MEXICANS SEEK NAZI AGITATORS FOLLOWING RIOT

MEXICO CITY, June 9 (U.P.)—Allegations were made today that student demonstrations against the United States in connection with the airplane crash of Juan Barba had been fomented by Nazi and anti-Jewish agitators.

Man Bought Gen. Frederico Montes, chief of police, said investigation disclosed that the students did not hold the demonstrations "of their own free will." He sent out an alarm for the arrest of an anti-Jewish leader as having been responsible. The man sought was alleged to have aided in organizing an anti-Jewish riot on Jan. 26.

Vicente Toledano Lombardo, head of the Mexican Confederation of Labor, asserted Nazi agents promoted the demonstrations and said "spies" were active in cooperation with Italian and Japanese agents as well as members of the Spanish Falangist (Fascist) organizations.

Agents Active He asserted that agents were operating as part of the Nazi propaganda network, working among "reactionary" elements, and especially students, to cause bad feeling between Mexico and the United States. Not only the Nazi Party but the German legation, he alleged, was active in propaganda.

Police Minister Eduardo Hay said that nothing could be more insane than to suspect that sabotage suspicion of which caused the student demonstrations had anything to do with Barba's death at Washington as he took off on a non-stop flight to Mexico.

He spoke of the aid American agents had given Barba and the enthusiasm Americans showed at his flight from Mexico City to New York.

AUDIT URGED ON COUNTY'S FUNDS

An independent audit of all accounts of Twin Falls county, including those of highway and school districts, today had been urged by R. R. Long, chairman of the independent audit committee of the Twin Falls County Taxpayers' League.

The declaration was made by Mr. Long as he spoke last night at a league meeting held at the recreation hall of the county headquarters in Flier. Long was one of several speakers heard on a program which primarily was called as a special discussion session.

Cites Nebraska In making the suggestion the speaker pointed out the advantages which had been found in the independent audit system in the state of Nebraska.

"This service has been found so indispensable by the state of Nebraska that it is fast being incorporated by the counties of neighboring states," Mr. Long said. "Such audits are a benefit to all—the taxpayer, the man in need of relief and the efficient public servant."

"To our county office holders here present, we wish to say that we are not advocating this change in the spirit of skepticism. It is a change which will benefit by it the most. Referring to the last election, the efficient public servant retains his office, and the inefficient puts on his own skills," Long concluded.

Discussion during the session also centered around the "open hearing" held at Boise at which the Union Pacific asked rate increases from Idaho to southern points.

Can't Mand Increase Madison J. Neumann, manager of the Border News company, represented the desires of this section at the meeting and said that under present conditions growers could not stand an additional freight rate increase of their crops.

He also said that any increase in freight rates would be of benefit to the other (Continued on Page 8, Column 4)

Flier Lands in Jail Instead of Mars

A pilot who missed his goal by a couple of hundred million miles or so is Chester L. Eshelman, of Carlisle, Penn. Rescued by fishermen after sinking his rented plane in the Atlantic, he said his destination had been the planet Mars. Eshelman took off from a Camden, N. J. airport and crashed in the midst of a flailing fleet 174 miles southeast of Boston. At right he is pictured (directly behind calendar) in a Boston police station where he was charged with stealing the plane.

Girl Says She Will Go to Prison Rather Than Tell Kidnap Motives

Would-Be Extortionist Returns Lad Uninjured

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9 (U.P.)—Breaking under police questioning, a young woman who kidnaped a five-year-old San Francisco boy said today that she would go to prison rather than tell the motives for her act.

The girl, police said, told them she wanted money for her mother, named as Mrs. George Gaylord, and to keep her safe and because "I also wanted to be independent myself."

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9 (U.P.)—Graham Gaylord, 19-year-old brown-haired girl charged with kidnaping five-year-old Krehe Osborn, said today she would go to prison for life "before I tell you I really am or why I wanted $1,600 ransom."

The young woman, captured in San Jose with Krehe late yesterday, 30 hours after she abducted the boy and left a note demanding the money under threat of killing him, told reporters she would plead guilty.

"I know that means life, but I'm going to jail," she said as she sat in her cell in city prison.

"And I don't want a lawyer—not even a public defender. If I have a lawyer, I'll have to tell him why I did it and who I am."

Desperate Need Miss Gaylord, nursemaid in young Krehe's home, said the ransom note she needed the $1,600 desperately because the life of "one dear to me" depended on that sum. She refused, however, to elaborate on this explanation.

The young woman indicated she was from Chicago but professed only a girl's love for the boy. Her name was not Graham Gaylord.

"Graham is a family name," she said, "but Gaylord is not my last name."

The girl was booked for arraignment under the name "Graham Thelma Gaylord."

Entry in Diary Inspector George Bluff said today in Miss Gaylord's diary for June 1 that she had a "little money" and "a little money."

"Oh, how it will feel to have a little money and independence!" she wrote about this entry, the prisoner said.

"I didn't want the money for myself. Nothing can make me tell. I was laughed at, suggested she had an accomplice or that a ransom might have been involved."

"I've this money for seven weeks ago," she said. "They were boys I met at a dancing school."

DEFENSE TREATY MAY PUSH EAST

LONDON, June 9 (U.P.)—An impending British-French-Russian defensive pact may ultimately be expected to result in a new line of defense in the German-French military alliance, it was understood today.

It was believed plans had already been made for a new line of defense to be established in the event of war with Russia, but the basin was the possible attack of which plans to cover a German war with Great Britain and France.

Jury Acquits 5 Accused Brokers

NEW YORK, June 9 (U.P.)—Five brokers and lawyers accused of the theft of $700,000 in the operations of the Continental Securities corporation were acquitted today by a jury in general sessions court.

Judge John C. Brist termed the verdict "an outrageous miscarriage of justice" and collected the capabilities of the jurors.

The freed defendants are George H. Clayton, broker, and Vincent Perrelli, attorney, both of New York; Philip Pratt, Washington broker, and Thomas W. Morris, and L. Leo Belmont, Boston attorneys.

Lawyer Tried by Idaho High Court

CORIN, IDAHO, June 9 (U.P.)—The state supreme court which was here for a three-day session, heard district proceedings today against James C. Polson, Moscow attorney. A state bar commission committee recommended Polson be disbarred.

Plan Looms for County, City Police Radio Move

Indication that county and city administrative officials will be sounded out with a view to possible installation of a county-city police radio system came here this afternoon as full data on construction costs were being referred informally to J. A. Parker.

Parker said the move is still "just in discussion stages," but indicated he expects to contact city officials and county commissioners before county commissioners.

The commissioners, although they have never formally considered a radio system, are understood to be favorably inclined in favor of the cost and too high.

Inspects Others Data on an adequate police radio system that could blanket the county and city in sending messages, and could receive from a much larger area, was given the sheriff today by Kenneth Hager, Kimbrough radio salesman and amateur operator.

Many years Hager has returned from a radio inspection trip to both south and north sections of the Pacific coast. He suggested the Oregon state police system extensively.

Prior to Hager's discussion with the sheriff today, considerably more data has been given to Twin Falls and other areas for a countywide police radio that could halt the killing of peace officers who are now come upon dangerous bandits without previous warning. Latest police sacrifice was the death of Patrol-

Man, 67, Dies In Fight Over Pension Laws

PORTLAND, Ore., June 9 (U.P.)—A pension recipient, arguing whether congress had voted a new federal pension law, passed the life last night and in a fight which followed was stabbed to death.

Andrew A. Redman, 67, told Walter C. Summers, 71, that congress had upped their pensions in a bill passed yesterday. Summers denied the action.

They descended to the sidewalk "to fight it out," police were informed, after Summers called Redman a liar.

During the fight, Summers allegedly drew a pocket-knife and slashed his younger opponent to death.

Summers was booked on a charge of murder.

SHARPLY MILAN, Italy.—When it comes to women's fashions, Italy's frontier customs guards have good eyes. Adeline and her husband, a soldier, alighted from a train at the Italian-Swiss frontier and the guards, looking them over, decided they were too sharply. A search revealed 12 kilograms of counterfeit cashmere hidden in the soldier's trousers and pants.

Guy, 7, Gets In Trouble So He Acts First

A guy was in trouble today. He was unattractive and red in the face as he dashed into police court.

His years at a maximum—had not gone beyond the ripe old age of seven.

The seven-year-old rushed in on John A. Brown, probation officer, and Clerk Patricia Blake, with this, his first court query:

"Is this the place a guy comes to when he's in trouble?"

"Yes," said the seven-year-old. "A guy that's in trouble, he comes to this place."

"Did you really do it?" asked the probation officer.

"Yes, the punishment was."

BATTLE OF WORKERS CENTERS IN GENERAL MOTORS PLANTS

GO, ARISE, SEEK UNION CONTROL OF CAR MAKERS

DETROIT, June 9 (AP)—The plant of General Motors corporation became a battleground today for the two factions of United Automobile Workers, one led by R. J. Thomas and affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations, the other led by Homer Martin and aligned with the American Federation of Labor.

Martin, whose union only this week completed its AF of L affiliation, called a strike at General Motors plants late yesterday, barely 24 hours after the Thomas faction had signed an agreement with the Big Six Manufacturing company, and three days before Thomas' union was to draft a request to General Motors for a supplemental agreement.

Strike as Protest
Martin said the strike was ordered in protest against General Motors failure to negotiate with what he described as "legitimate union committees." He demanded complete bargaining rights for his union, the UAW-CIO plant, and a 10 percent wage increase. He also demanded effect, full bargaining power to the complete exclusion of the Martin group. That contract ended a UAW-CIO strike at Briggs that had lasted 70,000 men.

Others Possible
Martin apparently was aware of the UAW-CIO plant, and for a supplemental agreement with General Motors when he called the strike. He said that walkouts might be ordered at other General Motors plants.

The strike was effective at only one of the three plants last night. Approximately 200 of the 2,300 workers at the night shift at Flint, Mich., in Flint, which manufactures Buick bodies, quit and the factory was forced to close. Company officials said it would not reopen before Monday.

THEFT LEADS TO TRIAL IN COURT

Charles H. Yeaman, 27, arrested yesterday by local police and charged with grand larceny, this morning was bound over to district court after his appearance before Justice of the Peace H. M. Hoiler.

Yeaman did not enter a plea to the charge. He waived the preliminary hearing and was held under $1,500 bond, which he failed to furnish. He is being held in the county jail awaiting trial in the district court.

Yeaman, alias Charles Ashley and Bert Hansen, was picked up by a complaint signed by Jack Outhbert, police in a local case. Outhbert took police that Yeaman had secured a job as cook in the local eating place and that he Outhbert had allowed him to room with him until he found another room.

Wednesday afternoon Outhbert returned to his room and found belongings valued at $75 had been stolen. Later that night, when he observed the man he had befriended going into another hotel, he called police.

Among the articles stolen, Outhbert said, were a shotgun, a 25-caliber pistol, one metal tray and lighter, one pistol with a quantity of fishing tackle, two rods and an electric razor. Although police recovered a good portion of the loot, several articles including the guns and razor had been sold.

Chief of Police Howard Gillette termed Yeaman a user of cocaine.

NAZIS RIDICULE VISIT OF RULERS

BERLIN, June 9 (AP)—The Deutsche Nachrichtenbureau, official Nazi news agency, attacked the Franklin D. Roosevelt visit, branding the closely controlled German press in sarcastic comment on the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth to Washington.

The agency said in a dispatch distributed to newspapers: "Mrs. Roosevelt, who had 'worthily' prepared for the visit of the British monarch by planning a Washington Communist meeting, remained true to form by jettisoning a Negro singer at a White House concert in honor of the royal couple."

"For today, Mrs. Roosevelt arranged a tea reception at the White House at which she hopes in hugging and kissing to win the confidence of all members of the federal government with the royal couple."

"We have here a comparison with the unrestrainedness with which Prince Regent Paul of Yugoslavia and his wife circulated in German territory on their recent visit, and a comparison with the excited joy-regulated neither by police ordinance nor by rubber clubs with which they were greeted."

Seen Today

The mayor busily advising man flung up street lights for a test tonight. . . . Pedestrian very startled as big auto goes past, with youth sitting on the right hand side of the front seat and piloting vehicle from there. . . . Man, seeming very annoyed, hunting for pencil—one stuck above each of his ears. . . . And probable court staff having a merry laugh after departure of serious 7-year-old boy who came in to talk things over because he said he was in trouble.

STATE CHIEFS AT WELFARE PARLEY

Discussion of state policies of the Idaho department of public welfare occupied the attention of approximately 30 state officials, district and county supervisors and social service workers here today.

Emory Afton, state commissioner of public welfare; Bill Child, state director of the department of public assistance; Kenneth Thomas, state supervisor of public assistance; and John Miller, district supervisor of eight counties in this area, were among those attending the two-day meeting which began at 9:30 a. m.

Sessions are being held at the Idaho Power company auditorium. Counties of this district include Blaine, Camma, Gooding, Lincoln, Jerome, Twin Falls, Minidoka and Cassia.

The parents, two brothers, Norris Dean and Ronald Jay, Murtaugh, and a sister, Mrs. E. J. Goodman, were present. Rev. Paul Bowley, Twin Falls, and Mrs. William Goodman, Murtaugh, survive.

Interment was in charge of the Twin Falls mortuary.

Highest Honors
Leslie C. Murphy, student at Washington State college, Pullman, Wash., who graduated with highest honors last Monday according to word received here. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy and the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Powell, all of Twin Falls.

Archers Meet
Anyone interested in archery who owns his own equipment is invited to attend the first meeting of Twin Falls archers this summer at the Nampa park at 8:30 p. m. today, said Vernis Richards, Twin Falls recreation project supervisor. Folders on archery will be distributed to those who attend, also said.

At the Hospital
Elmer Knutson, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Anna Godlove, Hazelton, have been admitted to the Twin Falls county general hospital, under Dr. Bahmer, June 8, for a cesarean section. George Prater, Alma Neffner, Twin Falls, and Barbara and Connie Olson, Buhl, have been dismissed from the hospital.

Patient Better
Miss Clarice Zabel, patient at the Twin Falls county general hospital, who has been here since June 1, today, according to hospital attendants.

DEATH COMES TO J. M. KIRKMAN, 69

John M. Kirkman, 69, member of the high priesthood quorum of the Latter Day Saints church, and prominent in church affairs, died at 5:05 a. m. today at the Twin Falls county general hospital. He recently submitted to an operation.

Mr. Kirkman, a resident of Twin Falls since 1913, lived south of Twin Falls, and was prominent in Park Lane school activities. He was born Oct. 9, 1870, in Springfield, Utah.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 3:30 p. m. at the Latter Day Saints tabernacle, Bishop Claude Brown officiating. Interment will be in Twin Falls cemetery, under the direction of the White mortuary.

Two daughters living elsewhere, Mrs. LaFrie Henricks, Portland, Ore., and Miss Cloe Kirkman, San Francisco, arrived last evening, several hours before their father died.

Also surviving are his wife, Mrs. Maude P. Kirkman, and another daughter, Mrs. Russell Herron, Twin Falls, six brothers, L. O. Kirkman, former president of the L. D. S. church; George Kirkman, John Kirkman and Lee Kirkman, all of Twin Falls; and Wallace and Royal Kirkman, Pocatello; and two sisters, Mrs. Clara Hansen and Mrs. Lou Pote, all of Twin Falls.

Others who will attend funeral services will include Mrs. Gladys Kirkman, Los Angeles, a daughter-in-law; Mrs. G. C. Bean, Los Angeles, a sister of Mrs. Kirkman, and four brothers of Mrs. Kirkman, Roy Fairbanks, Oakley, and D. M. Fairbanks, F. P. Fairbanks and S. B. Fairbanks, all of Driggs.

Graveside Rites for Murtaugh Infant
Graveside rites in general cemetery were held this afternoon for William Francis Goodman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Goodman, who died yesterday afternoon at the Twin Falls county general hospital. The child had been born the day before.

The parents, two brothers, Norris Dean and Ronald Jay, Murtaugh, and a sister, Mrs. E. J. Goodman, were present. Rev. Paul Bowley, Twin Falls, and Mrs. William Goodman, Murtaugh, survive.

Interment was in charge of the Twin Falls mortuary.

Florists Abandon Summer Meeting

Final meeting until September had been staged today by the Southern Idaho Florists' club, with members in attendance from Gooding, Rupert, Burley, Jerome and Twin Falls. The session was held last night at the Rogerston hotel. Members voted to discontinue meetings during the hot summer months of July and August.

Final decorations prepared for the wedding of Ernest Campbell and Miss Bernice Smith were inspected at the Nazarene church. The bridegroom is connected with the Twin Falls Floral company.

M. R. Knight, Gooding, president of the club, presided at the dinner and business meeting.

J. H. Kimball Rites Held at Mortuary

Final tribute was paid James H. Kimball, resident of Kimberly for 15 years, yesterday afternoon at the White mortuary chapel. Mr. Kimball died Sunday at his home in Deco, where he had lived for the past year.

Rev. Mack C. Cronenberger, pastor of the Christian church, officiated and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Payne sang "It Was for Me," accompanied by W. M. N. Terry.

Stern German Measures Hit Czech City

SLAYING OF NAZI POLICEMAN SEES DRASTIC ANSWER

PRAGUE, June 9 (U.P.)—People of Kladno, with all their public activities banned, schools closed and a stern curfew imposed, awaited the execution of further German Nazi vengeance today for the killing of a German policeman.

The Nazi deadline for arrest of the policeman's killers expires at 8 p. m.

After posting a 100,000 crown ($3,450) reward for the arrest of the killers, Nazi authorities announced that unless they had been arrested before the deadline, further restrictive measures would be imposed.

Czech police had been alarmed. In their stead, reinforced patrols of Nazi police moved through the streets keeping watch for violations of measures already ordered. Nazi police arrested many persons for questioning.

Newspapers throughout Bohemia and Moravia were ordered to publish the restrictive measures imposed by Constantin von Neurath, Nazi "protector" for the Czech country.

The measures are to remain in force until further notice. Inclusion of schools in the restrictive orders was explained on the ground that "a great part of the faculty" had indulged in agitation.

DRIVER LICENSES SALES AT 1,800

With deadlines only three weeks away, sale of drivers' licenses at the sheriff's office in Twin Falls had reached approximately 1,800 today, according to Joe Thomas, special agent for distribution of the permits.

The new licenses, good for two years from next July 1, become effective after midnight, June 30. Thereafter any motorist using an expired license is subject to penalty.

Thomas is on duty each day at the sheriff's office, with a state police officer for driver licenses and three other men each week. The permits are also on sale at all courthouses in each central Idaho and at the city hall in Butte, Co. W. cents. State officials handling the eight-county area is H. H. Gurnsey.

27th Anniversary

FILER, June 9 (Special).—Honoring the 27th anniversary of the Order of the Eastern Star Wednesday, after the regular business meeting, a special program was given in the Masonic hall. All Masons and wives and escorts were special guests.

C. A. Love gave the welcome address and a brief history of the founding. John Courtney played two waltzes solo, accompanied by Miss Barbara Beem. Don Musser sang two numbers, and accompanied by Miss Beem. The members of the order presented Mrs. Ralph Cedarholm, worthy matron, with a wedding gift. W. C. Rozman gave an appropriate reading on the "Rite of the Associate Matron."

A play, "Then and Now" was given by Mrs. Elsie McClure and Mrs. Margaret Stroud, representing Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bremer. Mrs. Helen Beem and Mrs. Mary Quirk as Mr. and Mrs. Grover Davis and Mrs. Norma Reed and Mrs. Lavonia Johnson as Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nuzum.

Two scenes were from the past and two of the modern trend. Various members' names were used in the play as a surprise to the whole group and amusement of every one. Mrs. Grover Davis had written the history of the chapter in poem form and this also was worked into the play. The program was in charge of Mrs. Thelma Williamson. Mrs. I. W. Hawkins and Mrs. Earl McLaughlin, refreshments were served from a table centered with a beautiful anniversary cake in the five star points and colors, each plate covered with a white cloth with the colors. The cake was a gift from the worthy matron, Mrs. Cedarholm. The refreshment committee included Mrs. Ada Havens, Mrs. Cedarholm, Mrs. Lena Love, Mrs. Annabel McKelzie, Mrs. Margaret Nuzum, Mrs. Margaret Stroud and Mrs. Kadel Johnson.

Snite Transferred

To Portable Lung

PAID, June 9 (U.P.)—Fred Snite, Jr., of Chicago had set up for several hours at the American hospital here today, after being transferred to a portable respirator from the big "iron lung" ventilator in which he had traveled to the Gracie at Lourdes.

Snite, peralvial victim, will undergo special treatment for several days, including massage, with his legs exposed to the air.

SENATORS BOOST 3RD TERM TALK

WASHINGTON, June 9 (U.P.)—Democratic senators had kept the third term boom for President Roosevelt in motion today.

Third term talk moved into senate corridors and cloak rooms after Sen. James E. Murray, ardent Montana New Dealer, conferred with Mr. Roosevelt and told reporters: "I didn't mention a third term specifically, but I made it clear to the President that the people of the west are for him. He appeared to be very pleased."

FDR Backs Wheeler
Murray emphatically reported efforts to rephrase harmony within the Democratic party by announcing that Mr. Roosevelt would support Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., for reelection. Wheeler led the senate fight against the court reorganization bill and was opposed by administration forces in the primary last year.

The entire west feels that the President has a better understanding and appreciation of the serious problems of our section than any other man who could possibly succeed him," Murray said.

Too Early
The third term discussions spread among the new dealers, but some senators close to the White House have believed it was "too early" for such speculation.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D. La., told newsmen: "My view is that if the country is going to 80 Democratic in 1940, it will support a liberal rather than a conservative candidate, and I don't know of any more liberal candidate we can run than the President, if he chooses to run. I for one will be happy to support him."

Women 'Oh' and 'Ah' at English Queen's Beauty

By RUBY BLACK
WASHINGTON, June 9 (U.P.)—The queen of the Britains and the first lady of 130,000,000 Americans met yesterday and rode in splendor past hundreds of thousands.

Queen Elizabeth, wife of the President of the United States—two women clad in blue—exchanged first greetings in the lavishly fitted Presidential room at Union station. Mrs. Roosevelt did not curtsy.

Women Marvel
Then they rode down historic avenues of Washington, seated side-by-side in an open automobile. While from the sidewalks came the "ohs" and "ahs" of women spectators who marveled at the queen's beauty.

Clad in a gossamer dress of greyish blue, the queen raised a filmy white parasol to shield her head from the intense Washington sun. But she smiled and the parasol was enough to enable spectators to obtain a clear view. Both the first lady and the queen smiled at the cheers of the masses that welcomed them.

Queen Elizabeth stepped off the train only a moment after the husband of King George alighted. As royal detachments of marshes

County's 7th and 8th Graders Rank Well Above U. S. Norm
Twin Falls county's seventh and eighth grade students are far above the national norm on the basis of the Stanford achievement tests.

That was the cheerful fact revealed today as Mrs. Doris Stradley, county superintendent of public instruction, completed compilation of results from the second of two tests administered to grade school youngsters during the past school year.

Although spelling ability in both grades just barely climbed over the U. S. median and literature average fell just below the norm, the county's pupils soared well over the national scale in all other divisions of the test.

Results were mailed today to the state department of education. The compilation was the final work on the test given in March. Mrs. Stradley said. That test and the one given in December covered the backbone of the new program devised by the county chief to replace all final examinations except a brief 25-minute "exam" in one seventh grade study and two in eighth.

And here are figures showing that our younger graders are pretty smart folks:
SEVENTH GRADE
National norm—87 per cent.

snapped to attention, the queen took her place between the king and Secretary of State Cordell Hull and walked slowly toward the President's reception room. Only five-foot-two, the queen occasionally, like any other wife walking with a tall husband, was forced to take a quick step-and-a-half to keep up.

The meeting in the deep-blue carpet of the reception room was brief. Mrs. Roosevelt, standing at the side of the President, turned to the queen after greeting King George. The queen smiled, exchanged greetings for the first time in history, the queen of Great Britain and the wife of the President of the United States had met—and they seemed at once to like each other.

Both Mrs. Roosevelt and the queen were serious and formal as they emerged from the station and an artillery battery boomed out a 21-gun salute. While the marine band played "God Save the King" and the "Star Spangled Banner," the queen appeared deeply moved. Once she raised her handkerchief to her eyes.

After these formalities, the queen turned to Mrs. Roosevelt and began a conversation. The moment the queen entered the car, one of her aides handed her the parasol, and she raised it immediately.

During the ride to the White House, Mrs. Roosevelt and the queen took turns holding the parasol, conversing in friendly fashion, and nodding as the crowds cheered.

the Monroe doctrine, and had no influence on the total volume of that doctrine is broad enough so that the United States could act to block any overseas interference in the Americas, even if the volume of territory was not involved.

MONROE DOCTRINE SAYS "NO"

Then someone raised this question: Suppose, however, that no visible interference or coercion is involved? Suppose some South American government goes Nazi and that the Nazi government, if of its own volition enters into an agreement with the United States to be abroad, so that the United States would witness the "axis" getting a foothold in South America? Would the United States, under the doctrine, could the United States act in such a case?

Forster Wathen remarked that, if the United States said it was probable that nothing could be done, the duly-recognized legal government of a sovereign nation says that it is not to be interfered with, its word has to be accepted. The United States, therefore, could do nothing. Practically, the United States viewpoint might be overridden.

The senators at the hearing assented to this latter remark. Senator McNamara said that anyone should stand by the United States might stand by,

In 1928 was 45 per cent under the volume for 1927. For corn the volume was 40 per cent, for cotton, 20 per cent. So far the trading for 1939 proceeding at a volume even below 1927.

In normal times, some 40 to 50 million bushels of wheat flour are traded in at Chicago. This year the range has been from a low of three million to a high of 39 million.

The commodity exchange administration doubts that its own regulations will be sufficient to control the decline. The only substantial clue it has instilled is to limit the speculative interest which any one person can have in the market. It has given market to 2,000,000 bushels. It suggests that the real reason for the decline is the government loan for corn.

For corn and cotton, it is pointed out, the government loan policy has in effect fixed a bottom under the price level. This "bottom," however, is not a firm one, because those commodities less attractive to speculators than their ordinarily are. The same situation applies to wheat. In addition, the government has been buying wheat for export and the speculator is inclined to shy away from the market when there is government buying.

Grain traders might quarrel with this explanation. But whatever the explanation may be, the amount of trading in wheat, way of

As we have come to learn more of the relationship between the mind and the body, more and more we emphasize the mental disturbances may arise from physical changes, and that physical conditions may be reactions of the body to emotional disturbances or psychosomatic factors. It is probable that both factors may be working at the same time.

For instance, a man may suffer from serious changes in the circulation in his brain which would give him dizziness and headache. At the same time, he may be so frightened of what was happening to him that he would develop a high blood pressure, a condition which he would lose his appetite, react unable to sleep and be constantly depressed.

The modern psychiatrist, therefore, must approach disease from the viewpoint of the mind as well as of the view of the physical changes that have taken place in the body and

Amongst other things, the Science of Interior Ecology is going to have to solve soon is one having to do with a couple of hundred-living organisms. It is essential attention at the time, but he is about to become the official curator of the new collection of black-backed, diamond-back terrapins, goldfish, northern pike, brook trout, lake trout, salmon and assorted panfish.

The bureau of fisheries goes from the bureau to the interior department. The interior department reorganization order becomes effective in July. And it just happens that the bureau maintains a very large aquarium in the basement of the commerce building. When moves over to interior it'll have to move out of the commerce house it is just one of the things Mr. Ickea will have to solve.

It'll probably go to the basement where the old interior department museum illustrating other interior department activities. If this keeps on, the old commerce building will become one of the show spots of Washington.

circumstances when falling in the water, and they don't even think of the reaction of the average person when he feels disgusted at the sight. Another reason for the lack of feeling is the reaction to the fact how the national condition is reacting physically—that is might aptly be vomit.

There are many ways a person who has suddenly seen another person shot or fall from a height might react with physical responses which are the result of the shock.

A few people ever stop to realize how greatly our bodies are controlled by our environment or the things that are around them. We are not at all certain times, because it is three times a day—because our work is changed in relationship to such things as sleeping, eating, and so on.

A sleep at night, that is quite possible to have people grab for food.

A child naturally grabs for food and eats it with his hands. It becomes necessary to teach his child to use a spoon, a knife, and a fork. A child naturally grabs for food and eats it with his hands. It becomes necessary to teach his child to use a spoon, a knife, and a fork and a spoon the proper manner. I have seen a child, not previously educated in this way, grab for food and eat it with his hands and crawl on the table to get something it wanted. The parents, of course, would not allow this, and the child would be taken away.

And so it goes everywhere.

Top Crowd of Year Sees Bees Win, 11-3

By United Press
Four thousand fans saw the Salt Lake City Bees trounce the league-leading Pottsville Cardinals, 11 to 3, at Salt Lake City last night, and cap the series, two games to one.

It was the only Pioneer league game played Thursday. The Bees-Twins game was rained out, and the Lewiston-Ogden teams were traveling.

The idle Twin Falls Cowboys gained half a game on the league leaders, and today stood just one game out of first place Salt Lake City's victory sent the Bees into a third-place tie with Lewiston.

Southern Vern Johnson gave up but six hits, while his teammates made every one of their 11 hits count against Tom Robello's club. Owers, leading slasher of the league, was victim of Eddie Mulligan's slugging. Aciot, Fried and Kiley did the heavy stick-work for Salt Lake City.

New series will get underway Friday, Salt Lake City travels to Pottsville, Ogden plays at Lewiston, and Twin Falls plays at Boise.

King, Queen Fine People, Says Songstress Kate Smith

SHE AND PAIR IS "JUST FOLKS" AT WHITE HOUSE

(Editor's note: Kate Smith, radio singer, and her three sons, who accompanied her to the White House, were given the honor of being the first to see the king and queen when they arrived in America today. The king and queen were given the honor of being the first to see the king and queen when they arrived in America today. The king and queen were given the honor of being the first to see the king and queen when they arrived in America today.)

By KATE SMITH
WASHINGTON, June 9 (AP)—Don't worry, Kate. Shake hands with them and say "how do you do." That's what I did.
With the brief, telephonic coaching from Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt, I went to the White House last night, sang for the king and queen and brought up three words to describe them: "They're fine people!" Oh, yes, I met them, all right.
It certainly was amazing to find how utterly simple, charming and unaffected a king and queen can be. Why, they make a person feel as good as home as your own folks would. They're just folks!
And that is true of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, too.
Mrs. Roosevelt's smile is one of the nicest things I know. It's a modern miracle how the woman gets along putting everyone at ease. I admit frankly I didn't know what a democratic place the White House was until last night.

I was so thrilled I just could not contain myself when I got inside and met the king and queen. They said, "We're just as thrilled as you are, Miss Kate. We're looking forward to hearing you sing."
Well, that simple, homely greeting made me feel I was among friends. And I had the feeling that any American citizen would be greeted just as warmly in the President's home, because it is a friendly place.
First, I was taken into the library and there, because I had a Pacific coast broadcast at 11 o'clock, Mrs. Roosevelt took me to the main hall, where President Roosevelt and the king and queen were standing. So I would be sure of meeting them before going to my bit.

The President turned to the king and said, "This is Miss Kate Smith, one of our greatest singers. She is going to sing for us."
This embarrassed me, but I was more embarrassed when his majesty said, "We're looking forward to your recital."
The queen—and there's a gracious lady!—said, "I'm charmed to meet you."
What impressed me most was the democracy displayed by everyone. To top a perfect evening, Mrs. Roosevelt promised to appear on my broadcast next Thursday night and discuss the royal visit. That is reward enough for anyone!

U. P. Old-Timers Stage Celebration

GLENN'S FERRY, June 9 (Special)—Glenn Perry and community are all set for a big celebration Saturday afternoon and evening put on by the Union Pacific Old-Timers club in connection with the showing of the movie "Union Pacific."
The program will be officially started Saturday at 5 p. m. with a big parade through the streets. This will be followed by a band concert, short talks by visiting dignitaries and other features, including a reenactment of the driving of the golden spike which completed the first transcontinental railroad in America, by P. C. Clarke of this place, one of the few people alive today who was present at Promontory Point, Utah territory, and witnessed the ceremony in 1869.
After this will be the presentation of awards for the best costumes, best heads for the men, and the parade, oldest retired railroad present, and many other things. The celebration will be climaxed by a dance given by the Old-Timers auxiliary in the Community hall.
Preparations for the celebration have been advancing steadily for some time with many high hats, beards, and other articles of clothing that was the fashion in 1869. Nearly every window in the business houses about town feature a

GLENN'S FERRY MAN RECALLS HISTORY OF "GOLDEN SPIKE"

GLENN'S FERRY, June 9 (Special)—Many people were present at the first transcontinental railroad in America today. However, few people that witnessed that ceremony are alive today. P. C. Clarke, Glenn's Ferry, is one.
Mr. Clarke was born in Provo, Utah territory, in 1857, and has lived in Idaho since 1889. His step-brother, the late Albert Collins of this place, who was two years old at the time of the ceremony, was also present, according to Mr. Clarke.

Carried Camp Mail
At the time the roads were joined Mr. Clarke was 12 years old and was carrying the mail on the construction camp. The mail was carried by the Wells-Fargo Express company and arrived every day. It was Mr. Clarke's job to deliver the outgoing mail at a designated spot along the stage route and receive the mail for the camp. Fred Collins, Mr. Clarke's step-father, was one of the construction contractors on the railroad.
The first of the joining of the rails, Mr. Clarke says the tunnel through the summit of the Rockies had not been completed and passengers crossing the summit would ride as far as the tunnel, climb the summit and down the other side to another train waiting.

Blackhawk's Ramping
When questioned about trouble with the Indians at that time, Mr. Clarke said there was none on the eastern end, but considerable trouble was experienced by the men on the western end at times. The Blackhawk Indians were causing much trouble a few years previous to the building of the eastern half of the tunnel, he says, ending in what is known as the Blackhawk war. Mr. Collins, who had been in the

A class of from 20 to 25 candidates is expected to join the organizations at that time.
The day's ceremony will actually get underway at 7 a. m. Sunday when all members and candidates as a body will participate in holy communion at St. Edward's Catholic church. Harry O'Halloran, Twin Falls, is in charge of arrangements. Sermons to the knights and candidates will be given by Father H. E. Heilmann.

First degree initiations will be conducted by George Seidel, grand knight of the Twin Falls council. Frank Giese, acting grand knight, will be in charge of the second degree. District Deputy P. C. O'Malley of Pocatello will be in charge of third degree.
A banquet at the I.O.O.F. hall will follow the initiation. Knights and their ladies as well as candidates and their ladies will attend. The banquet will start at 8:30 p. m. with the principal speaker being Robert A. McKenney, San Francisco, traveling agent for the supreme lodge. Mr. Seidel will be toastmaster.

Katy Hepburn Cusses Bandit And He Flees!
NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—Katharine Hepburn, stage and screen star, today was to begin her role as herself playing a part in a real life drama—there was a burglar in her room.
"What the hell are you doing there?" she yelled.
The startled bandit dropped a $5,000 pearl necklace and sprinted downstairs with the star in pursuit. He escaped in an automobile.

This Owl Wasn't Such Wise Bird

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 9 (AP)—The owl which swooped down from a tree each day of the last two weeks to knock John Q. Simonson's hat off is dead.
Simonson is an insurance agent and a patient man. He didn't get angry at the hooting bird, he told police, until last night when he returned home wearing a brand new straw hat. The owl flew down and knocked it off to the ground. Then Simonson lost his temper and called police, who killed the bird.

Let CLOROX bring PROTECTIVE CLEANLINESS into your home!
EVERY DAY more and more women are realizing the vital need for protective home cleanliness—disinfectant cleanliness. And rightly so, for scientific authorities are constantly emphasizing the major importance of home sanitation in preventing disease. You can easily establish effective measures of protective sanitation in your home by making it Clorox-Clean... for Clorox in routine housework provides disinfected cleanliness... assuming greater home health control. And Clorox does more than disinfect... it bleaches, deodorizes, removes numerous stains in laundry, kitchen, bathroom. Clorox is contributing this fourfold aid to greater health control and easier housekeeping in millions of homes throughout the nation. Let Clorox bring protective cleanliness into your home... simply follow directions on the Clorox label, which also lists many important personal and other uses.
