CALIFORNIA TEMPERATURES MOUNT AS 56 KILLED BY HEAT

WEATHER BUREAU FORECASTS SOME MODERATE RELIEF

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22 (UP)—Temperatures mounted rapidly today in Los Angeles despite weather bureau forecasts for moderate relief from a heat wave which has gripped California for eight days and taken at least 56 lives.

Dawn broke with temperatures registering 84 degrees. The temperature jumped to 93 degrees by 8 o'clock, nine degrees higher than at the same time yesterday.

Peak at 104

In Los Angeles Wednesday, when 11 more deaths occurred, the peak was 104 degrees. This compared with a 24-year record of 107.2 degrees the day before. In the San Francisco bay area Oakland reported an all-time record of 100. Thirteen of the deaths were reported in northern California.

A tropical hurricane was edging up the coast of Mexico more than a thousand miles to the south and it was feared that air from this might help dislodge the high pressure area that has kept California in a "trough" of hot stagnant air since Sunday.

Supplies Short

Supplies of milk and watermelon and soft drinks began to run short in Los Angeles.

Even hardy postmen began dropping and Postmaster Mary D. Briggs declared an "emergency" and placed postal deliveries on a half-time schedule.

In San Francisco, police tradition was upset when the chief permitted officers to leave their coats at home.

Schools Close

More schools closed after 10 girls and two boys collapsed in an Alhambra school and required medical treatment.

Domestic water consumption in Los Angeles reached an all-time record of three hundred million gallons a day. Residents were being downed from roofs with garden hoses to cool their homes.

Lightning Kills Two

Not far from the state yesterday was 100 miles south on the coast at Oceanside, which reported 110 deaths. Inglewood had the hottest day in history with 100.

Frank thunderswept southern California but brought no relief. Two power company men were killed by lightning bolts and three forest rangers were struck but seriously injured. Lightning started a 50-foot fire. A 50-mile gale tore through San Pedro in the Los Angeles harbor area and broke away from its moorings.

British quarters were inclined today to blame the assassination of President Franklin D. Roosevelt on a plot formulated in a foreign country.

Simultaneously, Paris reports said French sources believed the assassination was inspired by pro-German and pro-Nazi propaganda.

They reported Italian officials watched closely for Balkan repercussions.

At Berlin, inspired Nazi sources blamed Great Britain for the assassination. They said Britain wanted to cause a split in the Balkan states.

Nazi Shells, Bombs Kill Women and Children in Besieged Warsaw

DETERMINED MEN DEFEND CAPITAL AGAINST INVADER

LONDON, Sept. 22 (U.P.)—The Warsaw garrison, still going strong at 1:30 a. m., announced that German shells and airplane bombs had killed 700 civilians, mostly women and children, yesterday, and had "gassed" both the German and Soviet embassies, wounding several members of the Soviet staff.

The broadcasts, heard here and elsewhere in Europe, said several churches and four hospitals had been bombed, including one established by the Red Cross and in which numerous Red Cross flags had been hoisted.

The communiques gave no indication that the city's defenders were weakening on the 14th day of one of the most devastating sieges of modern times. It was on Sept. 8 that German motorized units first swept into the suburbs from the southwest, to be hurried back.

The city had been surrounded 10 days. No more food or ammunition could get in and out of Warsaw.

Says Mayor Stefan Starzynski was heard announcing the bread situation might soon become critical because there were only a few flour mills in the city and one already had been destroyed by bombs.

"Right to last man" Nevertheless, almost every Warsaw broadcaster reiterated that the defenders would "fight to the last man and cartridge."

The 1:30 a. m. "defense command communiqué" said that north of the city, "the enemy, supported by heavy artillery, fired several shells into the Annapoli-Brudno-Saska-Kepa sector but all attacks were repulsed."

"In the west, after regrouping forces, the enemy attempted to take positions they lost Wednesday but without success. The command-in-chief commends the spirit and courage of all ranks."

Immediately following the program, the Davidson family was presented with a lovely wool blanket, a gift from the Ladies' Aid society, the Epworth league and the Wendell Orange.

Rev. Davidson then responded with a short talk.

Games were played and the Ladies' Aid society served refreshments to about 125 guests.

Rev. Davidson left for Idaho Falls Wednesday where Mr. Davidson will serve as pastor of the Methodist church. The church there is the second largest of this denomination in the state. Boise being the largest. Rev. Davidson has been the pastor of the Wendell Methodist church, as well as the Hagerman community church for the past six years.

His successor here will be the Rev. Dallas McNeil, D.D., who has been in charge of the Payette church. Mr. Davidson and his family leaves a host of friends here in Wendell as well as Hagerman and other points where they are known.

Fall Contest Had Wide Range; Money Winners Told Saturday

It wasn't really necessary to have the brain "contestants" of a book of knowledge but it really helped during the "right or wrong" window contest, a feature of fall opening here.

The contest itself ended at 6 p. m. yesterday when 125 entries were turned over to the judges. At that hour several local citizens were probably near exhaustion after "treating" with some of the display signs found in merchants' windows.

Alabama Wool

For instance, one of the windows called on the power of observation (and possibly some knowledge of the subject) when it declared "this topcoat is made of Alabama wool." Having never seen Alabama wool, or for that matter knowing whether or not it is any different from Idaho or Utah wool, many contestants resorted to a guess—but who wouldn't?

In another store window was a large round mirror with a magnet suspended about it. Around its surface ran a light bulb, rolling for all it was worth with apparently nothing to cause it to do so. A sign stated "the magnet makes the light go around." What's your guess?

And then you either know women's styles or you don't. In a window filled with 20 or more pairs of shoes, a sign declared "what's your guess?" up-to-date shoes displayed in this window are just three pairs of the popular "Duchy-Toe" type. Question is, did the men contestants have to get up on their "dutchy-toe" to guess that one?

The Democrats should have the inside track as regards a sign in a local bank window, entered in the contest, which reads "all banks are required to be members of the federal deposit corporation."

If you know what's made in Japan, China and most other parts of the world, in addition to knowing just that, manufactured in the United States, one window was easy for you. The sign declared that "all items in this window are made in the U.S.A." And there were plenty of them displayed.

Have you ever seen a Pimento tree? Well, if you haven't then you had to guess again because the sign in another window emphatically pointed out that "all items are grown on Pimento trees." Or is there such a thing as a Pimento tree?

If you have a steady eye, and don't become confused by massed objects, then one window was easy. All it declares is that "there are 75

BURLEY PASTOR AND WIFE FETTERED

BURLEY, Sept. 22 (Special)—Honoring Rev. and Mrs. E. S. Kammmer, who have been transferred to serve as pastor of the Methodist church there, members of the Methodist church met Tuesday for a covered dish dinner and program.

Mrs. Ella O. Rosecrans presided as hostess and the program included xylophone and saw music, Ed Schreder, accompanied by Mrs. Henrietta Horner; piano solo, Morris Swanson; vocal solo, Ed Larus, accompanied by Mrs. Horner; vocal solo, Letta Speer, accompanied by Mrs. Larus; tribute to Rev. Kammmer, Lawrence Anderson, Sunday school superintendent; presentation of a gift from the Aid society, Mrs. Rosecrans; presentation of a gift from the Epworth League, Jeanette Redfield, and responses by Rev. Kammmer.

Rev. Kammmer has served the local church for the past two years, and will leave here this week to take up his work in Payette. Rev. E. S. Rees, Idaho Falls, has been named to fill the vacancy here in Burley.

The earth has an average of one earthquake every hour, or about 8,000 a year.

Spelling

Were you ever winner of a spelling bee in school? If you were it would help. One display sign declared "each word in this entire advertisement is of indubitably correct spelling: (name of store) are the only circulation on the market with the fuel-saving device known as the heat intensifier."

But at that it was a lot of fun and there's a "pot of gold" waiting at the end of the rainbow for the lucky winners—should they be called guessers?

The judges will announce winners tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon. And incidentally, the judges have devised a thoroughly accurate and impartial method of detecting errors in the entry blanks. It consists of a sheet laid entirely over the blanks, covering up the name of contestant and of the stores, but with slots arranged over the places where the X should be marked in the "right or wrong" column.

If your X isn't in every place it should be, the device reveals all errors at a glance.

M-J-B WHY?

"I found the answer at 10,000 feet..."

1 The boss phoned from New York: "I want you here tomorrow to help me close that Simpson contract." Just like that I barely had time to kiss the wife goodbye and catch the evening plane. Early next morning the stewardess asks if I'd like some breakfast. "Sure," I say, so she fixes a tray and pours me a cup of hot coffee from a thermos bottle.

2 It smelled great and I took a sip. "Gosh," I said, "do I have to say every time I want such a well coffee?" she smiled. "No, I like to serve you, but frankly it's M-J-B—same as you get in any good store. We've standardized on M-J-B because its fine, full flavor makes a hit with everybody."

3 "Thanks for the tip," I said. Next day I wired the boss from New York: "I GOT THE CONTRACT. I GOT A RAISE SWITCH TO M-J-B. I think I must have thought I was crazy, but she took the hint."

Sid's OLD FASHIONED is always TOPS

... and to prove it, here is Miss Beryl Wingeren, a typical member of Twin Falls' youngest set, yet, with a loaf of Old Fashioned high atop her arrangement of groceries selected at her family's favorite food store, BUNGALOW GROCERY.

Sid's OLD FASHIONED has a real appeal for young or old — an appeal that holds back to the qualities of the bread "that mother used to bake." Sid's OLD FASHIONED boasts the same husky, crunchy crust, the baked - clear - thorough quality that marked mother's bread as a favorite. It's big, too — a pound and a half of real, home-to-goodness eating. Try it! Ask your favorite grocer for it... then be prepared for a new satisfaction in bread eating!

What's Your Idea on Neutrality?
Ever alert to its responsibility for affording its thousands of Magic Valley readers a mouthpiece, the Idaho Evening Times now makes it possible for the people of south central Idaho to voice their opinions on an all-important current question—America's future neutrality policy.

The Evening Times is conducting this poll on the neutrality issue, not merely for the purpose of sounding out public sentiment in this vicinity for our own information, but for the more important objective of forwarding the results to our representatives in Washington so they can better understand how we feel in the matter.

Each day for the next week or so, the Evening Times will publish a "Neutrality Ballot" with which its readers may express themselves as follows:

1) In favor of our present neutrality law, prohibiting sale of war commodities to all belligerents.

2) In favor of President Roosevelt's "cash and carry" plan, or...

3) In favor of the United States remaining out of foreign wars at any cost.

People often complain they have no voice in government. More often it is true that they have no convenient means of so voicing themselves. But here is your chance to have your say on a vital issue, with no more trouble than merely filling out one of these "Neutrality Ballots" and returning it to the Evening Times.

Bear this in mind. Your vote will have an important influence, for the complete returns will be sent to Cong. Henry C. Dworshak, the immediate representative of Magic Valley. Certified copies of the results will likewise be forwarded to Sen. William E. Borah, Sen. D. Worth Clark, and Cong. Compton I. White.

As Congressman Dworshak explained while in Twin Falls recently, our representatives in Washington will appreciate our assistance in helping them arrive at an important decision.

If you are actually interested in making your wants known, if you have a definite idea as to what you think will be best for our country, fill out one of these ballots immediately.

We're all discussing the two possible courses for the United States to follow in pursuing a neutrality policy that will keep us out of war. Why limit our opinions to mere talk? Let's express them in such a way they'll be effective!

A Ghost Walks

How unreal it seems, when the guns of a new European war are already thundering, for an army, court-martial to be sitting down solemnly to try Grover Cleveland Bergdall!

Bergdall was the spoiled son of a German-blooded family of rich brewers. He was a playboy and sportsman. He was drafted into the army, and he walked out on it while less-favored contemporaries were fighting and dying. He escaped to Germany, married, reared a family of children, and at last returned to the United States just in time to escape once more a devastating war. For Bergdall's conduct, no one, not even Bergdall, offers much excuse. He says he is ready to face any penalty meted out to him.

What such a penalty should be we wouldn't know, 20 years after the event and in the midst of the clangor of a war sprung from the roots of that other one. But an aging Bergdall standing before a trial board is somehow a ridiculous and pathetic figure in September, 1939, a ghost-like and unreal skeleton from the closets of 1918.

Sheer Nerve

Call it sheer nerve, cheek, or crust, whatever you will, the newest German move reported by the United Press certainly ought to win a Brass Cross for the fellow who thought it up.

It is simply this: In Belgium, the German consulate has posted a notice that doctors, engineers, and technicians "of German nationality regardless of race" are invited to come home to Germany.

This could mean nobody but the Jews, and it could mean nothing but that lack of their trained technical ability is now being felt by the country which so brutally and ruthlessly expelled them, and drove them as beggars into the world beyond its borders.

Needless to say, any Jewish technician lured back into Germany on any such grounds as the promise to repatriate him and restore his stolen property, would be too dumb to be of much help to Hitler or anybody else. Our guess is that there won't be many.

In the darkness of the blackouts, there's one comforting thought: European capitals can save enough light bulbs to build tombs for the unknown hero of the war.

There's nothing new. Brooklyn used to indicate that the Dodgers are in the pennant.

Did Somebody Mention Bridge?

(Practically Copyrighted, 1939. Pot Shots, Not Inc.)

A Pot Shots contributor from Wendell, "Four Bits," has dug up an interesting story on the bridge business, of which we have heard nothing lately in large chunks. Far be it from Pot Shots to let such a merry little tale slip. Besides, we like to step on toes and the bridge market has been the sweetest, too-raw-meat since the time of the Roosevelt run on the Bull Moose ticket.

The fact that this new angle dug up by Four Bits might offer J. W. Taylor a chance to approve bridge purchases, and still to thumb his nose, cannot deter us. Pot Shots desires above all things to be fair, never misjudging or misquoting. We'll first arrange a pillow for him to lie upon.

The new, four Bits advises us, is this: The bridge commission has just directed specifically to buy the Twin Falls-Jerome span. It was directed to buy "toll bridges." Now the rim span has been termed the only toll bridge in Idaho, with the inference that the rim bridge is the only one intended in the law. But, says Four Bits, toll bridge is a half mile away... the Perrine bridge at Blue Lake ranch.

And so the bridge commission has just directed legally to buy the bridge and blithely target the big one.

WE FAVOR THIS FOR QUITE A FEW MOMENTS

Dear Mr. Third Row: Sometime ago a contribution signed by Homeown Hannah told of the sayings of a bright child. Please pass this along to her. It seems a mother had been accustomed to sending her young daughter of three out to bring in the milk. One morning recently the mother had been doing her morning work when a caller dropped in.

In the midst of the conversation little Miss Three appeared through the front door dragging the milkpail. She walked up to her mother and said, "Mommy, wash kitchen—it dirty."

WARNING TO THE TRASH MAN!

Dear Pot Shots: There are a couple of local boys who work day and night. They work half a shift at night and half a shift in the afternoon.

These boys one night last week had been "completing" late at night and it was only a few hours until they would have to go to work again. They decided it was not worth the trouble to be home, so stayed downtown, which was not uncommon except that they decided to get some sleep.

Curse the trash man in a trash box in an alley. And it's a habit now!

The trash man is set out the junk hereafter. He might throw away some prospective young business executive.

CHAPTER XV

MARIAN waited for Dan to come back. He'd walk over to the lake, around several blocks, and back. He'd realize that she was tired, nervous, upset. Or would he? After all, Dan did not know about Sally Blake.

With his departure, her anger had turned to miserable ashes. She remembered her insane statements with horror. Thinking it over, she could find no excuse for her behavior.

Dan returned at the end of an hour. Quietly, he hung his hat in the closet. Marian was still alone in the chair where he had fallen when he released her. Getting to her feet, she went to the hall.

"I'm sorry, Dan," she said, "I was at it again. I've passed her and went to the bedroom. She sat down again, her knees like ribbons. Dan had said it was all right, but it wasn't all right. She had a feeling that it would never be all right with her and Dan again.

She longed to talk to him, to tell him about Sally Blake who was slowly, but surely, making headway with her subtle counter methods. If she told him, if she penitently admitted that he had been right and she was wrong, might he not say, "Forget it, Girl. Let Sally have the job. Let's take a little apartment and begin again. I'll get the sales management next time."

Did she want that? Did she honestly want to start again where they had left off 10 years ago? Could she be happy without the excitement of a downtown office, without money of her own which she could spend as it suited her? Wearily, she laid her head against the back of the chair. No, that wasn't the answer. It might have been 10 years ago, but not now. She and Dan loved each other, she had never wanted any other man. Surely they could find a middle ground which would hold the old happy companionship.

What had Dan said? He had told her she was a spinless worm who never turned. How could she have been so rude and cruel? He'd said that he had wanted to turn for a long time and now she had turned. It was his turn to turn. He'd meant it. They would laugh at the quarrel and forget it.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

BY BRUCE CATTON

(Writing: The Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—In February, 1939, the British fleet of battleships, cruisers, destroyers, and submarines, totaling 150 ships, sailed from the United States for the Atlantic.

Up to the Springbok came the United States, cruiser Somers. The Springbok was bound from a British port—London—to a British port—Nassau. She was British-owned and so was the cargo, consisting of 100 British tons. Except for the avarice, bayonets and buttons, she carried precious cargo, consisting of 100 British tons. SHORTER PARKING OPENS SATURDAY

Twin Falls' new parking ordinance, permitting one hour parking rather than the former two hours allowed in the most congested downtown business section, becomes effective Saturday at 1 a. m., city officials pointed out today.

The ordinance takes in the area extending for two blocks each way on Main and Shoshone from the main intersection. Except for the changes listed, the balance of the area coming under the parking ordinance will remain in the two-hour bracket.

Special Areas

Three special parking areas are also included in the new ordinance effective Saturday. Twenty-two foot spaces in front of the Rogers and the Perkins hotels will be marked in red paint and will be used for unloading zones with the time limit being 15 minutes. Likewise a 22-foot space on the Shoshone street side of the Bank and Trust building will be marked in red for use of police cars. Ten minutes parking in front of the postoffice, effective under the former ordinance, will still be followed under the new ordinance. However, under the new ordinance, cars may ignore the 10 minute law in front of the federal building from 10 p. m. to 1 a. m.

This afternoon Chief of Police Howard Olliffe and Police Commissioner Carl Ritchey promised "strict" enforcement of the new law.

Motor Vote Responsible

It was pointed out that local citizens' decisive vote against a proposal by Mayor Joe Koehler that parking meters be installed was the principal reason for the law change. City officials expressed the hope that the new law will tend to provide more parking spaces in the downtown area for use of visitors and shoppers.

The one-hour parking is effective every day but Saturday and Sunday from 1 a. m. to 6 p. m. and on Saturday from 1 a. m. to 10 p. m. The law does not include Sunday.

72 Brand-New Parking Signs In Downtown

New parking signs, 72 of them, will be placed in the downtown restricted parking district, probably during the third week in October. It was announced here this afternoon by Charles P. Larsen, city superintendent of streets.

The signs were ordered yesterday and will be uniform in size, 12 by 18 inches. The background will be white and the lettering black. A majority of them will be placed on lamp posts.

Each sign will carry the following:

"One hour parking: 1 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturday, 1 a. m. to 10 p. m. No trucks."

"The new signs are the best that can be obtained for this purpose and are entirely rustproof," Larsen said. "They will tend to improve the downtown section, replacing the present signs which, in many cases, are bent out of shape."

The old signs will be changed to read "one hour" instead of "two hours" to conform with the new ordinance which goes into effect Saturday at 1 a. m. It was pointed out, and will remain in position following their "touching up" until the new ones are delivered here.

"I NEVER REALIZED THE IMPORTANCE OF WASHING GREEN COFFEE." Is the comment of many guests at Hills Bros. Exposition Theatre. Careful washing of green coffee is of vital importance to coffee quality, as well as an ideal method of removing the jelly-like substance that completely surrounds each bean. Exercising care like this is in evidence throughout the entire production of Hills Bros. Coffee. Those who use it say, "Now that's what I call good coffee!"

The Leaves Are Beginning to Fall

Metropolitan Press Comment Favors FDR Request

By United Press

New York Times—The President offers a program (of neutrality) which would reduce the risks of our being drawn into war accidentally and at the same time restore to the democracies of Europe their right to purchase... the ingredients... which will enable them to bring the war more swiftly to a conclusion.

Kansas City Times—No legislation can automatically keep the United States out of war. The will for peace on the part of people and government is the essential thing. This paper heartily agrees with the President that the suggested changes would contribute to ward peace at home and a better world order in Europe.

San Francisco Chronicle—The President thinks, and we believe the great majority of Americans agree with him, that the safest neutrality chart will be one of the lines of the law of nations as recognized throughout the world. The law gives a neutral the unquestioned right to sell anything anywhere, subject only to the risk of capture if the goods are contraband.

Portland, Ore., Oregonian—His request for lifting the arms embargo and for increased strictness toward American ships which could enter the danger zones is in accordance with reason and with public desire.

Cleveland Plain Dealer—The country, with all its shades of opinion, will hope that congress in a few weeks to come will consider the question of immunity from war in the same broad-minded spirit which animates the President's appeal for action.

Cincinnati Enquirer—America wants to keep out of war. It has heard from its highest official a reasoned, calmly conceived program to serve that end.

Baltimore Sun—The sound policy for this country is the policy in which we assert and maintain all our rights to trade and then take our own steps in our own way to limit the dangers that arise during war. That is the policy that Mr. Roosevelt urged yesterday upon congress.

Washington Post—It (the President's) is a program impervious to criticism on the grounds of logic. It is a program to which no exception can be taken by any sincere advocate of peace. The war had added stature to the President's integrity. He demonstrated yesterday in his masterly handling of a tangled and confusing problem.

Scripta Howard Newspapers—We have liked the approach the President has made to the whole emergency—his emphasis on playing down party partisanship.

St. Louis Star-Times—Mr. Roosevelt's message to the special session of congress made so convincing a case for revision of the so-called neutrality law that its defenders have a difficult time hereafter insisting that they—and only they—desire to know how to keep the country out of Europe's war.

Pittsburgh Post-Gazette—In our opinion, congress should act and act once on the President's suggestion, to the end that the United States may have a law which will do away with both the inconsistencies and dangers of the present act and which will establish our country in a position of true neutrality.

After the last war, it was quite common that, unless means were found to prevent the submarine's deadly attacks, it was the most deadly weapon in the world. The allies had found the antidote for submarine poison in use of the convoys and depth charges.

coming some of the sub's inherent weaknesses so it could again become the menace it was in 1914. All navies undoubtedly made valiant efforts in that direction.

The first step would be to train the submarine commanders to make attacks on high speed, disguising targets, well protected by screening destroyers and cruisers. Over a period of years it is only natural to assume that this has been accomplished by the warring nations, and that a large number of capable officers are available against inevitable losses.

Must Remain Hidden
The modern submarine is a more seaworthy boat, has a longer cruising range, possesses better performance, stores, storage, batteries and listening gear than those of the last war. But every submarine has weaknesses which have been impossible to overcome.

Once a submerged submarine is sighted by a surface craft or airplane, it can almost be stricken from the books for the large depth charges of today would crush in less than five minutes it takes to tell.

A submarine could be built with enough potential speed to remain in the field of battle, but it would destroy itself by making its presence known long before it could reach its destination. Its long, feathery, tell-tale mast, stirred up at high speed, would be noted by every airplane and surface craft within miles of it.

Operators of the listening devices on destroyers would make it centered on their phones before it could even get close to the shooting range of the fighting ships.

The allies have the submarine out of big sea battles unless some crippled warship wanders by it while it is running submerged at a low speed.

At best, the submarine is a modern submarine skipper can get successful attacks in, on, or against, screened convoys, provided they are able to evade the watchful eyes of the airplanes and destroyers and can still keep their hearts in the game with huge depth charges jarring their eye teeth loose.

The submarine remains a weapon of opportunity. It presents a deadly menace to the world without adequate convoys it will take a great toll of enemy merchant men, and is, of all naval vessels, the most difficult to locate and to destroy.

FALCONI, CARLSON SPACE COWBOYS TO WIN

SPORTS

BRADDOCK GETS 10 PER CENT OF JOE LOUIS' WINNINGS

Sluggers Subdue Indians; Kinnaman And Stefan Hurl

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

SPOKANE, Sept. 22 (Special).—Frank Falconi and Corky Carlson pulled the wraps off a pair of Big Bertha cannons here last night to bombard the Spokane Indians into submission, 8 to 5, and even up the current post-season series at one game each.

Falconi and Carlson paced 14-hit onslaught against Pete Jonas, one of the aces of the Class B "parent" team.

"The Falconi" potted out a triple and three singles while Carlson was collected, a double and a pair of singles. They were ably aided and abetted by Verna Reynolds, whose star is flaming brightly these days. The bats safely twice out of three official tries.

Wry On Saturday

Charley Wry, who had thought of pitching last night but changed his mind, will take the mound Saturday in an attempt to put the Pioneer league champions one up on Spokane.

Bob Kinnaman started for the Cowboys last night and sailed along safely until the fifth, when he allowed three hits for two runs. Bob gave up two more scores in the sixth and was replaced by solemn-faced old assistant Johnny Stefan, left-handed ace of the Wrangler staff, who hurled the last three frames to subdue the Indians.

George Farrell, star third base guardian for Twin Falls, was injured in the third inning when he slid back to first base. Larrieu took his place in the field after Mike Budnick took over the base-running job.

The ankle injury may keep Farrell out of the remainder of the series.

Bishop Stars

Ernie Bishop, who wasn't on hand for the opening game lost by Twin Falls 7-4 Wednesday, was back at second base last night and converted in brilliant fashion. He was star of the game as far as fielding plays went and got one easy hit.

The 14 Twin Falls hits off Pete Jonas included two triples and a double. Steve Bogdanoff got the other three-bagger. Spokane could collect only eight hits off Kinnaman and Stefan.

The Cowboys broke the ice in the first with Bogdanoff's triple and a single by Carlson, then added two more in the fourth when Larrieu singled, Edson walked and Carlson batted and Carlson stepped up to hit a double. In the fifth Reynolds walked, Falconi singled, bringing Verna in with another single.

De Carlo Hits

Joe Nokes worked Jonas for a walk in the sixth, after which DeCarlo singled and Carlson walked and Reynolds hit safely. Total in that stanza, two runs, singles by Carlson, Carlson and Nokes boosted the total one more score in the seventh, and the Cowboys wound up in the eighth by counting once more on hits by Reynolds and Carlson.

Spokane scoring was confined to three frames, the fifth, sixth and ninth. The last run came when Edson, the left-hander, smacked at his charges, stepped up as pinch-hitter and blasted out a two-bagger.

There will be no game tonight because of football tussles in Spokane. The Cowboys and Indians get together for their final tussling here on Saturday evening.

Ski Improvements Will Lead to Busy Sun Valley Season

New Lift and Cabin on List; Meets Planned

Sun Valley's New Ski Lift

SUN VALLEY, Sept. 22 (Special)—An extensive improvement program at this all-year-round sports playground, which includes construction of a gigantic new ski lift, a new combination mountain cabin, restaurant and observatory, and four new chairlifts, is now well under way and will be completed in time for what the management anticipates will be Sun Valley's greatest and most exciting winter season.

The new lift is being built on Bald mountain, one of Idaho's highest peaks, and will attain a 9,000-foot level, thus making skiing "certain" from Nov. 15 to April 15. The lift, one of the longest in the world, is being constructed in three units or stages, the total length to the summit being more than 11,500 feet. Passengers will change lifts at the end of each stage, the trip from Wood River canyon bottom to the summit requiring about 20 minutes. Chairs on the new lift will be equipped with newly designed windbreaks protecting from head to feet, and there will be special brackets on which to rest feet and skis.

New Cabin
The new Bald mountain cabin is being erected at the end of unit two of the lift, at an elevation of 7,875 feet. It will be a combination shelter hut, restaurant and observatory, the main portion of which will be octagonal and entirely glassed in. In the center will be a large four-sided fireplace, and out-of-doors there will be terraces for sun bathing and dining.

Rooms similar to accommodations in the present skiers' chalet will be available to 195 additional guests in the four new chairlifts now under construction. Each room will be equipped with four bunk-type beds, and lavatories. There will be central bathrooms for men and women in each chalet.

Sun Valley's new outdoor summer and winter skating plaza, which has operated so successfully the past summer, will be open evenings for moonlight, starlight and lantern parties, and with the illuminated music on this extensive plaza is expected to provide much entertainment, relaxation and vigorous outdoor exercise.

Pfeifer Heads School
This year Friedl Pfeifer, internationally famous skier and one of the noted ski teachers and racers of the world, will head the Sun Valley ski school. Pfeifer was one of the principal instructors at the U. S. National Ski School and for several seasons has trained the U. S. Women's P. I. B. ski team. Pfeifer will also conduct competent ski instructors, will offer training to the novice as well as to the advanced skier.

A notable tribute to Sun Valley's quick rise to prestige in the skiing world is the fact that the United States national championships for men and women in downhill, slalom and combined have been awarded to this sports center for the second time in three years.

Tournaments
The championships will be held in conjunction with the open men and women's tournaments for the Harriman trophy March 22, 23 and 24. This is always an internationally famous event and attracts ski sports enthusiasts from all over the country.

Other special winter sports events already arranged follow:
Ice skating carnival, Dec. 25, 26 and Jan. 1.

Mid-winter sports carnival and interstate ski meet, Jan. 30 and 31.
Mid-winter ice carnival, Jan. 21.

Sun Valley Ski Club meet, Feb. 22.
Sun Valley ice carnival, Feb. 22.
Sun Valley skating club carnival, March 16.

The ice skating carnival to be held on Christmas night will include spectacular mass formations of skaters, and will be the highlight of the season. The Sun Valley Skating club and many of the nation's top professionals. The carnival will be held in conjunction with the usual Yuletide celebration, including the arrival of Santa, the presentation of gifts to guests and the singing of carols.

Seals Defeat Solons 2-1 In Third Tilt

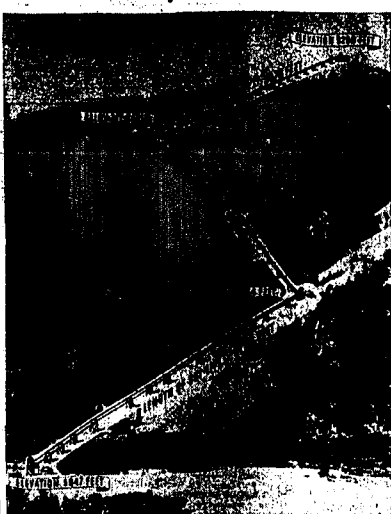

(By United Press)
The play-off scene shifted today to Sacramento and Los Angeles where the Solons and San Francisco Seals are tied in a three-game series at least twice more this week.

The Seals, after losing two straight to Sacramento, came back last night with a 2 to 1 victory, mainly to the three-hit pitching of Larry Powell.

Dick Barrett also pitched a three-hitter in giving Seattle a 7 to 1 win over Los Angeles, and to make the game count 2 to 1 in favor of the Mariners.

The Seals and Sacramento resume play tonight, but Los Angeles and Seattle will not see action again until tomorrow night.

COWBOYS TO ORGANIZE
BILLINGS, Mont., Sept. 22 (AP)—A national cowboys' association has been incorporated here under the Montana laws. William Spillan, president, expects a membership of more than 1,000 banding together many smaller groups that exist throughout western states into a national organization.

Winter sports enthusiasts at Sun Valley this season will experience a new thrill with completion of the Bald mountain ski lift, an artist's sketch of which is shown above. Built in three units, the total length of the three stages to the summit will be more than 11,500 feet, the difference in elevation from bottom to the top being more than 3,500 feet. Passengers will change lifts at the end of each stage. This chairlift is one of the longest in the world. Chairs on the lift will have windbreaks and there will be brackets on which to rest feet and skis. The entire trip will require 22 minutes. At the end of unit two, as shown in the picture, a new cabin is being constructed.

Injuries Hit Twin Falls Backfield

Turf on the new Lincoln stadium field is in good condition but still a little soft for tonight's game with the Gooding Generals, Hank Powers, Twin Falls coach, said today. The game starts at 8.

The Bruin center said he was all set for the first tilt of the season, with the exception of a leg injury sustained by Jim Smith, right halfback. Because of the injury, Powers said he was doubtful as to who would start at the backfield post. Jenkins looked as probable starter this morning in event Smith's leg injury didn't show improvement.

Two other men are also out of tonight's game and perhaps other games with knee injuries. Gardner and McNeil both sustained injuries to their knees.

"In five years of coaching I've had just four knee injuries, and two of them came within two weeks of each other," commented Powers. He said his tentative lineup was as follows:

Week-End Papers Bring Your Store First-of-Week Sales!

Monday's paper is the first paper in the new week. Interest runs high in the news and in the offerings of merchants who want early in the week sales. Saturday's Times is the Sunday paper in many homes and gives the merchant an opportunity to advertise "large investment" merchandise when people have time to get together as a family and decide on important expenditures.

FRENCH AND GERMANS INCREASE FIRE ON WEST FRONT

NAZI BATTERIES ARRIVING FROM BATTLE IN EAST

PARIS, Sept. 22 (U.P.)—French and German fortresses and field batteries increased intensity of their fire on the western front today but neither army risked direct attacks.

Heaviest fire was concentrated in the Bille valley where Germans sought to block the easiest access to the Siegfried line and the wooded hills southeast of Saarbrücken where French guns have been planted.

Saar and Lorraine villages within the two fortified lines, which have been evacuated of all civilians since hostilities began, were battered by artillery fire all day.

With slowing down of German operations on the eastern front, authoritative military quarters said, there was a notable increase in the intensity of German fire on the western front where hundreds of German batteries withdrawn from Poland have arrived to reinforce the Siegfried line.

Apparently fearing French occupation of Saarbrücken and an attack on the Bille valley, German guns today hammered without interruption all roads on which the Germans appear to expect early French operations.

French sources said that Germany has withdrawn 40 divisions from the eastern front. Some have been sent to rest camps while others are arriving on the western front.

Governor Frees Armistice Killer

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 22 (U.P.)—Gov. Clarence D. Martin has commuted the 25-to-40 year sentence of Ray Becker, last of the Centralia 1919 Armistice day slayers, and he walked out of the state penitentiary today a free man.

Becker served 18 years and three months of his sentence. Seven other I.W.O.M. convicted of second degree murder with him for shooting four Centralia citizens at the Armistice day parade have been paroled from time to time.

Gallant Warsaw Defenders

As the giant pillars of the German invaders closed tighter around Warsaw, these gunners defending the Polish capital continued to blast away at the advancing Nazi troops. Photo passed by British and Polish censors and rushed to the Evening Times.

Air Laboratory Field Selected

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (U.P.)—The national advisory committee for aeronautics announced today that Moffett field near Sunnyvale, Calif., has been selected for the new aeronautical research laboratory.

The NACA announced that after studying 54 sites it had decided on Moffett field as the best location for the laboratory. It will augment the NACA present research center at Langley field, Va. Thus the government will have a big research center on each coast.

'40 OLDS OFFERS UNIQUE NEW IDEA

The 1940 Oldsmobile, offering new beauty and longer wheelbase in all models, is presented this year with a host of refinements including one revolutionary new principle, O. E. Chaney, Twin Falls dealer, announced today.

"The 1940 Olds truly lives up to its motto, 'best looking car on the highway,'" the dealer said.

The Olds presents three distinct models, the 80, the 70 and the 90. The latter is the custom cruiser eight with bullet-type body similar to that of Cadillac.

Unique Power Flap. "Olds for 1940 is smoother with improved springing and four-way stabilization," Chaney said. "It offers a new method of transmitting power from the engine to the rear wheels that completely eliminates the clutch, clutch pedal and regular transmission, yet gives four forward speeds with over-drive economy. This can be obtained in any model at even less than customary extra prices for over-drive."

One novel feature in necessary of refinements, he said, is a horn that plays the tune "My Merry Oldsmobile."

New Front End. Front-end design on the 1940 Olds is termed unusually attractive. Interiors are said to be the last word in good looks, luxury and comfort. The revolutionary new mechanical advancement described by Mr. Chaney is the culmination of more than eight years of research and testing on the part of Olds and General Motors engineers.

The model 70 coupe is now on display at the Chaney salesrooms.
