

LOYALISTS OPEN UP WITH BARRAGE TO CRUSH COMMUNISTS

HEAVY FIGHTING IN PROGRESS IN CITY OF MADRID

MADRID, March 10 (UP)—The republican regime opened up with artillery, tanks and airplanes today in a supreme effort to crush a revolt of Communists and other units of its own army.

Heavy fighting was in progress not only in the outskirts of Madrid but in the city proper.

Troops from Valencia, loyal to Gen. Jose Miaja, the republican commander-in-chief, arrived in the suburbs and opened artillery fire against the Communists.

Squadrons of airplanes bombarded Communist groups at Atocha, Lavapies and Cantillan, outside the capital, while Miaja's land forces repeatedly attacked the Communists, taking many prisoners.

14,000 Prisoners Taken

The defense council announced 14,000 prisoners had been taken in the surrender of the main Communist headquarters. It was also announced 14,000 Communists had deserted from the rebels since yesterday and refused to continue their fight.

Government troops, driving into the outskirts of the city captured the Plaza Manuel Becerra in the northeastern section of the city. On the other side of the capital, the situation was described in a radio broadcast as follows:

"Fighting is occurring a few meters from the national lines, who see the Communists fighting us."

Gen. Sigismundo Casado, war minister in the council, broadcast a "last warning" to the revolting troops last night.

Heavy Firing

The reply was heavy firing in the central part of Madrid. Firing was concentrated in the Cibeles square, where the defense council brought field guns into action.

Gen. Casado, in his broadcast, had delayed to the last moment a really crushing attack on the rebel elements. Now, he said, the council with great regret must use the utmost rigor to restore the city to normal. Casado said all who knew him would believe that he did not want to attack men who had fought for the republic. He said the council had been lenient but now a last warning must be given.

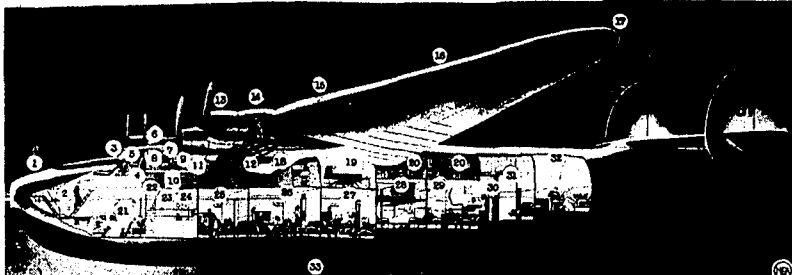

Represent No Party

Asserting that the rebelling troops either were misled or misunderstood the government program, he added that they represented no party in particular but were men who had gone mad.

Through Casado and other defense council authorities urged the people to maintain calm and assured them that order would soon be restored. Few persons ventured into the streets except on urgent business. Last night the streets were deserted, and troops standing guard at close intervals, prevented normal movement.

The defense council seemed confident that it could crush the revolt movement quickly with the exercise of its full strength.

For 24-Hour Hop to Europe--And in Ocean Liner Comfort

This phantom drawing of one of six giant Boeing flying boats being built for Pan-American Airways shows the accommodations for the 50 passengers they will carry on a projected 24-hour transatlantic schedule. Huge three-deck liners of the air, they are half again as large as the air clippers now in Pacific service. Operated by a crew of 10, the new flying boats weigh 42½ tons loaded, are powered with four 1,500 h. p. Wright Cyclone engines, have a top speed of around 200 miles an hour and, with 50 passengers, have a cruising range of over 3,500 miles. The numbers in the drawing indicate: (1) Anchor hatch, (2) Seamen's compartment, (3) Bridge, (4) First pilot, (5) Second pilot, (6) Radio direction finder "loop," (7) Navigation compartment, (8) Radio officer's post, (9) Chart room—navigator's post, (10) Map case, marine library, drift-sight bombs, flares and navigational instruments, (11) Engineering officer—and the mechanical engine and aircraft controls, (12) Captain's office, (13) 1,500 h. p. Wright "Cyclone" engines, (14) Mechanics' wing station, (15) Controllable landing lights, (16) Wing spread 132 feet, (17) Navigation lights, (18) Main cargo hold, (19) Crew's sleeping quarters, (20) Luggage holds, (21) First 10-passenger compartment, (22) Spiral staircase to (23) Main cargo hold, (24) Galley, (25) Second 10-passenger compartment, (26) Dining lounge, (27-28-29) Third, fourth and fifth 10-passenger compartments, (30) Ladies' dressing room, (31) Sixth passenger compartment, (32) Private cabin suite, (33) Auxiliary hold.

Former Library Worker Marries

HAGERMAN, March 10 (Special)

Miss Irene Olmsted, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Olmsted, Gooding, and Elton R. Basom, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Basom, Nampa, were united in marriage Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Methodist parsonage in Gooding with Rev. Theodore B. Mitzner officiating.

Attendants were Miss Mary Ensworth and William A. Baird. Other guests present were the bride's parents, and her sisters, Miss Mary Ella Olmsted, and Mrs. Pete Celaya, and the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Basom and Mrs. Theodore Mitzner.

A wedding breakfast was served at the E. G. Randolph home immediately following the ceremony. Covers were laid for 12 and a centerpiece of sweet peas attractively decorated the table.

The bride is a graduate of Gooding high school where she worked for some time as librarian after her graduation. For the past two years she has worked as bookkeeper for the Idaho power company.

Mr. Basom, a university graduate in electrical engineering, is an operator at the Malad power plant in Hagerman.

The couple left for a short honeymoon. They will be at home to their friends in the Pugnare house near the Malad power plant where Mr. Basom is employed.

Tulane university was established in 1834 with only 1½ students.

WOMEN DISCUSS FOREIGN EVENTS

BURLEY, March 10 (Special)—

Mrs. Paul Mueller talked about France and Mrs. George Huntington, of Germany at the meeting Tuesday of the Business and Professional Women at the home of Miss Leva Middleton. Refreshments were served by Miss Middleton and Miss Alicebeth Whiteley.

Plans were discussed for the state convention of B. P. W. at Twin Falls in May.

Mrs. Jack Smith, the former Miss Lillian Olney, member of the Burley B. P. W., will be honored at a covered dish supper at the next meeting, March 21, at the home of Miss Ida Gaskill and Miss Anna J. Larson.

Murder Tale

Dear Pot Shots:

I get it. It's the custom for folks with literary genes crying to be born to turn to Pot Shots, who quits at nothing. I'll admit you, that I have turned author. All great authors look back late in life and say humbly that they got their

His Chinese assistant, One Lung

Gone, rushed in.

"Allee sammy murder," said One

Lung. "Pretty late killed."

"Gracious," said Hilo Pancer.

"Yeah, the dame was rubbed out,"

said One Lung. "Involved," said

Hilo Pancer.

So they plumed to the scene.

The lady was beautiful. Or had been.

"Gracious," said Hilo Pancer.

"She must have been a swell moll,"

said One Lung. "Involved," said

Hilo Pancer.

So they plumed to the scene.

The lady was beautiful. Or had

CHAPTER XXII

"HAVE a good time!" Jeff asked as they headed out Sheridan street. He looked at her with a quiet, muffled to the chin in clean, new snow.

"Gorgeous—simply gorgeous."

Native delight sang in her voice.

"Too, too divine," is the proper line," he observed dryly.

She laughed. "I wish I was 18."

Jeff. "I'm 23, that's getting pretty old. How long can I keep this up?

Being attractive to a man?" she asked with another little laugh.

"Take a look at Edna," he advised. "She's 20 years ahead of you and still going strong."

"Wasn't she lovely tonight?"

Sue asked Edna, admiring her poise and quiet charm.

"She's always lovely."

Sue said a hand through her arm. "I love everybody," she said simply. "It's wonderful just to be alive. All my dreams have come true, every single one."

Jeff pressed her arm close to his side. "I do ever enter your dreams, Sue?" Idiotic question.

Why had he asked it?

"Oh, yes. All my life I've wanted a brother."

"Lump!" was all he said.

"I can talk to you about anything. We've been through so much together that I feel at home with you, just so homey and nice," she cooed closer. From the high crest of her wave she added, as he stopped at the hotel, "I think I'll kiss you good night."

"I can take it," Jeff said, pulling her like a brother, she giggled.

He made something of the good night kiss. His lips clung to hers, the pressure was a bit fierce because he let her go. I left her breathless and shivering.

GOING to her room she went to bed, not forgetting the nightgown, lotion and what not.

Down just beyond the darkness and she reached toward it with eager hand. What might it be? What might not happen? And enchanting thought, what might?

POLITICAL WORKERS TO BE OUSTED FROM WPA ROLLS

DRASTIC CUT TO BE MADE DURING MONTH OF APRIL

WASHINGTON, March 10 (U.P.)—Works Progress Administration P. O. Harrington has issued drastic regulations governing political activities of WPA employees, and simultaneously announced that administrative workers will be actively engaged in politics already are being dismissed.

The regulations, promulgated under a congressional resolution ordering a purge of WPA political activities, were issued shortly after Harrington announced WPA will be forced to drop 1,000,000 persons from its rolls next month unless congress votes an additional $150,000,000 to finance the work-relief program until June 30.

Talks With President

Harrington, who discussed the relief situation with President Roosevelt yesterday, said he had summoned nine WPA regional directors to meet with him Monday to develop plans to drop relief clients who no longer can be carried on the payroll. He added that specific instructions on how the cuts will be effected will be in the mails Thursday.

President Roosevelt, warned congress when it slashed his original deficiency relief request from $875,000,000 to $725,000,000 that it would be necessary to provide additional funds or cut thousands from the rolls. The legislators to date have taken no action and have indicated disagreement with the administration's claims.

To Be Reported

Harrington estimated that "hundreds" of administrative employees will have to be discharged in compliance with the new anti-political regulations.

He ordered that all cases which the resolution outlines, involving possible felonies such as promises of jobs or other benefits as a reward for political activity, penalizing workers for political reasons, race, creed or color, and solicitation of funds from WPA workers, are to be reported to the Washington office. The WPA's inquiry division will investigate the charges and turn its information over to the department of justice.

CZECHS DECLARE MARTIAL RULES

peasants and contraband workers from entering.

Troops of the occupation force were drawn largely from non-Slovak areas. They arrived at Bratislava early this morning in motor trucks and buses.

All night and until 9 a. m. today, telephone service was suspended throughout Slovakia and to foreign countries.

It was understood additional troops from Bohemia and Moravia were on their way to Slovakia.

The demands and troop occupation came after demands by the Czechoslovak government that Slovaks stop agitating for a sovereign and independent state and trying to form a Slovak army.

The central government's action was a drastic means of restoring the authority of the state throughout Czechoslovakia. There had been general unrest since the dismemberment under the Munich agreement.

Ministers dismissed were Josef Tiso, premier; Mikulas Pruzinski, economic minister; and Ferdinand Duriansky, labor minister.

Slovak March, chief of the Slovak propaganda department, and Albert Tuka, nationalist leader, were reported under arrest. Premier Tiso retired to a Jesuit monastery. Whether he was under some form of arrest was not known.

AFL Leaders Will Present Own Proposal

recognition of the "one big union" idea espoused by Lewis, and partially relayed by the AFL at the Atlantic City, N. J., convention in 1935. That refusal resulted in formation of the CIO and the split in the labor movement in August, 1936.

The AFL committee members' proposal, it was said, would make off certain industries for industrial unionism and require the CIO to bring its claimed 4,000,000 members into the federation, which also claims 4,000,000 members.

Neither AFL nor CIO negotiators would comment immediately on the proposal. President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, put forward as a "democratic" way of settling their jurisdictional overlapping, Whitney suggested that the CIO union enter the AFL as a body and settle quarrels later by government-supervised referendum of the affected workers.

Friends Plan Rites For Hollister Man

Funeral services for Jerry W. Hollister, resident, who died Monday, will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. at the Drake and Reynolds funeral home.

Rev. R. E. Davis will officiate and interment will be in the Piner cemetery. Pallbearers will be M. J. Thompson and Ralph Alexander, Berger, and Fred Dudley, J. Green, H. H. Hill and Martin Knudson, Hollister.

Miss Ardison Bertram will sing, accompanied by Miss Ethel P. P. P.

Ignoring military seniority

President Roosevelt appointed 51-year-old Brig. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, above, to command the army's mobile general headquarters air force. The appointment is part of Roosevelt's "accent on youth" policy for the country's armed forces.

SCHOOL DICTATOR BILL DRAWS FIRE

Voters could not express themselves on the consolidation, for which commissioners would be sole authority.

The measure assertedly slipped through the legislature in final days with no fanfare or publicity. It stipulates one other way by which voters could be shown of their voice: in such a consolidation, educational leaders pointed out. This place would permit a majority of boards of trustees of the rural high district and each of the other districts within its boundaries to petition the commissioners for consolidation.

In Twin Falls county, records showed today, there are two rural high districts—Piner and Hollister. If consolidation signs the bill, five per cent of voters not necessarily taxpayers (in those regions could bring consolidation). Common districts which thus could be forced to consolidate, if the commissioners issued an order, include Berger, Haggard, Springfield, Hollister elementary, Amsterdam, Rogerson and Soldier Creek in the Hollister rural high boundary, and Piner grade school, Maize, Elmwood, Piner Hill and Washington in the Piner rural high district.

Members of the Twin Falls county commissioners indicated unofficially today that they do not favor the measure, since it puts too much school authority into hands of the board—authority such boards do not seek.

As explained today in a communication from John I. Hillman, executive secretary of the Idaho Education association, it is 300 "throwing school control in rural high school areas into the political arena and into the hands of the county commissioners. It takes control out of the hands of the voters."

Hillman warned emphatically that the bill "is only the first step" toward other moves. He said that the step taken to give county commissioners the right to set school budgets and to determine whether a school may have even the minimum program of $120 per month for each classroom unit.

He warned that the present bill, plus the future move he outlined as possible, would take control of schools "completely out of the hands of the voters of all schools, which could not provide their needs with the maximum free permitted by law."

Hillman's letter was written on recommendation of the legislative sub-committee of the Idaho Education association.

RANCHER, 80, IS $96,000 LEGATEE

Chief legatee for the largest estate to be probated here in a considerable period is Howard C. Pomeroy, 80, pioneer rancher, according to a petition he had filed today in probate court.

The estate, totaling $96,000, is that of Mrs. Carrie B. Pomeroy, late wife of Mr. Pomeroy, who died Feb. 18, 1938, bequeathing the estate to his husband except for small cash sums to sons, daughters and granddaughters. The estate includes ranch property, stock, U. S. bonds and personal funds.

Mr. Pomeroy is named as executor in the will.

Julius C. A. Bailey set probate hearing for March 25. Stephen and Bluffard are attorneys for the petitioner.

GRANGERS' PLAY EARNS PLAUDITS

GOODING, March 10 (Special)—The curtain rose, the laughs began and an enthusiastic audience of 750 Goodingites settled back in easy chairs to see the Grangers' play, "Boys and Nuts," presented by the Gooding Grange last Friday evening at the Junior high auditorium.

Staged in the living room of the hotel mansion, the play blazed upon 15,000 hidden dollars, the people who pretended to be mentally sick that they might be admitted to the mansion, a touch of romance between Miss Benita Bolt and Typer, also, and the ultimate finding of the missing money with his happy results.

Almae Bryan, as the maid, provoked gales of laughter time after time; and Frances Brunnett, as the elderly nurse manager of the asylum, was an admirable job of character work. Cadaverella Clipp, portrayed by Rulus Longstreth, was a close second to the maid for laugh provoking honors, and Wilbur Glossop, the darling child of Mrs. Gertrude Glossop, was a patient, played by Evelyn Grove, and Jack Gordon, a young inmate, played by Bill Bryan.

Proceeds from last year's play, and tentative plans indicate that the start of the new hall will be based in the near future. The hall will be situated next to the Grange, near Supply building west of Main street.

FOUR AMERICANS CURTSY TO KING

LONDON, March 10 (U.P.)—Four Americans were among 200 women who curtsied last night to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth at the season's first court at Buckingham palace.

The small number of Americans was because of Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy's intention of giving presentations, which some quarters have described as a "racket," to the wives of American officials and American living in England.

The four were Mrs. Vinton Chaplin, wife of the second secretary of the U. S. embassy in London, Mrs. Brenneville, wife of the assistant military attaché; Barbara Mead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mead, and Alfreda Huntington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Constant D. Huntington. Mead and Huntington are American business men living here.

Business School Elects Secretary

Miss June Paul is the newly elected secretary of the Twin Falls Business University student body. She succeeds Clara Anderson, who has accepted a position with a service station on the Kimberly road, and is now attending night school.

Ronald Mullins and Fred Higgins were in charge of yesterday's assembly program. Bibles of paper bearing timely topics were distributed to the audience, who made two-minute talks on the subjects which they drew.

Monday evening students and friends of the university attended a roller skating party, planned by Fred Higgins and Miss Doris Dennis.

Miss Molly Krupus, Heyburn, has transferred from night school to day school. Miss Adrian Powers is a new student at the school.

Miss Dennis has accepted a temporary position with the Southern Idaho P. C. A. A. Miss Ernestine Prichard is working temporarily at the Idaho Power company.

Pitt Students Stage One-Day Class Revolt

PITTSBURGH, March 10 (U.P.)—University of Pittsburgh students today started a one-day revolt against administration "battering" that forced the resignation of Football Coach John B. (Jack) Sutherland, and hundreds of students quit their classes.

Strike leaders paraded and held "funerals" over the "corpse of Pitt football" at the cathedral of learning. Students were mounting bands of black, bearing the inscription "Jack."

Chancellor John G. Bowman, whose policy of de-emphasizing football and "administration of other athletic policies that prompted Sutherland to resign after 15 years at Pitt, was in New Brunswick, N. J., today. Coach Sutherland had been in New York.

FDR IN FAVOR OF FINGERPRINTING

WASHINGTON, March 10 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt said today he is suggesting that everyone in the White House be fingerprinted.

He said he hoped this would spread the fingerprinting idea to other parts of the government and, perhaps to the press.

He said that he always had been in favor of fingerprinting and that he himself had been fingerprinted 22 years ago before sailing for France.

"Voluntarily?" a reporter asked. "Involuntarily," the President admitted, with a chuckle.

Dew, in many parts of the world, furnishes the moisture necessary for growing crops.

AID RITES HELD FOR GOODING MAN, 72

TRENTON, N. J., March 10 (U.P.)—The legislature was asked today to help the man who hocked a big glass, braces himself for a long drought, and strikes a false bottom half way down.

Assemblyman Vincent S. Hane-man's bill would require high level marks, visibly affixed to every glass and container in which alcoholic beverages are sold or served for consumption on or off the premises.

WEED HEADS EYE PLANS FOR 1939

JEROME, March 10 (Special)—Weed supervisors and county commissioners from Jerome, Lincoln and Gooding counties convened at an all day session on Wednesday in the Jerome court rooms for the purpose of discussing the 1939 weed program and for organizing for the new cultivation program of all three counties.

The costs of chemical treatment for weed eradication were also an important topic discussed. L. P. Oldham, Jerome county weed control supervisor, announced that cost of such treatment will be published at a later date.

Meeting with commissioners and supervisors were John Griffiths, Twin Falls, WPA zone engineer, and Paul Kolont, Boise, state supervisor of noxious weed control.

Weed supervisors present included L. P. Oldham, Jerome; William Bryan, Gooding; Fred Winters; and County Agents Eugene Whitman, Jerome, and Harry Gaul, Shoshone.

County commissioners present were M. A. Bishop, chairman, John P. McIntire, Jerome, and Ross Seeley, Hazelton; Chester Johnson, Richfield; Homer Grieve, Dietrich, and Chairman Emerson Pugmire, Gooding, and R. W. Brown, Wendell.

BREAK-IN

There was a "break-in" at the home of P. S. Smith at 12:30 a. m. today but no arrests were made because, figuratively speaking, the "cops" were in on the job.

Smith came to the station and reported he was locked out of his house. Police went to the home and were successful in getting the door open.

Smith thanked them for their trouble and the policemen returned to their beats.

PREFERENCE

PHILADELPHIA, March 10 (U.P.)—The men of America prefer brutes, but as a rule they think women are:

1. Too spoiled.
2. Too often nagging and jealous.
3. Too willing to pet and kiss before marriage.
4. Not enough concerned with keeping romantic after marriage.
5. Too busy with things outside the home.

These points were brought out in a survey made public today by the Ladies Home Journal. It showed that 50 per cent of the men questioned preferred brunettes, 31 blonds and 19 redheads. Seventy-eight per cent thought married men were happier than bachelors.

Male members of the Amu race, of northern Japan, have heavy natural mustaches and make use of fancy mustache sticks at meal-time to prevent chewing them.

COURT REVERSES ASSAULT VERDICT

BOISE, March 10 (U.P.)—The Idaho supreme court today reversed a lower court decision and ordered a new trial for Charles O. Patterson of Emmett, convicted of assault with a deadly weapon on Dorothy Hill, Emmett.

Patterson appealed from a decision of Gem county district judge Thomas E. Buckner.

The complaint alleged Patterson fired a shot gun at the Merle Hill home in Emmett at night from a distance of 50 feet. A shot pellet lodged in the girl's eye, blinding her.

The punishment is a maximum of two years in prison and a maximum fine of $5,000. The reversal was on a point of prejudicial error.

U. S. ELK HERD GROWS RAPIDLY

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK—This park has become the world's largest reservoir of elk for the stocking of zoos, mountain areas, game preserves, private estates, Indian reservations, park and forest areas and for exhibition and propagation generally.

Today, 436 from the park have been sent to 35 different states, the District of Columbia, Canada and South America.

Since the park first began supplying the rest of the world with elk in 1892, a total of 4,914 have been shipped. In addition to these shipped, 8,691 have been killed by hunters.

A count of the northern herd alone in the park made by 29 observers from the U. S. forest service places the total number still there at 10,976.

Elk Supply Herds
Elk shipped to Canada have served to restore many sections where, under their natural environment, they are rapidly forming large herds.

In the United States, Montana is the greatest taker of Yellowstone Park elk and has received 1,267 head. Washington third, with 462; Colorado, 256; Arizona, 238; Virginia, 226; South Dakota, 241; Utah, 177; Pennsylvania, 170; New York, 132.

In the mountain regions of these states, large herds are being built up from these shipments.

Canada has taken 353 elk from the park.

Other counts and estimates of the herds in the park show there are about 2,600 in what is known as the Grinnell herd; and about 652 in smaller, scattered herds.

Continues Increase
Hunting during the past season took about 3,000 head from the northern herd, while the shipments this year will further reduce it by about 285. Another 500 will be lost through death and other causes.

Despite this steady demand on the herd, it still continues to increase to such an extent that it is difficult to find sufficient range and grazing grounds for the animals. Present plans are to purchase additional land north of the park for sufficient winter grazing not only for the elk but also for deer, antelope and mountain sheep which are showing a steady increase.

Unless this additional land can be obtained, it will be necessary to reduce the herd to keep it within the available range for feeding purposes.

4-STATES ROAD DELEGATES MEET

BRAWLEY, Calif., March 10 (UP)—Delegates from Montana, Idaho, Nevada and southern California, about 250 in all, will open the fourth annual convention of the International Four States Highway association here tomorrow.

The association, which extends from Calexico on the Mexican border to Reno on the Montana-Canada line and is improved with hard surface pavement except for two sections. There are 42 miles between Niland, Calif., and a junction with highway 60, now under construction, and a stretch through central Idaho.

An elaborate program has been arranged for the entertainment of delegates to the convention, which will run through to March 16.

Actions of Giant Shown on Screen in Big Damage Suit

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 10 (UP)—Robert Wadlow, 21, the world's tallest man, became a defense witness today in his own $100,000 libel suit against Dr. Charles Humberd, nationally-known authority on gigantism.

For an hour, he ambled across, sat, talked and played on a motion picture screen before the eyes of 12 jurymen—six jurors who must decide whether Humberd's articles in the American Medical Association Journal, describing him as "apathetic, surly and unfriendly," was libelous.

The defense had drawn a contrast in court between Wadlow and two other men who live in a world of small people, Texas Jack Earle, 7 feet, 6 inches tall, and Glenn Hyder, a mere seven-footer. Then it had told the jury it would rest its case chiefly on the visible behavior and antics of Wadlow as captured on several thousand feet of newsreel film.

For the screening, Federal Judge Merrill E. Oke moved his court into a theater and, to the dismay of hundreds of curious citizens, who had enjoyed some of the aspects of a circus for four days, he permitted only the jury principals in the cage and newsreelmen to attend.

Wadlow, who is 8 feet, 8 inches tall and still growing, contends he is normal in every respect except size, and during the first three days of the trial he brought into court a source of substantiating witnesses: his personal physician, his parents, school teachers and friends. The defense claims he is not of normal personality and even less normal physically than most giants.

His last hope for life, that he might be judged insane, was blasted yesterday by a jury which deliberated only 30 minutes. It pronounced him sane. Thursday it found him guilty of first degree murder.

The death penalty is mandatory. Judge Charles W. Fryke granted his attorney a hearing on March 15 on a motion for a new trial.

RETAIL TRADE IN SHARP ADVANCE

NEW YORK, March 10 (UP)—Retail trade expanded sharply this week, extending its gain to 3 to 10 percent over the corresponding 1221st period, Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

The authority noted heavier window buying in apparel and other seasonal lines, but said there was no significant change in retailing, cautious merchandising policy.

Wholesale volume also widened its year-to-year gain to 3 to 10 percent.

Nevada Arranges Truck Road Fees

CARHON CITY, Nev., March 10 (UP)—Designed for benefit of truck operators who use Nevada highways only occasionally, a bill was introduced today in the Nevada legislature to allow the public service commission to issue permits for single trips.

The permits would cost five percent of the regular license fee, but not less than $3 in any case. The bill also allows license of licensees after July 1 for half price.

RUSTLING COSTS $1,500,000 LOSS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (UP)—Cattle rustling has become a "big time criminal activity" and is now costing farmers in the middle west approximately $1,500,000 a year.

Reports from the Missouri highway patrol for 1938 show that in Missouri alone the loss from cattle rustling was $150,000. Other Mid-Western states reported similar losses, and the years loss for 10 Mid-Western states is well above the $1,500,000 figure.

In Kansas, for instance, the problem has become so acute that all sheriffs have been requested to file figures on rustling reports and losses with the state livestock commissioner.

According to the Missouri highway patrol, most of the modern rustlers operate out of large cities and use speedy trucks. Often the stolen cattle are sold at a distant market before the farmer even discovers his loss.

The modern rustlers break their trucks up to a fence corner, cut the fence and set up their leading chutes. In this manner one rustling ring in 1936 stole more than $40,000 worth of cattle from farmers in four Missouri counties, according to Capt. William Baxter of the highway patrol.

In addition to cattle rustling, chicken thieves also are active in many rural sections. These thefts are estimated to cost farmers an additional $500,000 a year.

One of the major difficulties faced by law enforcement officers is the fact that state lines hinder the recovery of stolen farm property when it is taken from one state to another.

In an effort to reduce the loss from cattle rustlers, many farmers are branding their cattle. Police officials report that most of the stolen cattle are unbranded and that it is much easier to trace stolen cattle when they bear brands.

WHEELER LASHES REORGANIZATION

WASHINGTON, March 10 (UP)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D.-Mont., charged today that the government reorganization bill passed by the house would delegate unconstitutional powers to the president.

Wheeler contended that final authority to reorganize departments and agencies of the executive branch of the government should rest with congress and not with the chief executive.

Wheeler, a frequent critic of New Deal policies, opposed the first reorganization bill which was passed by the senate last year and later killed by the house. He indicated he would be among bi-partisan senators expected to fight the new compromise bill when it is brought up in the senate.

Sartorial Exile

Reported "deported" by police of New Jersey, where he lived, for wearing this slacks outfit, socialite Mrs. Ellen Tilton Holmes is shown in sartorial exile in Flashing, L. I. Several years ago a scanty shorts-and-bare-feet costume caused her to be barred from a restaurant and ejected from a restaurant in Reno, Nev.

TAPPING STARTS FOR MAPLE SAP

CHARDON, O., (UP)—Lloyd Grantham, 28, started tapping his maple trees early in February because, as he explained, "I've nine youngsters to feed."

This is Grantham's first year as a farmer and some old-timers scoffed when he got out his ax at the first sign of a thaw and hung 2,500 buckets. But within a few days he had 50 gallons of new syrup ready for sale.

"I can't afford to waste any time," he said.

Grantham's neighbors are beginning to wonder whether the new farmer—a former railroad detective—is wrong after all.

He believes that by starting early he will be able to net $1,000 or more on his syrup before the warm weather sets in and the celebrated Chardon maple festival is held here.

Grantham took up farming seriously this year after an accident in the railroad yards cost him his right leg.

The maple farmer says he believes there is no place better than the country "to raise a bunch of kids."

"I sure miss the railroad," he said, "but I was brought up on a Texas ranch and a farm looks good to me."

Grantham had no real knowledge of the science of syrup-tapping when he acquired his farm. But last year at sugar-bush time he hobbled around on his crutches and watched carefully.

No Loss Ahead
Then, to make sure, he said, "I read all the government bulletins and hired an old-timer, Charlie Durrell, who started tapping as a boy in Maine, to help me. I think we'll make out all right."

Durrell said he agreed.

When the next freeze comes there will be no loss to Grantham. He already is ahead of the old-timers who scoffed at his early tapping.

Grantham figures that before spring really arrives they will have collected nearly 20,000 gallons of sap to be boiled down into syrup and sugar cakes.

ILLINOIS CUTS AUTO TOLL
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP)—Illinois death toll from traffic accidents last year reached the "deplorable" total of 2,173, but a decrease of 425 from 1937, the state highway division has announced. Worst month of 1938 was December, when 265 persons were killed.
