Cowboys Prepare for Series in Spokane After Capturing Pioneer League Pennant

The Twin Falls Cowboys, a team that clinched through the five opposition clubs from last place to top, and who yesterday topped their drive by downing the Pocatello Cardinals 1-0 to clinch the Pioneer League pennant today looked forward to a five-game series with the Spokane Indians of the Western International league.

Playing against the Cowboys will be two ex-Twin Falls favorites: Eddie Lehman and Wes Schumacher, both being former local managers. After staging a great rally at the end of the season that saw them win 18 home games in a row, the Indians reached the play-offs for the Class B loop. However, they were eliminated last night by the second-place Tacoma club in a series that went four games.

Another perit was that the German flying column, which already had been reported as close as 40 miles northwest, might make a surprise raid on the little provisional capital itself. British and French legations being moved on toward Rumania, at 7 a. m. Other diplomats remained momentarily and the Polish government, if they crossed into Poland, would be completely taken fixed residences there and remain from political activity.

GERMANS CLAIM CAPTURE OF 8,000 POLISH TROOPS

SOUTHERN CITY REPORTED TAKEN IN GREAT DRIVE

By FREDERICK C. OCHSNER.
BERLIN, Sept. 16 (AP)—The army high command announced today that German troops had occupied Prezemysl, 60 miles west of Lemberg, the chief city of southeast Poland, and that 8,000 prisoners and 15 guns had been captured in the Warsaw area.

An earlier communique had announced the capture of Blazysk, 100 miles northeast of Warsaw and had said that a battle was in progress near Lemberg.

The occupation of Prezemysl appeared to have been carried out by the main body of the German southern army. Polish sources had reported the main German force concentrated near that city, with tank and truck units operating far ahead of it in an effort to cut off Polish retreat to Rumania.

Surrounding Kutno
It was announced that Polish divisions surrounded near Kutno, 40 miles west of Warsaw, were still retreating.

First pictures and stories sent from the Warsaw region, which the Poles still held, purported to describe conditions of disorder and starvation at the former Polish capital. They said civilians were eating dogs and cats and that the streets were filled with would-be fugitives, unable to get out of the city.

Thousands of refugees were reported camped on the outskirts and it was said that they had no escape because Germans had cut all roads, the last one having led to Brest-Litovsk to which the Germans reportedly laid siege yesterday.

24 Pole Planes Down
It was announced that 24 Polish planes, mostly pursuit types, were destroyed and seven captured yesterday east of the Vistula river, and that reports at Luck and Smolensk, northeast of Lemberg, had been bombed.

A new press campaign against Great Britain, trade embargoes with neutral nations, and a further mobilization of war resources were reported from the eastern front with public attention.

Custard Pies Fly in Film as Hollywood History Is Revived

By PAUL HARRISON
(NEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD—It was fun while it lasted—the reunion of "people and memories" in making "Hollywood Cavalcade." And yet there was a melancholy finality about the tossing of those custard pies and the frantic chase of the comedy Kops and the frivolous of the bathing beauties. Nobody could pretend that this was a revival of anything; it was merely official confirmation of the death of a brave and silly era.

Never again will so many of the pioneer actors and directors be assembled. They have made the brief obituary to the memory of silent drama and slapstick and have scattered again. When they attend the picture's premiere, a few of them will be recognized by the fans. And one of these days, out at 20th-Pox, a patenter will put a new name on the door of the office that has been occupied by Mack Sennett.

Sennett has been an associate producer of "Hollywood Cavalcade." Also a technical adviser. And an actor, who plays himself. But he hasn't much to do in the picture, because, although it is a sketchy history of the flicker business from 1913-27, its principal characters are composites.

For a sketchy idea of what the stocky, gray and amiable ex-comedy king means to the movies—from Chaplin and Dressler to W. C. Fields and Bing Crosby—you should come into his office and hear him talk.

Colledge Givens Sennett's Advice
The Dressler part began back in Northampton, Mass., in 1901, when Sennett was a young man of 17 taking vocal lessons and dreaming of an opera or stage career. His name was Michael Sennett then. One day when Marie Dressler's show was coming to town, his sympathetic mother said, "You've got a chance. Maybe you can get a small part in Miss Dressler's company—if you can get in to see her. I'll ask Mr. Colledge; he should be able to arrange it."

So Mrs. Sennett went to see the little lawyer, Colledge Givens. He was shocked. "You're an actor?" "Mountebanks, charlatans, all that I advise against!"

But Mrs. Sennett insisted, and Colledge arranged an introduction. Michael Sennett went to the star's dressing room, sang a chorus, hoisted a few stars and was in. "You're a dresser was kind. She said she had no place in her company, and that maybe it wouldn't be wise for him to be in it. It was a hard and hazardous life."

Did you ever drive hot tires all day? he asked. "That's no child's either!"

She laughed and said, "Well, you must be well along at it now. I'll give you a note to David Belasco, in case you ever get to New York."

He left her with his head in the clouds and with a cocky prediction that some day she'd want him in her show. But he did not want that way. Several years later Marie Dressler was working for Mack Bennett at $2,500 a week—the highest wage he'd paid him. "I was the hind leg of a comedy horse when the show was in. I was the hind leg of a comedy horse one night on account of some hood-chasing in it. Next day in court even the judge told me I didn't look like an actor and that I'd better go home."

SHOSHONE BANS MOVIE AD PLAN

SHOSHONE, Sept. 16 (Special)—It was decided by the Chamber of Commerce Monday not to participate in the project of an advertising film concern recently considering and advancing scenic attractions of the area.

Lincoln county fair was successfully conducted and a balance of about $100 was found in the fund as a surplus. This was allocated to any future event of the kind.

Read discussion took the balance of the time. The federal plan did not approve the road through Richfield and favored a roadway parallel with the rail tracks, to avoid hazard. There appeared a possible relief later in state aid in looking up systems to suit all concerned.

Dworshak Leaves For Washington

BURLEY, Sept. 16 (AP)—Rep. Henry Dworshak, R., Ida., will leave Sunday for Washington to take part in the special session of congress at which he intends to oppose any revision of present neutrality laws. He announced today.

Dworshak visited the Caribou, Wyoming, Teton and Targhee forests on a tour of Civilian Conservation camps.

called me in and said I'd have to take down my pictures, or else. "There was no arguing with him. Instead, I sneaked into the accounting department and looked up the receipts on Blinn's films. I snatched away I saw that my job was safe and my comedy formula was sound. My slapstick comedies were clearing big up—making more money than some of the epics!"

A vacuum being an absence of elastic medium for transmission, sound cannot traverse a vacuum, since it depends upon having a medium.

"I knew I was a midget as an actor, so I decided to be a director. Comedies weren't doing well there, so I asked for a try at them. Well, sir, I made the roughest, hammiest, and all-around lowliest comedies ever seen. They were so rough that half my cast was in the hospital half the time. But the customers laughed."

New Board Picks Year's Officials

KIMBERLY, Sept. 16 (Special)—Kimberly school board was reorganized this week following the election of C. M. Fisher, J. S. Feldman and Jack Chaborn last week. Mr. Feldman was elected chairman, succeeding Mr. Fisher. C. Bruce Requa was reelected clerk and N. A. Glick was again selected as treasurer.

Newly organized board voted to discontinue the practice of appointing standing committees on the school board. Former committees on transportation and building and grounds were discontinued and their duties will be turned over to the superintendent. It was the feeling of the board and superintendent that duplication of duties between committees and the executive has sometimes led to embarrassment, confusion and loss.

School board will hereafter act on all matters of policy as a body and leave administrative duties to the superintendent and principals. Reorganization of offices and the employment of regular office help was also approved. Miss Mary Virginia Rock has been serving in the office.

5 Months of 'Credit' Given On Jail Term

Because he has been in county jail since April 20 awaiting arraignment before the district court, A. H. Huddart, 40, found today that he has already received the bulk of the six-month sentence decreed Friday by Judge J. W. Porter.

Judge Porter ordered the six-month term as Huddart appeared before him for sentencing on charges of receiving stolen property. The defendant had pleaded guilty Tuesday. The sentence was ordered to start from the time of Huddart's original incarceration, and as a result he will get out of county jail Oct. 20.

One other charge against Huddart—first degree burglary—was dismissed on motion of Prosecutor Everett M. Sweeley. Huddart was first bound over on the burglary claim, which he had entered the home of John S. Kimes April 24. Instead of fighting that charge, he pleaded guilty on the stolen goods accusation.

Shannon Duval, Piler, accused of resisting arrest by H. F. Stockman, Piler marshal, received a sentence of two months in county jail Friday. He had pleaded guilty.

Dean Norvell, 26, Buhi, entered a not guilty plea to grand larceny accusation in alleged theft of a coat better call July 22 from the Utah Construction company. Judge Porter set his trial for 10 a. m. Monday, Sept. 25, but indicated that other criminal trials may be placed ahead of Norvell's.

Each Twin Falls businessman who attends will be requested to invite a farmer friend. Chairman Koster said.

Selection of the committee was carried out at Friday's session of Chamber of Commerce directors. Charles Brown, Oakley editor and president of the Oakley Valley Chamber of Commerce, introduced George A. Day, Oakley, who announced the second annual "exploration" of the City of Rocks Sept. 24, and requested Twin Falls cooperation. He also urged backing in the drive for designation of the City of Rocks as a national monument.

Tells Irrigation Plan
Mr. Day explained the Oakley extension irrigation project, and said he would be at the Mariaville service station on the highway at 1 p. m. Sunday to escort any visitors wishing to see the proposed irrigation area.

Brown also introduced Jack Kingsbury, Charles Elliott and Phil Kinsman, other members of the Oakley delegation.

The chamber appointed Robert H. Warner as chairman of the committee to arrange participation and transportation for the City of Rocks exploration.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Martin and son, Lyle, will attend the annual up there and visit their son, Robert and family.

COWBOYS CLINCH PIONEER LEAGUE PENNANT

SPORTS

GALENTO CROWDS CELEBRATE AFTER TONY SCORES KAYO

Kinnaman Stars As Twin Falls Trips Cards, 5-1

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

Bill Ulrich's Twin Falls Cowboys today had the initial Pioneer league pennant all tucked away in moth balls and were already busy packing for the trek to their home towns in the Pacific northwest and in California.

The club applied the finishing touches last night by downing the Pocatello Cardinals in the opening game of a scheduled three-game "crucial" series that got no farther than the first tilt. The victory gave Twin Falls a four-game lead with only two tilts to play and even if the team loses the final two contests it will still have a two-game advantage.

The final score was 5-1—but that fine bit of work was lost in the fact that the Cowboys had clinched a pennant—the first one that any Twin Falls club had ever won in organized baseball.

Kinnaman Stars
Star of the evening was young Bob Kinnaman, the former Washington State college hurler, who handcuffed the Cardinals throughout the game and was never in danger. A little more head-up ball in the eighth frame would have brought the slightly-built Bob a shut-out. However, it was not needed and to the newcomer to Cowboy ranks has been with the club only about a month goes the credit for clinching the crown.

He allowed only six hits (two were pop flies that dropped just back of the infield in "no man's land") and had the Cardinals hitting on head ones all through the game with his screw ball—the only one of its sort in the league. Manager Tom Robello of the victors, who has hit 37 home runs during the season and is batting a lusty .300, failed to get even the semblance of a hit getting to first on an error the first time up and flying out the next three times.

Meanwhile the Cowboys were going to work on Frank Nelson and "Doc" Beck, who beat the Twin Falls club in the first game of the series by a score of 11-1, was no problem for the Pioneers. Verne Reynolds knocked him for a hit in the first inning, but George Farrell hit into a double play to retire the second and stand the fireworks attack. Frank Nelson and "Doc" Beck were out to third when Steve Bogdanoff singled. Then when Farrell attempted to steal second, Manager Tom Robello popped out to Murphy at short. But Bill DeCarlo found the slow slants of Reynolds to his liking and pounded a single between short and third to score Bogdanoff. Kinnaman filed out to end the inning.

Add Tom Kinnaman to the three runs in the sixth inning. Verne Reynolds, who led off with a single, stole second. Then Farrell walked. Falcon filed out to left field, but Reynolds went to third on a bunt. Farrell then tried to steal second, but he was caught. Reynolds started down to second, stopped a little over half way and while he was waiting to be tagged Reynolds stole home. Robello tried to home plate, too late to catch Verne, and Bill DeCarlo popped out to second base. Bogdanoff then came through with a double to score Farrell and Larrieu singled to bring in Bogdanoff to end the scoring for the evening. Before the game Steve was presented with a gold watch and ring by Clarence Allen for being chosen as the Cowboys' most popular player.

As he does in nearly every game, Ernie Bishop came up with a sparkling play in the third inning when he raced back of second base to rob the field of the ball that looked like a sure hit. On the first batter of the game, George Farrell made a nice play on Murphy's hit, crowding the looker back of second. Before the game Steve was presented with a gold watch and ring by Clarence Allen for being chosen as the Cowboys' most popular player.

Murphy was the only man on the Pocatello club to connect safely twice, getting two singles on his last turn at the plate.

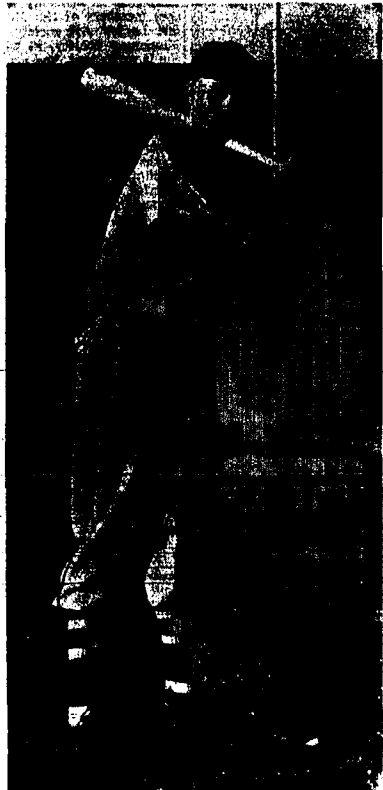

Tonight the teams will engage in a double-header, starting at 8 p.m. with the first game. The second game will be a double-header, starting at 8 p.m. with the first game. The second game will be a double-header, starting at 8 p.m. with the first game.

Verne Reynolds was the star offensive man of the game. He got two hits in three official trips to the plate, got on the other time on an error and walked another time up. He hit three home runs, and one run. Bogdanoff was the only other Twin Falls man to get more than one single, counseling for a double and single to four times up.

These Stars Shine for Cowboys

STEVE BOGDANOFF

Stars have to shine on every pennant-winning ball club. Bob Kinnaman, who got a late start with the Cowboys, pitched one of the best games of his career last night by downing the Pocatello Cardinals, 5-1.

17 Lettermen, Lots of Weight Make Grid Prospects Bright at Rupert High School

(Third of a series of articles on youth football in Idaho.)

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

RUPERT, Sept. 16 (Special)—Shed no tears for Coach Wes Shurtliff and his Pirates of 1939!

Seventeen lettermen returned to school. Seven of them were regulars on a fairly good club in 1938. And they brought back with them a lot of weight prospects in Quilley, Forest, a tackle from last year's Jayvee club.

Regulars returning are Karl Moore, 140, back; Wayne Place, 160, tackle; Jack Brockie, 160, guard; Rex Stanley, 170, fullback; Rich and Boone, 175, halfback; Cecil Winn, 180, fullback; and Ope, Max Johnson, 180, quarter.

He captains and plays quarterback on the big Rupert eleven that is expected to go places in the Big Seven conference.

Cowboy Dressing Room Wild After Pennant Clincher

Did they like it? They did!

It was a wild scene in the Cowboy dressing room after last night's pennant-clinching victory over the Pocatello Cardinals.

While most of the Twin Falls players are over the age of 18, they were acting just like a bunch of kids that had won their first major tournament.

There was back-slapping, wild grins, tricks galore and the most fun ever staged in the Jayvee park home dressing room. Well-wishers were circulating among the Cowboys as they dashed for a shower, shaking hands with first time up and then the next.

Manager Charley Wey, with nothing on except a pair of trunks, was standing near the door-way, attempting to keep down the crowd that tried to swarm into the room already bulging.

"Boy, did Kinnaman pitch a game! We've got the pennant in the bag now," he said, "and wait until you are our line-up for the next two games."

"Maybe I can play shortstop or third, what do you think?" "Okay by me," piped up Al Larrieu, "I'll manage."

That sounds like a nice bit of material from which to pick a high school ball club, doesn't it?

But that's only the beginning. There are 70 young men of varying weights and heights out trying to make either the varsity, the Jayvees or the six-man job which is expected to be inaugurated this year.

plus there and the team members were taking things easy lounging in big chairs. Mike Dudnick challenged Larry Daily, 10-year-old baby, to a game of pool—and was promptly called.

Frank Falconi, smoking a big cigar, sat with a non-player and played cards the while evening through.

Steve Bogdanoff was busy showing his wits and ring set, which he "fired" Bill Schuchel, with a big smile on his teeth, was helping out by acting as a waiter.

Judson Kivie, the ace centerfielder of the Cardinals, drifted in, and after conferring with Routzong, his business manager, the two purchased a deck of cards and left for their hotel to engage in a little "three-cent-limit" poker—which they invited one each to attend.

Along toward midnight the club members started drifting to their homes—because they still had a tough schedule ahead of them with two more games here and then a series at Spokane.

There was lots more back-slapping and the players themselves awarded around Kinnaman to offer congratulations for his fine bit of work.

Business Manager Hugh Pace's office was also packed with well-wishers and even Hugh himself was getting from car to car. Art Boutsong, business manager of the Pocatello club, came in to offer congratulations, but didn't stay long. Manager Tom Robello also visited, but had nothing much to say, although he didn't appear particularly downcast.

After the conclusion of festivities at the ball park the Cowboys and wives and girl friends were guests of Mayor Joe Kiebler at the Elks club. There was lots more back-slapping and the players themselves awarded around Kinnaman to offer congratulations for his fine bit of work.

Fight Stopped in 14th To Save Nova From Further Punishment

By JACK CUDDY

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—They were still singing "Tonyboy; Tonyboy" at his headquarters in the Walton hotel this morning when Tony Galento headed for Orange, N. J., to begin prolonged training behind his tavern bar for another crack at the world heavyweight championship next June.

There was revelry at the Walton because of Tony's victory last night in Municipal stadium, but all was quiet on the Hahnemann hospital front where young Lou Nova, the guy Tony massacred, had his face stitched together again.

"Two Ton" Tony, a big belted old rooster of the ring, earned another shot at pugilism's most coveted crown by upsetting all the laws of nature, all precepts of boxing experts and all opinions of betting men by registering a technical knockout over the now slightly tarnished "golden boy" from the golden gate in the 14th round.

Gate Disappointing
Galento, 29, a battle-scarred veteran of 12 years in the commercial ring, again became the world No. 1 challenger and won the right to meet the winner of Wednesday night's Louis-Pastor title tilt at Detroit by triumphing with ease over 24-year-old Nova in one of the bloodiest brawls ever staged anywhere.

The crowd and the gate were disappointing to Promoter Mike Jacobs and Herman Taylor, who estimated that the gross gate was approximately $69,000 and that the cash customers numbered about 10,000. But the battle itself surpassed expectations.

Those who went to the huge stadium where Dempsey and Tunney first tangled in 1926 saw ancient and supposedly dispirited Galento as a contender in the betting, his youthful, clean-living Nova into such a helpless hulk that Referee George Blake halted the fight at 2:44 minutes of the 14th.

Started in Third
And this wasn't soon enough for hundreds of fans who had been absent from the fifth round on, "Stop that fight!"

They were shouting because Galento gashed Lou's right brow in the third round with his smashing left hook—gashed his left brow and mouth in the fourth—floored him four times and caused him to slip to the canvas two more times. Lou was a blood-matted, punching bag. And after Tony suffered cuts under his lower lip and under his chin, the encounter reached the ultimate in gore.

Nova Bad News
Nova was a bad news man when Referee Blake lifted Galento's hand, that Tony was that night last June when Champion Louis knocked him out in the fourth round. It was all Tony's battle from the opening glove. He forced the fighting through and landed the most damaging blows, winning every round except the 10th on the United Press scale sheet.

Blake said: "I stopped the fight because I was afraid that the cuts on Nova's right eye might blind him permanently." Blake was brought here from Los Angeles because Nova's manager, Ray Carlen, had insisted upon a neutral referee. He did a swell job.

Yanks Close in; Need Only One Victory to Clinch Fourth Straight Pennant

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—One to go and the Yanks are home. If the Yanks win today or the Red Sox lose, the Bronx Bombers will be champions of the American league for the fourth consecutive season—a feat never before accomplished in the junior circuit.

With a 10-game lead and 16 games left to play, the worst the Yanks can get is a tie. To do that the Yanks would have to lose 16 straight and the Red Sox win 16 in a row. Fine chance, huh?

With the pennant clinching only a matter of wins and losses, Joe McCarthy gave some thought today to the world series. He expects the Reds to win the National league flag and face the Yanks in the opening game at Yankee stadium, Oct. 4.

Top-Heavy Favorites
Early betting has made the Yanks top-heavy favorites at 2 1/2 to 1. Jack Doyle, Broadway prizefighter, said the Yanks might open as high as 3-1.

The Yanks came out of their 3-game slump by bumping the Tigers, 10-3, while Steve Sundra copped his 10th straight victory.

Cleveland, helped by the Yanks' cause by bludgeoning two three-run rallies in the eighth and ninth to lick the Red Sox, 7-1.

Bob Johnson, however, with two mates on base in the first inning enabled the Athletics to nose out the White Sox, 3-2. The Browns bested Washington, 5-1.

Reds Split Pair
The Cincinnati Reds split a doubleheader with the New York Giants, taking the opener, 4-6, but losing the nightcap, called at the end of the seventh because of darkness, 4-3.

The split paired the Reds National league lead to 2 1/2 games as the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Boston Braves, 1-0 in 14 innings.

Hank Leiber hit his fifth homer in as many games as the Chicago Cubs split with the Philadelphia Phillies. The Phils won the first, 9-8, and the Cubs the second, 6-1.

Brooklyn strengthened its hold on fourth place by defeating Pittsburgh, 4-2, in ten innings.

Seals Close in On Angels; Win 2 Tilts
(By United Press)
With the chips already raked from the table, the Los Angeles Seals are playing as if the tilt was the biggest ever and they held Aces back to another pair of licks on the tail-end Portland Beavers last night by scores of 6 to 4 and 2 to 1.

The Seals gained another half game on the third place Angels.
Los Angeles had little difficulty in slapping down the Seattle Rainiers, who don't care if the pennant is safely at hand. The score was 8 to 0.

Portland and Sacramento split a pair, the Acores taking the first, 4 to 1, and the Bolons the nightcap, 4 to 2, while Hollywood was twice a winner in the 100-place Salado club, 7 to 3 and 4 to 2 and climbing within a game of the Pagres.

Mac Explains He Picked Tony-In Code

By HENRY McLEMORE
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16 (U.P.)—Why you folks must be rich to day, riding around in Rolls-Royces, planning your winters in Palm Beach, ordering new rugs for your smoking lodge, and mal-murdering the twins at Grotton. If you are not filthy rich it's your own fault, because I certainly tipped you off on a short cut to wealth. Only two days ago, in a column which is now being given serious consideration by the Pulitzer committee, I advised every one of you to bet, and heavily, on Tony Galento to beat Lou Nova. I don't remember my exact words, but I believe I said Galento would stop Nova in 16 rounds, after which he would be a short cut to wealth. Only two days ago, in a column which is now being given serious consideration by the Pulitzer committee, I advised every one of you to bet, and heavily, on Tony Galento to beat Lou Nova. I don't remember my exact words, but I believe I said Galento would stop Nova in 16 rounds, after which he would be a short cut to wealth. Only two days ago, in a column which is now being given serious consideration by the Pulitzer committee, I advised every one of you to bet, and heavily, on Tony Galento to beat Lou Nova. I don't remember my exact words, but I believe I said Galento would stop Nova in 16 rounds, after which he would be a short cut to wealth.

All in Code
Of course, all of this was in code. In war time like this, a man would be foolish to express an opinion, in plain English. Even President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull have to use cipher to get across their stuff.

Naturally, my message of Thursday—"white paper," so to speak—I used the word Nova when I meant Galento. That is, to outwit the censors who now study all my copy for hidden meanings, I reversed the two fighters.

Why, Oh Why?
Even as I write this some of my readers are firing letters at me, asking me why my office pays me for such tips; how much the Nova-organization gives me a week; and how much do I get by as a sportswriter, anyway.

Well, but I'll say this over that mutter and yell and yammer fight, it was exactly as I predicted (between the lines). Galento is a misunderrated genius.

As Columbus was never appreciated; just as Leonardo was passed by, and just as Henry McClellan is derided occasionally, Galento's qualities were held up to scorn. The boxing world was reluctant to recognize his talent.

But from the moment I first laid eyes on him, in the process of having his third chin lifted, he gained enough that there was a man. (P.S. If it wasn't a hippopotamus.)

He Made Money?
But why am I wasting my time writing a story about a fight between these two men? Heaven forbid, I must have made money in the world on this fight. Sure of a Galento victory I walked into Philadelphia looking like a man who had just won the lottery.

Editor's note: Person is McLeomore's secretary, full name: Martin J. Paton; address: Dead letter office, Washington; single, 26, white, eligible, wearing purple dollar.

In one hour I drove the bookies to cover. For every Nova dollar that showed I had something to cover it. You must have done the same thing, unless you read my purely for my literary style, and to be truthful with you I couldn't be sure if you did, but I bet all my style, and as it is, is better than my expiring.

Ward, Billows Tangle for Amateur Title
GLENNVILLE, Ill., Sept. 16 (U.P.)—The only thing they have in common is a magic putter so it'll be a scramble on the greens today when Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., battles Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., in the 36-hole final of the U. S. amateur golf championship.

Three former Walker cup players put on an exhibition of putting yesterday that by noon left no doubt which of the semi-final duels would play for the title.

Ward, 26, had 16 one-putt greens in 36 holes as he defeated Art Doring of Chicago after the granddaddy match of the tournament, 2 and 1/2.

Billows, 36, a private salesman who was runner-up to Johnny Goodman in 1937, entered the finals again by whipping Don Schumacher, Dallas, Tex., 6 and 5.

Four victories in the journey showed how tough Ward is at match play. He defeated Eddie Held of Glenview, Ill., 1 up in 20 holes; routed Chris Clarke of Birmingham, Mich., 6 and 5, scrambled for a two-up victory over young Joe Thompson of Burlington, Ontario, and defeated Ed Kingale of Salt Lake City, Utah, 3 and 1.

JAPAN, RUSSIA DECLARE TRUCE IN BORDER FIGHTING

ARGUMENT OVER BOUNDARY LINES TO BE SETTLED

TOKYO, Sept. 16 (AP)—Japan and Russia have declared a truce on the Manchukuo-Outer Mongolia frontier and have agreed to appoint a commission to delimit the boundary, the Japanese government today announced.

The foreign office made public an agreement with Russia providing:

1. Cessation of hostilities at 2 a. m. Moscow time today.
2. For troops to remain in their positions as of 1 p. m. yesterday.
3. For representatives of Japan and Russia to supervise control of the border situation to see that there was no more informal fighting and to see that the troops remained in their positions.
4. For exchange of prisoners taken in the fighting which had continued since mid-May.

Commission Created

5. For creation of a commission of two Russian and Outer Mongolian delegates and two Japanese and Manchukuo delegates to decide on a final boundary between Manchukuo and Outer Mongolia.

The foreign office announcing the agreement, said:

"The Japanese government has been exerting efforts for some time past to settle various pending questions between Japan and Russia.

"Both governments, Japan and Russia, have recognized that a solution of the dispute regarding the Nomonhan district along the boundary would dispel the unpleasant atmosphere prevailing between the two countries and contribute toward restoration of Japanese-Russian relations on a normal basis.

No Non-Aggression Pact

"Therefore Mr. Tojo (Stiglien) Tojo, Japanese ambassador at Moscow and Mr. Molotov (Vlaschewsky) Molotov, Russian premier and foreign minister, recently had several conversations for this purpose.

"The result of these interviews was that an agreement for cessation of hostilities was concluded Sept. 15.

"The reference to return of relations to a 'normal state' was taken in diplomatic quarters to indicate that reports of a Japanese-Russian non-aggression pact were premature. Conclusion of such a pact, it was said, would be distinctly non-normal."

Ties Replaced on Lincoln Roadbed

SHOSHONE, Sept. 16 (Special).—In order to amplify the structure of the historic roadbeds of the past century, extra crews have been employed during the past week to take part in re-laying rails between Shoshone and Ketchum and Fairfield.

An additional force will assist in taking out the dead timber of the rail-bed, some of which is stamped back for a good many years, and replacing it by new crossties.

Union Pacific pulled its first train into Shoshone 52 years ago, and some of the ties, while not dating back that far, are getting a little soft. With Sun Valley coming into the picture, the shippers from Fairfield and the Big Smoky country have necessitated promotion of the solid foundation for big trains. Hence the addition of the extra crews. Replacing of new ties will be continued for two months, it is stated.
