

CITY JOINS IN BABY WEEK AND CHILD HEALTH EVENT

EMPHASIS LAID ON CONVENIENCES AND STURDY CHILDHOOD

This is baby's week, and he'll reign as America's ruler—as though he doesn't already!

Special emphasis will be laid throughout the nation this week on infant health and baby comforts, and Twin Falls merchants are participating in National Baby week with a wide range of offerings.

Today, as national day of the special week is also Child Health day throughout America. Proclamations by President Roosevelt and Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen called on, Idaho and the nation to pause for inspection of the factors that will increase the sturdy qualities of America's youngsters.

As for participation in Twin Falls stores in furthering baby's comfort and health, there are a few of the offerings:

Tiny Mattresses

"Two-b" sized mattresses, complete with springs, and covered with gay waterproof chintz in print patterns—made to fit any standard bassinet and add to baby's comfort. Unbleached muslin bedspreads bordered with delicate bandings and decorated with designs typical of the nursery, such as waddling ducks and baby chicks.

Wardrobe electric bottle warmers, equipped with a thermostat which automatically turns off as soon as the milk is the proper temperature, and so geared that the "click" can be heard by mother even in an adjoining room, letting her know that the young master's meal is ready to be served.

Baby Thermos Bottles

Sanitary nipple and bottle protectors, infants' thermos bottles, really, that can stand the "buff" when baby decides that enough nourishment has been had, and plays loose from the crib.

Transfer items as these, available in local department stores, that bear out the fact that bigger strides have been made in the infant and accessory lines in the past five years than in any section of department store merchandising.

"Little knitted garments" have been over into the diaper department, and wool "sockers" are to be had in soft white knits, ideal for the young miss or master, when taken but in company.

Older Youngsters

For the slightly older child, there are the crispest, most original play toys this season. Especially to the liking of the youngsters is a play suit of navy blue cotton gabardine, with a white shirt, neck pockets of Ripley-signature prints.

Boon to the mothers who in the past have had to trail the children with one hand and threaten to discipline the other, are the new garment fasteners.

These fasteners, one-piece covers, are now being closed with a new mechanical snap that is something the older child might adopt for their own clothing attire.

The covers come in solid colors, wine and royal blue being the most popular both with parents and children.

Spun rayon is the outstanding material for semi-dress attire this season. The two-piece suits for little boys coming with trousers in either long or short legs.

Health Shoes

Recommended by doctors and nurses is a line of shoes for the very young, which is carried by one sole establishment. The shoes are the soft, solid high-toppers for the infant; the "first step" shoe which has a light sole, and the "walker," with a soft, flexible sole for the child who has learned to get around on his own legs.

Another for this nationally-known line of shoes is a flexible and soft as any found in women's higher priced shoes, and all styles are available in both white and light tan. Patent are offered for the older children.

For the very young, doctors declare that the high shoes are better for the ankles.

Carriages, Too

Twin Falls furniture store operators are featuring, among other things, the latest carriages, strollers and cribs for the infant citizens.

Perhaps the most notable contribution is the folding carriage which, when not in use, can be entirely folded and thus does not take up too much space in the home. Most of the folding models are made of metal, although other plastic materials are also employed.

Second innovation so far as the carriages are concerned is in the alterable front wheels which makes it possible to turn sharp corners without employing the usual method of leading the front wheels off the ground while the turn is being made. The steering is accomplished by means of a simple arrangement on the handle of the carriage.

The Crib

Cribs offered locally at attractive prices during the week feature new models which add correct posture in babies. Other new cribs are about the same, but they have always been with the possible exception of the character including Mickey Mouse, the Tin Soldier, Peter Rabbit and many others are painted on the sides for attractive pictures. Waiting pictures, which will "teach" the babies to walk, and thus take their first steps at the same time as they are developing their leg muscles, are also offered.

For the change noted in the ever-present high chair is that the eating tray is removable, thus permitting the changing more thoroughly.

Local photographers are also co-operating in observance of the week. Some local studios are offering liberal discounts on baby pictures taken during the week while still others are featuring such discounts on combination "mother and baby" pictures.

Home offer window displays of baby pictures and all cordially invite mothers to have pictures of their babies taken, pending out that a permanent record of the baby, which will become more valuable as the years go on, is thus available.

BUS LINE TAKES DIFFERENT TITLE

With legal right to the term "Sun Valley Stage" assured for use in Idaho and Interstate commerce, J. L. Schwinn officially adopted that trade name today for the former Twin Falls-Hailey stage line.

The new name went on Mr. Schwinn's buses today and the title has been utilized for nearly seven years went into the discard.

The stage line operator negotiated through Omaha office of the Union Pacific for right to the Sun Valley designation. His stage schedule remains as before—two round trips daily from Twin Falls to Ketchum. Buses leave at 10 a. m. and 2:30 p. m., and arrive in Twin Falls at 1:30 p. m. and 5 p. m.

700,000 Visit as New York's World Fair Officially Opens

NEW YORK, May 1 (Special)—There was no direct reply to Hitler's speech, nor any reference to it. There was a suggestion, however, of refusing totalitarian claims of weakness, in democratic structure when the President said that American historians would write of "recent years that the people of every party of your land acquired a national solidarity of economic and social thought such as had never been seen before."

He recalled that democratic government had endured in the United States unchanged longer than in any other country in any line. This has been due, he said, to "our own form of government itself" and to "a spirit of wise tolerance."

He rendered "grateful thanks" to the gesture of friendship which marked the "almost spontaneous participation" of foreign governments in the fair.

The President's formal opening ended ceremonies that included a parade of 20,000 soldiers, sailors and marines, exotically costumed groups from nearly all the countries of the Americas, Asia and Europe, and the overworked workers who built the fair.

About 700,000 visitors gaped at the 100-foot trylon and the 200-foot perisphere, the theme center of the exposition housing the "city of tomorrow."

Much interest attaches to the Shoshone-Arco highway and a good crowd is assured at the all-day affair, starting at 12 noon. The program includes a welcome address by Guy McCarthy, custodian; address by F. F. Rodenbaugh, southern branch geologist; address by Frank C. Kilgore, San Francisco, regional director; address by Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen, Arco, and music by several bands.

Volcanic bombs frequently are found near active volcanoes. These objects are buried from the volcano while in a viscous state, and the rotary motion shapes them into spheres.

Bound from China to the Bronx zoo in New York, the animal in charge of Dr. A. E. Best of West China University, a passenger in the plane, Dr. Best did not know of the animal's escape until the plane landed.

ABOLITION ASKED FOR NRB BOARD

WASHINGTON, May 1 (Special)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today urged abolition of the present national labor relations board, accusing it of "dictatorial tactics" and CIO bias, and recommended establishment of a new five-member board with curtailed power.

Testifying before the senate education and labor committee on AFL-sponsored amendments to the national labor relations act, Green denounced the present members of the labor board for "distorting the act into an instrument of oppression."

He accused them of establishing precedents "whereby the so-called economic philosophy of one labor group is encouraged and sustained, while that of another is suppressed and even obliterated."

Demands Amendments

He demanded amendments to the act that would prohibit any board from alleged discrimination against the AFL-type craft union in favor of the industrial unions of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

"The abuse of power" by the board, he added, "threatens the continued existence of the smallest crafts."

He did not mention the newly nominated member of the board, Dr. William M. Leiserson, now chairman of the national mediation board, but charged that member Edwin S. Smith had influenced the other two members of the board "to support the cause of the CIO."

Green Complains

He complained, specifically, that member Donald Wakefield Smith, whom Leiserson will replace, had shown a tendency to join the other two members of the board "to support the cause of the CIO."

Gardens will Aid Shoshone Low-Pay Folk

SHOSHONE, May 1 (Special)—A movement to utilize small plots about town—and to benefit, through vegetable gardens, those families whose income is below $600 a year—has been launched here.

The project was presented by Rev. S. D. Trefen to the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary and Lions club, and the three bodies will co-operate in the plan. Dr. F. H. Howard will act as the representative of the chamber in the project, known as the Shoshone Garden club. Prizes will be given for the best showing made on the tracks.

Other nations considered were reports by Supt. H. F. Wilmouth that at the band concert held at Bush, Shoshone, one of the smallest bands was recognized as among the best. Routine business took up the major portion of the session, including report on the school basketball tourney, May 6, with Rutherford, Delirious and Shoshone participating.

Black wild spiders have been reported in all 48 states of the union.

CHAMBER LEADER MAPS RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, May 1 (UP)—Chairman John W. O'Leary of the executive committee of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce today proposed a return to government policies of 1929 to restore the national income to $40,000,000,000.

Addressing the opening session of the chamber's 27th annual meeting, O'Leary proposed a five-point program to accomplish this. He believed "word assurances" from the administration and congress of encouragement to business.

Objective of this meeting of the chamber, he said, is to develop specific corrective measures in order that the nation may have a return of business activity, providing more jobs, fewer taxes and resulting in at least an $40,000,000,000 national income.

Government statistics showed that this level was attained only once—in 1929.

He recommended the following "specific course of action":

- Remove uncertainties of the future due to government controls beyond those needed to correct abuses;
- Revise those laws which create artificial barriers to management in order to restore again to business regard and recognition of joint interests;
- Revise tax laws so as to follow the rule of revenue purposes rather than reform;
- Stop unnecessary government spending and lessen government expenditures so as to bring approach to a balanced budget with resultant confidence;
- Modify our restrictive laws so as to restore the flow of capital.

PROBE STOPPED BY RED PROTEST

WASHINGTON, May 1 (UP)—H. R. Burton, investigator for the House WPA investigating committee, testified today that a protest by the Western Alliance, backed by relief officials, prevented him from asking white collar project workers in New York whether they belonged to the Communist party.

Burton, first witness at the resumption of the inquiry, described a questionnaire he attempted to circulate among employees of the federal arts projects in New York. He said that on April 21 he brought to the committee a delegation from New York. He said the delegation protested against the questionnaire, and that David Lasser, president of the organization, made a speech in which he said that the questionnaire was designed to learn the real workers' political and labor affiliations.

Advised Not to Answer
He said the article advised workers not to answer the questionnaire. Rep. W. A. Woodrum, D. Va., brought out that on April 24 a letter was sent to the committee from New York. It said the committee was a "pious fraud" and that the questionnaire was a "pious fraud" and that the committee was a "pious fraud."

Reads Letter
Woodrum also read a letter to Chairman Edward T. Taylor, D. Colo., of the committee, in which he said that the committee was a "pious fraud" and that the questionnaire was a "pious fraud" and that the committee was a "pious fraud."

'MAN-OVER-FORTY' GETS TOP WAGES

WASHINGTON, May 1 (UP)—The social security board today said that the monthly benefit for a 40-year-old man is the highest paid under the act.

Results of the board's study, based on a survey of 1937 wage records, were revealed at the outset of "employment week," proclaimed by President Roosevelt for an industrial drive to create employment for persons over 40.

The board said, however, that the 40-65 group comprised only 38.8 per cent of the wage earners.

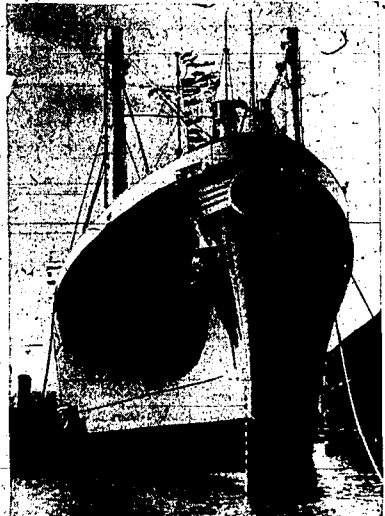

In another study, the board reported that the women average $245 annually compared to $1,021 for the men.

NICARAGUA HEAD IN U. S. ON VISIT

NEW ORLEANS, May 1 (UP)—The Hon. A. G. Griffin, president of the American Republics of Nicaragua and the party, docked here today.

The party was met by officials of the federal, state and city governments, consular attaches of the Nicaraguan government and representatives of civic organizations in New Orleans. Griffin will leave Wednesday for Washington for a conference with President Roosevelt.

"Unsinkable" Ship

Called "unsinkable," the $4,000,000 S. S. "Panama" is shown in New York prior to making her maiden voyage in the coastal service. An advanced principle of submergence design not only permits her to sit almost even with much of her hold filled with water, but restricts fire to a small area. Owned by the Panama railroad, the "safety" ship is the first of her kind.

New Farm Income Seen In Stock Feeder Effort

If a "transit" freight rate can be secured for the Twin Falls area, ranchers will receive a high volume of added income through an extensive stock feeding industry.

Crispino, Union Pacific traveling freight agent, told the Evening Times this afternoon in an interview outlining the wide scope of the newest move inaugurated by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Crispino will sketch for the chamber directors, at their next meeting, the moves already taken toward this end. He said today that the Union Pacific is now devoting its energies to securing the transit rate, and ascertained he will advise the chamber's directors not to "push too hard" until the railroad determines definitely what it can do to bring south central Idaho a new agricultural industry.

Revenue in Two Ways
"If we secure this transit rate," he said, "there would be a heavy volume of livestock coming into Twin Falls. This stock, en route to markets, would feed on what is practically waste material to many farmers now. That means a few in the industry would be revenue in two ways, for south central ranchers—the feeding income and utilization of waste materials."

Crispino, in urging Twin Falls to go slowly in its move for transit rates, cited the Union Pacific's current effort and the fact that the Junior Chamber has already asked E. W. Pettigrew, commissioner of agriculture, to use state influence with the ICC.

Crispino explained specifically what the difference in "transit" rate would mean compared to present livestock shipping costs through south Idaho.

"Present rate, for example, from the Sacramento territory to Kansas City is $1.07 per hundred pounds, with a charge of feeding in transit anywhere en route. The present rate from San Francisco, with feeding and transit at Twin Falls, and then on to Kansas City, is $1.31."

"If we are successful in obtaining feed and transit privileges at Twin Falls, the charge with a necessary five-cent 'arbitrary' rate added, would be slashed down to $1.12 per hundred by way of Twin Falls."

All such rates, he explained, are subject to a $12.65 feed and transit charge applied to all cars that feed in transit.

"The 'arbitrary' five-cent rate which would have to be added for feed, said Mr. Crispino, would be an addition of that much over the competitive rate 'with transit understanding' that the livestock would travel through Twin Falls for a period of not less than 30 days."

This provision, he said, "would protect both the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific from being short-handed promiscuously."

LAST CALL COMES TO R. A. GRAHAM

Robert A. Graham, 58, resident of Twin Falls for the past 23 years, died at his home south of Twin Falls yesterday at 10:30 a. m.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. at the Presbyterian church, Rev. G. L. Clark officiating. Interment will be in Twin Falls cemetery, under the direction of the White mortuary.

Mr. Graham was born May 29, 1880, at Belleville, Mo. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elsie C. Graham, and a daughter, Miss Marian Graham, Boise.

The following brothers and sisters also survive: A. E. Graham, T. H. Graham and William Graham, all of Twin Falls; B. F. Graham, Oklahoma; Mrs. J. S. Austin, Twin Falls, and Mrs. A. T. Adams, Grangeville. Pallbearers will be Frank Brown, Herbert Glandon, J. F. Cordes, J. A. Griffiths, W. G. Kleinkopf and George R. Ballard.

RUSTLERS

SALT LAKE CITY, May 1 (UP)—Utah authorities today were searching for a gang of men who put a new touch on the old-time western crime of rustling.

Sixty-five elk were stolen from the Hogle gardens zoo in this city. Early Sunday morning the zoo caretaker received a telephone call, purportedly from a state highway patrolman at Park City, that a gang of men had been apprehended with the animals.

The call turned out to be false but delayed pursuit while the rustlers escaped with one bull, three cows and a 7-month-old female elk calf.

Stockpens on both sides of the 200 pens had been cut and the truck driven up to the gates while the animals were loaded. Officers said they believed the rustlers were taking the animals to one of the mid-western states to be sold to another zoo.

'BABY PACIFISTS' TO APPEAL CASE

GREENFIELD, Mass., May 1 (UP)—Doerflinger's "baby pacifists" today were adjudged "habitual offenders."

"If we are successful in getting that rate to break as far west as Grande, instead of Huntington, then all stock east of LaGrande, including the productive sections of eastern Oregon would come through here. As it is now, such stock goes from Huntington to Portland and then around southward and eastward."

Portland Opposition
Strong opposition, he warned, will come from Portland livestock concerns against the south Idaho and Twin Falls effort to move the "gate-way" from Huntington to LaGrande. He said that as far as the Union Pacific itself is concerned, the move would not affect it "and might help it."

"If this could be done," he said, "the Union Pacific is for it."

As far as achieving success in that connection is concerned, Crispino asserted that "the definite answer has been received. The interstate commerce commission would be the final tribunal."

Present tariff, he explained, would permit livestock from the productive Opal and Sage, Wyo., territory to come through Twin Falls. The tariff involves that stock within a radius of 150 miles of Butte, Mont., and south, and McCammon, Ida., and west, could come through here on a transit rate. But at the present time, the shipments of stock from Sage and Opal areas are moving through McCammon, south to Ogden, then either east or west.

Market Idea
Commenting on one other Twin Falls goal which would aid ranchers of south Idaho, Crispino said the plan to make Twin Falls a "public livestock market" must wait until such time as enough movement of livestock through here would warrant it.

Designation as a public livestock market would permit ranchers to try the market, then continue to other areas if prices here were not regarded as adequate by the original shippers.

Market designation, he indicated, would probably come automatically if the other goal transit and feed-rate is achieved.

Freight Rate Hearings Set

WASHINGTON, May 1 (UP)—The interstate commerce commission today ordered hearings June 5 at Portland, Ore., on an order suspending certain proposed freight rates on petroleum products in Idaho, Oregon, Washington and Montana.

The proposed rates would reduce charges on petroleum and its products from north Pacific ports to points in Idaho, Oregon and Washington and from northern Montana to points in Idaho and Washington. The hearing will be held before Examiner H. P. Boss.

The commission suspended the rates April 8 after holding that they might injure the public interest.

Pendergast, against whom a second income tax evasion indictment was returned Saturday, headed a list of politicians and alleged racketeers who were up for arraignment on indictments returned in the last month in the biggest municipal cleanup Kansas City has known in a decade.

Judge Merrill Collins set Pendergast's case for June 12, or as soon after that date as trial can be reached.

PARKING PAY

SALT LAKE CITY, May 1 (UP)—Motorists were dropping pennies and nickels and turning heads in downtown Salt Lake today as this city's second experiment with parking pay began.

Parking meters were placed in service on all streets in the business district. The meters permit 12 minutes parking for a penny, 24 minutes for two cents, an hour for five cents and two hours for two nickels. A violation flag notifies the motorist—or a traffic officer—that time is up.

Thirty Guests Attend Taylor-Lenz Wedding

Miss Velda Lenz and Eldred Taylor, both of Twin Falls, exchanged marriage vows at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a charmingly arranged wedding at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Davis, south of the city. The reading of the first service by Rev. Mark C. Cronenberg, pastor of the first Christian church, was witnessed by 30 guests.

The bridal party stood in arranged party, double windows in the living room, during the nuptial ceremony.

Apple blossoms and tulips in profusion formed a setting of springtime loveliness for the occasion.

The young married couple were given a traditional wedding gown of white. Miss Lela Norcia, maid of honor, also wore a "cor length gown, fashioned of ophioid crepe.

C. Davis attended the bridegroom as best man.

An informal reception followed the wedding, and the dined and decorated wedding cake was served by the bride.

Most of Mrs. Taylor will be at home to their friends in a recently completed bungalow on a ranch near Twin Falls.

The young married couple of the senior class of the first ward of the latter Day Saints M. I. A. participated in a jolly scavenger hunt last week, assembling at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lenz to receive lists of objects to find.

The hunt took place in all directions, the guests being divided into teams of six. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Babbel directed the affair.

Dr. Floyd Hamm, Mrs. Edith Jacklin, Mr. and Mrs. Earl and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Whitehead were successful in tracking down the designated "lost" and were only foiled from a perfect score by failure to find a 1933 Collier's.

At the conclusion of the hunt Mr. and Mrs. Lenz served refreshments. Dr. and Mrs. O. T. Luke, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil McBride and Mr. and Mrs. Verne Yates, all members of the state M. I. A. board, were distinguished guests.

RUSSIANS READY FOR 'BIG' WAR, COMMISSAR WARNS

GIGANTIC PARADE FEATURES TANKS, AIRCRAFT LIGHTS

MOSCOW, May 1 (AP)—Russia's Red army is ready to fight a big war and will not be involved in petty adventures, Commissar Voroshilov, war commissar, warned potential aggressors today in a May day speech.

For the occasion, the army massed thousands of troops, 284 tanks and other mechanized units in a Red square, while 720 airplanes filled the sky.

Always Intrigue
"An 'extraneous' countess there is intrigue, blackmail and treachery," Voroshilov said. "Only the Soviet country is acting for peace against the war mongers."

"Only the Soviet people are tranquil because they know they can defend their country," he said. "The Red army is for peace, does not threaten anyone and never has threatened anyone, except those who dare to attack us."

Love to Fight
"Our people know the Red army is not to be dragged into petty adventures but is fully prepared for a big war," Voroshilov declared. "We not only know how to fight, but love to fight."

The parade included 30 anti-aircraft searchlights and anti-tank guns of various calibers. Several new types of planes were represented in the aerial display.

About 1,500,000 people followed the troops through the square.

PUERTO RICO IN NEW WAR ZONE

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—The war department today designated Puerto Rico as a separate military district, similar to that of the Panama canal zone, as a first step toward strengthening the canal's outlying defenses.

It is proposed to establish an air base in Puerto Rico, and to make the chain of islands bordering the Caribbean a sort of "backwater" to protect the Caribbean and all Atlantic approaches to the canal.

Secretary of War Harry H. Woodring announced that, at the direction of President Roosevelt, he will issue orders establishing the new military district, effective July 1. It will be commanded by Brig. Gen. Edmund L. Daley.

With the new setup Puerto Rico will assume a military rating similar to that of Panama, Hawaii, the Philippine Islands, and the nine corps areas in the United States.

Auto Damages

Judgment decreeing C. D. Thompson must pay $75 for damages to the motor car owned by J. N. Weaver had been signed in probate court today by Judge C. A. Bailey after non-jury trial Saturday. Weaver was granted full total of his original claim, made as result of a collision Jan. 30 in Twin Falls.

Dispelling the Fog

By CHARLES MICHELSON
Director of Publicity, Democratic National Committee

According to the anti-administration press and those columnists who are hostile to the Roosevelt policies, the dominant thought of the country is not—on whether there will be peace or war in Europe or what is required to effect a business upturn, but what is important is to convince the people that the President is always wrong.

He sent a message to the European dictators the other day suggesting an international conference as an effort to relieve the world of the fear of a "universal war," the purpose immediately aimed at being the guarantee by agreement of peace for ten years. During this time all international controversies could be discussed and perhaps composed around the council-table. He was promptly accused by one branch of his political foes of involving us in foreign entanglements, particularly by his offer to transmit to the governments the dictators' reply to the request that they give assurance that their armed forces will not invade the territories of independent nations.

Extreme pacifists even hail the preparedness program as provocation for war sentiment. Mr. Hamilton Fish, who doesn't classify as a pacifist, insists that the President is trying to create a war hysteria. Mr. Fish being the Republican leader in the house of representatives.

War Mongering and Politics
So we have the President being a war monger because he suggests a treaty of 10 or 20 years. If he hadn't sent such a message, we would undoubtedly have heard from Congressmen Fish and various others of the opposition that he was letting the world, including us, drift into war without any effort to prevent it. With all Europe lining up in two opposition camps, mobilizing armies, and making every other possible preparation for hostilities, our own people are so nearly excluded at the possibility of a great war. Every newspaper in the country has had nothing but war news on its front pages for months.

Every large business is taking heed of the possible eventuality in arranging its plans. We are engaging in improving and increasing all our armed forces on the sea, in the air, and in the land. From these circumstances, it might be deduced that the citizens of the United States were considering the possibility, if not the likelihood, of a beginning of the shooting but to judge by the comments of the anti-administration columnists, particularly those catering to Republican newspapers.

Enchanting Alliances

Presumably this country knows if we can make a good friend and who our foe. It might not be high diplomacy, but it is certainly common sense, to avoid the possible enemies with which to fight us. If happily the war clouds blow over, and the world settles down to something approaching what it was before Herr Hitler started his annexation of whatever he thought would be useful, it can make no difference that certain nations have been permitted access to our products, while others were refused.

Of course, there is the question of "entangling alliances." That terrifying phrase is in nearly every newspaper. Well, it was an entangling alliance when the French fleet participated in the battle of Yorktown, which gave us our independence. It was an entangling alliance when President Jackson notified France that if she did not sell us Louisiana, we might marry the British fleet.

Those were real entanglements. Nothing of the sort is involved when we say to nations that we are willing to trade with any nation that can come to our markets, and undertake their own deliveries. Nobody thought of using the phrase when Italy was buying American mules for use when she was gobbling Abyssinia or when Japan was purchasing supplies that she needed for the setting up of Manchukuo.

Neutrality is another vital topic on which the President is being misaligned. The present neutrality law is not working as Americans think it should be working and there are numerous movements to define our policy in regard to what should be done in the event of war or in the face of a threat of war in regard to our permitting or preventing the belligerent nations from buying supplies over here. So the President is being assailed because a French representative was permitted on a test flight on a plane, the property of an airplane manufacturing company which was dicker with France for the sale of a large number of these planes. Of course, even the critics are forced to concede, reluctantly, that there was nothing illegal about the presence here of this French official. They simply wanted to convey the impression to the public that it was illegal without actually saying so.

The existing neutrality law is commonly recognized as a sincere effort to keep America out of armed combat in which it might be dragged in part, yet no one contends that it has worked out well in the case of current or recent wars. Yet, when it is proposed to give the President some authority to differentiate in these purchases or, to put it bluntly, to be able to avoid selling supplies to

Bridges Disturbed

It appears to these commentators that the chief executive of our country should make believe that he is oblivious to a possibility of which the entire world is cognizant.

Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, among others, was much disturbed at the President's utterance and took him to task for it on the senate floor.

Incidentally, a Presidential speech is being included in Senator Bridges' behalf. I find in my mail this morning a couple of postal cards, illustrated with G.O.P. elephants and proclaiming that Styles Bridges, with a "sterling record of achievement," is "the logical choice for President."

"The man to lead us to victory in 1940."

Ex-President Hoover is likewise very much distressed at the President's course. But, though he has made speeches on the subject and his name appears over magazine articles on all these words to what he would really like the President to do, or what he would do under existing conditions if he were in the White House.

Neutrality is another vital topic on which the President is being misaligned. The present neutrality law is not working as Americans think it should be working and there are numerous movements to define our policy in regard to what should be done in the event of war or in the face of a threat of war in regard to our permitting or preventing the belligerent nations from buying supplies over here. ## Hunter Fined for Pheasant Killing

Fine of $25 and costs, plus confiscation of a 22 caliber rifle, was decreed against O. B. Landreth, Bull, by Justice R. H. Stewart after Landreth pleaded guilty to killing pheasants out of season.

Complaint was filed with the Bull Justice of the peace by Grover C. Davis, district deputy game warden.

More than $97,000 was taken from mail by the dead letter office last year.

IRWIN CONVICTED ON VICE CHARGE

SALT LAKE CITY, May 1 (AP)—Ex-Mayor E. B. Irwin of Salt Lake City today stood convicted of conspiracy to permit vice during his time in office.

A jury late Saturday returned verdicts of guilty against Irwin and two co-defendants. Former Chief of Police Harry L. Finch and R. O. Pearce, a Salt Lake City attorney.

The charge of which the defendants were convicted was an indictable misdemeanor count, resulting from a Salt Lake county grand jury probe of alleged gambling and prostitution.

Defense attorneys indicate they would probably appeal the convictions. A maximum jail sentence of one year or a fine of $1,000 may be given the convicted defendants by District Judge Oscar W. McKenney. Sentence will be pronounced Saturday.

A fourth defendant, Ex-Police Captain Frank A. Thacker, was acquitted by the jury of the same charge.

Erwin and Pearce, acquitted earlier of a charge brought against them by one grand jury indictment, still free trial on a third. Other cases resulting from the grand jury investigation are still pending.

The jury recommended leniency for Pearce but made no recommendation for Irwin and Finch.

RICHFIELD

A benefit card party was given by the Eastern Star Wednesday at the Masonic hall. Honors were awarded Mrs. Charles McKay and Billy Flannery. The committee in charge was Mrs. Frank Pope, Mrs. Mildred Priddy and Mrs. Orrin Babb.

A girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Giles Friday. She has been named Annette.

Mrs. Fred Powell and Mrs. Ida Fletcher gave a bridge luncheon last week in honor of Mrs. Owen Youngkin and Mrs. Ruth Supan who are leaving soon for Lewiston, Idaho, after a brief stay.

Honors were awarded to Mrs. Charles McKay and Mrs. Orrin Babb. Each honor guest received a gift.

Richard Reed and Teiburn Johnson won the junior and senior divisions of the marble tournament sponsored by the Shoshone Lions club last week. Calvin Hawk was the Richfield marble coach.

Mrs. Fred and Mr. and Mrs. Allen, have gone to California. They plan to see the world's fair while there.

Shoshone and Richfield Epworth league members were joint hosts to the sub-district rally at Richfield last week. Bridges-These, Wendell, Hagerman, Fairfield, Gooding and Hill City were represented.

According to an old custom, the Shoshone tribe is called over the threshold of her new home and met on the other side by the groom's mother, who breaks a current bun or a bride's head. A bad omen is considered unlucky.

ROPER NAMED AS CANADIAN ENVOY

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—President Roosevelt today nominated former Secretary of Commerce Daniel G. Roper to be United States minister to Canada.

His nomination, as envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary, was sent to the senate for confirmation. Roper would fill a post that has been vacant since former U. S. Minister to Canada Norman Armour was transferred to Chile.

Roper, secretary of commerce since the beginning of the New Deal, resigned from the cabinet last December, explaining he desired to return to private life to take over management of his family's business. He was succeeded as secretary of commerce by former Works Progress Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

Nomination of a minister to Canada will give the United States official representation at the Canadian capital at the arrival of King George and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain.

Roper, 72, has held official positions in the federal government for approximately a quarter of a century.

Stars Assert Independence As Flicker Town Grows Up

By PAUL HARRISON
(INEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD—It isn't the same old Hollywood these days. It isn't a new one, either. It's a Hollywood in transition and confusion and reevaluation. Stars are falling, standards changing, horizons broadening.

The colony and the industry now are aware that the San Fernando valley, Palm Springs, Del Mar race track, and Santa Monica are not the four corners of the earth.

You hear radical and reactionary talk, all very delicate and most of it bitter. You meet flag-wavers and censors of all the "isms." You find a new degree of social independence that challenges belief.

The only assurance that you are still in Hollywood are the activities of a few groups who still believe in movie people as supposed to behave.

The Schenck-Zanuck-Connie Bennett-Countess Di Prasso crowd still gathers to gamble for high stakes. Another gang plays games. They do these "Who am I?" charades and have elaborate bending contests in their basement bars. And then there are the people who talk about pictures. Here is an example:

Basil and Olga Benjoni... she's Hollywood's first hostess... garnishes parties with famous people... leads move for social independence.

Cinema Conversations

Thomas Mann, Nobel prize winner and expatriate from Germany, was the guest of honor at a large Hollywood party recently. Producers, directors, writers and stars, liberals, conservatives, artists and dollar-minded filmgoers flocked in.

During dinner there was just a lot of guest-to-guest chatter. Immediately afterward Dr. Mann found himself surrounded by a little group of Hollywooders. They didn't ask questions; they talked. They told him all about the picture business—with gestures.

Other guests, who would have liked to have heard what the guest author had to say, stood around and gazed. Dr. Mann's remarks, however, were confined to "Yes," "No" and "Ah-h-h." After two hours he was wide of breakfast that he had had a very interesting evening.

Which was probably true.

The incident shows that Hollywood's controlling ego is still self-centered, but that it now is in the minority. To learn what the plumb line of moviedom is saying and thinking, I sought out Olga Benjoni, who is Hollywood's first hostess and a cosmopolitan.

She also is Mrs. Basil Rathbone. Her parties are absolutely tops in this town, not so much because they are great, but because she invariably garnishes them with famous musicians, authors, scientists, statesmen, dignitaries and such. Her guests seem to have fun.

Not Grown but Growing

While being pretty selective about it, she really likes Hollywood. "It's possible to have more interesting party here than anywhere else in the world," she says.

She came to Hollywood, too, from away back. For seven years she was head of the Paramount scenario department. She hated the town then everything from the climate and the Metro-Goldwyn-Spanish architecture to the dull and rosy parties.

After an interval in New York and Europe and her marriage to Rathbone, she returned to Flicker town with mingling and found that it had grown up. Or at least that it was attracting grown-up, intellectual people.

Sometimes it's very discouraging. Mrs. Benjoni told about another recent party at which the hostess had difficulty persuading away to the Chamberlain and a Edna. Most of them protested that they couldn't possibly discuss world affairs.

Niara Hampede

"And for a party I gave the other night," Mrs. Rathbone said, "I thought I'd like to put a real flamboyant next to Arthur Rubenstein. But the ones I approached refused the honor. So finally I had to get a stage actress, Rita Glen."

"Too many Hollywood people like to be around celebrities but not with them. They'll situate to see 'Hollywood' or to distinguished outsiders and then drift off by themselves and talk about pictures."

Olga declares there's nothing in this town even to approximate Manhattan "safe society."

The famed Twentieth to stick, too, in its insular strikingly emphasizes the extent to which the screen colony has gone socially independent, because for years was "TLC" spot where everybody had to be seen at least once a week.

Karl Lauder's glittering new nightery, with a girls' revue calculated to impress even beautified women, is patronized almost exclusively by the film stars who sit around and nibble each other for flicker celebrities.

Cutting Capers

The smaller night clubs are bounding again. Grace Hayes' lodge (she's the former vaudeville queen) is chucking every night, and talented customers take over wherever the late entertainers pause for breath.

Naples Makie Rosenblum Institute, his customers and minkies "out like it," and Monte Brown's La Corgie is a crowded temple of the rumba. Here you are all the silly, jolly, glib cuties such as Ann Sheridan, Jane Wymann and Lana Turner.

Of course, Hollywood's hostess-crazy and everybody else. Fashionable studio heads have tried to curtail the snubbing fever without much success because, after all, the houses own a lot of the horses.

As for snubbing, the Flicker club still is running full blast in service defiance of a purge announced by local purists.

Next: Star system crashes.

HIG MAN, LITTLE HAINCUT (COLUMBUS, B. O. 4th—W. R. Group, 5 foot 3 inch poleman who weighs 242 pounds, saved a dime when he demanded a 25-cent children's haircut. The barber agreed to the deal but only after Clague consented to sit in the children's chair.

BRITAIN, FRANCE WILL FIGHT FOR POLAND, SAYS SPOKESMAN

ENGLAND PUSHES NEGOTIATIONS ON BIG PEACE FRONT

LONDON, May 1 (UP)—A British government spokesman declared today that "if Poland fights, Britain and France will fight too."

It was confirmed officially that the British ambassador to Warsaw, Sir Howard Kennard, in discussing Adolf Hitler's recent speech on Saturday with Foreign Minister Josef Beck of Poland, stressed that Britain is ready to support Poland with all her armed forces "if Poland resists a threat against her independence."

One other significant move was made to ward off any attempt to attempt to divide the Polish corridor of force. The foreign office promptly disassociated the British government from a Sunday night radio broadcast from Paris, carried by the British Broadcasting Co., describing France as unwilling to fight for Danzig. It was understood the Polish embassy is reporting to Warsaw on the matter, which may have a further diplomatic sequel.

Negotiations Pushed

Britain, meanwhile, pushed negotiations to bring Russia and Turkey into a closely interlocked "peace front" and prepared a national conscription bill to be put through parliament on an emergency basis.

Negotiations now proceeding in London, Paris, Moscow, Warsaw and Istanbul gave British leaders hope of an eventual "peace front" of 12 active and four passive members, with Great Britain, France, Russia, Poland and Turkey the keystone nations.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told a questioner in the House of Commons that British-Soviet negotiations are "being conducted with the utmost dispatch" and confirmed that proposals had been received from the Soviets.

Other Considerations

Chamberlain replied to a shower of questions from Laborites, including Maj. Clement R. Attlee, their leader, who demanded to know "why there is such long delay in this matter?"

Chamberlain hinted that Polish and Rumanian reluctance to accept Soviet help was one of the difficulties and added:

"It is not a simple matter and one in which other governments have to be considered."

Chamberlain introduced the conscription bill, which was given its first reading. The second reading will be on Thursday.

It was proposed to debate the bill in the commons Thursday and read it rapidly through to a final vote so that it will become law early next week and permit calling the first contingent of drafted men to the colors in mid-May.

QUARANTINE PUT ON ADDED CROPS

BOISE, May 1 (UP)—Four new quarantines and revision of existing quarantines were announced today by Agricultural Commissioner E. N. Pettigrove after approval by Gov. O. A. Bottolfsen.

The new quarantines were against vetch weevil, peach mosaic, satin moth and phony peach. The quarantine revisions were mostly relaxation of restrictions to conform with other states and avoid creation of artificial trade barriers.

North Idaho was protected from alfalfa weevil which infested counties south of Lemhi and Idaho county. Potato tuber moth territory was revised to allow potatoes to enter under field plus car inspection whereas fumigation formerly was required.

Benevolence and Latah counties retained quarantine for cherry fruit, but regulations were relaxed to allow sterilized big boxes to move from the infested territory.

Paul Kreft's Odd Ad Wins Ticket Award

Paul Kreft of Twin Falls had been awarded fourth Orpheum theater tickets today as the result of judges selecting a classified ad he inserted in local papers as the most unique during the observance of National Want Ad week.

The "sweepstakes" winner, who resides at 153 Austin street, inserted the following ad:

"Wanted: Truck load sawdust from Payette on return trip. Ph. 1071."

He got what he wanted, too.

In a contest among business office employees of the Idaho Evening Times and the Twin Falls News, two sisters ran away with first and second prize money by taking the largest number of orders for classified ads during the week. In first place was Miss Helen Grayes while close behind was Miss Josephine Groves. Both received cash awards.

It has been estimated that to cover the 3,000,000 miles of highways in the United States, a motorist would have to drive at an average speed of 40 miles an hour 8 hours a day for 26 years.
