

JAPAN RENEWS PRESSURE ON ENGLAND, FRANCE IN CHINA

NIPPON LEADERS PRESS TO FINISH 2-YEAR-OLD WAR

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Foreign News Editor

Japan renewed pressure on Great Britain and France in the far east today and inaugurated a new campaign to end her two-year-old war with China considering formation of a new Japanese-dominated central government.

Wang Ching-Wel, former premier of China who broke with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek last year, was brought into the political forefront again as representative of the Peiping and Nanking regimes, both supported by Japan, met to select a supreme leader over a central administration.

Probably even more significant was announcement by the director of the Japanese army press bureau at Shanghai, Lt. Col. Tsubo Mabuchi, that the army would henceforth support the principles and objectives of Dr. Sun Yat Sen, Chinese hero of modern times. Mabuchi said that such support envisaged eventual democracy but excluded Communism.

Concession Thwarted
At the same time, the French concession at Hankow was threatened with a Japanese blockade as a result of an incident on Friday when Japanese demonstrators observing the second anniversary of the war were halted by French troops during a parade to the suspension bridge.

On the Mongolian frontier, sporadic fighting continued between Japanese-Manchukuan and Russian-Center Mongolian forces, with the Japanese claiming they had shot down 50 more Soviet airplanes, making a total of 450 Russian craft the Japanese claim to have shot down since May 20. The dispatch admitted loss of one Japanese craft.

Definite Declaration
The British cabinet has approved a more definite declaration on the part of the government with the internal or external use of force to change the status of Danzig would be covered by British pledges to act Poland in a defensive war, but Nazi appeared to be in no hurry to act. Such local Nazi leaders as Albert Forster, Danzig, continued a series of demonstrations and mass meetings at which the determination of the free city to return to the reich was reiterated.

Nazi obviously were seeking to prepare a calm or even listless situation into which a strong British declaration on Danzig might fall with an unimpressive pop.

WENDELL PLANS ON TURKEY DAY

By FLENN MOORE
(Evening Post-Review)

The seventh annual Wendell Turkey day is scheduled for July 23. This day is celebrated in Wendell, Idaho. It is in Gooding county, about half way between Gooding and Jerome. This is the community claim the distinction of being the "Turkey Center of Idaho."

Big Plant
In this town is located the Common Turkey breeding farm, hatchery and brooding plant. Some 2,100 breeding hens were used this year to supply eggs for the hatchery. In addition, eggs were brought from some of the best turkey farms of the west. There is a brooding capacity of 40,000 poult on Mr. Commons' farm, and the plant operates continuously throughout the brooding season.

There is much interest in Wendell for the turkey growers. A study is made of the industry with a view to improving the best known and tested practices.

The program will consist of a short tour to nearby poult flocks out on the desert range, which will start from the Commons hatchery in Wendell at 9:30 a. m. There will be a luncheon in the Wendell city park at 12, and visitors are asked to contribute by bringing a basket of lunch. The Wendell Chamber of Commerce will furnish ice cream and coffee, as in former years.

Speakers
The speaking program will start at 1:30 p. m. While all of the speakers for the afternoon program have not yet been secured, it is expected that a good program will be provided. Arthur Hamilton of Chubbuck, Wash., a noted turkey breeder, will speak on "Breeding Problems." Mr. Hamilton has become famous in the turkey world, as he has developed one of the outstanding strains of the modern wide-breasted heavy-thighed turkey.

The governor of the state has been invited to attend, as is the usual custom. Other noted people have been invited, but no announcement can be made at this time, as arrangements are not yet complete. A later announcement will be made of the full program.

Wendell invites the turkey growers from the surrounding counties to be in attendance, and it will be found that the Wendell people are splendid hosts. In former years, visitors have traveled from as far north in Idaho as Lewiston and also from nearby states.

PROBE OPENS IN PAYETTE DEATH

PAYETTE, Ida., July 10 (U.P.)—Sheriff Harry Muir of Payette county today investigated the possibility of murder in the death of Edwin Perry, Payette, war veteran, whose decomposed body was found in Emery gulch after he had been missing since July 1.

The possibility of a robbery motive was studied when it was found there was no money on the body and the man was believed to have $25 on his person when he disappeared, in the company of two unidentified men.

An autopsy was ordered to determine the manner of death. A squashed place on the skull could have been caused either by a bullet or a blunt instrument, the sheriff said.

Seeks "New Deal"

Red-haired dancer Mrs. Evelyn Rowe Rosaler, of New York, asked no alimony when she received a preliminary divorce decree from her presumably "broke" husband, Philip. Since then, she says, she discovered he is an heir to a trust fund of several hundred thousand dollars. She now seeks to set aside the first decree and obtain a sizable alimony with the final decree.

The world knows Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks are first in value, and that's why the world has placed them first in sales!

★ Every month of the year, Idaho's dairies are pushing the state income upward. Today, Idaho dairy products—butter, cheese, milk, milk powder—play a vital part in the life and well-being of the Western United States. The dairy industry has become one of our leading industries, one of which we are justly proud. We are proud, too, of our low electric rates. People of southern Idaho use nearly twice as much electric service as the national average. Idaho Power's residential rates are ONE THIRD LOWER than the national average. These are reasons why it is a privilege to live in Idaho—WHERE ELECTRIC SERVICE IS CHEAP!

"Buy where you live," Jim Rogers said.

Then offered a stove and a nickel saved.

"Send your home town," said Allen here.

And straightaway he sent away for a tire.

A tire for his car—not quite so good as what he'd got at home. He was a half dollar.

A shopped around a little bit—But anyhow he saved a jolt.

And Joe Simpson's wife she ordered some shoes.

They didn't fit—they sent her home When she'd ordered a six and a half dollar.

(And it made a big hole in her old man's pay.)

No one sent them back and she waited a week.

And when they came they developed a squeak.

That was home to hear a block away.

In spite of the storm and a windy day.

And they didn't look now like she thought they'd look.

When she placed them out of the picture book.

The home store owners they tore the hair.

And what was left got gray with care.

The Chamber of Commerce lost trying to figure some way to keep the home owner money right here at home.

But the home earned money seemed to them.

Sent far away for their coats and kites!

Now I hope you've got the point, my dear.

GHOST DETOUR

BY OREN ARNOLD

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday Dick drove to buy Roscoe and Christine start their own business. He had a rough time of it, but he got it done. He had a rough time of it, but he got it done. He had a rough time of it, but he got it done.

CHAPTER IV

BEFORE 8 o'clock next morning

Roscoe and Christine were back at their ghost town on the rough main street in Roscoe. The sun shined brightly and dispelled any ghosts that had lurked in evening shadows, but the picturesque quality of the place remained undimmed.

"It's darling!" Christine exclaimed, staring again at the ramshackle buildings.

"We're going to have ourselves a time!" Roscoe predicted.

To their surprise they found not only Dick Bancroft, but Franklin L. Conway, who was the first surprised his buddy by arriving the previous midnight, hours ahead of schedule.

"You shot him for a ghost or a robber," Dick grinned at the introductions.

"He came rattling in, calling me names. But he's solid on a ghost detour idea."

"I'd broken his neck if he hadn't been seen," Christine boasted.

"Do you break many necks, Mr. Bancroft?" Christine inquired.

"Stop quarrelling!" Roscoe ordered. "I own this place. I am also your boss. Get to work. All of you. U. I mean. Now listen."

She had many plans. She and Christine had talked until a late hour last night.

"I'm going to be a ghost or a robber," Dick grinned at the introductions.

"He came rattling in, calling me names. But he's solid on a ghost detour idea."

"I'd broken his neck if he hadn't been seen," Christine boasted.

"I think we ought to have some prospectors and Indians and cowboys around for atmosphere," Christine added, "so I'll see to it, and I'll handle the bookkeeping and the records and do anything else you say."

The powwow was extremely serious—nobody on earth can be more serious, when the mood is right, than ordinarily gay and ebullient college youths. And these four were still collegians at heart. They hadn't been out of school a week.

"You are not too disappointed, Mr. Laraway?" Roscoe inquired, after the conference had ended.

"At our breaking up your summer plans, I mean."

"I am delighted! I had no definite plans."

"Do you want any references? Or anything? I—I never had anybody working for me before."

Addressing 375 members of the Immanuel Lutheran church congregation on the text, "Thy Kingdom Come," Rev. E. "This purpose can be accomplished only by the preaching of the eternal truths of man's salvation through faith in Christ, as they are revealed to man in Holy Scripture," he added.

Rev. Eichmann encouraged the congregation to hold fast to those eternal truths of God's word in faith and in practice. Prof. A. W. Reese, Concordia, Mo., served as liturgist at the morning service.

At the afternoon, Rev. Eichmann told of his work among the deaf mutes of the northwest.

The county clerk's office reported final divorce decrees had been issued recently for Eleanor Holm, the swimming star who has announced she will marry Bill Rose, New York night club owner; Walter Wagner, the movie director and Guido Gray, the "shimmy" dancer of 20 years ago.

Miss Holm was granted a divorce from Orchestra Leader Arthur Jarrett on the husband's allegations that he was subjected to "embarrassment" because Miss Holm declared publicly she no longer cared for him.

Wagner was divorced by Justine Johnson, stage and screen star, on charges he was rude to the actress and her friends. Miss Gray divorced the Venezuelan diplomat, Hector de Brizcone.

Beryl Mercer, 57-year-old character actress, was in serious condition today after a major operation at Santa Monica hospital. Miss Mercer, born in Spain and reared in England, has been in the movies the past 19 years. She enjoyed a long career on both the New York and London stages. Her physician, Dr. A. A. Arkush, described her as a "very sick person."

The government warned Marlene Dietrich today that any money she earns in Hollywood will be attached for payment of $142,193 she allegedly failed to pay on her 1936-1937 income. Until the German actress pays the tax bill, Uncle Sam will maintain possession of her jewelry, federal agents said. The jewelry was seized when Miss Dietrich sailed to Europe several weeks ago.

Ken Maynard, hero of western movies, was ordered to show cause why he shouldn't pay his estranged wife $500 a month from his income, which Mrs. Mayne Leeper Maxamed contends is $1,000. Mrs. Leeper charged Maynard "squandered" his earnings.

BAR HEAD RAPS SUPREME COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 10 (AP)—The supreme court no longer preserves constitutional liberties, Frank J. Hogan, president of the American Bar association, said today in opening the association's 82nd annual convention.

He said the present court, had reversed constitutional doctrines and "established" principles and that, therefore, the legislative branch of government would have to protect the people against "arbitrary exercise of power."

He praised Justices James Clark McReynolds and Pierce Butler for "courageous efforts to preserve landmark after landmark of the law" and to stop "the procession of precedents to the graveyard."

Hogan said there had been a curtailment of states' rights through the court's interpretation of the interstate commerce clause of the constitution.

In its last two terms, the court affirmed 135 cases and reversed 157. There were 199 dissenting opinions.

These figures indicate the extent to which the reconstructed court has undertaken to disavow and discard old doctrines and to declare new principles and new concepts," Hogan said.

A special committee on judicial salaries reporting to the house of delegates, declared that a majority of state judges were under-paid. It included a draft of a bill to increase salaries of federal judges, but the committee said it believed a peg for federal economy made such a move of "doubtful expediency."

Solicitor General Robert H. Jackson, addressing the Junior bar conference last night, declared that waste errors should be provided with low cost legal service.

Twin Falls Outfit Opens Series With Salt Lake Tonight

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

Twin Falls Cowboys were back in the running for the Pioneer-league pennant today—following a week-end that saw them take two out of three games from the long-leading Pocatello Cardinals and cut the margin between first and second place to two games.

The Cowboys came back Sunday to take a double-header, 13-12 and 3-2, after dropping a slug-fest on Saturday night by a score of 16-14. Manager Wes Schulmerich's gang opens a four game series tonight against the up-and-coming Salt Lake Bees, at Jaycee field, with Mike Budnick slated to take the mound.

Attendance at Jaycee Park Passes 32,000

Attendance at the Twin Falls ball park for the first 30 games of the season was well past the 32,000 mark today, according to Hugh Pace, business manager.

For the first 20 games the league shows a count of slightly over 30,000. Two thousand more at last night's Pocatello-Twin Falls tilt brought the count to well over the 32,000 mark.

With the return of good weather, after cold and rain the first six weeks, Mr. Pace has high hopes of still reaching the 50,000 mark. There are 30 home games left on the schedule.

For the three-game Pocatello series, a total of 4,100 fans paid their way into the park, with 2,700 of these seeing the Sunday game and 1,400 the Saturday night tilt.

Hot and dusty—but beaming at performance of his Cowboy charges—Manager Wes Schulmerich made an auspicious start in home series play Sunday. Here's Wes, at left, cheerful after the Cowboys broke through in the ninth to nip Pocatello, 13-12. At right, an action shot showing Frank Falcon sliding safely into third base after a two-bagger by McNamee in the second inning of the afternoon game. Frank had walked. Third baseman Gro Burnett of Pocatello covers the sack as Falcon slides in. The Cowboys also won the night game, 3-2.

Cronin Men Take 2nd Doubleheader; Reds Defeat Chicago Cubs

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, July 10 (UPI)—Everybody talks about the Yankees, and nobody does anything about them—except Joe Cronin and his Boston Red Sox.

The Red Sox have turned the American league race back into a battle today, with five straight victories over the world champions on their home grounds. The Red Sox won a doubleheader, 4-3, 6-3, before 47,652 at Yankee stadium yesterday for their eighth straight victory and moved to within six and one-half games of first place.

Cronin's home run in the eighth inning of the first game with one man on base, his fifth of the year, gave the Sox victory. In the second game, Jimmy Fox poked out his 14th homer.

W. Sox Take Two
In Chicago, the White Sox took a double victory from the Tigers, 6-3 and 6-3, to tighten their hold on third place. Clint Brown received credit for his sixth victory in the first when Chicago scored two runs on errors in the ninth. In the second, Chicago had its big inning in the seventh, sending Schoolboy Rowe to the showers, with four runs on two singles and a walk.

The Cleveland Indians ran over the Browns, 14-2 and 5-1, at St. Louis. Red Sox's 13th home run accounted for two Cleveland runs in the second game.

In the National league the New York Giants won, 3-2, over the Brooklyn Dodgers to even their series, 16 all. A pinch ankle by Jimmy Rippie in the eighth brought Lou Chiozza home with the winning run.

Phillies Win
Philadelphia took a pair from Boston, 3-1 and 7-0, breaking an 11-game losing streak. Kirby Hilde allowed only six hits to win the first game.

The Cincinnati Reds made 17 hits behind "Bucky" Walters' five-inning performance to defeat the Chicago Cubs, 13-1. The Reds knocked Dizzy Dean and Gene Lillard out of the box.

In the Cardinals and Pirates double-header, St. Louis won the first, 7-3, as Johnny Mize hit home runs No. 16 and No. 17, and drove out two doubles to bring in five runs. In the nightcap, the Pirates made the second their big inning, making four runs from four hits off Bob Weller. The final score was 8-5.

Piano Interests
BLIND STUDENTS
PITTSBURGH—There are advantages even to being blind, according to Miss Sarah Taylor, a music teacher for 49 years at the Pennsylvania School for Blind.

"In my years of teaching I have observed students both with and without sight and in many ways I feel those without sight have some advantages," Miss Taylor said.

These advantages she enumerated as follows:

1. Ability to concentrate on a problem without being distracted by various colors.

2. Not being able to see what is happening at the time.

3. The necessity of learning every minute detail in the beginning—did thus obtain a better foundation than the students with eyesight, who may skip elementary lessons.

When Miss Taylor, who comes from a family of educators, first started to teach the blind, she had only 20 students. Today she has 100, plus the satisfaction of having taught about 450 young people to do things formerly reserved for only those with sight.

But there were many problems to overcome. Teaching a blind boy or girl is like teaching a normal pupil.

For example, the blind student must first have the piano and its parts explained, then learn the table work, where the children learn about the notes before they play the piano. After that, actual lessons on the piano are started.

"To understand the blind child's problem I often sit at the piano, close my eyes and play, just to see what it is like, playing and learning about the notes before they play the piano," she said.

Miss Taylor's greatest thrill is to have one of her blind pupils regain his sight. This has happened four times.

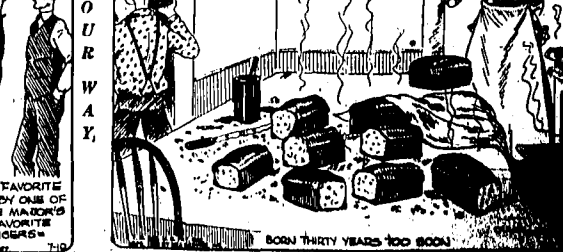

"To know they had attended school without sight and struggled through various lessons and then to see them regain their sight is the most wonderful thing I can imagine," she said.

Domestic demand for farm products increased during the winter of 1938-39.

Upholstered furniture is treated to our special method which leaves it as attractively luxurious as the day it was purchased.

Your curtains receive special treatment . . . properly washed and then carefully stretched to their proper dimensions while drying.

We suggest again that you call on us for these important services when you plan seasonal or everyday cleaning activities in your home.

These Two Additional Troy-National Processes Bring You Further Satisfaction

Fantom - Fast Invisible identification for your laundry. A special method enables us to "mark" your laundry without the use of pen and ink. It's another quality process at no charge in our finished or rough dry services.

Stain-Pruf water-proof. Protects linens, curtains, shower curtains and outdoor washables against most fluid stains. Wash suits or expensive outdoor clothing benefit from Stain-Pruf because a Stain-Prufed garment will retain its original finish twice as long.

NOTE: Every garment or household furnishing is fully protected by adequate Fire and Theft Insurance while in our possession.

Get acquainted with your routeman—he's able and willing to help you save money in ordering these many services which we offer. Ask him!
