Koehler Holds One-Vote Lead over Blandford in Race for Mayor's Post

Officials to Count Ballots Friday Night

Joe-K E. R. Koehler, theater owner and civic worker, today appeared destined to be the next mayor of Twin Falls after leading Tuesday's election over J. H. Blandford, attorney by one vote.

Tabulations from both wards as they stand at the present time show Koehler with 1,178 votes and Blandford with 1,177.

It was a hectic finish with Blandford on the basis of first complaints from both wards, being announced winner by a lone tally only to see a recount in ward two snatched from him and give it to Koehler by the same margin.

Official Tabulation Friday
Final and official tabulation of ballots cast will rest with members of the city council meeting Friday at 7:30 p. m. as a canvassing board. Today it was not known whether that body would re-count those cast in ward one, ward two ballots already having been counted twice by official judges.

When tabulations were available from ward one last night and were added to those of ward two, thus showing a one vote lead for Blandford, Koehler asked a recount in both wards. The council was two started immediately before some 25 witnesses, and resulted in judges finding one of Koehler's votes among those previously given to Blandford. Because one had to be taken from Blandford's total and added to Koehler's total in the ward, the theater owner stepped into a one-vote lead.

Second Count

In ward one, however, the second count official could find no discrepancy according to law. Following the first detailed check the judges had turned the ballot box and books over to City Clerk W. H. Eldridge and then had gone home. Although they were brought back to the poll City Attorney Harry Beeson said that the law specifically states that after such a procedure has been followed the ballot box cannot be opened again and counted, except when the city council meets as a board to canvass the vote. For this reason the ballots were locked in the

3 OF METHODIST CHURCHES UNITE
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 26 (AP)—Formation of the latest Protestant denomination in America was begun today by delegates of Methodist Episcopal South and Methodist Episcopal churches who represent 8,000,000 members.

Such controversial questions as autonomy for women's organizations, reduction of youth groups, administration of Negro churches and disposition of present conflicting church publications will be debated during the three weeks long uniting session.

More than 900 official delegates, including laymen, business and other citizens, were participating. Because of the importance of the sessions, church leaders of several denominations have attended the most important religious meeting in a century, more than 25,000 Methodist lay visitors were expected for the first time.

Members of the three churches last year decided by a majority vote general conference to unite. The conference which opened here today had the full power of determining the governmental structure and administration of the new church.

Single Vote Separates Them

JOE-K E. R. KOEHLER

J. H. BLANDFORD

A single vote was all that separated these two men in the race for the mayoralty of the city of Twin Falls. Complete unofficial returns from the two precincts gave Koehler a vote of 1,178, while Blandford had 1,177. The city council will make a final canvass on Friday evening.

ONE-VOTE MARGIN

Following are the votes as tabulated by judges in wards one and two in yesterday's election. Unless found to be in error at a canvass of the ballots Friday night by members of the city council, the results will stand as given.

	Ward 1	Ward 2	Totals
Joe-K E. R. Koehler	565	613	1,178
J. H. Blandford	612	565	1,177

Totals 1,177 1,178 2,355
(Note: Actual number of ballots cast was 2,359 but two spoiled ballots were noted in each ward.)

South Idaho Cities Feature Tight Races In Mayor Contests

With two majority races tentatively decided by margins of one and two votes, south central Idaho city and village elections yesterday witnessed some unexpectedly tight ball games and saw incumbent city executives in two major communities voted out of office. At least two communities approved special levies.

In Twin Falls Joe-K E. R. Koehler held a one-vote edge over J. H. Blandford, with final decision apparently hanging on the official canvass Friday night by the city council. At Blaine C. C. Voller held a two-vote margin over A. DeNeal.

Ballot city ended will convene tonight in special canvassing session to check the votes cast. The incumbent mayor, Geo. L. Thompson, ran third.

At Burley the incumbent mayor also was defeated when Fred J. Hill, Jr., received 103 votes to 67 for Harry L. Hargrave.

TIGHT RACE
BURLEY, April 26 (AP)—C. C. Voller, with 201 votes, led H. A. DeNeal, 197, in the contest for mayor of Burley, Idaho, in the annual election held here today. The election was the first since the city was incorporated in 1910. Voller, a local businessman, received 221 votes, while DeNeal received 197. A special meeting of the city council is called for tonight when an official canvass of the ballots will be taken.

Out of the approximately 1,100 registered voters, 800 cast votes in yesterday's hotly-contested election. With 284 votes, Voller was named city clerk, succeeding Mrs. Ruth Voller, 164 votes. Harry L. Hargrave received 221 votes, Albert J. Ames, 200, and Lyle Northrup, 32, for the post.

ROADHOUSE FIGHT ENDS IN SLAYING OF YOUTHFUL DUO

SANDPOINT, Ida., April 26 (AP)—A slender gunman who wore a white handkerchief over his face killed two young men outside a roadhouse near here early today when they knocked him down for insulting one of their women companions.

James Turpin, 30, Sandpoint, was killed instantly. James McFall, 25, Priest River, also was shot during the scuffle and died an hour later.

The slaying occurred outside Mrs. Roadhouse and her parlor a mile north of Sandpoint shortly after the roadhouse closed its doors at midnight.

Turpin, McFall and two young women friends, who had been drinking around during the evening while awaiting returns of a municipal election drive up in their car.

Broke Glass Door
The killer, believed to be the same man who wore a white handkerchief mask earlier in the evening when he robbed Gus Wendt, Sandpoint, of several dollars, approached them. He just just broken a glass door in the roadhouse in an apparent attempt to enter and loot it but withdrew when he noticed a few customers were still inside.

While those in the roadhouse were investigating the sound of the broken glass, the killer spoke to the men, and their two young women companions.

Opens Fire
Sheriff Warren Knapp said he learned the killer "made a pass" at one of the women, Turpin and McFall tangled with him. Knocked down during the scuffle, the gunman opened fire.

The shots and the screams of the women attracted the late patrons to the roadhouse. The killer fled on foot. He was pursued, but disappeared.

Knapp said he believed the slayer had fled into nearby mountains and might have escaped in a stolen car.

As volunteer policemen were sworn in, Knapp warned authorities on the Washington and Montana border to be on the lookout.

The description of the man who robbed Wendt earlier in the evening and that given by the women who witnessed the shooting was identical, Knapp said.

The killer was young, slender, almost naked in appearance and wore a black slouch hat and a dark coat.

Poses, the sheriff said, will search the nearby mountains. He said many had volunteered for the search as Turpin and McFall were well-known in the area.

STEELMAN HOLDS FLOOR IN BATTLE

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—Despite the uncompromising attitude of the principals, the federal government continued its efforts today to bring peace to the Appalachian coal industry, day since April 1 because of a wage-hour deadlock between representatives of management and labor.

John H. Steelman, appointed special mediator by Secretary of Labor Harold I. Lloyd, said he had received the approval, hoped to bring leaders of the United Mine Workers of America and management to some 2,000 operators together before present coal shortages in the coal become general.

John L. Leach, UMW president and John O'Neill, steel industry leader for the operators, assumed the role of mediator, while Steelman had then the responsibility of seeing that the two sides reached an agreement. Although he would not discuss his proposals publicly, it was understood Steelman told the negotiators that the deal between the government might suggest a three-man mediation committee to ease the situation from beginning to end.

Suit Tests Legality Of License Refunding By State to County

BOISE, April 26 (AP)—Ada County Prosecutor Kenneth O'Leary prepared to institute suit against State Auditor Calvin E. Wright today to test legality of a $1,000,000 yearly reimbursement of counties by the state for loss of automobile license revenue.

County authorities reported that a road-construction program 68 miles in length would have to be suspended unless Ada county receives its share of the gasoline tax moneys.

Contracts for the work were let last fall. Reduction of auto license fees, the county of $400,000 in 1938, a payment of $1,000,000 from the state was anticipated but has not been forthcoming.

Att. Gen. J. W. Taylor declared the allocation made by the legislature unconstitutional. The allocation was made when it reduced automobile license fees to a half of 1938 levels in order to give counties the moneys with which to carry on maintenance and construction of county roads.

Floor Crisis
Each of Idaho's 41 counties faced a potential financial crisis if the state supreme court upholds the ruling of the legislature.

Taylor said the legislature arranged for the state auditor to pay over state moneys to counties. Highway districts, school districts, cities, towns and villages, to be paid out of the funds of these subdivisions.

Action Regarded As Warning for Fuehrer Speech

LONDON, April 26 (AP)—Great Britain took unprecedented measures to bulwark European peace today, by announcing peace-time conscription for military service, and measures to control profiteering in time of war.

The action was regarded as a warning in advance of Adolf Hitler's speech on Friday of Britain's determination to be prepared for any contingency.

"No one can contend that this is peace time in any sense in which the term could be purely used," Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons in announcing the government's decision.

Conscription of all men between the ages of 20 and 21 for six months of military training, will be provided in a bill to be introduced in commons. In addition, Chamberlain said, the bill would empower the government to call up any and all reserves.

The number of men involved in the 20 to 21 categories was estimated by Chamberlain at 310,000 annually, not counting reductions due to exemptions. From the tone of Chamberlain's announcement, it appeared likely that if grave danger threatened, other classes might be called up, resulting in a trained army of perhaps 1,000,000.

Shatters Precedent
After their six months' training, Chamberlain said, the conscripts could join the territorial defense forces for 3 years, or otherwise would be obliged to enter the special reserve of the regular army.

Chamberlain's announcement of peace-time conscription shattered a British precedent of centuries and evoked bitter opposition from the trades unionists. Not until the second year of the World War in 1916 did Great Britain introduce such a drastic measure.

Chamberlain said war might not appear imminent at present but general conditions might be so uncertain that it was desirable to take certain precautions without the publicity and the shock to confidence of a royal proclamation.

The government, Chamberlain declared, is impressed with the view of other democratic countries, and especially British friends in Europe, that despite its immense efforts, nothing would so impress the world as its acceptance in principle of conscription.

Confidence Undermined
"In war it is generally accepted that military service would be compulsory from the outset," he said. "Hitherto it has not been thought necessary in peace time."

"But when confidence in the maintenance of peace is being undermined, no one can pretend that this is peace time in any sense in which the term could be purely used."

He also said that the government was considering the pledge given by me not to introduce conscription in peace time. (Chamberlain did not explain this pledge.)

He said that the government had decided to meet war and exceptional conditions "by the measure of conscription."

FOR ASKS FUNDS FOR PLANE BASES

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—President Roosevelt today asked Congress to appropriate $10,000,000 to finance aircraft plant work on a $60,000,000 plan of naval air bases in Alaska, the South Pacific, the West Indies and in Florida.

He also asked the house naval appropriations committee to authorize the letting of contracts totaling $5,000,000 for the program.

Mr. Roosevelt said he had asked the House to authorize the bases, a further step in the national defense program.

Chaimson Jones, U. S. congressman, Nev., of the house naval appropriations subcommittee, said the supplemental request would be considered in connection with the $100,000,000 regular navy budget bill. He said total requests for the navy this year amount to approximately $100,000,000.

75 BELIEVED IN DEATH SYNDICATE
PHILADELPHIA, April 26 (AP)—At least 75 persons were connected with a mysterious murder-for-hire syndicate that killed some 100 persons in several states, authorities disclosed today shortly after another woman allegedly confessed to poisoning her husband to collect $75,000.

The arrest and purported confession of Mrs. Josephine Zuppardo, 44, mother of two young children, that she murdered her husband, Anthony, 44, in 1936, claimed new developments in the investigation. Three other women and a man were taken into custody.

It was understood the arrests resulted from disclosures by Mrs. Carolyn Payton, 44, who hailed her husband's death as a "miraculous" escape from a life of poverty by pleading guilty to the poisoning of her stepson, her common-law husband, and another man, she is trying to escape the electric chair by "cooperating" with authorities.

GERMANY LAUGHS AT CONSCRIPTION

BERLIN, April 26 (AP)—The Nazi press, generally locked down its nose at the British conscription news, today laughed at the British conscription news.

"New German political bluff by Britain," Chamberlain's laudable manner in Britain," was the Nazi propaganda front page headline. "The British are laughing at the conscription news," it said.

The military fitness of young Englishmen is the world in the world," Chamberlain said. "The British are not but soldiers but generally lack a soldierly tradition," added Lokalesauser.

Jerome Asks Taylor, Masters to Attend Bridge Sessions

RAPS 'QUIBBLING' OF TWO MEN ON SPAN PURCHASE

W. H. Deweller, Hazelton, Jerome county representative, today called for a J. W. Taylor after the meeting of the H. H. Masters, local secretary of state and representative of the state, to present the facts as published by a newspaper in order that the facts can be published by a newspaper and that the facts can be published by a newspaper.

Deweller presented his views on the bridge matter this afternoon in a telephone conversation with the Evening Times after it was learned from Deweller that the attorney general had charged that the 1939 legislature intended for the people of Idaho to pay $300,000 for a $300,000 bridge.

Gas Price Increased
Taylor added that the law provides for a tax of one mill and the gas companies have raised the price of gasoline to the consumer one cent per gallon. He charged that by the time the one mill tax is paid on the Twin Falls county general hospital bridge reaches $300,000, the gas companies will make a $1,000,000 profit.

Knows Bridge Facts
When contacted this afternoon by the Evening Times for a statement relative to what he thought of the situation and especially of the statements made by Taylor at "quote, busy tending to my own business" and added:

"I have been a member of the committee which met with Mr. Short, who represented the bond holders, and Mr. Flint, director of highways, during the session of the legislature. I know the facts as they are and I know that the matter for the bridge is not a matter for the state to pay more than the bridge is worth."

Only Wants Price
"Mr. Short's stand in the presence of this meeting, that he did not expect to receive more than the bridge is worth."

"As to the price of gasoline I just now checked and I find I am paying less for gas than I was a year ago. Using a large tractor on my farm I buy my gas by the tank load and I find myself no more than I make out of it."

"I am sorry to hear so many differences between the attorneys general and the present administration for Mr. Taylor told me last winter that he was going to pay bill with the government."

"Perhaps he is prevaricating because the finance committee refused to grant him a $200,000 bond fund which he asked for."

NEW NLRB BOARD MEMBER OPPOSES GENERAL LAW REVISION

LEISERSON ASKS AMENDMENTS TO GET ARBITRATION

WASHINGTON April 26 (AP)—Dr. William M. Leiserson, new appointee to the national labor relations board, opposes general revision of the labor relations act but favors an amendment that would require arbitration of labor disputes, over representation of collective bargaining contracts.

Leiserson, who was called by President Roosevelt yesterday from chairmanship of the national labor board to take Donald Wakefield Smith's place on the labor board, is scheduled to testify before the Senate education and labor committee next Monday on proposed amendments to the Wagner act. That committee also is studying Leiserson's nomination to the labor board.

Meets Friday

Committee Chairman, Robert D. Thomas, D. Utah, said the committee would meet Friday to decide whether to act on the nomination of Leiserson. It appears to be a question of whether there would be no objection to Leiserson's nomination. Leiserson stated his views on the labor act in a radio debate last January with Roy Moore, president of the Catholic Dry Goods Association and chairman of the employment relations committee of the national association of manufacturers. He reiterated them a week ago in a newspaper article.

Room for Improvement

He believes "there is room for improvement in the administrative methods of the board," and has indicated that much of the present criticism of the labor relations act is the result of administrative methods. He opposes those who believe the Wagner act is "one-sided" and "unfair" and favors an amendment which would require employers and unions to embody all collective bargaining agreements in writing. He has charged that amendments sponsored by the manufacturers' association "are intended to restore the days when labor laws were class legislation in favor of employers."

Grange Initiates 2 New Members

Botsford and the governor of Maine to meet at the Grange for a picnic picnic contest was presented by the Chamber of Commerce and endorsed by the Grange which voted favorably on the proposition. Plans for the picnic contest were made to have the third and fourth grade put on an early meeting.

During the lecture's hour H. A. Baker spoke on the trial of the Barker-Karpis gang, and two vocal solos, "Deep in a Dream" and "The Unbelievable Man" were given by Miss Phyllis Stone, accompanied by Miss Doris Maricle. Evening closed with a social hour and refreshments served by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huelger, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. French, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. French and Mrs. Anna Hansen.

He designed the murals for the Carnegie Public Library, Boston, and also designs and manufactures frames for the leading artists of the United States. He is a member of the Rocky Mountain Artists' Association and other art clubs.

The exhibit shown at the department meeting yesterday, will be on display all this week from 9 o'clock in the morning to 6 o'clock in the evening, in the dining room at the high school.

Down the oil filler, and up to the regular oil-level, goes your Germ Processed oil. But that ends the resemblance to traditional oil-changing. For now you've got oil that "magnetizes" to bearings, shafts and even to cylinder walls—though they are upright! FIR PLEADS FOR HEALTH, EDUCATION OF CHILDREN

PRESIDENT SAYS U. S. DEMOCRACY TRAINS LEADERS

WASHINGTON, April 26 (UP)—President Roosevelt said today that the safety of democracy depends on the degree to which a nation provides for the health and education of its children.

In an address to a White House conference on children, Mr. Roosevelt said that only by these methods could a democracy attain its chief goals.

"The success of democratic institutions is measured, not by extent of territory, financial power, munitions or armaments, but by the degree of the hopes, and the deepening satisfaction of the individual men, women and children who make up its citizenship," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt referred to two recent important pronouncements he had made on foreign affairs.

"Not Prisoners of Fate"

"In an address on Pan-American day, two weeks ago, I said: 'Men are not prisoners of fate, but only prisoners of their own minds.' Mr. Roosevelt said: 'They have within themselves the power to become free men.'"

On April 15, in addressing the heads of two great states (Hitler and Mussolini) I stated that I refused to believe that the world is, of necessity, a prisoner of destiny.

"On the contrary, I said, it is clear that the leaders of great nations have it in their power to liberate their people from the disaster that impends. It is equally clear that in their own minds and in their own hearts the people themselves desire that their lives be ended."

Trains Future Leaders

"In providing for health and education of children, for the formation of their minds and character, in ways which are in harmony with the institutions of a free society, democracy is training its future leaders. The safety of our civilization therefore depends upon the widespread diffusion of opportunities for developing these qualities of mind and character that are essential to leadership in our modern age."

Mr. Roosevelt said that any nation that had a compulsory school law, yet is unable to provide food for a child to eat so it can go to school is not fulfilling its duty.

Neither can prenatal instruction assure healthy babies unless the mother has access to good medical care, he said.

Made Great Progress

"We have made great progress in the application of money and service to the promotion of maternal and child health, the restoration of crippled children to normal physical condition, the protection of neglected children and children in danger of becoming delinquent, especially in the field of child labor, and the elimination of child labor from industries shipping goods in interstate commerce," Mr. Roosevelt said.

"Yet, after all has been said, only a beginning has been made in affording security to children. In many parts of the country we have not provided enough to meet the minimum needs of dependent children for food, shelter and clothing, and the federal government's contribution toward their care is less generous than its contribution to the care of the aged."

SCREEN, RAILWAY LEADERS IN UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY, April 26 (UP)—Screen, railway and state notables made Salt Lake City yesterday for the 70th anniversary of transcontinental rail transportation.

Hunt, president of the L. D. S. church, joined the party at Stockton, Utah. They participated in the celebration of "golden spike day," proclaimed by the governor in memory of the linking of the rails at Promontory Point on May 10, 1869.

The special, headed by woodburning "Old 35," an engine of civil war vintage, and powered with its modern steam-electric locomotive, left Salt Lake for Denver, next stop on the route.

CLASSES STUDY RISING BUILDING

DOVER, O. (UP)—Classes still meet here even when the new school building is being erected, and the students there are getting a practical lesson in engineering from engineers to writing of a book.

It was the idea of E. C. Palmer, superintendent of Dover schools, to use the construction job of a new $448,000 high school as a practical lesson.

Pupils are studying the various stages of construction, beginning with the excavation work.

The school art department is making scale drawings and paintings of the project, while mechanical drawing classes study and reproduce the blueprints.

Mathematics classes are learning the rudiments of engineering, by working on problems of stresses, loads and strains.

The physics department is learning from the building plans, the method of installation and operation of heating, ventilation, sanitation and water systems.

The English department is supervising the production of a book which will describe the operations from start to finish.

Camera students are making photographs during the progress of the work for a permanent pictorial record.

The development of expression in public speaking is aided by the lessons prepared by high school students and taught to sixth grade pupils. The sixth graders in turn lecture to lower grade pupils.

Palmer said that the new method has been welcomed heartily by both pupils and parents.

Pity the Poor Miners—Fire Gets Apparel

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The 27 Mexican origin, claimed the interior of the change room and shower of the Gray Rock Mine, brought about the faces of thousands of men throughout the United States by a wildfire fire, the possible $100,000 loss.

The men on shift lost their stored clothes, since they were sweating their work clothes at the time of the fire.

The intense heat baked open the windows and doors, claiming the attention of workers nearby.

The contents of the building consisted of various sized iron, stainless steel, and aluminum. The clothing mostly rubber slippers and rubber boots, burned so quickly that little could be salvaged from anything the building contained.

Ruffing Injured As Yanks Lound Athletics Again

NEW YORK, April 26 (U.P.)—Oscar Feller, left fielder of the Cleveland Indians, isn't exactly a bed of roses, but there's one ball player in the big league's motley collection of prima donnas, screwballs and temperamental artists who is a pain forever to "Uncle Ole's" heart.

"Ballet Bob" Feller is only 20, but he is everybody's choice to be the No. 1 pitcher of the American league this season.

Advance Ticket Sales For Grandstand Seats Announced by Pace

Members of the Cowboys, Twin Falls' entry in the Pioneer baseball circuit, will be feted here Saturday afternoon during an official "welcome home" parade which will be held in the downtown section.

Although members of the team will arrive in the city either late tonight or early Thursday, to view their adopted city for the initial time, the official welcome will come Saturday, according to arrangements completed last night by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Sharp Scoutette

The parade will form in front of the Union Motor company at 4 p. m. on that date and will move from there to Main and Shoshone where band music and brief speeches will feature. Cooperation in the event are state and local police officers. Expected to participate in the welcoming parade is a band, yet to be named, and the Boy Scouts and Big League boys as well as the American Legion and auxiliary and bugle corps. Every citizen of Twin Falls Saturday afternoon is invited to get in the parade, "especially the children."

PORT QUIBS

Just for you baseball fans' information, we are glad to point out that the hater's pet, the sacrifice fly, is back in the baseball rule book this season. The baseball experts in the east have hauled long and loud against the rule, while most of the batsmen in every league, little or big, have been very much in favor of it—which is natural of course.

Your Health

By ALAN L. HART, M. D.

Consultant, Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis association and state division of public health

MATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH

In this country of ours the mother dies every 36 minutes from some cause connected with childbirth, over 70,000 babies are born dead every year, and more than 50,000 come into the world infected with syphilis.

If you are interested in your own community, you will be interested to learn that in Twin Falls and Cassia counties the maternal death rate is above the average for the state and that in Twin Falls and Gooding counties the infant death rate is higher than the state average. Part of this is due to the fact that many women come into town from the country for confinement, and part to the fact that less-qualified doctors it is still a difficult matter to get medical care and patients together.

Why the Mothers Die Although 80 per cent of the women confined in Idaho have a doctor when the baby is born, most of them do not have proper care before the baby comes, and nearly a quarter of the deaths among mothers is due to this neglect. This is particularly true of rural areas. Many women come "to town for the birth of their children but few are able to come in regularly before-hand to have their condition checked.

Infection accounts for 40 per cent of the mothers who die. About a third of these infections result from abortions and two-thirds follow confinement. Many of these infectious develop from a loss of disease, considering in the mother's body; others result from lack of sterilized supplies for the confinement, and still others from the unclean habits or carelessness of the woman herself or her family.

Loss of blood during confinement kills another 11 per cent of mothers. And the accidents of childbirth, largely unpreventable, account for another 15 per cent of the deaths among mothers.

Why New-Born Babies Die Nearly half the new-born who die do so because they were born dead or of time. Another fourth die because they were injured during the process of birth or because their bodies were not put together exactly right.

Most of the rest who die during the first weeks of life have pneumonia, passed on to them by some adult with a cold or bronchitis. Still others die because they must be taken home after a few weeks' stay in a hospital in town to a poorly heated and ventilated home, a long distance from good medical advice for the first months of life.

Are There Too Many People? In 1915 the United States had 25.1 live babies born for every thousand of its population. In 1925 only 19.6. Early in the 1920's we shut off immigration. Within another generation, the rapidly growing trend, our population will be stationary. Already the proportion of children to adults in towns and cities is falling.

Whether or not one believes that there are too many people in the world, it is sub-human to allow youngsters to be born only to die in the first month of life from preventable causes. And this is precisely what happens. More than half the deaths of newborn infants and their mothers are unnecessary and the decrease in the infant death rate in the United States since 1915 has not been in the first month of life.

Clubs for Mothers The Idaho state division of public health began in 1928 a program to help new mothers and babies. In the sections of the state where there is a health unit, conferences for expectant mothers are held by the local doctors and nurses explain the process of birth, discuss the proper diet of mother and coming child, and the proper clothes for each. The nurses teach the women how to prepare their homes for the confinement.

Women who have a family physician are sent to him for medical examination. Women without funds have care arranged for through the unit. A blood test is done on each prospective mother: her pelvis measured; she has a tuberculin test and is X-rayed if there is any history or indication of tuberculosis.

When the time for confinement comes, a nurse from the health unit equipped with a kit of sterilized supplies, goes to the home and helps the doctor. She also has a bag ready for emergencies that may be of great value when things suddenly go wrong.

After confinement, the nurse calls, at least three times at the home; if distance, time and the condition of roads permit. During these visits she carries out the doctor's orders for the care of both parents, watches for signs of infection, inspects the baby's eyes and body with his feeding. She teaches someone in the family to care for mother and infant after her own visits cease. Last—but very important—she reports to the physician immediately any sign of trouble in either of his patients, thus helping in the early detection and prompt treatment of the complications that arise after confinement.

Next release more about maternal and child health.

Battle Looms on Reorganization

NEW YORK SOLON LEADS HOPELESS FIGHT IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Rep. John Taber, R-N.Y., leading minority member of the House reorganization committee, led an admittedly hopeless fight today to defeat President Roosevelt's first reorganization order.

Taber prepared to introduce a concurrent resolution in the House opposing the creation of three new agencies to direct security, housing and public work activities. He said he knew the resolution would not receive favorable consideration by the reorganization committee.

Sen. William H. King, D-Ill., was the only member of the Senate considering a similar move. He said he would study the plan thoroughly and if convinced it would not promote efficiency and economy, would offer a resolution to reject it.

Can't Be Stopped

But even the bitterest opponents of the reorganization law, under which Mr. Roosevelt reorganized executive bureaus under three new agencies of sub-cabinet rank, conceded the order could not be stopped and would take effect as provided in the law at the expiration of 60 days.

Criticism of the order centered chiefly on two contentions:

1. That it grouped permanent and emergency agencies together, tending to make temporary agencies permanent.
2. That instead of producing an estimated $15,000,000 to $20,000,000 annual administrative saving, as Mr. Roosevelt estimated, it would add the expense of any temporary agencies made permanent.

Reduces Efficiency

"The primary object," said Taber, "is to reduce the efficiency of the permanent agencies down to the level of the emergency agencies, and try to hi-jack, by this operation, the continuance of these temporary agencies."

"This will saddle on the taxpayers an additional $2,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000 annually, and that's where the savings comes in."

The President said he would submit two more reorganization plans next week. One, he said, will involve interdepartmental changes; the other shifts within existing departments.

ASSEMBLY HEARS STUDENT READING

Readings by several of the speech students of Twin Falls Junior high school were given this afternoon in assembly.

Lola Nicholson gave a Negro dialect reading, "In the Morning." Olive Wells gave "The White Hands of Teihann," and Elsie Jane Griggs gave "A Corner on William" and several impersonations.

The students are from the classes of Miss Winifred Fryer.
