Leaves Cancelled

United States marine leaves were cancelled at Shanghai today as authorities of the International Settlement and American Consulate took emergency precautions against rioting on the second anniversary, Sunday, of the battle of Shanghai.

Between midnight (tonorrow) and midnight Monday, marines will be under continuous "stand by" orders. Since Tuesday, it was learned, marine patrols have been quick seeking terrorists in the foreign sector, at the northern side of the International Settlement.

British and French authorities took similar precautions. It was made known yesterday that the French, in their separate concession adjoining the International Settlement, had detained thousands of men as a precaution, planning to keep them in refugee camps until after the anniversary.

Strengthened Patrols

Orders were issued by all foreign military authorities for strengthened patrols and barred entry of civilians.

The war of foreign authorities was that terrorists might make the anniversary the occasion for an outbreak of assassinations of pro-Japanese Chinese in the International Settlement and thus precipitate another serious dispute with the Japanese, long redoubted as a time, to exert control over the rich foreign settlement.

Despatches from Hong Kong indicated the landing of blue jackets by the British destroyer Tenedos at Swatow, to protect the British Consulate from a mob, had turned into a serious incident.

Cuts Down Haying Troubles

Here's the new reel for mowing machines, invented by Jim Bellegante, Glenn Perry, and designed to facilitate cutting and handling of hay. The machine is expected to save Magic Valley farmers a lot of haying grief. A Twin Falls concern is now putting the reel into production.

New Mower Reel Eases That Farm Haying Task

GLENN PERRY, Aug. 10 (Special)—It's always plenty of work for the farmer in handling his hay—but the job will now be definitely lightened.

Termed a long-needed device to aid the rancher, a new reel for use with mowing machines has been invented by Jim Bellegante, Glenn Perry. The attachment is now going into production at Twin Falls and has been put on the market.

Bellegante was in Twin Falls the first of last week demonstrating to business men and farmers there the use and advantages of the new reel.

The mower reel is the result of much study and experiment and, it is felt, will fill a long-felt want to the farmers in handling their hay. It is similar in construction and use to the reel on grain binders, it is made to facilitate the cutting and handling of short, tangled, or down hay. Those who have watched the reel in operation state it reduces the strain on the machine and team as well.

While demonstrating the machine near Twin Falls recently, Mr. Bellegante was using it in a field of hay that contained a quantity of the first stand. While working, a heavy rain came up and the machine continued to work without any appreciable extra strain and no trouble whatever. The local men who witnessed the operation, a number of the spectators operating the mower, expressed their satisfaction in its performance.

The reel, operating as does a binder reel, is driven by a belt from the mower driving mechanism and is positive in its action at all times. It can be raised or lowered at the driver's will, and raises or lowers with the mower bar.

It is connected with a universal joint which permits tilting with the bar for cutting ditch banks or other unevenness of the ground. It can be attached or taken off in a few moments and is constructed to fit any make of mowing machine.

A number of the reels has been sold in the Glenn Perry section, where their owners are well pleased with them. Mr. Bellegante states he is putting them on the market at a reasonable price for a time to introduce them.

Clubmen Hear Expert Chart Moon's Status

Any hopeful inventors planning rocket trips to the moon might just as well consult according to facts outlined to the Twin Falls Rotary club yesterday afternoon by Harry G. Johnson, Walla Walla, Wash., director of the Brown foundation. The foundation handles extension astronomy for the lending library of Mt. Vernon observatory.

"There is no air on the moon," he told the Rotarians. "There isn't any vegetation. And there is no life whatever of any kind."

With Mr. Johnson operating the projector showing photographs illustrating his husband's talk on various phases of astronomy, the clubmen saw enlarged photos of the moon.

What looks like the "face" on the moon, the lecturer said, is simply a lot of tremendous craters. He said the moon consists largely of mountains, craters and a lava formation resembling that in Craters of the Moon, near Arco, Ida. Temperature ranges from above 200 in daylight to 170 below zero at night.

The pictures shown to the Rotarians illustrated the mountain shadows on the moon during the sun's progress, and showed clearly the one major "canyon" on the surface of the moon.

Giving scores of absorbing facts in relation to astronomical telescopes, Mr. Johnson surprised his hearers by saying the new 200-inch telescope at Mount Wilson, Calif., is the largest in the world. He said the moon consists largely of mountains, craters and a lava formation resembling that in Craters of the Moon, near Arco, Ida. Temperature ranges from above 200 in daylight to 170 below zero at night.

STORAGE CREDIT GIVEN ON WHEAT

Seven cents per bushel "farm storage credit" will be paid to wheat growers if their grain is stored for and delivered to the Commodity Credit corporation after April 30 of next year, Walter Reese, agricultural president of the county agricultural conservation association, said this afternoon.

The seven cents farm storage credit, however, will not be given where loans are repaid. Reese said that producers taking such further information concerning the wheat loan program may secure it at the county conservation office in Twin Falls.

CASSIA SCHOOLS READY FOR TERM

BURLEY, Aug. 10 (Special)—The summer building program for Burley schools is nearly completed, and the buildings will be ready for the beginning of school, Aug. 28, according to Supt. George E. Denman.

At the Miller school, a new stage for the old basement auditorium is being constructed, and additional seats are being built in order to provide seating facilities for 300 people. Hot water has been piped into both lavatories and into the lunch room.

Drinking fountains are being installed at the Overland school. The school board has approved the building of a new stage in one of the basement rooms providing student facilities. A water heating system has been installed so that hot water is available in shower rooms, in lavatories, and in lunch rooms.

The new addition at the South-west school is nearly completed with the exception of the plumbing and heating. Work is under way for additional landscaping on the grounds. At the high school, walls, roof, and the new addition are being completed. Workmen this week are building a heating tunnel, which will make it possible to take the shop from the present location to the high school building.

Candy Keeps Child Awake; Life is Saved

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Several bright and lollypop lay on a table beside two-year-old Donald Martin's hospital bed today and his mother, weary but happy, told him he could have them and let him sleep.

A red lollypop had saved his life. It happened this way: Yesterday Donald, Jr., given the run of the house because his mother was convalescing from influenza and his father was at work, got his hands busy in the kitchen cupboard. From a glass jar he took a fist full of white "candies" and ate them. Then, satisfied, he went to his mother's bedroom to sleep.

He became strangely drowsy, finally dropped into a semi-sleep. Alarmed, his mother ran to the kitchen and found the empty jar which had contained a strong sedative. She summoned an ambulance and Donald's father.

Too Sleepy to Talk
"We must keep him awake," the ambulance surgeon said. "Slap him, tickle, talk to him, do anything, do everything."

But Donald was too sleepy to talk, too sleepy to laugh. At the hospital Dr. Thomas Fitzpatrick removed the ambulance surgeon's words as he pumped out Donald's stomach.

"He must be kept awake for four hours," Fitzpatrick said then. "If we fail his sleep will be everlasting."

Donald's father ran to a store and returned with an arm load of toys which were spread on the child's bed.

"They didn't interest sleepy Donald," he showed them away and snuggled his head against his pillow. He was snipped. He was massaged. But he was going to sleep.

Then Dr. Fitzgerald snapped an order to nurses who ran from the room and returned shortly with a small paper sack. The physician tore away a bit of wrapper, and he thrust a bright red lollypop under Donald's nose.

"Look, Donald," he commanded, slipping it around.

The lids of the boy's eyes slowly came up. He stared for a moment vacantly. Then his right hand darted out, grasped the lollypop, and his blue eyes came alive.

"Oh, boy!" he cried. "Glimmy!" In the next four hours Donald made 12 lollypops vanish while Dr. Fitzpatrick chuckled. "Why, I never saw such a wide awake child."

CLUES HUNTED IN TORTURE SLAYING

CLEVELAND, Aug. 10 (AP)—Police searched for another possible Chinese "torture chamber" slaying victim today as they continued investigation of one apparent beating to death and tales of bamboo whippings of other Chinese who failed to contribute to China's war fund.

Five Chinese were held. Detective Sergeant Martin Cooney, said he was told that the missing man was a 45-year-old chef. He said he was informed the man was flogged and tied with ropes for eight hours last Friday night in a torture den.

Sergeant Cooney said two informants told him the chef disappeared after he was released from his bonds and paraded through the streets with a "slacker" poster hung about his neck.

Wong Yoon, whose battered body was found in Lake Erie Monday by two swimmers also was a chef.

Police detectives said they would seek robbery and extortion warrants against at least three of the leaders detained.

Pong Gong, 40-year-old graduate of the Case School of Applied Science told police that he had been taken to a torture chamber and beaten because he failed to pay $12 to the war relief fund.

Pong was held in protective custody. Held also were Cornelia Nellie Quinn, who Pong said had witnessed his beating, and two high school officials, as well as two Chinese who told of having heard rumors of two more murders.

Surprise! Surprise!

All of a sudden, rilly deb Veronica Stearns (above), who was raised like a blue-blood society princess, up and sloped from New York to Maryland, the other day, with Douglas Newland Lamy, an aviator. Then she went to the family castle at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., to break the news to mother.

U. S. Hot Dogs Are a 'Riot' in New Zealand, LDS Youth Says

In America a hot dog is a hot dog, but, take it from Gleyre (Moose) Fredericksen, in Kalkine, New Zealand, and it's a riot.

And England's king and queen, who gave the American hot dog worldwide publicity when they munched on them while touring the eastern section of the United States not so long ago, deserve the credit for the popularity in the far off outpost of the British empire.

L.D.S. Missionary

Such was the substance to be found in a letter which young Fredericksen, a missionary of the L.D.S. church, wrote to the folks at home, namely the Fredericksens of Twin Falls.

The missionary recounted in the letter that the hot dogs were offered at a district conference gathering—but then, in his own words, the situation was as follows:

"We have just managed to stagger through the Hui Parlia (district conference). As you know I was given the job of running a small shop to make us some money to pay on the hall. So I decided to make some candy and sell some hot dogs. I made about 30 pounds of candy and sold all of it. It was mostly peanut brittle and taffy."

"I had 30 dozen hot dogs and I thought I would have a couple of children killed in the rush. They REALLY DID GO FOR THEM."

"It was a great success. Next time I would surely take a few more dozen so I wouldn't sell out half way through the deal."

His Good Business

"But after all is said and done we had taken in some 40 pounds ($100) clear. If you think you are in a good business in Twin Falls you should come down here and run a hot dog stand."

The only part of it is that the money you make can't be taken with you. Like Richard Crooks (American tennis), he came down here to sing and had a very successful concert. He made a good bit of dough but the government prohibits it from leaving the country so all he had to take with him was $40 to see him through after his trip.

"Of course you can buy a ticket for the boat or anything else like that with the money. Anyway the hot dog business would be a good one if you wanted to stay here. People here are really the type that go for it."

DEATH SUMMONS CUMMINGS' WIFE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (UP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow afternoon for Mrs. Elmer Cummings, 46, wife of the former attorney-general, who died last night after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Cummings, one of the most popular hostesses in Washington, became critically ill last March of high blood pressure and heart disease.

Family friends said that after a simple funeral service here tomorrow her body will be sent to Stamford, Conn., where a full interment service will be held Saturday.

Gunny, witty and vivacious, Mrs. Cummings gained a host of friends because of her easy informality and ready good-nature.

Mrs. Cummings was the second wife of the former attorney-general, whom she married in 1928.

Mother Shocked At Finding Her Son Still Alive

VINCENNES, Ind., Aug. 10 (UP)—Mrs. Edna Lawrence awaited the return of her son from among the "dead" today in a strange case of mistaken identity.

She had believed that her son, James William Lawrence, 22, a wanderer, had been killed Monday by a freight train at Commerce, Tex. She had purchased a lot in the Vincennes cemetery, ordered his body sent home and had been prepared to bury him today. She learned last night that the body sent to her was not that of her son but of James William Lawrence, 39, a Stockton, Calif., miner.

She collapsed. Having believed her son dead and learning it was the miner who was killed by the train, she suffered severe shock. Members of her family expressed anxiety for her life if her son is not located immediately and comes to her. Indiana state police asked California and Texas authorities to search for him and broadcast a state-wide alarm should he already have returned to Indiana. He left home several weeks ago. Mrs. Lawrence received a letter from him Aug. 2. He said he had

PRESIDENT SIGNS DEFICIENCY BILL

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 10 (UP)—President Roosevelt today signed the $185,174,066 final deficiency bill of the 76th congress which provides $119,000,000 to enable the commodity credit corporation to continue operations in support of prices of farm commodities.

Enactment of the appropriation bill left Mr. Roosevelt only 107 bills still to act upon of the approximately 400 measures sent him by congress which adjourned last Saturday night.

The funds for the commodity credit corporation were reauthorized in the bill by the senate after being deleted by the house. Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace had warned that the $119,000,000 was essential if the corporation was to continue operations in support of the nation's agricultural price structure.

Specifically, the measure authorizes Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., to restore to the corporation $119,000,000 in capital which has been impaired in previous operations in support of farm prices.

IDAHOAN-PRAISES NEW SILVER ACT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 10 (Special).—The substantial increase which congress voted in the price of domestically-mined silver was viewed here today by Congressman Compton I. White, Idaho Democrat as one of the outstanding achievements of the session.

One of the leaders in the fight for the silver price increase, Congressman White said that the new law will tremendously benefit not only Idaho, but the whole nation, through the stabilizing influence it will have on the nation's monetary system.

Essential Move
"There can be no permanent prosperity for this country until our government devices and gives the American people a workable monetary system free of a continuing interest charge, which must be based on the unlimited coining of both gold and silver," he said.

"The silver bill passed by the last congress was a long step in the right direction."

Explaining the leading features of the reclamation project act of 1939, which he described as another outstanding achievement of the session, Congressman White said: "This measure effectuates the recommendations of the reclamation commission, which studied the question thoroughly. It provides a practical plan for meeting the variable conditions due to the drought and the projected markets, to insure collection of funds on reclamation projects."

"Lauding the measure as of 'inestimable value to the entire west,'" the Idaho representative pointed out that the act provides for a variable payment plan which will automatically reduce payments in years of low crop return and increase the payment whenever there is a year above normal. The measure is interpreted as the crop average of the ten best years out of the last fifteen including current year. Included among other available features of the bill is the reduction of the interest rate from 3 to 3 percent on the unpaid balance after the third year.

Wanta Conference
Commenting further on the monetary situation, Congressman White said he will continue to press for action in the next session on his resolution directing the President to call an international monetary conference to establish a stable medium of exchange between countries of the western hemisphere, as a means of promoting trade.

"We have in this country a surplus of both raw materials and manufactured products to market which our government at great expense to the taxpayers is endeavoring to move through the channels of international trade under the handicap of an unworkable system of international exchange," he pointed out.

"It is apparent that this medium of international exchange money is not functioning in financing our foreign trade, with the result that in many cases we are forced to resort to barter with foreign countries and are placed in a serious disadvantage in competing for foreign markets, particularly in South America."

"This difficulty would be cleared up through adoption of a stabilized medium of exchange," he declared.

CITY OF ROCKS ATTRACTS GRADS

DEULO, Aug. 10 (Special).—The 1938 graduating class of the Deulo high school met Sunday for a class reunion. There were 14 present. They went to the City of Rocks where they enjoyed a weiner roast and marshmallow toast.

The evening was spent singing class songs, and the following program was rendered:

An original paper, Leona Hurst; reading, Fay Colley; comic reading, Jack McCarty.

Doyle Wilcox, who has just returned home from California where he has been attending school, gave a talk on school life and activities. Leona Darrington, who recently returned home from attending both World's fairs, gave an interesting account of her trip.

The president of the class for 1938 was Nina Norton. A business meeting was held at the close of the evening and Dick Fuqua was elected president for the coming year. He will choose his assistants.

The population of Greater Toronto, Ontario, has been estimated at 555,235. The city proper has 12 suburban municipalities.

PERFUME

COHASSET, Mass., Aug. 10 (AP).

—The first act of "Spring Meeting," starring Philip Merivale and Gladys Cooper, was drawing to a close in Cohasset's summer theater last night.

John, the family butler, was Joahing Sir Richard's younger daughter for her choice of perfumes.

Suddenly the capacity audience began to snuff. An unmistakable odor was drifting through the open windows.

A skunk had added a realistic touch.

A more bowel movement doesn't get at the cause of the trouble. Only the Little Liver Pills will get three times as much bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Jenkins Starts On Distance Speed Races

NONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Aug. 10 (AP)—Ab Jenkins, Utah speed and endurance racer, today began his second projected 24-hour speed run of the season in his Mopar Meteor III with his eye on four records now held by Capt. G. E. T. Evelyn of England.

He started at 7:54 MDT.

Still suffering from burns received during his last attempt two weeks ago, Jenkins climbed into his 750-horsepower racer confident that, barring another mishap, he could raise substantially all long distance marks.

His earlier run, during which he broke four of his own records, was discontinued when flames broke out in the cockpit during an unscheduled pit stop. He did not approach, however, the distance covered by Evelyn's records.

Evelyn claimed his marks in the 2,000-mile and kilometer, 3,000-kilometer and 12-hour stretches in 1937 with his Speed of the Wind. That same year Jenkins established records in all other departments between the 10-mile and the 24-hour marks.

Four 12-and-one-half-mile tracks have been surveyed and marked for the run. Only three tracks were available during his last run, but Jenkins feared the possibility of their being laid today because of recent rainfall on the flats.

Mays Assists

Rex Mays of Glendale, Calif., was on hand to relieve Jenkins during the 24-hour stint. Jenkins had planned to use Mays during his earlier run, but it ended soon after it started.

Jenkins hoped to cut down time required for pit stops during this run. Stops averaged about four minutes during the last, which placed the driver at a big disadvantage.

The Mopar Meteor III had been completely overhauled, with special emphasis given to the hand fuel pump and the rear end, and Jenkins pronounced it in good shape for the run.

FRANKIE PARKER

GENE MAKO

These four tennis stars today were the favorites to capture the four "playing" positions on the U. S. Davis cup team. Yesterday they were chosen, along with Don McNeill and Sidney B. Wood and Elwood Cooke, to participate on the final squad.

Squad Chosen For U. S. Davis Cup

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Two new contenders to international competition, Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., and Donald McNeill of Oklahoma City, were among the seven men named today to the United States Davis cup squad.

While watching the eastern grass courts championships here, Walter Pate, chairman of the Davis cup selection committee, announced the squad, with the other five members as follows:

Bobby Riggs, Chicago; Frankie Parker, Pasadena, Calif.; Gene Mako, Los Angeles; Bryant "Biby" Grant, Atlanta; and Sidney B. Wood, New York.

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 10 (AP)—Now that the U. S. Davis cup squad has been announced, speculation began in earnest today as to what four men from the squad will defend the cup at the Merion cricket club, Sept. 2-4, probably against Australia.

The consensus of experts here at the eastern grass courts championships, before the challenge round, ships gave the nod to Bobby Riggs of Chicago; Frankie Parker of Pasadena, Calif.; Donald McNeill of Oklahoma City, and either Gene Mako of Los Angeles or Bryant "Biby" Grant of Atlanta. McNeill was the newcomer to international competition.

This is mere conjecture, because the quartet will not be named until 10 days before the challenge round. But the five above seem to have the best chances of the seven squad men invited to report for training at Merion on Aug. 21—or of any who may be invited to join the squad.

The other two men named yesterday by Walter Pate, chairman of the cup selection committee, were Sidney B. Wood of New York, veteran internationalist, and Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., also an international rookie.

Utah Net Aces Dominate Mountain Meet

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 10 (AP)—Only top-notch Utah tennis stars remained in the running for inter-mountain tennis titles Thursday.

Colorado's last two hopes having been blasted during Wednesday's matches.

Sam Molestin and Virginia Dunn dropped out of men's and women's singles play. Dave Fred, Salt Lake City, ousted Molestin in a torrid three-set match after losing the first 6-8. He rallied in the next two sets to lose only one game to advance into the semi-finals.

Miss Dunn gave way to Sarah McClymont of Salt Lake City, 6-8, 6-2. The win gave Miss McClymont a berth in the final.

Baby Girl Continues to Live With Heart Outside of Chest

MANILA, Aug. 10 (UP)—The infant girl, Mary, who was born and gave unknowingly today to the world of science which, through powers to aid her, may someday name her a martyr to a strange and unusual phenomenon of birth.

Infection Threat Nullified

The threat of infection to Mary's open heart was nullified by the glass covering Dr. Del Calacino fashioned for the exposed organ. It was a transparent plastic bell covering for the recording on movie film of its action and strange movements of the child's exterior heart to science was granted by her father, Arturo Rafael, 31, a government employee.

Comments on film offers were indignantly spurred by Rafael. He would refuse a $100,000 offer to sell the film to the State College of exhibiting her at the New York World's fair.

The child continued to be nourished with a third of an ounce of mother's milk from a medicine dropper at regular intervals. Her mother, Mrs. Esperanza Sacramento de Rafael, was not permitted to
