Camps re-established: Sawtooth national forest, Blaine county, Ketchikan; Challis national forest, Custer county, Challis; Minidoka national forest, Twin Falls county, Hansen; Payette national forest, Valley county, McCall; Clearwater national forest, Kootenai county, Coeur d'Alene; Nez Perce national forest, Idaho county, Rigdon; and Bonanza county, Coalinga.

College Student Swallows 43 Fish To Set New Mark

KUTZTOWN, Pa., March 31 (UP)—Howard Francis, freshman at Kutztown State Teachers college, shattered the intercollegiate goldfish-swallowing record by gulping 43 live fish in 54 minutes. Chasers of water and soda pop aided the venture.

BOSTON, March 31 (UP)—The Boston Annual Rescue league campaigned today to end college goldfish gulping contests, now that the title has returned to Massachusetts.

Donald V. Mulachy of Brockton, a Boston college junior, snatched the championship from Jules Almer of University of Michigan by swallowing 30 live goldfish before 400 cheering students. Almer recently gulped down 28.

CULTURE Utah Salesman Killed in Crash

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 31 (UP)—My, my, an old-fashioned salesman, Miss Marie Hansen said as she held her nose and swallowed a goldfish.

Miss Hansen didn't use any sauce on the wriggling morsel but she used soda pop and dry bread as a chaser. She is a co-ed at the University of Missouri.

GOODING, March 31 (Special)—Because a tire blew out on a sharp curve, a Salt Lake City tire salesman was dead today and his wife was in Gooding hospital.

The accident victim was R. W. Fay, representative of the Goodrich company. He was killed when the first person to reach the scene found his body lying 31 feet away from the totally demolished motor car.

Bride of 7 Months
Mrs. Fay, a bride of only seven months, was "resting very nicely" today at the hospital here. She was in a coma when found, but regained consciousness at 5 p. m. today, hospital officials said. Her body was expected to "not critical."

The accident occurred at 10:30 p. m. today, according to Sheriff Wayne Clark who investigated with Deputy Clark King. State Patrolman Earl Small, Jerome, also investigated early today.

A tire blew out on the turn about five miles west of Bliss, Sheriff Small said this afternoon. Earlier reports had said excessive speed was cause of the tragedy, but Sheriff Clark indicated that the blowout at a speed of 30 miles per hour would have been sufficient.

End-Over-End
The machine swerved from the road and turned end-over-end, the sheriff said. From the spot at which it started to leave the road to the point at which it finally stopped, he said, it was 100 feet. The car landed on the left side of the road, with the front end on the highway shoulder.

Fay's machine was making a right curve at the time, Sheriff Clark said. First person to reach the driver, according to Clark, was Rev. Elmer Gandy, of the Northwest Nazarene college at Nampa. Rev. Gandy stopped immediately and rushed to the scene. He dragged down an oncoming machine occupied by a Twin Falls attorney and another Twin Falls man.

Dead When Reached
Mrs. Fay, who had been standing in a date beside the machine, was killed when it rolled over, the attorney, Sheriff Clark said.

"Fay was dead when Rev. Gandy reached him," the sheriff declared. (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

MINE OPERATORS HELD AT BOISE

BOISE, March 31 (UP)—Frank E. Johnson and Paul L. Oakes, Boise mining promoters, today were held under $15,000 bonds each to await trial in federal district court before Judge C. C. Cavanagh on charges of conspiracy and using the mails to defraud.

Louise Payne, of New York, said to be underwriter in the securities sales transactions involved in the case, was held under $15,000 bonds each for appearance before the September term of the court.

Federal authorities charged that in selling securities the Consolidated Mines syndicate, a Boise firm, the three defendants used a large part of the proceeds for salaries, failing to fulfill promises to develop properties.

Both defendants protested their innocence. The complaint stated the company statement evaluated the mine at $2,500,000 but little or no work was available.

EKIMO SHOTS GIRL AT WEDDING

VALDEZ, Alaska, March 31 (UP)—An Eskimo bride party today found Tim Murphy, Alaska, who yesterday shot and killed his step-daughter, Annie Olympia, an Aleut maiden, during her wedding ceremony at Point Barrow, Alaska.

Aleut last August confessed repeatedly to his step-daughter that he was planning to marry her. He promised not to violate her again and gave his consent when she decided to marry Willie Zamorin, another Aleut.

During the wedding, Aleut killed his step-daughter with two shots. Mrs. Murphy, who was seated by the bride, was injured by a shot to the arm. She was taken to the hospital and is recovering.

243 ARE INJURED WHEN SUBWAY TRAINS CRASH

NEW YORK, March 31 (UP)—Police compiled today a list of 243 people injured when two subway trains crashed in the city-owned Independent subway system closed underground at the height of the home-going rush here yesterday.

None was killed and only 14 were confined in hospitals today but hundreds of passengers in the two wrecked subway trains were injured, some seriously.

FDR Sees Nazi Plan for Entire World Domination

Fears Campaigns May Send
Germans to Africa, America

By FREDERICK A. STORM

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., March 31 (UP)—Nazi seizure and encroachment on other nations constitutes a definite threat, and points—in the absence of checkmates—to aspirations of world domination by the German reich, sources close to the White House said today.

The world is fearful, friends of President Roosevelt said, that Fuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany will not stop with the program of national aggrandizement to other continents, Africa and possibly the Americas.

Meanwhile it was learned that President Roosevelt at the White House was keeping an especially close watch on "foreign developments, in the light of reported German threats against Poland."

JAPAN ANNEXES GROUP OF ISLES

TOKYO, March 31 (UP)—The foreign office announced today that Japan had annexed the Spratly Islands group off the southeast coast of French Indo-China.

Charles-Armand Henry, the French ambassador, was notified of Japan's decision today.

France in 1933 announced the annexation of the Spratly Islands, Canton Cay, Itu-Abu, Dues Iles, Lotta and Itu-Itu groups of this island, many miles from the coast, which were showing recruitment of about 300 miles southeast of Indochina.

A foreign spokesman said that a new hatch had developed in the Bismarck fishing rights negotiations with Russia. It was reported that Russia was showing recruitment of about 300 miles southeast of Indochina.

Blaze Sweeps Ohio City; Damage High

SANDUSKY, O., March 31 (UP)—A battalion of Ohio national guardsmen today helped firemen of this city of 25,000 and departments from three neighboring cities battle a downtown fire which already had caused an estimated $200,000 damage.

The fire started in the city's largest department store and spread to several dry goods structures.

ENGINEER, FIREMAN DIED
MIDHOLM, Mich., March 31 (UP)—The engineer and fireman of a Duluth, Minn., engine and fireman were drowned last night when the locomotive struck a landslide and plunged into the Detroit river, Charles Richardson, 67, was the engineer, and Leo Nedetz, 33, the fireman.

Excavation Starts for New Water Reservoir

Excavation starts for construction of new water reservoir which is being built by the city planning commission as one of the most important pieces of construction in the city's history.

The reservoir is being constructed on city-owned property a short distance from the city center and will be a large body of water.

House Cheers Solon Who Demands End of Foolishness in WPA

WASHINGTON, March 31 (UP)—The house today cheered lustily a demand for an end of WPA "foolishness" as it approached a vote on the bill carrying $100,000,000 more of relief funds.

Rep. Kent Keller, D., Ill., provoked the new economy demonstration when he displayed some bags of meager rations and asked Rep. Clifton Woodrum, D., Va., economy bloc leader, what he would do if he "had to live on that."

Woodrum answered:

"If I had to live on rations like that, I would write my congressman here in Washington and plead with him to do everything in his power to see that the WPA used the money congress appropriated for it for food instead of throwing it away on a lot of foolishness."

Both Republicans and Democrats cheered him for nearly a minute.

Keller's display consisted of two small, partly-filled cellophane bags of commodities, and a big sign: "For one person for one week."

Rep. Michael Bradley, Philadelphia Democrat, had the house booning and cheering as he contrasted the record for honesty of the Roosevelt and Harding regimes.

"I think the record of the WPA under Harry Hopkins and Col. F. C. Harrison presents a picture of honesty of administration such as we never before have seen," he said.

The house probably will pass the bill later today and influential members believed it would uphold its appropriation committee which recommended $100,000,000 for work relief for the rest of the fiscal year, $50,000,000 less than Mr. Roosevelt wants.

PLANNED AS LIMIT NEARS

The last-minute auto license rush was on today at offices of the county assessor here, at the sub-office in Boise and at similar headquarters throughout the state.

Assessor George A. Childs said his staff here were swamped much of the day as motorists, with deadline of midnight tonight starting them in the face, bought their passenger and truck licenses.

At noon the assessor's car sale, on the price basis, was at 4,888—exactly 2,384 more than at deadline March 31 of last year.

On farm truck sale, of plates reached 384 at noon today compared to 379 at deadline in 1938. Commercial truck plates at noon totaled 48; trailers 268.

THREE HELD AS WHITE SLAVERS

SEATTLE, March 31 (UP)—Police today announced the arrest of two men and a woman said to be members of a white slave band believed responsible for disappearance of a score of British girls recently.

Five girls, four of them less than 18, were held as white slaves in the home of the woman, who was charged with transporting girls across state lines by extending activities into Idaho.

Officers did not release the names of the two men and woman held. One of the men was charged with a morals count and held in lieu of $10,000 bail. The other man and the woman were charged with extending activities into Idaho.

ENGLAND BOUND TO HELP POLES WITH DEFENSES

By FREDERICK A. STORM

LONDON, March 31 (UP)—Great Britain is forcefully warning Adolf Hitler today against another grab in Europe, declaring that Britain and France will fight if Poland's independence is menaced during the present European security consultations and Poland fights back.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain made the momentous statement in the house of commons, disclosing a revolutionary change in British foreign policy. He revealed that Britain is in close consultation with Soviet Russia in the matter.

Asked whether German action affecting the corridor would bring British aid, the spokesman pointed out that the statement clearly implied British assistance in event of "any action." Regarding Danzig, he said the pledge would apply if Poland resisted action against Danzig with its military forces.

At Mercy of Poland
A British journalist remarked: "Well, then, we are completely at the mercy of the Poles." The spokesman, asked about the possibility of a similar pledge to Rumania, emphasized that the statement was merely a "warning."

In his speech Chamberlain repeated the policy of France and Britain, saying the French government had authorized him to make it plain that it stood in the same position as the British government in regard to the Danzig corridor.

Bound to Aid
Chamberlain made the specific statement that in the event of a Polish attack on Germany, the British government would be bound to aid Poland.

Plan Fight

WARSAW, March 31 (UP)—Source close to the government said tonight that "if Germany fails to respect our frontiers we will fight."

The repeated expression of determination to resist any threat directed at Poland assuming particular significance as official British government's announcement of its policy in regard to the Danzig corridor.

BOMBING SERIES SHOCKS ENGLAND

LONDON, March 31 (UP)—Scotland yard put a special guard on King George and searched the houses of parliament and the London county council buildings for explosives today after a series of terrorist bombings at Liverpool, Coventry and Birmingham.

Operatives were sent also to search other buildings and bridges across the Thames.

A special guard was put on King George when he started a six hour tour of ordnance and aircraft factories in the Manchester area. The visit was set originally for March 14 but was postponed when a number of "Irish republican army" terrorists were sentenced to long prison terms and the authorities feared a hostile demonstration.

Scotland yard attributed the provincial bombing to "I. R. A." men who demand British get out of Ireland.

Slightly after midnight, a bomb exploded on the window sill of an optician's shop in Liverpool, which has a large Irish population. A few minutes later a bomb exploded in the front window of a decorator's shop. A policeman heard a fuse ticking and jerked a third bomb from beneath a window and hurled it into the street where it exploded and sent a hole in the pavement.

Another policeman found a fourth bomb. He doused it in a fire bucket of water. It was of the same home-made type used in I. R. A. bombings here early this year.

A bomb was exploded in the doorway of a garage in Coventry.

ITALIANS READY TO DON KNAPSACKS, SAYS IL DUCE

MUSSOLINI GETS BIGGEST OVATION OF LONG CAREER

REGGIO DI CALABRIA, Italy, March 31 (UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini told a widely cheering throng of Calabrians today that "the Italian people are ready to don their knapsacks because, like all young people, they are not afraid of war and they are certain of victory."

Praising the high birth rate in the Calabrian country, Mussolini shouted condemnation of "the exotic, idle, and people of keeping the birth rate low," and denounced the sterility of nations which, he said, when they are old "will be under the order of the young."

Wild cries of praise interrupted him as he continued.

His speech has been in the first period of Fascism has been noteworthy. But still more noteworthy is that that he has done.

Little to be added

"After my speech to the shock troops at Rome (Sunday) I have very little to be added. We do not forget, we are preparing, we are thinking in terms of decades. Therefore we are always ready to wait, as befits a people sure of itself because it has many weapons and very strong hands."

(In his speech Sunday Mussolini named Tunisia, the Suez canal and Djibouti, the port of French Somaliland and the terminus of the only railroad to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, as problems under attack with France.)

At the end of his speech Mussolini was applauded for 12 minutes. It was one of the greatest ovations of his career.

Mussolini, on his first tour of the Calabrian country in southern Italy, had ordered a national broadcast of his speech.

Mussolini had spent the night in his special train at a siding near Reggio di Calabria. He alighted to find banners greeting him.

"Duce! We are with you!"

"Duce! We will go anywhere with you."

Girls in peasant costumes handed him flowers and fruits and ships in the harbor sounded their sirens. He was cheered by masses of people all the way from the station to the war monument.

A great shout went up as Mussolini spoke.

Waited 16 years

"You Calabrians have waited for me for 16 years, giving proof of patience and emotion. Calabrians are made of good metal—hard steel which is used to make anvils and rifles."

Three years had passed, Mussolini said, since the Peloritana division of Calabrian troops was mobilized for the Ethiopian war. Now, he said, Italy has an empire belonging to the people.

"Some deficient persons beyond the Alps have spread tales as if the Italian people were getting tired of Fascism," he added.

Cries of "booi!" interrupted him.

"May your boss be heard on the other side of the Alps!" Mussolini exclaimed. "The people and the regime are all one thing."

OAKLEY PIONEER HAS CELEBRATION

OAKLEY, March 31 (Special)—H. R. Matthews, one of Oakley's oldest pioneers, celebrated his 79th birthday last week.

Mr. Matthews came to Oakley from Grantsville, Utah, in 1881, and has resided here ever since. He is one of Oakley's most successful farmers and stockmen.

All the original Grantsville people of Oakley were invited to an old-fashioned chicken dinner which was served at his home by his daughters, Mrs. J. R. Powles and Mrs. John A. Clark.

After dinner Mrs. Lude Hunter entertained the group with accordion music and the afternoon was spent visiting. At 5 p. m. the birthday cake with 79 candles was lighted, cut and served with ice cream.

The day was brought to a grand climax when Mr. Matthews' children and grandchildren came to the home to pay their respects.

Two Cars Slightly Damaged in Crash

GLENN'S FERRY, March 31 (Special)—A minor auto accident occurred here Wednesday morning. Mrs. Louis Mooney started to drive away from the curb in front of the post-office, when her car was struck by a passing auto, which she failed to see.

A damaged fender on the Mooney car and a cracked windshield on the tourist car comprised the extent of the damage.

Star and Film Group Departs At Sun Valley

SUN VALLEY, March 31 (Special)
—Bound for Hollywood, Spencer Tracy, Walter Brennan and a Twentieth Century-Fox movie location crew of 140 technicians and extras left Sun Valley yesterday.

The stars and the crew were here under Producer Ben Sylva for scenes in the picture "Stanley and Livingstone." The movie will have western settings for the start, and the locale then shifts to Africa. While here, the company worked swiftly at Boulder Mountain in order to take advantage of snow before the final spring melting.

Masons Give Prizes For Original Attire

In kaleidoscopic array, 200 guests assembled at Radioland last evening for a gala Mardi Gras dance, the second annual costume ball sponsored by the Twin Falls Masonic lodge, and attended by Masons and their wives and partners, and Eastern Star, their husbands and escorts from a number of southern Idaho cities.

Bob Baker, Clifford Evans and Merland Severin, members of the committee on arrangements, were receiving enthusiastic congratulations today in a fetching Dutch girl costume, was awarded the prize for the best impersonation of native attire of a foreign country.

Assuming the ghoulish role of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," Dr. C. R. Fox, Twin Falls, won the prize for the best impersonation of a native attire of a foreign country.

For the most comical "get-ups," Mrs. E. M. Rayburn, Flier, and Merland Severin, Twin Falls, received the award for the best impersonation of a native attire of a foreign country.

Awards were made following the grand march, when the merrymakers passed in review of the judges. The winners were: Mrs. E. M. Rayburn, Mrs. H. L. Holmes and Mrs. Ray D. Agee.

Colorful Panorama
Dancers' costumes were as colorful as they were original. Among those glimpsed were "Benny the Fool," Harpo and Groucho Marx, the "Three Stooges," Spanish cavaliers and señoritas, striped-suited jai-labris, a pair illustrating the slogan "Time and Tide wait for no man," a Russian dancer, Mae West, a Russian czar, Baron Munchausen, gypsies, minstrel characters, clown galleys, an Arabian dancer, and Gray Nineties impersonators by the score.

C. M. Gordon, Kimberly, was in charge of the reception. Among those present from Twin Falls, Burley, Gooding, Hollister, Flier, Rupert, and Jerome were:

GIRLS' POSTERS ENTER CONTEST

Posters made by Aya Sato and Ruthann Hayes in art classes of Miss Helen Boyden were entered today in the contest sponsored by the American magazine for high school students.

Miss Sato's poster was entitled "America's New Frontier." In the foreground was a young man and woman, walking toward a group of modern buildings built on a hillside, which represented different phases of education, engineering, art and science, and farther back a government building topped by an eagle, representing democracy.

In the foreground were tombstones with letterheads of Communist, Fascist and dictatorial regimes, representing transportation and modernity, shown in the graveyard of the dead past.

Richard Hall, Tuttle, who is also a painter, worked with the ground in blue and the sky in bands of orange. Printed at the top were the words, "Preserve Democracy."

Gary Cooper Lands Eagle By .22 Rifle

SUN VALLEY, March 31 (Special)
—Chalk up a golden eagle to the shooting eye of Gary Cooper, movie star now here on vacation.

Cooper shot the eagle with a .22 caliber rifle, using only one shot. The bird was eight feet and three inches from wing tip to wing tip.

Gary hunted almost one full day in search of the eagle, which had been preying on mallard and teal ducks at Silver creek. He finally sighted the huge bird atop a cottonwood tree, scanning the marshes for more duck victims.

The film star said he will place the bird in his private collection, which now has wild life specimens from Africa and North America.

While at Blue lakes ranch near Twin Falls earlier this week, Cooper tried his hand at an Idaho sport—shooting rock chucks along Snake river canyon. Burton Perrine and Gene Van Guilder were with him.

Cooper and his wife, also well known in the theatrical world, will leave Sun Valley next week.

Presbyterians to Meet for Banquet

BURLEY, March 31 (Special)
—Today at 6:45 p. m. at the Presbyterian church, plans for a congregational covered dish dinner were made at the Thursday meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society at the home of Mrs. C. W. Kaar.

A luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ida Parks and Mrs. Ross Youmans. Mrs. Joseph Lynch and Mrs. C. L. Barclay were also present.

John T. Stille was elected district chairman of the lookout or membership committee.

Jerome Delegates Go to C. E. Meet

JEROME, March 31 (Special)
—Fourteen young people were delegates from the Jerome Presbyterian church to the annual southern district Christian Endeavor convention held at the Imbil Christian church March 24 to 25.

Rev. W. P. Wells, local minister, gave devotional addresses on the subject, "Crises in the Life of Jesus." Special music was given by the delegates.

John T. Stille was elected district chairman of the lookout or membership committee.

Reminders!

... when you go to your grocer's or phone him, don't order just "bread."

Specify Butter-Krust... because Butter-Krust is a better bread. Thoroughly baked to a significant texture, it is easily digestible.

Carefully mixed, it imparts a flavor that is outstanding... and best of all it's better bread day after day.

HERES why Lipton's is America's largest-selling tea:

1. World-Famous Flavor—smooth, full, rich, delicious.

2. Tender Young Leaves—and buds—of finest quality—give extra fragrance and bouquet.

YOUNGSTERS LOOM AS STARS FOR RED SOX

Boston Ball Team Expected to Give Yankee Club Race

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

SARASOTA, Fla., March 31 (U.P.)—The deep thinkers of baseball have been saying for some time the way to beat the Yankees is to outdo them at their own game—to go out and get bright, young players and develop them.

That's what the Boston Red Sox have been doing the last three years and the first bumper crop has come in.

The prize youngsters are right fielder Ted Williams, third baseman Jim Tabor and pitcher Woody Rich. They all look ready. Williams, who hit .266 at Minneapolis last year and hammered out 43 home runs, looks like one of baseball's coming stars. Tabor doesn't look like he can miss.

Brightest Youngster
But the brightest youngster of them all is Woody Rich, labeled another Grover Cleveland Alexander. Rich's promise is doubly important because of the Red Sox's crying need for pitching. Rich, in his second year in baseball last season, won 19 games for Little Rock and pitched a no-hit game. His pitching style is a duplicate of Alexander's, throwing sliders.

If these three kids deliver, the Red Sox are going to get in the Yankee's hall plenty. Last year the Red Sox finished second, 9½ games off the pace, and broke even, eleven, in 22 games against the Yankees.

Carry 11 Pitchers
Cronin plans to carry 11 pitchers, and hopes to find six starters somewhere. Jim Bagby, Lefty Grove, Jack Wilson, Fritz Ostermeyer, Emerson Dickman, and Joe Hoisinger are the principal holdovers. The newcomers are Eldon Auker and Jake Wade from Detroit, Monte Weaver from Washington, and Denny Galehouse from Cleveland, and Rich. The Red Sox lost two great hitters in Ben Chapman, who batted .340, and Pinky Higgins, who batted .303, but Williams and Tabor are expected to hold up their end at bat. Both youngsters really can hit.

Club All Set
Outside of the box Cronin has his club set. First, Bobby Doerr, who has arrived as a second baseman, and Cronin and Tabor on the left side of the infield.

Gene DeSautele, who doesn't get the credit he deserves, John Paddock, and Monte Weaver will comprise the catching staff.

Out of this lineup, only DeSautele and Doerr aren't considered as potential 200 hitters and they won't be far under that mark.

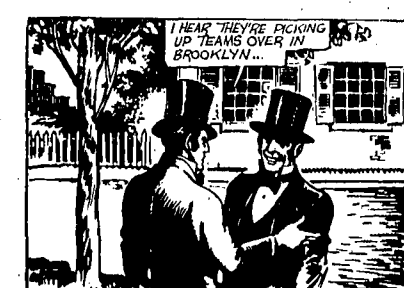

Boise Ball Club To Open Training At Prosser Camp

PROSSER, Wash., March 31 (U.P.)—Andy Harrington, player-manager of the Boise baseball team of the new Pioneer league, said today his squad would assemble here early next month for three weeks' training.

Harrington said Hayden Walker, president of the club, and 12 pitchers and catchers to report here April 5 and outfielders and infielders to arrive April 9. Several practice games will be played with Vici, a team owned by the manager of the Western International league, Harrington said.

A moving object will be detected by the idle eyes of a snake even when the snake is asleep.

100 Years of Baseball

Next clubs to be formed were the Eagles and Empires. Brooklyn followed with the Excelsiors, Putnam and Eckfords. Jamaica blossomed forth with the Atlantics. Interboro competition was spirited and soon every club had its following of fans, who were called "cranks."

...the period saw an outlet for their gambling blood in betting on the game. During the 1890s, when the game was still a hard hitter, would be gamblers. Then he promised Holden $25 if he connected.

Davey Day Angles with Armstrong for Welter Crown

Angels Picked To Finish In 1st Place

By HARRY FERGUSON

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31 (U.P.)—Seventy per cent of the sports and baseball editors in Pacific Coast league cities today favor the Los Angeles team to win the pennant in the 1939 campaign which opens tomorrow.

Their options were expressed in a poll among United Press client editors, which was made before the Angels' 1938 champions, added Second Baseman Eddie Mayo, previously a holdout, and First Baseman Rip Collins, two down from the Chicago Cubs, to an already strong veteran lineup.

Gets 98 Votes
Even without the two players, the Angels got 98 votes in a poll in which 100 would have been a perfect score. Ten writers picked Los Angeles, two picked the Portland and San Francisco. Those who placed the Angels lower than first thought they would finish second or third.

Seattle would seem to be the main threat to Los Angeles in the 1939 game race that opens with Seattle at San Francisco, Portland at Sacramento, Hollywood at Los Angeles, and Oakland at San Diego. The Rangers, with a questionable pitching staff but with added infield and outfield strength, collected 78 votes in the poll.

Race for Third
The experts decided the principal race would be for third place between Sacramento and Portland, with the Fritz Ostermeyer, Emerson Dickman, and Joe Hoisinger are the principal holdovers. The newcomers are Eldon Auker and Jake Wade from Detroit, Monte Weaver from Washington, and Denny Galehouse from Cleveland, and Rich. The Red Sox lost two great hitters in Ben Chapman, who batted .340, and Pinky Higgins, who batted .303, but Williams and Tabor are expected to hold up their end at bat. Sport Squibs

By HAL WOOD

We've harped considerably on the "howling" of basketball coaches because their teams lost games—blaming the referee for the cause of the defeat.

Now, the basketball season is over—but the fight season lingers on. And the howling comes from another set of mentors—the boxing boxes.

We note there is quite some drive on to regulate the boxing game in high school and college, as in college, are in hearty accord with such plans. No sporting event can be successfully staged without the proper supervision, rules and regulations.

With the steady growth of the game in southern central Idaho, following the lead of Coach Louis Denton and his Kimberly team, there has been considerable name-calling and pushing around on charges that the referee couldn't see, the judges were prejudiced, etc.—in into the night.

There has been the old trouble of every coach refusing to match his men against the opposing team in certain weight events because he didn't figure he had a chance. And that sort of thing is bound to continue unless the coaches and school leaders take some sort of steps to set laws for the regulation of the game.

We would offer a plan something like this for inter-school matches, with the thought that it would form the nucleus for a complete set of by-laws:

1.—Have a fight team composed of nine men, just as a basketball team is five and a football team is 11.

2.—Have nine divisions—paperweight, flyweight, bantamweight, featherweight, lightweight, welterweight, middleweight, light heavyweight and heavyweight.

3.—A team that arrived for a bout with only eight or seven of the regulation team, would automatically forfeit the match in that division. There should be only one man on a team for each division.

4.—With boxing attracting the largest gate of all sports at many of the schools, it would be well to pay officials and get competent work—just as basketball and grid officials are now paid.

5.—Each licensed judge and referee should be given a code of honor on the proper judging of amateur fights with explicit instructions to study it.

6.—Judges and referees should be agreed upon by the rival coaches before the night of the fight—as in the case of basketball and football.

And a last suggestion—not a rule—that coaches take extreme care that their youngsters in this rough and ready game of the many art of self-defense. Thru in the law if a youngster shows the least sign of injury. Because if this is not followed, school high school boys will get seriously hurt and the high school boxing game will be washed up for good in this territory.

We had the pleasure of visiting Bill Piller and Kimberly yesterday afternoon with Business Manager Hugh Pace and Concessions Manager John Pace of the Twin Falls Cowboys.

Chicago Ace Plans to Avenge Ross
By HARRY FERGUSON
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, March 31 (U.P.)—Davey Day crawls through the red ropes at Madison Square Garden tonight to fight Henry Armstrong for the welterweight championship of the world, and they do say this one is for blood because Davey Day's heart is a wound nothing but victory will heal.

The odds are three to one against Davey but he is going to give it the old college try come 10 o'clock tonight and to understand why he feels so strongly about this bout you have to go back to a starry night in May.

Licked His Pal
On the afternoon of May 1, Armstrong met Barney Ross in New York and won the welterweight championship from him. Not only did Armstrong lick Ross, but he did it so efficiently that when he got through Barney looked like something the butcher had wrapped up.

Now, Davey Day and Barney Ross are not stalemated; they were both hurt but Davey Day, too, he said then he would avenge Barney as soon as he could get Armstrong into the ring and tonight's the night.

So if Davey wins tonight, then some smart boxing genius think he has a chance just to get Barney as a triumph of mind over matter and consider that Mr. Day has proved that a will to win is more potent than a fist that sinks in just above the belt.

Pretty Fast Fighter
None of these remarks should be construed as an attempt to make Mr. Day out to be a big As a matter of fact, he is a pretty fast fighter who has done most of his gladiatorial work in and around Chicago. He is unbeaten in more than two years of fighting, he punches sharply and he has a short right uppercut that could turn out to be quite a weapon against Armstrong. Davey will have height, reach and weight on Henry, and the chief question seems to be whether he can hang up the stamina to stay in there for 15 rounds and take the mauling Armstrong hands out.

Armstrong's lightweight title will not be at stake because Day will come in around 138—three pounds over the lightweight limit.

Cook, Kovacs in Net Semi-Finals
HOUSTON, Tex., March 31 (U.P.)—A pile of westerners squatted off today in semi-finals of the River Oaks tournament.

Tall Tales Fly as Rain Postpones Masters' Meet

By HENRY McLEMORE

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 31 (U.P.)—The golfers are snotting up, turning slates. They can't take it any more. A little wind and rain and they scurry for the clubhouse, pull down the shades, and begin playing bridge, dominoes, checkers and parchees.

The rains came yesterday, just as play was about to start in the first round of the Masters invitation tournament, and the officials ordered a postponement. In the clubhouse, safe from the "fierce" rain that not even your most madly sunned would have minded, the boys admitted times had changed. Not so many years ago tournaments would wait through on schedule.

1922 Amateur Meet
Bobby Jones, tucked away on a sofa, recalled, with a slight smile, the qualifying rounds of the national amateur at Brookline in 1922.

"What a rain that was," Bob said. "It was like playing in the surf on one Albatross. We didn't leave anything but sand trees in those days, and it was impossible to tie up your ball. Before you could get set to hit the ball the sand was washed away. And I did all my putting with a maulie, the greens were so deep with water. I never will forget Max Marston in that tournament. Max used a towel for a tee the whole time."

Winged Foot Open
"What about the open at Winged Foot in 1929?" asked Billie Burke. "That was a mess of rain for you. The only fellow to shoot a decent score the opening day was George Von Elm. He stripped down to pants and shoes, and got around in 70. I remember that I got so mad when I four-putted on 10 feet on the final green that I took my ball and threw it on the green as hard as I could."

FOUR FROM TWIN FALLS ON P.T. A. CONVENTION ROSTER

gress of Parents and Teachers, April 3-5, in Boise. Mrs. John E. Hayes, national vice-president, and three state board members from Twin Falls, will figure prominently in the annual meeting.
Keynote address will be given by Mrs. J. K. Pettigill, national president, at the convention banquet next Monday evening, April 3, at the Hotel Boise. Mrs. R. L. Brainard, Wardner, will preside at the convention as state president. Mrs. Pettigill's topic, "Citizens of Tomorrow," is the same as the convention theme. Among her listeners will be representatives from five local Parent-Teacher associations, Blackfoot, Lincoln, Washington, Junior-Senior and St. Edward's, as well as local members on the state board.
Board Leaves Sunday
Local members of the state board will leave Sunday for Boise to be present when the convention opens Monday at 10:15 a. m. in the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Boise. Mrs. J. E. Joslyn, Mrs. R. J. Evans and Mrs. G. W. Erbland are local members of the state board who will attend the convention. Mrs. G. W. Burgess, Twin Falls, also on the state board, will be unable to attend. Mrs. Albert Wegener and possibly one other P-T-A. member, will accompany the state board group.
Convention Speakers
Mrs. John E. Hayes, Twin Falls, national vice-president, will give an address on "Extension of Parent-Teacher Service."

Industrialist Sees Building as Key to Prosperity

DO NOT LOOK FOR GOVERNMENT AID, OREGONIAN SAYS

Declaring that in all probability building activity would be the "Moses" to lead the country out of the wilderness of depression with citizens aiding themselves instead of expecting aid from others, E. C. Sammons, nationally known industrialist from Portland, spoke here last night before local sales leaders, members of their staffs and friends.

Sammons' visit to Twin Falls was sponsored by the Kiwanis club and other civic bodies. More than 200 persons were present at the high school auditorium during the address in which the speaker referred often to business reports of leading authorities and read excerpts from a personal letter from Babson, economist. Aside from being a member of the board of directors of several large concerns and the first citizen of Portland, Col. Sammons is also vice-president of the Iron Pipe Manufacturing company.

He pointed out that the letter from Babson it was disclosed by the speaker that the famed economist predicted total business by the end of 1938 will be better than any year since 1929 with the average volume being 20 per cent above the 1938 level.

See Farm Gain
Farm prices, Babson wrote Sammons, should "chalk up a substantial gain." The year 1938 will be one of moderate prosperity with the 1937-38 recession only a temporary stop in the upward swing.

The second half of 1938, the speaker read, will show a continuation of these gains. This same second half should be better than the early months and will run 15 per cent above the last half of 1937. The entire year's gain should average about 20 per cent.

Trade in the agricultural regions, including Twin Falls, should be brisk during the last part of 1938, Babson wrote. At the same time he advised merchants to "step up their advertising budget 15 per cent."

"Newspaper coverage is still the best and cheapest medium of reaching the public," Babson wrote. "It is essential that it be kept supplied by itself. Col. Sammons pointed out factory payroll, at the present time is 88 per cent of normal against 77 and one-half per cent for 1937; freight car loadings are 68 per cent, against 62 per cent for 1937.

He pointed out that people are willing to buy "if the salesman don't quit."

"We must not depend upon Uncle Sam, or the WPA, or the FWA, or the NRA, or any such thing, to lead us to the drinking trough, poke our nose down in it, and fill with life," Sammons said. "We must lead us to help ourselves."

"One trouble with the nation today is that people are sitting and waiting for the government to lead them. In other words many of our citizens have quit."

Pointing to the importance of new industries for any community, the speaker declared that today one of every four workers is employed in an industry which was not known prior to 1900. Such industries, he said, include construction of the automobile, the airplane, the electric refrigerator, the electric washing machine and other articles.

"These articles were made and were accepted by the public because of expert salesmanship," Sammons said.

Boom Year for Salesmen
In urging salesmen to work harder, Col. Sammons said that while 1938 looks like a good year for the merchant, it "should be a boom year for the salesman."

"Business is like the measles or the mumps. If you expose yourself to it often enough you are bound to get it. Keep in touch with the users of your product and keep them satisfied. If you give them a good product and good service you will get repeat orders. In our company such repeat orders form over 30 per cent of our new business."

Turning to the federal government spending program, Col. Sammons said, "We can't spend our money right, either individually or as a nation," and added:

"We have not yet found any substitute for the private payroll."

Give Neckties
As a feature of the closing minutes of his address, the nationally known business leader presented various local businessmen with official Iron Pipe Manufacturing "good luck" red neckties, declaring that all "good salesmen" should wear a red necktie.

Those receiving the ties included Wilbur S. Hill, president of the Kiwanis club; Alton Young, president of the Lions club; J. A. Coderquist, town hall chairman; George De-

Students Here Favor U.S. Remaining Neutral in Democracy-Dictator War

Student opinion at Twin Falls high school favors the United States staying neutral in event of war between dictators and democracies—even if entry of the U. S. would turn the tide in favor of democracies.

The consensus of opinion in a student poll for the afternoon edition of the "Snake" was that the student body favored neutrality.

The student opinion showed that the youths participating were decidedly against a New Deal candidate for President. The poll indicated by a large majority that if Thomas Dewey of New York were running against a New Deal candidate, they would vote for Dewey.

But if Dewey ran against John Nance Garner, the students indicated they would vote for "Cactus Jack" against the New Yorker.

American people, the poll showed, should refuse to buy goods in dictator nations—but the students indicated they don't refuse personally. In foreign policy they would sympathize with Russia in a Russo-German war, although a good many remained neutral.

No amendment should be made to our neutrality law to make it cash-and-carry, favorable to Britain and France, they believed.

CANYON TRIPS TO FEATURE BOATING

Passenger rides up the Snake river canyon a distance of more than two miles, permitting viewing of the "Squaw," a rock formation some 35 feet high which gives the appearance of an Indian woman carrying her papoose in her arms.

The trip is the fastest and most scenic of the Snake river canyon. It was announced this afternoon by Lind Drexler, president.

Three club members are expected to operate their 33 horse power outboard boats at the ferry landing above the falls that afternoon, affording citizens an opportunity to ride in the fastest outboard built.

Operators will be Norman Hogg of Twin Falls, Don Teeter of Buhl and Drexler.

Other boat owners expected to be present include Jim Moore, driving a small hydroplane, and Homer Saxon, operating a boat powered with a 22 horsepower Elio.

Plans are underway at the present time for the second annual all-Idaho boat races to be held at Thousand springs, probably in May.
