MINISTER'S WIFE TAKEN BY DEATH

OLENNIS PERRY, March 30 (Special)—Death today had claimed Mrs. Caroline M. Reese, wife of Rev. D. D. Reese who was for a number of years pastor of the United Presbyterian church at King Hill. Mrs. Reese died at 4 p. m. Wednesday at a Boise hospital as a result of infection from a boil which started last week.

Rev. and Mrs. Reese had been residing at Boise since the clergyman resigned his pastorate at King Hill last May. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the McBratney funeral parlors in Boise. Interment will be in Boise cemetery.

BRINKLEY DENIED DAMAGE CHARGE

DEL RIO, Tex., March 30 (UP)—Dr. John R. Brinkley, who made headlines over old men seeking the vitality of youth, was denied damages today by a federal jury which decided he was not libeled in Dr. Morris Fishbein's article challenging his abilities as a surgeon.

He had asked $250,000 for "the shame, humiliation and embarrassment" which he charged Fishbein's article caused. The verdict was for the defendant, and Brinkley, from his Little Rock, Ark., hospital, said his lawyers would file an appeal immediately.

I HEAR MRS. BROWN WAS TERRIBLY EMBARRASSED AT THE PARTY LAST WEEK. OH YES, MR. MERLIN, SHE MET ONE OF HER DIVORCED HUSBANDS AND COULD NOT RECALL HIS NAME.

BUT SHE WOULDN'T have divorced him if he had bought a second hand car for her. Moral: Keep the Mrs. happy with a R. & G. Used Car from Union Motor Company!

Local Attorney Spikes that College Tent Report on High Court Nominee

Everybody liked William Orville Douglas at Whitman college—but that "last" story put out by some of the press services is just so much humbug.

So says J. H. Blandford, Twin Falls attorney who was a college fraternity brother of the latest nominee for the United States supreme court, Blandford and Douglas were both members of Beta Theta Pi at Whitman while both were undergraduates.

Some reports indicated that Douglas' nationwide publicity when President Roosevelt nominated him for the supreme court had stressed the fact that Douglas lived in a tent for a part of his college career at Whitman. That gave the Douglas early career a Horatio Alger tinge.

But said Blandford today: "As for that tent, there really was a tent, all right, but it was not in back of the Beta house. It was used as an overflow dorm for the fraternity. Far from being a hardship, there was always a big rush to see who got to sleep out there."

The press services, incidentally, didn't get the tent story from Douglas. "Everybody liked Douglas at Whitman," Blandford recalled today. "He wasn't one of these extremely smart chaps—he took his fun in every way."

The local attorney grinned as he added: "We called him Orville in college. He didn't like that too much." Blandford at the time lived in the Beta house and didn't reside at the fraternity house, but knew Douglas well.

Matron, Now 87, Boasts 125 Living Descendants

Of pioneer stock, Mrs. P. H. Reinke, 87, who spends half her time in Idaho and the other half in Nebraska, has exactly 125 living descendants including eight children, 63 grandchildren and 54 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Reinke, at the present time, is residing with one of her sons, H. C. Reinke, representative to the state legislature from Twin Falls county, on a ranch northwest of Twin Falls, Idaho. However, she will leave for Byron, Neb., where she will spend some months with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Tiltjen.

Born in Iowa

The elderly woman was born in Osnawville, Ia., on June 2, 1851, and moved to Nebraska in 1865. In 1875 she married P. H. Reinke who died in 1921.

But telling of her descendants is what brightens up her eyes and brings back memories.

Mrs. Reinke is the mother of nine children, eight of them five boys and three girls still living; her grandchildren numbered 71, and her great-grandchildren numbered 58, and 54 are still living.

Of her children three live in Nebraska and five in Idaho. Of those living in Idaho all reside in the Twin Falls section. In addition to Mrs. Reinke, who lives with her son, H. C. Reinke, Ernest Reinke, Mrs. John Meyer and Mrs. Henry Kluep.

Another interesting thing about Mrs. Reinke is that, at her life she has been an active member of the Lutheran church—and her 125 living descendants are all Lutherans.

Mrs. Reinke's hobby today is quilting, but when not doing this she crochets. She also enjoys reading.

Her son, Rep. Reinke, says that so far as Idaho weather is concerned, his mother likes it better than the weather in Nebraska, but won't admit it.

During the last basketball tourney merchants raised a fund for the purchase of new sweaters coats for the team. The house holding the order turned out, so that neither money nor coats have materialized, but a satisfactory adjustment is under way, it was said.

A membership drive for the chamber will be started immediately.

TRIUMPHANT REBELS DECLARE MARTIAL LAW IN MADRID

60,000 HELD BY NATIONALISTS IN NEW TERRITORY

By EDWARD G. DEPUY

MADRID, March 30 (UP)—The triumphant nationalist government declared military law in the Madrid area today as Gen. Francisco Franco's armies took over all key points of Spain and rounded up many thousands of republican prisoners.

Every section of the nationalist army, spreading out through territory surrendered by the republicans as the last civil war ended, reported the capture of thousands of military and political prisoners. The southern army alone reported it had taken 60,000 men, including the entire general staff of the former republican army in Extremadura.

Loyal Leader Held
At Burgos, it was reported by radio that Julian Besteiro, interior minister in the last republican regime, had been placed in custody, although previously the nationalist officials had said he was merely under guard at the finance ministry. Besteiro was one of the moderate republicans active in bringing an end to the war.

No announcements were made in regard to search by nationalist police for persons guilty of crime and scheduled by Franco for trial before nationalist tribunals, but it was understood that many fugitives had been unable to escape. The principal republican leaders, including Gen. Jose Milla, fled by airplane yesterday to French territory in North Africa.

Seek Hidden Arms
The declaration of martial law through Madrid was issued by the military governor, Espinosa de los Monteros, who ordered surrender of all arms. Civil guards were sent out in a house-to-house search for hidden arms.

The military law declaration put Madrid under the same form of rule effective in the rest of the territory taken over by the nationalists.

Military officials said that it might take nationalist armies until Easter to complete occupation of all of Spain, but the main cities such as Valencia, Ciudad Real, Cuenca, Guadalajara were rapidly taken over. Alcala and Murcia were among the last to be occupied by nationalists or falangists.

MOTORIST PLANS HIGH COURT PLEA
Twice convicted on the same charge that he drove a motor car while he was under influence of intoxicating liquor, T. O. Neely, 36, of Twin Falls, Idaho, today planned to appeal to Idaho's supreme court.

Neely was found guilty last year in a plea-bargain in the district court. He had appealed to that tribunal after Twin Falls municipal court found him guilty and fined him $100 and costs. The appeal was tried "de novo," as a new case in district court.

Drove Into Steps
The guilty verdict yesterday convicted Neely on claims that last New Year's eve he drove his car over and under the steps and damaged the front steps at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman G. Hayes, Blue Lakes boulevard.

Judge J. W. Porter will pronounce sentence at 10 a. m. Friday.

W. L. Dunn, defense counsel, was understood today to be preparing a notice of intention to appeal. Neely has been at liberty under $500 bond since Municipal Judge J. O. Pumphrey pronounced sentence against him last January.

Denies Intoxication
The accused motorist testified in his own behalf Wednesday afternoon, and asserted he was not under influence of liquor when he left the residence of Carl Hollenbeck just before his car hurtled the curb and landed against the Hayes steps. Testimony supporting his claim was given by Mr. and Mrs. Hollenbeck, given by Mr. and Mrs. McGowan, and Fritz Hacker, a barber at Kimberly.

Prosecutor E. M. Stewer called City Clerk W. H. Eldridge, Mrs. Hayes, August Wall, Patrolman L. D. McCracken, Patrolman Kenneth Barclay and Police Desk Sgt. Charles O. Black.

Since the case was the final criminal trial of the March term, Judge Porter dismissed juryman with orders to report April 5 for civil cases.

Easter Dresses Range Between Frothily Feminine and the Suavely Streamlined

Bold but Kindly Pirates to Cavort in H. S. Light Opera

They were bold bad pirates, but the mere thought of an orphan meted their hard hearts and left them helpless.

As a result they soon became financially embarrassed, because the news leaked out and all the ships on the ocean suddenly became manned with orphans.

This is the situation which must be worked out during presentation of "Pirates of Penzance," a light opera by Gilbert and Sullivan to be given Friday evening in the Twin Falls high school auditorium.

First act opens with the pirates about to celebrate the 21st birthday of their apprentice, Frederick. Becoming his own master, he is forced to choose between remaining with the pirates, whose trade he has learned, and becoming respectable. Late in the play he is finally forced to remain with the pirates, because he was born in leap year and has only had four birthdays.

Entering the plot are the major-general and his 40 beautiful daughters, whom the pirates capture. The major-general tells them he is an orphan, and they are released, but the pirates discover that the major-general has fled. Throwing for revenge they decide to recapture them all and marry the daughters.

First Act Setting
Setting for the first act is a little wooden shack near the rocky shore of Penzance, on the Cornish coast, in the province of Penzance. Second act takes place in a ruined chapel of Tremadoc castle, the major-general's home. The time is during the reign of the good King George.

Daughters are Jo Anne Anker, Lucille Birch, Jeanette Lee, Marie Brooks, Devo Collins, Joan Gray, Verda Crocker, Katherine Dodd, Edna Lee, Fuelle, Jane Francis, Florence Gortman, Dorothy Hamilton, Josie Hamilton, Violet Hamilton, Hattie Hamilton, Lucille Hamilton, Charlotte Harkins, Hazel Hudson, Vera Lohr, Esther Maddy, Matti Maddy, Lora Palmer, Wil Parker, Helen Prentiss, Marjorie Perry, Alice Rinkelowsky, Marjorie Richardson, June Russell, Pearlie Rusman, Clara Louise Smith, Donna Spencer, Helen Stephens,

PRODUCE DEALERS MUST HAVE BOND

BOISE, March 30 (UP)—All Idaho produce dealers must secure a $2500 surety bond before they can be issued dealers' licenses which expire May 30. E. N. Pettigrove, state agricultural commissioner, announced today after receiving an opinion interpreting the 1928 session laws which require a bond.

Pettigrove said the way was cleared for issuance of surety bonds to the 1229 legislature passed a law requiring all produce dealers to take out $2500 surety bond. Issuance of license to do business is contingent on the bond, Pettigrove said.

A bonding company raised the question whether the company would be held liable to the amount of the bond or whether each dealer might bring suit individually in the amount up to $2500. It was the liability of the bonding company unlimited.

Atty. Gen. Taylor ruled the total liability of the bonding company would be $2500 a year. In the event of successive actions, the original sum of the bond would be the limit of the personal liability. If there were several claims, that amount would be pro-rated among the creditors.

This cleared the way for issuance of the bonds, Pettigrove said.

BARKLEY SEES LATE JUNE FOR CLOSING OF CONGRESS

COURSE PLOTTED FOR PASSAGE OF TEN-POINT PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 30 (U.P.)—Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., today chose late June as the probable adjournment date of congress and outlined for the remaining months a 10-point "desirable" legislative program which scrapped all but one phase of business appraisement plans.

Revision of the corporate tax structure proposed amendments to the Wagner labor relations act and changes in the wage-hour law were not included. But Barkley emphasized that "any or all pending proposals could pass." He said he was not putting anything in a "must" category.

Rail Recovery
Barkley's "desirable" list, announced a few hours after conferring with President Roosevelt, follows:

1. Railroad recovery.
2. Regular appropriations.
3. Continuation of $750,000,000 in insurance taxes, which expire June 30.
4. Amendment of social security act to keep payroll taxes at the one per cent another year.
5. Some form of neutrality legislation.
6. Unemployment relief.
7. Farm relief, but probably no general rewriting of the present farm act.

Reciprocal Taxation
8. Extension of bond issuing authority of U. S. housing authority to $600,000,000, and of the federal housing administration from $3,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000.

9. Reciprocal taxation in line with recent supreme court decisions.

10. Remaining national defense measures.

He did not explain why corporate tax revision, suggested by treasury officials and some members of congress as an aid to business, was omitted.

Blind and Paralyzed Boieson Builds Home On Business Earnings

BOISE, March 30 (U.P.)—William Carpenter, the man who despite almost total paralysis and blindness has developed a successful business and carries it on from his hospital bed, moved today into a specially-constructed home he built with his own earnings.

Carpenter operates his thriving magazine business with an ingenious system including a telephone and switchboard he controls with his fingers of his one good hand, a bookkeeping machine, a radio and air-conditioning system.

Formerly a college football player, voted the most popular student in the University of Idaho, Carpenter was stricken with arthritis that paralyzed him and destroyed his sight. An eye operation recently in a Los Angeles hospital partially restored his vision.

SAVED

BOISE, March 30 (U.P.)—A few weeks ago anyone clever enough to get away with it could have walked off with $4,500,000 in Idaho public school, endowment funds and turned them into cash with ease—but not any more.

Jenkins said he discovered the bonds were all "bearer bonds" and could have been cashed by anyone who happened to hold one. He sent them to Washington, D. C., for proper registration.

"This would have made a perfect field for embezzlement," Jenkins said. "I saved me when I found the situation."

WEST IS MARKET FOR EAST-WHITE

WASHINGTON, March 30 (Special)—Importance of the west as a market for products of the industrial east was stressed by Cong.

comptroller, White of Idaho in his successful fight on the floor of the house against attempts of eastern members to curtail appropriations for irrigation and reclamation projects.

He pointed out that the entire development of the west was based on irrigation, and stressed the importance of continuing that type of work in the further development of the west.

Brought Prosperity
"It was not until reclamation came along; it was not until the people began to move in and settle on the land and bring water to the land that the west became one of the most prosperous sections of the country," he told the house.

He called to attention of the eastern members fighting the reclamation and irrigation funds that "their factories and mills depend for a market on the great western country which has been developed slowly and brought into production by reclamation."

"Reclamation has brought the people to the land," he said. "It has built up production."

He pointed to the millions being spent for relief, and said that money spent on reclamation served a far better purpose.

Calls It Investment

"This is not spending money. It is making an investment. Let us make a distinction between putting money into these great conservation projects, that will utilize water and build up a great prosperous country as we have in the past, and spending money for relief."

He said the reclamation projects would "take the unemployed off relief rolls" and "develop industries and communities which will make this land a brighter, more prosperous, and finer country."

Appropriations for Coulee and Bonneville dams, for scientific studies looking toward further reclamation projects and for existing projects were involved in the attack by eastern members. Western members succeeded in fighting off the attacks on each appropriation for reclamation projects.

GAIN LOOMS FOR UNION ACREAGES

BOISE, March 30 (Special)—Intention-to-plant reports from the intermediate and late states indicate an increase of about six per cent over the harvested acreage of last year. The two sections of the intermediate group of states combined are expected to plant an acreage 10 per cent larger than the acreage harvested in 1938—21,480 acres this year compared with 19,410 acres last year.

In the late states an increase of five per cent is indicated, or 37,220 acres compared with 34,440 acres in 1938.

North Texas, New Jersey and Virginia, of the intermediate states, report intended increases. In north Texas, where nearly two-thirds of the intermediate acreage is grown, the indicated increase is 17 per cent. Decreases are expected in California, Oklahoma and the Walla Walla district in Washington.

A significant increase in intended

Students Submit Landscaping Plan

CAREY, March 30 (Special)—With money turned over to the school by the P. T. A. the school yard will be fenced and planted with trees and otherwise beautified.

Four students of the animal husbandry class, Leland Edredge, Marvin Esterholdt, Aaron York and Warren Briggs, drew plans for the landscaping, which were submitted to the trustees and Supt. Raymond Robbins. Plans met with their approval and the boys are at work this week.

Group to Fair

BLISS, March 30 (Special)—Bob Huff, Don Butler, Harold Ruyser, Vance Butler and Frances Butler left today for San Francisco, where they will compete in the junior international livestock show as members of the Gooding county Fair-H organization. They accompanied a group of about 30 young people from Gooding county.

HOLLISTER

Charles Caldwell and Ed Sund, McCoy, Nev., spent the week-end at the A. E. Caldwell home. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell are the parents of Charles Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kunkel motored to Ashton Friday, returning Sunday. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Homer Roberts, their son-in-law and daughter.

Father and Son Banquet Served

HAGERMAN, March 30 (Special)—Fifty men and boys attended the second annual father-son banquet Tuesday at the Civic club rooms.

Rev. Mark O. Cronenberger, pastor of the Christian church, Twin Falls, was the speaker. Rev. Carl Davidson, Wendell, was toastmaster.

Other numbers on the program included: Group singing led by Professor Maxey, vocal solo, Bill Moore; vocal solo, Melvin Davidson; toast to the lads, Silas Condit; response and toast to the dads, Winfield Hall; trio, Professor J. Maxey, Bill Moore and Jim Moore; and a quartet number, Maxey, Moore, Moore and Dunson. Martin Thayer was the pianist for the evening.

The banquet was served by the Ladies Aid society. Among the visitors from out-of-town was W. S. Glone, Wendell.
