

GREAT BRITAIN AGREES TO MUTUAL AID PACT WITH RUSSIA

CHAMBERLAIN TO AWAIT REPLY ON NEW PROPOSALS

By FREDERICK KUH
LONDON, May 24 (Special)—Great Britain's cabinet agreed today to conclude a mutual aid pact with Soviet Russia and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain announced in the house of commons that he had "every reason" to hope for a full agreement with the Soviets at an early date.

"I have every reason to hope that as a result of proposals which his majesty's government is now in a position to make on the main questions arising, it will be found possible to reach a full agreement at an early date," Chamberlain told the house of commons after the cabinet had acted on the question of an accord with the Soviets.

Ends Weeks of Work
The history-making decision of the cabinet followed weeks of negotiations during which the British government had demanded a stronger accord among Britain, France and Russia than the Chamberlain cabinet had been willing to offer.

No Opposition to Pact
"I think it probably will be necessary to wait until we come back," he said in reply to questions.

Chamberlain, in reply to laudatory questions said that "there does not seem to be any provision" in the new German-Russian military alliance which is inconsistent with the British-Russian friendship treaty.

He also declined to give assurances to questioners that there would be no de facto recognition of the annexation of Czechoslovakia by Germany and Hungary without prior assent of the house of commons.

EDEN GIRL WINS AWARD FROM U-P

JEROME, May 24 (Special)—Word has been received this week by Eugene W. Whitman, Jerome county extension agent, of the official approval by the Union Pacific railroad of Miss Dora Huetting, Eden, as winner of the Union Pacific 4-H club scholarship for 1939.

The notification was sent through J. H. Rearden, 4-H state club leader for Idaho.

Also receiving official approval as alternate for the scholarship was Miss Lou Roloe also of Eden.

Both girls are seniors of the Eden high school, each having had several years work as club members and club leaders.

Of interest in Miss Huetting's selection is the fact that she is the third member of Eden 4-H club to win the scholarship in the past three years. Winners in 1936 and 1937 were Miss Jane Montgomery and Miss Margaret Montgomery.

The scholarship entitles the winner to $100 toward expenses in the college of agriculture or the division of home economics at the University of Idaho at Moscow. The scholarship must be used immediately following the completion of high school work.

Wanted—A Gullible Indian

Pot-shots wonders if there are any gullible Indians left still to whom we could track back the state for whatever it was the Indians got paid.

We can stand the wind, the pardon boards, the secretaries of state, the attorneys-general, the weather at ball games, the hall, the drinking water... but when an Idaho bloodhound goes a-hunting for a convict and gets lost himself—well, the animals have overtake us.

Now while I don't say the Roseworth commencement program was as follows, it might very possibly be. Salutatory—Denny Shaver. Valedictory address—Denny Shaver. Class will—Denny Shaver. Class prophecy—Denny Shaver. Singing of "Idaho" by class—Denny Shaver. Class farewell—Denny Shaver. Valedictory address—Denny Shaver. Prize for highest grades in class—Denny Shaver. Attendance prize for class—Denny Shaver. Receiving of diplomas—Denny Shaver. Class song—Denny Shaver. By 6:00, Pot, the more I think of it, the more I think of it. ### FOUND AT LAST

ATTORNEY PLEADS GUILTY

Police: And have you heard this one recently? An attorney who had acquired a reputation as a late-afternoon-homer in the district court, was in a bar room one rainy night. "I'm the best lawyer in the county!" "How you gonna prove it?" demanded the companion, also waiting for the sunrise. "Don't need it," came the rejoinder. "I built it!"

Ho Hum Dept.

"Horse Attacks Auto"—United Press. Rep. Dies who now find the Communists have been urging our horses to rebel against the machine age.

"Court Reverses While Woman Juries"—Twins News edition. Another argument about women jurors: It's reported that no male juror ever disagreed a court proceeding like that.

CONGRESS HELPS ITSELF

Economy, like charity, might be expected to begin at home. But when it came to voting themselves an extra salary of $1,500 a year, congressmen fell over each other to vote "yes." By the time the senate does the same, the extra cost will be a mere million dollars a year.

Now this may be entirely necessary. But it remains true that the same congressmen who abused Roosevelt as prodigal with the nation's money, have cut down his relief estimates and raised his budget and on practically every other count. Now they are helping themselves to an extra clerk to help them already available through a clerk-hire allowance of $5,000 a year.

When you find (if you ever do find) a congressman who will vote against an appropriation affecting his home district or his own office, then you will find a congressman genuinely and sincerely devoted to the economy he preaches.

And not before, and not unless.

DATE WITH DANGER

BY HELEN WORDEN
COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER III

The alert, whiplipped by a strong wind, shrouded Lower New York. Empty office buildings loomed like gigantic tombstones in the half-dusk of early night, their blackness strengthened by the thousand lights which twinkled from the New York Morning Gazette. An occasional late worker hurried toward the building, his head bent low to save himself from the sharp prickle of the sleet as it blew in his face. Otherwise the streets were deserted.

The howling darkness made the hustle and bustle of the big newspaper seem doubly cheerful. People stood about in the lobby talking. Elevators shot up and down the shafts. Messenger boys stalked back and forth, their rubber ponches gleaming with melting sleet and from the lower floors of the paper came the rumbling of the presses. On the 12th floor the click of typewriters proclaimed the location of the editorial offices. At intervals the pounding of keys was punctuated by cries of "Copy!" as this reporter or that one hurried to make a deadline. The first edition was going to press in 10 minutes.

"Give me all the ad you've got on Janice French," Tom Ladd stuck his head out from the managing editor's office and then drew it back just as suddenly.

He could do more things at the same time than any juggler who'd ever spun plates at a circus side-show. Here was a queer man with a singular career. It was inevitable that he would eventually land on a newspaper. In his late 30s with something of the hawk in his handsome face, he had been managing editor of the Gazette before he came to this city. He had been editor of the Gazette before he came to this city. He had been editor of the Gazette before he came to this city.

The voice on the line stopped suddenly, terminated by a shrill. Ladd heard the receiver crash to the floor.

cover, "What do these fool society girls mean by playing around with married men? Now she disappears. So what?" He paced nervously up and down. "This story isn't going to keep."

Crossie uncrossed his arms and held out a hand. "Let's have a look at the clips," he began shuffling through the newspaper accounts of Janice's activities. "Debut cost $50,000," he read in a monotone. "She was busy as the devil going to theater parties and dances. I remember. 'Him, how known as 'Playboy' of Society. Got a home on Fifth Avenue. Pilots her own plane. Drives like a mad. Nick, according to the number, she's been arrested for speeding. Some girl, I'd say."

"Too wild," said Tom briefly. "You're out there occasionally. Darned pretty but reckless. Wasn't thought she'd make a good story some time. But that's not helping us now."

He walked to the window and drummed his fingers on the pane. "Some place in this town are the answers. He stared out over the city. A rosy haze, pink even through the veil of mist, colored the sky. "While you and I stand here, Crossie, anything may happen. Time she's been arrested for speeding. Some girl, I'd say."

He began pacing the floor again, puffing furiously on his pipe. "God, man, you stand there like a statue. I've got to stop about in front of Crossie. 'We've got to act and act quick.'"

Crossie, unmoved, looked amiably back at his temperamental chief.

"There are several courses to pursue in this story," he said calmly. "I'll stop about in front of Crossie. 'We've got to act and act quick.'"

Crossie, unmoved, looked amiably back at his temperamental chief.

"Now here's a society girl who's fallen for a killer," continued Tom, forgetting in his frenzy over the story, the arctic remark he was about to fling at Peter. "She's easy to look at. She's rich and she's out for thrills. A natural for a play like Martin. Big money to him. But how are we going to prove it? Now she disappears. So what?" He paced nervously up and down. "This story isn't going to keep."

Crossie uncrossed his arms and held out a hand. "Let's have a look at the clips," he began shuffling through the newspaper accounts of Janice's activities. "Debut cost $50,000," he read in a monotone. "She was busy as the devil going to theater parties and dances. I remember. 'Him, how known as 'Playboy' of Society. Got a home on Fifth Avenue. Pilots her own plane. Drives like a mad. Nick, according to the number, she's been arrested for speeding. Some girl, I'd say."

"Too wild," said Tom briefly. "You're out there occasionally. Darned pretty but reckless. Wasn't thought she'd make a good story some time. But that's not helping us now."

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

By BRUCE CATTON
Evening Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Unless Congress does something in the next few days, a flood of government money will start pouring out next January under a new, streamlined version of the social security act.

The administration approved certain alterations in this act early in the spring and the House and Senate committees have okayed these changes, and a favorable vote by Congress is in prospect. The results will be far-reaching.

For one thing, the government next year will pay $175,000,000 in old age benefits. The sum will jump to $400,000,000 in 1941; $525,000,000 in 1942; $640,000,000 in 1943; $814,000,000 by 1948.

For another, business gets relief from the previously-scheduled rise in the old-age benefits payroll tax. This tax, levying per cent on the employer and 1 per cent on the employee, was to have gone up to 15 per cent in the next year. The pending revisions would freeze it at 1 per cent until 1945.

RELIEF FOR BUSINESS

For another, business gets relief from the previously-scheduled rise in the old-age benefits payroll tax. This tax, levying per cent on the employer and 1 per cent on the employee, was to have gone up to 15 per cent in the next year. The pending revisions would freeze it at 1 per cent until 1945.

For still another, the famous reserve system, under which a stupendous fund of 40 or 50 billions would have been built up in the treasury to finance old-age benefit payments, has received a body blow. The revisions change the whole basis on which the old-age payments are computed, and hint strongly that the huge reserve system will be scrapped eventually.

HOW PROFITS WILL BE PAID

For instance: Next year, when the government is paying out $175,000,000 in old age benefits, it will be collecting only $175,000,000 in old age payroll taxes. The old-age fund will have a "profit" for the reserve fund of some $250,000,000.

But in 1941, when it is to pay

AVERAGE CLAIMS NOW $75

In any case, it looks doubtful that the old-age fund will be paid off. The old-age fund will be paid off. The old-age fund will be paid off. The old-age fund will be paid off.

DANZIG NOTE PROTESTS INTERFERENCE BY POLAND

FREE CITY LISTS VIOLATION ACTS; ASKS FOR PEACE

DANZIG, May 24 (AP)—Danzig sent a vigorous note to Poland today protesting alleged violation of the sovereignty of the free city over which Germany and Poland have been in bitter controversy.

Following a German chauffeur's report that he had been fired on near the Polish frontier this morning, Arthur Greiser, Nazi vice-president of the Danzig senate, dispatched a protest to the Warsaw government.

The note contained six points, understood to include:

Harmless passersby on the frontier at Dirschau, in Danzig territory, have been shot at by Polish soldiers.

That an official Danzig commission, of which the Polish diplomatic representative had been informed, was hindered in its investigations by Polish soldiers, with bayonets fixed on their rifles.

Cross Frontier

Polish soldiers crossed into Danzig territory while on patrol duty.

Polish military airplanes flew over Danzig territory.

An unarmed and harmless Danziger who was on a holiday was murdered at Hothby by the chauffeur of a Polish diplomatic representative.

The chauffeur was taken by Polish diplomats for security over the Polish frontier.

The note further said that "only the strict discipline enforced by Danzig officials" prevented further disorders resulting from alleged provocations by Polish officials.

Ask Peace and Order

The note demanded the Polish government take steps to re-establish peace and order on the Polish-Danzig frontier and to find means of settling the almost hysterical attitude of Polish officials "before irreparable harm has been done."

The action of the Danzig Nazi government in sending the note revived in full force the tension with Poland, especially in view of the strong terms used in the note.

Western Queen Knows Her Ropes

Royalty must be genuine in these days of visiting monarchs and crown princesses. Queen Mary of the California Stampede at Marysville, Calif., May 26-28, is no exception. She not only rides well but knows western ranch life.

Queen Mary Spends Restless Night Following Auto Crash

LONDON, May 24 (AP)—Queen Mary spent a restless night owing to an injury to her eye but her condition was otherwise satisfactory, the royal physicians reported today after a second examination to determine the extent of injuries sustained in a motor crash yesterday.

After Lord Dawson of Penn and Sir Stanley Hewitt, her physicians, had made a thorough examination this morning, they announced:

"Her majesty Queen Mary passed a restless night partly due to an injury to one eye, which though painful is not a source of anxiety. Her majesty's condition is satisfactory."

It had been believed earlier that the queen was merely bruised, though she suffered also from shock.

Specialist Called

Lord Dawson and Hewitt called in Sir Richard Cruise, eye specialist, to aid them in their examination.

Queen Mary, under her physicians' orders to take a complete rest, cancelled all engagements.

The result was that hundreds of thousands of people, converging on Epsom Downs for today's derby horse race, were disappointed by the queen mother's absence.

Today's official bulletin was the first intimation that Queen Mary's eye was injured. The nature of the injury was not disclosed. It was assumed the eye was bruised as the car was equipped with shatter-proof glass. The glass was cracked in the crash but did not splinter.

Announcement Surprised

The announcement that the queen had spent a restless night also was a surprise because of earlier announcements that she had been comfortable. It was understood the queen had asked members of her household to say that she was doing well, as not to arouse anxiety.

Bouquets and baskets of flowers arrived at Marlborough house almost every moment for Queen Mary and many persons expected to sign the visitors' book in token of their sympathy.

There was natural concern because of Queen Mary's age, which will be 72 Friday—but it was believed that she would be well.

BOY, 5, PLAYS ON CAR; BREAKS LEG

A five-year-old boy's attempt to play on the front bumper of a parked automobile today had resulted in his right leg being broken.

The boy is Billie Lyda, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lyda, 330 Sixth avenue east. Attendees at the county general hospital said this afternoon his condition was "good."

The boy sustained the broken leg yesterday afternoon when he fell under a machine being operated by Jeanne R. Schwendman, 1016 Shoshone street east. The car had been parked in front of 227 Fifth avenue east and Miss Schwendman had remained behind the wheel of the car, with the motor running, while two friends went into a home at that address.

Unnoticed

While they were in the house the boy had climbed on the front bumper of the machine, unnoticed by the driver. When the two young girls returned from the house to the car they also failed to see the boy on the front bumper.

As the machine started forward the boy fell off in front of the car. The front wheels did not touch his body but his clothing evidently caught on some section of the machine, throwing him under one of the rear wheels, which passed over his leg. The car was stopped immediately, and the boy was taken to the hospital.

Eye Witness

Nate Anson, Twin Falls, was an eye witness to the mishap and said the boy had evidently grabbed the front bumper as he went under the machine, saving him from the front wheels.

The two girls who were passengers of the machine and who had gone briefly into the C. M. Hepler home were listed on a police report as Miss Ingeborg Davis and Miss Dee Hepler. Miss Schwendman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Schwendman. No one was held in connection with the mishap.

VACATION CAMP SURVIVES SLASH

South central Idaho women's vacation camp has been retained for this year, although the state has had to be retrained, Miss Marion Heworth, state home demonstration leader, announced here this afternoon.

The south Idaho session will again be held at Easley's Hot Springs in the Sawtooth mountains. Dates will be Aug. 2, 3 and 4.

Lack of Funds

Reduction of the statewide camps this year to four was caused by "lack of funds—certainly not by lack of interest," Miss Heworth said.

Two northern camps were discontinued this year because they have run continuously for 12 successive seasons, the state leader said. As a result the camp interest in that area will easily survive a break of one or several years.

"Camps retained were those which were newer or which had been restarted after an interval of discontinuance," Miss Heworth said.

"The south central vacation camp, for instance, had been discontinued for seven years."

Dates and places of the other three camps which will operate this summer are: Western area, Payette lake, July 8-11; eastern, Lake Hart Springs, July 8-11; northwest, Idaho lodge, July 10-12.

BURLEY, May 24 (Special)—Burley students in colleges and universities have recently received many honors. Miss Virginia McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. McDonald, has been selected to teach English in a French university beginning in September. She will receive her B. A. degree this June from the University of Idaho at Moscow. Gordon Langlois, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Langlois, was selected as the outstanding chemist of the sophomore class at the Northwestern university at Chicago by Prof. L. A. Upjohn, national honor for chemistry. He was presented with a valuable research book on chemistry.

Technician at the University of Idaho at Moscow beginning Sept. 1 is the position Miss Audrey Parke, daughter of Mr. Ida Parke, has received. Miss Parke has been studying since her graduation last June from the U. of I. in pre-medical and bacteriology at the Deaconess hospital in Spokane.

Fireproofing

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Plumbers here are discovering that fireproof pools present new problems. Answering a call where the roof had been treated with a fire-proof material, they discovered that the flames inside the house could not burst through the roof, with the result that such great billows of smoke poured through the doors and windows firemen could approach only with gas masks.

JAPANESE CRUISER HALTS, FIRES ON BRITISH CRAFT

OFFICERS BOARD SHIP, DEMAND TO EXAMINE ITS LOG

HONG KONG, May 24 (UP)—A Japanese light cruiser ordered the big British passenger liner Ranzaura to halt at sea, fired two shots across its bow, and sent a party of officers and marines aboard it to "examine its papers," before an SOS appeal brought two British destroyers to the rescue, passengers said today.

The 1688-ton peninsular and Oriental liner was halted on the high seas four miles south of Wagon Light house at 8 a. m. today.

Passengers said a Japanese light cruiser signaled the Ranzaura from a distance of a mile or more. Then, they said, the cruiser closed and, though the ship had halted, fired two shots across its bow.

The cruiser launched a boat containing four officers and a party of marines, passengers said. They boarded the ship and said they wanted to examine its log. Capt. L. L. Parfitt, the master, refused and radioed the British Hong Kong naval base for aid.

Two British destroyers, one the Duchess, were sent at full speed to the scene.

Passengers said the Japanese, after remaining about the Ranzaura for 20 minutes, rejoined the cruiser before the Duchess, one of the destroyers, arrived.

Passengers said they believed the Japanese cruiser flew an admiral's flag.

Capt. Parfitt of the Ranzaura declined to make a statement on the ground that he must report direct to Admiral Sir Percy Noble, commander in chief of the China squadron.

Plan Vigorous Protest

It was understood British authorities intended to make a vigorous protest because of the belief that the cruiser flew an admiral's flag and because Rear Admiral A. J. L. Murray, newly assigned to the China squadron, was a passenger in the Ranzaura.

There seemed some suspicion that the boarding was effected deliberately because a Japanese gesture due to recent incidents at Kulungtung, the foreign area of dispute, where a Japanese navy party landing brought counter-landings by the British and French marines, over the protest of Japanese authorities.

OPEN YOUR EYES, GRADUATES TOLD

BLISS, May 24 (Special)—Twelve seniors and a packed auditorium of parents, classmates and friends today heard Gerald Wallace of Twin Falls high school admonish the seniors and all American to "open their eyes and look about their America" in the main address of the evening.

Mr. Wallace took the group on a word trip through several European countries, pointing out some of the environmental and political factors which these people had working against them and then pointing out the advantages of America which presented no such obstacles. As a distinct departure from most commencement addresses, Mr. Wallace did not stress individual opportunity but rather emphasized the need for a concerted stand against the factors which are detrimental to the world and especially the need for a firm stand against war and its extraneous consequences.

The graduates marched in to the processionals played by Miss Smedley, after which Mr. Wallace gave the invocation and Rosetta Ross a vocal solo. Following this Arthur Vielhuth gave the salutatory address. Lewis Peck, the class history, Frank Graves the class will and Barbara Tschannen the class prophecy. ## Scores Enter Electric Fair Competition

Seeking a free round-trip ticket to the San Francisco World's fair, scores of contestant entrants had submitted blanks today in the Twin Falls electric fair competition, according to Chairman John Yapple.

The fair moved into its second day with all booths completed and offering a wide variety of electrical products and appliances.

Wide Range

The goods on display, Yapple said, range from a small electric bulb, as the limit, to refrigerators and air conditioner as the largest.

Change in hour at which the fair will close tonight and Thursday moved the time to 9:30 p. m. Opening hour is 10 a. m. Thursday will be the final day of the event.

Entries in the World's fair contest, will be accepted until 9 p. m. Saturday at any of the 13 electrical establishments listed as exhibitors. Blanks must be obtained at the fair headquarters in the Eldridge building next to Schramm-Johnson Drug store.

Here's Basis

"The contest is going very nicely," Chairman Yapple said. Basis of the competition for the round-trip ticket to Frisco is this: Listing the star feature offered at each booth, and a 50-word (or less) statement as to what electric appliance the contest entrant would purchase—and why—if the purchase is made in the next 60 days.

Each of the 13 exhibiting groups has an attendant at its booth to explain the appliances shown.

ECONOMY GROUP WILL FIGHT FDR

WASHINGTON, May 24 (UP)—The Democratic economy bloc today challenged President Roosevelt's climate of opinion speech, said six years of spending for recovery had failed.

Sen. Harry P. Byrd, D. Va., replying to Mr. Roosevelt's retailer's climate of opinion speech, said that six years of spending for recovery had failed.

He charged the President sought to popularize debt with the retailers whose money drawers receive the largest share of federal relief dollars.

"We have great unemployment," Byrd said, "and an increased number on the relief rolls, as well as a virtual stagnation of business."

He denied that a national income of $80,000,000,000, which is the New Deal objective, would permit the treasury to collect sufficient taxes to pay government bills at current spending levels. Mr. Roosevelt's estimate of treasury revenue from a national income of that figure is $8,000,000,000. Byrd said we are spending $2,500,000,000 this year and that the sum soon would exceed $10,000,000,000 annually. Republicans estimate next fiscal year appropriations at $11,000,000,000.

Termites

MARTINEZ, Calif. (UP)—Termites are working just as hard here as the federal house administration to bring a return of prosperity by stimulating building. The Grinda school district last year voted a $30,000 bond issue for a school house addition. This year it will vote on a $35,000 bond issue to replace the original school structure which the termites have undermined.

Two Share Honors at Clever Dinner Party

In compliment to her-house guests, Mrs. Emma Yearian, known as "the sheep queen of Idaho," and Mrs. E. Nielsen, both of Salmon, Mrs. H. W. Clouchek entertained at a charmingly appointed dinner last evening at her home, 327 Fifth avenue east.

Mrs. Yearian and Mrs. Clouchek served simultaneously in the state legislature several years ago, being representatives from their respective counties.

Carnations in deep pink formed the attractive centerpiece for the dinner table, and room bouquets were of anapagnons and carnations.

Guests of Mrs. Clouchek, in addition to the honorees, were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Colner, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Colner, Jr., Mrs. H. O. Miner, Mrs. Genevieve Dwight, Miss Letta McCoy, Miss Helen Peterson, Henry Colner, John Breckenridge and John Minter.

Mrs. McCoy, convention chairman, was elected president of the state federation yesterday and Mrs. Dwight was chairman of the banquet the second night of the convention.

Islands, home guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Read. Other guests were Miss Annabelle Gore, Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Margaret Kennedy and Miss Gladys Colner, all of Twin Falls.

AMERICA STRUCK BY FAMINE?

It's Caused By Too Much Starch, Say Scientists
Famine in America? You wouldn't think it possible, in this year of bumper crops—but it's true! Millions of Americans are starving for Vitamin B, just because we eat so much food that needs Vitamin B for proper assimilation.

What's the result? Chronic constipation—poor appetite—nervousness—sleeplessness—even neuritis in adults. In children, lack of energy—digestive upset—failure to grow properly. What can you do about it?

Wheatamin supplies the Vitamin B in the ordinary American diet. Lack of it will pay you—in new health, new energy, new enjoyment of life—to learn more about Vitamin B and Wheatamin.

Ask today for a little booklet, "The More Abundant Life," put out by the makers of Wheatamin, the Natural Vitamin Supplement. Ask Your Doctor, Drug Store, Twin Falls, Idaho, Adv.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Osterloh will be married this month to Fred Jacobson, Boise.

FILIPINO GROUP FEARS FREEDOM

MANILA, May 24.—The Dominant position of the United States in the Philippines has been the subject of a recent article in the Philippine Free Press, a Manila newspaper. The article, which was written by a prominent Filipino, stated that the United States has been in the Philippines for more than 3,000 years.

The association aims to work for the indefinite continuation of the commonwealth government beyond the term of the present president. It has decided to organize and conduct a campaign of information throughout the country to acquaint the people of the "unsuccessful" dangers of prompt independence, and to bring about popular demand for an extension of the present form of government as long as it proves beneficial and advantageous to the Philippines and the United States.

Fear For East
The association's renewed activity has been attributed to the uncertainty of the situation in the far east and to increased fears of economic strangulation of the Philippines.

The association has limited funds and personnel, and thus far only a few provinces have been organized. Its campaign, officials of the society, however, said they would do everything possible to achieve the mission of the association.

Explaining the purpose of the organization, its officials said: "It is not that we have no faith in the Filipino people, it is that we believe their courage. It is that there is a variety of education, money, and to the fact that the Philippines would be the best of the Philippines, which would cause the Filipino people back to their senses. It is the devotion of the man who is overcome with sentimental and romantic notions and refuses steadfastly to out-grow them."

Regarding themselves as a partnership between the Philippines and the United States would be the best of the Philippines, which would cause the Filipino people back to their senses. It is the devotion of the man who is overcome with sentimental and romantic notions and refuses steadfastly to out-grow them."

PIANIST DISPLAYS MARATHON FEAT
SEATTLE, Wash., May 24.—Piano playing a marathon feat for 24 hours, 37-year-old Seattle gasoline station operator.

Hajek's distinction is simply stated: He plays longer than any other pianist. He plays after every body has left or has gone to sleep. He plays until he is physically exhausted, ready to drop. In short, he's a marathon pianist.

It's hard business, he disclosed. "I've done it for 24 hours and seven nights, and afterwards I was so weak I couldn't lift a cup of coffee to my mouth," Hajek remarked.

Settles World Record
Hajek, incidentally set the world's record for a marathon piano playing in 1930 in San Francisco—168 hours. Now that the collegiate puppy-givers have come along to set a few more records, Hajek's feat is being broken by a record set in San Francisco and New York last night.

He may do it, too, for he has already started an intensive training routine like any college athlete. "I've done it for 24 hours and seven nights, and afterwards I was so weak I couldn't lift a cup of coffee to my mouth," Hajek remarked.

SOUL MATE IDEA SCORED IN LOVE
PITTSBURGH, May 24.—Girls who wait for their Prince Charming to appear are likely to be disappointed, according to Dr. Paul Popenoe, director of the Los Angeles Institute of Human Relations.

"The dream that somewhere there is a 'soul mate' waiting for everyone is just so much 'childish bunk,' Dr. Popenoe declared here. "There are nearly 30,000,000 marriages in the United States and each year a million more are added to that number," he said. "Unfortunately, nearly 200,000 of the million marriages in the present year may end in divorce court, and others, though not breaking up the marriage, will be miserable in it."

Dr. Popenoe said the reason for the high divorce rate is that the couples "don't try." "They intend to get, not to give," he said. "It's up to the other fellow to do all the work."

"The trouble is," he said, "that they are married, they think it is time to settle down. If you want to 'settle down' after marriage, don't try to rent a home; just move into the graveyard."

350,000 Watch Favorite Win English Derby

EPHRAIM DOWNS, Eng., May 24 (UP)—Blue Peter won the 160th running of the English derby before 250,000 spectators at Epsom Downs today.

The winner, a 7-2 favorite, was owned by Lord Rosebery, whose father's horses won the historic event in 1894, 1895 and 1900.

Edward Smalley's Fox Cub was second in the largest field of starters in a decade and Lord Derby's Heliopole was third.

Two American-owned horses, William Woodward's Hypnotist, second choice to Blue Peter in the early betting and Salford II, who carried the silks of Ralph B. Strassburger, finished out of the money in the field of 27.

Blue Peter was timed in two minutes and 36 4-5 seconds for the mile and a half race over a sloping course. Salford II finished last. Hypnotist, the other American runner, was seventh behind Buxton and Admiral's Walk who finished fifth and sixth.

Blue Peter won approximately 10,500 pounds ($27,500) in first money.

RABIES

(Hydrophobia)

This disease is not the same as lock-jaw (tetanus). It is primarily an infection of animals; cats, skunks and various wild animals are afflicted with it but dogs are its chief victims. Rabies occurs sporadically in the United States but a great many of the scares worked up over "mad dogs" are entirely imaginary.

The cause we find to be another cause of those microbes known as viruses because they are too small to be seen with the microscope. This virus is contained in the saliva of the infected animal and is transferred to other animals or to people when the saliva comes into contact with an open wound (such as a bite) or with the mucous membranes of the nose or mouth.

Symptoms Slow to Appear

Rabies produces symptoms slowly after the virus reaches the brain and spinal cord. Since the virus travels not by the blood stream but along the nerves, it takes a week or a month or three months for symptoms to develop according to the distance the sound of entrance is from the nervous system.

Cases have been known to occur more than a year after infection but the average interval between wound and the appearance of symptoms is 50 to 60 days.

Danger of Infection

Of persons bitten by rabid animals and not treated 10 to 16 per cent will have rabies. Of those who fall ill with this disease 15 to 70 per cent will die, depending on the site and location of the initial wound. Bites through clothing are far less dangerous than those on the bare skin.

Treatment

Once a human being has developed rabies little can be done for him. It is therefore essential that everyone bitten by rabid animals be given preventive treatment at once.

First of all, the wound should be washed out and mechanically cleaned; then it should be cauterized with pure carbolic acid, immediately followed by alcohol. This will lessen the quantity of virus absorbed and result in a long latent period before the appearance of symptoms.

Next the Pasteur treatment should be started at once. It consists of a series of injections and when promptly used results in a death rate of less than one person in a thousand.

Mad Dogs

Dogs who have rabies may be (1) restless and cross, or (2) unusually quiet. They are likely to avoid people and refuse to eat, but sometimes they seem to be afraid and to crave petting and attention. Before dying they become paralyzed. It is unusual for them to pick a fight with other animals or with people, but they often travel long distances from home.

To kill an animal suspected of rabies is to make a dangerous mistake. If the beast actually has rabies in the early stage it will probably be impossible to prove it by examining the carcass. But if the creature is shut up and watched he will die of rabies if he has it and the examination of his tissues after death from the disease will prove the nature of his disease. On the contrary if the animal remains healthy or recovers from his illness in a couple of weeks rabies can be ruled out and no one whom he has bitten has reason to worry.

Prevention

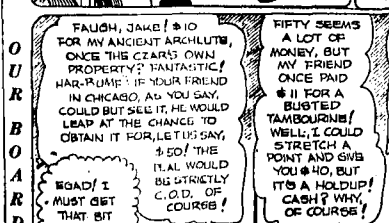

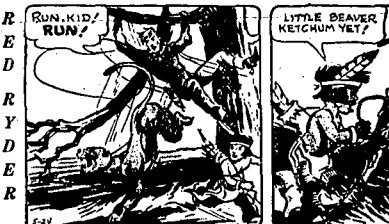

Destruction of animals proved to have rabies and the muzzling of healthy dogs are methods of prevention, but most veterinarians regard the vaccination of pets against this disease as effective and desirable, especially during rabies scares. (Next release on Tetanus—Look-Jaw.)
