When There Is No Peace

The startling part of Viscount Halifax's speech to the Royal Institute of International Affairs was, of course, the one that made the headlines. It was the defiant passage about how the British were ready to fight, on the sea, in the air and on land.

And that, of course, is the part which belonged in the headlines. The unfortunate part of it is that probably most people read no farther. If Halifax, the British foreign secretary, had done nothing more than to shout a loud defiance at Germany, his speech would have been no more than another of those "You dastent!" and "I dast too!" which have passed for diplomacy in Europe's recent years.

But he did go farther. Down in the part of the speech which most people probably did not read, Halifax indicated the way out for Europe and the world. Peoples who feel that they need "Lebensraum," or living room, should seek it by breaking down barriers of isolation and ill-feeling, rather than by physical conquest. Then, and only then, can the whole world profit by the immense benefits which science has brought within reach.

"But no such society of nations can be built upon force," he reminded his hearers, "in a world which lives in fear of violence and has to spend its substance in preparing to resist it."

And there is no more urgent need, if we are ever to find a workable system of international organization, than to invent a peaceful means whereby such changes can be handled. Today when the European nations, forgetful of their common civilization, are arming to the teeth, it is more important than ever that we should remind ourselves of the essential unity of European civilization."

Halifax then based British foreign policy on two stones: First, the determination to resist force, and second, "recognition of the world's desire to get on with the constructive work of building peace."

The trouble is, that when the first line is taken the second is forgotten. In the very resistance to violence with violence, the resister becomes no less violent than the aggressor, with the result that the world's dream and desire for peace flies out the window and another Versailles after the bloodletting becomes inevitable. For it is very hard to imagine a peace closing another European war which would be better than the one made at Versailles, or one which would really solve any of the world's problems.

It is not the destructiveness and horror of another war that dissolves the imagination. It is its utter futility.

Grain for Dust

The success of the shelter-belt plan of tree-planting in the "dust bowl" areas is marked enough after five years to justify Secretary Wallace in saying that they may help to make the Great Plains region a breadbasket for the nation rather than an ever-threatening desert.

At four cents apiece, the government has helped plant 127,000,000 trees along 11,000 miles of wind-break. Some of the trees, which vociferous and sarcastic critics insisted wouldn't grow, are now 30 and 35 feet high. And on more than 20,000 farms, new life has come to the crops, and new hope to the farmers.

Without faith, there can be no progress; without the willingness to take a risk there can be no solid gain. The cedars, pines, locusts, Chinese elms and willows waving in the prairie breeze are a row of banners to a risk justified and a faith vindicated.

Connecticut has joined the states extracting toll from New Yorkers attempting to leave the city. Oh, well, cheer up, folks—the whole United States is on Manhattan island, anyway.

A train passed over a South Carolinian, asleep between the rails. It didn't hurt him—it didn't even wake him up. Sometime, somewhere that guy must have lived on the elevated.

Joe Shuette, former major league pitcher, is a candidate for sheriff in a Pennsylvania county. Opposition forces are reported looking up the number of guys who stole bases while Joe was on the mound.

The guy who beat 400 fellow grocers in a questionnaire knew that a prawn is a small saltwater crustacean. Wouldn't he have been surprised if they'd asked him what a saltwater crustacean is!

Japan hasn't done much about America's "no" to the Swatow ultimatum. Leaders are probably trying to find out what that strange word means.

A Wyoming dentist's wife has taken up dentistry so her husband can have time to fish. It's safe to bet she'll pull more than he will.

MUSIC, WOMEN AND LIFE, OR SOMETHING

Dear Pot Shots:

Now that all the June weddings are stories for the time being—let's look at the other side of romance.

"Men" women are carrying a torch for some man, that's why we begin all our "new moonings" from "way back when" as well as the last mooning—remember?

It's the "Lawrence Tibbitt" of the Great East, popular Idaho entertainer, giving a psychological opinion on music in relation to American life.

"But what do the men like in music?"

"Everything from cowboy numbers to 'Old Man River,' but mostly they like to enjoy something—just go on enjoying themselves. It's the women who are the requesters."

"Then, I suppose, if you pay close attention, you can tell the vintage of the glistening, sparkling keys by the 'women's' request?" It was observed.

"Something like that," the entertainer admitted.

"And with the orchestra, for pure pleasure, delicate 'Moonlight and Roses' to a dame, it's the cut direct," should we say?

The musician smiled a slow smile. "Then, you think that women are more successful in love than men?"

He smiled even more slowly, and the look in his eyes was the sum total of all the things that men think about some time.

OH YES, MAMA'S BEEN THERE, TOO!

Dear Pot Shots:

Some mothers must remember the horse-and-buggy days in kindly fashion. Witness the following column.

"Mother's present at the table because I didn't get home as early from the Fourth of July dance as she thought I ought to. We had a terrible time."

Diogenes Finds Out About Fishermen!

BULLDOG

The State has been accused of manhandling trout from Greece by means of a letter box run time-deceiving sportsman. Here's the bulletin as it is flagged on the office box's caption over the space-jumper.

ATHENS, Greece, July 8, 324 B. C.

Diogenes, the Greek cynic philosopher, has been searching with his lantern for an honest man, according to the Greek press today.

Authorities said Diogenes complained himself by attempting to swallow a large fish skeleton.

Friend of the fish skeleton said he was in utterly despondent condition. He had been seeking an honest man but discovered he was doing so during fishing season.

MEFLIN HAUNTS THE SENATE

Chad in a startling frock coat of cream-colored cloth, ex-Senator Tom Mefflin haunts the senate cloak room these days like a banshee.

It was the senate's first of a conference committee considering TVA legislation. The house had passed a bill severely limiting TVA's chances for expansion, and selected house conferees had a number of sessions with senate conferees to work out an agreement. One of them emerged after an especially fruitless session and wiped his brow despondently.

"What old devil," he asked, "will do you right out of your paycheck if you don't watch him every minute?"

TRADE FALLS AT STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, July 8 (UP)—Trading on the stock exchange fell off sharply today. Toward the close the volume continued very small although a few issues were relatively active.

Price changes were narrow in most shares. New York, Lackawanna, and Western railroad, one of the late arrivals on the tape at 47, off 4%. Warner Brothers Pictures preferred sold at 48, up 1/2.

Stocks were slightly lower. Motors balanced small advances and losses. Utilities showed an average gain. Railroad issues were steady. Copper gained.

Small gains were noted in Anaconda, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott, Libby-Owens-Ford, Pennsylvania railroad, New York Central, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Rubber and U. S. Steel.

Bonds were firm. Wheat eased and made new seasonal lows in Winnipeg. Cotton futures eased slightly.

New automobile sales continued to show gains. Mail order and chain store sales were higher. The business situation generally was regarded as favorable. The only danger to the market as viewed by the street was the foreign situation and labor difficulties here.

252 More Buy Auto Licenses

Headed by sale of 252 passenger car licenses, motor vehicle collections on the stock exchange fell off sharply today. Toward the close the volume continued very small although a few issues were relatively active.

Refunds of $30 on three trucks which had overpaid their license fees reduced by that sum the funds sent to the state.

Collections for June of last year were $10,089.25 under the former higher schedule of license fees. Last year, too, registrations were later than in 1938, according to Jack Shrodt, deputy assessor. At deadline March 31 of this year, there were twice as many licenses sold as in June of 1938, he said.

Collections and totals for June of 1939 were 252 passenger cars, $1,260; 26 private trucks, $560; 46 farm trucks, $558.00; five commercial trucks, $212; 12 motorcycles, $60; one commercial trailer, $150; 177 private trailers, $272; additional fees from truck owners who found the maximum gross weight they specified originally as insufficient, $105.

Licenses sold in June of last year were 499 auto, 48 private trucks, 65 farm trucks, 10 commercial trucks, one dealer, seven motorcyclists, two commercial trailers, 187 private trailers.

"Lifting" Burglar

PASADENA, Calif. (UP)—The "hand handle burglar" is Pasadena's latest contribution to new and interesting criminal roles. While Miss Beale Dwyer was playing cards in a room in the front room, the burglar reached through the bed room window with a hand handle and "lifted" her purse from a table.

The two people, natives of Uganda, Africa, have coiffures embellished with hair collected from the heads of their ancestors, stuck together with blood, and decorated with feathers.

IT'S A "HONEY"

Once around your field and you'll say that this Oliver 10-foot Grain Master is a "honey" in every way. It has real threshing machinery in it—no depending on humping on the ground to get the grain loose from the straw—the Oliver threshes it out to the last kernel and cleans it to that you get the highest possible grade. Down grain, heavy straw, rough ground have no terrors for this machine. It is Oliver quality throughout and that means that it is generously overbuilt in every way to guarantee you long years of low-cost operation. The Grain Master is light in weight and light in draft. Full advantage has been taken of modern methods in its design and construction. The Grain Master rolls along easily on rubber tires which reduce draft as much as 50%. You save power, fuel and repair expense. And with all that, the Grain Master sells at a very low price. If you want a real harvesting machine that ends harvesting troubles for its lucky owners. It has a special combine motor drive and an 8, 10 or 12-foot header. With an Oliver tractor in front of it, you have the greatest low-cost harvesting combination we've ever seen. Take a look at the Oliver tractor, too, when you're in town.
