SPANISH NATIONALISTS SET FOR MARCH TO MADRID

Mussolini's Speech Bids for Dominance in Mediterranean Sea

Duce Demands Navy Power; Conference With France Looms

ROME, March 27 (U.P.)—Political circles in Rome said today that Premier Benito Mussolini's speech of yesterday, mentioning Tunisia, Djibouti and the Suez canal as points of Italian conflict with France, was a bid for dominance in the Mediterranean.

The speech itself was moderate in tone. It was regarded as likely to lead to negotiations soon after the fall of Madrid, on a three point basis:

1. Dominance of Italy in the Mediterranean and Italian naval equality with France.
2. Replacement of the French-Italian treaty of 1935, which Italy abrogated last December, by a new treaty settling the status of Tunisia, Djibouti and the canal.
3. Wipes Out Obligations.

Recognition by Italy that the settlement of these questions wipes out any and all obligations France might have toward Italy as the result of the 1915 London treaty of 1915, under which Italy was promised concessions for joining the World War.

Government circles, discussing Mussolini's speech, said it contained these main points:

1. Italy desires a peace based on recognition by all states of the powers in general and France in particular of Italy's "sacrosanct right."
2. The Berlin-Rome "axis" remains solid.

Outstanding problems between Italy and France must be settled once or the present breach separating the countries may become so wide that it might prove impossible to bridge it by peaceful means.

Italy must be predominant in the Mediterranean, which, to Italians, includes the Atlantic.

Italy must continue arming, turning out new ships, cannons and airplanes.

BURLEY GIRLS

LEGION'S VICTOR

Miss Ethel Melners of Burley, a student at the senior high school here, today had been declared winner in the district American Legion essay contest after all entries were judged Sunday.

Miss Melners' essay was written on the subject, "A Comparative Study of Advantages of American Citizenship."

Two other girls, both students at the Kimberly high school, were awarded second and third places. They were Miss Betty Melners and Miss Mary Melners.

Miss Melners' essay was written on the subject, "The Three Essays were immediately mailed by the judges to Boise where they will be entered in the state contest."

As state winner will be sent to Washington for the national trials. As winner of first place in the district, Miss Melners will receive $10. Miss Melners' second place essay will bring her $5 while the essay of Miss Melners will bring her $10. All awards will be presented at a later date.

Using two years of "America" as the basis for her essay, Miss Melners explained that they show at least three of the many advantages of American citizenship—liberty, security and freedom.

Explains Liberty
"First of all, liberty does not exist unless the law permits the people to do things in life that secure for them happiness without being stopped before hand or punished afterward. Liberty is the power to move about from any place or to any job where conditions are favorable, and to do this in a new place and a new source of income in order to progress without unreasonable burden or risk or loss," the winner wrote.

Solon to Request Added Sugar from Puerto Rico, Hawaii

WASHINGTON, March 27 (U.P.)—Sen. Millard E. Ewing, D., Mo., today advised the senate he was going to ask the house to amend the sugar tariff bill so that Hawaii and Puerto Rico may share in the percentage of increased quotas given domestic sugar growers.

The bill passed the senate last week.

Yankee Ship Ends Flight In 17 Hours

HORTA, Azores, March 27 (U.P.)—Pan-American Airways' U.S. Yankee Clipper landed in Horta harbor at 7:50 a. m. CST today, completing a 2,800 over-water hop from Baltimore in 17 hours and 35 minutes.

Carrying 21 passengers, the huge flying boat swept gracefully down to the smooth waters of the bay almost exactly on schedule after an uneventful flight from Baltimore on the first leg of its maiden transatlantic cruise.

Landing Business Like
Under command of Capt. Harold E. Gray, veteran trans-Atlantic pilot, the big plane came ashore with the Clipper alighted Horta under a slightly overcast sky, the flying boat was down in the harbor.

The ship took off from Baltimore at 3:30 p. m. CST yesterday on the first leg of its maiden transatlantic cruise.

164 Miles Per Hour
Most of the trip was made at an average of between 8,000 and 9,000 feet and the speed of approximately 165 miles per hour.

Powered by four huge motors, the big seaplane carried 4,500 gallons of gasoline, a crew of 12 and nine private and government observers.

Objectives of the scheduled trip included scheduled stops at the Azores, Lisbon, Marseille, Southampton and Pines, Ireland—were to test radio and weather reporting facilities and give ground personnel experience in handling the big craft.

Wallace was unable to explain the origin of a fire which licked up through the floor behind the cockpit when the plane, after bounding several hundred feet in a field a mile from the airport, took a sharp turn to the left and crashed.

Death List
The fire instantly was responsible for the three gasoline explosions which destroyed the plane and turned it into a roaring death pyre for seven passengers and the stewardess.

The dead were:
Allen, Miss J. Evanston, 11, Bate, R. T., Denver.

Calder, Senior Jerim, Calson, Bill, 10, Mex.
Coplin, B. Chicago.

Greenman, B. Aurora, Ill.
Hickney, Mrs. E. Port Isabel, Tex.
Sheldahl, Mrs. George, Ballina, Kan.

Warr, Miss Louise, Alwarda, Dallas.
The ship, a Douglas 14-passenger, was en route from Chicago to Dallas.

ANTI-Foreign CAMPAIGN
PHILADELPHIA, March 27 (U.P.)—Reports from Nanking said today that the "refugee" government, apparently inspired by the Japanese military, had launched a violent anti-foreign campaign, aimed chiefly at Great Britain.

British Columbia Ranchers Flee from Path of Floods

DAWSON CREEK, B. C., March 27 (U.P.)—Ranching families who fled their homes in this area today to get out of the way of flood waters that were sweeping down the Peace River valley, said today that they were trapped and their homes were being threatened with inundation when the flood waters came.

All lowlands in the district were threatened with inundation when the flood waters came.

Those drowned were so far identified only as "the Warrens" and included the father, mother, three children, and three grandchildren. Only the body of one woman was recovered.

How "Stop-Hitler" Bloc Would Fight Dictators

One proposed "democratic" bloc of eight nations (Great Britain, France, Russia, Rumania, Poland, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey) would command superiority of nearly 4 to 1 in armaments and reserves, about 3 to 1 in military personnel, approximately 11 to 1 in airpower against "Hitlerian" Germany, Italy and Japan. Above map shows land, sea and air strength of all 11 nations. The "Hitlerian" bloc would be composed of countries within the heavy black line; probable opposition nations are those outside heavy line whose names appear in white on black. Although above figures are subject to revision, they represent latest official estimates.

CITIZENS HELP IN U-P Adds New Freight Posts to Help Service

Carrying still further its recent changes for improvement of service, the Union Pacific railroad has appointed Ross Crispin, formerly of Nampa, as traveling freight agent with headquarters in Twin Falls, it was announced this afternoon by J. L. Fuller, Union Pacific agent here.

Crispin's post—a new designation intended to assist growers and shippers—covers the entire south central area from American Falls to Mountain Home.

Two Others Named
The other two traveling freight agents have also been named to complete "blanketing" of southern Idaho. They are B. P. Costello, former chief clerk to the agent at Pocatello, to handle territory north, south, east and west of Pocatello and including American Falls.

Costello will headquarters in Boise; Johnson at Pocatello. Crispin, the traveling freight agent for this area, was formerly telegrapher at Nampa. During 1937 he was passenger representative at Sun Valley.

Through Training
The three new freight men, Mr. Fuller said, are being schooled in all angles of freight and passenger service. They will explain the present new freight schedules—"box" service delivery, from Salt Lake City, Ogden and Pocatello; "second morning delivery" from the Pacific coast and Denver. Freight is carried in baggage cars on fast-schedule passenger trains.

Mr. Fuller said today that no successor to Frank E. Haas, chief agent in Twin Falls has yet been announced. The successor will be named on length of service and approval of the railroad's traffic department at Salt Lake City. Mr. Haas was promoted to station agent and was moved to Pocatello.

Expansion of the traffic department for Idaho came today as an aftermath of the new Pacific Northwest improvement in passenger train service in this area. A completely air-conditioned Challenger coach and a through sleeper to Salt Lake City plus more convenient time schedule, highlight these changes.

Gunboat Rescues Freighter's Crew
WASHINGTON, March 27 (U.P.)—The navy department announced last night that a U.S. gunboat rescued 33 men from the American freighter, Pointe Vicente, grounded last night off the Pacific coast entrance to the Panama canal.

The gunboat—the U.S. Charles L. Taylor, of Salton, Cal., Z-1—later returned Capt. Joel Tolson and the crew of 33 to the boat when it was discovered that it was in danger of breaking up, naval radio reported.

DECLINE MILITARY HONORS
COLUMBIA, S. C., March 27 (U.P.)—The crown prince and princess of Denmark, en route to the U.S. for the New York and San Francisco fairs, arrived here today. They declined official and military honors, calling their one-day stay in the canal zone strictly unofficial.

8 DEAD AS BUS RAMS INTO CAR
LOS ANGELES, March 27 (U.P.)—The sudden sliding of a sedan directly into the path of an interurban bus in crowded East Valley boulevard was blamed today for the death of a family of five and three other persons.

The sedan, witnesses said, was rammed by the bus, impaled on its front and carried some 30 yards. Six of its eight occupants were crushed to death and their bodies had to be pulled from the wreckage. The other, Meyer Minkus, 70, and his wife, Nellie, 68, died in a hospital.

Other dead were:
Frank Minkus, 18, daughter.
Mona Lee Minkus, 3, a grandchild.

Frank Garzon, 21, Louis Rubin, 12, Jeanne Rappaport, 18. Ten passengers on the bus were injured but none seriously. Isador Minkus, the school teacher, was driving the sedan. The bus was owned by the Motor Transit company, a subsidiary of the Pacific Electric Transportation company.

Little Resistance Looms for Rebel Advance on City

HENDAYE, French-Spanish Border, March 27 (U.P.)—The Spanish nationalists drove victoriously through the republican lines in south-central Spain today and prepared to march into Madrid without important resistance.

Negotiations for unconditional surrender of Madrid apparently bogged down because the republican government felt it could not control the die-hard anarchists in the capital.

However, dispatches from Madrid indicated the people of the capital were not so eager for surrender and an end of the horror of 33 months of civil war.

Planes Fly Over
Nationalists at the border said fighting had broken out in the Madrid suburbs between republican troops and civilians who demanded immediate surrender. Twelve heavy bombing planes flew low over the city as a warning that the rebels were not to be deterred.

Burgos reported that the defense council there was being organized. The situation in the city was reported to have taken more than 10,000 prisoners and 2,000 square miles of territory.

The Cordoba area was cordoned off with machine guns and snipers. The situation in the city was reported to have taken more than 10,000 prisoners and 2,000 square miles of territory.

At other points, the republicans surrounded "Nationalist" forces reported to have taken more than 10,000 prisoners and 2,000 square miles of territory.

There was little doubt in Burgos that the capture of Madrid would be more or less routine with little opposition.

CHECK-UP SHIFTS CONTEST VICTORS
Following check-up of preliminary announcement, Harold Frazer, Twin Falls, today was declared winner in the "Teton Tarzan" contest sponsored by Twin Falls merchants in connection with the annual spring opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday of local stores.

Judges this afternoon announced that the $20 first prize money would go to Frazer, who made only nine and one-half mistakes on his official entry blank. The winner lives at 121 Monroe.

Second place was Mrs. Virgil Leavelle, Reed Apartments, with 10 mistakes. Mrs. Leavelle will receive $10.

In third place was Fred N. Locke, 622 Second avenue east, with 10 and one-half errors; in fourth was Mabel Johnson, 121 Monroe, with 11 and one-half errors; in fifth place with 11 and one-half errors was Mrs. Felix Rhee, 128 Second avenue west. Winners of third, fourth and fifth places will receive awards of $5, $2.50 and $2.50 respectively.

Preliminary announcement of the winners, made last Saturday night, was found to be in error by the judges after a check-up Sunday and today. In the official announcement, made Sunday morning, Mrs. Leavelle was listed as first place winner with Mrs. Felix Rhee in second place, Frazer in third, Locke in fourth and Mabel Johnson in fifth. In the final tabulations, however, the standings changed substantially.

FRENCH WILL REFUSE TO GIVE 'ONE INCH OF EMPIRE'

DALADIER SPEECH WILL TURN DOWN MUSSOLINI'S BID

PARIS, March 27 (AP)—Premier Edouard Daladier, in a radio speech Wednesday, will refuse to cede an inch of French territory to Italy but will express willingness to negotiate a political understanding. It was reported today.

The cabinet discussed Benito Mussolini's speech of yesterday, the British "stop Hitler" drive and the negotiations conducted during Lebrun's state visit to London.

Went Cede Inch

A government spokesman said that France would not cede an inch of her empire, either to force or to rise, and Daladier was expected to make this plain—but at the same time to leave the way open for a friendly settlement of Italy's "aspirations" which do not involve loss of territory.

The interpretation placed on Mussolini's speech in official quarters was that it might have been worse but could have been better.

Would Discuss Problems

Particularly it was commented that Mussolini had mentioned Tunisia, Djibouti and the Suez canal but had shown no sign he was ready to make definite proposals to France.

The government has expressed its willingness officially, it was said, to discuss the three problems Mussolini mentioned—so long as no cession of territory was involved.

It's easy to see that Edgar "Abe" Martin, famous cartoonist who draws "Boots and Her Buddies" for NEA Service-Idaho Evening Times, has as sharp an eye for beauty in real life as in his popular comic strip. Here's Idaho Miner Whose Dad Fought in War of 1812

He's believed to be the only man in the west whose father fought in the War of 1812.

He's Matt Kearney, who at 83 is planning a trip soon to Idaho City to see some mining cronies and to look into the matter of doing a bit more mining himself.

Dad 78 at Son's Birth

His unique distinction of being only one generation removed from the War of 1812 came about because his father, who fought with British troops in that conflict, was 18 years old when Matt was born.

What's more his uncle, Phil Kearney, was one of the most famous Indian fighters in the west. They named Kearney, Neb., after Phil and also Kearney, Mo. Matt isn't sure but what they also named after his Indian-fighting uncle the towns of Kearney in Kansas, Mississippi, North Carolina, Pennsylvania and Wyoming. Besides which, it's quite possible the same thing is true of Kearney Park, Calif., and Kearneyville, W. Va. Phil Kearney lost an arm in the Civil war.

Dad Born in Ireland

Matt's father, Daniel Kearney, was born in Tipperary, Ireland, joined the British army and fought with the Redcoats against the American colonists. After the British finally quit in that struggle, Daniel returned to England. A competent blacksmith after learning that trade in the army, Daniel got his discharge and migrated across the Atlantic to Canada.

He married Mary Kelly at Woodstock, Ont., and later they came to

Matt was the 13th child born to Daniel and Mary Kearney. Although his dad was 78 at the time, one more child came when Matt was two years old. His mother died during that 14th childbirth.

Today the only remaining member of the family, Matt's ever included, lumberjacking for 22 years in Wisconsin, his native state. Then he became a miner, sheepherder and did other odd jobs.

At present he's living with John H. Olander, Buhl rancher who also owns 15 placer mine claims and a dozen cattle claims. Olander said today he will take Kearney soon to Idaho City. He has been "grubstaking" the aged miner for a number of years.

More than a year ago Kearney had a paralytic stroke but now is almost fully recovered. He also had pneumonia this past winter but shook that off, too.

He hopes that his dad would have thought it "stupid" for a son of his to capitulate to anything like pneumonia.

PATCHING STARTS ON STATE ROADS

SHOSHONE, March 27 (Special)—Citing that the snow is rapidly disappearing from the lower levels in the Salmon and Mackay sections, C. A. Kelly, district highway engineer, returned home from a trip of several days, to other parts of the area. He stated that a crew had been sent out under the direction of Foreman Martindale of the utility division to take charge temporarily of patching work, mostly on the south and west roads in the counties of Lincoln, Gooding and Jerome.

The washout on the main highway near Rogerson caused considerable damage and opened a gap 40 feet wide in the road. Construction Foreman Chalmers Martin and a crew went to the Deep creek district, where the break occurred, and are repairing the cut.

Work will shortly commence on the Grand View canyon road, north of Challis, states the engineer. It consists of 4.8 miles of grading and surfacing and bids will be opened April 7. On other projects no definite plans have been perfected at this time, though plenty of surveys have been completed on all projects.

The Richfield road will be under consideration very shortly, and will probably be the first project taken up. It being necessary to designate it as a federal project before operations commence.

WHITEHEAD RAPS GAS PRICE BOOST

BOISE, March 27 (AP)—Idaho's gasoline and oil companies recently raised gasoline prices one cent a gallon for the purpose of covering up an anticipated reduction of revenue. Lt. Gov. Danahill S. Whitehead charges in a special statement.

Whitehead said he had been informed that the companies, knowing this reduction is forthcoming, wish to cover up the reduction in revenue as much as possible by adding this totally unjustifiable cent per gallon.

Whitehead said the companies were not justified in raising the gasoline price one cent a gallon in addition to the mill-per-gallon tax imposed by the last legislature for the purpose of providing funds for purchase of the Twin Falls-Jerome intercounty toll bridge.

He pointed out that "the consumers—not intended in the first place to bear the mill-per-gallon tax—will actually be paying $600,000 per year instead of the $50,000 the mill tax would have raised."

Nearly all major oil companies of southwestern Idaho placed an additional one-cent per gallon price on gasoline last week.

WOOD RESEARCH EYES PROBLEMS

MOSCOW, March 27 (Special).—Four research projects in the field of wood utilization at the University of Idaho are aimed directly at solution of two questions the lumber industry of Idaho—and the state west, for that matter—would like to have solved.

First — What to do with the large amount of wood residue remaining after the merchantable part of the tree has been used.

Second — To find profitable outlets for three species which now are regarded as inferior.

Plastic Use.—One of the projects at the Idaho forestry school deals with experimentation in the utilization of the woody tissues in the production of plastic moulding materials, says Mr. E. V. White, associate professor of wood utilization. This project is made possible through graduate fellowships financed by Politech Forests, Inc. of Lewiston, Id. White relates this project already has indicated that plastics constitute one of the most promising methods of utilizing wood waste.

Another project, this one financed in part by a research grant from the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry, involves studying the physical and mechanical properties of woody tissues and of cellulose. The primary objective of this project relates to the mechanism whereby wood is absorbed and retained by the fiber. The results of such experiments have a direct bearing upon the manufacture and processing of pulp for paper, and related industries.

Lignin Investigation.—The third project involves fundamental investigation of lignin, which ranks next to cellulose as the most abundant substance in the tree. This project also is being conducted under a research grant from Politech Forests and is concerned with the chemical reactions and structure of lignin.

Many scientists believe that lignin represents a potentially valuable source from which many important by-products can be obtained. An analogy can be cited in the case of the once despised coal, which now forms the backbone of the drug and synthetic chemical industries.

The fourth project is a study of the occurrence of antibiotics in nature. This material is found principally in the heartwood of larch, one of the less desirable of western tree species. Dr. White indicates that preliminary studies have made available suitable methods for the isolation of antibiotics and have yielded chemical products which have commercial possibilities.

NAZIS OPEN PRESSURE CAMPAIGN AGAINST POLAND

GERMAN LEADERS 'ASTONISHED AT' WOMEN ATTACKS

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
BERLIN, March 27 (AP)—Nazi government sources assailed Poles for purported anti-German activities today in what appeared to be a campaign of pressure on Poland in connection with Danzig and the Polish corridor to the sea.

With international interest centered on the possibility that Adolf Hitler would move next to return the Polish corridor and the port of Danzig to the reich, semi-official information made available to the foreign press charged that systematic attempts were being made by Polish organizations to disturb relations with Germany.

In the past, such Nazi statements have sometimes preceded German moves to expand the reich's frontiers.

Astonished Germans
Referring to reports by the semi-official DNB agency from Berlin that attacks had been made on German women and children in the Polish corridor by members of the Western League, the statement said:

"Recent anti-German demonstrations by the Polish Western League in Bromberg and the vicinity have astonished political circles here insofar as it has been impossible to halt systematic attempts by this league to disturb Polish-German relations."

The statement added that "yesterday's demonstrations at Bromberg were by no means an isolated instance, but on the contrary attacks against Germans are accumulating to a regrettable degree. In this connection it must be emphasized that agitation of the Polish Western League is the cause of this unpleasant development."

Troop Movements Reported
There have been frequent reports of troop movements by both Germans and Poles in the corridor area recently but both governments continued strongly to deny any unusual concentrations were near the danger area.

German officials also denied categorically that Germany has any plans to move on Danzig or the corridor in the near future.

C. OF C. POINTS TO MAIL 'BREAK'

Pointing out that a 21-hour break occurs in outgoing mail, explanation of Twin Falls protests over discontinuance of mail service on the early-morning eastbound stage sent to Idaho senators and southern Idaho congressmen to emphasize the Chamber of Commerce protest, resolution, officials of that organization said today.

The resolution, with the detailed explanation, went out Saturday afternoon to Sen. William E. Borah, Sen. D. Worth Clark, Cong. Henry Dworshak, Postmaster General James Paoli and H. A. McKinnell, chief mail service clerk at Pocatello.

Jayces Protest
The Junior Chamber of Commerce had previously registered a formal protest, and similar action looms by other civic groups.

The discontinuance of the early eastbound stage service for mail became effective Sunday morning.

Explanation of the Twin Falls protest, as sent to the lawmakers and the postal officials, said:

"1. To comply with requests for improved mail service the post office department and the railway mail service some time ago provided a night pickup of mail from Buhl, Twin Falls, Burley and Rupert. This service was discontinued on an early morning stage to Salt Lake City and Ogden for eastern destinations. The cost of this service provided by Union Pacific stages was $100 per month."

"2. With improved train service the need for this post pickup by stage was alleviated to some extent in communities outside of Twin Falls. However, a large volume of mail originates here after 8:10 p. m. in the evening and has been dispatched at 2:30 a. m. by stage to the east."

Under an order effective March 26, H. M. McKinnell, chief mail service clerk at Pocatello, ordered that the night mail pickup on the grounds that the cost was too much and that the need for the service had lessened.

21 Hours
The action now forces all east-bound mail to be in the Twin Falls post office at 8:10 p. m., since mail deposited after that does not leave Twin Falls until the following afternoon, 21 hours later.

"3. Local postal officials, particularly Postmaster M. A. Stronk, are willing to continue the service and have suggested that a new contract be made with the Union Pacific stages for a pickup at Twin Falls, since this point is where the bulk of the mail originates."

"4. Twin Falls business interests urge that formal requests be made to Chief Clerk McKinnell at Pocatello to reestablish the service by night bus by making a new contract for resumption of the pouch service by stage."

"5. Counts made by the Twin Falls post office show an exceptionally large volume of mail has been using the night mail service."

"6. Both Junior and Senior Chamber of Commerce groups are protesting the order which has curtailed the eastbound service."

GUN THEFT MAY REVOKE PAROLE
Because Hallie Asher was sentenced to 30 days for theft of a $10 pistol at Buhl, he may be sent to the state penitentiary under revocation of a suspension of sentence granted him here last May.

MONTANA TOWN BATTLES FLOOD

GLASGOW, Mont., March 27 (AP)—Every available man in Glasgow and the nearby government dam project at Fort Peck was pressed into service today in a desperate fight to keep a dike from giving way and flooding the pent up rage of Milk river flood waters.

Lashed by a bitter gale from the north, weary workers rushed cinders and sandbags to weak spots in the dike as they developed under the pressure of river water 20 feet above normal.

Locally, homes threatened if the dike should give way were ordered abandoned. Farmers in adjacent areas not already flooded were warned to seek shelter on higher ground.

Army engineers directing the fight said they hoped the dike would hold although water was rising at Glasgow last night. Workers broke into cheers at a report the river upstream was dropping.

Although the gale brought added discomfort to workers on the dike it was hoped it might bring an end to the driving rain-off and relieve flood conditions which first threatened the dike last Saturday.

Farm lands along the river valley proper were damaged by the high waters but so far as was known there had been no loss of life.
