Conciliators Battle to End Harlan Coal Strife

CONTRACT SIGNED WITH BIGGEST OF MINE OPERATORS

HARLAN, Ky., May 19 (AP)—Federal and state conciliators made independent efforts to end the mine labor dispute in Harlan county today. They were hopeful because the county's largest operator signed a new contract with the United Mine Workers, cracking the operators' "solid front."

The United States Coal and Coke company signed the contract with John L. Lewis' union last night. It did not include the union shop which all operators in the Appalachian district except those in Harlan county have granted the union, but neither did it contain penalty clauses for unauthorized strikes.

Agreement Extended The union in the long-drawn-out negotiations in New York demanded either the union shop or elimination of the penalty clauses in the previous contract.

The new contract was extended for two years the agreement covering 3,000 miners employed by the company which expired April 1, when the Harlan strike began. The company is not a member of the Harlan operators' association, a subsidiary of U. S. Steel corporation, union policy allowed either a union shop contract or agreement containing no penalty clauses in a subsidiary of U. S. Steel corporation.

England Makes New Gesture For Peace Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, discussing foreign policy in the house of commons, switched suddenly to a modified version of his previous appeasement program by declaring that Britain was ready to make concessions for permanent peace if Germany would renounce the use of force in a way that would convince the world of her sincerity.

Not Much Hope The prime minister obviously didn't have much hope of immediate results, although the recent decrease in tension between Poland and Germany, coupled with a sudden reversal of tone in declarations from Italy, had served to encourage the more optimistic British leaders to believe that prospects for peace were improving.

The statement was issued after a meeting of the British cabinet in London, at which it was decided that the British government would use force to suppress any further Jewish riots in Palestine.

The statement said that the British government was determined to maintain its policy in Palestine, and that it would use force to suppress any further Jewish riots in Palestine.

These reports went to a select list of about 40 persons, many of whom are American Legion officials and retired army officers. MEMORIAL RITES PLANNED MAY 30

Members of the local post of the American Legion will cooperate with members of the Grand Army of the Republic in staging a parade and cemetery ceremony on Memorial day, May 30. It was announced here this afternoon by R. V. Jones, post commander.

Preliminary plans call for a parade in the downtown section in the morning with various civic and patriotic groups taking part. The parade will move to the Twin Falls cemetery where services will be held, featuring a speaker yet to be named. John Thorpe will be in charge of Legion activities for the day.

Graves of all former soldiers will be decorated with American flags prior to the ceremonies, Jones said. Completed plans will be announced at a later date.

Other patriotic groups, including the Disabled American Veterans and War Mothers, have already made plans for participation in the Memorial day rites.

Under Strict Guard

All government buildings were put under strict guard today after riotous Jewish city and rural real estate owners agreed they would not pay either government or municipal taxes so long as the British program remained in effect.

This appeared to be the first step in a campaign of non-cooperation which has been used frequently against Great Britain in India and other eastern regions.

Immigration Problem

Another method of opposing the British policy, which restricts immigration to Palestine, probably will be organization of illegal means of entry. A Greek schooner carrying 308 illegal Jewish immigrants due to arrive Wednesday was delayed because it had to be searched by patrolling the coast. The schooner finally was caught by a military patrol while landing its passengers. The British harbor of Achna, south of Tel-Aviv.

The immigrants, mostly refugees from Russia, marched down the beach carrying their belongings to a military post converted into a concentration camp.

Since the government had declared that any discovered illegal immigration would be deducted from the number of authorized immigrants, the captives expect to be in considerable bitterness in Palestine, already tense as a result of yesterday's riots.

2 REORGANIZING MEASURES PASS

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP)—The senate today approved without objection a joint resolution making President Roosevelt's two government reorganization plans effective July 1.

The resolution, offered by Chairman James P. Byrnes, D. C., of the government reorganization committee, was passed without objection upon call of the senate calendar.

Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., pointed out the early date was desirable because the government fiscal year begins July 1.

Under the reorganization act, a 60-day waiting period is provided before the executive orders become law, unless disapproved by both houses of congress. Each already has been approved by one house, precluding any further negative action.

Senate Minority Leader Charles L. McNary, R. Ore., agreed to the resolution.

Under the 60-day waiting period, the first plan would have become effective June 25 and the second plan July 1.

Headquarters for the sale will be maintained in the Perrine hotel lobby, according to Mayor Koehler, who is chairman of the sale for the local post. Mrs. Robert Sept will supervise sales, which will be made by members of the post.

The VFW poppy is copyrighted by the government and is made by disabled veterans in government hospitals who are compensated for their work. The poppies are purchased by the local post at $45 a thousand of the $45 paid in that many flowers.

The poppies are made and then the balance goes to the national headquarters of the VFW, 1300 East Main, Detroit, Mich. All funds taken in above the cost of $45 a thousand go to the local post.

The VFW of the United States, the mayor said, is organized primarily in behalf of comrades disabled in war, and of the dependent families, or of the widows and orphans of veterans who died.

The program of the VFW, local headquarters, is to give tribute to the men who have risked their lives in the nation's hour of need.

Although originally scheduled to be heard before Municipal Judge J. O. Humphrey, John Drake, 210 Blue Lakes Boulevard, Judge C. A. Bailey today shifted the case to the afternoon session.

Drake is charged with reckless driving as a result of an automobile accident at Seventh avenue north and Shoshone street last yesterday afternoon. It is possible that the youth will face a state charge of operating a motor vehicle without a driver's license.

The Drake machine, a police report shows, crashed into the rear of another car driven by Julius W. Goetzten, route two, Twin Falls. The Goetzten car had slowed for a stop sign and was at a dead stop when struck. The Drake machine, measurements showed, added 30 feet before crashing into the other car.

Neither car was seriously damaged. Drake's case was to be heard late this afternoon.

BRITAIN READY TO MAKE CONCESSIONS TO AVOID WAR

LEADER DEMANDS NON-AGGRESSION NAZI ASSURANCE

By FREDERICK KUB
LONDON, May 19 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today that Great Britain was ready to make concessions for permanent peace if Germany would renounce the use of force and convince Britain that she would not resort to aggression against other nations.

Defending his course in a full dress debate on foreign affairs, Chamberlain said that concessions could be discussed only when the certainty existed that aggressive designs had been renounced.

But, he added, other people did not trust Germany's professions of peaceful intentions.

"That is a position which has been brought about by the German government themselves," Chamberlain strongly defended the government's attitude toward negotiations to bring Soviet Russia into the European anti-aggression front, asserting that Britain was fully aware of the importance of such a move and desiring that a reciprocal agreement with Moscow was the intention of the cabinet.

Favored Soviet
"If there was inequality between the two states in these proposals," he said of Britain's plan for the Soviets to join Britain and France in pledges to Poland and Rumania, "it was inequality in favor of the Soviet government."

Chamberlain faced a house whose Labor and Liberal members, and many of whom Conservatives demanded that he make an agreement at once to bring Soviet Russia fully into its "security front."

As he spoke, the Russian ambassador had just visited the foreign office to deliver his government's rejection of Britain's latest proposals.

David Lloyd George, Liberal leader and war time minister, opened the debate. He said of the Russian situation:

"For months we have been staring this powerful gift horse in the mouth. . . . What is the good of this political snobbery which only wants help from the proletariat provided we do not rub shoulders with them?"

Maj. Clement Attlee, Labor party leader, supported Lloyd George.

Then Chamberlain opened for the government.

Great Britain, he said, was not willing to buy peace by some concession which would only lead to further demands.

"That does not mean that we refuse to discuss matters by which the reasonable aspirations of other nations could be satisfied," he said, "even though it means some adjustment of the existing state of things."

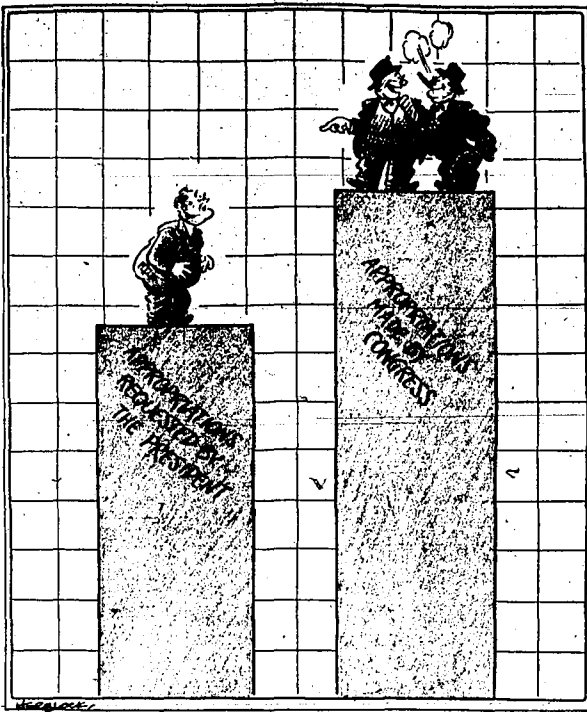

There are many concessions which might be made if one could be quite certain that those concessions would be used only for the purpose for which they were given and not to bolster up some strategic aim."

Emphasizing on his implied invitation to Germany to renounce the use of force, Chamberlain continued:

Serks Convinced
"I can therefore say that if we could have such a renunciation, if we could have a conviction that there was no intention of aggression or use of force or threat of force in the relations of Germany and other countries, then the right honorable gentleman in Lloyd George would find we should not be backward in stating what in our view are the lines on which we could discuss terms for permanent peace."

Chamberlain said Germany's annexation of the Czech country undermined faith in German assurances and created a feeling that no

"We Sure Made Him Economize, Didn't We?"

small state was safe against Germany.

"It seems to the British government," he added, "that unless some new stabilizing factor could be introduced the dissolution of a large part of Europe might be inevitable."

Therefore, he said, Britain and France speedily guaranteed Poland, Rumania and Greece as a first aid measure and thereafter sought a permanent arrangement by enlisting other powers.

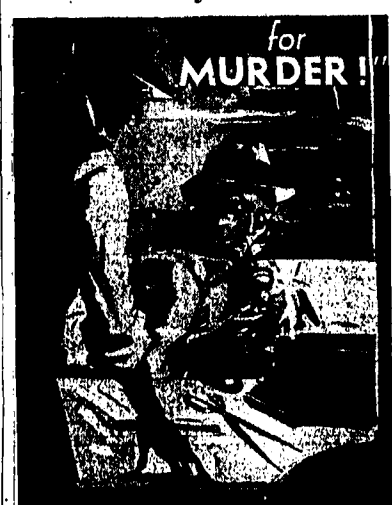

"This policy was not a policy of lining up opposing blocs of powers animated by hostile intentions and accepting the view that war was inevitable," he said. "I shall never regard war as inevitable until it has begun."

Grandsons Act as Bearers at Rites

EDEN, May 19 (Special)—Funeral services for Arba P. Hogue were held Tuesday at the Presbyterian church, with Rev. Hawley, Presbyterian minister, delivering the address, assisted by Rev. The profusion of flowers and the large audience indicated high esteem he held in the community.

"Pill bearers" were Wayne Hogue, Maurice Reid, Robert Hogue, Ronald Metcalf, Harry Hogue and a Brown Hogue, all grandsons of Mr. Hogue.

BOTT SEEKING TO RUSH SPAN DEAL

Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen, stopping in Twin Falls briefly last night en route to Kimberly where he spoke at commencement exercises, said he was "putting forth every effort" to rush forward the purchase of the Twin Falls-Jerome intercounty bridge by the state.

He said a copy of a federal law, through which the state may be aided in purchase of the structure, had been received from Cong. Henry C. Dworshak and that it was being studied at the present time.

The law, which was to have become effective on July 1 of this year, has been continued for another two years. To be eligible for aid the bridge to be purchased and made toll-free must have been completed after March 3, 1927. The local bridge was completed seven months later. Under terms of the law the state would not receive cash to aid in the purchase but would receive a credit on the books of the bureau of public roads. This amount could then be used in matching federal aid funds for highway construction.

Provisional to purchase the bridge were made at the last state legislature which authorized a $500,000 bond issue to be retired by a tenth-of-a-cent tax on gasoline. This tax is now in effect.

The governor heads a five-man committee named to negotiate for the span purchase.

Duncan, McD. Johnston, former mayor of Twin Falls, is instructing a class of prisoners at the state penitentiary in mechanical drawing. It was announced here today by his attorney after the latter returned from a Boise visit.

The mechanical drawing class is held half a day each day, the attorney said.

Johnston, convicted of murder and serving a life sentence, expects to be vindicated as a result of his appeal for a new trial, the attorney said. Completion of the transcript of the trial, held last December, is nearing after District Judge James W. Porter granted several extensions of time.

The ex-mayor was found guilty of the murder of George L. Olson, Salt Lake City jewelry salesman.

Dear Pot Shots:
According to the Boise Statesman headline of May 17, "King Will Eat
3 Americans in Sweden."

Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain are dined by the President and Mrs.
Roosevelt in June.

Just how are they going to determine the number of betes the king will eat? Is this a new government project, a sort of "forced feeding" campaign to help the farmers?

Of course, in time, if every visitor to Washington was obliged to eat three betes, it might have some effect on the farmers' bank account.

But suppose that King George VI.
by the time he has eaten clam, oyster, and cranberry sauce, decides that of flowers, mushroom and wine pigeon and cranberry sauce, decides that one and one-half betes are sufficient?

Will war on Great Britain be declared by these United States?

SERIAL STORY BORDER ADVENTURE

BY OREN ARNOLD
COPYRIGHT, 1939, MAX SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday the Border Patrol never set to catch Barro. But Barro would not let the radio station for word. Then suddenly she travels and talks to him.

CHAPTER XXIX

SHERIDAN STARR was young.
But he and Hope Kildare had been assigned many weeks earlier to "get" Luis Barro, and so on this night the district chief ordered Sheridan to take full command, directing even the older officers. It was not an unusual situation.

"You gentlemen understand that this is not likely to be easy," young Sheridan Starr of the United States Border Patrol was saying. "It is practically certain that we shall have to fight."

"Naturally," said a fellow officer, one of 35 men assembled.
"We are almost certain they'll be at New Channel Crossing within the next three or four hours.
We have inside information about that. We were signalled that the cavalcade had already started. But on horseback, Barro's force necessarily will move much more slowly than we have moved in cars. He does not even have a road."

"Have any idea about how many of them to expect, Mr. Starr?" one man, a veteran in the service, asked.
"Yes, sir, a hundred at least,
perhaps a few more."

"That's what I'm trying to make clear. It isn't just a case of our stepping out to say 'Hands up, or a case where two or three allies decide to shoot a little and we have to beat down their ears. This almost surely will amount to a battle, with the numerical odds against us three to one, so here's my idea of how to do it, and I've been thinking about it two miles down the river from this point where we are now. If we go any closer in cars, or even on foot, we stand a good chance of being seen by Barro's spies on this side. If spies do see us, they'll darn sure signal across to Barro. Now, Barro probably will be bold enough with 100 armed men to try to force his way over anyhow, and then again he might not be. He's tricky. So we can't just go to our side of New Channel Crossing and wait for him, you see?"

"Barro would not let the radio station
for word. Then suddenly she
travels and talks to him."

"Well, the river isn't more than neck deep anywhere along here, at least during the night. There are willows growing, and some rocks, along the shore. I think we can get right in the water about half a mile from the shore, stream—clinging near the American shore—and come out of the water there where the river flows up its old channel and made a new one. Understand?"

"There's quite a bit of brush, larger rocks, and such stuff on New Channel Island proper," one man remarked then. "Barro's men would be protected there in event of fighting. On our side of the river the land has been cleared and left clean for quite a ways."

"That's why I say we have to go a little closer to the shore. Now here's the point—"

"This night had been favorable to the smugglers at 8 p. m., and Luis Barro had observed that with satisfaction. Most of the sky was clouded, and when the earth did catch a glimpse of its moon, the shine only as a negligible curved line.

"But by 10 o'clock nature had diabolically joined the American forces. Barro noted, curving clouds had settled down beyond the mountains as if to sleep the night through. Star had been catching a glimpse of the moon at the ground level had disappeared.
"No matter," he snapped at Colonel Ken. "We'll wait for the moon. No matter it was full moon, even. We have strength tonight. We send the estranged over as planned, as they are across the river. The river now is eastward a short distance."

"Barro was keenly alert. His eyes had scanned points beyond the Grand in America for at least half an hour. He was waiting for any light signal of warning that his spies might give, but he had seen none. He approached the water edge with field glasses trained. Anxious riders started into the water at once. Elation swelled in Barro. The American spies had been waiting for at least a mile in each direction. His allies could cross unmolested. Barro smiled.

"In that moment a rifle shot rang across the clear night air along the river. "ALTO!" Los federals awoke. "Los federals aquil ALTO!"

"The shot, and the formal command to halt, came not from in front of the allies, but from three positions behind them.

IT'S PLAGUE YEAR
FOR NEW YORKERS

If you remember "How to Lose
Your Mind in New York" you have some idea of the hilarious dilemma awaiting you in Irving D.
Mallory's newest book, "With

Mind is given below.

The roads leading in and out of New York City will probably see the greatest mass movement in history this year. It will not be alone because of the 1939 expected to be the World's Fair. It will be just as much the New Yorkers who are fleeing the city to escape the outbreak of the epidemic in on them to room and board.

Every person in New York is faced by the same problem. It is nothing new. It is a problem of overnight epidemic during 1939.

Cost of Carelessness

We usually think of safety campaigns in terms of the human lives and the human suffering involved.
That is natural enough, and right enough, for they are the first consideration.

But there is another side to it, and one not usually so easily grasped. That is the tremendous economic loss involved. More than 100,000 people are killed, and 375,000 crippled for life every year, and the annual economic loss is not less than three billion dollars, according to D. D. Fennell, president of the National Safety council.

It is a heavy toll. Every step taken to cut down accidents not only saves lives and misery, but saves a loss that is a tremendous drain on the economic machinery of the country. Multiply by thousands the dislocations, interruptions, and costs that come to a single plant by an accident, and the picture clears.
Progress in safety is being made. Cooperation and watchfulness can increase that progress in 1939.

Health Over Education

For many years the chief beneficiary of the huge funds now distributed by American philanthropic foundations has been education. The vast benefactions of Carnegie and Rockefeller money in this field helped maintain education in the lead.

Now of the $38,500,000 in grants now being made annually by foundations, medicine and public health outrank even education.

This emphasizes the eager hope with which men turn today to research, as once they turned to religion, and later to political revolution, for salvation.

Most of these medical and public health grants are in the physical and biological sciences where men hope to learn new truths that will help them to fight old evils not on the surface, but at the source.

Industry, the social sciences, government itself, turn today to the laboratory with all the hope they have for a better world.

Master of Appeasement

Some of our somewhat shaken faith in Neville Chamberlain as the master of appeasement rose a little when we read the deft and gracious words in which he referred to his wife at a recent women's conference they attended.

CHINESE REPORT WINNING OF GREAT WAR BATTLE

4,000 JAPANESE KILLED IN HUGE NORTHERN FIGHT

SHANGHAI, May 19 (AP)—Chinese troops have recaptured Tung-ping, north of the Yangtze river, killing 4,000 Japanese troops in their second biggest victory of the Chinese-Japanese war, Chinese dispatches asserted today.

Tung-ping is on the border of Honan and Hupeh provinces, 140 miles northwest of Hankow.

Fight had been proceeding in the area for some time.

According to the Chinese dispatches, Chinese stormed the Japanese lines and captured the city after 48 hours of hand to hand fighting in the suburbs and the city streets.

Chinese troops pursued fleeing Japanese remnants and recaptured a number of villages in the area, according to the Chinese reports.

The Chinese asserted it was their biggest victory since the battle of Tientsin, in the Szechwan area, early in the war.

United States marines and British soldiers aided police today in blocking off various parts of the international settlement with street barricades and raiding Chinese hotels and homes in search of Chinese "terrorists."

Raid Ordered

The raids, ordered by settlement authorities, were intended to remove any basis for Japanese complaints that anti-Japanese elements were being permitted to operate freely under the protection of foreign authority.

The American Post Mercury company, which published the Chinese language Sun-Si-Pao, asked the American consulate general to protest to French concession authorities against the confiscation of today's issue of the paper, and requested damages.

Edgar Rice Burroughs, who created a major industry based upon adventures of his mythical ape man, informed unauthorized persons, including prize fighters, wrestlers, pro football players, that they're making a bad cut of the original Tarzan. He said they'd have to change their names or face the consequences.

Burroughs said the only man in the world authorized to call himself Tarzan was Johnny Weissmuller, for whom Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has paid the proper fee and who actually lived in the movies like Tarzan ought to look.

William Bortan, who hated movie stars so passionately that he burglarized their homes and in four years obtained $200,000 in cash and valuables, has been sentenced to life imprisonment. Police knew Bortan as Ralph Grabash, "Rabbit of Bel-Air," who preyed upon the homes of Carole Lombard, Clark Gable, Tyrone Power, Barbara Stanwick, Fannie Brice and Gary Cooper.

Johnny "Scat" Davis, movie actor and singer, is father of a 7-pound 3-ounce girl, born to Mrs. Martha Davis in Santa Monica hospital.

EXPERIENCE

NEW YORK, May 19 (Special)—Experience counts in the marriage mart, for widows and divorcees will meet the first bluntness of youth attract younger men for husbands than their spinster sisters of the same age, according to the life insurance statistics. It is a disadvantage for the widows and divorcees, but from that time on, the women who have been married before, the younger the widows and divorcees, the more are older, on the average, than the corresponding bachelors chosen as spouses.

The conclusions of the statistics are based on Massachusetts records. These show that among widows in the age group 20-24 years, the widowed and divorced men married bachelors whose average age was 26.5 years, while those chosen by the spinsters had an average age about one year younger, or 25.5 years.

When the age of the bride is 25 or over, however, the picture changes. Then, for instance, among brides of 40 to 44 years, those who were widowed or divorced married bachelors with an average age of 41.4 years, while the spinsters wed bachelors with an average age of 42.2 years, a difference of 0.8 years. This difference in favor of the widows and divorcees tends to become greater as the age at marriage advances.

CURTIS SLAPS AT BOTT IN SPEECH

COVINGTON, Ida., May 19 (AP)—Secretary of State George Curtis took an indirect slap at Gov. C. B. Bottelless in a commencement address to the graduating class of Council high school last night.

Curtis told the graduates "the certainty of the future represents a challenge to the youth of America." The statement was direct opposite to one made by the governor in a speech at Cottonwood in which he said, "the uncertainty of the future represents a challenge to the youth of America."

"There will be those who paint a gloomy picture of the future," Curtis said. "They tell you that you have nothing to look forward to but the burden of certainty. They tell you that times are not what they used to be. The correct answer to this is yes, and what is more they never were. The speakers are viewing things through the rose glasses of history."

"There will be those who paint a gloomy picture of the future," Curtis said. "They tell you that you have nothing to look forward to but the burden of certainty. They tell you that times are not what they used to be. The correct answer to this is yes, and what is more they never were. The speakers are viewing things through the rose glasses of history."

It is said that the Gutenberg printing is far better than most of our modern work. Many of its pages have delicate marginal decorations of illuminated scrollwork which give it the effect of being entirely hand worked.

Cincinnati Red
Star Edges
Boston, 3 to 2

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, May 19 (U.P.)—Johanny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds was back on the glory road today.

After four humiliating defeats in which he was either knocked out or taken out because of wildness, Vander Meer started his comeback last Saturday by throttling the league-leading Cardinals 2-1.

He pitched his second victory yesterday by letting the Boston Bees down with six hits as the Reds won 5-2. In the two games Vandy fanned 15.

Vander Meer wasn't the only Cincinnati hit yesterday. Frank McCormick hit a homer with one out and Ernie Lombard followed with a run, a hit and a sacrifice. The two punches being enough to win for the Reds.

Cubs in Third

The Chicago Cubs moved into third place behind Bill Lee's seven-run pitching which enabled Chicago to beat Brooklyn, 4-2. Van Mungo and the Cubs blanked until the seventh when Leo Durocher ordered Frank Lieber passed to fill the bases with two out. Then Harbottle doubled, clearing the bases.

Curt Davis won his fifth victory as the league leading St. Louis Cardinals' pitcher, as he pitched a 4-0 lead.

Johnny Rizzo's single with two bases loaded in the tenth gave Pittsburgh a 5-4 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies after the Pirates had blown a 4-0 lead.

Yankers Need One More

The Yankees need only one more victory to equal their longest winning streak in two years as a result of yesterday's 8-1 conquest over the St. Louis Browns. Rookie Al

Joe Cronin's triple with two men on base enabled the Red Sox to subdue the White Sox, 6-3. Elden Auker, Red Sox pitcher, was forced from the game in the eighth when hit by the leg by a line drive from Luke Appling's bat.

Bobby Estalella's homer inside the park with Buddy Myer on base and two men on base, gave the Sox a 2-1 victory over Detroit.

The Athletics came from Cleveland 4-3, in the eleventh when Catcher Rollie Hemsley dropped Shilling and threw to the plate on Bob Johnson.

Player: Newsome scored the winning run on the play.

Don't Worry, Your Majesties— Kids Back Home Doing All Right

By MILTON BRONNER
(NEA Service)

LONDON—If you see King George and Queen Elizabeth, please tell them that their two little girls are well and busy as bees, and that everybody is trying to keep them from being too homesick.

Princess Elizabeth and her sister, Margaret Rose, have just been to the zoo, to see the elephants, watched the baby panda, ridden in a cart behind a llama. All in all, their days are pretty full.

Just like any other dutiful little daughters, they are remembering the final admonitions of their mother.

They must be good little girls. (They promised.)

Elizabeth must look after little sister. (She will.)

Studies as usual. (Yes, mother.)

You can entertain your little friends. (Oh, first!)

Fellow Travel Program

As much as possible, the queen arranged the routine for the children so that it would be very much as it is when she is in England.

Each Friday afternoon one of the palace cars takes them down to the royal lodge, Windsor, for the week-end. Here they swim in their pool, go riding in the park, and delight with the Girl Guides company to which they belong.

On Monday morning, just like any other little girls, they return to their home, which happens to be Buckingham palace and, like other little girls, for five days they resume their lessons. Princess Elizabeth has displayed a special enthusiasm for French ever since she tried it on President and Madame Lebrun of France during their recent visit to London.

The meals of the children are served as usual. When Mrs. Knight, their monitor, gives the O. K., they will entertain some of their friends at luncheon or tea. They will also go on visits with Queen Mary, who will be in residence in Marlborough house not far away from Buckingham palace.

They're Good, Correspondents

Once a week from the palace and once a week from Royal Lodge, Windsor, they will call write letters to their parents, telling them everything they have done and how they are. On the other hand, the queen will talk to the children daily from both Canada and the United States. She will give them full details of all the wonderful things the king and queen are seeing.

But one thing she will not tell them—the presents and gifts which she is bringing back to them from United States and Canada. Those will be their big surprise.

200,000 SOLDIERS MARCH IN SPANISH PARADE OF VICTORY

ITALIAN, GERMAN TROOPS IN FINAL MADRID SHOWING

MADRID, May 19 (UP)—Spanish nationalists celebrated their civil war victory today with the greatest military demonstration since the World War.

Marking the triumphal entry of Gen. Francisco Franco into the old capital, 200,000 troops marched in a victory parade. There were celebrations in cities all over Spain.

Six hundred airplanes, 1,000 field guns, 3,000 vehicles, 500 tanks and armored cars, 130 battalions of infantry and a large force of cavalry were in the parade.

Italian troops held the place of honor at the head of the parade, German troops followed and the German "condor legion" was well back in the procession between mobile repair units and motorized engineers.

Last Parade for Visitors

It was the last parade for the Italians and Germans. They are now to go back home and it was expected all of them would evacuate by the end of the month.

Francisco arrived in Madrid last night from Burgos.

It was estimated 200,000 people were crowded into the city, which was flanked by a new arch of triumph, standing at the entrance to the old Paseo Castellano, now named avenue Generalissimo to Franco's honor.

As the parade started, hundreds of airplanes, those that bombed during the war, swept over the city. The German "condor legion" carrier planes were released at the same time, bearing news to cities all over Germany that the parade had started.

OTTAWA RECEIVES KING AND QUEEN

A state coach, drawn by four chestnut horses, awaited the king and queen who they entered it for the royal procession through the city.

States began to clear as the royal procession started.

The king and queen had luncheon parties at the city hall and at the home of the mayor and his wife, Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir.

Later in the afternoon, the queen entered the senate chamber to give royal assent to bills passed by parliament. For 10 hours, they had been welcomed by the mayor, who had heard the cheers of 200,000 welcome in the streets, had inspected the troops, and had visited historic sites.

They had retired fully relaxed, however, after a hilarious banquet at the Windsor hotel that was certain to become one of the fondest memories of their trip. The success of the banquet was a triumph for Montreal Mayor, Camille Houde, who broke down the royal reserve with humorous comments, jokes and songs until the queen and king were laughing and heard above the din made by 1,000 guests and the king joined in the singing of "Alouette," an old French song.

PLANS SHIFT FOR HEALTH 'EXAMS'

Change in plans for the summer round-up of pre-school children was announced today by the Twin Falls Parent-Teacher association council. Examinations are for children entering school for the first time as beginners in the fall.

Examinations, originally scheduled to be held at the four grade schools May 22, 23 and 24, will be taken care of through the family physician at their offices instead.

In the event that there is no family physician, parents may take the children to the Twin Falls district health unit for examination, according to Dr. E. L. Berry, unit head.

Round-up chairman of the Washington, Lincoln, Bickel and St. Edwards schools will contact the parents, presenting them with blanks to be filled out by the physicians.

Should anyone fail to receive the required blank, it may be obtained at the health unit. All vaccinations for encephalitis and diphtheria are asked to bring the children to the unit.

Parents should make appointments with their family physicians for these examinations, made possible through the cooperation of the health unit and the various physicians. P. T. A. officials urged today.

Those entering Lincoln school should be examined May 22; those entering at Bickel, May 23, and those at Washington and St. Edwards, May 24.

DEATH SUMMONS BUHL ATHLETE, 19

BUHL, May 19 (Special)—Francis DeWitt Buhl, 19, popular basketball star during his student days at Buhl high school, and well-liked by the business community, died at 9 p. m. last evening at the Twin Falls county general hospital.

He had made a valiant effort to rally from appendicitis, which developed following an operation for a ruptured appendix, his condition complicated by a heart disease with which he was first afflicted during his junior year in high school.

Comrade Gives Blood

Yesterday morning he submitted a blood transfusion, Benny McElroy, with whom he had played champion basketball during his year in high school, being the donor.

Francis was a member of last year's Buhl basketball team, co-captains with Twin Falls in the district tournament, and a contestant in the state tournament later.

He also played basketball during his sophomore year, but when he developed a heart malady, was unable to play his junior year. He was a good student, and especially liked his mathematics.

Wide Acquaintance

A drug clerk and soda dispenser at the Buhl pharmacy for the past three and one-half years, he had a wide acquaintance among west end residents. He had also worked a number of other jobs while working his way through school.

For the past 12 years he had made his home with his grandmother, Mrs. G. O. Seymour, at Buhl, coming here from Filer, where he was born Aug. 1, 1919.

His mother died in Sept., 1931, at Filer. He is survived by his father, Cecil, 16, and James, 12, both of whom also live with Mrs. Seymour. Also surviving is an aunt, Mrs. D. L. Seymour, at Coeur d'Alene, and an uncle, Kenneth Seymour, Buhl.

The body rests at the Alberson funeral home, pending arrangements for final rites.

KILLER RECEIVES DEATH SENTENCE

ENID, Okla., May 19 (UP)—Roy Murphree, who threatened to slay himself to death rather than face trial for the murder of his brother, today was found guilty by a jury which recommended that he be electrocuted.

Murphy, who fasted 22 days before he was tried, held sane and ordered to die, was not in the courtroom when the verdict was read.

Judge J. W. Bird will sentence him June 8.

Under favorable conditions, an airplane can be seen at 10,000 to 15,000 feet altitude.

SUBPOENA SENT JOHN HAMILTON

WASHINGTON, May 19 (UP)—The house committee investigating anti-American activities decided today to subpoena Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee and Maj. Gen. George Van Horn Moseley, retired, in its inquiry into an asserted anti-Semitic campaign.

The committee also decided to issue subpoenas for George Deatherage of St. Albans, Vt., chief of the Knights of the White Camellias, an organization accused by liberals of disseminating anti-Semitic propaganda and charged by liberal publications with having a Fascist cast.

A fourth subpoena, the committee said, will be issued for Felix McWhirter of Indianapolis, retired lieutenant commander in the naval reserve and president of the People's State bank, largest independent bank in Indiana.

Bluff Called

The committee decided to call Deatherage shortly after he had declared it was "unfair" to summon him for testimony about purported subversive movements in the United States.

Hamilton's name was mentioned in the investigation by James Edwin Campbell, 24, a retired army captain of Owensboro, Ky., who testified before a closed session of the committee yesterday. Dies said Campbell was active in the campaign.

Dies said that "highly confidential" reports of the alleged plot to overthrow the government were sent by participants in the campaign to a select list of 40 persons, many of whom were American Legion officials and retired army officers. Dies said Campbell's correspondence showed he had asked, and received, from Hamilton the names of Republican national committee members and committeemen for his mailing list.

Campbell, denies, Dies said, that he sent the committee reports to the Republicans. Campbell said they were sent copies of Moseley's speeches.

Monday Meeting

Rheta Whitley, counsel for Dies' committee, telegraphed Hamilton, Moseley, Deatherage and McWhirter, informing them that they had been subpoenaed and requesting them to attend a meeting of the committee here Monday at 1:30 p. m.

Hamilton was informed of the action at Chicago.

"I shall be glad to appear before the Dies committee and answer any and all questions," he said in a statement issued. The notice here, "I am informed this morning by Mr. Campbell several letters to me have been received from thousands of others. A reply was made as a matter of routine."

There was no secret about the identity of the members of the national committee, since their names appear in the World Almanac and other standard documents. As a matter of course, the list is sent upon the request of anyone. There was nothing whatever in any letter that had been received or activity. If there had been, there would have been no correspondence on my part," Hamilton said.

Survey Offers Vital Data to Spud Growers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 19 (Special)—Vital information to potato growers is contained in a report prepared by two Pennsylvania scientists after experiments into nutritional studies of potato leaves from plants in plots differently fertilized.

As reported in "Chicago Packet," the summary of these findings is:

The scientists have compared leaves of course in considerable numbers of each—from the same position on the plants and of the same age, and have found that the leaves contain different per cents of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, showing what parallel to the amounts used in the soil.

Green-leaves were found in leaves if there was plenty of that element, but insufficient nitrogen and phosphorus.

The nitrogen content of the leaves did not parallel the development of the plant.

Low content of phosphorus was characteristic of unsatisfactory plants.

A good balance between phosphorus and nitrogen was characteristic of good growth.

Studies like the above are appreciated by practical men for the reason that they know that general knowledge of a subject leads to good management and, in dollars, to the end. In general knowledge of plant nutrition is their greatest value.

Similar studies have been made also at Pennsylvania state college with apple leaves.

HOUSE ACCEPTS HUGE NAVY BILL

WASHINGTON, May 19 (UP)—The house today accepted amendments to the $775,049,151 naval appropriation bill, largest in peacetime history, and sent the measure to the White House.

The senate amendments were accepted without debate. Republican leader Joseph W. Martin, Mass., merely inquired of Rep. James O. Scruggs, D. Nev., whether the house provision prohibiting purchase of Argentine cable had been for the navy was still in the bill. Scruggs told him it was.

The bill carries funds to start work on two 45,000-ton battleships, 21 other naval vessels, and purchase 500 planes. The new building will include the American ship construction program to 144 ships.

Frontier Members Refuse to Join in Commission Fight

BURLEY, Ida., May 19 (UP)—The Idaho Frontier club is not entering into the commission fight for any sportmen, commission members or organizations. Ad Bolson of Burley, newly elected president of the club said today.

"Our primary purpose is to make hunting and fishing in Idaho a better sport," Bolson said. "We were behind the initiative act 100 per cent when the movement started and we will continue backing it."

LIVERY STABLE ON KNIFE

REGINA, Sask. (UP)—In the old days, the livery stable was a busy place in any western Canadian town. No more Regina's municipal court of revision on assessments this year allowed a 40 per cent reduction in the assessed value of the only livery stable left in the city. The owner said he did not know what to do with the stable because it was drawing no revenue.

U. S. Needs Solid Rod—Not Straws—Bott Tells Seniors

KIMBERLY, May 19 (Special)—Asserting that because men in financial distress will turn to any straw, America has "turned to any straw" and not "solid rods," Gov. C. A. Bottelsen told Kimberly high school graduates last night "it takes firm character and will power" to progress through national emergency.

The governor spoke to a crowded auditorium. Thirty-seven were in the graduating class and the exercises marked the close of the school year for the high school. Valdemar of the class was Betty Hummel and Rebecca Nebeker was salutatorian. Attaining perfect attendance records during their four years in high school were Brant Hall and Naomi DeLong.

Proclamation, "Graduation March" was played by the Kimberly high school orchestra under the direction of Rev. W. Benth. Following the invocation by Rev. T. W. Bowmar, the orchestra played "Eternal Spring." Following the governor's address the girls' glee club sang two songs.

LeRoy Wilcox, senior class adviser, presented the 1938 graduation diploma to the graduates. Mr. Wilcox, chairman of the board of school trustees, presented the diploma with best Christian directing, the Kimberly high school band played "Song of Love," "Merry Widow" and "Stars and Stripes Forever." Benediction was offered by Rev. Milton Bower. Ceremony closed with two songs.

Realizes Error

EMERYVILLE, Calif. (UP)—It cost a mother just $35 for making the mistake of picking a policeman's daughter as an object of his attentions for an acquaintance and automobile drive. She merely took the license number on his car, turned it in to police and the law took its course. "I didn't know she was a policeman's daughter," the defendant told the court as he paid his fine.

NAZIS WELCOME BRITAIN'S OFFER

BERLIN, May 19 (UP)—A source close to the Nazi government said today that "anything England can do to bring about the resumption of which Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain spoke in the house of commons will be welcomed by Germany."

Commenting on Chamberlain's declaration that Britain would be willing to make concessions toward permanent peace if assured that Germany will not resort to force or aggression in the future, the Nazi source outlined the German viewpoint as follows:

"Changes following the World war upset the balance in Europe and there can be no real peace unless reasonable readjustments are made. As to our position, that was laid down by President Adolf Hitler in his recent speeches. Our change of attitude toward England was the result of English efforts to encircle Germany, which no one can now successfully deny."

"These efforts at encirclement necessarily endanger our security."
