

ADMINISTRATION LEADERS CLAIM 56 VOTES FOR FDR PLAN

VETERAN SOLONS BACK PRESIDENT FOR NEUTRALITY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (AP).—Administration leaders today claimed 56 votes pledged for President Roosevelt's neutrality program. They were cheered by two developments: 1. A radio speech last night by Sen. George W. Norris, Ind., who was remaining member of a group of six senators who voted against this country's entry into the World War in 1917. Norris said the "fervent belief" the administration may find "will keep us out of war."

2. A possibility that Sen. Carter G. Woodson, D. Va., chief spokesman who announced his support of the proposed program after a long series of differences with the administration, may find his health improved sufficiently to speak, either in a broadcast or in the senate.

Norris who was denounced as a traitor and burned in effigy when he said 22 years ago that United States entry into the World War was "plucking the dollar sign on the American flag," declared last night that he believed "time had vindicated the position I then took."

"Keep Dollar Sign Off"

"Let us keep the dollar sign off of the American flag and stay out of this war," he said. "The present neutrality law is changed," he said, "the chances are we will eventually be brought into the war."

Norris who was a member of the senate, whose father, Dr. Matthew Holt, was physically attacked in 1917 because of his stand against American participation in the World War, followed Norris on the air with a charge that the President would send the country "down the path of involvement."

SOVIET ADVANCES MAY HURT NAZIS

The Russians completed a deal with Norway for rental of Norwegian ships and made similar proposals to Sweden and Denmark, neither of which decided immediately whether to make the deal.

Such trade would be of great importance to the allies because it might cut into resources available to Germany and because of shortage of such materials as lumber in England. Many neutral ships in the Baltic have been torpedoed or searched for contraband in recent weeks by the Nazis.

The Moscow government expects soon to welcome a German economic mission which will work out methods of increasing the Nazi purchase of Russian materials.

Stubbom Protest

The Soviets were interested vitally, too, in developments in the southeast, where Turkey has proved to be a good friend in the past, but a stubborn protector of her own interests in regard to neutralizing the Dardanelles—the route through which a sea attack might be made on Russia from the south.

Turkey wants to continue close relations with the Soviets but her interests in the Mediterranean are best served by cooperation with the British and French and against Italian expansion.

Thus, as long as the allied powers are not at war with Soviet Russia, the Turks apparently hope to work with both eastern and western extremes. All Russia is interested in, they point out, is protection against an attack through the Dardanelles.

There is no indication that the allies would make such an attack.

No Direct Conflict

As long as there are no hostilities, there is no direct conflict in the Turkish obligations. If the allies and Russia became directly involved in war, the treaty situation would collapse anyway.

An exchange telegraph dispatch from Ankara said that the Turkish foreign minister had advised the Polish envoy that Turkey did not recognize the partitioning of Poland.

Since Russia was one of the partitioners, the report further indicated that Turkey was declining to bow to any Russian demands and would follow a strictly independent program for maintenance of neutrality.

Thousands of Books Start Moving Jaunt

Books, thousands of them, started moving to a new home in Twin Falls today.

Reason was that library workers were busily engaged in the task of transporting supplies from the old library located in the Elks building to the new structure at the corner of Second street and Fifth avenue east.

No books can be checked in or out of the library until the move is completed and, likewise, no fines will be assessed for books which were normally come due during the moving period.

Library officials said that an announcement would be made as to when the new quarters would be open for those desiring to check books in or out. Public inspection of the building will not be held until the structure is completely finished.

VANDENBERG HITS ROOSEVELT PLAN

"The repeal, though labeled otherwise, is in its essence a deliberately unneutral act which may not only be the forerunner of others when once the habit starts, but it also may be a step toward 'cash-and-carry' as respects munitions, the inauguration of a policy which seriously hampers us when we do not finally destroy our own armaments."

"We are guided by the one, single, hard-headed thought that the repeal of the arms embargo cannot possibly involve us in any of these compromising factors; that repeal is not relatively the surest road to peace; that it may finally be the road to war."

"I oppose repeal because I believe repeal makes us relatively vulnerable while the embargo leaves us relatively immune."

Snake River Water Below 1938 Level

BOISE, Oct. 4 (AP)—Snake river has 441,000 acre feet less water stored in its reservoirs at the end of the present irrigating season than in 1938, the state department of reclamation announced today.

The dry season caused the loss of valuable storage water and the area started storing water with only 745,000 acre feet surplus compared to 1,186,000 acre feet on Oct. 1, 1938.

County commissioners headed by Walter Reese, president, were in the field today contacting farmers and securing sign-ups.

"Signing for the program does not obligate the grower in any way," Secretary Lincoln said.

GERMANY WILL CONTINUE ATTEMPT TO GAIN PEACE

FUEHRER STAKES CHANCES ON HIS REICHSTAG TALK

By GEORGE KIDD

BERLIN, Oct. 4 (AP)—Germany will continue her peace offensive despite Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech to the house of commons yesterday, a well informed foreign official source said today.

Chamberlain's speech was not considered an answer to the Russo-German peace declaration of last week as the Fuehrer Adolf Hitler was indicated by this source, has decided to state immediate chances of ending the war on his forthcoming speech to the reichstag. If his offers then are rejected by the allies, Germany plans consultations with Russia and Italy as to next steps to be taken.

An official source also said that reports that Germany is planning two protectorates in Poland, one for Jews and one for Poles, are "pure invention."

Commenting on the Pan-American neutrality conference at Panama City the same source "wondered" if the conference measures such as the "Lacey hands" around the hemisphere were sufficient to maintain the neutrality of the Americas. It said Germany was pleased that the American states tied their own problems in their own way and asserted that while Germany would not interfere in American affairs it would resist with force interference in Germany's internal affairs. The source said that Canada, by her declaration of war on Germany, had "quit herself out of the America area."

Nazi awaited an order from Hitler setting the day and hour, probably Friday or Saturday, possibly tomorrow, for the special reichstag meeting at which he intended to make his "final" bid for peace.

BARNHART NAMED STATE DELEGATE

James D. Barnhart, Twin Falls county assessor for six years, was appointed by Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen today as delegate from Idaho to the sixth national conference of the National Association of Assessing Officers.

The conference will meet in San Francisco Oct. 10 and will extend to Oct. 13.

Mr. Barnhart said today he was not yet certain he will be able to make the trip, but indicated he hopes to go.

Gov. Bottolfsen's letter appointing the former county assessor pointed out that "this will give you full authority as an Idaho delegate to represent you in the conference."

Mr. Barnhart and Roy D. Leonardson, present Ada county assessor, are the only two Idaho members of the National Association of Assessing Officers.

BOARD STARTS ON PARDON HEARINGS

BOISE, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Idaho prison board went into session today with 141 pleas for clemency up for consideration and the state penitentiary within 10 men of an all-time population high of 424.

Despite the crowded condition of the penitentiary, Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen said the board would be "tough." He said he would adhere to a policy of refusing to release any convicts who have not served minimum sentences.

Many of those up for parole have not served minimum terms, Bottolfsen said. Warder H. C. Meredith said many of those up for release were model prisoners and worthy of "another chance" and he hoped the "overburdened" penitentiary would be relieved of some of them.

HANSEN, Oct. 4 (Special)—With 71 of 76 votes cast, favoring the bond issue, Hansen properly carried today looked forward to construction of a public water works plant and complete distribution system.

The bond vote was held yesterday and the results were announced last night after the polls had been closed. The issue amounts to $12,000. The results were announced by Village Clerk George H. Trout.

When completed, under present plans the system would follow the method which has been successfully installed at Kimberly. Water sources would be deep wells which would be sunk at designated points.

Judge of the election was Gene Martin while clerks were Mrs. Thelma Loebeck and Mrs. Stella Hughes.

STYLE

BOSTON, Oct. 4 (AP)—Milady's wardrobe is striving to keep abreast of the war, the editor-in-chief of Vogue magazine said today.

"Already women are vying with each other in keeping up appearances in cellars," Mrs. Edna Woolman Chase told the 11th annual conference on distribution.

"In London, everyone is buying hooded, trousered rip-up woolen stockings and in some smart flats the young women are saying: 'Oh, I really can't be seen in those pajamas again. I wore them in the last air raid.'"

Two quarts of liquid should be drunk daily by an adult.

Derringer Claims He Has No More Stuff Than in '31

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—Red Derringer, with sweat dripping off his brow and onto his black rubber shirt, sat on his stool in the Yankee dressing room to cool off.

"Yes, my arm's sore," he said. "It's been sore all year. But it was worse than ever in September. I couldn't get the ball where I wanted it. I've rested it lately and it's been feeling better. Maybe it's all right again. I hope so."

Paul Derringer, chewing tobacco and rubbing his nose, stood before the big mirror in the dressing room waiting to go out on the field to warm up.

No More Stuff
"I haven't any more stuff than I had in 1931 when the Athletics beat me twice in the world series. I know plenty more about pitching. I don't try to fan every hitter that comes up there. I know how to rate myself better. I can get the ball where I want it. I mean I can make the batter hit the pitch I want him to and not the one he wants to hit."

There you have today's two world series pitchers as they were 24

TICKETS
(By NEA Service)
CINCINNATI, Oct. 4.—One man sent in a check for $5,000 worth of world series seats in Cincinnati. He got two sets of tickets for the three games scheduled here and $4,999.20 change.

hours ago on the eve of the opening game between the Yankees and Reds.

The calm, untroubled Derringer knew his arm isn't as good as it was. He may be pitching under a terrific physical handicap but he wasn't afraid to face the issue.

Ruffing Won Four
Derringer's world series record looks sick beside Ruffing's. Big Red lost four and lost 13 innings in the 1935 season. Ruffing, who was a freshman sensation in 1931 for the Cardinals, was listed twice by the Athletics. But Derringer has come a long way since 1931.

Ruffing, who is 36, has a record of 21 and 7 during the season. Derringer, who will be 33 Oct. 17, won 25 and lost 7.

Bruin-Brave Contest Definitely Set

Any rumors that floated around town about the possible cancellation of the Boise-Twin Falls grid game were grounded today by Ed Hagedorn, principal of the Twin Falls high school.

Rogel announced that the game would definitely be played at 8 p. m. on Friday evening. With the dedication of the new high school stadium set to be made between halves of the important contest.

Yesterday rumors spread around Twin Falls that there was a possibility that the Braves would forfeit their game to the Braves, rather than play a night game. However, this trouble was ironed out, and Mr. Rogel announced that the game will be played as scheduled.

Dedication of the new $100,000 athletic plant at Lincoln field will be made by Frank L. Stephens, prominent local attorney general and twice a Republican nominee for the office of governor.

Besides the Stephen address, a mass flag drill will be given by 300 students under the direction of Charles "Chuck" McCannell, band leader, and music will be furnished by the high school pep band.

As a climax to "color week," students of the high school will parade down town Thursday and then go to Lincoln field where a giant rally will be staged. It is estimated that 600 students will participate in the event, with approximately 25 floats or floats being in the parade.

Four Go by Plane To Hunt Deer in Cape Horn Country

Planning to bring back their deer by air, four men planned to take off from the local airport late this afternoon in two airplanes and head for the Cape Horn country.

Dean planned to fly his Eagle-10 biplane and Heller to fly his passenger plane. Stevens was to take his Otis-Hobbs monoplane, with Collins as passenger. The party will base its flight at the Cape Horn airport, equipment being carried in the ship. Thursday morning they will fly into Indian creek and set up camp there. The deer will be skinned and brought back to Twin Falls in the two ships.

Yankee Stars Restore Fine Art of Infield Play to Baseball Games

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Munderson's Row is still pretty tough, especially when it comes to swatting a long ball as a clutch, but the Yankees now have a dual attraction.

The other half of the show is their infield. Babe Dahlgren, Joe Gordon, Frank Crosetti and Robert Rife are the Maginot line of baseball.

A year or so ago, Big Ed Walsh told me that there no longer was any infield play.

"The ball is so lively," said the grand old Iron Man of the White Sox, "that every play an infielder makes is of the you do or you don't variety."

"There no longer is any room for infield finesse. It's all outfield play."

Well, if that was the truth then,

Joe McCarthy

The New York quartet has restored infield play to what is referred to as the national pastime.

Indeed, there are times when the enemy suspects that Dahlgren, Crosetti, and Rife are the Yankees' secret weapons.

There have been few, if any, superior defensive shortstops.

"I've seen him get balls that made me wonder where he came from," Dahlgren said.

Gordon and Rife gave up other spots for baseball.

Majors Draft Only 13 Minor League Players

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—A startling scarcity of talent was indicated today by the annual major league baseball draft, one of the smallest in history. It elevated only 13 players to the big time.

The two Philadelphia clubs were the only ones to draft more than one player. The National league Phillies took the veteran minor league pitcher, Bill Johnson, from the Rochester Red Wings and another hurler, Clyde Bunell, from Atlanta.

STRIKES TO SPARE

With Fred Stone

Some bowling not so bad, some not so good in the Idaho Power-Schultz battle in which the two clubs broke even last night. Schultz won one game and took total pin, with the Power club copying two games.

Great Hall, with a 565, was the shining light for the Power boys—and for both teams. His 212 last game was also the best single score of the night. Al Norton with 204 had a nice third game. Al and Jerry and McGee were also there. Walker's even 200 was the best single for the Schultz club. Schultz boys had 20 errors—something unusual for them.

Vern Jennings, with 518, was the top Schiltzer. Ray Neale with 512, and Walt Riggett with 508, and Jerry and McGee were also there. Walker's even 200 was the best single for the Schultz club. Schultz boys had 20 errors—something unusual for them.

Firestone, with a 2,419 three-game total, set a new high for the City league bowling season, beating Orange Transportation club's score of 2,421 in the same league.

Al Timmons, captain of the Firestone club, led his team to victory in all three games—also total pins. Al checked in with 537 for three games and a 208 high single.

George Childs got a 504 total, while Ray Neale with 485 was low man and the other boys were in between.

Flour Mill just couldn't sack them up. Ray Neale with 416 was top pitcher for three-game total and his 175 was top single. They just couldn't get those pins down.

Eastern Gridiron Powers Get First Tests on Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—Two potential eastern football powers, Holy Cross and Fordham, meet the "acid test" this week-end.

If they come through—Holy Cross against Louisiana State at Worcester, Mass., and Fordham versus Alabama at New York—tab these two as teams which will be in the running for post-season "bowl game" invitations.

But, with the season a week old, these aren't the only top elements along the Atlantic seaboard. For Pittsburgh, which lost ten men from its great 1937-38 eleven in addition to Coach Jack Sutherland, flew out to the Pacific coast and made it sell early repatriation with a 27-6 victory over Washington.

Tech Plays Example
Carnegie Tech, another team expected to say something about mythical eastern championship, looked Wittenberg, 30-0 and has yet to show what it can do against many opposition. Tech plays Temple this week.

A few other eastern contenders might come out of this week's program. Syracuse and Cornell battle each other. Pennsylvania tests itself against Lafayette.

Have Breathers
Army and Navy again face breathers. The soldiers play Centre and the sailors meet Virginia.

Until more results come in, however, Holy Cross and Pittsburgh this week rank as the east's best. Holy Cross lost its game last year, but Carnegie Tech, and showed it has another great team this season by trouncing Manhattan 28-0.

Hoskist Ordered to Battle Garcia In First Defense

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—The National Boxing association announced today that Al Hoskist, world middleweight champion, will be required to defend his title against Freddie Apolloni, who previously had designated Apolloni as the first contender but explained today it was making the change to "clarify ridiculous muddle not of the NBA's making."

INJURIES HIT COYOTES
CALDWELL, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—Coach Elmer Farberby said today injuries struck heavily through a four-hour practice session yesterday.

Los Angeles-Southern California was lightening up against the freshman team, using Cougar tactics, smashed through the varsity for a touchdown.

Texas A. & M. to Meet Santa Clara
DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 4 (U.P.)—Texas A. & M. perennial dark horse, today remained the Southern Conference's lone hope of crashing into the national football picture.

The Aggies met Santa Clara at San Francisco Friday night with a 32-0 victory over Oklahoma A. & M., and a 14-0 triumph over Centenary behind them. The Texans need a smashing victory over Santa Clara, who battled to a 7-7 tie with Utah last week, to gain national recognition.

Mac Sets Out to Find Out About Reds and Yanks—With No Success

By HENRY McKECHNIE
NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—If a little learning is a dangerous thing, then I'm likely to be picked up as a public enemy No. 1 before another gun war.

I'm so crammed full of little learning about the Yanks and the Reds, who start the world series today, that I am as dangerous as a cocked pistol.

It isn't my fault, however, that I know so little about the Yanks and Reds. I spent the better part of the worst part of the week for the worst part of the week looking at (1) yesterday with the members of the two teams, and literally bombarded them with questions. I wanted the real lowdown, the opinions of the players themselves, for you readers, and not just a bunch of stale, old statistics which everybody knows.

But do you think I got any information? Not one bit. I might just as well have had a dozen or so totem poles in for tea and tried to talk to them. As a starter, I went into Joe McCarthy's office, helped myself to one of the cigars on his desk to show that I came as a friend, and then said:

"Joe, are you really a master mind as so many persons say you are, or are the Yanks so good that they can't be beaten by the Reds and they'd still win?"

McCarthy never really gave me a definite answer.

Bill McKee, manager of the Reds, was just as unsatisfactory. I had heard that he was a cold, calculating, sinister, devil, a man who would risk anything for a victory, and I wanted to know if that was right. I burst into his office and shook a coin in my hand, and said:

"Call this for a dollar. Heeds or tails. If you're a gambler, prove it to me."

"I told you to keep that door locked," McKee said to his assistant as he rushed into another room and banged the door.

I went on down to the field and sought out players. Paul Derringer was the first I found. Everyone is interested in what I'm doing. He got knocked out of it a few times, but he didn't think he was inexperienced and nervous to do much good against the Yanks. He looked me straight in the eye and said:

"What business of yours is that, buddy?"

Everywhere I went it was the same thing. Finally I decided upon actions, rather than words. Hearing that Red Ruffing had a sore arm, I went to him. I went behind him and hit him on the arm. He jumped about four feet into the air, proving to my satisfaction he has a better arm of course, my jaw is too, but anything to get those vital facts.

Voters Forced McKechnie Back Into Baseball Game

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—William Boyd McKechnie might not now be managing the Cincinnati Reds, National league champions, had he not been defeated for tax collector of Wilkesburg, Penn., a long-term office.

Bill McKee was out of the big show, starting the 1939 season, the Cardinal organization having rewarded him for winning the pennant by shipping him to Rochester. It was that spring that fellow citizens nominated him for a career of public service in his old home town.

However, on July 23, after he had established the International League Redwings in first place, he was recalled to the command of the St. Louis club. When the season closed, the election broke the other way and the following spring he began his two-year term as head of the Boston Braves and Bees.

Deacon McKee is the first man in the entire history of baseball to win flag as manager of three different major league outfits. He guided the Pirates to the gonfalon and world championship in 1925. A few years later he was named to two major leagues or two major league clubs.

Flags Followed
The all-time list enrolls Harry Wright, who won four with the original Boston Red Stockings of the National association in the early 1870's, then National league pennants for the Cubs in '07 and '08, Jim Mutrie, who bagged the American Association pennant with the New York Knickerbockers in 1891, and the first two National league flags with the original Giants in '18 and '19; Bill McKee, who piloted the Brooklyn Bridegrooms to the 1899 American association gonfalon, then swung his array into the National to cop in '00, Bud Harkton, daddy of 'em, and master of the Orioles, who followed up three Baltimore championships in the middle '90s by moving to Brooklyn and immortalizing the Superbas, champions of '98 and 1900.

Pat Moran, whose Phillies came down in front in 1915 and his Reds in '19, and Joseph Vincent McCarthy, who was a National League flag winner with the Cubs in '24, before switching to Yankee stadium, complete the list.

McKechnie also is the first man in the history of the National league to manage four different clubs.

McKechnie Couldn't Hit
McKechnie was a third baseman who could field, and think. Although he couldn't hit the ball, he was a good one at 10 paces. He spent three years with Pittsburgh, starting in 1910 before moving to the Braves of the New York Highlanders, Indianapolis Federals and Reds prior to finishing his major league playing record as he started it—three years with the Buccaneers.

Pittsburgh, now changing field marshall, wishes it had him back. McKee's new service as a third baseman with the Cubs in '24, before switching to Yankee stadium, complete the list.
