Hitler Makes Final Peace Bid

Nozis Claim British Plot to Sink U.S. Passenger Ship Germany's Navy Head Sees Plan To Get Sympathy

By WILLIAM M. LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (UP)—The U. S. maritime commission said today the master of the U. S. liner Iroquois has taken precautionary measures in acknowledgment of the warning relayed from Grand Admiral Erich Raeder of Germany that the vessel would be sunk as it neared American waters.

Raeder, advised U. S. Naval Attaché A. E. Schrader in Berlin that information reportedly from sources in "neutral Ireland" indicated the Iroquois would be sunk "through a repetition of circumstances which marked the loss of the (British) steamship Athenia."

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early confirmed Raeder's warning to a written receipt acknowledging the warning has been given.

Excellent Example
President Roosevelt said at Hyde Park, N. Y., today that his dispatch to guard and naval vessels to protect the Iroquois was not designed to set a precedent and did not mean that similar protection will be given other U. S. vessels bringing American refugees home from Europe. The Iroquois carries 786 persons.

However, the President noted the Iroquois case afforded an excellent example of the value of the U. S. neutrality patrol. He pointed out that because U. S. naval vessels were already far out in the Atlantic they were able to provide speedy protection. German destroyers and a guard cutter were moving eastward on the north Atlantic today to meet the Iroquois and accompany her the rest of the way home. They were expected to pick her up tomorrow. It was emphasized this did not mean American authorities placed any belief whatsoever in Admiral Raeder's implied charge that the British navy would sink the Iroquois thinking Germany would be blamed.

900 Miles from Ireland
In New York, officials of the United States line, which is operating the Iroquois under charter, termed Admiral Raeder's warning "propaganda."

Government sources refused to reveal the position of the Iroquois, but calculations, based on the ship's speed, showed that she was about 300 miles from Cobb, Ireland, early today. She is bound for New York and is due there Wednesday.

The Athenia was sunk off the Isles of Hebrides on the day that she entered the war, with a loss of more than 100 persons, including 28 of the 311 Americans aboard. The British claimed the ship was torpedoed by a German submarine. German authorities asserted the ship had been sunk by a British or German aircraft. It is understood that growers and shippers from Boise, Caldwell, and other areas are included among the committee members.

Pittman Says Act Against U. S. Would Be Inviting Defeat

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (UP)—Chairman Key Pittman, D., Nev., of the senate foreign relations committee said today that if any European nation or group of nations committed "deliberate and unquestionable acts of war" against the United States, "they would invite their own inevitable defeat."

Pittman emphasized he believed "this congress will never vote to send any American soldiers abroad in this war."

Although "we would resist" certain acts of war, he mentioned bombing of American industrial plants as an example.

He said he was certain also this congress "will never appropriate money for the purpose of mobilizing or training any soldiers to participate in war abroad."

"I am fully aware," he said, "that a foreign government could commit acts of war upon our country, such as bombing our industrial plants. I know that we would resist such acts of war, but I know that we would not use the use of all of our economic and financial power and influence to stop and punish such warlike action."

"I must say that I do not think any European nation or group of nations would be so foolish as to permit such deliberate and unquestionable acts of war, but if they did they would invite their own inevitable defeat."

L. D. S. Picks Cannon As Council Member Of Twelve Apostles

By MURRAY M. MOLER
SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 5 (UP)—Sylvester Q. Cannon, associate member of the council of the 12 apostles of the L. D. S. church, was unanimously sustained today as full member of the council to fill the position left vacant by the death of Melvin J. Ballard.

Cannon's election was announced at opening session of the church's 110th semi-annual conference today. He has been an active member and officer of the Mormon church since 1899 when his own father ordained him as a member of the council of the 70.

Cannon rose rapidly after he was ordained. He served as president of The Netherlands-Belgium mission for two terms, 1900-03 and 1907-11.

He was the first president of the Pioneer stake, holding this office from 1917 to 1926.

On June 4, 1925, he succeeded Charles W. Nibley as presiding bishop of the church, supervising the Aaronic priesthood, temporal affairs of the church, receiving and recording tithes and payments and financial reports and directing the designing and construction of all church buildings.

At the October conference a year ago he was succeeded as presiding bishop by Legrand Richards and became an associate apostle.

A tall, well-built man, Cannon is a native of Salt Lake City, where he was born June 10, 1877, the youngest of 11 children of George Q. and Elizabeth Hagan Cannon.

His father was a prominent attorney and a delegate to the United States congress from the territory of Utah.

Cannon attended University of Utah but was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1899 as a bachelor of science in mining engineering.

A civil engineer, Cannon in 1904 surveyed irrigated lands and waters of the Weber river under a commission from the state. In 1908-11 he was chairman of the state board of irrigation.

Cannon usually gives his name as Sylvester Q. Cannon. The "Q" stands for Quincy.

On Jan. 18, 1912, he was married in the Salt Lake temple in Washington. The couple has four sons and three daughters.

Payette, Ida., Oct. 6 (UP)—Southern Idaho apple growers today announced formation of a committee to fight the federal apple marketing commission.

Proposes Conference to Bring Absolute Security To Countries of Europe

By FREDERICK C. OCHSNER
BERLIN, Oct. 6 (UP)—Adolf Hitler, in a "final" bid for peace before his Nazi reichstag, proposed today a conference of nations to achieve absolute security and peace in Europe and suggested the possibility of reducing armaments.

In an apparent bid for a war armistice, he said a conference of nations would be impossible "under the roar of cannons."

Disclosing, in a review of the Polish campaign, that Germany had lost 44,313 men in killed, wounded and missing, Hitler argued that there was nothing further for Europe to fight for now that Germany had crushed Poland. He estimated the total number of prisoners taken by the German army at nearly 700,000.

Hitler's program for European peace touched on everything from disarmament to colonies and Jews.

His points included:
1—The conference of nations.
2—Disarmament, or failing that, an agreement to forbid the use of poison gas in order to reduce the horrors of war. The most important pre-condition to security and peace was a return of armaments to "a sensible and economically bearable level."

3—Solution of the European Jewish "problem."

4—Possibly a restoration of a Polish state under German-Russian suzerainty, to contain only Poles.

5—Germany now has no demand to make but for colonies, and the need for colonies does not represent an ultimatum demand. "Our only demand is for colonial possessions fitting and suitable for the reich—that is, the return of former German colonies," he said.

6—Germany will respect the neutrality of Denmark, Belgium, Yugoslavia and all other neighbors and desires only strong economic relations with them.

7—Security is possible only on the basis of German-British friendship.

8—If Britain and France are fighting solely to defeat Germany they cannot do so even if they did the present situation would be the same in another 10 years.

9—The line between German and Russian interests is clearly drawn and there is no reason for hostilities between the Nazi and Communist states so long as they attack to their respective spheres.

Having outlined this program, Hitler said: "If peace and security are not achieved, and if the conception of Herr Churchill and his cronies prevail, then this will be my last declaration."

"We will then fight. Neither force of arms nor time will conquer Germany. There will be no more November, 1918, in German history. Hope of disintegration of our people is childish."

Hitler listed Germany army casualties in Poland as follows:
Killed—10,572.
Wounded—20,322.
Missing—3,400.

Hitler said "provocation" had led to Germany's "fateful moves in recent years."

"Grand Rupee"
Reviewing the Polish campaign at length, he said that a "grand success" achieved by the German army, though western powers had tried to belittle it. He said the collapse of Poland was inevitable. It was not a Polish state, he said, and was run by a clique of landed aristocrats. Also, he said, Poland wanted to destroy by the German army.

"I have pledged my word," he continued, "to discard the Versailles treaty. I have pledged my word to restore Germany's rights in a most way."

Germany has found her resurrection, he said, in Nazism. "Then, in his appeal for peace, he was demanding that the nations of northern Europe, no intention of changing the 'inviolable and eternal' boundaries of southeastern Europe; no demands on France."

TURKEY AND ENGLAND AGREE ON MUTUAL AID PACT

PROGRAM COVERS MEDITERRANEAN SEA PROPOSALS

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Great Britain and Turkey have initiated a mutual aid pact covering the Mediterranean sea, and the formal signature is to be effected as soon as Turkish Foreign Minister Baki Saracoglu returns from Moscow. It was reported today in well informed quarters.

It had been known that the draft of an agreement had been completed, covering political, military and economic matters.

Information here was that the agreement had been initiated as finally approved at Ankara, the Turkish capital.

Saracoglu's negotiations at Moscow had caused a change in the diplomatic situation as regards the Black sea, and it had been assumed there might be a safeguard clause in the British-Turkish pact—and a similar French-Turkish pact—to guard against the possibility that Turkey might have to fight its old friend Russia.

Nevertheless the effecting of any agreement at all was regarded as a diplomatic triumph for Great Britain and France because it assured them an ally in the eastern Mediterranean in event Italy cast its lot with Germany—a contingency now regarded as most remote—and a friendly neutral even if Russia entered the war.

In the World war Turkey's aid to the German cause was of incalculable value.

FRENCH REFUSE HITLER PROGRAM

PARIS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Adolf Hitler's proposals for restoration of European peace are "wholly unacceptable," highest French sources said today in asserting that the Nazi leader had attempted to "dictate" an end to the war.

Hitler is seeking merely to give Russia and Germany a free hand in eastern and central Europe and offering nothing substantial in exchange for countries that would be at his disposal except his own promise often broken in the past—to sign an arms limitation pact, French circles said.

French government sources said they saw "proof of what they termed the 'bad faith' of Hitler in inadequate and false statements regarding the Polish war. For instance, they said, Hitler described the attack on Warsaw as beginning Sept. 25, whereas it actually began with a German air raid on Sept. 1 at 4 a. m.

Hitler's speech probably will be a historical document, French officials said, because of the future's threat—to be considered by the world—to destroy Strasbourg, Mulhouse and other open towns if his "final" offer is rejected.

The French in particular rejected Hitler's bid for an armistice based on acceptance of the Russian-German dismemberment of Poland.

Road Pedestrians Warned by Rayner

BOISE, Oct. 6 (AP)—Harry M. Rayner, state commissioner of law enforcement, appealed to all Idahoans over 50 years of age to use every precaution while walking along highways.

"If you're over 50," he warned, "it's a 50-50 chance you'll be killed if you don't observe extreme care as a pedestrian."

Rayner said the toll of pedestrian deaths for 1939 stood at 19, two under the 1938 toll.

County Officials Okeh Courthouse

JEROME, Oct. 6 (Special)—It was announced this week that Jerome county's new courthouse has been officially accepted by the county commissioners.

The officials moved last month into the new structure which is located on North Lincoln avenue directly east of the Jerome high school. Contractor of the building was Paul H. Kertke. Architects were Bunnberg and Bunnberg, Idaho Falls.

Dedication ceremonies have been planned but definite date for them has not been set, officials said.

AMERICA WANTS NO WAR

Editor, Evening Times: The embargo question has brought out our great truth. The American people want no war, we want no added risk of war. In 1916 we wanted no war—in 1917 we were at war. The way is easy, and resistance is weak.

Our administration has been and is encouraging the growth of hatred and intolerance for certain European powers. We are asked to join against them with means "stronger than words, yet short of war." Hatred and intolerance lead to war, yet all wars are fought in the name of justice and right. Guns may decide who wins, but if both sides can't be right, then it is still a matter of opinion.

The question is not one of right or wrong, but of tolerance or intolerance. If we choose intolerance, it grows into hatred and continues to the point of war—where war seems thrust upon us. Righteous indignation leads to war. It has led the Germans, it has led the English and French, and we should profit by their example.

So far we have come some distance along the road to war. We have identified our enemies, and in a half hearted way we have started to do these enemies our enemies. We are lagging behind our leadership, but we are coming along. We are intolerant, we have learned to hate a little, but before war comes we must learn to hate much.

One step at a time is sufficient. The arms embargo was enacted in a time of peace to guard us against just such a time of emotional instability as this. National thinking is difficult to maintain now for we are already part way along the road to war. If reason interferes with our desires, we must turn reason away. A little selfish thinking in place of logic reasoning, and we can see a move to furnish unlimited munitions to one side as a move to establish our absolute neutrality.

We see men who are normally intelligent saying so, and believing what they say. Insanity, the insanity born of a war spirit, is gripping this nation, controls many of our leaders today.

We are asked to destroy our neutrality act, and are offered a substitute claimed to be better, when we could have both. The admitted purpose of repeal is to enable us to deliver unlimited munitions to one side in order to crush the other. All our economic resources, except munitions, are now at the command of England and France, yet must we also furnish them munitions in order to maintain neutrality? What a foul blot upon our national honor! Reason and logic are turned away backward! War, insanity and hysteria are not on the way, they are already here!

We follow the road to war, one step at a time. Repeal of the arms embargo is just one step, and we are offered substitute measures to

L. D. S. LEADER WARNS ON REDS

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 6 (AP)—A warning against political poison being administered to the youth of America by advocates of Communism was issued by David O. McKay, second counselor in the first presidency of the L.D.S. church, in an address to concluding sessions here of the national women's relief society.

Speaking in the Salt Lake tabernacle late yesterday McKay expressed alarm at the "present wave of doubt in God, of disregard for agreements, of dishonesty in personal as well as international affairs and a reversion to the rule and law of the jungle."

McKay declared that the most effective means of combating these evils is the "home teachings by intelligent Christian mothers." He attacked "working wives" and said it seems "there is something askew with a social system which compels so large a percentage of women" to earn wages "at the expense of home keeping."

The 2,000 relief society delegates who attended their own conference Wednesday and Thursday were present today at opening sessions of the 10th general church conference in the tabernacle.

COURT TO HEAR UNION'S DISPUTE

POGATELLO, Oct. 6 (AP)—A conflict over the election of a secretary-treasurer of the Idaho Federation of Labor at the 1939 convention was brought to district court for settlement today.

J. I. Hansen, Nampa, elected secretary-treasurer at the convention, applied for a writ of mandamus to force August Rosqvist, Pocatello, to show cause why he should not turn over records, securities and money.

Rosqvist contended Hansen's election was illegal because unauthorized delegates were seated and voted.

Hansen won the election by a one vote margin.

'Bombed' Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Idaho's penal system is the subject of a scathing attack in a book entitled "Parole with Honor," written by William La Roe, Jr., member of the District of Columbia board of parole.

La Roe pointed out that the Idaho parole board, consisting of the governor, secretary of state and attorney general is under political control. He asserted that a total of 174 applications for release were heard at a single hearing in October, 1938, making the time devoted to each case "extremely limited."

La Roe called Idaho "one of the backward states in the matter of parole." He said an applicant is required not only to give publicity to his application for release but for a period of four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation, but he is required to pay for the advertising out of his own pocket.

This cruel and archaic requirement proclaims to the whole world the applicant bears the stigma of conviction and broadcasts from the headlines his appeal just prior to his release," La Roe said. "This operates as a difficult handicap in the work of rehabilitation."

Another handicap to the successful rehabilitation of prisoners, according to La Roe, is the "substandard" condition of Idaho jails. Of 42 jails inspected by officials of the federal bureau of prisons, nine were given efficiency ratings between 50 and 59 per cent and 33 ratings under 50 per cent.

Laure Ingalls, ace woman pilot, faces the loss of her flying license following her "bombardment" of the capitol and White House with peace pamphlets. 28 GET RELEASE AT PENITENTIARY

BOISE, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Idaho board of pardons heard the end of its October session today with a total of 38 convicts granted release. The civil aeronautics authority threatened to take her license away.

Nine prisoners won freedom yesterday. Dramatic pleas from witnesses failed to move the board from its policy of refusing clemency to prisoners who have not served their minimum sentences.

Gov. C. A. Bottelstein said he would vote consistently against reduction of the minimum sentences of cattle rustlers. Those released Thursday were Ted Terwilliger, Ada county, forgery, straight pardon; A. L. Williams, forgers, Ada county, conditional pardon; Geo. A. Dauter, burglary, Canyon county, conditional pardon; Eddie Page, Canyon county, burglary, conditional; John Proffers, Ada county, burglary, pardon; John Kelley, Nez Perce, forgers, conditional; Victor Becvar, Owyhee county, adultery, pardon; J. Fat Mr. Goering Loses Butter by British Blockade

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Great Britain has intensified what Germany calls a "hunger blockade" by depriving Field Marshal Hermann Goering, corrupt official heir of Hitler, and other Nazi chieftains of their private supplies of butter the ministry of information asserted today.

The Nazis had been getting butter in special parcels each week through a Bradford wool firm which has foreign connections, it was asserted, since the week before the war.

British intelligence agents found the butter was going to Cologne and thence to the Nazi leaders. It was said, and the supply was cut off.

Goering, in a speech, once urged Germans to be patriotic and lighten up their belts and endure sacrifices so Germany could rearm.

"Guns before butter," he exclaimed. "Butter makes you fat, so you are better off without too much of it."

Here's a fine way to use leftover biscuits, muffins or rolls: Scoop out the insides, butter the case well and fill it with a thick creamed vegetable, meat or chicken.

Presto!

Every woman a mealtime Magician... thanks to this QUALITY tuna!

WHITE STAR TUNA FISH

THERE'S many a magic culinary triumph you can "pull out of the hat"... if you use this superior quality tuna! For remember...there's no halfway quality in tuna! It's either delicious, tender, and rich in food value... or it isn't!

A tuna salad, a tuna cocktail, tuna en casserole, is either a brilliant success... or a dismal failure! So, take no chances, insist upon this well-known brand. Containing Vitamins "A" and "D", and Iodine, that effective preventive of nutritional goiter, it is a "rich" food, but not a "heavy" food; easy to digest; quick to assimilate. A "luxury" food at the price of "staple" foods!

CINCINNATI REDS MAP REVENGE IN HOME LOT

Junior Thompson Picked to Hurl In Ohio's Opener

ABOARD THE WORLD SERIES SPECIAL, EN ROUTE TO CINCINNATI, Oct. 6 (U.P.)—The Cincinnati Reds, like the small town boys who got fleeced by the city slickers, headed for home today, full of regrets but planning on revenge.

Beaten in the first two games of the world series by the New York Yankees, out hit, out fielded, and out pitched, the Reds limped toward the hills of home with a grim look on their faces. Tomorrow, they hope, will be another day.

A great crowd, fighting as a mother's heart, waited for them in Cincinnati. Their two best pitchers have been beaten. The Yankees have hammered down their morale, and all Cincinnati has left to throw into the battle is Junior Thompson, a rookie who has just completed his first year in big league baseball.

Score Four Straight

Curving into the valley of the Ohio is a triumphant train loaded with the Yankees, one of the greatest ball clubs ever put together. The song the Yankees sing as they speed closer to Coney Island and the third game of the series is an old familiar tune that has a chorus that runs "four straight and the battle's over."

SHARES

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (U.P.)—Two game total world series statistics follow:

Attendance, 118,332.
Gross receipts, $445,050.00.
Commissioner's share, $66,758.70.
Players' share, $229,792.38.
Club's share, $75,599.86.
League's share, $75,599.86.

The Yankees have looked like champions all the way. When a pitcher faltered for a moment, sparkling fielding saved him. When their power hitters failed, up stepped a supposedly weak slater, like Babe Dahlgren to blast a double or a home run. Two more airmen pitched, Red Ruffing and Monte Pearson, have given up six stinging hits in the two games.

Won't Name Hurler

Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees, usually a chronic worrier, slept soundly last night as the battle shifted to the west. He was undecided who he would start in tomorrow's game. The best guess is that Bump Hadley, veteran right hander, will get the call, although there is a chance that Oral Hildebrand may be sent into action. McCarthy still has Steve Sundra, Max Baer, Alvin Dark, and Johnny Murphy, one of the best relief pitchers in baseball.

Firemen Take 3 Out of 4 From Lumber

Iron Firemen took three out of four points from Twin Falls Lumber company in the City League bowling last night. The Firemen won the second and third games and total points, with Henry Wendling alone leading the way with a three-game total of 310 and a high single of 180.

Tips for the losers was Hicke, who shot a 306, with Alsworth getting the top single—108.

In the Commercial league, the Elks and Rego Mink split even with the Bull club taking the first game and high total plus for the evening—by a margin of 10 points. Top scoring for the evening was by A. Kitcher, who won the first game, and an impressive 306 three-game series and a high single of 231. Fred led the Elks club with a total of 330 and a single of 211.

Five Teams Gun for Comeback Seasons on Coast

Score One for the Cameraman on This Action Shot!

Here's a baseball action picture for the fan's family album! Reds scored first in 4th but Yank powerhouse crashed right back in 5th and made it one-all. Above, Red catcher Lombardi makes a futile swipe at Joe Gordon as Yank second baseman slides home with tying run. Babe Dahlgren's double brought him in. Umpire McGowan is calling the play. Yanks won in 5th, 2 to 1.

Spectators and Spectacle at First Game

That old familiar roar went up from 58,621 fans in New York's Yankee stadium as the above picture was snapped. Yankee hurler Red Ruffing had thrown the first ball of the 1939 World series. Bill Wether, lead-off man for the Cincinnati Reds, had just squared it for the tying run for a long fly—into the ample hands of leftfielder—Seckler for the first out. Game was light ball and a 5th inning, 2 to 1, victory.

Last week the Elks got away. This week they left two—but then the 6th season is open anyway. An even break between Elks and Rego Mink, Elks winning second and third game and Rego Mink the first.

At Kitcher, the pupa of the Rego Mink, with a 306 total took high three-game and high single, took high single, also my dollar for high single game for the week for the Commercial league.

San Ben Kitcher got a 312 total. The rest of the Mink Mink were below par. John Ford led the Elks with a 306, but Hugh Boone pushed him all the way with a 332. John's 311 last game was their top single, other Elks were down.

City league play for the week ended with the boys from Trenchum club in the lead. They won last night's play taking three out of four from the Twin Falls Lumber. Henry Wendling at anchor led the district crew was the best. He led 310 in his credit. He also checked in 180 in single game. Joe Alsworth of the Wood Butte club was right behind him with 161.

Mike Hicke, another millman, was high for his team with 306. Fred Stone, who hit 300, was high for the Elks with 300. Hicke, who hit 300, was high for the Elks with 300.

BOULDER, Colo., Oct. 6 (U.P.)—The Utah State Aggies arrived in Boulder, Colo., today and took a slight workout in anticipation of their first major test of the season Saturday with the Colorado university Buffs. Out to even the score following their upset 20 to last year at the hands of the Aggies, the Buffs will enter the game virtually on a par with the States.

PROVO—Eddie Kimball, BYU mentor, said today he would rely on three triple-threat backs Saturday when his team meets Colorado State. Kimball indicated he would continue the wide open, tazzle-dazzle type of play which enabled the Cougars to defeat last season's team two weeks ago.

SALT LAKE CITY. Still without tangible knowledge of what Wyoming's Cowboy gridders will pull out of the bag Saturday, Coach Lee Atwood of Utah concluded this week's workday today. Girls May Earn Cup Points by Role in Sports

A new system by which Twin Falls high school girls may earn points for their class toward the championship cup by participating in sports has been presented to the student council by the girls' athletic department, Miss Madeline Carvin announced today.

Under the new system, each girl who participates in a group sport, such as basketball or volleyball, will earn for her class five points. In addition, the winning team will be given 25 points.

For individual sports, tennis, badminton, deck tennis and others, winners in the tournament in which they will receive 50 points for first place, and runners-up will receive 25 points, but no individual point will be awarded.

It is hoped that this system will encourage more girls to take part in the sports program of the school, following the emphasis which is being laid this year on every girl's participating in at least one sport.

Oregon, Oregon State And St. Mary's Play 1938 Upset Winners

By JAMES SULLIVAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6 (U.P.)—It's pay-off time in Pacific coast college football tonight and tomorrow with five teams, on the upgrade this year, hoping to settle for past defeats at hands of coast and intercollegiate rivalries. The program offers 32 games for the two days in the far west.

The teams seeking and likely to get revenge, if the football follows form, are the Texas Aggies, College of Pacific, St. Mary's of Oregon State and University of Oregon.

The Aggies meet Santa Clara in San Francisco tonight in a major intercollegiate in which Homer Norton's boys from the Lone Star state plan to make the Broncos pay for that one-touchdown defeat last year. Santa Clara did want to get a 7-7 tie with Utah last week.

In the other feature game tonight Amos Alonzo Stagg, who topped his 50th year of coaching with a 6-0 win over California, sends his College of Pacific Tigers against Loyola to pay off for last defeat. Loyola gave the Staggmen last year.

Oregon Over Idaho

The thirteenth crowd fought battle tomorrow in St. Mary's, coached by Slip Madigan and beaten two years running by California. The Gaels are a 2 to 1 favorite to wallop California tomorrow.

Oregon State, on top of its 12-0 win over Stanford, aims to settle with Idaho at Corvallis for a 1938 setback. Idaho, lucky to get by Montana State 7-6, seems due for a licking.

University of Oregon remembers that Stanford gave the Webfoots their first 1938 defeat and in their conference game at Portland tomorrow the Webfoots, fresh from a 7-7 tie with championship U.S.C., stands to win over the Palo Alto elks.

Cougars Play U.S.C.

Apart from the revenge theme, the Cougars for keeps take the same, U.S.C. meets Washington State at Los Angeles and aims to take it out of the Cougars for last week's disappointing Oregon tie, and U.C.L.A. makes its bid at Seattle for conference top ranking over a Washington team which Pittsburgh crushed.

Other games include:

FRIDAY: Omaha-Montana State, Whittemore-Portland, College of Idaho-Albion, Greeley-Colorado Mines.

SATURDAY: Texas Tech-Gonzaga, Utah-Wyoming, Montana-San Francisco, Brigham Young-Colo State, Boise JC-East Oregon Normal, Whitworth-Lewiston Normal and Colorado-Idaho State.

Two of Aussie Davis Cup Players Lose

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 6 (U.P.)—Two top-ranking Australians—defending champion Harry Hopman and Jack Crawford—were missing today as the quarter-finals opened in men's singles play of the Pacific Coast tennis championships.

Davis cup Captain Hopman bowed before Wayne Sabin, of Portland, Ore., 6-1, 1-6, 8-3.

Frankie Parker, Los Angeles, knocked out Jack Crawford, the other Australian victim, 10-8, 3-6, 6-3.

One of the tournament's most exciting battles ended with Bobbie Riggs, Chicago, wearing down Robert Peck, University of California, 10-12, 6-2, 6-4.

Two other Australian Davis cuppers were still in the running. Adrian Quist won over Amade Stacks, of the Philippine Davis cup team, and Jack Bromwich defeated Gene Smith, Berkeley.

IT'S NOT TOO EARLY FOR "ZERONE" ANTI-FREEZE

You know cold weather is coming. It may hit without warning. Why take a chance? Put in a couple of quarts of Zerone. That way you protect your cooling system against the dangers of rust and corrosion, and get anti-freeze protection against sudden cold snaps. Zerone is an unusually effective anti-rust as well as an anti-freeze.

When winter gas down (typical business), Zerone is perfect for your temperature. A total of six quarts, put in at once, will protect your engine with an average six cooling system quarts for the entire year. And six quarts cost only $1.94 (Get some today. Only $1.94 a gallon, 6 quarts).

Bruins and Braves Clash on Slippery New Field Tonight

The Bruins of Twin Falls and the Braves of Boise tangle tonight on rain-drenched Lincoln field and from all appearances, with the going promised to be of the "mucky" type. It will be a battle of the lines, or, if you want it that way, the "lions."

The game is set to start at 8 p. m. under the lights at the new stadium and may go a long way toward determining just what chance the Twin Falls club has in going very far in its quest for a state championship.

We note where Mike Coster, Arizona coach, takes a healthy rap at Bernie Bernstein, Minnesota mentor, for that $2-0 beating the Gophers handed to the Arizona club, supposed to be a power in that section.

Now, among coaches as a general rule, it is an unwritten law not to pile up a score on the losing club, thereby humiliating the youngsters playing on the team and possibly jeopardizing the coach's job. However, occasionally the members of one club are just too good for the opposition and the coach can do nothing about it.

In looking over the results of the game and the general story we note that Coach Bernstein used some 60 players—nearly all full teams—challenging up the victory. Now it would appear to this corner that he did everything possible to keep that score down, but that it just happened he had about six teams that were better than the Arizona club. And when a coach sends in youngsters who are working day and night to earn a place on the varsity club, whether they are on the second or fifth team, they are going to do

Pilots' Ace

JACK NEWELL

... Ace Glenn Ferry backfired man, who will lead his high school club against the Wendell Troup team today. Newell piloted his team to a 4-0 victory over the Class A Buhl Indians last week-end.

The third checked out of that area yesterday morning. By tonight today it was expected that about 225 deer would have been taken out of the Minto deer forest, according to Grove Davis, conservation officer, first class, in charge of the special hunt in that section.

Mr. Davis reported that no accidents had taken place up to now today, thus keeping a long record clean.

While the special hunt in the Minto deer forest was attracting the big percentage of the sportmen for quick kills, quite a few were trekking back into the mountains in Blaine county to track down animals on hunts that usually took a longer time. Among these were Henry Molony, Twin Falls, and Harold O. Howe, Kimberly publisher.

In primitive areas "Way up in the primitive area were Lionel A. Dean, Twin Falls city councilman; Harry Heller, pilot; A. F. Oslund and Lamorne Stephens, Twin Falls. They made the trip by plane and Dean phoned back early today reporting that they had killed a deer, and Heller returned yet due to "sloopy" flying conditions. They were in the Salmon river country.

One of the bigger kills of the opening day was a 224-pound eight-point buck by A. Jennings, George A. Childs, Twin Falls county assessor, got a 180-pound seven-point buck. Sheriff Art Parker and Deputy Ed Hall returned with one animal and V. R. Borden, Twin Falls officer, and W. W. Lowery, senior sheriff deputy, were reported to have come in with their kill. Fred Perry, Twin Falls fire chief, returned with a deer. Others bagging deer in this section included L. C. Martin, Ed Hildner, A. J. Tom, Leonard Young, Fred H. Hotchler, Ivan Mock, Harry Hamilton, Jack A. Johnson, Lamar Hewlett and Chas. Gordon. Later today two more bucks were taken back to Twin Falls before noon yesterday.

Hunters from Butley, Rupert, Joyner, Pier, Gooding, Buhl and other communities also bagged deer.

their best to do something to catch the coach's eye.

Therefore, they are going to play their hardest and when a sixth-string sub gets a chance to intercept a pass he's not going to stop right there and wait to be tackled. Instead, he's going to light out for the goal line and chalk up a 75-yard run if at all possible. That's the only way he can make a name for himself—his one fleeting glimpse at glory, maybe, during his entire college career.

But, in the first place, the Arizona booked that game solely to collect a nice purse and didn't expect to win. They did plan a nice trip for the team to Minneapolis and a nice chunk of gold in the athletic fund—no beating a dead horse that would have been welcomed.

If the small schools still want to be fed to the lions in "Pacifier" title, then they should be able to take what they expected, to get without waiting about it in spirit.

Mac Suggests Handicap of Yanks To Make World Series Even

By HENRY McKENNORE

CINCINNATI, Oct. 6 (UP)—The suggestion has been made by more than one fair-minded citizen that some sort of a handicap be worked out for the New York Yankees in order that the national league teams which meet them in the world series each fall will have a chance.

At the risk of being stoned on the spot, here in this town where the Reds are revered and looked upon as a race of de-fanged snakes, I must admit I think the suggestion is a sensible one. And I believe even the most rabid devotee of the Reds in this city would agree, too, had he witnessed the first two games of the present series in New York.

To date the Reds haven't won a game. In two games their total hits is six and runs one. The Yanks, on the other hand, have won two games, made 26 hits and scored six runs. The superiority of the Yankees in world series competition with National league clubs didn't just start day before yesterday. They've been outperforming National league teams for several years, and their last 25 games have won 22. Incidentally, two of the three games they have lost were won by Carl Hubbell, which just goes to show that a helluva man out there on the mound of Carlos was.

Several means of handicapping the Yankees have been suggested. One man, obviously a follower of the horses, suggested they be made to race against the Reds. Another thoroughbred is made to carry weight to bring him down to the level of platers. This last is a good idea, however, the Yankees could still win on home runs like the stands on which they wouldn't have to run.

Then there were the obvious suggestions, such as hitting the Yankees to two out in a inning, hitting the Reds to two out in a inning, making Joe DiMaggio bat one-handed, allowing the opposition batmen to call for the kind of pitch they want. Just as they were allowed to do in the old days, starting the Yankees' opponents with three runs; limiting the double plays of Gordon and Clegg to two a game; making it compulsory for Dickey to skip, which just goes to show that the Yankees to play Berger in left field.

There are all good, but I don't think any of them would completely offset the advantage the present New York machine has over the other teams. If it were left to me to devise a handicap to impose I believe I would make the Yankees and the other team chase up sides before the game started.

Now, before I make a public and, probably, a hot, appearance in Cincinnati, let me remind you of my world series prediction of a week ago: The Reds to win one game, with Junior Thompson the winning pitcher. Junior, ready thyself!
