

"MILITARY AID NOT NEEDED," HITLER WIRES DUCE

ITALIANS URGED TO REMAIN CALM IN FACE OF WAR

TORINO, Sept. 1 (U.P.)—Fuehrer Adolf Hitler today telegraphed Premier Benito Mussolini that he does not at this time require Italian military aid.

He thanked Mussolini for his recent diplomatic and political help.

Receipt of Hitler's wire followed a meeting of the Italian council of ministers at which it was decided that Italy would refrain from taking any military initiative.

The Italian stand was interpreted by newspapers as indicating that Germany, by not calling for military aid from her axis partner, intended to leave the conflict to Poland.

Italy's action in avoiding military conflict for the present followed earlier but unsuccessful efforts by Hitler to induce the Italian government to settle European problems.

The council of ministers met this afternoon under the personal presidency of Mussolini and approved all military measures taken so far, described in the official announcement as "purely defensive."

The council also approved economic and social measures designed to meet the exigencies of war.

It urged the Italian people to discipline which they have shown to date.

JAPAN, RUSSIAN TROOPS BATTLE

TOKYO, Sept. 1 (U.P.)—Japanese and Russian troops are fighting in a battle in the Manchukuo-Outer Mongolia frontier, it was reported today. Casualties were said to be heavy and the Russian position was said to be precarious.

An authoritative informant said three Russian divisions were in Manchukuo territory and the Japanese were vigorously attempting to dislodge them.

The Russians were reported to be using non-inflammable incendiary bombs.

The informant said that before Aug. 30 the Russians had one division on the Khalka river front, on the Manchukuo side, but that on the night of the 20th two motorized divisions crossed the river and attacked the Japanese at Balzhagal.

It was said that the Russians reached the Japanese positions three and a half miles on the Manchukuo side of the river and that the Japanese right and left wings counter-attacked, forcing them to retreat. But it was said the Russians remained on the Manchukuo side, resting stoutly.

CENSUS WILL AID IN MOBILIZATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (U.P.)—The war department today sought the aid of the census bureau in laying the groundwork for mobilization of industry and manpower in the event of a war involving the United States.

The department, it was learned, has requested that a complete classification be made in the 1940 census of the nation's laboring population by "industry and occupation."

This information is necessary in the preparation of mobilization plans, it was pointed out.

It is understood that the navy concurred in the war department request, which was made after it was found that no federal survey has up-to-date statistics on the nation's occupational setup.

High-ranking officials said that such data is vital to the success of any war mobilization plan because of the necessity of balancing industrial employment needs with those of the fighting army.

Bert Sweet Named 'Key' Drama Pupil at Banff

By JEAN DINKELACKER

Most persons return in retrospective from a summer school, feeling that they have learned something. Bert Sweet, Jr., who, although he arrived home last Wednesday from Banff, one of Canada's most popular and picturesque resorts, is concentrating on what his experience will be there next summer.

He has been selected as one of the few "key" students in the United States to attend the University of Alberta, the arts school, summer sessions, with tuition and all expenses paid, a year from now at Banff.

This summer he was one of five in the United States to receive scholarships to the special dramatic school, conducted under the direction of extension, of the University of Alberta, and spent five weeks at Banff, literally sleeping himself in stage role, make-up and the first-hand experience of play production.

To Get Major Parts

Next year, instead of scholarships, Dr. Donald Cameron, head of the university's dramatics department, is choosing "key" students. They will arrive a week ahead of the students, and will be members of at least three of the principal plays presented by the Little Theatre group of the summer school during the five-week period.

"When I was called to Dr. Cameron's office, I was a bit panicked because I thought I'd done something I shouldn't, and then when he told me about next summer, well—Bert's eyes grew big as he dramatically left his expression in words his surprise at his good fortune.

"To relate Bert's accomplishments in the speech department during his year in school and check off one of the principal roles in each, and then to give him a rating of 'excellent' for about every stage speech festival he entered."

He probably will be best remembered for his role of Doreen Jessup in "It Can't Happen Here," and the title role of "Robin Hood." Twin Falls high school has the distinction of being the first preparatory school in the United States to present "It Can't Happen Here."

When Bert wrote the required essay of 1,000 words on the benefits of dramatics in applying for the scholarship, he stated that the reason of drama was "a way of life" to him, and it's more thoroughly convinced of that now than ever.

The essay, accompanied by a picture, a list of all the plays in which he had appeared in high school, the credits he had received, and the contests he had entered, were submitted to the jury. Most of the jury, including the head of the drama department of the University of Utah, who has been an instructor at the Canadian summer school for the past five years.

Commenting on the extensiveness of the course he has just completed, Bert remarked, "I didn't think it was possible to learn so much in such a short time. Most of the students of dramatics at Banff this summer were university students or teachers of dramatics, he said.

He said enthusiastically of the inspiration that comes from working with a group of that type, all talented, all lovers of the stage, all enthusiastic in their own way, living in romantic Banff, members of the dramatics colony had a superior experience.

Part of the class work was conducted in the open. In kindergarten while the five weeks were past, packed with theater background, in-

COWBOYS MOVE INTO FLEET AS CARDS LOSE

Battling Pilots Score 3rd Win Over Cardinals

(By United Press)

They couldn't do it playing so the Twin Falls Cowboys took a day off yesterday and moved into first place in the Pioneer league.

After trailing the Pocatello Cardinals for the better part of a week and losing 11 out of their last 13 starts, the Pioneers had an idle day yesterday as they journeyed to Lewiston and in the meantime the rampaging Boise Pilots concluded the knocking off of the Cardinals for the third straight time—this time by a count of 10-1.

The victory was the sixth in a row over the league's two leaders—Twin Falls and Pocatello—and the 14th win in the last 17 starts for 13 starter Andy Harrington's crew that has spent most of the season in the cellar. However, the win yesterday brought the Pilots into undisputed possession of fourth place—only three games out of the first division.

Playing Best Ball

The Pilots are admittedly playing just about the best baseball of the circuit today and both Twin Falls and Pocatello are happy that the season is through as far as playing the Harrington club in the future is concerned. Neither of the teams wants to play with Boise again this season.

Last night on Pocatello pitched out-of-control for seven innings before being forced to retire from the game with a "charley horse." He was succeeded on the mound by Darrell Fields, who allowed three runs in the final three frames.

Meanwhile, the Pilots were pouncing on Clatsop Beers for 13 safe hits and scored in five different innings. Walt Lowe led the Boise attack with three safeties in five times at bat.

Lewiston Loses

At Lewiston, the Salt Lake Bees won their eighth straight game as Lefty Mel Marlowe sent the club down with five hits to score a 2-0 victory.

The Bees jumped on Damon Hayes and Jack Nelson for 11 hits, including a triple by Marlowe. Marlowe struck out twice and walked twice in the series from the Indians as the Manager Eddie Mulligan of the Bees was ejected from the game in the eighth inning for protesting too vigorously on a strike called against Whitley Burleson.

Tonight the Twin Falls Cowboys open their long stand at Lewiston in an attempt to increase their lead at Pocatello and Salt Lake City will attempt to tame the high-flying Pilots.

Goering Set As Successor For Fuehrer

1—Danzig's law of reunification with Germany is hereby made a reich law.

2—Citizens of Danzig are German subjects.

3—Except for the constitution (which Forster had abrogated) the law will prevail in Danzig.

4—All German laws will be in force in Danzig from Jan. 1, 1940.

5—The reich minister of interior (Wilhelm Frick) is empowered to execute this reuinion.

6—The law is in force Sept. 1.

Hitler made the announcement in such circumstances—Danzig and the Polish corridor were German, the Versailles treaty was to blame, he had tried his best to solve the problem peacefully and the Polish answer was mobilization.

"I have again and again offered friendship to Britain," he said. "But I have not been accepted from one side only. It must be answered."

"I am resolved to solve the question of the corridor," he said. "I am resolved to fight as long as the Poles want it."

"I shall conduct this fight no matter against whom until the security of the reich and our rights are guaranteed."

If I call on the reich and ask sacrifice from the German people, I am entitled to do so.

"For myself, I am ready to make any personal sacrifice. My entire life belongs to my people. I do not want to do anything now but the first duty of the reich. I shall not remove my soldier's coat unless I have won the victory."

"One word I have never known and that is capitulation. As I am ready to sacrifice my life at any time, I expect the same from everybody else. I expect all of you to do your duty. This sacrifice is not greater than that of many previous generations. I close with the profession I made when I began my struggle. If our will is strong enough then no power can make us. We will master it."

"I shall end the further speech, one such as he had made when he annexed Austria and Czechoslovakia."

But Britain and France had not guaranteed to aid Austria and Britain had not guaranteed Czechoslovakia. Both had pledged to defend Poland, and it was up to them now.

Wires Acceptance
Donald Heath, first secretary of the American embassy, representing the United States, was among those in the crowded diplomatic box of the Reich opera house where the meeting was held.

Confirming his annexation, Hitler wired Nazi Leader Forster: "I accept your proclamation of the free city of Danzig on its return to the German reich. I thank you, district leader, and all Danzig men and women for the unsparing loyalty they have preserved through so many years. German Germany greets you with an overflowing heart. Before the annexation, the government had made all preparations for war."

London, Sept. 1 (U.P.)—British received the news of Warsaw's bombing today from the Polish government. The remark most frequently heard in London's West end, as news dealers ran through Piccadilly shouting headlines.

"It's started at last. Suppose we're in for it, too."

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 1 (U.P.)—Operation of private automobiles, motorcycles and trucks after midnight Sept. 1 was prohibited by decree issued by the viceroys of Ethiopia today.

SWARTHMORE, Penn., Sept. 1 (U.P.)—President Frank Ayton of Swarthmore college, American secretary to the Rhodes scholarship commission, announced today that scholars-elect probably will not be allowed to sail for England, and that at least one scholar-elect will be asked to return to the United States.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 1 (U.P.)—Holland's foreign minister, Jan. van Vondel, announced today that the Netherlands would not recognize the new government of Poland.

LONDON, Sept. 1 (U.P.)—British authorities today commiserated automobiles, trucks and motorcycles throughout London. Residents at the outbreak of the German invasion, the British government had been notified that the invasion of Poland had begun.

DANZIG, Sept. 1 (U.P.)—Prof. Karl Burckhardt, the League of Nations commissioner for Danzig, and his staff left by automobile today for Danzig, to begin their duties.

"There can be no peace in Europe," the prime minister said, "as long as the Nazi government exists and continues to pursue its present methods."

"We are resolved that these methods must come to an end," he declared.

Chamberlain revealed that Sir Neville Henderson, the British ambassador to Berlin, has been instructed to hand the German government, what amounts, to an ultimatum, saying that unless Germany suspends her military operations in Poland, the British government will fulfill its treaty obligations to Poland.

Britain, the prime minister reiterated, will oppose force with force. Chamberlain described his present statement as a "last warning" to Germany. His speech was greeted with wild cheers from all parts of the house.

Go to Extreme Limit
Chamberlain emphasized that Britain had gone to the extreme limit to reach a peaceful settlement, and that Poland had done nothing to obstruct negotiations for such a settlement.

He said France, as well as Britain, had instructed its ambassador to ask for their passports unless German troops are withdrawn from Poland.

Britain and France, Chamberlain declared, have agreed that Germany has committed an aggressive act threatening the independence of Poland and therefore Britain and France must fulfill their treaty obligations to come to Poland's assistance.

"I believe he feared, because of Hitler's attitude, that he could not avoid the responsibility of asking Britain to decide between peace or war."

ENSPIONAGE AGENTS
NEW YORK, Sept. 1 (U.P.)—The federal bureau of investigation today here assigned 100 agents in order to investigate the activities of the German agents in the United States.

The agents were ordered to plane plants, centers of shipping and communication to search for signs of espionage and sabotage.

The German forces advancing on Danzig operated from bases at Minsk and Ostrow.

The Polish airfield at Katowice was abandoned, has been destroyed. More than a score of Polish airplanes and their military objectives, it was indicated here, had been destroyed by German air raiders.

President George Leth, Buhl, announced this afternoon. The association consists of cooperative pools throughout southern Idaho, and 13 counties were represented at Pocatello.

Crowds Scurry to Cover as Nazi Planes Fly in Poland

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE, Jr. WARSAW, Sept. 1 (AP)—It was a mad, mad, mad scene as hundreds of people scurried to take cover from a low blimp from the air raid sirens signaled the first warning.

I looked from the window of my hotel down onto Pilsudski square on which the foreign office and several staff offices are located. First to catch my eye was a family of peasants deserting their farm cart to run into a building.
