LEADERS MAY DEMAND NEUTRALITY ACTION

GERMAN RESIDENTS BITTER AT DEMAND TO LEAVE TYROL

CITIZENS WON'T EVACUATE UNTIL FORCED BY ITALY

By RICHARD C. HOTTELET
BOLZANO, Italian Tyrol, July 17 (U.P.)—German-speaking Tyrolese, who became Italian citizens after the World War, expressed bitter opposition today to any plan to force them from their homeland.

Rumors had circulated in the South Tyrol for a week before the news was published that Germany and Italy had agreed to aid the "voluntary" repatriation of German-speaking Tyrolese. An atmosphere of intense suspicion then developed.

Scores of Germans told the United Press correspondent that any voluntary migration of German-speaking people seemed doomed to fail. The theory was widely entertained that compulsory measures would be applied when, as Tyrolese put it, "the uselessness of waiting for the success of voluntary emigration" was apparent.

Solution Near
There was a widespread conviction that now that this question had emerged into the open after 20 years during which even its existence was tacitly denied, it would be brought to a solution one way or another in the not distant future.

Many Tyrolese believe a time limit will be set for them to leave the area after the expiration of German citizens resident in it has been completed.

Whether emigration plans are called voluntary or are compulsory, the United Press correspondent was repeatedly assured, the vast majority of Tyrolese will leave the area which has been their home for centuries.

Foreigners Go
The United Press correspondent entered the south Tyrol by way of Innsbruck, Austria. He found that most foreign tourists had left the area. No time limit had been set for the departure of foreign residents, except German citizens. Germans own no land in the area within three months, those with property have been given six months.

Thus far there has been no mention of compulsory emigration of the German speaking population. Well informed sources here said the probability a time limit of from one to two years would be set for them.

The German government is establishing bureaus for "voluntary" repatriation of the south Tyrolese, and sending them to Germany. These bureaus are to be at Bolzano, Merano, Rovereto and Brennero.

Become Italian Citizens
Inhabitants of the south Tyrol became Italian citizens after the World War when the area was taken from Austria-Hungary. They are German speaking and are German culturally, historically and by tradition.

Orders to foreigners to leave the south Tyrol recently led to the departure of many Germans. The entire area was to be "Italianized." It was believed that the method had been decided. But it was reported that the Tyrolese, estimated to total anywhere between 100,000 and 300,000 would be forced to go to Germany or to the designated areas in southern Italy. "Italianization" of the area would be most important in Italy's fight against the south Tyrol, an strategically important, situated opposite Austria.

28 Bodies Recovered From Kentucky Mine After Blast

Hundreds of mothers and children and relatives awaited outside the Duvin coal mine at Providence, Ky., after a blast had killed 19 and entombed nine others. Today the final nine were found—all dead—in a shaft 185 feet below the mine entrance and three miles away.

Death Toll Reaches to 28 In Kentucky Mine Blast Nine More Found Dead as Rescuers Continue Work

PROVIDENCE, Ky., July 17 (U.P.)—G. T. Powell, U. S. bureau of mines inspector, announced today that rescue workers had found the bodies of nine additional miners in the Duvin coal mine, making a total of 28 victims in a dust explosion which rocked the mine Friday night.

The bodies were found behind a make-shift barricade in a gallery 185 feet below the surface and almost three miles from the shaft.

Rescuers had been hopeful of finding the nine men alive. They had expected the barricade to protect them from gas-laden air.

Barricade Ineffective
Powell said the barricade had been ineffective because the men had not had sufficient material to make it airtight. He said rescuers had expected the men had used some of their clothing to fill breaches in the barricade.

"The gas seeped through the cloth," Powell said. "It was the only available material they had to use."

Thirty-eight men were in the mine when the explosion occurred. Seven working near the shaft came to the surface and three others were rescued a half mile from the scene of the explosion. Rescue crews found the bodies of 10 and said nine others who had been working with that group had been buried in water and debris.

Wives Await Word
Police cleared away from the mine entrance nearly 1,500 persons, including wives and children of the victims, who had been tearfully awaiting word from below.

The victims found today were: Arch Cold, 43; Huddell Lepper, 32; Charles Wallace, 33; Mike Boyd, 48; Gordon Cole, 29; Elmer Baker, 48; Gordon Holt, 30; Wade Williams, 28; and Allen Glausiers, 28.

CRICKET MENAGE CHANGES 'FRONT'

Conquered on our front, crickets went into action on another today to offer a chance to Twin Falls county farmers.

The insect pests today had descended in huge numbers on the Salmon tract area west of Holliester, after control measures in the Roseworth area had reduced them to a "not bad" status, according to County Agent Herb Bollingbrook.

No Time Wasted
Washington, D. C., U. S. invasion, combined state and county facilities marched into battle against the crickets this afternoon.

The state ordered a "mowing" machine, operated by Ted Williams, working into operation. In addition, the diesel oil method was highly effective where the crickets made cross ditches or laterals, was utilized along every strip of water.

Keith Potts, Boise, state director of cricket control, returned from east Idaho to direct state of crickets offensive near Holliester. The dusting machine sprayed sodium arsenite and lime, and a number of hand-ditches were also in operation.

Get Truckload
Mr. Bollingbrook and Ben E. Butler, member of the board of county commissioners, went to Rt. 2, south of here, to get a truckload of the sodium arsenite dust. They returned about 1 a. m. today with the truckload.

In a special meeting, county members of the executive committee appointed committees for the convention. Applications for the 1940 convention were also considered, but the executive committee postponed action until the closing session Wednesday afternoon.

President of Utah Power and Light company, and Dr. Lowell B. Bishop of Washington, D. C., chief of population and census in the federal bureau of census.

Attempt May Be Made to Hold Congress in Session Until Legislation Passes

WASHINGTON, July 17 (U.P.)—Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley indicated today, after a White House conference with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull, that he might try to keep congress in session until action on neutrality legislation has been obtained.

The conference—Mr. Roosevelt's regular weekly discussion of the legislative situation—was one of the most protracted of recent weeks.

After the discussion, Barkley said: "I do not think that congress would convene generally in the face of any duty it might be called upon to perform."

Those participating in the discussion were Barkley, Vice President John N. Garner, Speaker William B. Bankhead and House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn. The conference lasted nearly an hour and a half.

Reviewed Legislation
Barkley, acting as spokesman for the group, said the conference reviewed the whole legislative field. "Of course," he said, "neutrality is the crux of the whole thing, and everything depends upon what is done about it. Everything is still in the study stage. That applies to neutrality legislation, the lending, spending proposal and adjournment."

The presence of Hull, who usually does not attend the legislative conference, was indicative of the emphasis the administration continues to place on neutrality action despite the opinion of many senators that congress will not act on it this session.

Barkley said that hearings would begin soon in the senate on the lending program and that possibly he might suggest some action in the administration proposals.

Could Use Changes
"I think that I might want to put in a few changes myself," he said.

If the President decides it is useless to continue his fight to revise the neutrality law at this session, congress is expected to adjourn early next month.

As the session is adjourned as the adjournment call, if the President agrees with his leaders today that neutrality is a dead issue until next session, congress would have little more to do to complete its work.

Senate and house leaders said efforts would be made to hold the President's $4,000,000,000 lending program, parts of which have provoked vigorous opposition, but many believe it would be held over until the next session.

Bills Await Approval
Several appropriation bills remain to be approved. Social security amendments, now in conference between the two houses, also must be considered.

Railroad relief legislation, approved by the senate and scheduled for house consideration on Friday, may get no further than a conference committee.

Efforts to revise the Wagner labor relations act have been postponed until after the session in Germany. Thursday to approve a resolution for an investigation of the labor relations act.

Many house also will consider this week the senate-passed Hatch bill to bar political activity by federal administrative officials.

Counter-Propaganda Invades Germany; Hitler Woes Will Come From Within, Twin Falls Visitor Thinks

By G. O. KALKER
While grinding out propaganda at top speed aiming at the Nazi doctrine at all corners of the earth by spoken and printed word, Germany is becoming increasingly conscious of a return stream of counter-propaganda.

Much of this anti-Nazi material is of a type extremely dangerous to a nation that employs the obvious, or, at least, the method of hypnotizing. He creeds, but the counter blow which is being strikingly felt by the secret influx of printed matter, and the use of secret radio broadcasts, according to Berlin news, is being felt by the German people.

PROBE PLANNED IN PLANE CRASH

NEW YORK, July 17 (U.P.)—An inquiry into the crash at sea of the coast guard patrol plane No. 10, in which three men were killed Saturday, was transferred today to Woods Hole.

Lieut. Commander William John Koehler of Bristol, Penn., heading the coast guard's three-man investigating board, said the inquiry would open tomorrow with the questioning of the crew of the Atlantic, oceanographic survey vessel from which the patrol plane had been recovered a few minutes before the crash.

The Atlantic is docked at Woods Hole.

One of the principal witnesses Koehler said, will be Capt. Frederick McMurtry of the Atlantic, who reported the crash. The plane had been tipped by a terrific explosion just before it crashed, 150 miles southeast of here.

WPA STARTS SLASHING OF 750,000 FROM RELIEF ROLL

MASS FIRING OF WORKERS STARTS TO MEET BUDGET

By MACK JOHNSON
WASHINGTON, July 17 (Special)—Works progress administration officials today began the most extensive roll cutting program since the agency's establishment in 1935, involving the dismissal of approximately 750,000 workers by Sept. 1.
Orders were sent to state administrators to begin mass firings in accordance with a provision of the 1940 relief bill that all on WPA rolls for 18 months must take a 30-day vacation.
In New York, 1,000 dismissal notices already were in the mails, and 2,500 will be discharged each working day for the next six weeks. Dismissals in other states will follow shortly.
Officials were uncertain what effect the new firings would have on the two weeks-old strike affecting more than 100,000 WPA workers who are protesting another provision of the 1940 relief measure—that abandoning the prevailing wage scale for skilled workers.
Might Complicate Situation
They feared the dismissals might complicate the strike situation by increasing worker resentment against the relief act.
Leaders of the Workers Alliance, an organization of relief clients, have warned that nationwide protests against the dismissal program will make the current strike "look like a tea-party."
A congressional drive to restore the prevailing wage apparently had failed.
The senate group, headed by Sen. James Murray, D. Mont., abandoned efforts to revise the relief law because of strike violence, which they termed "embarrassing."
$96,000 to August

WPA officials said that some 300,000 persons will be cut off the relief rolls during August to meet the congressional 18-month restriction and that another 350,000 would be fired in September. The dismissals will be carried out gradually, they said, in order to avoid disruption of project operations.
The new reductions are in addition to the "normal" cut ordered previously to bring WPA rolls down from 2,500,000 in June to 2,400,000 in July.
Project operations continued indefinitely suspended in Minneapolis, Minn., and Rochester, N. Y., where authorities feared possible violent outbreaks. Riots in Minneapolis have caused two deaths and more than a score of injuries.

JEROME LEGION ELECTS CONNOR

JEROME, July 17 (Special)—Emmit Connor was named commander of the Jerome post, American Legion, at the election last week. Connor succeeds Oscar Fort. Other officers elected include: Vice-commander, Charles P. Pyrie; adjutant, Walter Bowman; historian, James Scheid; chaplain, E. E. La Turner; sergeant-at-arms, Wallace Stowell; and service officer, Bryan Henry.
The executive committee chosen were Wallace Johnson, Paul McIntyre, Lucian T. Burdick, Bert Shimm and Oscar Fort.
Delegates named to attend the state convention which is scheduled to be held in Twin Falls in August include F. E. Connor, Walter Bowman and James Scheid. Alternates are Oscar Fort, Bert Shimm and Charles Pyrie.
Jellison Endowed
During the business session the post read on record as endorsing Wallace Johnson, present fourth district commander, as first vice-commander, department of Idaho, American Legion. The election will be held in Twin Falls at the state convention Aug. 13-16.
It was explained that due to the untiring efforts of its commander, the fourth district is the outstanding one in the state of Idaho in membership.
Jerome post has never had a state official who has served in office.
Memorial Planned
The post completed arrangements for a monument which will be placed on the southwest corner of the new Jerome county courthouse grounds. In memorandum of the committee's work, a bronze tablet placed against the imposing structure, will be inscribed in recognition of the deed. The object will stand eight feet in height, with a base of 12 feet, and will be in the form of a drinking fountain. The structure will be made from blue and white terra cotta and will harmonize with the courthouse. The memorial is to be built within a few weeks and was made possible through efforts of the county commissioners and the Legion.

GOODING, July 17 (Special)—At a meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the west city park last week, meetings during the month of August were discontinued. There was a light attendance.
One summer project was outlined, however, and Ed Baer was named chairman of the committee in charge. He will be assisted by Larry Robinson.
The idea is to promote a "How Far Will Your Dollar Go?" campaign. A committee will make an optional request of merchants to contribute one dollar's worth of merchandise. This will be displayed in a show window in town with an auction to be held on a Saturday evening late this month. Receipts from the auction will then be used by the Jaycees in an advertising plan to promote Gooding. A committee will work out details of the campaign.
Other business was of routine nature.

Shoshone, Buhl Continue Undeclared in SCI League

Champion Shoshone baseball team yesterday continued to hold the lead in the South Central Idaho league as the northern club turned back the challenge of the Gooding team by a score of 8-4. However, the Shoshone team needed the win, as the undefeated Buhl club drubbed the Tuttle entry by a score of 15-0.

The two victories left Shoshone and Buhl tied at the top of the loop in the second half with three wins and no losses each.

At Kimberly the invading Hagerman club upset the home team by a score of 10-0, while the Eden team lost to the Gooding team by a score of 5-0.

At Gooding the day saw Burley score its first victory of the second half—a 2-0 win over the previously unbeaten Eden team.

SHOSHONE 8, GOODING 6

SHOSHONE, July 17 (Special).—The largest crowd of the season, with many of the spectators from Gooding, turned out for the SCI league game here yesterday and was treated to a wild spectacle that saw a total of 15 errors chalked and the first-half champion Shoshone club score an 8-4 victory over the Gooding team.

Gooding out-hit the locals 11-0, but Shoshone bunched bingles in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings for the victory.

However, along with the errors there were some snappy offerings. Shoshone made three double plays, and Gooding contributed two. E. Barrett and B. Barrett, both of Gooding, got home runs with no one on, both with the assistance of field errors. Norman Rutherford led the winners' attack with three safe hits in four trips to the plate, while Kelher got two out of three for the losers.

KIMBERLY, July 17 (Special).—A surprising band of Hagerman ball players upset Kimberly by a score of 13-10 here yesterday, although out-hit by the home club 13-8.

Dust and a high wind contributed to the cause of 17 errors. Norm Shepard struck out 11 of the invaders, issued only one pass and allowed the eight hits, but the Kimberly errors were costly. The third in a row for Kimberly this half, Hallock, Hagerman pitcher struck out one batter and allowed two free tickets to first base.

BURLEY 23, EDEN 9

BURLEY, July 17 (Special).—Dor-mant Burley sluggers came to life and pounded out a 23-9 victory over the previously undefeated Eden club here yesterday afternoon in an SCI league contest. The victory was the first of the second half for the local club and the first loss for the season period for Manager Ray Henry's Eden team.

The two teams battled an even tussle for the first seven innings, when the count was tied at 7-7. But the visiting defense fell to pieces at that time and the local went on their batting spree. Earl Trullinger crept for the win for Burley, hurling good ball. Morgan pitched the young star to the eighth after the game had been tugged away.

BUHL 15, TUTTLE 0

BUHL, July 17 (Special).—Buhl continued its battle for supremacy in the SCI league here yesterday by handily defeating the Tuttle team by a score of 15-0.

The local team was in front all the way and the lead was never threatened.

Buhl is undefeated in league play for the second half, while Tuttle has yet to win a game. Each club has played three contests.

Hal Surface Wins Maryland Title

HALLTOWNE, Md., July 17 (AP).—Hal Surface, Kansas City star, flashed old-time form here Sunday to win the Maryland men's singles tennis title over Edward Allen, "uncle" Ben Franklin player, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

Surface had conquered Wayne Rubin, Davis cup hopeful, in the semi-finals. Allen startled the crowd by walloping Gil Hut, Washington, the Washington champion, in the other semi-final duel.

Todd Cops Western Amateur Crown

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., July 17 (AP).—Harry Todd, 22-year-old Dallas city champion who yesterday won the western amateur championship, packed the club today and departed for Colorado Springs and the trans-Mississippi tournament.

He won the western championship by beating another dark horse entry, Larry Miller of Quincy, Ill., 2 and 1.

Feud Looms as Shoshone Men Doubt 20-18 Score

SHOSHONE, July 17 (Special).—A game of football played here Saturday was not so "soft" as that, it seems, as the score is disputed. This, obviously, in the minds of all well organized ball fan, is considered a challenge.

One scorer said the result was 20 to 18 in favor of the Under Footballs. On that dust's account about a dozen others who also kept score and who state it was 20-20. As bad as it looks it would be for a return match, and this will probably result, as consensus of opinion inclines to the judgment of the major scorers.

Manifestly there is not bad blood mixed in the game, but the fellows who are over 40 years want it distinctly understood that they have a few things on the sphere themselves, despite the strained efforts of the younger fellows who tried to slip across with an 18-run climb. It can't be done, state the elders, so this, like some contest in trap-shooting, looks like a re-match of the Over and Under.

Most all the participants are associated with business concerns in town, and each of them, in some remote period of the paleo-stone time thought he could play baseball. So it's three. The Under-40s will have to demonstrate that they are more than spud mashes in the story to get away with a tie-score, but the Over-40s with the Ruthian smash must be shown. The game Saturday was witnessed by a large crowd of fans and the game ran the regular seven innings, and while several substitutions had to be made because of the terrific power exerted in the box and behind the bat. Something over $20 was donated by the crowd to the fund for recreational purposes. John Smith heaved for the Overs and Coffin found behind the plate for a time. Shaw was called mound for the Unders. The fielding was something marvelous, as the ball never got there.

Cattle Involved in 2 Highway Mishaps

SHOSHONE, July 17 (Special).—Rodeo Wagner, Twin Falls, trucking cattle from the Arco region to Twin Falls, Thursday was traveling the new Richfield road from Shoshone to Carey, with gravel and oil banded in the middle of the highway. Being a car ahead, he turned across the bank, and his trailer, holding the livestock, broke loose and went. The cattle took to the desert. Since that time Sheriff George Brown states that he has been busy chasing livestock without recovery.

Frank Bayless, local farmer, lost his trailer, after Sunday night on highway 82. Bert Johnson endeavored to round another car, when a steer got in the way. It was instantly killed. All parties agreed to settle the damages.

PACKING HOUSE WORKERS DEMAND UNION CONTRACTS

LEWIS PLEDGES SUPPORT OF CIO IN STRIKE PLAN

CHICAGO, July 17 (AP)—The packing house workers' organizing committee, backed by a personal pledge of support from John L. Lewis, CIO chief, gave notice today it would call a strike against the Big Four meat packers, largest in the nation, if they refuse to negotiate for wage contracts.

Nearly 1,000 delegates, representing 75,000 packing house employees who are members of unions affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations, attended a PWOC national policy convention Sunday and voted unanimously to give their leaders power to call strikes.

Claims Majority
Lewis spoke last night at a mass meeting of 12,000 union members. He promised that the CIO would back packing unions in "any struggle into which they may be forced by the large corporations of the industry," and took occasion to predict a new CIO campaign in the steel industry for contracts from "little steel" firms.

The PWOC claims a majority representation of employees of all the Big Four packing firms—Armour, Wilson, Swift and Cudahy—producers of two-thirds of the country's federally-inspected meat. The strike authorization gave leaders power to call a strike against Armour if peaceful negotiations fail, and against the other three independent firms if they "maintain the same attitude as Armour and company in refusing to confer" with the union and negotiate contracts.

Concluding Steps
The committee took one concluding step. It appealed to President Roosevelt to intervene in its dispute with Armour, key firm on the controversy, and decide whether company officials should be compelled to negotiate with union representatives. The union said that if the President intervenes and the company refuses to negotiate, it will call a strike.

The PWOC charged that Armour has refused to negotiate with union bargaining committees for contracts despite national labor board decisions, the union said, declared the PWOC the representatives of workers in the same Armour plants.

City Can Have Honor at Fair, Koehler Says
If local people want it, a "Twin Falls, Idaho, day" will be staged on the Fourth of July, said Mayor J. H. Koehler, today, September, it was learned here today.

It was that arrangements had been made for the observance was learned here through H. H. Hedstrom, in a telephone conversation with Mayor J. H. Koehler, now on a trip to the coast. The mayor called from Hollywood.

Koehler also announced that arrangements for "Idaho day" which will be observed at the fair on Saturday, July 22, had been completed. Koehler is on the staff of Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen who will lead Idaho visitors.

The mayor also said that the Warrent Brothers and Fox Film corporation executives have asked him to contact Chamber of Commerce representatives here for pictures and data of terrain in the Twin Falls area with a view of filming pictures in this locality. Such pictures would probably be based on western and pioneer themes. Oakley's historic City of Rocks was also mentioned as a possible picture site.

PREMIUM LISTS PREPARED FOR CASSIA COUNTY FAIR

BURLEY, July 17 (Special)—Plans for the Cassia county fair and Old Oregon Trail stampede are rapidly being completed according to Manager B. F. Mahoney. Premium lists are now being printed and will be mailed in the near future. Those not receiving one of these lists are asked to notify the manager at the Cassia county fair offices, phone 307.

Grauges and other organizations are now making preparations for their booth exhibits which are expected to be even better than those of the past.

It is urged that all who can exhibit this year, do so, and help in making this year's the outstanding fair for Cassia county. Business concerns desiring outside display space should make arrangements with the fair manager as soon as possible.

A number of improvements have been made on the grounds to date and work is still in progress. At present the horse barn has been shingled, sleeping quarters built in the stock building, for exhibitors, and water piped into the barn.

Four new bleachers have been constructed which will increase the seating capacity to eight hundred. The pick-up chutes are now being set back, which will add 60 feet to the length of the arena. This will make possible better exhibitions of half roping, bull wrestling, trick roping and riding.

Weed Control in Jerome Stopped
JEROME, July 17 (Special)—L. P. Oldham, Jerome county zone supervisor of the control of noxious weeds said today that the weed control work of this county has been stopped. No work will be resumed until further notice by officials.

Approximately $40,000 was spent in the control of weeds in this county last year, Oldham said.

He further stated that there is sufficient work to keep the chemical crew of 50 men busy and there are 200 acres under cultivation.

"Unless the program is resumed within a very short time, the work which has already been done will be wasted," Oldham explained.

He said that the weed control program is the most popular project of the WPA, and brings the program down to the farmer, assisting him in the problem of eradicating weeds.

BUHL VOTERS TO DECIDE ON BONDS

BUHL, July 17 (Special)—Buhl voters will vote at a special election Tuesday, July 25, for a $40,000 bond issue for improvements to the city water supply system. Money raised through this election "will be the city's share of a $77,000 WPA project which has already been approved.

Main objective will be to replace the worn-out 12-inch wooden main with a 16-inch cast-iron main from the reservoir to the city. Additional funds are wanted for a swimming pool in the park and to make a survey of the water situation to make further improvements in the quality of city water.

Mayor C. C. Voeller estimates the bond issue would be amortized over 20 years and would increase the taxes about 3 mills.

More than 200 new water users have been added to the present system in the past two years, and with an addition of the underground sprinkling system at Buhl high school and the Joyce hall park, the pressure in the city is much below normal. Buhl residents are on "water rations" and the city is zoned in two different sections permitting sprinkling on alternate days.

Under a project approved last year workers have been busy since May preparing the main reservoir at the city plant. A new concrete floor is being laid, and when completed will permit flushing and easier cleaning in the main settling basin.

City council is planning on buying a new fire truck. Old truck, which has been in use about 20 years, will be used at the city reservoir for added pressure in cleaning.

Gooding County To Hire Single Women for Jobs
GOODING, July 17 (Special)—A controversy which has been raging in state and county offices in this state, particularly in the last two years, regarding the right of married women to be employed in public service, was settled this week as far as Gooding county is concerned.

At their regular meeting here Monday, the commissioners recommended that in the future, county offices should employ only single women. Married women already employed, however, will continue to hold their positions.

The commissioners met both in regular sessions and as a board of equalization on the personal property tax roll this week.

A quarterly report from the sheriff's, the clerk's and probate judge's offices were accepted. The total collections of fees, etc., in the sheriff's office totaled $114.91, from the probate court there was a total of $200.53, and from the clerk's office a total of $340.10. The reports were as of June 30.

Other business was of routine nature and in allowing the bills for June.

BUHL SUBSTATION NOW COMPLETED

BUHL, July 17 (Special)—Idaho Power company substation at Buhl and the raising of the voltage for 1,200 rural customers from 2,300 volts to 11,000 volts was completed early in July.

A new feeder line carrying four circuits has been built along Seventh avenue south, following out along the Sego Milk company to the highway where the circuits will serve different sections of the surrounding Buhl territory.

One of the circuits going west on the Deep Creek road serves west of Buhl and the Lucerne district; a 1,000 volt feeder follows south out to Castleford, serving that district and customers south of town; a circuit going east on the highway serves customers northeast of Buhl and also customers reading approximately eight miles east of the Bury corner.

New 11,000 volt substation has a capacity of approximately 3,000 kilowatts, an increase of over four times that previously available in Buhl.

Castleford substation, which was constructed in 1927, has been abandoned and all customers who formerly received service from there are on the new hook up from Buhl. This will improve service for approximately 700 rural customers reading south and west of Buhl. The total money expended for improving this service is estimated at $50,000.
