ABANDONED 'ADMIRALTY' DEAD

FDR'S BUSINESS GOOD WILL PLAN SPURS '40 TALK

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON, June 3 (U.P.)—The administration was seeking better relations with business today, especially with the nation's shopkeepers, with a persistence that recalls the statement of Postmaster General James A. Farley: "Roosevelt has his eye on 1940 as well as the next man."

The play for little business support is both direct and effective, it inevitably figures here in third term speculation.

Another factor in the bettering of the administration's attitude toward business is the reports from the President's fiscal and monetary advisory committee—the so-called "peaks and valleys" group, composed of persons in and out of office. It is headed by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and is meeting with increasing frequency.

Informed persons say its recommendations are given serious consideration at the White House. Reports made by the committee covered such subjects as taxes, social security, labor-business relationship and credit. It met again yesterday and various means of tamping private capital into investment channels were discussed.

Bank Income Tax Boost. Meanwhile, the house ways and means committee, considering a compromise tax revision program designed to "appease" business—particularly big business—voted against changes in individual income tax rates at this session.

Morgenthau had suggested a study of lower surtaxes on large incomes in event congress approved pending legislation to eliminate future income tax exempt federal bonds.

But the committee last night decided to limit the tax bill to changes in corporate levies, particularly the undistributed profits and the excess capital stock laws.

None here doubts that Mr. Roosevelt wants a New Dealer in the White House for the 1940 election. The question is whether the President finally will decide to make the race himself. He has decided three times previously in his life, "Behind the Ballots."

He Eyes 1940. "Roosevelt has his eye on 1940 as well as the next man," he wrote. "Knowing politics as he does, and realizing the danger of showing his hand too soon, he is waiting for an individual. The paramount influence rests with him. Until he takes a big question mark and places after it and all speculation about 1940."

Farley has not materially added to that. The suggestion but is understood to have returned from his recent trans-continental tour convinced himself that he would not be a 1940 nomination if he goes after it.

HELD IN KIDNAP, GIRL COLLAPSES

PHILADELPHIA, June 3 (U.P.)—Heather Lee, 11, confessed kidnaper of a five-month-old baby to police here yesterday after confessing her, became hysterical and collapsed today when she was ordered to leave without bail for the grand jury.

Little Gerald McCrohan, object of one of the greatest searches in Philadelphia history until he was found unharmed 10 hours after his abduction, cooed and smiled in his mother's arms during the proceedings.

Frederick Bauer, 23, Miss Wood's jobless sweetheart, was not at the hearing. He was released yesterday after convincing police he had been an innocent dupe of the girl's plan to get him to marry her by making him believe he was the father of the child.

Boisterous John Feels Fine Now

CHICAGO, June 3 (U.P.)—John Rosenberg, who was in a strait orange juice and "good fresh water" diet after a heart attack four days ago, is so much improved that he is drinking "anything I like" today.

He proved it last night by quaffing a Scotch and soda while telling reporters about the vast improvement in his condition.

"Well, I feel fine," he boomed. "I feel so good that as soon as I get off this egg-for-breakfast diet I'm going to have chili con carne for breakfast."

Water Shortage

BOISE, June 3 (U.P.)—A serious water shortage predicted by U. S. Reclamation Engineer E. A. Tamm has arrived and crop conditions throughout Idaho are critical, reclamation Commissioner James Moffett said today.

"There have been no summer rains to speak of and the condition is serious."

Wife of Lost Commander Puts Aside Own Grief to Break News to Women

By LYLE C. WILSON

BIRKENHEAD, Eng., June 3 (U.P.)—Mrs. Sybil Bolus, wife of the commander of the sunken Thetis, brushed aside her own grief today and set about the task of informing the womenfolk of the men under her husband's command that all hope had been abandoned.

Hollow-eyed and exhausted with worry, she passed among sorrowing groups of wives, mothers and sweethearts outside the gates of the Cammell-Laird company, builders of the trim submarine, that has become a tomb of death, and whispered the despairing news.

Cammell-Laird officials asked her to tell the womenfolk the news contained in information from the British admiralty in London.

She had been moving back and forth among the women, day and night, since the Thetis was reported missing Thursday afternoon after failing to resurface after a test dive.

Throughout yesterday and last night she sought to raise the drooping spirits of the womenfolk, urging them to hope for the best as she did. She urged many of the older women to go home and rest, but few were willing to leave the docks.

The news that hope had been abandoned was not broadcast generally—only to the close relatives of the doomed men.

Even Mrs. Bolus set about on her and mission, members of the crews of other submarines and from rescue tugs continued to spread optimistic reports among the women.

As much as they wanted to clutch any straw of hope, the womenfolk knew that the message given them by the wife of the Thetis' commander dashed all optimism.

To them she has been the heroine of the disaster during the long hours of waiting.

When she could persuade any of the women to leave the Cammell-Laird gates and go home for a few hours of troubled rest, she drove them in her own automobile.

Today she took more of them home, some sobbing others dazed without a word to say about the tragedy that came so suddenly.

Student Receives Writ In Fight for Diploma

CALDWELL, June 3 (U.P.)—Leroy Harris, senior at Northwest Nazarene college of Nampa, denied a diploma, held a district court writ of mandate returnable June 18 ordering the college and its president, Dr. V. DeLong, to show cause why a permanent writ should not be granted.

Five other students denied their diplomas with Harris, all because they attended an alumni banquet before graduation according to the order of the faculty, prepared to institute similar proceedings.

The present suit will serve as a test case for the other five. Eugene Wesley Clark, Samuel E. Evenson, William C. Bapiste, Lloyd F. Pounds and Gerald Worcester.

"The action of Northwest Nazarene college was usurpation of power to oppress and unjustly and unlawfully deprive the petitioner of his degree and diploma," the petition read.

President DeLong asked for a written apology for attending the banquet, but Harris said he felt no apology was due.

Harris asserted in his petition, filed by Earl J. Harris, Nampa, and Elbert Selander, Boise, attorneys, that he completed his course of study, complied with the rules and was entitled to a degree.

The petition asserted the alumni association banquet had existed for 15 years and graduating seniors were eligible to become members.

Harris was denied his diploma because he attended an alumni association banquet before graduation after the president advised the senior class it should not attend. There is a rift between the faculty and alumni.

Liverpool, England, June 3 (U.P.)—The terrible story of what was happening down in the tomb-like blackness at the bottom of Liverpool bay where the submarine Thetis lay was told today by P. F. Shaw, civilian technician of the Cammell-Laird company, constructors of the stricken submarine—the last man to leave alive yesterday by means of the "Davis tank" escape apparatus.

Lying on a bunk, the sailor, who Grebeck, still clung and occasionally gasping as if still in the choking atmosphere of the Thetis, Shaw told a London Daily Express correspondent.

"There is little hope for the other chaps. When I left, the gas was getting worse. Men were lying sprawled in the compartments. It seemed already they were doomed to die but there was no panic."

(Admiralty officials said that by "gas" Shaw undoubtedly meant the constantly suffocating air.)

"I could hear the other chaps moving about in the darkness. At first they did not complain. They kept up a running tale of sports."

Shaw, the last man up, was the first ashore. He landed from the Grebeck last night, assisted by sailors. He was wrapped in a thick coat with a cow-like hood. His eyes were watering, his face was pale and expressions. He did not respond to a friendly pat on his back by a bystander as he was helped into an automobile and driven off to a hospital.

Umbrella Hop Into River is A Dismal Flop

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., June 3 (U.P.)—"The photo dry cell chute"—or as it sometimes is known, the "electric umbrella," proved a failure today in its maiden test over the side of the Atlantic Highlands bridge.

Cine Torricelli made the initial descent to the shoreward river 40 feet below the bridge. Inverted, he was lowered by the rope. He turned inside out. Torricelli hit the water with a splash. The revolutionary parachute sank, and not even Torricelli was able to retrieve it.

Details of the "photo dry cell chute" were guarded closely by the inventor. Outraged it appeared to be an ordinary umbrella, wound with copper wire and painted with silver. A man, dressed in a percher on the tip and the hint that dry cell batteries were employed to give gravity, added to the mystery of its construction.

Jews Without Country Cruise Sea Aimlessly

HAVANA, June 3 (U.P.)—Crowded with 222 German-Jewish refugees for whom no home could be found, the Hamburg-American liner, the St. Louis sailed, officially, to return to Hamburg, but actually, Capt. Wilhelm Schroeder, the skipper, said, to cruise around the Caribbean today appealing by radio to sailors of the new world to relieve her of her terrified passengers before there was a wave of suicides aboard.

Regimen for the 26 victims of the U. S. submarine Sculpin disaster came almost prophetic for Great Britain only a few hours before the English sub, Thetis, went to the bottom of the Irish sea to duplicate the American disaster but on a larger scale. Death toll in the Thetis is set at 96. In photo above while a 21-gun salute slowly boomed heroes' farewell to the 26 Sculpin victims, the crew of her sister ship, Sculpin, lowered the flag to half-mast.

"It Was Awful," Says British Sub Survivor

LIVERPOOL, England, June 3 (U.P.)—The terrible story of what was happening down in the tomb-like blackness at the bottom of Liverpool bay where the submarine Thetis lay was told today by P. F. SOLONS PROPOSE PENSIONS BOOST

WASHINGTON, June 3 (U.P.)—The house ways and means committee today followed the overwhelming house defeat of the Townsend old age pension plan with a proposal to raise old-age pensions from $30 to $40 a month.

Agreement on that was reached last night as the committee completed action on the administration's program to raise the social security bill and prepared to report the act to the house next week.

Under present law the federal government matches state aid to the aged up to $10 monthly. The committee agreed to extend that figure to $20 a month.

Although the social security act does not limit state aid now to $15 maximum contribution, the general effect has been to limit pensions to $30 a month. It was believed the increase to $20 in the amount the federal government would provide would have the practical effect of limiting pensions to $40.

WALK

PHILADELPHIA, June 3 (U.P.)—Hikers started on the first leg of their hike today to the White Mountains. The hike was organized by the Philadelphia Physical Culture Club.

Approximately 60,000 pounds of meat, butter, eggs, cheese, poultry and fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables pass through the warehouse each week.

Admiralty Tells Britain All Hope Lost for Victims MEN DIE GASPING FROM CHOKING CHLORINE GAS

By JAY YINDBRICH

LIVERPOOL, June 3 (U.P.)—The admiralty announced today it has abandoned all hope for the men entombed in the stricken submarine Thetis, which sank in the Irish sea Thursday in the worst submarine disaster in history with a toll of 96 dead.

Ninety-seven of the men died gasping in the pitch-black hull as lethal chlorine gas from operating batteries filled their cramped compartments. They lay in a steel tomb 130 feet beneath the rippling surface of the sea 14 miles offshore. The 98th man perished trying to fight his way to safety in an "escape" lung.

Only a bright green buoy, with the word "wreck" in large white letters, marked the grave at sea of the men of the British navy and civilian sailors who died Thursday morning for what was to have been a routine test dive of the new submarine.

Salvage work will continue, but it was doubted that the 1,570-ton craft could be raised from the muddy bed of the sea today.

An admiralty statement read: "The admiralty regrets that there is now no longer any justification for hope that any of the men can be saved from the Thetis."

14 Miles Offshore. The sausage-like hull of the British navy's newest and most modern submarine lay on the muddy bottom of Liverpool bay, 14 miles off shore, delaying all attempts to raise her 13 hours after exhaustion of her estimated air supply.

Abandonment of hope, begun immediately during the most momentous hour by a faint tapping from inside the steel sides of the Thetis, spelled that "we are all alone," some of the men had been heard to say 13 hours after exhaustion of her estimated air supply.

"The Thetis had an accident when, after one of her trials, she became entangled in a net," said a spokesman. "The net was caught on the hull and the Thetis was forced to stop. The net was cut and the Thetis was able to continue her trial."

PEO Banquet Program Features Local Matron

The glamorous, vigorous life that was the history of Ketchum, Hailey and Bellevue, in the years before the Sawtooth mountain region was made famous once again by the Sun Valley resort, will be fascinatingly told during the state convention of the P.E.O. Sisterhood June 6-8 at Sun Valley.

Mrs. E. B. Williams, Twin Falls, will be one of the featured speakers at the convention banquet Tuesday evening, her subject being "Early Ketchum Days," when mining, rather than skiing, was the paramount interest.

Probably one of the best-versed women in this section on pioneer days, Mrs. Williams went to Ketchum in 1881. She assisted her husband, the late E. B. Williams, in operating the Williams hotel on the site now occupied by the Casino in Ketchum.

The three local chapters of the P. E. O. will be well represented at the convention. Delegations will be headed by the three chapter presidents, Mrs. Kenyon Green, chapter AI; Mrs. J. B. Duffenderfer, chapter AO; and Miss Jessie Fraser, chapter D.

Delegates will be housed at Chalmers Inn and convention sessions will be held at the opera house.

The convention will begin Tuesday with a coffee hour from 11 o'clock to the morning until noon at Sun Valley lodge.

First session will be called at 1:15 o'clock at the opera house.

Husbands of members are invited to attend the convention banquet Tuesday evening, local officers have been informed.

The convention will continue Wednesday and Thursday. Chapter Y, Shoshone, is convention hostess.

Dessert and Shower Feature Pink, Blue

Charming in all details was the dessert luncheon and "pink and blue" shower at which Mrs. Welden Clark and Mrs. Lawrence Hall entertained yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Merritt Shortwell.

The 16 guests, intimate friends of the honoree, found their places at four quartet tables, two covered with pink cloths and two with blue luncheon pointed in crystalware placed on white paper lace doilies.

Miniature pink and blue parasols, tied with small white fiber ribbons and attached to rose-hued place cards with pink cellophane bows, marked each cover. Roses in bud vases completed the table setting.

The rose motif was further emphasized in the elaborate parasol of two shades of pink, trimmed with sprays of real roses, beneath which the guest of honor found the many attractive gifts. The parasol centered a lace-covered table in the dining room.

Especially interesting in the decorative details of the home, was the floral arrangement on the radio. A deep sapphire blue crystal bowl, in the shape of a daisy, held pink rosebuds and candy blue flowers in deep blue.

It is an heirloom of Mrs. Clark's, having been in the family for several generations.

Divertissement of the afternoon was a series of games appropriate to the occasion.

Representing Dan McCook circle, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic at the state convention June 21-23 at Payette, will be Mrs. Cora Murphy, Mrs. Olive Jones and Mrs. Nora Fulton. Also attending will be Mrs. Hazel Garter, president of the local circle.

Delegates were named at a business meeting of the group yesterday afternoon at the Sun Valley Memorial hall. The group planned also to participate in the annual Flag day June 14, sponsored by the United Order of Patriotic Women's organizations, each group contributing program numbers.

Mrs. Gardner, with presidents of the other affiliated groups, will form the refreshment committee, and Mrs. Fulton will be a member of the kitchen committee.

Arrangements were made for the annual rosebud sale June 17 with Mrs. Gardner in charge. Also added was the no-hostess luncheon June 18 at the home of Mrs. Irene Welner.

More than 65 years of age will be guests at the luncheon, when their birthday anniversaries will be observed jointly.

BRIDE-ELITE FETE AT PRE-NUPTIAL EVENT. Complimentary to her daughter, Mrs. Verda Decker, who will become the bride of Kenneth Park, June 10, Mrs. George Decker entertained yesterday afternoon at a miscellaneous shower.

Mildred Parish To Wed in Utah

BUHL, June 8 (Special)—Miss Mildred Parish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Parish, will become the bride of Francis T. Decker, Evansville, Ind., Sunday, at the First Presbyterian church in Salt Lake City.—Mr. Decker is the son of Mrs. Leta May Decker, Wyoming.

Date of the wedding was announced at a betrothal tea one afternoon this week at the Parish home east of Buhl, attended by 30 school friends of Miss Parish. Mrs. Parish, mother of the bride-elect, was assisted by another daughter, Miss Bernice Parish.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. E. L. Berry and Mrs. William F. Berry. Mrs. Berry is a graduate of the University of Washington, Seattle, and has been an instructor in the high school for the past several years. Mr. Decker is employed in the reclamation plant of the Union Pacific.

They will be at home at 324 Twelfth street, Evanston, Wyo., following a brief wedding trip.

ALLRIDGE-HOPKINS MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED. Nuptial vows were exchanged yesterday afternoon by Miss Edith Cleary Hopkins, daughter of Hardy Hopkins, and Eugene Harold Aldridge, and Mrs. H. G. Aldridge, all of Kimberly.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mackey J. Brown, Nazarene minister, at his home in the Sims apartments. Mr. Hopkins and Mrs. Aldridge attended the couple. Other members of the two families also attended.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of light blue silk organza. Mr. and Mrs. Aldridge will be at home in Kimberly.

HIGHLAND VIEW CLUB HAS LUNCHEON. General committee of the Highland View club presided at a delightful dessert luncheon this week for other members of the club, the event being arranged at the home of Mrs. Hattie Miller.

Other hostesses were Mrs. Eunice Emerick and Mrs. Margaret Seaver. Pink peonies in a crystal chandelier, between white lapers in matching holders, formed the central decoration for the luncheon table. The afternoon was spent socially.

Breakfast Sets Put in Appearance. A whole and complete shipment of the place breakfast sets were received today in the morning's freight at Sweet's Furniture. The majority of them will be placed immediately in Dr. Parrott's new apartment house on second avenue north. All are tastefully finished and will provide a truly adequate furnishing for the attractive apartments. Not all of these will go into the new apartments, however. The balance of them will be placed on our floor for immediate sale and we know lots of people through Maple Valley will be interested in seeing them. Of fine construction they are selling at an extremely low price. Watch Monday's ad for further new arrivals at Sweet's. Adv.

Kill my ad!

Everyday, this is what the Adtaker hears as he answers the phone. It is just a term designating that the advertiser has secured satisfactory results and the item has been found, sold, rented or traded, and the ad has served its purpose. Experienced advertisers order an ad to run six times to earn a lower rate and when the results are obtained early they "Kill that ad!" and pay the rate they have earned. It's the thrifty and smart way to advertise.

THE GREENVILLE BASEBALL TEAM OF THE APPALACHIAN LEAGUE SCORED 15 RUNS IN ONE INNING AGAINST ELIZABETHTON. JUNE 21, 1938

IS AN EAST WIND A SIGN OF WET OR DRY WEATHER?

ANSWER: It depends on where you live. In many parts of the U. S. an east wind means moisture. In Palestine, east winds are dry and hot—and various passages in the Bible mention this fact.

Phillies' Ace Widens Edge In Hit Race

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP)—Morris Aronovitch, Phillies' outfielder, opened a wide gap in his National League leadership today by hitting his 37th home run, boosting his average to .374 while his nearest rivals slumped, according to the averages released today and including games of June 7.

Pitcher Blanks Dom DiMaggio To End String

By United Press
For 18 games Dom DiMaggio has hit safely—10 run up an average of .408 for the season.

Apparently Pitcher John Blinn of Hollywood never heard of this stupendous feat. He set Dom down without a hit last night and so ended the streak six days after that Hollywood thumped San Francisco by a 9 to 4 score.

Sam Gibson struggled through seven innings, 14 hits and seven runs before he gave way to Alton Wilkie, who pitched for the Red Sox.

The victories of Hollywood, Oakland and San Diego left them tied for fourth place, with Boston, Brooklyn, New York and Cincinnati freely to win a 9 to 4 victory from Portland.

A surprise boosted Seattle into an 8 to 4 victory over Sacramento when he got four singles and a double in five trips to the plate. But Turpin kept his 10 hits well scattered.

VARIED FISHING RESULTS IN SAWTOOTH SECTOR

RHOSHONE, June 3 (Special)—Dozens of fishing parties pulled out for the area bright and early Tuesday morning, and there was a constant string of state and other cars not looking any time over highway 83, and bound for Big and Little Wood rivers, Silver creek and many others, including some of the favorite small streams such as Warm Springs creek, Trail and Deer creeks, and many points in the Stanley country.

As a rule none too favorable reports came in from the opening day's trials, as the wind proved the steering element, and it raged most of the day. It was particularly noticeable at Magic reservoir, where the water whipped into sizable waves and tossed the many motor boats in had shape. A few trout were caught from the reservoir, and a good many perch were landed, but at the choice spots along the bank there was a surplus of fishermen, it was stated. Little could be done in the wind.

Along the various creeks elsewhere had a little better luck as the streams were better protected from the gale. Gil Winton, Don Garner and several other parties from Rhoshone, who had left Magic, stated that fishing was fairly good at Stanton crossing for a time. B. Silva and several others took in Deer creek, where good fishing was enjoyed with the brook trout, one of the boys scoring on 19 nice ones. On Warm Springs creek most of the parties had good luck. On Silver creek, which is exposed to considerable wind interfered to some degree, though plenty of evidence was produced to show that the boys put on a good demonstration at fly casting during the day. Spinners and bait also were used with success. In fact the trout seemed to take all comers for the time being. A number of Boise, Twin Falls, Nampa and other cars were observed along the creek, and nearly every other one toled a motorboat. Many such cars were distributed along the Wood river country.

Harry S. Gault and Ed Hahn tried out Stanton crossing on Wood river and each took a fine string. The boys cited that at one time near the crossing, just as a party was leaving, they stopped for a short time, and in that period one of them caught nine additional trout and the other five from the same hole. They concluded to quit about that time as their limits were getting pretty close to an argument.

Good Catches Here
Harry Bloner, Charles Alg and H. G. Smith reported good luck, as did Earl Vredenburg and James Wise, who tried out both Magic dam and Wood river. William Warburton picked his catch at Stanton crossing.

As a rule the streams were well down and the water clear, and at sheltered places the trout rose very readily to flies. The day, however, was not generally considered as ideal for a flycast, and a good many of the veterans at the sport did not essay a cast, but were content to call it a day's outing, and many visited many points of interest in the hill country. Others enjoyed quiet camping parties, some of them taking the philosophical position, "Why do you want to be bothered with a fishing rod when you're going fishing?"

At the Fish creek reservoir, above Carey, good strings were caught and some of good length.

Roads Good
Roads are good and traffic throughout the day was exceptionally heavy, as things go. No accidents of any nature were reported.

Another thing in evidence this year—most anywhere—a new stock of flies of pet design usually producing hits along any stream. Long distance visitors remained over for two or three days, and camps were numerous. A couple of mornings proved rather snappy, as the breeze had lowered the temperature.

NAVY SPEEDS GREATEST PEACE-TIME WARSHIP PROGRAM

UNPRECEDENTED STEPS POINT TO START JULY 1ST

WASHINGTON, June 3 (AP)—The navy sped plans today for transferring $350,000,000 worth of fighting ships from drawing boards to shipyard ways. Unprecedented steps have been taken to hasten completion of 24 new ships in the greatest peace-time naval program in history.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison signed contracts yesterday which will enable him to begin the 1940 building program—including two 45,000 ton battleships—mounting June 15-inch guns—shortly after July 1.

Edison said the United States was "not catching up" with Great Britain and Japan in the international naval race and has not reached the 5-5-3 parity established at the Washington naval conference after the World War.

President Roosevelt signed the appropriation act providing funds for the 1940 program May 25, but before that, Edison requested navy technicians had completed designs for the projected ships and asked private shipyards to submit bids for their construction. In addition to the battleships, the awards were made for a new aircraft carrier, eight destroyers, seven submarines, four light cruisers and two small seaplane tenders.

Madeline Carroll asked Paramount today, as a personal favor, to think up a new name for her starring picture, "Are Husbands Necessary?" It seemed that in her case they weren't. Miss Carroll said she was filing suit for divorce in London against Capt. Philip Anderson, she felt another, and less embarrassing, title was in order. They were married in 1931.

The California senate has passed and sent to the governor the so-called "Jackie Cooper" bill, designed to prevent disavowal of fortunes earned by child movie stars.

Sally Haines obtained an interlocutory divorce from Bert Wheeler, movie comedian. She charged her husband was tired of marriage. It was Wheeler's third wife.

Joan Manners, English screen actress, and John Langan, her husband-director, were each declared custody of their 8-year-old daughter following a court battle in which Langan was granted a divorce. The child was ordered placed in a neutral home.

Diane Wood, European stage actress, has obtained a divorce from actor Frank Wilson. She said because she complained, he spent all their money to settle gambling accounts.

Announcement Made Of Coming Marriage

BURLEY, June 3 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Clark announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Ada May Clark, to Bert H. Tucker, son of Judge and Mrs. Henry W. Tucker, at an announcement tea Sunday from 3 to 5 o'clock. The marriage will take place in the L. D. S. temple at Salt Lake City on June 7.

Both young people are graduates of Burley high school, and attended the University of Utah. Miss Clark has taught at Ephraim, Utah, the past year, and Mr. Tucker is employed here at the forest service office.

Marriage announcement was received when the U. S. forestry emblem on a scroll was broken. Serving table covered with a cut work cloth, was centered with a low bowl of white carnations and snapdragons. Green and white tapers in crystal candelabra carried out the color scheme, which is used by the U. S. forest service department.

Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. Donald Merrill and Mrs. Ocee Brown. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Taylor Clark, Elsie Hansen and Miss Hilda Sherranath. Honored guests were the mother of the bride and the mother of the groom.

SKIRTS

HOUSTON, Tex., June 3 (AP)—The girls who dress in short skirts or shorter shorts and wait on the automobile curb trade, said today they didn't want the hotel and restaurant union local to come in and get "decent uniforms" for them. It was the latest phase in the union's "anti-wanton" campaign.

"We like 'em short," said one non-union girl. "And the customers like 'em short. Mother Hubbard won't bring us any tips." The union, besides offering longer dresses, said it would get the girls a $2.00 week plus get the girls said they got about $3 and tips.

"And up to run from 10 to 25 a week, but they won't if we start wearing coveralls."

RENO NOT SO SILVERY

RENO, Nev., June 3 (AP)—One of the regular duties of the Reno Chamber of Commerce is that of replying to letters from people all over the United States who have heard the rumor that the sidewalks of Reno are paved with silver dollars. To the latest inquirer of Norfolk, Va., the chamber added the explanation that the only dollars used in that manner are in front of two local banks.

Twelve losses in a lane at Plymouth, N. C., are named for the disaster. The one named for Judas Iscariot, a Jew by lightning.

Dying—and Doesn't Know It

Because the Chattanooga News printed a story mentioning his ambition to be a jockey and win the derby, 16-year-old Fred Roy, Jr., smiles and jokes with his nurse as he sits in his hospital bed at a Chattanooga hospital. What Fred called "Small Change" because he's only four feet tall, doesn't know is that he is dying by reason of his unbalanced anatomy. The News published its regular edition with the true story, then ran a special edition of six copies for "Small Change"—written so he would never know of his doom.

The first case of typhoid fever originating this year in the immediate vicinity of Twin Falls is reported northwest of town, Dr. E. L. Berry, director of the district health unit, said today.
