

GERMAN, FRENCH ARTILLERY OPENS FIRE ON RHINE

ALL GUNNEERS ON LINE JOIN FIGHT AS DRIVE STARTS

By RALPH HEINZEN
PARIS, Sept. 25 (AP)—French and German big guns hammered at each other's lines along the Rhine front from Wiesbaden south to the Swiss frontier today in the first bombardment of the war in that region.

The whole front, extending for nearly 125 miles, had been inactive since the war started, and even French and German aviators had stayed on their own side of the Rhine. Both French and German observation balloons had gone up daily, unmoored.

Not significant
Though the bombardment was an indication of the generally intensifying atmosphere along the western front, it was not regarded as being necessarily significant. An authoritative commentator said it was not indicated which side started the fire. It was believed possibly some battery starting firing without orders and that as happens in such cases, all gunners along the line joined in.

Today's communique, No. 43 of the war, said:
There was local improvement of our positions. Enemy artillery was active in the region southeast of Zweibrücken.

Paris Source
The local improvement was understood to cover successful recapture of French lines in many sectors along the Saar front, principally in the Billes river and Hardt forest areas.

Having been thrown back in a strong attack Saturday night, German patrols were scarce. Hence the French, taking advantage of their inactivity, moved forward and straightened out their lines in order to improve observation posts.

An authoritative informant said that recent air battles had demonstrated the excellence of French chaser planes, and that several new model bombers had outstripped certain German chasers.

LOCAL YOUTH IS VICTIM OF HEAT

Richard Maxwell, 21, son of Mrs. J. N. Maxwell, formerly of Twin Falls, was in the Los Angeles Lutheran hospital today and was termed in a "serious condition" as a result of pneumonia.

Maxwell was visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Brossard in Los Angeles when he collapsed as a result of the intense heat. With a temperature of 102 degrees, he was rushed to the hospital for heat treatment. He was placed in an oxygen tent when it was found he had contracted pneumonia.

The youth was visiting in Los Angeles before entering the University of Oregon at Eugene for the fall term.

His brother, George, and Mrs. H. R. Grant, a sister of the youth's mother, left Twin Falls Sunday for the California city. Richard's mother resides at Parma, Alaska, at the present time. His father, the late J. N. Maxwell, was a former local banker.

NAZI ARTILLERY RUINING WARSAW

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 25 (AP)—Radio broadcasts indicated today that German artillery was demolishing Warsaw, fifth largest European capital, which German troops still were unable to capture after a 17-day siege.

A broadcast from the besieged city last night said half of Warsaw was burning, that the explosion of heavy artillery shells was incessant and that many wounded, including women and children lay in the open streets receiving first aid from Red Cross nurses.

Churches, palaces, hospitals, railway stations, hotels, banks and shops, with art treasures accumulated for centuries, were reported in ruins.

Czechoslovak Telegraph dispatches reaching London Sunday noon said that 1,000 Warsaw civilians had been killed in 24 hours, including hundreds who braved the artillery fire to attend church services yesterday and died in the streets going or coming.

A broadcast here said a plane bomb hit one church during mass and the priest interrupted himself only long enough to urge the worshippers to keep calm.

There had no further word of infantry action after two days of assault.

German infantry have been beaten back numerous times in the last 17 days, with heavy losses, including that of Col. Gen. von Frisch, outstanding military expert and former commander-in-chief of the army, died in action last Friday.

Famous Yachtsman calls Camels—"The best cigarette buy" "THEY BURN LONGER, COOLER, AND THAT'S IMPORTANT"

SAYS JOHN F. DICKERSON, JR.

Whatever price you pay per pack, it's important to remember this fact: By burning 25% slower than the average of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—CAMELS give a smoking plus equal to

5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK

Cigarettes were compared recently... sixteen of the largest-selling brands... under the searching tests of impartial laboratory scientists. Findings were announced as follows:

- 1 CAMELS were found to contain more tobacco by weight than the average for the 15 other of the largest-selling brands.
- 2 Camels burned slower than any other brand tested—25% slower than the average time of the 15 other of the largest-selling brands! By burning 25% slower, on the average, Camels give smokers the equivalent of 5 extra smokes per pack!
- 3 In the same tests, Camels held their ash for longer than the average time for all the other brands.

MORE PLEASURE PER PUFF... MORE PUFFS PER PACK!

NATURALLY, a cigarette noted for its generous content of better tobacco gives you better cigarette value, doesn't it? Especially when that same brand smokes longer, slower—gives more smoking than the average of all the other 15 brands compared in laboratory tests! Yes, there is such a cigarette. Its name is Camel. Full details are told at right—the results of recent searching tests by impartial scientists. These tests confirm what many smokers have long observed for themselves. For instance, "Jack" Dickerson (above, left), prominent in yachting circles of the Eastern seaboard, says: "Yacht racing is one hobby of mine and you might call Camel cigarettes another. I turned to Camels because they burn longer, smoke milder. They go farther—give extra smoking and always have a fresh, appealing flavor." You get real cigarette contentment with Camels. They are mellow and fragrant with the aroma of choice tobaccos in a matchless blend. Turn to Camels, the cigarette of cooler tobaccos that burn longer, giving more pleasure and more smoking.

KIMBERLY PLANS FESTIVAL PARADE

KIMBERLY, Sept. 25 (Special)—Kimberly's third annual Harvest festival will have a parade that will be one of the outstanding events in the history of the city, according to the chairman of the arrangements group, Cliff Mink.

"The parade will take place on Saturday, Sept. 30," said Mr. Mink. "and to date we have over 50 representatives entered with the avowed idea of making this year's affair the 'greatest one yet.'"

Four Twin Falls business homes have thus far signified their intentions of entering floats and we hope to see the next few days bring in a large representation from the Magic City. McVey's, Balch Motor, Magels and the All-Chalmers dealers are all signed up.

This country is on the road to war within itself. We have vast supplies of food stuffs and countless materials. "The cash and carry" will not lead us to war as soon as the present neutrality law. Germany can draw from Russia. Therefore, let England and France draw from us since they are democratic nations.

We claim to be a Christian nation, and here it is proposed that we make cannon, and perhaps poison gas, and sell to the fools that they might kill one another, any fool that will pay us cash and carry it away.

Eyes of World Focus on Dictator Stalin, Most Powerful Man Today

RUSSIAN LEADER EXERCISES GREAT EUROPEAN POWER

By WILLIS THORNTON (NEA Service)

Joseph Vlasiorovich Djugachvili is probably at the moment the most powerful man in the world. He is not even head of a state, but simply the secretary of a party.

But Djugachvili is better known as Stalin; the state is Russia, and the party is the Communist party of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

As general secretary of that party, he is in practice its leader, and since it is the only legal party in Russia, he is the political leader of 175,000,000 people in 11 federated regions including one-seventh of the land area of the world, stretching across two continents from the North Pacific to the Gulf of Finland, and from the Arctic to the Black sea.

Control Republic In addition, he exercises great control over the "independent" soviet republic of Inner Mongolia, and has just "placed under his protection" an unknown number of people who formerly were in Poland. To show the vast power of this man as leader of vast hordes of people and controller of mountains of resources, it is now plain that Hitler dared not move to the conquest of Poland until assured of Russia's "neutrality," and that he dared not protest Russia's seizure of a share of the spoils.

In the far east, his controlling power in affairs with soon be apparent if Japan moves toward quick conquest of the conquest of China, his neutrality there having been won, possibly for a price.

Fertile Field The new Polish conquest brings Russia's border to the edge of Hungary, which after the World War had a brief Communist regime under Bela Kun.

This country, still backward and feudal, is expected to provide a fertile field for internal Communist propaganda, suggesting that Stalin may have become at last convinced that "you can't export revolution" at long range, and that the way to bring it about and thus make more money for the party is to let it be in the Hitler fashion of propagandizing neighbor states and then absorbing them when the propaganda has become effective.

Dominates Parties This Communist party of Russia is expected to dominate the Third International, federative organization of the Communist parties of all countries, those headquartered in Moscow. These parties have always been subject to decisions of the "international," which, under the leadership of Joseph Stalin, has naturally followed the lead of the party in the one country in which it is dominant.

Thus, though he has always denied giving direct orders to, or having spread influence in, the international, Stalin has exercised tremendous influence on the Communist parties of all countries, and through them on people everywhere.

The international, he said now to be viewing present Russian action somewhat dubiously as being nationalistic if not imperialistic. But there is no other way to sum up rumors that it might cut loose from the domination of the Russian party, or even declare its independent parties in the various countries in which it is organized.

Powerful Man Since 1925, when Stalin received the mantle of Lenin as leader of the revolution, he has been one of the world's most powerful men. But today, with Russia exercising derivative influence in war, peace, and politics in the far east, in central Europe and in central Asia, he may well be called the world's most powerful man.

How comes this man, little known even in Russia until he rose to power, into such a position? The name itself is an assumed one, in accordance with Bolshevik custom from Lenin (whose name was Ullanov), to Browder (who used a false passport name only recently). It was given him by Lenin himself. It means "man of steel."

Power Unknown The degree of control which Stalin personally exercises over this vast Russian empire is a question impossible to answer with finality. That is because there are no impartial witnesses. Andre Gide, French socialist, once an active Stalin sympathizer, wrote in discussion after a visit to the U.S.S.R. "I doubt whether in any other country in the world, even Hitler's Germany, thought has been so much bowed down, more fearful (terrified), more vassalized." Yet it is of the same situation that Earl Browder, American Communist, could write, "The Soviet union is climbing to the trust and greatest freedom enjoyed by the masses of people."

Chosen Leader Parables of the Stalin regime indicate that he is a more head of the party, carrying out decisions which bubble upward through a system called "democratic cen-tralem" from the smallest village soviet through higher and higher soviet bodies until they are crystallized into final decision on policy by the central committee of the Communist party.

The position of general secretary of the party was not when Stalin took it in 1922 nearly as important as it is today. He gradually made it a sort of nerve center of the whole Communist party organization, and gained an influence within the party which gradually displaced all rivals.

Controls Russia The Communist party with its 2,000,000 members among Russia's 175,000,000 people, controls Russia, despite the loosening up of elections to minor positions through introduction of the new "democratic constitution."

Choice of a non-party-member to a responsible, policy-making position would be unthinkable, even today, when such "outsiders" are often elected to minor posts or to local soviets.

Thus, through his dominant position in Russia's Communist party, Joseph Stalin controls Russia, and by controlling Russia, he wields so important an influence in world affairs as to qualify as its most powerful single figure.

JOKE JAILING NO JOKE CLEVELAND, O. (AP) — Traffic Patrolman Edgar Robinson spent an unhappy, anxious two hours in jail here on his wedding day. Patrolman lured him from his bride's home and locked him up in the precinct station on a "charge" of being married.

Nearly 300 Scan Unique City of Rocks Grandeur

Honored

OAKLEY, Sept. 25 (special) — Second annual exploration of the famed City of Rocks area, held Sunday, today was termed "entirely successful" by those in charge and persons attending the observance had today returned to their respective home communities convinced that the area should be the next national monument set aside by the federal government.

Between 200 and 300 persons from over this section of the state as well as from Utah points were present during a program set at the picturesque Circle ranch. Arrangements for the program, which included several noted speakers, were made by Charles Brown, president of the Oakley Valley Chamber of Commerce and Oakley publisher.

Prizes for Two Two well known Idaho citizens, Barzilla W. Clark, former governor of the state, and Byrd Trego, editor of the Blackfoot Bulletin, were honored during the afternoon when they were presented with checks of $25 by George A. Day, master of ceremonies on behalf of the Oakley chamber. Both men returned the checks with the request that the money be added to funds which will aid in having the area set aside as a national monument.

Clark received his $25 check for writing about the proposed south-side extension homesteads project while Trego received his award by writing an historic account of the battle of Almo creek fought in 1801 and at which time nearly 300 pioneers lost their lives at the hands of hostile Indians.

Both men were speakers on the afternoon program at the Circle ranch.

Koehler Honored Other speakers included Mayor Joe Koehler, Twin Falls, and Mr. Brown. Mayor Koehler was awarded a lifetime membership in the Oakley chamber and also a leather billfold for his efforts on behalf of the drive for a national monument.

Persons from Boise on the west to Pocatello on the east were present at the afternoon program. Many of the visitors took part in an early afternoon tour of a part of the 150,000 acres which would come in for development under the south-side homesteads project. The project tour was led by Mr. Day and Mr. Trego and started from Murtaugh at 1 p. m.

Among Twin Falls residents present for the day's program were J. A. Coderquist, Claude Pettway, W. H. Burkholder, Harry Walters, E. H. Maher and Mayor Koehler. Many of the men were accompanied by their wives and members of their families.

a. m. and discussions will be led by Rev. J. B. Sims, Arco; Rev. C. M. Stone, Payette, and Rev. J. J. Brune, Nampa. The inspirational address of President Fleming will be given at 11:30 a. m. Mr. W. D. Wright, Idaho Falls, will preside at the afternoon session.

Tuesday evening a special program will feature, starting at 7:15 p. m.
