

CHAMBERLAIN TO LEAVE DOOR OPEN FOR PEACE MOVE

ENGLISH LEADER MAPS REJECTION OF HITLER PLEA

By FREDERICK KUH
LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was said in usually reliable sources today to be prepared to reject Adolf Hitler's peace terms but willing to leave the door wide open for a more acceptable offer from Germany.

The prime minister, who addresses the house of commons tomorrow, is expected to refrain from presenting any allied counter-proposals.

In line with the speech by French Premier Edouard Daladier yesterday refusing Hitler's terms, Chamberlain will place responsibility on the Nazi ruler for tendering reasonable proposals or facing the consequences, it was understood.

The government, which today welcomed Polish Foreign Minister August Zaleski to London to confer on war aims and on formation of a Polish fighting legion, was believed to have decided to delay any complete statement on the allied war aims.

Last week it had been indicated the allies would soon announce a statement of their war aims, said to have been tentatively drafted. But consultations with the French appeared to indicate the Paris government considers the moment inopportune. Chamberlain presumably has deferred to the French viewpoint.

Typical of newspaper comment was in the Daily Express under the headline "Daladier Trumps Hitler's Plea." The Express recalled of Hitler's threat that nobody could stop Germany, the former German ruler's statement on Oct. 10, 1934: "Woe to those who resist us."

Pace Hit by Glamor Debutante Awes This Rodeo-Riding Cowgirl

By RUTH MILLETT

Hard-riding, calf-roping, good-looking Sydna Yokley of Lazy-L ranch, a "glamor" girl from the Lone Star state, turned up her pretty nose when she was asked, "How would you like to swap places with a New York debutante?"

She looked puzzled, when the typical day of a New York deb of the Brenda Frasier "school" was outlined for her.

The debutante pulls herself out of bed at noon.

She lunches at the Stork Club or "21," catching up on the gossip of the night before and giving the society reporters a chance to notice what she is wearing.

Then she takes time out for shopping or beauty repairs. After that, the dance or cocktails—with lots more small talk.

Dinner at a supper club (one where she will be photographed) and on to more night clubs.

Home at 4 or 5 a. m. to sleep again until noon, the beginning of another day.

Sydna, who is busy these days roping calves at the rodeo in Madison Square Garden, shook her head. She didn't think "she could stand the pace"—and she wouldn't like that sort of life, anyway.

Just to show how a 17-year-old Texas ranch girl lives around the clock, Sydna obligingly outlined her day.

Up at six a. m. (about the time the New York deb is drifting off to sleep).

Into her overalls and high-heeled boots and out to wrangle the horses.

Back for breakfast—good and hungry—and ready to start the day.

A day of riding, looking at the stock, looking at the fences, checking such things as the windmill, the salt trough, riding the fence.

With lunch time, a little rest—and then the same thing over again on another part of the 24,000-acre herd father owns. In a day that may mean 40 or 50 miles of riding.

But we trot our horses; we don't gallop them the way cowboys do in the movies," Sydna points out.

Dinner is a hearty meal after a day in the open, not a social occasion.

After dark, Sydna sometimes rides "for the joy of it." Bugles in bed by nine or 10, unless it's the night of the monthly dance at Cananda—the nearest town.

"Take your choice—colorful ranch girl or glamorous debutante. Or maybe you'd rather take life easy and just be a plain working girl."

"I couldn't stand the pace," said Sydna Yokley (right), of Texas, when told of the crowded social life of a metropolitan society deb such as Brenda Frasier, pictured in insert.

NAVY ATTRACTS 5 YOUTHS HERE

Five youths from this section of Idaho were tentatively accepted for service with the United States navy, it was announced today by M. D. Davis, local recruiting officer with headquarters in the post office building.

The recruits are scheduled to leave here about Nov. 1 for training at San Diego, Calif. If accepted there they will be forwarded to San Diego, Calif., and the training station.

The youths accepted are Paul L. Vanderpool, Paul, Daniels D. Senften, Castleford; John Curtis Landreth, Eden; Richard Hansing, route three, Twin Falls; and Donald Clare Harding, route two, Twin Falls.

Bellevue Youth Hurt in Accident

BELLEVUE, Oct. 11 (Special)—Arlo Buhler, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Buhler, Bellevue, was seriously injured Friday in an automobile accident which occurred near Park City, Utah. He sustained concussion and lacerations and was still unconscious in a Salt Lake hospital.

The accident occurred when a milk truck, swerving to avoid a car which cut in front of it, crashed head on with the car in which Arlo was riding with his cousin of Salt Lake City. Three other persons were less seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. William Buhler and daughter Joyce, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buhler left for Salt Lake when they were informed of Arlo's condition.

Friday Nighters Schedule Session

JEROME, Oct. 11 (Special)—Miss Lillian Scott and Miss Dorothy Stafford will be hostesses to the Friday Nighters, young adult group sponsored by the Jerome Presbyterian church, Friday evening at Miss Scott's home.

The meeting begins at 7:30 p. m. and current events will be the subject for discussion, and each person is asked to bring one clipping from a paper or a magazine for the discussion. It has been announced.

Newly elected officers of the group are Mrs. Dean Ellis, program, and Miss Dorothy Stafford, secretary.

BRITISH TROOPS ON FRONT LINES

LONDON, Oct. 11 (AP)—Great Britain received the first official indication that her troops are in the fighting line in France today when War Secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha announced that 158,000 men had been transported across the English channel in the first five weeks of the war.

"At this moment they are busily engaged in fortifying their positions in the line," Hore-Belisha told the house of commons in a report on army activities.

"It is not only to France that British soldiers have been transported. The middle east has been strongly reinforced as have our garrisons elsewhere, both in material and men."

Hore-Belisha disclosed that men and materials—including British tanks of more than 15 tons—had been transported to France without any loss at a much faster pace than during the World War. All British defenses are being strengthened.

GO FOR PRISONER

IDAHO CITY, Ida., Oct. 11 (AP)—Sheriff Jack Tucker of Boise county and State Policeman Earl Comm were en route to Watsonville, Calif. today to return here for trial Orlando Mize, 48, farmer, charged with murder in the slaying of J. W. Clarke, 71, Horseshoe Bend service station proprietor, last July 5.

Three drops of skunk musk are sufficient to scent an area of about one square mile.

SCHOOL LEADERS FIGHT TRANSFER

Praising John Griffiths, WPA zone engineer who has been transferred to Gen county, the board of trustees of the Twin Falls school district has requested Sen. D. Worth Clark today to block the transfer ordered by state WPA headquarters.

The trustees wired Senator Clark Tuesday afternoon. They emphasized "wonderful work" carried out by Mr. Griffiths, and said that his removal will prove a serious handicap to projects here.

The telegram:

"We would appreciate your assistance in preventing transfer of John Griffiths from position of district supervisor of WPA at Twin Falls. Mr. Griffiths has done wonderful work and accomplished much here. He has full knowledge of our local conditions and requirements, and the wholehearted support and confidence of our people. His removal by state headquarters would seriously impair future WPA work in this vicinity. Trust you can prevent this change."

The wire was signed "board of trustees, independent school district, Twin Falls."

Cite Stadium Work

Action of the school leaders followed a resolution approved at the board's meeting Monday night. At that time the trustees and Supt. Homer M. Davis emphasized the valuable work Griffiths has done on the Lincoln stadium and on other school projects.

Griffiths has been succeeded here by Paul Nunneman, formerly of Boise.

War in Europe has caused increased vigilance by the border patrol along the United States-Mexico border. Powerful searchlights are used at night by patrolmen seeking particularly to prevent gun smuggling into Mexico.

Three Days Adrift

Adrift three days in a tiny boat without food or water, 15-year-old Joy Allen Duncan, of Richmond, Va., returned to the United States on the Holland-America liner.

Prepared to tell a thrilling story of the sinking of a Danish ship on which she was a passenger, Miss Duncan, with her aunt, was a passenger on the S. S. Ronda which struck a mine in the North sea Sept. 14. She was rescued with her aunt and members of the crew. Miss Duncan returned on the same boat with John Wells, Twin Falls L.D.S. missionary.

Bridge Ready

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—Though a militant Democrat, Congressman Edmond J. Lampron will be a principal figure in the dedication of Calvin Coolidge memorial bridge here Oct. 12. He led the common council movement to memorialize the late President six years ago.

The Missouri river is about twice the length of the upper Mississippi. Had it been discovered first, the Missouri probably would have been considered the principal source, with the present upper Mississippi as the tributary.

NO THOSE JAYCES ARE AT IT AGAIN, MEY?

Third Row:
After the Jaycees' funfest, put on by the "old men" (past presidents), the jays are now calling Bob Wren "dickie" because of his jaycees' ability. Ask him who. I don't know. Some kind of little, too, goes to Frank McGeehan. He proved himself probably the best witness ever summoned before an inquisition board. You might ask Frank about his testimony.

"They rang Joe-K in on the program, too, but you'll have to consult Joe on what kind of a title he wants for the discourse he presented on the stage."

"I could go on like this for an hour, but you wouldn't have room. As a punner, though, maybe you'd better investigate the home-coming and victory of the jays. 'Champion' Jeff Smith and 'Challenger' Bill McRoberts."

HIG LEGAL CONFERENCE,
ALL WET!

Dear Pot Expert:
Have you heard about The Case of the Mistreated Twin Falls Dog?

It seems somebody was a bit rough to a certain local man's pet dog. The owner got very indignant and decided by gum he'd sue the other guy.

He met a lawyer friend on the street downtown and mentioned his plan. He had just $10 at the time so he plunked that over for a retainer fee. The lawyer invited him in for a drink.

They enjoyed themselves thoroughly for a considerable spell on the dog owner's drink.

And thus the lawsuit hasn't materialized.

HOW TO BECOME A GREAT

Pot Shots has decided that a detective must be a gent who can take notice, multiply it by two, subtract three and arrest somebody.

Football

Up and down the field the opposing forces sweep, mightily and muddily contending. It is football time again, and America is intent on its favorite autumn game.

Is it inexplicable trivial, this preoccupation with the question of whether 11 men can move a ball across a bit of field while 11 others try to prevent them? Is it impertinent, even, while half the world burns?

No, we don't think so. These football players and those who watch them are getting what they have a right to expect of life—the right to play. The fact that a continent 3,000 miles away has muddled itself into a position where thousands bleed out their lives to capture no more ground than is gained by a good end run is nothing for these players, these spectators to be ashamed of. And nothing to be proud of either. It just happened. It was luck.

Keeping this blessed immunity will be something else again, something which we cannot trust to luck, but which will cost work, and thought, and struggle.

Bigger and Bigger

It has been noted before that big business is getting bigger. It seems to be inevitable, a part of the times, for in all lines the really big businesses have been growing bigger throughout the past 10 years, despite depression and despite all efforts to whittle them down. Even a country like Russia, which "went socialist"—what did it get? The biggest big businesses of all, in the form of vast, state-owned trusts. Bigness seems to go along with modern technology.

The United States now has its first $3,000,000,000 bank. It is New York's Chase National. Both the National City and the Guaranty Trust also show total resources of over two billions each. Yet it is only a few years ago that everybody gasped when the first banking institution announced total resources of over a billion.

Flow of funds from abroad has helped bring about such results. It is further proof that the United States is having dumped into its lap the financial leadership of the world. And further proof, too, that bigness itself probably cannot be abolished.

It's nice to stroll in the park these days with the assurance that leaves, dropping from tall trees, will neither explode in your face nor contain British propaganda.

CHAPTER XXXI

It was Thursday when Marian awoke from the train in Portland. She had a red cap carried by a maid offered to carry the baby. She shook her head, holding tight to the round-eyed infant. It was at that hour, arriving in the city from which Dan had mailed his brief letters was so important a step in her plan that it left her breathless.

She had been told of a quiet, inexpensive hotel, the St. Andrews. She stepped into a cab. Once she had been told of a quiet, inexpensive hotel, the St. Andrews. She stepped into a cab. Once she had been told of a quiet, inexpensive hotel, the St. Andrews. She stepped into a cab.

Along Broadway, finally out of the business district and up a slight incline, the top stood the St. Andrews Hotel. It had a landscaped garden and wide, inviting porch. The cab driver carried her to the hotel. She had much to do in the few days before Sunday. There was not a moment to be wasted.

Furnished apartments—she knew nothing of addresses. Consulting the clerk, she had much to do in the few days before Sunday. There was not a moment to be wasted.

"Yamhill," she read from her list. "That's a funny name for a street. Sounds like a potato." Passing an intersection, she saw "Yamhill" on the street sign. She laughed again. Turning right on Broadway, she walked west, looking for house numbers. Expecting to find a cheap building, she was puzzled to find the number she sought on a large frame house.

There was a woman with a rose bush in front of her house. She was looking for house numbers. Expecting to find a cheap building, she was puzzled to find the number she sought on a large frame house.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of the Idaho Medical Association.

Hot dog munchers in the United States consume an average of 35 a year. The figure is based on the fact that the average American consumes 35 hot dogs a year.

For a while the frankfurter was in the dog house. It was under suspicion of harboring and transmitting trichinae, a parasite which infests pork and which causes serious symptoms in the human body.

The U. S. department of agriculture recently completed a study of 175 federal inspected meat packing establishments in 30 different cities.

Under federal meat inspection regulations, frankfurters are processed in a manner that destroys the life of any trichinae that may be present. The government inspection covers only frankfurters that are sold in interstate commerce, and not those manufactured for local sale.

This inspection applies also to hamburgers which often contain frankfurters. The inspection covers only frankfurters that are sold in interstate commerce, and not those manufactured for local sale.

Cooking frankfurters and hamburgers so that the center is heated to at least 157° F. will destroy trichinae. Heat far beyond this is usually attained but occasionally when business is rushing, the frankfurters may be hastily cooked and not sufficiently heated in the center.

Persons who like their hamburgers rare should remember that the same rule applies to the hot dog. A well-done hamburger may not look like a hot dog, but it is the same thing.

Members of the Calvary Episcopal Church met at the home of Mrs. Louise Laren Friday. Following a brief business session, the women worked on the material for their Christmas bazaar.

At dinner time they loaded the long dining-room table from end to end. Huge bowls of mashed potatoes, beef and carrots, and altered tomatoes; three kinds of pickles and homemade catsup; trays of brown bread, gravy, yellow turkey, and cranberry sauce; platters of meat, plum sauce and dried fruit; peaches, apple pie, pumpkin, and cranberry sauce; and a table of cake all the while until it seemed as if the table legs would break under the weight.

Ten full served the table from end to end, saying: "Himmm. That was a good one. Let's eat, eat, eat."

The men laughed heartily then, because their stomachs were empty. A little later they would be laughing. And in the kitchen doorway Mrs. Laren beamed; one thing was certain, if anyone were hungry it was her own fault.

BRUCE CATTON

IN WASHINGTON

(Evening Times Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Unless plans now on file with the war department are profoundly modified, American labor will go under a registration-mobilization plan, and far-reaching as anything existing in Europe if the United States gets into another war.

Steps to meet labor's objections to these plans are now being taken by the war department. It has worked out a program for wartime labor control, plans to submit to leaders of the C. I. O. and A. F. of L. as well as to the government's various labor agencies for their approval, and hopes that it can eventually come up with a scheme which will give labor a voice in the registration-mobilization plan.

But while the department's officials are sincere in saying that they want a plan which can enjoy organized labor's hearty cooperation, the basic fact is that any such plan will rest on the foundation provided by the United States' famous industrial mobilization plan.

Under this plan, registration for the draft will proceed much along the lines of 1917-18. Men between 21 and 31 inclusive will be registered, and the ultimate limits would be 18 to 45.

Registration, a person would be classified in one of four groups: 1. Those immediately available for military service.

2. Those whose training is deferred because they are alien, because they are in prison, and so on. Local draft boards would do the classifying, and their decisions would be final.

3. Those whose training is deferred because they are alien, because they are in prison, and so on. Local draft boards would do the classifying, and their decisions would be final.

4. Those whose training is deferred because they are alien, because they are in prison, and so on. Local draft boards would do the classifying, and their decisions would be final.

Suppose, now, that a worker class deferred status under Class 2 as an essential worker in an essential industry. No industry would get blanket exemption such as was conferred on the shipyards in the last war.

Instead, the worker would have to present his draft board with two affidavits from the firm, one signed by the superior and the other from the executive head of the firm he worked for. These affidavits would have to state that the worker was essential to the firm's operations, and that his services were necessary to the war effort.

The employer would also have to submit an estimate of the length of time it would take him to train a substitute.

TIME LIMIT SET
ON DEFERRED STATUS
Suppose that the worker gets his deferred status in Class 2. He would not get it for the duration of the war, but for some specified period—three months, six months, a year, or whatever the board might determine. At the end of that time he would have to appear before the board again.

On top of this, the plan specifically authorizes the President, if he deems it necessary, to suspend the over-draft board classifications and call up men from Classes 2, 3 or 4.

How this machinery could be used to draw a union organization and regiment labor is obvious upon a little study.

LIVES-TIME FARM
OLD-TIME FARM
A tiny area bound together by lack of transportation facilities, lies again in Paul Carey's "Three Miles South of the River" (Merrell, $2.50). In his story of a farm, and the fortunes of a widow, her three sons and a daughter, Carey gives a fast-disappearing American scene, people it with friends and enemies, cultivates it with romances, quarrels, misunderstandings. Table for example, the threshers' dinner, described here:

All morning long very hot and humid, and the sun was beating down on the roof and the walls of the barn. The men were making pies and cakes and roasted beef and prepared young chickens for the smoking.

Other days in the year they could go without the good food because they must sell their trying chickens and their pigs to make money. But on this day they were not to do that. They were to eat, eat, eat.

CIO SETS GOAL OF 10,000,000 MEMBERS BY 1945

LEWIS SUPPORTS ROOSEVELT WITH NEUTRALITY AIMS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Congress of Industrial Organizations today pledged itself to a vast organizational drive and in effect challenged the numerical strength of the American Federation of Labor by setting a goal of 10,000,000 dues-paying members by 1945.

Delegates to the second annual national CIO convention divided into committees today to transact convention business which included the drafting of resolutions on such subjects as neutrality, labor legislation and the 1940 presidential campaign.

No Peace Overtures
The convention apparently was in no mood for peace overtures to the A. F. L. President John L. Lewis struck the keynote on the issue of labor unity when he said:

"Some persons quite keenly interested in labor peace didn't give a tinker's damn about labor's problems until the CIO came into existence."

Lewis gave full support to President Roosevelt's neutrality program. He said the wording of the neutrality act was of secondary importance and that "war will not come because congress may juggle words."

Fights Predatory Interests
Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader accused of Communist affiliation in a deportation hearing this summer, told the convention that the CIO, in order to achieve its ends on the west coast, had been forced to fight "predatory interests and the practices and customs of frontier days."

Gov. Culbert Olson of California outlined his proposals for liberal legislation and announced he definitely will propose a one-house legislature for California next year.

NAZIS LOSE HOPE FOR PEACE PLAN

BERLIN, Oct. 11 (AP)—Nazis lost hope today that the allied governments would consent to negotiate on the basis of the "peace" terms of Adolf Hitler. But the German man in the street, after nearly two weeks of high pressure peace propaganda, still clung to the belief that Great Britain and France would agree that there was "nothing worth fighting about."

French newspaper editorials said last night, believed to have been approved by the British government, seemed to leave no room for any hope that the allies had weakened.

Nazi newspapers, which had led the campaign for peace, and published every little item which indicated that the allies did not want to fight or that some neutral might step in, now admitted that peace was unlikely.

JUDGE FILES ON BAR ASSOCIATION

BOISE, Oct. 11 (AP)—Judge Charles E. Winstead today filed an order for Sam S. Griffin, secretary of the Idaho State Bar Association, to show cause, Oct. 21, why he should not be compelled to allow J. H. Pelton, Moscow attorney, to examine the records on Pelton's disbarment proceedings.

The Idaho supreme court recently dismissed the disbarment proceedings against Pelton filed by the bar association. Pelton said Griffin refused to allow him access to the bar commission's files despite the fact they are public records.

Wealthy Young Convict Flees From Georgia With His Bride

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 11 (AP)—Richard Gallegly, 30, fugitive from a Georgia prison, complained today that his family's wealth and social prominence had made him a Georgia cause celebre which precluded any chance for parole or pardon.

That was his conclusion, he said, when he fled with his bride of a few months from the custody of two prison guards near Atlanta last Friday and drove to Dallas where he surrendered yesterday to Sheriff Snoot Schmidt.

He said he would fight, through all the Texas courts if necessary, to prevent his return to Georgia for fulfillment of the life sentence imposed on him for complicity in the murder of Willard Smith, a drug store clerk, during a holdup in 1935.

He told authorities here he had been unjustly convicted because he didn't shoot Smith, that his schoolmate companion in the robbery, George Harsh, had shot him after himself being wounded by Smith.

He said he pleaded guilty because authorities agreed to give him sentence made no more than three years and then commuted. Harsh got a life sentence.

Gallegly, son of a wealthy Atlanta family, who turned to petty crime for thrills while a student at Oglethorpe university 11 years ago, escaped while being returned to

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Chaburn and family, Albion, and Miss Emma Marsh will have a "snow reminder" for next October.

Sunday they picnicked at Thompson flat in Howell canyon, and then took a hike through the snow down to Lake Cleveland.

NEW CONCORD, O. (AP)—J. White, of New Concord, is riding on his farm a wagon which has been in the family for 107 years. His father had the wagon built to his orders in 1832 when the family was living near Washington, Penn.

Knights of Columbus Plan Oct. 12 Dance

It's really too bad that Christopher Columbus can't rediscover America, for what a "happy landing" he would receive anywhere in the United States, come Oct. 12.

And particularly would he enjoy the Columbus day dance at which the Twin Falls council, Knights of Columbus, will entertain tomorrow evening at the Elks ballroom, dancing to begin at 9:30 o'clock, and the public is invited to join the K. of C. in the fun.

Columbus, that invincible explorer whose curiosity and faith in his three small sailing vessels and crew made him "sail on" until he sighted the land of the Americas on Oct. 12, 1492—the place differing with various historians—is the patron figure of the Knights of Columbus organization.

A. C. Carter, who is chairman of the Columbus day dance, announced today that Ray Jennings and his 10-piece orchestra would play the dance music.

As an additional observance of the historical occasion, the Twin Falls and Rupert councils of K. of C. will sponsor a 15-minute broadcast at 11 p. m. with Rev. D. L. McElroy, pastor, to deliver the address on "Columbus."

Assisting Carter in arranging for the dance are George Sidel, Paul Quensen, Frank Oles and Forbes Patterson.

Pioneer Sources Have High Value In Writing Field

Writers of the west do not realize to the fullest extent the wealth of material to be found in the reminiscences of the colorful pioneers of this region, Stanley D. Jonassen, Boise, told attendees at the Idaho Writers' conference last week-end in Boise during the trade journal, radio script, contest and "pot boiler" section.

"Get out and get those stories, interview those rugged personalities that have made this section of the west before they die and their stories die with them," he admonished his audience.

Mr. Jonassen was formerly a continually writer for KSL, Salt Lake City, and prior to that was in the theatrical field.

Dr. Alan Hart, discussing trade journal, reminded the audience that it is essential to "boil down to bare facts" anything that is intended for trade journal publications, and to "leave out the stuff."

Mrs. E. A. Landon, Twin Falls, read a paper at the section on radio writing, and Mrs. R. Y. Jones, Twin Falls, winner of numerous contests, told of "Contesting." Mrs. Bea Foster Smith discussed "Pot Boilers."

The section was presided over by Mrs. Olive May Cook, Twin Falls, past president of the Idaho chapter, League of Western Writers.

Afternoon Guild of Ascension Episcopal church will meet Thursday, Oct. 12, at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. W. R. Friebe.

JUNIOR CHAMBER SELECTS WARNER

A new president was at the helm of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce today, one officer had been re-elected and two others had "traded" positions following the annual jaycee election meeting at the Park hotel last night.

The new lineup of leaders who will guide the Jaycees for 1939-40:

President—Robert H. Warner, advertising manager for the Times and News.

First vice-president—Lionel T. Campbell, attorney.

Second vice-president—Robert D. Werner, Ball Lake City newspaper correspondent.

Secretary—Tom Feavey, insurance broker, re-elected.

Treasurer—Jim Sinclair, affiliated with the First Federal Savings and Loan.

Directors—Frank McKee, dentist; Harold Lackey, Idaho Power employee; John Weaver, service station operator.

Warner immediately took over the chair from George Decker, retiring president. Most of the officers gave brief acceptance remarks.

The new president was chosen over Loyal Perry in the feature contest. Both have been members of the board of directors during the past year. Warner was a charter member of the Junior Chamber here when the organization sprang from the old Idaho club.

Tells of Achievements

Detweiler, prior to leaving office, submitted an annual report which sketched the extensive accomplishments of the past year, including final purchase of the 36-acre jaycee field, turning over the deed to the city, cooperation in erection of the baseball park and initiation of the move to purchase the remaining six acres in the 30-acre recreational development. Only the final transaction still remains before that purchase is completed.

Tom White, veteran treasurer for the Jaycees, read his annual report before leaving office. His summary showed the organization in highly solvent position although all funds now available—and considerably more—will be required in buying the last six acres near Harmon park.

Tells of Benefit

Mayor Joe Koehler spoke briefly at the session, recounting the disastrous fire that wrecked the Lee Laraby home Tuesday morning and seriously damaged the adjoining residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Rigby. Since Mr. and Mrs. Rigby are 67 and 65 years old, a subscription move to assist them is underway and Koehler stated at the session, which was attended by over 50 persons, including auxiliary members, was William R. Weller, Twin Falls, Idaho department commander. A business session of the local post came before the district meet.

Other speakers at the district meeting included Glen Watkins, Ogden, Utah, rehabilitation officer, and also George Faust, Salt Lake City, national chaplain and national rehabilitation officer.

During their talks they pointed out the various facts concerning the legislative program of the organization and also the importance of rehabilitation.

Representatives of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars were present to hear the guest speakers.

Following the session, a Dutch luncheon was served. The social hour was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. John Badach, Mrs. W. C. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Van Ausdell and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lawson.

Pat Branch assisted the committee as artist for sketches which introduced numbers.

"Progs" included everything from decoy ducks to a canoe paddle.

NAMES in the NEWS

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt is 55 years old today but it's "just another day" to the First Lady. One exception will be made in her regular daily routine of tea, luncheon and lectures—a family celebration with a birthday cake in accordance with the Roosevelt family's custom.

Prince Ernst, husband of Star-Helmberg, former vice-chancellor of Austria who fled when Adolf Hitler seized his country, has been deprived of his citizenship and his property confiscated.

Richard Barthelmess held Hollywood police that a burglar prowled through his home, even into the bedroom where the movie actor and his wife were sleeping, and stole $500 last night.

A "30 every Thursday" initiative will be put before the state of Washington voters next year according to former state representative Clyde O. Taylor of Seattle.

Lord Beaverbrook, London publisher, had luncheon with President Roosevelt, but denied the European war was even mentioned in their conversation.

Marlin Chaucery, secretary of the Washington, D. C., unit of the Communist party, has asked Attorney-General Frank Murphy to investigate the "Wall Street Journal" and "disfranchise" holders of the Dies committee.

Piana of Pope Plus XII to create an anti-Communist bloc suffered a setback when it was reported France and England were not willing to take any action at present against Russia which might force that country closer to Germany.

George Dillburn, a "man without a country" since he left Germany in 1933 to escape "Hitlerism," hate and uncertainty" is in San Francisco after vagabonding 60,000 miles in his 28-foot keel.

Seven of the more than 900 cuttings performed by Robert O. Elliott, who died yesterday, received national and even international attention. They were Bacon and Vainelli, Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray, Irene Schroeder and Ozzie Deagie, and Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

Remove Fire Cause, Chief Urges Business Men Here

DAV Official Urges U. S. to Work at Home

Urging Americans not to attempt European interference but rather to "do their best at home," Carl S. Halverson, national junior vice-commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, was principal speaker at a district meeting of that organization here last night.

Halverson spoke at the American Legion hall. Presiding at the session, which was attended by over 50 persons, including auxiliary members, was William R. Weller, Twin Falls, Idaho department commander. A business session of the local post came before the district meet.

Other speakers at the district meeting included Glen Watkins, Ogden, Utah, rehabilitation officer, and also George Faust, Salt Lake City, national chaplain and national rehabilitation officer.

During their talks they pointed out the various facts concerning the legislative program of the organization and also the importance of rehabilitation.

Representatives of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars were present to hear the guest speakers.

INDICTMENTS HIT U-P MINING RATE

POCATELLO, Ida., Oct. 11 (UP)—Fifteen counts of indictment against the Union Pacific railroad for alleged conspiracy to restrain interstate commerce in the vicinity of Mackay, Ida., were on file today in district court.

A federal grand jury issued the indictments Tuesday. Eleven counts involved the Clayton silver mine, two the Hammond mine and two the Dunn and Malin company.

They asserted the railroad failed to charge the mining companies scheduled minimum freight rates.

Remove Fire Cause, Chief Urges Business Men Here

As National Fire Prevention week today reached the half-way mark, Fire Chief Fred Perry called on local businessmen to assist in the drive designed to remove fire causes.

"Even though store materials are entirely covered by insurance, a fire will mean untold losses," Chief Perry said. "Clerks will lose money, customers cannot come into a store if it isn't there, and many personal items which may be in the store cannot be replaced in some instances. In addition, there is always the spectre of a person or persons losing their lives."

Simple Rules

"All this can be prevented by caution on the part of local merchants and also by following simple rules."

Some of the rules given by Chief Perry, which are of special interest to downtown and neighborhood merchants, were listed this afternoon. They follow:

- 1—Don't run drop cords over nails and ceiling lights. Have an electrician do your wiring.
- 2—When storing crates and boxes in basements be sure they are stacked 'heel and not around or under the basement stairs.
- 3—Keep all cleaning rags and oil mops in metal cans.
- 4—See that paper cans in the alley have lids and are kept in good order.
- 5—See that all fire extinguishers are checked and refilled yearly.
- 6—Have your heating plants inspected and cleaned. See that flue and water haven't accumulated in hot air pipes.
- 7—See that rubbish is cleaned from under elevators and chutes.
- 8—Don't store boxes in wooden boxes or dump them on the basement floor. Use metal containers.
- 9—Be sure fire escapes and exits are open and in good shape.

By HARRY GRAYSON
CINCINNATI—Well, Ford Christopher Frick and National League in general will have to stand another winter of good-natured kidding as the result of another world series.
The National really does look like another minor league rat out of its world series record against the Yankees, who since 1927 have bagged 15 of 20 world series engagements for a percentage of 75.
Why, the Colonel James don't beat the Browns that badly.
The world champions haven't been chosen about their opponents either. They've taken them all on... right down the line... four straight from the Pirates, Cardinals and Cubs, four out of five from the Giants, four out of five from the Polo Grounders, four straight from the Braves a year ago, and this trip the once rampant Reds.

Price of Grid Experts Reduced After Early Season Upsets, Says Mac

UISB Gridmen Prepare for Coastal Club

POCATELLO, Oct. 11 (Special).—Most of the necessary repairs made, the Idaho Southern University football team is ready to meet its foe, the strong Compton Junior college of California. Pias will be in the big local stadium at 2:30 p. m. Saturday.

The locals came through a tough encounter with Greeley State, the team that wallowed Colorado college 20-0 last Saturday, the club which once boasted Dutch Clark as a sparkplug, putting up a game but futile effort, losing 13-0 to the visitors.

With injuries mending, but coach and stars still out of play, Coach Guy Wickes has been drilling Idaho Southern griders on defense and offense, promising a variety of stuff when Compton comes to town.

Several shifts are to be made in the starting lineup and two speedy runners are to be held in reserve for insertion at the backfield.

Freeman are developing rapidly, among them: Ray Scott, Dean Lamont, Ashton, Woody Erickson, Downer, and John Woffington, Pocatello.

Loren Eaton of Shelly is out for the season with a chipped ankle. He will be back for the next game.

Probable Lineups

To see a lot of action will be Cliff Brandt, Boise, and Norman Nelson, Bequm, Wash.

White Sox Cop City Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 11 (UP)—The American League closed the books on the baseball season with another victory today and the credit goes to the powerful Yankees who almost conquered the record market this year, but to the fourth-place White Sox.
