MOUNTAIN KILLER ADDS 2 OF POSSE TO DEATH TOLL

POWELL, Wyo., March 23 (UP)—Man-hunters warned into the Beartooth high country today to relieve the bodies of two of their companions and to track down Earl Durand, who has killed four men since he escaped from jail a week ago.

In a brief battle last night, Durand added the two latest victims to his list of murders and drove the rest of the posse to cover. Then he slunk back into the mountains, where he subsists on raw meat. He left a note to his pursuers defying them to catch him and suggesting that if they did so, they mount his head and hang it from the Park county courthouse.

The possemen advanced today under cover of crags and underbrush, through a huge crater-like crease in the mountain as if they hunted a wild beast. They had orders to shoot Durand on sight.

All night, the bodies of O. H. Linabury and Arthur Angelo lay in the snow where they fell. Sheriff's deputies kept their men under cover until dawn, refusing to expose them to Durand's deadly fire.

Every man in the posse, which set out from Powell a week ago when Durand killed a sheriff's deputy and a town marshal while escaping jail, believed they were confronted by a mad man.

Sheriff Frank Blackburn, directing the hunt through the virtually uncharted region of the Beartooth range 40 miles northwest, reported by portable short-wave radio that

Where Washout Hit South of Rogerson

Near-normal traffic has resumed today on highway 33 south of Rogerson after completion of a temporary roadway skirting the section washed out by flood waters Saturday night. The above picture shows highway workers busy constructing the secondary road. In the left background is the 40 foot wide, 15 feet deep section of the main road which was washed away. In the foreground is a section of advanced pipe which was swept out with the road as melting snow made deep creek a raging torrent. The other galvanized pipe visible was placed under the temporary road as a drain. Interested spectators watch while a Caterpillar bulldozer (right) makes the fill for the temporary roadway. Highway officials said the break in the road would be repaired in a short time and normal traffic would be resumed. (Idaho Evening Times staff photo.)

LEADER LASHES AT ATTEMPT FOR WORLD CONTROL

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Foreign News Editor

Great Britain warned Adolf Hitler today that she will oppose by every means within the power of the empire the armed destruction of independent European states.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, warning Hitler that any attempt to dominate the world would be successfully resisted by the democratic powers, announced the British policy in the house of commons as the government pressed negotiations for a united front with France, Soviet Russia and Poland, with only the Warsaw government holding back from a formal declaration.

Hitler, amid an elaborate Nazi state ceremony, formally welcomed the little state of Memel "home to the Reich" with an indirect declaration that Germany has now successfully completed re-writing of the Versailles treaty.

Even as the further-when British statement recently described as breaking his pledged word—spoke before chattering throngs and as Germany displayed her re-born naval might in the Baltic sea, a sudden new burst of warfare exploded in Nazi central Europe.

Hungarian troops, reportedly promised a 15-mile strip of Slovakia, smashed their way across the frontier and were met by a fierce counter-thrust of Slovakian troops, militia and bombing planes.

Exact cause of the conflict between the two units which must bow to the Nazi overlordship or perish was only partly clarified by reports that Hitler had promised Hungary the slice off the Slovakian frontier, but there was little doubt that both nations will do what the furies tell them to do.

Hitler Welcomes Memel to Reich; Campaign Ended

By GEORGE KIDD

MEMEL, March 23 (UP)—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler, triumphantly welcoming Memel "home to the Reich," declared today that Germany now has ended its "making good" the "suffering" inflicted on her after the World War.

Whether the fuehrer's words were intended to mean that Germany now is satisfied with her territorial acquisitions in Europe was not entirely clear.

It was recalled that after the acquisition of Austria, he said the same thing.

Young Outlaw Family 'Fine,' Says Rancher

South Idaho friends who knew the family of Earl Durand, Wyoming outlaw who has slain four men in the past few days, couldn't understand today the killer's taste that flared in the 26-year-old kid came pother just one week ago and again last night.

One of those who knew the outlaw's parents, George Yost, rancher south of Hansen, said this afternoon:

"There never was a finer family."

Mr. Yost added that "Earl always seemed a good boy."

World's Hardest Job: Explaining Time and Space to Mr. Einstein

NEWARK, N. J., March 23 (UP)—Prof. Albert Einstein, who deals in abstractions of time and space, saw a sleeper airplane for the first time last night at Newark airport.

The plane's alighting caught his attention.

Burr Aton, airport publicity man, told him that the new radio altimeter would show the plane's height above the ground at all times.

"Please explain," said Professor Einstein.

Aton said the altimeter sent an electrical impulse from plane to ground and that the time of travel was translated into feet.

"What's this about a time element?" the inventor of the theory of relativity asked.

"Well," said Aton, "the time it takes for the impulse to travel is known, and the given distance."

"No," said Einstein, interrupted. "The sun goes around the earth. That would be like X."

Aton interpreted that the altimeter had some detailed pamphlets that explained the altimeter and if the professor would just . . .

"No, no pamphlets, please. I want you to explain."

Aton began bravely on the theory of radio, but he was interrupted again.

"Let me explain, please," Einstein said benignly. "The sun goes around the earth is like X. Now you tell me the airplane is going 100 miles an hour. That would be C. That would mean a particle of a second. Now when you consider C in relation to X in relation to—"

Aton hurried off after a pamphlet.

STATE ATTORNEY UPHOLDS AUDITOR

BOISE, March 23 (UP)—Alec, Gen. J. W. Taylor ruled today that the office of state comptroller created by the 1935 legislature is unconstitutional, in an opinion requested by State Auditor Calvin Wright.

State Auditor Wright has protested action of the last legislature in taking duties from him and turning them over to the new state comptroller. He appealed to the attorney general to support his position.

Meanwhile, the governor's office ignored the attorney general's opinion and issued a certificate of appointment to the new state comptroller, Don Callahan, Wallace, former state senator.

"It is my opinion that article 17, section 14, as it attempts to transfer any constitutional powers and duties from the office of state auditor is unconstitutional," the attorney general wrote.

At the same time, Soviet Russia's acceptance of the British proposal for a four-power declaration against any further aggression in Europe was announced by the Soviet emissary.

Reorganization Bill Goes to Conference

WASHINGTON, March 23 (UP)—The house sent the government reorganization bill to conference today. The bill, which would reorganize the executive branch, passed the house yesterday by a vote of 321 to 23 after administration forces won a reversal on the conference committee.

When the bill was passed, it would have placed greater restrictions on the chief executive's power.

Work Starts Friday On Ball Grandstand

Although fears were expressed here yesterday that any curtailment of the WPA program might cause the baseball park project here to be dropped, John Griffiths, WPA zone engineer, announced this afternoon that construction work would, in all probability, begin Friday.

Griffiths made the announcement after he had received a telegram from Washington to the effect the Presidential letter, which is the "go ahead" signal on the project, is expected at Boise by airmail today.

"As soon as the letter arrives at Boise, the WPA will start work on the project," Griffiths said. "When that is received everything is ready to go. I believe the work will actually start Friday."

The ball park here, home of the Idaho Falls team, is the Phoenix project. The estimated cost of $200,000 for the grandstand and fence, with the city and WPA providing the funds. Play at the park is set to get under way on May 5 when the Cowboys make their first home appearance.

COUNTY 2ND FOR NEW CAR SALES

Taking the lead in the present car sale season, Idaho has had in Idaho by the number of new car sales during the first two months of this year, Twin Falls county is now second in the state. No new car sales are counted, it is announced here this afternoon by H. E. Richmond, administrator with the Automobile Service Bureau at Boise.

Eckmann visited in Twin Falls today long enough to announce "business is booming in good stride." He pointed out that where, in eastern sections, the production of steel is usually used as a basis for judging business, in the west and in Idaho new automobile sales are used.

HEAD OF BUHL'S COUNCIL PASSES

BOISE, March 23 (Special)—James W. Gannum, 68, president of the Buhl city council and one of Buhl's most prominent citizens, died last evening at the Twin Falls county general hospital, where he recently submitted to an operation.

Mr. Gannum was the long-time partner in the firm of Shields and Gannum Seed and Elevator company. He had been associated in business with James Shields for the past 22 years.

Georgians June Bugs Cause Crisis for Vivien Leigh

HOLLYWOOD, March 23 (UP)—The continuous aphidite on the mission approved today in the pastime department to remove all aphid infested from Georgia to Miss Vivien (Pearl) O'Hara Leigh and extend the June bug threat from there to her. The White Field Inspector J. H. Chadwell searched Helena-Leigh international mail brought more of the green-shelled crawlers to Miss Leigh, she announced with a gasp.

She said she believed the Georgia June bug to be a hazardous pest indeed, she hoped her well-wishers from the United States would help her to prove their native insects.

Chadwell said he brought the June bug from California when she got the job to play the southern Miss O'Hara in the picture "The Letter." He had hardly signed the contract before she was asking what Miss

Germans, Slovakia Sign Special Treaty

BERLIN, March 23 (UP)—Joseph von Ribbentrop, foreign minister, announced today that Germany and Slovakia had signed a special treaty regulating German-Slovak relations.

The treaty regulates political and economic relations and presumably indicates the scope of Germany's protectorate over Slovakia.

RANCHER STABS DRUNK INTRUDER

COUNCIL, Idaho, March 23 (UP)—Jack Stover, 38, of Meadows, was slain today in a Weber hospital with knife wounds in his lungs and abdomen resulting from an attempt to force his way into the home of a five-inch woman and engaged in a battle with the occupants.

The man was beaten over the head with a pistol butt until he broke and finally stabbed when Carr shot at him on entering Mrs. Carr's room.

"It was a case of no reason why Stover should have even come to my home last night," Carr said. "I did not know Stover and had never seen him before."

Sheriff Ed Wade of Adams county and his deputies were searching for an unidentified man who drove Stover to the Carr home from Old Meadows. Carr said the driver of the stolen car was not a local man.

Stover was slain in a rooming house in Meadows. Carr said the driver of the stolen car was not a local man.

LITHUANIANS AND NAZIS SIGN PACT

BERLIN, March 23 (UP)—Germany and Lithuania have signed an unconditional neutrality treaty, it was announced today, as part of a formal agreement providing for Lithuania's surrender of Memel territory.

The treaty provided for establishment of a free port at Memel for Lithuania's use.

But of particular political importance, as tending to make Lithuania itself into Germany's orbit of influence, was article 14 of the treaty: "In order to emphasize their decision to secure friendly development of relations between Germany and Lithuania, both sides obligate themselves that neither will take any by force against another nor support force applied by a third party to either of these sides or to any other."

$25,000 ADDED TO BEET TOTALS

Ninety-seven additional beet checks totaling more than $25,000 had been received today at offices of the Twin Falls County Agricultural Conservation Association as federal benefits on the 1938 crop.

Fifty of the checks, aggregating $17,000, arrived this morning and 47 totaling $8,000.19 came Wednesday afternoon. Secretary H. W. Lincoln said.

The additional $25,000 leaves approximately only $80,000 left to come in to complete the county's $220,000 grand total in beet benefits.

Farmers whose checks are in the latest group will be notified by mail, Mr. Lincoln said.

Hines Gets 4 to 8 Year Sentence

Policy Racket King Grins as Term is Set

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—James J. Hines, district attorney, today led a jury of four to convict a policy racket king of underworld in the operation of the Dutch Schultz policy racket.

The 62-year-old former blacksmith was convicted of selling his political influence with the police and the courts over a period of years for sums ranging as high as $1000 a week.

The court levied sentences of from one to two years, to be served concurrently, on four other policy counts of opportunity. Sentences on the other eight felony counts in the indictment will be served concurrently. That means Hines will not be eligible for parole for three years.

Hines managed a grin in court.

NAME OLD JIMMY

"It's the same old Jimmy Hines," he said.

He listened without change of expression as his attorney, Lloyd Paul Stryker, argued fully for setting aside of the conviction and an arrest of judgment. Hines listened without betraying emotion as Judge Charles C. Nott pronounced sentence.

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, whose successful prosecution of Hines put him into front rank recognition as a Republican presidential possibility in 1940, made no recommendation in court and Stryker made no plea for leniency.

Judge Nott decided, however, that Hines would be held in Tombs prison here rather than be taken to Sing Sing prison immediately.

Stryker is expected to appeal to a supreme court, justice later for a certificate of reasonable doubt to free his client pending an appeal to the appellate division and the court of appeals.

Judge Nott made it clear that except for Hines' age the sentence would have been much more severe—probably close to the maximum of 27 years. He said he regarded the crimes as particularly serious because the police and the courts were tampered with to permit unbridled operation of a criminal enterprise.

YOUTHS RECEIVE FIVE-DAY TERMS

Three Afton, Wyo., youths began serving five-day county jail sentences today on charges of petty larceny, theft of game from a truck owned by Sherman Mullins, Kimberly.

The trio sentenced today by Judge C. A. Bailey in probate court is Ivan E. Mills, 22, truck driver; Carl McCoy, 24, mechanic, and Elmer Mills, 21, cook and cabinet worker. All three pleaded guilty late yesterday.

Two of the youths were arrested early Wednesday morning at Kimberly by Constable-Sheriff Art C. Parker. The constable's police dog, Pal, then routed Elmer Mills from a hiding place behind the Mullins house and the other two from the garage of J. Smallwood, Kimberly, who possibly were traveling in search of jobs.

Sheriff's officers said today that the three youths were in the garage of J. Smallwood, Kimberly, who possibly were connected with the trio but no accusation has been made. The blanket and wrenches, officers said, were taken from Smallwood's garage shortly before the gas theft from the Mullins truck.

MOUNTAIN KILLER HOLDS OFF POSSE

trable area near the headwaters of Little Bear creek, high in the mountains. There he released them and Thornburg hastened to a ranch and telephoned the alarm here.

Calls for Bloodhounds
Sheriff Blackburn, who is in constant communication with his Powell posse, called for bloodhounds. The dogs directed to the fugitive's trail by Thornburg, took up the scent. At dusk, Linabury and Argenteo, accompanied by several hundred yards ahead of the main party, suddenly opened fire. A rifle from the woods ahead of them spat twice. They fell. Members of the main posse were ordered to cover.

Durand was believed to have slipped through the posse and headed for another of the numerous peaks northeast.

ODDY, Wyo., March 23 (AP)—Sheriff Frank Blackburn reported to his office here by short wave radio today that Earl Durand, shaggy-haired, raw-nosed, rattling killer of four peace officers, still was encoined in a rocky lair in the Bearfoot mountains, holding off a posse of more than 100 men.

The possemen withheld their gunfire for the time being, awaiting a return light over the Boulder strewn canyon by Bill Monday, Cody aviator, who had obtained a tear gas gun and several dynamite bombs from Casper.

Sheriff Blackburn had asked the commandant at Fort Warren, near Cheyenne, to send a small trench mortar, but the request had to be referred to the war department in Washington for approval. Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming personally pursued the request with Gen. Malin Craig, army chief of staff, and was assured of cooperation.

The small trench mortar was expected to be flown from Fort Warren to Cody later today.

Militarization of CCC Bobs up Again

Repeatedly squelched in the past, the proposal to include military training in the CCC regime has bobbed up again.

Though no responsible military authority has asked or even endorsed the plan, it continues to be advanced.

Congress can not too definitely reject that proposal, once and for all.

It is bad in theory. It is bad in practice.

First, the theory. Not even the most rabid backers of increased armament have as yet suggested universal military service for the United States. Yet it is proposed to subject to military training a single class of young men—those who have not been able to find a place in industrial life.

This is undemocratic. If military training is to be established on anything like a universal basis, then let all youths be subject to it. Even the totalitarian states do this, and at its worst, their military program has the merit of taking everybody without distinction. The draft of World War days at least had the merit of taking everybody.

But this proposal would train as soldiers a particular segment of the country's youth, leaving those in more fortunate circumstances untouched.

To advance any such program in a democratic country, whose foundation is in the equal treatment of all regardless of their circumstances, is a grave mistake.

Second, the practical side. The value of any such training, with six hours a week of military training sandwiched in with the regular week's work, is highly doubtful.

The CCC is a work program. It is and is meant to be a civilian program, as indicated plainly by its name "Civilian Conservation Corps." The aim is to furnish productive work to young men who have not been able to find a place in regular jobs, meanwhile teaching them as much as possible to qualify them for regular jobs when they get out.

Military training doesn't fit into this picture at all. It would merely disrupt the work without providing military training of any value whatever.

The CCC has done a fine job, as almost everybody admits. To mix it all up (at great expense) with military training, would ruin its record as a work organization, provide no worth-while military resources to the nation, and flout the basic democratic principle that if one young man owes military service to his country, all owe it.

Interstate Barriers

The supreme court's decision in the Florida cement inspection tax case ought to be read with great interest by all state legislators.

In a unanimous decision written by Justice Frankfurter, the court held invalid an inspection tax on cement imported from Belgium and Denmark. Such a law was clearly a dodge, the court held, to get around the fact that the constitution explicitly prohibits any import from laying import duties. It was, in effect, an import tariff, hence illegal.

What makes the decision interesting to state legislators is that many states have been doing the same thing, not in barring foreign products, but in discriminating against products from other states.

Since the constitution clearly recognizes that national unity and national prosperity depend on an uninterrupted flow of goods between states, many such laws, similarly based on "inspection" and similar euphemisms for tariffs, may be similarly regarded by the supreme court. They have reached an importance in interstate commerce that warrants a test in the highest court.

Hidden Heaven

People are always poking about the hidden corners of the earth to find heaven.

The newest discovery of such a heaven-on-earth comes from Dr. Paul A. Zahl. Tucked away in the interior between British Guiana and Venezuela, Dr. Zahl has found a remote valley whose natives are all happy. Their human relations, Dr. Zahl reports, are almost ideal. During a week's stay, he never saw a sign of anger, nothing but laughter and idyllic happiness.

But before you start packing that suitcase, hear Dr. Zahl a little farther. The same Indians, he reports, once they have been exposed to contact with the white race, quickly develop jealousy, treachery and anger.

So you see it would be quite useless for us to trek off to the wilds of Guiana, seeking heaven.

Because we, being civilized human beings, would carry our hell with us.

The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional.

Yesterday morning, when a car came to a halt at the curb, a man stepped out. He was a man of about 35, with dark hair, a high forehead, and a serious expression. He was wearing a dark suit, a white shirt, and a dark tie. He was looking towards the car, and he was waiting for someone to get out.

"Just a minute, Alan," Dr. Farrell said. "I'll be right with you. You've been up all night, son. Why don't you go home and get some sleep, and I'll look after your mother when she comes."

"But Doctor Farrell—"

"No argument, now, son. I can take care of him all right. I've been taking care of people for years, and I know what I'm doing. You go home and get some sleep, and I'll look after your mother when she comes."

"I'm not tired, I'm all right," Alan said. "I'll stay here with you. I'll be right with you. You've been up all night, son. Why don't you go home and get some sleep, and I'll look after your mother when she comes."

"I'm not tired, I'm all right," Alan said. "I'll stay here with you. I'll be right with you. You've been up all night, son. Why don't you go home and get some sleep, and I'll look after your mother when she comes."

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

By BRUCE CATTON

(Evening Times Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The man who has been the most vocal of the messengers asked that retirement benefits be made available to them. (Other messengers contribute some $10 per cent of their pay to build up a pension fund.) At this point, however, the department ruled that the messengers' retirement benefits be made available to them. (Other messengers contribute some $10 per cent of their pay to build up a pension fund.)

The crux of his complaint is that although he works for the postoffice department he is not, technically, a postoffice employee. He is a contractor engaged by the individual postmasters, and hence could not get on the retirement fund.

That was that. The messengers went along under the status of contractors, but some day they would be able to get their retirement fund.

Last year they thought they had their chance, when President Roosevelt issued his civil service classification order. Another ruling was sought, but it came out the same way. Attorney General Cummings held that they still were contractors, not employees.

This winter they tried again, asking for a special delivery messenger status. (They had high hopes. It was of Mr. Murphy's outspoken desire to get as many government workers as possible into the civil service.) But Murphy ruled that because of precedent and common usage, they were contractors, not employees.

SEEK REFUND

Congressman John Dingell, Michigan Democrat, is trying to get Congress to do something about the special delivery messengers. He has brought in a bill which would put the messengers in a body under civil service, make them definitely employees, and make a provision under the retirement fund provisions

HUNGARIAN, SLOVAKIAN ARMIES FIGHT FOR 15-MILE STRIP

2 TINY NATIONS MASS TROOPERS FOR BIG BATTLE

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia, March 23 (UP)—Slovakian troops, Hlinka militia and bombing planes today battled fiercely with Hungarian military columns seeking reportedly with consent of Adolf Hitler to seize a 15-mile strip of territory inside the Slovak frontiers.

Crossing the frontier at three points, the Hungarians followed retreating Slovak troops back to their second lines of defense where a strong Slovak counter-attack was reported to have hurled back the invaders.

Troops also were reported massed by both sides near Schutte Island, not far from Bratislava. The Hungarian invasion extended 13½ miles across the border to Michalovce and Maly.

German Approval Claimed?
Messages from the scene of fighting reported that the commander of the Hungarian troops had claimed to be acting with the approval of Germany.

It was said authoritatively that the Slovak government had called the attention of the German government, as the protector of the new Slovak state, to the alleged invasion.

The ministry of defense announced that a Hungarian detachment from Oszkard occupied Michalovce, while another Hungarian column marching by way of Pavlovce occupied Maly and continued on toward Silesia.

The ministry claimed the Hungarians so far had met with slight success, while Slovak officials said was "temporary," private reports indicated that a chaotic situation existed in east Slovakia, with forces fighting under way in some spots.

To Fortify Island
According to the only information available regarding the cause of the outbreak, the Hungarians were reported to have been assured that Slovakia was about to cede them a strip of territory roughly 15 miles deep along the frontier. Who arranged for the cession was not clear.

The Hungarians also were reported without official confirmation to have made military preparations for Schutte Island, which is not far from Bratislava and which was awarded to Hungary at the Vienna diplomatic conference following Munich.

The Slovaks were understood to have concentrated strong troops and Hlinka guards—estimated in some sources at 200,000 men—for defense of that area, which is a flat bottomland over which mobile army units can move through the fields.

The total revenue receipts for public elementary and secondary schools in the United States range around two billion dollars annually.

MASTERS PRAISES CLARK AND BORAH

BOISE, March 23 (UP)—Former Secretary of State Ira H. Masters, returned to the Idaho capital this week with high praise for Idaho veterans senator, William E. Borah, and his junior son, William E. Borah, Jr.

Masters said he was proud of his two senators because they both are doing a good job of representing the voters of this state. Masters said, "Although Clark is new to the senate, he already commands the respect and confidence of other senators."

Masters said he noted on a trip through the southern states that the people in general regarded Idaho's senior senator as their friend and representative regardless of race, politics or station in life.

Borah was just recovering from a severe attack of influenza when I was visiting in Washington, yet he was on the floor of the senate engaging in debate," Masters said.

Clark made his first speech in the senate while I was there and he won the admiration and congratulations of outstanding senate leaders. He is fortunate also in having the support of Senator Borah.

2 CONVICTS CAPTURED

DENVER, Tex., March 23 (UP)—Arthur Brown and Delbert Duck, two of five escaped convicts who fled from the Wynne prison farm at Brownsville, were captured yesterday by Constable Ira Jesse V. E. Cooper, another of the escaped prisoners, surrendered at Whiteville yesterday, leaving only two at large.

Dean Detton Loses Bid for Mat Crown

LOS ANGELES, March 23 (UP)—Dean Detton, Greco, successfully defended his claim to the title of world's champion wrestler last night when he defeated Mat Crown, Kinsler, Tex., in 45 minutes by dropping him on his head before 10,000 fans in the Olympic auditorium.

After a physician had examined Detton's head, he declared the injuries were not serious but that the match could not continue. Detton was awarded the one fall and the match.

HEALTH DIRECTOR WARNS ON TICKS

BOISE, March 23 (UP)—The Idaho department of health today warned nature-lovers who decide to roam the hills in the spring to beware of wood ticks and Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

"There are only two ways of protecting yourself from tick fever," said Dr. H. L. McMartin, director of public health. "Either stay away from contact with ticks or get vaccinated."

The disease-carrying tick infests brush and is most dangerous after the sun comes out and spring weather sets in. The highest rate of infection occurs during the hot summer months.

A serum that immunizes those bitten by the tick has been developed at the U. S. public health service laboratory at Hagerman, Mont. It is available through physicians throughout the state. McMartin said.

IDAHO PEP BAND PREPARES SHOW

MOSEBOW, March 22 (Special)—Enthusiastic teachers, dress rehearsals, and the erection of modernistic stage sets has placed the annual Pep Band show in readiness for presentation on Thursday and Friday nights at the University of Idaho. The show, an annual musical feast for Idaho students, is under the direction of Bill Chase, Rexburg, leader of the band.

The 1939 show is strictly a student venture. All music has either been composed or arranged by Idaho students. The script for the satire of campus life was written by Rodger, Horn, Pollock, with Ned Fowler, Gooding, directing the dialogue. Merle Nelson, Twin Falls, composed and directed the many dance numbers for the show with Brandt Gesel, Moscow, designing the colorful stage sets.

The show is divided into two parts, format with 45 minutes of modern semi-classical music and informal with many student composed songs, tunes, dances, and mixed choruses of 21 voices. The composition for the informal acts were written by Lander Chase, Dick Paris, Kellogg, and Earl Thomas, Malad, who also directs the chorus. Betty Bollinger, Lewiston; Margaret Ward, Boise, and Ray Woodard, Blackfoot, take over the solo roles with Jack Fagerstedt, Weiser, holding a leading part in the satirical musical show. The plot of the stage presentation revolves around campus life in the satirical extreme.

The Pep band show is an annual show at the university and fills 700-capacity auditorium to the brim during the two performances. Charles Tiller, Post Falls, bass player, is business manager of the group and Hudson Nelson, Bannock, trombone soloist, is librarian.

GLENN'S FERRY

The regular business meeting of the auxiliary of the Old Timers club will be held Monday night, March 27, at the Community hall. Mr. and Mrs. Van Trous, Hagerman, and Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, Cascade, visited here for a short time Saturday. They were accompanied to Hagerman that night by Miss Louise Loring, who returned Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Murphy to their home in Cascade.

Rev. H. J. Hansen, La Grande, Ore., visited Friday, Monday, and Tuesday to Omaha to visit relatives. Rev. Hansen was pastor of the Methodist church here a number of years ago.

Mrs. Fred Hart visited Monday with her husband in Shoshone, where he was called by the death of her mother.

William Peterson and E. D. Stone went to Boise Friday on business. They had been called by the death of their mother.

Charles Bend, Denver, spent the week-end here with his brother, Joe, and nephew, Carl Bend. He was en route to Portland, Ore.

The local telephone operators, who were transferred from here with the installation of the new dial system, have resumed their duties elsewhere. Mrs. Mattie Watts, Miss Vera Allen and Miss Mary Harrison are now in the Boise office and Miss Emma Cline has gone to Nampa to work.

FRIEND RECALLS LINCOLN'S FACE

By ALEXANDER KAHN

HOLLYWOOD, U.P.—For a real illustration of the ingenuity young America displays in attaining its objective, blond and lovely Elaine Sheppard stands out as an example of what brains and will power can achieve.

Miss Sheppard is currently furthering her career in the role of a wealthy college girl in "Hollywood's" "Sorority House." But in real life there never was enough money in the Sheppard budget for Elaine to go to college.

As a youngster in her early teens, Elaine paid for her dancing lessons by doing housework for her dancing teacher. When she finished high school, she decided a secretarial career offered opportunities but she was forced to mortgage a piano to obtain the $10 down payment on a house at business college.

When she finished the course, her first earnings went to lift the piano mortgage. But her secretarial career fizzled with a business slump and a doctor recommended a change of climate, preferably Southern California, for her mother's failing health.

Because they could not afford the move, Elaine elected herself a planning committee of one to place the piano in a front seat in the car. She then had her eyes dropped just a pen on a map of California, and when it stuck closer to San Diego than any other city, she boarded a bus for San Diego, arriving there with $2 cents.

While having a coffee-and-doughnut breakfast upon her arrival in San Diego, she noticed the restaurant proprietor wore a badge pin of the same order that her mother bore. She then told her story, and an effective tear, and landed a job behind the cash register and candy counter.

During the noon hour, fantastic as it may sound, she got another job as ticket-seller at a movie theater six blocks away to work evenings. Two weeks later she entered a local department store advertising campaign, won $3 and a one-day bus trip across the border to nearby Arizona.

There and she swears it is the truth she sold in a dime canteen the costume with $2 of her prize money and ran it up to $175, immediately squaring her mother with the money.

Through her theater boss Elaine landed a chance to earn a little money by posing as a fashion model at Palm Springs. There she met Mrs. Milton Bren, wife of a Hollywood producer, who introduced her to Bren. That was on a Friday and the following Tuesday she reported to the studio for her first screen role.

And, more unusual, Miss Sheppard does not think she did anything more extraordinary in getting where she is than any other youngster when thrown upon his own resources.

Clever Girl Works Way from House Cleaning to Movie Job

FLIERS PLAN FOR BURLEY AIRMEET

By ALEXANDER KAHN

This year's all-Idaho airmeet sponsored by the Idaho Pilot's association will be held at the Burley municipal airport, probably late in September while the 1940 gathering will be held at the Twin Falls field. It was announced this afternoon by Victor Kelley, Hagerman, president of the organization.

"By next year," Kelley said, "the Twin Falls airport will be ready for a major airmeet. Work which is now underway toward its improvement will have been completed before then and the dust hazard, which now exists when many planes gather, will have been eliminated."

Preliminary plans were made for the meet at Burley next fall as Kelley and C. G. Wylie, secretary-treasurer of the pilot's organization, met with members of the Burley Chamber of Commerce and also city officials yesterday.

At that time the Burley chamber announced plans to point a special committee which would work with the aviators in preparing for the event, second of its kind to be staged at Burley. Two years ago, when the association sponsored its first meet, more than 12,000 persons witnessed the two-day program.

The Burley airport was described by the pilot-as-being in excellent shape for the show.

"Chambers and city officials at Burley promised the same cooperation which was given two years ago," Kelley said.

LAMB CROP SEEN AT LOWER LEVEL

BOISE, March 23 (Special)—An early spring lamb crop slightly smaller than the large early crop of last year is indicated by reports received by the bureau of agricultural economics. The number of early lambs for slaughter before July 1, however, will be materially smaller than last year because of the very poor condition of the lambs in California and Texas where a large proportion of the early crop will not reach slaughter weights and condition by that date.

Weather and feed conditions in a number of the important early lambing states have been much less favorable up to March 1 than last year, and prospects for feed in some of these states during the next two months are not promising. Improving conditions last year were generally favorable throughout the season in all of the early lambing states.

Poor in California. In California, the most important source of early lamb supply, the prospective feed situation is very poor in most of the early lambing areas, and it now seems fairly certain that a large proportion of the early lambs will have to be sold as feeders. In Texas, which last year ranked second in the number of early lambs marketed before July 1, weather and feed conditions have been very unfavorable since the first of the year. Locals of early lambs have been heavy and most of the lambs have not made normal growth.

Conditions have been much more favorable in the other early lambing states. In the north Pacific states and Idaho, weather has been fairly favorable for sheep raising and feed supplies have been abundant and cheap.

Below 1938. In the southeastern states the proportion of ewes lambing to March 1 was below last year and hardly up to average; and in Tennessee and Kentucky the shortage of winter grain pasture has handicapped somewhat the growth of the lambs.

The situation as of early March indicates that the slaughter of sheep and lambs during the three months from April through June this year will be considerably smaller than the large slaughter during these months last year. Not only will the number of early spring lambs be smaller but the movement of grass fat yearling lambs and wethers from Texas will also be much smaller.

Pettygrove Flays U. S. for "Hamstringing" of State Government

DIRECTOR URGES 'HORSE SENSE' IN POTATO GRADING

By O. A. NELKER

Warning that "if the program of the federal bureau of agriculture in Washington is not changed, the potato of Idaho might just as well rot out of their state government and recognize a supreme being in the department of agriculture in the nation's capital, E. N. Pettygrove, Idaho's commissioner of agriculture, addressed members of the Kiwanis club and their farmer guests here last night.

The banquet at which the state official spoke was held at the Park Hotel. More than 125 Kiwanians and their friends were present.

Presidenting the meeting was William S. Hill, president of the local club, while Claude DeWetter, program committee, introduced the principal speaker.

During the talk Pettygrove, a former farmer and husband, flayed government methods in "moving in" and "taking over" state government departments.

"Swallow Up" Tendency

"The federal government has a tendency at the present time to attempt to push into the background and subside your local government," the speaker said. "It is this tendency to swallow up your entire state government."

"When I entered the state department of agriculture, I found things hamstrung and hogtied. There were too many federal agencies represented that I could hardly find room in the office for myself."

"I'm either going to have something to say how the department of agriculture in this state is run or move out."

"The old contract with the department of agriculture at Washington made the state department here little more than a collecting agency for the federal government."

"At the present time a new contract has been framed with the federal government and this contract recognizes that Idaho is a sovereign state. We have a department of agriculture and I believe we should accept some of the responsibility."

"This contract has not, as yet, been approved by Washington but there is every reason to believe that it should be," he said.

Spud Inspectors

Turning to the question of federal inspectors who issue grade certificates on potatoes and other produce, Pettygrove said that "we must have a uniform interpretation of these inspection laws on the quality of these commodities whether the price at market is going up or down."

"The charge has been made that the shippers here in this section of Idaho are not meeting a high standard as growers are called upon to meet in the upper Snake river country, but I do not think this is entirely true."

"Interpretation of these grades has got in a pretty bad way in some sections of this state."

"Some of these inspectors who are called on to pass on the quality of our products must be of the opinion potatoes grow on bushes."

"Fantastic Ideas"

"It is almost impossible to meet their fantastic ideas of the standards of the grades. What is needed is good common sense," Pettygrove pointed out.

He then turned to the matter of contracts which farmers of Idaho make with outside interests to buy their (the Idaho farmers') products.

"Farmers need protection against these damnable contracts," Pettygrove said, "which outside companies bring into Idaho and induce our farmers to sign. Some of these outside concerns doing business in this manner are trustworthy but there are others against which legislative action should be taken. At the next session of the legislature I intend

Dance on Skis! Paulita Plans It at Both Fairs

Ski Dancer

KETCHUM, March 23.—(Special)

Did you ever hear of one dancing on skis?

Probably not, but Paulita Sutter, wife of Herman Sutter, maître d'hôtel at the Christiana club at Sun Valley, has solved just such a dance routine.

Attendees at the Golden Gate International exposition at Treasure Island will have the opportunity to witness this unusual dance number because Mrs. Sutter is to give a few weeks for the fair with a dance engagement.

She will dance on skis on the dance floor, and will demonstrate a new trick of hers which she explains as demonstrating "how to get up after falling on skis."

She will also dance at the World's fair in New York City. Fairs are something of a hobby with Paulita. She also danced at the Chicago World's fair a few years ago.

Her repertoire includes a dance with two Irish setters, Sun Valley and Mike, and another number in which she uses three parrots. These birds have traveled with her all over the world.

Mrs. Sutter will be distinguished guests at the Sacramento centennial in August. The celebration is in honor of the memory of General Sutter, founder of Sacramento, who is the illustrious ancestor of Mr. Sutter.

Paulita Sutter entertains every Saturday and Sunday at "Sutter's Place," her picturesque cabin perched on one of Ketchum's hills.

GERMAN CLUB DISBANES

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—The German-American club once one of the largest fraternal groups in this city, has dissolved after 66 years. The lodge had paid out more than $65,000 in benefits during its existence.

See "Ada" as Benefit

In speaking of the advertising program, Pettygrove termed it a benefit to Idaho growers.

An analysis of it will convince even the most skeptical as to its success," he concluded.

A special musical program was arranged for the meeting. A male quartet, composed of Miss Reynolds, Charles Jereb, Lawrence Hall and Charles Steber sang two numbers. They were accompanied by Miss Lorene Frazier. Harry Walters gave two medleys of piano selections while Mrs. C. P. Duval was at the piano for community singing.

DeWetter, who acted as toastmaster, introduced Rep. H. C. Rourke and Rep. Ralph E. Leighton. The former, who sponsored the law permitting expansion of county hospitals, talked briefly on the proposal to add a 40-room addition to the hospital here. Leighton discussed lobbying during the legislature's sessions.

One feature of the evening was the delivery of several "Western Union telegrams" from "important people."

One, which was signed Franklin D. Roosevelt, announced that it was "with regret" that Secretary Wallace was not able to be in Twin Falls for the banquet.

"Wallace started for Idaho with the New Deal measure spreader but the d— thing broke down in Iowa," the dummy telegram which was supposed to be from the President, read.

Another was read which was supposed to have come from the Mayor of Golden, Colo., stating in Hollywood. It offered employment to R. P. Robinson and Dr. Frank J. McAtre "because Edward Bergen had a silver in his finger from Charlie McCarthy." The telegram told the two local men to name their own salary up to $12 a day.

Dr. H. E. Lamb was chairman in charge of last night's program.

"Fantastic Ideas"

"It is almost impossible to meet their fantastic ideas of the standards of the grades. What is needed is good common sense," Pettygrove pointed out.

He then turned to the matter of contracts which farmers of Idaho make with outside interests to buy their (the Idaho farmers') products.

WATER FORECAST AMPLE FOR 1939

With snow melting in many areas and rivers and streams filling as a result, three principal reservoirs serving this section of Idaho, will provide ample irrigation water for both the north and south side tracts this year, a report compiled by Tracy Crandall, Snake river watermaster, which was delivered to the Twin Falls Canal company today, shows.

At the present time all three reservoirs are impounding a greater amount of water than they were at the time last year. American falls reservoir now holds 1,841,570 acre feet against 1,596,050 a year ago. Likewise Jackson lake now impounds 546,870 acre feet against 385,270 a year ago and Lake Walcott 743,720 against 613,940.

The latest report also shows a great quantity of snow still remaining in some sections. At Island park the depth is 36 inches with 16.79 inches water content. At Grassy lake the depth is 120 inches, at Moran 38 inches and at Snake river 72 inches.

A special report made during the period March 14 to 21 by B. B. Hill, Jackson lake reservoir superintendent at Moran, Wyo. and released with Crandall's report, shows the following depths:

Moran, 37 inches; Moran bay, 71 inches; Arizono, 64 inches; Huckleberry divide, 67 inches; Snake river, 72 inches; Lewis lake divide, 123 inches; Aster creek, 81 inches; Coulter creek, 71 inches; Glade creek, 76 inches.

ITALIAN MONARCH OPENS SESSIONS

ROME, March 23.—King Victor Emmanuel in a speech declared as the formal opening of Italy's campaign for anti-fascism of it. Mediterranean aspirations, opened today the new 26th Century Chamber of Deputies and Corporations, replacing the old chamber of deputies.

The king said that Italy, in order to develop its resources, desired that peace should ensure as long as possible, but that the nation was not lulled itself in the illusion that perpetual peace was certain.

He said that "much more must be done to insure that Italy's armaments on land and sea are in the state should not be inferior to others in order that peace might be possible."

Premier Benito Mussolini was expected to follow up with a speech of his own Sunday, outlining Italy's demands, unless France initiates secret negotiations before then.

SHOSHONE DANCE

SHOSHONE, March 23.—(Special)

Considerable restoration preceded Saturday night dancing, when two officers walked into the dance room and announced that the affair was over for the week.

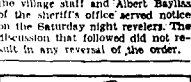

It was a St. Patrick's day benefit ball given under the sponsorship of the large Baque colony of Shoshone, and most of the crowd had just assembled until after 11 p. m. Objection to the action of the officers brought out the announcement

NEW RISE LOOMS FOR MOTOR FUEL

Real price of much of the gasoline sold in this city is believed to be due for a one-cent raise today after two of the major companies serving this section informed retailers that wholesale price of the product was increased by that amount.

Although up to early afternoon the price of gasoline was held steady, it is believed that a one-cent raise will be in effect by the close of the day.

Increased Earlier
Wholesale price of gasoline was recently increased by one-tenth of a cent by the wholesale dealers in order to cover the tax imposed on them for the purpose of providing them with the state credit.

At least six service stations in Twin Falls raised their price one cent to the consumer on both white and higher grade gas this morning.

Other station owners said they had not yet been informed of any contemplated increase, but added that they would be forced to take the action if their source of supply boomed the cost.

Independents Aloud
Apparently the raise will not be made by independent stations. "There are possible regulatory action by large oil companies, under the state's public utilities authority, was taken at Boise several days ago as an attempt to stop such action."
