

BR BLASTS 76TH CONGRESS FOR 'GAMBLING'

Brisk Bidding Marks Ram Sale; $500 Tops Early Prices

'Whoop'er Up, Lads,' Says Tiny Old Lady on Perilous Boat Trip

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 9 (UP)—A tiny old lady with the silver blue eyes of a Viking and who weighs less than 100 pounds dripping wet kicked the bottom of her 14-foot spruce boat today and spoke feelingly to workmen repairing it.

"Whoop'er up, lads! We're headed for 'Ole Man River'!" she said.

She was Mrs. E. B. Gigg, a wealthy Vancouver, B. C., widow who has four daughters, nine grandchildren and the restless, adventurous spirit of her late husband. She and her husband, Holman, had negotiated the most dangerous half of a projected boat trip from Portland, Ore., to New York—the Columbia, the Snake river, the Yellowstone and most of the Missouri.

But it was the thrill promised ahead, where the Missouri's mouth yawns out just north of St. Louis and loses itself in the Mississippi, that gave spur to her words to the workmen, whom she hoped would "make the old boat speedier."

Although a veteran boatman, "on the sunny side of 80," she had never journeyed with the deep currents of the "Ole Man" and that prospect intrigued her more than anything else.

She and Holman leave here later in the week, a new motor putt-putting in the bow of her ancient boat, continue down the Missouri to the Mississippi, down that stream to Cairo, turn north-east up the Ohio, thence into the Allegheny and to New York about Oct. 1.

She decided last April to visit a daughter in Windsor, and she couldn't think of a better way of crossing America than by boat. She employed Holman, an Oregon boatman, and they showed off from Portland April 23.

The only incident of the trip thus far which she found worthy of mention was a dunking she and Holman took in a rapid on the wild Snake river.

Their voyage has been by water with only one major exception, the long overland haul over the Rockies for which she hired an automobile and boat trailer. A few other overland hauls were also made, including one in southern Idaho.

U. OF S. SUFFOLK STUD LEADS WAY AT 1939 AUCTION

FILER, Aug. 9 (Special)—B. B. Burroughs, Homedale, today paid top purchase price of $500 for one stud Suffolk ram as brisk bidding marked this morning's session of the annual ram sale sponsored by the Idaho Wool Growers association.

Burroughs bid for the ram, entered in the sale by the University of Idaho at Moscow, was $75 above the next highest sale which was closed when Laidlaw and Brockie, Muldoon, purchased a Suffolk offered by E. R. Kelsey, Burley. Sale price was $425.

With a near record crowd of buyers and sellers attending, officials said that the sale "did fair" to being the most successful of the 18 held to date.

Handling the auctioning part of the sale are Col. E. O. Walter, Filer, and Herb F. Moore, Nampa. Dr. S. W. McClure is in the ring and arrangements for the sale were in charge of Robert Black, Filer.

Moves Rapidly

The sale progressed rapidly this morning and by the time a halt was called for luncheon at noon a total of 56 pens had been disposed of. At 1 p. m. the Hampshire yearlings were slated to go on the block with 40 pens available. These were followed by Hampshire ram lambs, Hampshire shire studs, Suffolk-Hampshire yearlings, Suffolk-Hampshire ram lambs, and Hampshire ram lambs.

Following conclusion of the sale, buyers and sellers will meet at the Filer hotel in Filer, Idaho, at 2 p. m. for annual banquet.

Morning Sales

Sales made this morning include the following:

Suffolk yearlings: Laidlaw and Brockie, Muldoon, pen of 10 purchased by Jack Lane, Ketchum, $400; Muldoon, pen of 10 purchased by Maurice Querry, Castleford, $420.

First Sale at Big Ram Auction Today

This was the scene as the first transaction, on lot No. 1 of Suffolk yearlings, was completed at the annual ram sale of the Idaho Wool Growers at the Filer fairgrounds today. Col. E. O. Walter, auctioneer, is on the stand, handkerchief around his neck as he swung into the auction chain. Below and in front of him are Jack Lane, Ketchum, left, the buyer, and James Laidlaw, Muldoon, right, the seller. The Suffolk yearlings in the foreground sold at $40 each, or $500 for the pen of 10 animals. The sale was thronged by buyers from all parts of Idaho and many sections of nearby states. ATTACKS SOLENS FOR FAILURE TO PASS MEASURES

By T. F. REYNOLDS

HYDE PARK, Aug. 9 (UP)—President Roosevelt today began disposing of the last of the 145 bills passed by the 76th congress after charging that congressmen who defeated his neutrality, lending and housing program had gambled with the fate of humanity and the future of American business.

He made these charges yesterday at a press conference, but he left unanswered the question of whether he will appeal to the voters of the country to rebuke the congressmen who opposed him.

Mr. Roosevelt plans to dispose of all pending bills before Friday night, and have the summer White House here Saturday morning for a vacation under the U. S. S. Tuscaloosa off the coast of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland.

Made Two Bets

In sharp criticism of the Republican minority in congress and the 28 per cent of the Democratic majority that teamed up to defeat the neutrality, spending and housing bills, Mr. Roosevelt said this bloc had made two bets with American people—that war will not come before congress meets again and that private enterprise can take up the slack caused by dropping 1,000,000 persons from relief rolls, as well as the virtual suspension of the FWA program which gave employment to 2,000,000.

Mr. Roosevelt said he hoped congress would take these bets, but that if it loses, the congressional group that opposed him must assume full responsibility before the people.

Mrs. Roosevelt was present, leaning against a bookcase. Once, when Mr. President was discussing the curbing of relief, she commented that relief expenditures had increased general purchasing power.

Mr. Roosevelt said he hoped to provide a graded adjustment period in which private enterprise could employ displaced relief workers. He said that the dropping of 3,000,000 workers and their families from relief rolls "is a serious matter."

Graded Adjustment

Mr. Roosevelt said he hoped to provide a graded adjustment period in which private enterprise could employ displaced relief workers. He said that the dropping of 3,000,000 workers and their families from relief rolls "is a serious matter."

He said it was hard to get down to a precipice without danger to life and limb and that he was not going to do that. He said he was not going to do that. He said he was not going to do that.

ROSS OPERATION TERMED SUCCESS

BOISE, Aug. 9 (UP)—A gallant operation on C. Ben Ross was completed at 9:30 a. m. today and Dr. Alphonso hospital attendants said the colorful former Idaho governor had stood the surgery "remarkably well."

The three-times Gem state chief executive entered the operating room at 8 a. m.

He had been in the hospital since last Saturday. His condition had been described as serious but after today's operation physicians said his recovery was probable.

Ross, who keeps his exact age secret but is believed to be about 60, has been in ill health for the last several years. During his last gubernatorial term, which ended Jan. 1, 1937, his health was particularly uncertain and when he campaigned for U. S. senator against the veteran William R. Borah in the fall of 1936, his health situation again was uncertain and he was unable to campaign for the office.

During the 1938 campaign, when he broke all Idaho precedents by trying for a fourth term as governor, observers often noticed the lack of his usual strength. In this campaign he was defeated again by Republican C. A. Bottolfsen by more than 28,000 votes. Since then he has retired to his Canyon country farm and taken little part in active civic life.

Smiles, Frowns in Bridges Case

Apparently unworried by deportation proceedings against him, Harry Bridges, labor leader, today smiled and frowns in the case of the immigration inspection, and James Laidlaw, case examiner, are deep in serious discussion and thought. On stand, Bridges again denied he is Communist, said case was already raised, and "the only thing to do about it is to organize trade unions."

The scheduled plane, piloted by Fred Marshall Prince, was forced down at Ratonas Springs airport by bad weather.

Jermine B. Pitney, airport owner, said it was "remarkable" that Prince's plane was able to land. He said one of its wings was cracked, the propeller's three blades were bent, and the motor was loose in the fuselage.

The death plane fell nearly a mile, narrowly missed a crew of workers on a highway bridge project, Jesse Pitts, a worker, was knocked unconscious by a fragment of the plane.

The plane burst into flames and Charles Cleveland, a witness, said the bodies were mangled and burned.

Cleveland said he saw the three planes flying north when suddenly one went into a spin. On its way down, Cleveland said it almost struck one of the other planes.

"It was a miracle it didn't strike the other plane," Cleveland said. "It came close but the pilot in the other plane apparently averted out of the way just in time."

AMERICAN ARMY PLANE CRASHES

ROUND LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 9 (UP)—One of four airplanes en route in formation for army maneuvers in northern New York sideswiped another 5,000 feet up today and crashed in a meadow, killing two air corps fliers.

The victims were Lieut. Morris E. Thomas, 21, Peterboro, N. H., and Private Anthony R. Gerrity, Scranton, Penn., both of the 97th observation squadron, based at Mitchell field, N. Y.

Great "Blackout" Tests English Defense Power

LONDON, Aug. 9 (UP)—Great Britain put the 133 warships of its formidable fleet reserve on active service today and prepared for the biggest "blackout" test ever held in the country as the country swung into the second day of a gigantic preparedness test.

King George spent the day reviewing and inspecting the reserve fleet off Weymouth.

Thus the ships, newly conditioned and manned with the aid of 12,000 specially called reservists, were put on active service. Last leaves had been granted before the ships left for navy bases on the North Sea to join the great home fleet.

Twenty million people in 21 English counties made ready for an air raid blackout test to start tonight. It was postponed from tonight because of bad flying weather. Hundreds of thousands of civilian volunteers were ready to take their posts when the warning comes at midnight, that an "enemy" fleet of 500 planes is crossing the coast.

Emergency Planes Arrive

The preparedness test had started last night, when "enemy" planes of "hostile" fleet crossed the coast, to be met by 800 defending planes in a mock fight over southeastern England.

Complete success of this first test, a preliminary to tonight's blackout, was indicated by an air minister's statement.

CAR MISHAPS IN CITY SHOW GAIN

Number of automobile accidents in Twin Falls during 1939 to date totals 104, and at the present time, shows every indication that total for this year, if the present pace is followed, will far exceed the number tabulated in 1938.

Part of the accidents were increasing was noted this afternoon after a check of records kept at the local police station, showed there were 131 recorded during the entire 12-month period of 1938. In 1937 there were 217 mishaps here.

In the 104 mishaps recorded in Twin Falls to date this year, the records show, there were 23 persons injured and the property damage amounted to the sum of $2,000. With only eight days of August passed, there has been six accidents recorded but no injuries have resulted.

At the same time records of Municipal Judge J. O. Humphrey show that 16 persons have been arrested and charged with speeding, two for drunken driving, two for reckless driving, one for hit and run, and one for driving on the wrong side of the road.

These have appeared before Judge Humphrey since the first of this year.

Number of persons injured in local mishaps this year, tabulated by month, follows:

January	3
February	3
March	None
April	2
May	2
June	None
July	2
August (to date)	None

HANSEN DECREES PLANS ON WATER

The "go ahead" signal had been given today to H. W. Merritt, Twin Falls engineer, to draw up plans and specifications of a proposed domestic water system for the community of Hansen.

The order that the work be done by Merritt was issued at Hansen last night as members of the town council held an "open house" session which was attended by scores of townspeople.

At the session Merritt, as well as Hansen village officials, explained the proposed improvement which would be carried on with federal government aid.

The project was divided into four sections, namely source of supply, water to gain pressure, pumps and distribution system.

At the present time Hansen residents take their water either from wells or from canals. There is no domestic water system. It is believed that installation of a sewage system would be the next step to be considered after the domestic water system is installed.

Al Schacht Terms Pioneer Loop "Hottest" in Nation

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (UP)—Al Schacht, baseball's clown prince, claims the record as the "fastest traveling man in America."

Schacht, who has been in the country since April 24, "I defy anyone to top my record of 33,000 miles overland in three-and-one-half months," the funnyman declared.

Schacht in making 75 appearances since the opening of the baseball season has been in 15 states except six and has seen more ball clubs and more ball players than any other person in the country.

"I have seen more good-looking, hustling young ball players than at any time since I started my stunt tour in 1937," he said. "The class C and D players are much improved over two years ago. And they are young kids about 18 and 19. The Cardinals have a raft of good youngsters."

Schacht gave a boost for night baseball and predicted it would be a big thing in every major league city in a few years.

"Night baseball saved the minors," he said. "It made it a family affair. A man doesn't have to sneak away from business in the afternoon now to see a game. And he takes the wife and kids."

Schacht named the new Class C Pioneer league, which comprises Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah, Pocatello, Twin Falls, Boise and Lewiston, Ida., as the hottest league in the country now.

"The fans out there are really rarin' to go," he said. "I have a lively ball out there and if a fellow can't hit .270, he is considered a cluck at the plate. Salt Lake City, despite being in third place, is red hot under Eddie Mullen, former White Sox third baseman."

Another hot baseball town is Seattle, which Schacht predicted would draw 600,000, exceeding several major league cities.

FLAMES RAGE IN NORTHWEST AREA

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 9 (UP)—The underbrush that in the northwest woods was virtually closed to all but the fire fighters, today was the scene of a disastrous fire that raged through Oregon and Washington.

The most serious was roaring uncontrolled in the hills of Saddle Mountain toward the coastal city of Tillamook and the Shuswap national forest.

Plans to throw a 1,000-man line in front of the blaze were abandoned when it became apparent that the fire might reach the coast. The United States forest crews were marshaled along the Siuslaw line to create long fire breaks should the blaze, only miles distant, continue its onward push.

30,000 Acres Burned

It appeared that close to 30,000 acres had been burned in Oregon alone. The twice controlled Wolf creek fire again escaped and men were sent to fight it. The Siuslaw fire broke out near the mouth of the Siuslaw river, about 10 miles from the coast.

In Washington, the first serious fire of the season, the Olympic peninsula broke out between Center and Port Ludlow. The fire, believed of incendiary origin, had covered an area of 1,000 acres and a half mile wide in under an hour and second growth timber.

Civilians Ordered Out

Another fire on the peninsula in western Clallam escaped from a crew of 120 men and burned 2,000 acres.

Washington State Forester T. S. Goodyear wanted everyone to leave the woods unless they were called.

Near Tacoma, a fire broke out in a lumber yard, threatening scores of summer homes.

BLAZE DESTROYS SEATTLE PLANT

SEATTLE, Aug. 9 (UP)—A three-alarm fire, believed incendiary, virtually destroyed a Seattle water-lumber mill today, after threatening two other plants.

The fire, which did at least $100,000 damage, broke out in three places simultaneously in the Peninsula Lumber company. Two days after fire Chief William Fitzgerald warned manufacturers to beware a Pacific coast arson ring.

The lumber mill fire followed by three days a $275,000 lumber mill fire in Centralia, in southwestern Washington.

Favorite Wins First Heat of $40,000 Race

COHEN, N. Y., Aug. 9 (UP)—M. Culligan's Peter Asta, the 2-5 favorite, missed to a three-length victory in the first heat of the $40,000 Hambletonian stake today before 40,000 persons.

Taking the lead at the start, the bay colt came out fast after passing the half-mile mark and drew steadily away from his nine trotting rivals. G. W. Phil's Chantrelle was second and E. Roland Hartman's Diabler was third. Time for the mile around the triangular track "this track way 2:06.4."

Blaze Hazards in Forest Still High

BOISE, Aug. 9 (UP)—Although the weather has moderated, forest fire hazards conditions in Idaho's national forests remained high today. Forestry officials announced that the best way to stop the smoldering and camp fires has been extended to a fourth hour.

Latest area in danger under the federal forest fire plan is the Boise and Weiler forests and part of the Payette had been previously closed.

NEW DEAL LEADS MISSISSIPPI VOTE

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 9 (UP)—Paul B. Johnson, New Deal candidate, today widened his lead in the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Returns from nearly half of the state's 1,600 precincts in Tuesday's election gave 55,261 votes. Martin Bennett (Mike) Connor, 40-year-old former governor, had 27,333 ballots. The returns make it certain both would be in the runoff primary on Aug. 28.

It was believed the state's two U. S. senators, Pat Harrison and Theodore Bilbo, would take a more active part in the race during the next three weeks.

Johnson devoted much of his campaign to praise of President Roosevelt.

Johnson would be expected to receive the active support of Harrison, a critic of some of Mr. Roosevelt's policies and an enemy of any friend of the state's junior senator.

Tornado Rips Over Southern Michigan

DETROIT, Aug. 9 (UP)—Emergency work crews and Red Cross disaster-organizers were sent today to tornado-ridden Michigan where twisters in five different areas injured hundreds of persons, flattened buildings and devastated crops.

The tornado swept out of benzoid low pressure areas that had drifted eastward from Iowa and Minnesota and struck late yesterday throughout the lower half of the state.

Texas township of Kalamazoo county was hardest hit. There the only fatality was recorded.

The black, funnel-shaped cloud tipped through the southern edge of Kalamazoo and advanced to destroy three miles away in Blount, Camack 25 homes were blown down.

Emergency Tent

An emergency tent to supply food and medical aid to hundreds of homeless and injured South County residents was opened at daybreak by the American Red Cross.

The tent was erected in one of the few open areas in the village where the streets still were mazes of fallen trees, telephone poles and wires.

Tornadoes also dipped into region near Midland, Jackson, Grand Rapids and Lansing, leaving many injured. Livestock loss was reported high.

Damage Runs High

Early estimate of damage to crops and buildings were more than $1,000,000. The figure was expected to mount sharply when reports from outlying areas were received. Some of them were without means of communication.

Only one person was fatally injured, although at least 20 required hospital treatment. Later this morning, a fire broke out in a barn on the roof and chimney of the Van Buren greenhouse at Kalamazoo, topped on fire, fracturing the roof.

Many families remained overnight in their wrecked houses, guarding them against looting.

JAPAN PROTESTS LANDING OF BRITISH BLUEJACKET

DEMAND APOLOGY BY ENGLAND FOR HURTING CHINESE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 9 (UP)—An angry Japanese protest disclosed today that the British destroyer Tenedos had landed bluejackets at Swatow to protect British subjects from a mob.

The Japanese protest, which complained of the wounding of one Chinese, indicated the British bluejackets had taken an active part in defense.

A dispatch from Hong Kong conveyed the official announcement that at the request of the British consul, the Tenedos had landed a bluejacket party at Swatow to protect the British consulate Monday.

It was asserted that a "Japanese-controlled" Chinese mob threatened the consulate, threw stones and shouted anti-British slogans.

A Japanese consular dispatch from Hong Kong said that the Japanese consulate at Swatow had demanded that the British consul "admit that British sailors were involved in the riot," that compensations be paid for a Chinese wounded "amidst the rioting," that British apologize and punish the sailors involved and that Britain guarantee that there be no further incidents.

Plans were reported that Vice Consul John Davies, Jr., of the American consulate, had sailed aboard a Japanese steamship to investigate the condition of Americans isolated for months at Kluang and Nanchang, in Japanese-occupied territory.

A Japanese consular dispatch from Peiping reported that Japanese fathers and four Chinese had been arrested at Hsuehchow charged with "espionage."

British missionaries at Peiping reported that Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scoville, of Los Angeles, attached to the China inland mission, had left Hsuehchow, in Shansi province, at the "request" of the Japanese army.

Artist Displays Indian Studies

Portraits of Indians living on a reservation in the state of Washington, which she had painted this summer, were displayed by Miss Laura Belleville at an informative and worthwhile session of the Mary Davis Art club yesterday afternoon.

Miss Belleville, head of the department of the Norwood school, suburb of Cincinnati, O., and an artist of exceptional ability, was guest speaker at the meeting which took place at the home of Mrs. Viola Mullins. A pot-luck luncheon at 1:30 o'clock preceded the program. She is spending the summer here with relatives.

Miss Belleville recently completed a four weeks' art course, sponsored by Washington State college, Pullman, Wash., during which she painted in oils an Indian chief, and his son, an orphaned Indian girl, a caretaker and other characters, as well as two intriguing landscapes.

Members of the art class took up residence in a small village near the reservation during the course, according to Miss Belleville, who remarked that only rarely would an Indian return for a second sitting.

Mrs. C. C. Hanle discussed Chinese art and Mrs. G. V. Jones gave a paper on the works of several painters.

KNOCK KNEES

Authorities say (and mothers remember) that babies are born bow-legged. At about the age of three, the tendency is for those growing legs to look knock-kneed. At six, normal legs start to straighten out. A young child's normal foot growth is an important part of normal leg growth. Feet and toes must have just enough room, yet not too much, to wriggle and expand properly. Tender young arches must have the support they need. Young heels should be cushioned against the bumps and jars of active youngsters.

Those shocks should be absorbed before they reach the spine. Since 1904 Buster Brown Shoes have helped feet grow normally from babyhood to maturity. Buster Brown is the pioneer and the leader in health features in children's footwear. But that's not the only reason why careful mothers prefer Buster Brown Shoes for their boys and girls. These shoes have the styling youngsters love and the sturdy, long-wear that makes them the economical shoe for young "kickers." Come in and let us fit your children right!

NAZIS REGISTER ALL POPULATION FOR WAR "DEFENSE"

PEOPLE FROM 5 YEARS OLD TO 70 WILL BE LISTED

BERLIN, Aug. 9 (UP)—Nazi Germany's totalitarian program took a new step forward today as authorities ordered the registration of men, women and children of from five to 70 years of age among the country's civilian population.

It was explained that the registration would supplement the existing police register, but it was added:

"Should Germany be attacked, women as well as men must support the fighting army by employment in the homeland in greater measure than during the world war."

The week of Aug. 13-Aug. 19 was selected for the compilation of what is called the "people's register." Jews will register between Aug. 20 and Sept. 2.

Exemption was ordered for foreigners, persons of no definite nationality, members of the active army, navy and air force and members of the Nazi labor service engaged in regular pre-military training.

The new department of "war defense" is all-embracing defense program came as newspapers engaged in a new campaign against "engines" joined Greek Britain with Poland in their denunciations.

As directed by a central agency, they continued their attacks against Poland but emphasized strongly "British" responsibility for Polish megalomania.

This, folks, is a little jitterbug step called "pecking." It is being demonstrated with appropriate facial expressions by Jimmy Brennan, of Elizabeth, N. J., and Temple Fenkan, of Garwood, N. J., who recently won first prize in the first National Junior Jitterbug contest in New York.

Your Health

By ALAN L. HART, M. D.
Consultant, Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis Association and State Division of Public Health

RICKETS

Rickets is a disease of bone caused by lack of Vitamin D during a period of rapid growth in childhood. The calcium and phosphorus in the child's food are not absorbed and therefore calcium salts are not deposited in adequate quantity in the new-formed bone and cartilage. This makes the bone soft, so that it is easily bent out of shape by the child's weight or the pull of his muscles.

When and Where Rickets Occurs

About half of all children under three years have rickets to some degree. It is commonest between the ages of four months and two years and in premature babies.

Rickets is especially prevalent in climates where there is little sunshine, in large cities where the ultra-violet fraction is filtered out of the sunlight by smoke and dust, and in low-income families whose diet is unbalanced.

Symptoms

A young baby with rickets is likely to develop a square head, flat in the back and bulging a little on the sides and in front. The rachitic child usually has a deformed chest. His lower ribs flare out over a protruding tummy and the lower end of his breast bone is pushed in; there are little bony bumps at the junction of his ribs and their cartilage along either side of the breast bone. His wrists and ankles are larger than normal. The softened bones in his legs bend under his weight and whenever muscle-pull is put on them; as a consequence he develops knock-knees or bow legs and his shin-bones may bend forward (saber-shin). He is slow about getting his baby teeth and the permanent ones are not as solid as they ought to be.

The rachitic baby is susceptible to acute infections. The deformity of his chest prevents normal circulation of the air through his lungs and makes him prone to pneumonia. The other bony deformities he develops plague him his life long.

Diagnosis

Diagnosis is easy in severe cases: Square head, flaring lower ribs (funnel-chest, knock-knees or bow-legs). But in mild cases X-ray is needed. The changes in the long bones seen on X-ray films are characteristic and unmistakable to the expert.

Prevention

Immature babies need large doses of some preparation of Vitamin D. E. g. 8 drops Violesterol daily, increasing gradually to 30 drops daily; (this dose continued to the age of 7 or 8 months).

Normal full-time babies should have three teaspoons of cod liver oil (or halibut oil daily).

Irradiated milk (fresh or evaporated) in any quantity a baby can take is only about one-third as effective as cod liver oil.

Exposure to sunlight or ultraviolet light will increase the child's ability to absorb and utilize the calcium in his food. (This to be done only under medical advice.)

Once rickets has developed vigorous treatment is necessary. The child must take large doses of Vitamin D—4,000 to 10,000 units a day (e.g. 20-50 drops of Violesterol) for 2 to 4 months.

Sun baths or ultra-violet light treatments will help him absorb calcium and build it into his bones. (The ultra-violet produces in his skin a substance closely related to Vitamin D. This treatment ought not to be undertaken without a physician's guidance. It is by no means fool-proof or without danger.)

X-ray films of the long bones should be made during treatment and afterward for some weeks, to check the improvement made and the need for further treatment. (Check refusal on Constipation)

SHEEP GROWERS GUESTS AT FILER

FILER, Aug. 9 (Special)—Today's Filer ram sale will make history in turnover and quality. Robert Blasted, local sheepman and chairman of the annual classic, said here last night as keynote of the Filer Kiwanis club banquet for visiting sheep breeders.

Eighty guests and members of the Kiwanis club enjoyed the banquet in the dining room of the Methodist church.

W. M. Nuzman led the group singing accompanied at the piano by Miss Barbara Beem.

Walter Gilson Welcomes

Col. E. O. Walter gave the address of welcome and extended an invitation for any of the visitors to attend a Kiwanis luncheon if they were later in Filer.

R. E. Dillingham acted as master of ceremonies, with the keynote of the entire dinner being informal and jolly.

Don Musser sang "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," and "Night and Day," and Miss LeRoy Williams sang "Amour You Jour L'Amour," both being accompanied at the piano by Miss Barbara Beem.

C. C. Clear, secretary of the Idaho Wool Growers, was introduced and thanked the various newspapers for the publicity and advertisement they had given the ram sale.

Equals the National

Frank L. Stephan, Twin Falls, stated that the Filer ram sale was an annual institution that equaled the national ram sale, if not more outstanding in his estimation, and asked for more boosters and publicity.

The mayor of Filer, Clyde Musgrave, was introduced along with Guy Shearer and Roy Painter, of the Fidelity National bank in Twin Falls; E. M. Rayburn, Filer, and C. W. Colner, Twin Falls.

Mr. Blasted, the sale chairman, enthusiastically of the event, asserting it would set a new mark in sales and quality. He also asked that sheepmen shear their rams at least 30 days before a pending sale, since this is very important. He asked for larger pens of rams to be sold at one time.

Praises Quality

E. F. Rheinhart, state animal husbandman from the University of Idaho, was introduced and commended on the fine quality of the rams in this locality.

N. V. Sharp, Filer, chairman of the Idaho Reclamation association, and Tom Parks, secretary of the Twin Falls county fair, spoke briefly.

R. Brockie of Muldoon, a congressman, gave a brief response to the introduction of Colonel Walter.

The lamb served at the banquet dinner was donated by Mr. Blasted, butchered and by Fowler and cooked by Ed Reed, local baker.

Cowboys Keep 5-Point Lead Over Cardinals

(By United Press)
Twin Falls Cowboys maintained their five percentage point lead in the Pioneer league today after defeating the Salt Lake Bees 5 to 3 Tuesday in the first of a three-game series.

The second-place Pocatello Cardinals refused to lose ground, and defeated the Lewiston Indians, 5-4. The tail-end Boise Pilots defeated Ogden 7 to 1.

At Salt Lake, the Cowboys found Southpaw Verne Johnson for 16 hits. The Bees made three errors, two of them figuring in the scoring. Mike Budnick was touched up for 11 hits, but kept them fairly well scattered. Heavy hitting was contributed by De Carlo and Bogdanoff for the Cowboys, and Bob Price for the Bees.

Manager Lou Garland, on the mound for the Twins club, lost a heartbreaker to the Cardinals. In the ninth after trailing, Shortstop Gordy Williamson threw Horja into right field to let the Cardinals catcher come home with the winning run. Garland allowed eight hits, while the Indians pounded Sandell for nine, Schilling, White and Cole of Lewiston hit homers.

At Ogden, the Pilots staged a three-run rally in the ninth after two men had strayed. Rene and Merz did the mound chores for Boise, with Lucas and Bjelstad hurling for the Ogden team. Adams, Pilot catcher, and Goddard, Pitcher and Lorenzen of the Reds connected for home runs.

Yanks Lose 3rd Straight As Senators Win 8th

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (U.P.)—The American League pennant race was far from a laughing matter to the New York Yankees today as they fretted under their second three-game losing streak within 10 days. Their lead in still a sizable seven games over the Red Sox but nowadays the Yankees are getting kicked around too often for comfort.

The Yankees have lost six out of their last nine games, and are desperate for some lucky clouting. In losing to the red-hot Senators yesterday, 7-1, they made only seven hits—all singles.

The Griffins in their eighth straight victory romped Donald, Chandler and Roes for 18 hits. Joe Kravitz held the Yankees to six hits before he was yanked in the eighth. He got credit for the victory.

The Cubs threw a scare into the National League-leading Reds when they won the opening game of a doubleheader, 7-5, and got off to a 3-1 lead in the nightcap. The Reds tied the score in the fourth, and then in a dog-dug-dug finish won, 7-5, in 11 innings.

Hollywood played that ball behind Pitcher Bill Fleming's last ball, Francisco 4 to 2. The Sox led 12 men bounding on the bags.

Portland led out St. Louis, 4 to 3. Hilderay was credited with the pitching victory over Dick Barrett.

EIGHT TEAMS SEEK BERTHS IN '40 LOOP

Well, those rumors continue to go round and round. We mean in reference to who—and who not—will be in the Pioneer league when the 1940 season rolls around. And here the 1939 season hasn't even been completed.

We'd like to state right now that the league directors had one six clubs to participate in the first year of the return of organized baseball. But now that it has proved to be such a tremendous success, every water stop in the intermountain area would like to get in on the great American game. And that's something we're glad to hear.

The rumors, making the rounds right now point very specifically to the entrance of Idaho Falls into the league next season. We believe there is a considerable foundation for that talk, because Idaho Falls is situated geographically perfect for inclusion in this loop. However, when the Idaho Falls was not even interested enough to send around somebody to see just what it was all about.

Be that as it may, we'd be glad to see the loop extended to eight teams. Idaho Falls as one of the two members.

Another city already making a campaign to get a loop franchise is Pocatello, Utah. With a population about the size of Twin Falls, Logan looks like a likely spot. But the league directors, we are told, fear entrance of that city due to the restricted population in the tri-state area.

Idaho, Utah, and a bid in for a franchise when the league was being organized, but somebody had to be left out. And Pocatello proved to be a fair well scattered until the ninth inning when two runs crossed the plate. Price and Larrieu accounted for five of the 11 bingles. Budnick got two hits, one a triple.

The Salt Lake series is the last for the Twin Falls club before re-opening for a six-game stand against the second-place Pocatello Cardinals and the third slot. The Cowboy victory last night put the Bees seven games out of first place.

What's more, nothing from Pocatello looks like a good bet to us, despite the closeness. Boise which would divide some of the Pocatello's business, and the cities are natural rivals and there would be near-record games when the two clubs clashed in either place.

All this talk brings us up to the question of Lewiston. It's about a cinch that the Indians won't be in this league next year. They are not geographically suited to participate in loop play and if anything would or could break up the loop.

It would be a pity if the Indians jumps to the northern city of Salt Lake City. That if you will remember, broke up the old Western schedule, the oldest minor league in baseball. Denver was added to the league, and the old Western schedule, the oldest minor league in baseball, Denver was added to the league.

Word filters down here from the north that the Lewiston Indians will be transferred to the Western International league—where it rightfully belongs. And that Lewiston will be dropped from further play in the Class B loop.

But before the Lewiston moguls can even consider playing in any league next year they will be forced to iron out park difficulties, which have been following them all this year.

The season attendance has fallen off some this year compared with what it was two years ago in the W-I loop. But it still stood and the Indians will probably draw six to 80,000 before the season ends. The only club in the loop that may draw less will be the Ogden club, which is shorting for that mark also.

Speaking of attendance reminds us of the battle for all games in Twin Falls this season will probably run over the 70,000 mark and that's nothing to be sneezed at. Business Manager Bill Power had originally hoped to put 100,000 through the turnstiles during the season, but two months of cold and wet weather at the start of the season put a damper on that view. It was an unusual spring, to use an old California expression, and the clubbers are sure that the 1940 season would see Mr. Power's prediction come true if the weather were normal.

But while the Cowboy management shoots for a mark of 70,000 Salt Lake City is already past that mark. And Boise and Pocatello are nearing it.

Yes, at this early date we'd say that the first season of the Pioneer league was a success.

And you can bet your bottom nickel on that. Organized baseball in the West is full of life and vigor. The opening of the 1940 season—either with six or eight teams.

Budnick Hurls Club to 9-5 Salt-Lake Win

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 9 (U.P.)—The Twin Falls Cowboys were still in first place in the torrid Pioneer league Tuesday night by a scant five percentage points; something less than a half game.

The Cowboys yesterday defeated the Salt Lake City Bees by a count of 9 to 5, but the win was necessary to stave off the challenging Pocatello Cardinals who got a ninth-inning break to defeat the Lewiston Indians by a score of 5-4.

It will probably be Bill Schubel's turn to take the mound tonight for the northern club and the big right-hander will be gunning for the 15th victory of the year. He has six defeats.

Pound Johnson
Last night the Cowboys pounded the offerings of Verne Johnson all over the park—but they also hit into three double plays that kept the score down considerably.

The punchers are still playing with a pitched-up lineup and Steve Bogdanoff holds down the shortstop berth, where Verne Reynolds usually hangs out, but who is still unimpaired due to a broken nose. Last night Schubel played in right field, Falconi held down center and made seven putouts while covering bases of territory, and Junior McNamee was in left. Bill DeCarlo, sadly crippled, but still able to hobble about, was behind the bat. However, he wasn't in such bad shape that he couldn't swing, for he got three safe bingles during the 18-hit onslaught on the salt-lake hurler.

Bogdanoff Sparkles
Bogdanoff, besides sparkling at the shortstop berth, also got three hits, while Falconi and Corby Carlson each got two. Every man in the Twin Falls lineup got at least one safe hit.

Black Mike Budnick was on the mound for the Cowboys and was nipped for 11 hits, but he kept them fairly well scattered until the ninth inning when two runs crossed the plate. Price and Larrieu accounted for five of the 11 bingles. Budnick got two hits, one a triple.

DAVID C. CAHILL
RYE, N. Y., Aug. 9 (U.P.)—David C. Cahill, 32, of Rye, N. Y., has been named coach of the 1940 Pioneer league team. He was formerly a coach of the 1939 team.

Mac Finds Leo the Lip Still Sane Despite Job of Managing Those Daffy Dodgers

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (U.P.)—Men have been driven crazy by much simpler things than managing the Brooklyn baseball club. Yet Leo Durocher, after four months at the job, is wearing no Napoleon cocked hat, planning no perpetual motion machines, and, to tell the truth, appears maddly sane.

He has not allowed the daffiness of the baseball club to get on his nerves as much as one bolt in his mental machinery. With remarkable detachment, he has worked with such problems as Van Lingle Mungo and Boots Porterberger, lashed to the round-the-bellie Larry MacPhail, and handled the border-line epidemic, the Hobbs field fan.

But here he is today doing one of the best managerial jobs in the league, and in one of the toughest spots. With a team that not even the relatives of the players on it would call great, he is running neck and neck with the best equipped, and gunning with both barrels for one of the better finishes in the first division.

Upon his return from a western trip that saw the Dodgers play better than 300 ball, Leo was uncharacteristically eloquent, giving him by his players after the center in Cincinnati. He modestly disclaimed any credit for the "dodgers' success" and said: "I'm a westerner. I don't look worried, do I? I don't have any trouble with my own mind or team."

Durocher gets judgment when anyone attempts to belittle the efforts of MacPhail, president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers. He is a man who has been at home this season, and last year we didn't do much more than play 20 home games to play. I don't know if I'll be around to manage the team, but MacPhail has a proven winner in Durocher before long.

Sen. D. Worth Clark will be one of the distinguished guests feted during the state convention of the American Legion which will be held in Twin Falls Aug. 13 through Aug. 16. It was announced here today by members of the committee in charge of arrangements.

A possibility is seen, the officials said, that the senator would speak at the same public meeting which will be addressed by Stephen Chadwick, national commander, but that arrangements have not as yet been made.

Senator Clark will also speak at several committee meetings and will deal particularly with veterans' legislation in Washington. Although not a member of the Legion, being too young to join the army at the time of the World war, Senator Clark has championed the service organization's stand in congress, officials pointed out.
