Bott Develops "Mystery Hook" For Spud Contest; Odds Even

By JERRY HANFIFIN
BLACKFOOT, Ida., Sept. 21 (UP)—The odds on Challenger C.A. (Spud) Bottolfsen, of Boise, took a sudden turn today on strength of reports that he had perfected a "mystery hook" for his battle with Champion Lewis O. (Spud) Barrows, Augusta, Me., at the eastern Idaho state fair grounds here late tomorrow.

The reports sent the odds on Bottolfsen soaring to even money. Previously the betting had been three to two on the champion, who a year ago defeated the recently retired Barrows. (Spud) Clark with a terrific two-handed attack and as brilliant a display of footwork as had been seen in a Maine potato

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (UP)—President Roosevelt today asked congress to substitute a cash-and-carry system for the embargo on arms, in line with "one single hard-headed thought—keeping America out of this war."

1. Authority to fix war zones in which American merchant vessels may not enter.
2. Broader authority to prevent American citizens from travelling in vessels of belligerent nations or in danger areas.
3. Provision that belligerents purchasing commodities in this nation must take title to those commodities prior to shipment from U. S. shores.
4. A ban on war credits to belligerent nations.

Result of Ban Outlined
"The result of the last two (provisions)" said Mr. Roosevelt, "will be to require all purchases to be made in cash, and cargoes to be carried in the purchaser's own ships at the purchaser's risk."

Nazi Organization Foe Killed in Attempt to Precipitate Uprising

BUCHAREST, Sept. 21 (UP)—Two of the assassins of Premier Armand Calinescu, assassinated today by shooting tonight when surrounded by a mid-town force, were shot off their marks.

BUCHAREST, Sept. 21 (UP)—Six youthful assassins, shot down by a mid-town force, were shot off their marks.

The shooting occurred at 216 p. m. when it was understood that the 46-year-old premier was en route for an interview with King Carol, whose government had suppressed the Iron Guard organization on charges of terrorism.

The assassins approached Calinescu's automobile from behind a parked car on a main street of Bucharest.

The premier's automobile apparently was blocked for the moment—either by accident or intentionally—by a large truck.

The truck lumbered across the street, blocking a line of traffic.

As the premier's automobile slowed down, the six assassins leaped from their hiding place and ran toward it.

One of them yanked open the door of Calinescu's automobile.

There were shots and then a sharp volley of shots fired point blank and at arm's length, according to spectators.

The premier, easily identified by his black motorcade, was shot in the chest and in the right arm.

He collapsed and seemed to have lost consciousness at once.

Five other assailants, sitting at his side, also were killed, spectators reported.

The chauffeur of the automobile collapsed, apparently from a nervous breakdown.

Calinescu was taken from the automobile and carried to the nearby University hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

Program Interrupted
A few seconds later the Bucharest radio station interrupted a musical program and an excited voice said:

"Calinescu is killed."
The station then became silent for 15 minutes, after which the announcer said:

CONTEST ENTRIES SET NEW RECORD

Entries in the "light" or "wren" window contest which features the current fall opening in Twin Falls will set a new record for total contestants, committeemen in charge of the event said this afternoon.

At noon today—with six more hours still to go before deadline—there were already 49 answer blanks submitted at offices of the Times and News. The last-minute rush usually produces the largest landslide, no committeemen looked forward to a lengthy task for the contest judges.

Winners of the 18 cash prizes, headed by the $25 first award, will be announced Saturday afternoon, committeemen said today. It will take the judges that long, they indicated, to check the flood of answers.

BRITISH REPORT BREMEN CAPTURE

LONDON, Sept. 21 (UP)—Reports were prevalent today that the 33,000-ton 33,000-ton German liner Bremen, third largest passenger ship in the world, had arrived at a British port under a warship escort, a British press.

There had been reports for several days that the Bremen had been captured.

The Bremen sailed from New York Aug. 30. It was reported safe at ports all over the north and south Atlantic, and in Italy. If the Bremen had been captured by the British, it would be no surprise if the British had withheld the news for days or weeks, because that is part of their policy.

HEROISM OF RED FORCES PRAISED

MOSCOW, Sept. 21 (UP)—The Soviet press praised the Red army today for "mass heroism" in fighting "the enemy," indicating that the Russians had met with resistance in their march into Poland.

"The Red army showed the world what a powerful force it is," said the newspaper Pravda, said in publishing an official communique announcing capture of more than 60,000 prisoners, 280 pieces of artillery, 120 airplanes and a large quantity of war materials.

The army showed upward of and previously undefeated mass heroism in fighting with the enemy," the paper said.

Previously, Russian newspaper reports of the march into Poland had put great emphasis on the jubilation with which they said the white Russians and Ukrainians greeted the Red army and had not referred to any fighting or importance.

Do You Favor Changing Neutrality Laws? Here's a Chance to Vote on Vital Issue

Should the United States adopt a "cash and carry" policy for war materials, selling to anyone able to send its own ships and to pay cash?
Should the United States maintain its existing neutrality law, banning sales of such commodities to any belligerent regardless of where public sentiment may lie?

These are the burning questions on the tip of every American tongue today as congress convenes in special session.

What do you think?
Public opinion will form the basis on which each congressman and senator decides his vote in what looms as a stormy special session. The Evening Times is giving all of Magic Valley an opportunity to express a stand on the matters which may well decide whether the United States remains at peace or provokes a foreign power to the point of war.

Send in your ballot, or bring it in, immediately!
The entire group of ballots will be sent to Cong. Henry C. Dvorak, the direct representative of Magic Valley, and certified copies of the vote will go to Sen. William E. Borah, Sen. D. Worth Clark and Cong. Omer L. White.

One or more summary articles will show you just how the vote runs. Watch your Evening Times, always out in front on public questions. Clip the ballot from today's Times—and vote NOW!

Neutrality Ballot

I favor the present neutrality law, banning sale of war commodities to any belligerent.

I favor a "cash and carry" plan.

I want the U. S. to remain out of foreign wars at any cost.

AVIATOR'S BODY FOUND IN UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 21 (UP)—A three-and-a-half year old mystery was solved today with discovery of the body of Major Howard Stark, department of commerce pilot who disappeared while on a flight from Hook Springs, Tenn., to Salt Lake City on July 18, 1936.

The body was found in a rugged mountain area 40 miles northeast of here at a point about midway between Ogden, Utah, and Evanston, Wyo. It was found by a sheepherder and brought out today by Morgan county and federal officials.

Stark's wrecked airplane had been located in May, 1936, but efforts of authorities to find the body had been unsuccessful.

Flying blind through a raging snowstorm, Stark apparently crashed his plane about midway between Ogden, Utah, and Evanston, Wyo. It was found by a sheepherder and brought out today by Morgan county and federal officials.

FIR, PARTY LEADERS AGREE U. S. NEUTRALITY VITAL

PEACE DECLARED PRIMARY OBJECT OF LEGISLATORS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt and Republican and Democratic leaders, who conferred for nearly two and one-half hours yesterday, agreed unanimously that their primary and non-partisan objective was to keep the United States neutral and at peace.

Mr. Roosevelt felt out the emergency on outright repeal of the whole neutrality law and was strongly backed by Vice-President John N. Garner.

Full Conducted

The President and vice-president were told that not more than 100 members of the senate foreign relations committee would support such a proposal. But a United Press poll indicated a committee majority to amend the neutrality law by repealing the arms embargo and establishing a cash and carry policy on the sale of American goods to belligerent states.

Embargo Repeal

For arms embargo repeal and cash-and-carry (12)—Pittman, Harrison, Connally, Van Nuys, Wagner, Barkley, Murray, Schwelmbach, Guffey, Green, Pepper and Thomas of Utah.

Against repeal (8)—Clark, of Mo., Borah, Johnson, Capper, Vandenberg, La Follette, Shipstead and George.

Doubtful (3)—Gillette, Reynolds and White.

Some administration leaders hope George will switch. The Republican front already has been broken and many anti-New Deal Democrats are rallying to the Roosevelt program.

Among Democrats who have bucked the administration on other issues but who will vote to abandon the embargo are Sen. Pat Harrison, D., Miss.; Carter Glass, D., Va.; and Alva B. Adams, D., Colo.

Advocates Arming

Al H. London, 1938 Republican presidential nominee, emerged from the White House conference, declaring the United States should arm itself at once. He said present national defense was not adequate.

He thought congress ought to renege in session throughout the emergency. Mr. Roosevelt was said to have suggested that congress should work but that house and senate Republican and Democratic leaders remain here, presumably as a liaison between the legislative and executive branches.

Streamlined Drill Rules Termed Simpler, Better

The cry "squads right" or "squad right" has resounded down through the years in army, navy and marine circles but it's all over now.

Reason is that new regulations, now in effect, make such commands taboo. It was explained here this afternoon by Capt. J. H. Seaver, Jr., commander of the 11th engineers' unit of the Idaho National Guard.

Under the new regulations, which henceforth will govern the three national defense units, Capt. Seaver explained that instead of the old "squad right and left" the men will face to the right and, led by the squad leader, they will follow single file with the corporal as last man.

Under the old method the squad was made up of from six to eight men and a corporal was last man and the senior private in the ranks was second in command. The squad was formed with a front and rear rank. Under the new system the squads are composed of from four to 12 men. The squad leader is the sergeant and the corporal is second in command. They all will form in one line with no rear rank. In a platoon the front squads form one behind the other and not alongside each other.

Infantry Companies

"The position for combat maneuvers, such as extended order, remains the same, a sound as for close order drill," Capt. Seaver said. "Infantry companies are now made up of one platoon with new 'M-1' rifles of the semi-automatic type. The second platoon is made up as the first with the exception that they are armed with the M-1 as well as two old style Browning automatics to each squad. The third platoon is armed with light machine guns and the fourth with 50 mm. trench mortars.

"The engineer organization has not, as yet, been changed but it is expected that in the near future it will also be reorganized to fit the new streamlined division at that time. Instead of having a regiment consisting of two battalions of engineers to the division, there will be a battalion of three line companies and headquarters company only.

"The strength of the division will be reduced from approximately 22,000 men to 12,000 men and with their new means of transportation they will be much more mobile than formerly," Capt. Seaver said.

Tried Out in 1933

He pointed out that the revised drills were tentatively tried out for nearly a year in 1933. At that time the commander of each outfit and other officials wrote a report and suggested any changes they thought should be made. Nothing more was heard of the new regulations until this fall with the announcement such regulations would be effective for the army, navy and marines from now on. Seaver noted quite a few changes in the tentative drill were first tried in 1933 but added they were "all for the best."

"The new drill is much more simplified than the old," the commander said, "and a recruit can become a soldier in a great deal less time as a result."

Seaver added that the manual of arms is changed in some respects but "most changes come in the squad formation and the drill."

More Profit for Idaho's Potato Growers

Comparison of Prices Paid Idaho Potato Growers for Early Triumph Potatoes 1933-39

Idaho Early Triumph potatoes netted their growers more income this year than last. While no official figures are available on early shipments and prices, the ones used in the chart above are accurate and representative of the activity over the two seasons. The income figures are based only on prices paid growers on No. 1 Triumph and can be considered only as indicating the increase in total income. The per cent of increase, however, establishes the fact that last year's crop, without the benefit of a planned newspaper advertising program, fell victim to a depressed market. This season, after the sharp opening decline (paralleled last year) the market rallied and established a firm price level that netted Idaho growers approximately 85 per cent more for their potatoes, with more cars shipped. The waxy portions of the two lines indicate shipping holidays declared by shippers both years to allow for more maturity in the crop.

BORAH SEES WAR ROAD 'SLIPPERY'

BOISE, Sept. 21 (AP)—W. H. Rhodes, Boise, read today a letter from his friend, Sen. William F. Borah, R. Id.

It said: "The road to war is so slippery we slide all the way in spite of anything we may do. Let's never make the first move in the direction of a foreign war."

"I am fearful if we begin by furnishing arms, we may end by furnishing our boys. I am going back to work in congress with a heavy heart. I had hoped I might never have to deal again with the question of war."

Unworried

Taking over a big job with a big smile, Real Admiral Samuel Robinson is pictured after being sworn in at Washington as head of the navy bureau of engineering, construction and repair.

Water users of this district met Friday and plans were perfected to circulate contracts, which will outline both plans to be submitted to the reclamation association regarding extension of payments.

One of the plans is on a sliding scale and the other comprehends 40 yearly payments, the ultimate result approximating the same in either instance. Committees from the water users' association will also ascertain the number of shares of water under district supervision and this will cover all of Lincoln county and a portion of Gooding county. Petitions will be handled through district representatives of the body.

It was decided to send a delegate to the reclamation meeting to be held in Denver Nov. 14 to 16, on the entire repayment schedule. The meeting here was held at the office of Secretary Howard Adkins and practically all of the district attended, including all directors.

LINCOLN COUNTY G. O. P. ELECTS

SHOSHONE, Sept. 21 (Special)—Young Republicans of Lincoln county and this district officially launched their new organization last Monday night at a meeting at the Memorial building, and an interesting address of national and state topics was given by Representative William Delveiler, Jerome county. Officers were elected as follows: C. W. Dill, Jr., president; Orlin Johnson, vice-president; Virgil Coffie, treasurer. Jow Day presided at the opening of the meeting, which was attended by 50 or more. Day was formerly president of the Jerome club.

Another session will be called within three weeks, when members will be selected for the executive committee. President Dill stated that much enthusiasm was manifested at Monday's meet, and many individuals who hitherto has taken little interest in the political situation were present. A wide invitation is extended to attend the next session of the club, and no particular designation is placed on the age limit of "young" Republicans.

Juvenile Fair Draws Hundreds

RUPERT, Sept. 21 (Special)—The annual school fair, given each year as an English project, and under the supervision of Miss Jessie Mae Johnson this year, was held all day Monday at the Lincoln grade school and was visited by hundreds of pupils, parents, patrons and friends of all schools of the town.

Prizes, totaling 225, including first, second and third, were awarded by the judges on the vast number of exhibits placed by the one hundred fifty pupils taking part in the fair.

The exhibits included handicraft of all kinds, hobbies, flowers, fruits, vegetables, fancy work, fruit and vegetable canning, jelly, jams, preserves and a large variety of cooking and baking.

The display was attractively arranged in a cleverly decorated room, featuring the school colors, purple and gold, and all the work was done by the children themselves under Miss Johnson's supervision.

Price Rise on Heels of War Reaches into Every Pocket, But Employment Unchanged

By JOHN T. FLYNN
(Written for NKA Service)

NEW YORK — The European conflict will make jobs and profits in some places and reduce jobs and profits in other places. So total employment in the United States will not be increased by the war in the Atlantic, and, perhaps, the first year.

Prices, however, are immediately affected by war and will continue to be affected.

The causes of the price rises are not at all complicated and rest on well known human reactions. Take for instance, a commodity like hides.

Prices of hides at Chicago soared 100 points in a day. Immediately tanners decided it would be unwise to sell at the current prices and promptly bottled up the supply.

It is the most natural thing in the world for the hide trade, which has had plenty of trouble since the last war, now that it sees a hope of selling its product at higher prices, to hold on to its stocks until the prices get high enough. And the very act of holding on gives a further boost to the price.

Rise Infections

The war immediately affected the price of things like copper, hides, leather, woolen and worsted goods, burials, wood-pulp, chemicals and drugs — and for various reasons. Some were affected because foreign supplies were cut off. Some were affected because of rising demand from foreign countries. Later, doubles, steel, manufactured metal products, etc., will be affected.

Farmers think they can hold their wheat for the big European demand and the same is true of hogs and other meats and some foods.

All prices, of course, are not affected. But so startling a price rise as has occurred in certain articles is more or less infectious and demand from foreign countries to move up all along the line. They adjust, except in certain articles, should themselves.

Climb Must Be Curbed

This is a matter of grave importance to the ordinary citizen. A general boost in prices is equivalent to a corresponding reduction in his wages. And in this way the war in these first two weeks has reached into the pocket of every citizen.

But this has a more serious aspect. If the price rise is not curbed it will do to us what it did in 1918 when foolish manufacturers and dealers put up prices and choked off the small recovery that was then under way.

The government must protect the whole economic system from these price rises. Likewise business should exercise some self-restraint.

Scare's Danger

Another serious matter is the danger that the war and the war scare—added by the foolish propaganda for the proposition that "we are bound to get it"—will further cripple our building industry.

In the face of the threat of war, men will be shy about investment or long term commitments of any sort. The best service that could be done to business now — and to every man who works for wages or profits — would be a ringing declaration from the government that the United States is going to stay out of this war.

Invention of the spectroscope made it possible for man to learn the composition of the heavenly bodies. It had been supposed that the bodies of the universe were composed of the same material, but not until the spectroscope was invented was it possible to obtain proof.

"Prices are immediately affected by war and will continue to be affected."

Last Rites for Former Teacher

JEROME, Sept. 21 (Special)—Final tribute was paid Sunday to Miss Claiibel Petrie, sister of George Petrie, who succumbed after a brief illness at the home of her brother Friday. The services were held at the Petrie home, Rev. W. F. Willis, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiated.

Mrs. Jeff and Mrs. Sheldon sang "Softly Now the Light of Day." Pall bearers were J. E. Nielsen, Harry Kild, Nealy Thompson, Mike Jones, Harry Priskler and H. P. Rickert.

The body was taken to Salt Lake City where another service was held at 5:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon in the chapel of the Salt Lake museum and where a great number of Miss Petrie's friends there paid last respects.

Miss Petrie was born in Chicago, Ill., on Nov. 27, 1879 and passed away on Friday, Sept. 18, at her brother's home in Jerome. She and her mother moved to Jerome in 1910 to be with her brother, George D. Petrie, on his ranch in the Barrymore district. She has made her home with him since that time. Her mother died in December, 1914.

She has been in the teaching profession for 35 years and received her training for kindergarten teacher in Chicago. Prior to moving to Idaho she had taught kindergarten there and in Berkeley, Calif. Shortly after moving here she was a teacher in both the Falls City and Twin Falls schools.

In the fall of 1920 she went to Salt Lake City where she has taught kindergarten in the Utah school system until her recent illness. Her passing leaves her brother George D. Petrie, his wife Georgia and two nephews, Scott and Rolvin, all of Jerome.

BOISE, Sept. 21 (AP)—Labor went on record today opposed to construction of public buildings by works progress administration men on the grounds unskilled labor is employed to the detriment of skilled labor, as the annual Idaho Federation of Labor convention went into its third day.

Speakers today included Edward E. Goshen, Denver, field representative of the U. S. department of labor; Henry Afton, state commissioner of public welfare and W. L. Robinson, Boise, member of the Idaho Industrial accident board.

Officers will be elected at the closing session of the three-day convention tomorrow.

SENTENCED MAN BATTLING DEATH

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 21 (U.P.)—Fifty-four-year-old George Hayes, deaf Tootie country prospector, will resume his battle Saturday morning to escape death in a Utah state prison firing squad.

A special session of the state parole board adjourned late yesterday without reaching a verdict in Hayes' application for a commutation of his death sentence to life in prison. The board will resume hearings on the case at the statehouse at 10 a. m. Saturday.

Hayes was convicted of slaying Sherman Cadwell, 71-year-old reclusive, early this year and was to have died more than two months ago. But he had received two reprieves while legal authorities battled over his sanity.

Hayes had admitted shooting Cadwell but insists he did it because "demons" from Cadwell's radio were haunting him. He also blames the major portion of the actual murder on Lavern Russell, a youth who has been sentenced to life imprisonment for his part in the crime.

Warsaw Radio Claims City Still Fighting Off Mighty Nazi Army

BAYONET CHARGE RECAPTURES TWO SUBURBAN CITIES

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Warsaw's radio station informed the world today the city still was fighting off the surrounding German army after another day of destructive air raids. It was the 12th day of the siege.

The voice of the Warsaw announcer, "Colonel Lipinski," familiar now to all British radio listeners, came through as usual shortly after midnight with a "defensive army communique" which said:

"Polish troops advanced over two miles in the western (Warsaw) sector. In a fierce bayonet charge, infantry units recaptured the suburbs of Praga and Wola, capturing many prisoners, three heavy and seven light machine guns. Detachments of Polish light horse successfully made repeated charges dislodging the enemy from entrenched positions."

Every military expert in Europe had conceded for days that Warsaw's plight was hopeless. There was nothing Great Britain or France could do to relieve the siege, and dispatches reaching Paris said that since the city was surrounded a week ago it had been impossible to get any more food or ammunition to Warsaw from the "security triangle" around Lemberg, in south-east Poland, the only other region still in Polish hands.

No Discouraging Word

But there was not a discouraging word in Lipinski's broadcast throughout last night. And the fact that he was still on the air gave proof, like the fact that Fort Mott-Henry which inspired Francis Scott Key's American anthem in 1814, that the Poles "will endure."

Lipinski said 40 German airplanes raided the city three times yesterday and that anti-aircraft guns shot down seven of them. He said the bombs destroyed what was left of the royal castle, the art academy's national museum and the central institute for physical training.

JOE LOUIS SHORTENS LIST OF CHALLENGERS

Why Pitches as Cowboys Unlimber Six-Guns to Even Spokane Series

Monarch of Maul Completes 8th Defense of Title

By JACK CUDDY

DETROIT, Sept. 21 (U.P.)—Joe Louis, monarch of maul, stood out today as one of the most isolated figures in the history of pugilism—a champion without a worthwhile challenger following his eighth title defense.

Fast-stepping Bob Pastor attained new ring fame at Briggs stadium last night by postponing his knockout until the 11th round, just as Tony Galento had done in June by postponing his until the fourth.

Louis is such a great fighter, that his opponents command world-wide admiration when they make any kind of a showing against him. He shuffles across the rings of the world alone.

Cincinnati Good Behind Star Hurlers

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (U.P.)—The Cincinnati Reds, it became increasingly apparent today under the pressure of the September stretch drive, are two different kinds of a ball club.

They are good when Bucky Walters or Paul Derringer is on the pitching mound. They are bad when anybody else pitches.

Walters was in the box yesterday, and they beat the Phillies, 3-2, and preserved their 21-3 game National league lead. Three times the Reds came from behind to enable Walters to win his 26th game.

With Derringer following Walters to the mound today, the Reds' case is slightly improved. They have 13 games left, one with the Phils today, eight with the Pirates, and four with the Cards.

The Cardinals staged high Oyster 2-0, but the Sox and Athletics, 10-4, for their third straight.

Carl Hubbell outduelled Bill Lee to score his 10th victory as the Giants triumphed over the Cubs, 4-2. Cleveland took over undisputed possession of third place in the American league by defeating Washington, 7-2.

The Yanks scored their 10th victory, defeating the White Sox, 8-4. Frank Hayes' triple in the 13th enabled the Athletics to nose out the Tigers, 5-4.

The Browns slugged out 22 hits, but it took them 16 innings to beat the Red Sox, 11-8. The Browns drove Lefty Grove to cover in the eighth.

Packing the Mail for Stanford

After a year spent in a cast with an injured shoulder, Jim Groves, 185-pound fullback, is back to carry the ball for Stanford this season.

Reynolds Stars But Mates Can't Hit in Clutches

By HAL WOOD

Evening Times Special Editor

SPOKANE, Sept. 21 (U.P.)—Manager Charley Wry himself climbs aboard the mound tonight to pitch for his Twin Falls Cowboys as the Pioneer league champions unlimber their six-guns in an effort to even the count in the post-season series with Spokane's Indians.

The Indians, behind the eight-hill hurling of their No. 1 chucker, Ira Scribner, captured the opening game here last night, 7-4.

Playing without the services of Ernie Bishop and George Holcher, the Twin Falls attack couldn't hit in clutch situations. Scribner, the Cowboy boss in check, Verne Reynolds, moved in to shortstop from right field, and the only Pioneer batter hitting consistently, getting two singles and a triple in four times at the plate.

Felding Grooms Reynolds also came through with two sensational fielding plays at shortstop. Corky Carlson, who got one hit, played an outstanding defensive game for the Wranglers.

Bandy-legged Wes Schumacher, the grinning favorite of Twin Falls crowds as a Cowboy performer and then Cowboy manager, helped save his ex-teammates' doom in the eighth frame by walloping out a home run with one man on base.

That made the score 6-3 in favor of Spokane. It was 4-3 when Wes ambled up to the plate, wagged his big bat, and waved at Mike Budnick.

Budnick pitched eight innings for Twin Falls, allowing nine hits, but mixed those with a balk, a wild pitch and an over-throw windup, all of which aided Spokane's scoring. Frank Kendall took over, hurling in the last inning and set the Indians down in one-two-three order.

Cowboys Score First

Twin Falls scored first with a two-run surge in the second frame. Steve Bogdanoff singled and got to second when Manning, first baseman, committed an error on a fielder's choice by Carlson. Bob Kinman, pitcher, was played right field, was safe to fill the bases when Scribner failed to make a throw to anybody.

Carl DeCarlo sacrificed Bogdanoff in, and a moment later Carlson scored on an error.

In the third inning Reynolds led off with a screaming single. George Farrell smacked out another single, sending Verne to third from where he scored on Frank Carlson's sacrifice. That gave Twin Falls a 3-0 lead.

But Edgie Leishman's crew went to work in the fourth canto, putting across three runs largely on a single, a double and then a balk by Budnick.

Wid Pitch

In the seventh the Indians added another score when Aden, center fielder, tripled and came home on a wild pitch by Budnick. Holding a 4-3 edge, Spokane unlimbered once more in the eighth to score three times. The Schumacher four-bagger accounted for two of these, and Martiner, third baseman, hit a three-

3-Year-Olds To Settle Championship

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (U.P.)—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt dropped three specially embossed cards in the mail today, nominating Challeon, Johnson and Eighty Three to settle the American three-year-old championship at a mile and 3/16 in the third Fimco special on Nov. 1.

That was the word from directors of the Maryland Jockey club as they passed final judgment on eligibles for the race in which Seabiscuit humbled War Admiral a year ago. The directors explained they chose the trio from a list of five horses nominated by turf writers in a national poll for two reasons:

Although C. S. Howard's Kayak II and T. B. Martin's Gravel also were nominated by the writers, Challeon, Johnson and Eighty Three led the poll in the order named.

Kayak II and Gravel are four-year-olds and therefore ineligible for the three-year-old title, for which the three other horses are the outstanding contenders.

Solons Win 5 to 4 in Tenth Inning

(By United Press)

SACRAMENTO did it again last night in dropping San Francisco 5 to 4 in the second game of the Pacific Coast league playoff, while Seattle was evening its score with Los Angeles, 5 to 1.

The Solons were leading the Seals 4 to 1 behind Tom Seale, seven-hit pitcher as the game went into the tenth inning, but five hits and two errors permitted San Francisco to tie the score. A double-steal by Art Garibaldi and Joe Barton in the tenth coupled with an error by Jack Warner, let Garibaldi score the winning run.

Les Webber had the Angels eating out of his hand while Seattle was closing Ray Prin from the mound in the first inning with five hits and a wild pitch and an error contributing. Jess Flores finished for the Seals.

Pastor had evaded those left hooks to his first meeting with Louis in '37, when he lasted 10 full rounds. And he trained eight weeks to avoid them this time. But the Bomber and his wife trainer, Jack Blackburn, crossed up "Bicycle" Bob. Joe's left saw little service, but that explosive right fist worked overtime.

Out of no where came that bolt of brown lightning to floor the shorter, fair-skinned challenger for counts of two, nine, seven and none in the first session.

George the bell saved the 183-pound challenger in the first round, because he rose groggily without a count after his fourth trip just as the drums sounded. His second worked frantically over him in the corner, reviving him, swabbing the blood from his nose and eyes.

Game and Rugged

Somewhat refreshed he came out for the second. Midway in the session another right landed on his chin and he crumpled to the count of nine. Only his gameness and ruggedness enabled him to weather the bombardment that swept him after he rose.

But the challenger rallied, doing his zig-zag dance about the ring—evading the 200-pound champion, and jabbing back at him. He went on to take the fourth round by out-boxing Louis, and fought on even terms in the fifth. But three terrific rights to the head had Bob on the verge of slumberland in the sixth and another right gained his left eye in the seventh.

Champion Dragg

Then came Pastor's best round of the fight, the eighth, in which he actually had the champion groggy on the ropes, bombarding him with right and left hooks. They fought on even terms in the ninth, in the 10th came the short right cross that almost tore Pastor's head off, and left him an easy victim for the 11th.

A left kick to the body brought Bob's arms down—and a whirling right to the chin stunned him and crumpled him against the champion. Louis stepped back and Pastor slithered to the floor—to remain there while Referee Sam Hennessy counted him out.

New Leader Named by Sportsmen

Claud Stewart was named president of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association at the last meeting of directors of the group to succeed Donald Wilson, former president who resigned. Stewart will continue in office until regular elections are held for January.

Two representatives were named by the directors to attend the drawing at Boise for the Minidoka forest special deer hunt. Larry Bassett and President Stewart, on the request of the state game department, were asked to represent the group at Boise Friday night for permits in the special hunt from Oct. 8 to 9.

Applications to the state fish department for warm water fish were also planned by directors. They seek to plant bluegill, perch, crappie and bullheads in Murugan lake.

A fish and game banquet has been scheduled here for next month, but the donors that have been secured to hold a meeting place has been selected, said directors.

'Tiny' Thornhill's Football Team Must Be Winners

By JAMES A. SULLIVAN

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 21 (U.P.)—There was a sword swinging close to the head of Claude ('Tiny') Thornhill today as he concluded a twin lack of rebuilding his Stanford university football coaching staff and his 1933 Stanford football team.

That was interpreted to mean that he must produce this year or "else."

Stanford tasted victory for three years when Thornhill, 33, 24 and 25 teams went to the Rose Bowl. It found out about the more bitter fruits of defeat in '36, '37 and '38 when the teams didn't do so well.

Thornhill has a nucleus of 16 lettermen and a sensational sophomore, Wes Schumacher, who is expected to mould a squad to do battle in the Pacific Coast Conference and against Santa Clara and Dartmouth on the outside this year.

He lost 12 lettermen including backfield ace Paul Paulman, now frosh coach, Hallback Percy Fay,

Sudden-Death Schedule Faces Improved Oregon Grid Team

EUGENE, Ore., Sept. 21 (U.P.)—The Eugene Oregon Grid football team, which finished fourth in the 1933 Pacific Coast conference football race after two dismal years in the cellar, faced a new season today with a paper balance of 18 lettermen, a few reserves and transfers and a sudden-death schedule.

Coach G. A. "Tex" Oliver has a fair idea of what lies ahead from spring workouts and an accurate chart of the trouble schedule-makers have booked for him.

The Webbo's open Sept. 30 in the Los Angeles coliseum and against the University of Southern California. The Ducks dumped the Trojans in 1912. That was the last time, and the "Southern California line" has been grinding steadily for the last seven years.

A week later Oregon meets Stanford at Portland, and the following week California at Berkeley. After what may or may not be a breather against Gonzaga, the Ducks tackle a road game at Washington in that order.

Other lost seven veterans by graduation. Twelve of them are in the backfield. To offset this, however, the 18 lettermen are returning. And at least one of the several transfers appears to have startling possibilities.

The line prospects are good—two or more are good for every position, including a 225-pound junior tackle, Jim Attari, and Vic Vigilante, one of the best defensive ends on the coast last year.

To replace Jimmy Nicholson, Ted Gebhart and Hank Nissen in the backfield, Oliver has veterans Bob Smith, the ambitiousness pass-catcher; Jackrabbit Jay (rayball), kept out most of last year by an injury; and Buck Berry, the pass transfer—who may prove Oliver's surprise package.

There will be no weakness at fullback with Percy Fay, the mature player who transferred from the job, Dennis Donovan, Nissen's underdog,

Wenatchee Hangs No-Hit, No-Run Win on Tacoma

WENATCHEE, Wash., Sept. 21 (U.P.)—Bill Bevans pitched the Wenatchee Chiefs back into contention for Western International league playoff honors last night with a no-hit, no-run job against the Tacoma baseball crew. Wenatchee won 8-0.

It was the first victory for the Chiefs in four years against the Tigers, who finished second in the conclusion of the regular 1933 campaign.

Bevans received excellent support, error putting a Tacoma man on base. Tacoma still needs but one victory to clinch the playoff crown.

at quarter, is due to move into a regular berth at that post.

Coach Oliver is optimistic—he expects no three-straight winless games for the "Chiefs." And—as far as Oregon alumni are concerned—he can win against them and Oregon State, too, all the rest, and live in Eugene forever.

Mac Says Louis Turned Out to Pastor; Champ Grazed 10 Rounds

By HENRY McLEMORE

DETROIT, Sept. 21 (U.P.)—They turned Joe Louis out to Pastor last night.

For 10 rounds he grazed with his left a bit timidly, as if afraid to enjoy to the fullest this colossal, red-checked collection who had been fed to him. Then, in the 11th, he started to throw, because the old Black Joe that we know. He heard those challenges calling—calling for a knockout. So he bent that left of his a little low, shuffled in, and walked quietly to his dressing room. He didn't jump up in the air in the ring and yell and clap his hands over his head or in any way make a play for the crowd. It is, once a job is done, the most mild mannered champion we ever had.

At the count of 10 another challenger had been flung out, and Louis, scarcely marked, pulled his blue bathrobe about him and walked quietly to his dressing room. He didn't jump up in the air in the ring and yell and clap his hands over his head or in any way make a play for the crowd. It is, once a job is done, the most mild mannered champion we ever had.

For many times have you ever heard of Louis between fights? Never in any trouble, he drops quietly into the background until
