islands is a place that is the biggest sports center of the world.

I made a trip around the island and during the 10-mile drive I saw 100 basketball courts, 100 football fields, 100 tennis courts, 100 baseball fields, 100 golf courses, 100 swimming pools, 100 skating rinks, 100 boxing rings, 100 wrestling arenas, 100 horse racing tracks, 100 dog racing tracks, 100 cockfighting arenas, 100 bullfighting arenas, 100 rodeo arenas, 100 circus arenas, 100 amusement parks, 100 hotels, 100 restaurants, 100 bars, 100 night clubs, 100 casinos, 100 theaters, 100 concert halls, 100 lecture halls, 100 libraries, 100 museums, 100 art galleries, 100 botanical gardens, 100 zoos, 100 parks, 100 beaches, 100 resorts, 100 vacation homes, 100 summer homes, 100 winter homes, 100 year-round homes, 100 homes for the poor, 100 homes for the sick, 100 homes for the aged, 100 homes for the disabled, 100 homes for the orphaned, 100 homes for the widowed, 100 homes for the single, 100 homes for the married, 100 homes for the divorced, 100 homes for the remarried, 100 homes for the widowed, 100 homes for the single, 100 homes for the married, 100 homes for the divorced, 100 homes for the remarried.

Don't Worry, Oz Fans, the Old Wizard Will Look Natural in Screen Version

By PAUL HARRISON (NEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD — If the customers have been worrying about what the movies are doing to "The Wizard of Oz," I can assure them that the story is well in hand—and in very sympathetic and capable hands, too. At this writing the picture has been in production almost 100 days. But the time alone gives you little idea of the travail and troubles of the makers. They have released a lot of sequences, monkeyed incessantly with the makeup, changed directors and worried themselves silly about the costumes and the dramatic key in which the roles should be played. They were so jittery about their problems that for three months no visitors were permitted on the sets.

Mervyn LeRoy, the producer, and his helpers realized they were in a ticklish spot. No such fantasy, with living characters, had been attempted since Paramount's "Alice in Wonderland" in 1923. The film so bad that it could be counted only as a warning. LeRoy also had to try to make the picture self-sufficiently entertaining to youngsters and adults not familiar with L. Frank Baum and yet avoid offense, through changes, to the author's nostalgic fans.

Fans And Fantasies

As a Baum fan, I dreaded the idea of Judy Garland (who is Dorothy) warbling a jitter-bug number in the Emerald City. But that may be necessary modernization. I also was skeptical about the scheme to have recognizable human faces in the costumes of the Scarecrow (Ray Bolger), the Tin Woodman (Jack Haley), and the Cowardly Lion (Bert Lahr). But I was dead wrong about this, and Mr. Bolger put me straight. If fantasy is to have any credibility and charm, he explained, it must be played straight—with sincerity and expression. Otherwise it just kills. "Alice in Wonderland" provided a horrible example; it was largely played behind full masks and with no actor's personality to penetrate. Indeed, it was possible for one player to be drunk as a hoot owl most of the time, in the privacy of his dialogue, without his condition being outwardly apparent.

Another factor favoring the Oz picture is the quality of the make-up. It is the quality of the make-up that has made the picture so palatable and successful ever has been done in Hollywood before. Except for his eyes and mouth, Scarecrow Bolger's face is covered by a rubber mask molded like burlap on its surface. But the mask is glued solidly to his skin and thus registers all his expressions. Back toward his ears it deserts the exact contours of his face and looks like a coarsely sewed sack no longer than an inch sticking through the seams.

Tin Was Too Tiny

The silver-painted face of Woodman Haley is similarly blended into his metallic-looking goggles. He can smile and frown and all that, yet he certainly looks like a tin can with a hinged jaw-piece that moves up and down when he talks. His body, of course, is encased in an armor-like suit, but it's made of stiff alvener leather. They tried sheet metal on several suits at first, but couldn't keep them from rusting.

Bert Lahr—leopardine—ever without costume or makeup. They have heightened the resemblance by adding some overhanging rubber jaws and broadening and tilting his nose. His suit is tailored from two real lion skins, and the head is made and twisted by a fine wire leading to a fishing pole manipulated by a prop man on the catwalks overhead.

All these disguises are uncomfortable, heavy and hot—but especially under the glaring Technicolor lights. This is the first movie, incidentally, to use both monochrome and color sequences for any reason except to save money. When Dorothy is on the dreary prairie, she is picked up by the cyclone, the film is in sepia. All the Oz part is in color; makes for a more exciting contrast.

Old Oz fans will immediately recognize the Tin Woodman (Jack Haley), the Scarecrow Ray Bolger), Dorothy (Judy Garland), and the Cowardly Lion (Bert Lahr), in the forthcoming Wizard of Oz.

ROBOT MASTERS ROGUES' ALBUM

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—Successful experiments have just been made here of a "mechanical rogues' gallery" for the instant identification of criminals.

The invention is that of Anthony H. Bledsoe, statistician for the Berkeley police department, and is expected eventually to be a valuable contribution to the nation's police departments.

Three Years

Bledsoe, backed by WPA funds, worked on the invention for the past three years. It is designed to single out a photograph in only a few minutes from a file of hundreds of thousands. This work ordinarily would require hours under the present system of manual examination.

The machine, similar to the automatic card files used by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, selects pictures by a system of holes punched in an attached card.

Complete Data

Detailed facial and other physical characteristics will be indicated on each card by a code system of punched holes. Given a description, police officials will be able to set the machine accordingly, run the cards through it, and locate the photograph having the characteristics described.

Some idea of the size of the field which is open for the use of such a machine is indicated by the fact that the police department of Berkeley, with a population of only 100,000, has an album of 160,000 criminal photographs.

A somewhat similar system is used by one of the casting directors at Hollywood, and it was from this idea that Bledsoe developed his machine for police purposes.

The coded descriptions on the cards will indicate in minute detail each criminal's characteristics. Among these will be type of eyebrows, thickness of eyelids, color of eyes, length, thickness and shape of nose, and typical facial expressions.

DECLQ

The Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church were entertained at the home of Mrs. B. F. Mahoney last week at an all-day quilting. Dinner was served at noon by the hostess.

That young feller that has charge of the Times and News Classified department tells me that the ads are still getting results for people just the same as ever. And I've heard lots of people back up his statement, too. Now you take in realty's rooms and houses, the first place a person comin' new into the town thinks of lookin' in is in the newspaper. And even people that have lived in the vicinity a long time watch the real columns when they think of movin'.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

"THE SPINY ANT-EATER, AN ANIMAL THAT STILL EXISTS IN AUSTRALIA... YET, SCIENTISTS SAY: IT WAS OUT-OF-DATE IN CONSTRUCTION SIXTY MILLION YEARS AGO!"

AIRLINER BUILT FOR HIGH ROUTE

ST. LOUIS (UP)—A giant airplane capable of carrying 38 passengers at a speed of 237 miles an hour at 10,000 feet, in nearing completion is the Curtiss-Wright Corp. factory at the Lambert-St. Louis municipal airport.

The plane, larger than now in use on any airline in America, will also be capable of soaring 33,000 feet into the stratosphere, according to designers.

A 416-craft, all-metal monoplane, probably will be tested some time in March.

The ship will be propelled by two 1,600-horsepower Wright double row Cyclone engines.

Among other innovations, the plane has these distinctive features:

A supercharged cabin that will be operated automatically to maintain ground-level atmospheric pressure, regardless of the altitude at which the plane is flying. The automatic air supply will be operated by blowers attached to two engines.

Nine separate radio outfits. These include one to be used exclusively for blind landings, several for use in plane-to-ground communications and others for beam flying. Some sets will operate on emergency battery power in the event of any failure of the main power supply.

The craft is designed according to the "mid-wing" type, with the wings situated midway between the top and bottom of the fuselage, which is 10 feet high at its greatest diameter. Models built previously have been the low-wing type.

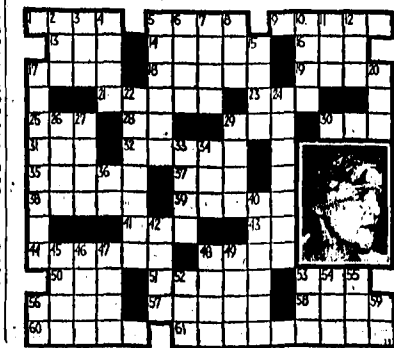

It will have a capacity of 1,000 gallons of gasoline, estimated to give a minimum range of 2,000 miles without refueling.

Kill Fox

WILLOW, Calif. (UP)—Dogs here killed a fox which to them looked just like an ordinary fox. But to Herman Storr, who is establishing a fox farm here, from which the animal escaped, it looked like a dog. It was a black silver fox for which he had purchased at that price for breeding purposes.

DRIVER EMERGES, IN LAYERS, FROM TOPLESS REBUILT AUTO

By JEAN DINKELACHER

"It's a hold-up!" gasped Ray Anderson to his wife as a "phantom driver," masked and hooded, drove a stream-lined racing car into the station driveway at Shoshone and Third avenue east, just as it began to get dark, about 6:25 p. m. yesterday.

"It's an outrage!" protested the "phantom" when he was told that it would take 60 cents toll to get him over the "winning bidder" to Sun Valley. If he was to make a "clean get-away" out of town.

Read Carefully!

But maybe you'd better get this from the beginning, to sort of un-fuddle your minds.

A long, lean, lanky car, shiny black and built like a racer with a "Packard-in-the-family" look, seemed into town. As soon as it stopped, a crowd began to gather. Not only was the topless car something to see, but what emerged in layers, from the drivers was also noteworthy.

Hands clad in wool-lined gloves peeled two brown wool blankets from the driver's knees and feet, and then he wriggled out of a sleeping bag of eiderdown—only he called it a driving bag.

Then off came the black leather wind protector that completely covered his face, except for holes through which he looks, speaks in the nose guard through which he breathes, and a mouth piece which he utters and through which he speaks.

"Whatdaya mean, toll charge in America?"

Eiderdown Bonnet, Too?

He unpeeped the neck and lowered the hood of a maroon rubber-lined suede parka, and what hopped into view but an eiderdown bonnet, styled in the best Mother Hubbard manner, and matching an eiderdown jacket that reared a high collar above layers of sweaters.

The bonnet and the jacket were of liver green chevron with small aprils of flowers.

One of the self-appointed examiners of the car laughed derisively and "the phantom" spoke.

"The first time I saw myself in the mirror with this on I ran a block. Great against the wind, though. You get an eiderdown quilt out of the corner cupboard and whip it up into jackets and hoods."

"But I'm not laughing at the bonnet. I'm laughing at the whole 'Bey, what-ya trying to hand me this job's a Ford'."

Jaaron, what had gradually peeled down to being Bob Brander, Milwaukee, student of history at Stanford university, explained about the car.

Basically a Ford

The car is basically Ford. Rebuilding of a body was designed by Brander, and copied from the British M. O. 2 which he had driven in Europe. An expert mechanic has done the two. When finished, the entire blade will be upholstered in red leather, as the dash board is now, and it will have more gadgets than any car in the world.

Raymond Loewy, designer par excellence of motorboats and autos, can think up.

He was en route to Sun Valley to meet members of his family for a four or five-day ski holiday at the famous winter resort. Open to the breeze as the car is, the spectators, looking, shivered.

Brander assured them that it wasn't a bit uncomfortable. "A-A-over Donner pass the night before. And that called for a few Paul Bunyons on the Arctic winds and snows and blizzards he might encounter between here and Sun Valley."

"The phantom" was most accom-
