MYSTERY CLOUDS FATE OF ATLANTIC FLIER

Rome and London Hint New Steps Against Flareup

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Foreign News Editor

Europe's prospects for a bumper crop of olive branches this summer improved today with Italy and Great Britain hinting at new moves toward peaceful settlement of international quarrels.

In Rome, a high ranking Fascist official in close touch with Premier Benito Mussolini declared that Italy will avoid any move endangering European peace while seeking solution of immediate problems.

In London, there were cautious indications that the government of Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain would send a note to Germany again opening the door for a general European settlement and possibly offering Adolf Hitler a non-aggression treaty.

Could Change Swiftly

Both moves as well as the mounting hope for a period of peace—depend upon developments which might easily change overnight. The millions of bayonets still ready on every frontier. Whether they suddenly will be used to puncture peace depends upon how Europe's rulers judge the comparative strength and solidarity of the totalitarian bloc and the rival security front formed by Great Britain and France.

For the moment, the security front leaders were confident that British and Soviet Russia would complete their military alliance and that France and Turkey would come to terms returning to Turkey the province of Alexandretta. The two objectives would bring Russia and Turkey into the "peace" camp, and would remove the principal cause of German and Italian concern.

Against such a united front there is a growing belief that Germany and Italy would prefer a period of peaceful consolidation and negotiation of conflict in view of Britain's offer to offer to make the adjustment of claims, and of France's willingness to meet at least a good share of Italy's demands in the Mediterranean.

Mussolini already has indicated desire for such negotiation and, again, in general principle. However, war or peace may turn largely on the attitude of Hitler. Nobody in position of power in Europe any longer even tries to guess what the Nazi leader will do, but at least on paper the opposition to any aggressive move is now united and ready to fight.

BRITAIN DRAFTING NOTE TO BERLIN

LONDON, May 29 (U.P.)—The foreign office and the admiralty are drafting an important note to Germany regarding the naval limitation treaty which Adolf Hitler denounced a month ago.

It was expected the note would be dispatched some time after the present conclusion of the French-French-Russian mutual aid treaty.

Willing to Settle

Terms of the British note remain secret, and its content depends on intervening events. But barring unexpected developments, it was expected to assure Germany of Britain's steadfast willingness to make a general settlement of outstanding problems.

Diplomatic quarters reported the note might even offer Hitler a non-aggression treaty.

A German news agency published reports Saturday that Prime Minister Chamberlain considered summoning a general peace conference as soon as the Munich pact was concluded. Officials here disclaimed knowledge of such a possibility.

Denounced April 22

Hitler denounced the British-German naval treaty in his Reichstag speech April 22. The treaty limited Germany's naval tonnage to 35 percent that of Great Britain.

It was expected the British foreign office would complete tomorrow or Wednesday two notes to Japan, one firmly rejecting Japan's claim to the right to exert control over foreign areas in China, and a second measure, and secondly refusing to concede Japan the right to enforce a naval blockade of the China coast.

Slim Denies Taxes

WASHINGTON, May 29 (U.P.)—Idaho Sumner, movie comedian, today denied a rumor that he would pay income taxes for 1938 and 1937.

In a petition filed with the board of tax appeal, Sumner will ask the government erroneously refused to allow him to make community returns with his wife.

Back on Good Old Land Again

These faces showing strain of 29-hour underwater ordeal, these men are back on good old land again. They are members of the U.S. Navy diving team which rescued the crew of the sunken submarine Squalus.

DIVERS AT WORK ON SUNKEN SUB

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 29 (U.P.)—Divers worked in a temperature of 20 degrees above zero 40 fathoms down in the Atlantic today salvaging the sunken submarine Squalus.

Work had been halted temporarily because of the danger that air lines would freeze but after a diver had tested the water in an electrically heated tank, others returned to the job breathing an oxygen-helium mixture that had a lower freezing point than ordinary compressed air.

The last of raising the flooded submarine and the 26 dead of her crew became increasingly difficult because of weather conditions, and some naval authorities believed it might not be completed before late in the summer. In view of the delay, the navy was beginning an official investigation of the mishap without waiting for the Squalus to be brought up.

Survivors of the crew and from the smaller boats in the area. Six Portsmouth churches held memorial services for the 26 dead yesterday.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (U.P.)—The senate today paid tribute to the memory of Senators Royal S. Copeland of New York and James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois.

The regular business of the senate was suspended to permit memorial services in honor of the two deceased Democrats.

Navy Can Block Attacks—Leahy

WASHINGTON, May 29 (U.P.)—Admiral William D. Leahy, chief of naval operations, today said in a radio address that the navy can repel any major attack by a single nation or by a coalition of nations.

Leahy said that the navy could provide a successful defense against even the most powerful combinations.

BOISE, May 29 (U.P.)—Gov. C. A. Bott has been asked to enter a cow milking contest with the Mayor James H. Smith of Boise as the prize.

ADMINISTRATION ARMS SALE PLAN MAY DRAW FIRE

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON, May 29 (U.P.)—The administration neutrality plan to put every American product including arms and ammunition up for sale to belligerents on a come-and-get-it basis raised questions over the power today and promised sharp and prolonged debate.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull proposed the neutrality program over the week-end in two significant moves. He addressed chairmen of the house and senate committees dealing with foreign affairs with a six-point plan of legislation. Both committees will meet this week.

Challenge Isolation

Last night, speaking in Chicago, he challenged the theory of "national isolation" in a warning that otherwise the United States might become a "plaything" of the family of nations.

He said national isolation would help us solve neither our domestic nor foreign problems. It is our determination, he continued, to protect our peace. Our role in foreign affairs, he said, had two essential aspects:

1. The maintenance of world order under law by adhering to lawful principles; by using our moral force to induce other nations to do so; by cooperating in peaceful methods to that end and by maintaining our strength and courage.

2. Promotion of sound and healthy international economic relations as an indispensable foundation of a peaceful world order and enduring peace.

First Move

His Chicago address was interpreted as the first move in the battle of the administration's neutrality proposals, the most significant of which was for repeal of the 1917 arms embargo against export of arms, ammunition and implements of war to belligerents. That embargo now is on the statute books as an independent foundation of a peaceful world order and enduring peace.

Prohibit American ships, after such a proclamation, from entering belligerent areas; permit travel by Americans in combat areas; regulate the solicitation and collection here of funds and supplies for belligerent armies; nationalize control and the system of arms, explosives and licenses; require belligerents to pay cash here, for all goods.

PITTMAN FAVORS LIFTING EMBARGO

WASHINGTON, May 29 (U.P.)—Following the House of Representatives, the senate foreign relations committee predicted today that a majority of its committee will support the administration's neutrality law proposals which include elimination of arms embargo against belligerent nations.

Pittman said that cancellation of the administration's position on neutrality proposals by Secretary of State Cordell Hull should increase prospects for congressional action at this session.

The majority of the committee will be in accord with the main principles of the secretary's program, Pittman said.

Of course, he said, "there may be changes made here and there in the plan. Naturally, I am in agreement with the secretary's proposals because they substantially line up with my own."

American Pilot May Be Lost After Reports of Landing at Irish Port

'Feuhrer' Smiles 'Baby Clipper' Fails To Land at Croydon

CROYDON AIRDROME, LONDON, May 29 (U.P.)—Fear that Thomas H. Smith, en route from Maine in an $1,800 plane, had failed to span the Atlantic ocean was expressed by some British aviation experts tonight as darkness closed in without any definite word from the American flier.

LONDON, May 29 (U.P.)—The 3,000-mile flight of Thomas H. Smith from Maine to Ireland took a mysterious turn tonight as the American flier was reported in Ireland but failed to show up on schedule in England.

The $1,800 "baby clipper" plane was first believed sighted over Londonderry, on the North Irish coast, but flying too high for identification. Later, the officer on duty at Croydon airdrome, outside London, announced receipt of a message from the control officer at Foyens air base on the western coast of Ireland saying Smith had landed there, refueled and continued to London at 3:45 p. m. (8:45 a. m. CST).

A telephone call to Foyens resulted in a statement by the wireless officer, only official on duty at the air base at 5:50 p. m., that he knew nothing about Smith landing at the base.

At Croydon, a check-up failed to show any further trace of the plane that observers believed might have been Smith's. There is no airport at Londonderry and a survey showed the plane had not landed anywhere nearby.

Smith's craft, carried 100 gallons of gasoline on a flight that he expected to complete in less than 24 hours after taking off from Old Orchard Beach, Me., May 27.

Warbling Miner Saved From Pit

SHEENANDOE, Penn., May 29 (U.P.)—Robert Galligan, 37, was hauled to safety today from the bottom of a 75-foot, boggy soil shaft where he had been trapped for 68 hours, without food, and threatened even minute with death by another slide.

He had spent his last hours calling encouragement to his rescuers and singing them songs from "The Bear Barrel Fok."

His grimy face broke into a grin as he staggered from the shaft and he stood a bystander: "Glimme a clegy."

Galligan was delighted by the reception given him by several hundred townspeople who had kept vigil around the shaft for two days and nights.

Dr. John R. Lechner, American-lun director of the American Legion, was understood to have supplied police with the information which allegedly linked a number of terms and Irish leaders in a three-point program.

Police said the evidence submitted to them said the program was as follows:

1. Assassination of the visiting British royalty.

2. Launching of a destructive campaign of sabotage attacking British shipping on the Pacific coast.

3. Propaganda campaign to foment ill feeling between the British and the American people.

PICKETING UPHELD

DENVER, May 29 (U.P.)—Colorado won a quarter-century battle today as the state supreme court ruled that peaceful picketing in labor disputes no longer is a crime in the state.

The high court held in effect that the Colorado anti-picketing statute of 1908—a law matched in severity in the nation only by an Alabama statute—was not constitutional. Two Palls had selection will precede the memorial address by Captain Buckley, after which the firing squad of Co. E, 10th Engineers, will fire a volley; tape will be sounded by Bugler Wiley of Co. E, and the band will play Star Spangled Banner.

Senators Reject Choice of F. D. R.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (U.P.)—A small group of anti-communists today voted 4 to 2 to present an unfavorable report to the full committee on President Roosevelt's choice of William E. Borah as U. S. district attorney for Nevada.

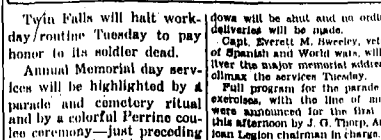

The vote upheld objections to Borah by Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., who opposed the nomination on grounds Borah was "personally obnoxious" to him.

Townsend Vote Set

WASHINGTON, May 29 (U.P.)—The house agreed today to vote on the Townsend pension plan Thursday after five hours' general debate on Wednesday.

SAINT LARRY, CALIF., May 29 (U.P.)—A nine-year-old girl, forced into an automobile and driven to an airplane, was rescued today by a police officer. The girl was taken to the hospital and is now recovering from her injuries.

Key Figure?

33 STEEL KINGS READY FOR AUT CLASSIC

Average Time of All Starters Hits 123 M. P. H.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 29 (UP)—The stage was set today for America's super-sports spectacle—the 27th annual 600-mile Memorial day automobile race at the Indianapolis speedway tomorrow.

Thirty-three drivers and cars were qualified and ready for the starting bomb; the big two-and-a-half mile track was washed and scoured; the weather man predicted a fair day; and the crowd of 150,000 expected to see the race was streaming into the city.

The contestants will take positions before the judge's stand shortly before 10 a. m. tomorrow and will start out in groups of three. They'll be shooting for the $20,000 first prize and the $20,000 or $25,000 additional money that goes with it.

The field is one of the fastest in the history of the classic. The average for the 33 starters in their 10-mile tests was 123.457 miles per hour. The field was completed late yesterday when six drivers qualified.

They were Al Miller, Pittsburgh; Floyd Davis, Ill.; Harry MacQuinn, Milwaukee; Louis Tom, Portland, Ore.; and Billy De Vere, St. John, Kan.

Jimmy Snyder, Chicago, won the coveted pole position by breaking all qualifying records the first day of test runs with a mark of 130.138 m. p. h.

Beside him in the front row will be two former 500-mile winners—the veterans Lou Meyer and Wilbur Shaw.

Oakland Club Thumps Stars To Climb Up

Bea, the 30-year-old ex-hitter, ended his ailing season yesterday, but Baer had another brilliant season against his hired hands today.

Cards Retain Pioneer Top Despite Loss

(By United Press)
Pioneer league teams Monday were traveling after a week's play which saw the league leadership change from Lewiston to Pocatello. Salt Lake goes to Ogden, Boise to Lewiston and Pocatello to Twin Falls, for Decoration day double-headers Tuesday.

The Cardinals continued to lead the league by two and one-half games after they lost Sunday to the Ogden Reds in Pocatello 13 to 4. The Cards previously had taken two games to clinch the series. They won Saturday's game 13 to 3.

The unpredictable Mike Pilius and Salt Lake Bees finished their series in Boise, with the Pilius winning Saturday 6 to 5 in 13 innings and the Bees winning Sunday 10 to 4. In their last meeting in Salt Lake City, the Bees took all three games. The losses ran Salt Lake's streak to three after they previously won six consecutive games.

The Lewiston Indians and Twin Falls Cowboys split games over a week-end, Lewiston winning 9 to 4 Saturday and Twin Falls reversing the deal Sunday 10 to 4. Their loss Saturday prevented the Indians from gaining on the Cardinals, who also lost. The Cowboys, however, ended the week only one game behind the Lewiston Indians.

Training Grind Ends; Baer Has Slight Odds

NEW YORK, May 29 (UP)—The training grind is ended and the springing off process began today for a couple of California clouters, Lou Nova and Max Baer, who punch to and fro in the ring.

Ernie Blum, who is taking a triple for Twin Falls and Morey did the same for Lewiston. He was scheduled to fight with between 25,000 and 30,000 spectators, but observers believe 20,000 may put the gate a little over $100,000.

There's Some Excitement In American League Bean Ball and Near-Fight!

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, May 29 (UP)—As Johnny Allen around there'll be some excitement in the American league.

Allen yesterday batted Gerald Walker, not being a pitcher bouncing a baseball off his head, took his bat and ran after Allen. White Sox players intervened and prevented Walker from hitting Allen's head.

This is the sort of thing American league fans will have to get their teeth during the rest of the season. The Yankees now have a 5-1 game lead and can take a couple of holidays and still breeze home.

Allen let the White Sox down with three hits as Cleveland beat the Yankees now again—Their 17th victory in 18 games.

Dare Devilry at Peak: Mac Goes 28 Per Hour

BY HENRY McLEMORE
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 29 (UP)—Dare devilry reached a new height at the Indianapolis 500-mile speedway yesterday when the first lap in history, a driver stepped into a racing car and drove the track at top speed throughout.

He didn't slow down going into or coming out of the curve, but took the tortuous turns which have cost so many lives with the accelerator pressed hard against the floorboard. For two laps, from a flying start, he gave his car everything it had, exhibiting a form of death that left the spectators gasping.

Early Edge
Twin Falls rolled up a 4-1 edge by scoring twice in the second and twice in the third. The cowboys slipped across single scores in the fifth, sixth, eighth and ninth while Lewiston was adding with a run in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Olafsky and Hurler, on the hill for the Indians, gave up 11 hits to the Twin Falls club.

Twin Falls collected two double plays—Lehman to Bishop to Carlson for one of them, and Bogdanoff to Carlson for the other.
