

SOVIET, FINLAND CONTINUE TO STUDY NEGOTIATIONS

SOLDIERS GUARD BORDER AGAINST RUSSIAN ATTACK

By NORMAN B. DEUEL
HELSINKI, Finland, Oct. 13 (AP)—An official statement today said that Soviet Russia's proposals to Finland were being studied calmly but that the situation in the north Baltic zone was viewed as serious.

The proposals made to Finland in the first conversations at Moscow were as to make possible continuation of the conferences, it was stated. The second talk was arranged for this afternoon.

Three hundred thousand Finnish soldiers manned the nation's defenses and another 150,000 civilian volunteers were ready for action.

No definite news of the Finnish public was increasing concern about the lack of definite news regarding the negotiations at Moscow. Evacuation of Helsinki continued. All Finnish bishops united in an appeal to the nation to remain courageous and calm.

Failure of Germany to permit transmission facilities for a radio by Foreign Minister J. E. Erkko, who wanted to broadcast the government's peace desires to America, was strongly resented in all circles. It was emphasized the speech contained nothing offensive to any nation.

Blame for the German program was cancelled because of a surprise German attack on Poland scheduled to take place tomorrow. The American broadcasting companies did not want the musical program to be interrupted. Germany did not desire to rely "merely a political speech."

The speech of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain yesterday was carried fully in the press. The Helsingfors Bladelet said: "Chamberlain's words were not said in any state of pessimism and he was even more optimistic when he said that Great Britain and France were masters of the ocean."

Porpoise Plays Despite Grim U-Boats, Says John Wells, L. D. S. Missionary

By G. A. KELKER

Guns may thunder fire in Europe, men and women may fight for their country, submarines may continue to sink unarmed merchantmen—but despite all this the porpoise still plays in the Atlantic.

This fact is one of the sidelights contained in a "day by day" diary which John H. Wells, former student at the Twin Falls high school and also the University of Idaho, southern branch, sent to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anna H. Wells, 605 Highland avenue, on his return from New York City.

Young Wells was serving in the German navy on the U. S. S. church when the war came and, along with other missionaries, he was forced to return home. He had been in the field for six months. Arriving in New York City he was assigned to the Kentucky mission field, where his father labored for three years. He is now headquarters at 1440 St. James court, Louisville, Ky.

Through means of the day by day diary, Wells was able to inform his parents as to "just what happened" aboard ship during the trip across the Atlantic, which the wireless picked out of the air and which was posted on the bulletin board.

One of the most interesting parts of the diary is the beginning. The following is taken from the diary:

Sept. 28 (second day out of Belgium): "Got up this morning a little before seven and had breakfast at eight. We are now going through some very treacherous waters, passing through the North sea and the English channel. It is in these waters where most of the ships have been torpedoed and have struck mines. Believe you me, it gives a fellow a peculiar feeling, realizing the danger zone at hand. We should be in the danger zone for a couple of days at least, until we get off the coast of Ireland and well into the Atlantic."

"This afternoon we had a life boat drill at which all passengers had to don their life belts for inspection. We were assigned life boats and also given definite instructions of what to do in case the ship was hit by a torpedo or hit a mine. They are really not taking any chances."

Enormous Guns
"At the present time (1:30 p. m.) we are close to the English shore and have seen a good many English coast defense ships with enormous guns. In fact, two large gun carriers just passed within half a mile of this ship (the M. S. Fernand) and were going so fast that it seemed they passed us while we were standing still. This is truly an experience I shall never forget."

Regarding the third day out (Sept. 27) Wells wrote in part: "At 10 a. m. the missionaries (56 of us) held a short meeting with all passengers invited to attend. We decided to hold a short meeting each morning while on board."

"When I woke this morning we were anchored in the Southampton harbor waiting for British inspection of the ship."

Bombers Fly Always
"I have never seen so much war machinery before. British bombers are constantly flying over us, so low that they almost knock the paint off the masts of the ship. The English have a strong coast defense without a doubt. Many, many British gunners are always passing us on the water. Also the many balloons hanging in mid-air over the coast towns. These balloons are filled with helium gas and have cables from them to the ground as a protection against planes which might raid them."

Out of Danger

JOHN WELLS
Local L. D. S. missionary who wrote his parents a "day by day" diary of his trip back from Europe. The above photograph of young Wells was taken in Germany.

"We are still in dangerous waters. About two hours ago we passed a British submarine which certainly gave us a scare. We could see it coming in the distance and couldn't distinguish for a while just what flag she was flying. Thank goodness she was British and not a German. What a thrill!"

"The sea is smooth today but the ship still has a tendency to toss a bit, but I'm getting so much that I haven't the least feeling of getting sick. What a great contrast to the sea I have been used to eating in Germany. Am really making up for lost time."

The Porpoise School
On the fourth day out (Sept. 28) Wells told of seeing the porpoise, as follows:

"While we were enjoying some afternoon sunbathing, a large porpoise school was sighted. They were leaping high out of the water and making rapid progress forward."

Wells said that the ship was forced to make the return trip of 16-200 gross tons. It normally carried 400 passengers but on this trip had 650. In order to care for them all, the gym and also the children's play room were filled with beds. He also recounted that because of rough seas most of the trip very few passengers were eating.

"I never saw so much fish feeding in my life," Wells wrote.

Meets Mine Survivor
Wells also told of meeting a 10-year-old girl from Virginia on board the ship. She was one of the survivors of a boat which was sunk as it struck a mine two weeks previously.

Grazing District CHANGES SLATED

Grazing district election scheduled for Oct. 25 at Burley is to be revised as to precincts, according to word received here today from the Idaho Wool Growers' headquarters.

Under the Taylor grazing act amendment, it was pointed out, it is now necessary to reduce all looking down into the water when suddenly the ship went over a huge wave, instead of cutting through it, and when the ship came down it completely submerged the front end.

Slept Down Deck
"The water hit us with such force that it simply swept us all down the deck for about 50 feet. We were as helpless in it as a person would be in a wild torrent."

He continued by recounting how the ship's doctor treated all six of them for slight injuries.

On the 11th day out (Oct. 5) he tells of looking forward to the landing at New York.

On the last day on the ocean for tonight, or in the morning, we are scheduled to dock at Hoboken, N. J. All in all it has been a very enjoyable voyage, with many experiences.

Today, in Twin Falls, John's father said that the "next step" for the family would be a visit with John by his mother.

"She just can't wait much longer to go and see him," Mr. Wells told. Perhaps the family will be able to plan to remain in the mission field in Kentucky for at least two years and is happy at the opportunity even him to serve God."

BRITAIN ANTICIPATES SWIFT NAZI BOMBING ATTACKS

DEFENSE MAPPED FOR PROTECTION AGAINST PLANES

By FREDERICK KUH
LONDON, Oct. 13 (AP)—Great Britain, anticipating a swift and devastating German air bombing campaign, has completed a secret reorganization of its air defenses, it was understood today.

The reorganization was effected on the basis of reports from experts sent to Poland to observe the effect of German air bombing there. It was believed that now, after the firm rejection of peace on Nazi terms by Britain and France, a German raid campaign would come soon. Well informed sources said Britain was now prepared for it.

Not only the British embassy, military and air staffs in Poland but a corps of trained air raid precautions observers were sent to Poland from the destructive power of the German air force, its most dangerous characteristics and the best means of defending big cities against it.

The government at once, it was understood, issued orders on the basis of the following reports: Underground shelters, securely sited, and equipped with excellent ventilation, are to be built in all cities. Emergency first aid stations in streets are to be made available at all times. It is to be possible to move all raid casualties at once to hospitals in outlying districts.

For incendiary bombs. The great danger of incendiary bombs for even relatively weak anti-aircraft defense is able to keep bombing planes at such a height that accurate destructive bombing is difficult. Incendiary bombs are easy to carry and are effective no matter where they land. The Germans almost never raised in Poland after dark, but concentrated on food attacks.

A huge supply of stores in important food must be stored in vast quantities and must be easily moved.

Chamberlain, backed by a united country in his determination to fight rather than accept Hitler's peace terms, plans to broadcast to Canada and the United States tomorrow a speech supplementing his house of commons statement yesterday. It was understood.

Basis of Speech

Unmoved by a angry German threats of ruthless war, Chamberlain planned to make the basis of his speech the favorable world reaction to his commons statement that it is for Germany to make her choice between offering terms for a real peace, supported by something more than Adolf Hitler's word, or waging a war of annihilation.

Newspaper comment this morning showed complete support of the government's position. Britain now had even more plainly than before made it known that its war aims included freedom not only for the Poles but for the Czechs and Slovaks, and that it required a guarantee which Hitler, on his own word, was not personally in position to give.

At the same time, emphasis was put on the idea that Britain had not rejected peace—but had rejected a Hitler peace.

HITLER MAY ASK MORE SOVIET AID

PAPER, Oct. 13 (AP)—Adolf Hitler may make further concessions to Russia, holding over over Europe the threat of engulfment by Bolshevism, in answer to the allies' rejection of his peace terms, it was reported today.

The impression was growing that Hitler had little hope of success in any "lightnings" effort to break through the French Maginot line and end the war in that manner.

It was taken for granted that Hitler would intensify air warfare on the British fleet and, possibly, bomb British navy bases.

Encouraged Pressure?
It was believed, however, that he might put more faith in a policy of encircling Russia by pressure on the Balkans, in hope that the threat of a westward march of Bolshevism might force Britain and France to give him a free hand.

Some Frenchmen even suggested that Hitler might be admitted to the League of Nations, in hope that the numerically powerful German nation would emerge on top in the end.

France Chamberlain
There was not the slightest indication that any such threat would move France, any more than had Hitler's threat of war of annihilation. The view was taken that Hitler might think Russia was a threat to Germany itself above all.

There was nothing but the warmest praise for Chamberlain's statement.

Idaho Spuds Get Boost Over World's Fair Phone Call Here

New York knows about Idaho's potatoes now. Mrs. Otto Steinberg, Twin Falls, took care of that yesterday when she got her second telephone call from the New York World's fair.

The caller was Jack Stone, 17, young man whose family became acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Steinberg a year ago last June when the Stones were involved in an auto accident while touring here.

Young Stone, who called Mrs. Steinberg from the New York fair when he was awarded a free transcontinental call some time ago, was another Steinberg said (with a crowd of World's fair listeners on the other end).

What's more, she told Stone and the throng of listeners at the fair about Idaho's Indian summer weather, advised them that they "ought to come out and visit our country," and optimistically said that "maybe someday we'll have a fair here."

Young Stone asked Mrs. Steinberg to say hello to everyone in Twin Falls.

Social Program Drawn For High School Year

Following out the school board's policy inaugurated in 1938-39, administrative officials of Twin Falls high school offered today a complete social program for the current year.

The program lists the dances planned for high school students, the arrangements for the dances and the fact that school regulations regarding general conduct will be in effect at all parties.

The social program has been approved by the board of trustees. Supt. Homer M. Davis said. The calendar was mapped by Edward B. Rogel, principal; Gerald Wallace, vice-principal; and Rose M. North, dean of girls.

The schedule, and the rules and regulations governing it, follow:

1. The first dance of the year was held on Oct. 29, sponsored by the Boys' club and was highly successful.

Next on Nov. 10

2. Not 10-A An actual informal dance; admission not to exceed 15 cents per person. Tentative plans for this dance to be sponsored by the senior unit of the Boys' club.

3. Dec. 15-An all school dance, informal, to be sponsored by sophomore and junior units of the Boys' club.

4. Jan. 10-A "post-examination" dance to be sponsored by the Girls' league for the entire school, informal.

5. Feb. 23-Formal all-school dance. Tentative plans for this dance to be sponsored by the student council.

6. March 22-Formal all-school dance. Tentative plans for this dance to be sponsored by the pep committee.

Junior Prom

7. April 26 or May 2 - Junior prom. This is to be the one semi-formal dance of the year. This dance is not to be a strictly date affair.

8. Friday matinees are to be held whenever it is deemed advisable. Music for matinees will be provided by means of phonograph recordings and the use of the school phonograph. As long as these matinees are successful, it shall be a policy not to charge admission for them.

9. The above dates are only tentative and are subject to change whenever conflicts with other activities on the school calendar may arise. It shall be the policy to have no more than one treble dance each month. Any dances held during the basketball season will be scheduled at a time when the treble dance is playing away from home, so as not to impair the use of the gymnasium floor for basketball play.

10. All school dances are to be held in the gymnasium. Evening dances are to be held on Friday night or, if held any other night, must be on the night nearest a school or school holiday. Dances are not to be held at night if all evening dancing is a school day. All evening dances are to begin at 8:30 and end at 11:30. High school students, teachers, parents and invited guests will be permitted to attend school dances. All others will be excluded, including junior high students and high school graduates except where the graduates qualify under any of the above headings.

11. Outside doors to the school building are to be locked at 8:15 and door monitor is to be placed at the front entrance. Anyone leaving the building after 8:15 will be permitted to reenter the building. The door monitor will be instructed to admit only parents or patrons who wish to see the dance.

12. School regulations governing drinking, smoking, and general conduct will be in effect at all dances. Any student found drinking or smoking on school premises at the time of a school dance will be suspended from school.

Early Settlers Found Twin Falls "Dusty Answer"

Mrs. J. H. Beaver, past Twin Falls resident, introduced members of the Catholic Women's league to the Twin Falls "That Was" at a meeting yesterday afternoon at parish hall.

Prelude to the arrival of the train that brought the Beaver family to Twin Falls in the early days, was the stalling of that same train at Milledale, and the subsequent pushing of the stubborn iron horse by the passengers.

First impression was that the village was rather a "dusty answer" to an easterner's prayer, but the graciousness of the people was compensation enough, according to Mrs. Beaver.

Paramount consideration of the business session was the planning for the annual Harvest Festival, Nov. 6, at the Odd Fellows hall.

Theodore Groechner, league president, is general chairman; Mrs. Frank Kleffner, league head, the kitchen committee; Mrs. Owen Buchanan and Mrs. Lyons Smith, the novelty booth, and Mrs. Clarence Bulcher and Mrs. Archie Quessell, the produce booth.

Magic Valley Homemakers Told Newest Meat Cooking Methods

Absolutely no excuse for burnt roast beef could be offered in Twin Falls homes today, or at least not in the homes of the 300 women who learned all about roasting, broiling and other methods at yesterday's meat cookery demonstration at the American Legion Memorial hall. Miss Jessie Cline, professor of home economics in charge of food preparation at the University of Missouri, divulged a wealth of information concerning meat preparing during the two-hour demonstration.

Perfect Results
"Whatever the method of cooking meat, whether it is broiling, roasting or cooking in water, a high temperature should never be used," said Miss Cline. "Our tests proved that beyond a doubt, scales which measure the shrinkage and a machine which measures the tenderness of meat showed that high oven temperatures caused greater loss of juices and hardened the fibers of meat. The idea that a roast or steak should be 'seared' in order to keep in the juices has been proved wrong. Instead, both roasting and broiling now are done at an even, low temperature.

The new ways are much easier and more economical than the old ways," Miss Cline continued. "There is no danger of burning the roast. It does not have to be watched or basted. It is placed on a rack in an uncovered pan with the fat upmost so that this bastes the meat as it melts. In broiling, the meat is placed at a sufficient distance so that it cooks halfway through while one side is browning. Thus only one turning is necessary. The broiler over a gas heater or smoked up as it was when too high a temperature was used.

The same rule holds for meat cooked in water or moist heat. Meat should never be broiled. It should be simmered, in water just below the boiling point.

Agents Present
Miss Margaret Hill, district home demonstration agent, introduced Miss Cline to the audience of enthusiastic Magic Valley homemakers. D. T. Bollingbroke, county agent, explained the interest and cooperation of the Twin Falls County Livestock association with the state and national associations.

The demonstration consisted of the preparation of a leg of lamb for roasting; broiling lamb chops and cooking the entire dinner at the same time; cooking a roast, a stew, broiling on top of the stove. Miss Cline's demonstration also included most valuable time, labor and money saving suggestions.

Mrs. A. C. Victor assisted Miss Cline during the demonstration. The Idaho Power company installed electric stoves and an electric refrigerator for the occasion, and Sweet's Furniture store contributed other kitchen articles and utensils.

Dunn, Reese Wed At Bride's Home

CAMPTON, Oct. 13 (Special)—Wedding of Miss Marjorie Reese to Wilford Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Dunn, Buhl, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reese, Sunday.

Rev. Leroy Walker officiated at the ring service.

Bride wore a street length dress of tulle and sheer crepe, fashioned with high waist line and short pleated jacket. Accessories were of a harmonizing white shade. Gold and tan button chrysanthemums made up her corsage.

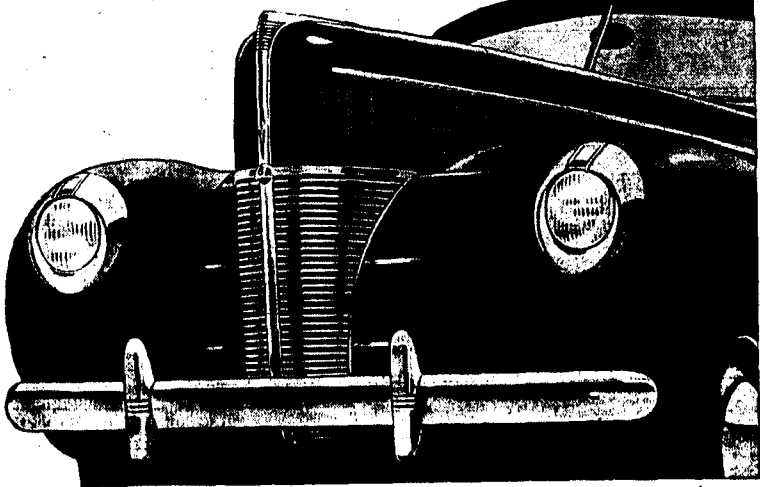

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served by Mrs. F. W. Black, Campton, and Mrs. Dale Reese, Twin Falls, sister and sister-in-law of the bride, to the immediate families and Rev. and Mrs. Walker.

White rosebuds and light blue lapers formed the centerpiece. Room was decorated with similar lapers and a profusion of fall flowers.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home on the S. V. Dunn ranch, northwest of Buhl.

"I'm patrolling my beat when this explosion shakes m'back teeth..."

1. Then the Miller twins streak past me. "Playing at chemistry again," I'm thinking. "I'll just show them what I'm right into the Miller's kitchen." And what will they be wanting, Officer O'Toole? They say their maid. "A talk with those boys, M'am," I say. "It's disturbing the peace here!"

2. "And it's disturbing your head when I'll be if you lay hands on these lumps," she says, her blue eyes flashing. "Forget it and pull up a chair." Before I know it I'm making the peace over a cup of coffee. "And what coffee!" I say. "Sure and it's better than you deserve, O'Toole—it's M-J-B!"

3. It's a proud and happy man I am these six months later. Mrs. O'Toole, drinking M-J-B every day in m'own kitchen. And her, pretty as a picture, setting across from me and smiling every time I say, "Pour the M-J-B again, Mrs. O'Toole!"

AUTUMN HEAT WAVE FACES COAST GRIDDERS

Illinois Tackles USC; Vandals Take on Gonzaga

By JAMES A. SULLIVAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13 (U.P.)—An autumn heat wave, covering most of California, is going to be a big factor tomorrow in the football games which will be played by Pacific Coast conference teams on golden state gridirons.

Illinois, a visitor from the mid-west, and Oregon, a neighbor from the northwest, are especially fearful of what that hot California sun is going to do to their gridiron squads in the battles with University of Southern California and University of California respectively.

Another team getting its first real taste of hot weather in combat will be the U. C. L. A. team, present last night at the conference. Victorious in a night game over Texas Christian and in the cool northwest over Washington, the Bruins meet Stanford at Palo Alto.

Another kind of heat—traditional rivalry—will play a part in the game at Seattle in which Washington and Washington State, each seeking its first conference win, meet. Most of the experts favor the Huskies. Oregon State, eighth member of the conference, plays Portland in an outside game.

Other games include:

Friday: Gonzaga-Idaho; Montana-Minneapolis.

Saturday: Montana State-Gonzaga; Brigham Young-Utah; Eastern Oregon-College of Idaho; Idaho-Southern-California J. C.; Lewiston-Idaho Falls.

153 Doe and 322 Buck Taken from Minidoka Forest

Deer checked out of the eight stags at the Minidoka forest showed a total of 438 does and 322 bucks, according to a report released yesterday by Grover G. Davis, conservation officer in charge, and compiled by his assistant, Larry Bassett.

Station-by-station check-out was as follows:

Shoshone—59 does, 112 buck—171 total.

Northwater: 20 does, 42 buck—62 total.

Big Cedar: 10 does, 20 buck—30 total.

Rock Creek—20 does, 59 buck—79 total.

Melba Summit—12 does, 28 buck—40 total.

Trapper Creek—5 does, 16 buck—21 total.

Crocker Springs—10 does, 22 buck—32 total.

Three does and seven bucks were taken from other points in the forest. A total of 478 deer taken during the five-day hunt. In excess these amounted to 153 doe and 322 buck.

Game hunter shot an elk, a five-year-old, according to Mr. Bassett, and then became panicky and left the animal. By the time it was reported to the game wardens the meat had been spoiled.

Mac Says Jacobs' Enterprises Resemble British Empire in Size

By HENRY McLEMOIRE
NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (U.P.)—To look at them you'd never guess it, but Mike Jacobs and the British empire have something in common.

The sun never sets on their enterprises.

Mike hasn't been around quite as long as the British empire, but he is just about as far from the fact that he has dug up Arturo Odoody and signed him for a fight with Joe Louis is proof of that.

Could it be any organization in the world, other than Mike Jacobs', could have located Odoody, he left him some two years ago with $5,000 in his pockets and with only a vague reference to Chile as a forwarding address.

The intention, he concluded that once reaching Chile he planned to change into the interior, select a tree that could stand shade to shade, and sit there until the day when a man could spend a dollar and a half to see a fight.

under a tree with his store off. Odoody figured his $5,000 would last him for life.

But he didn't reckon with Jacobs' being a man of vision, who, apparently, keeps a card index on every owner of a cauliflower ear in the world. It must have come as a rude shock to him when that messenger boy reached him (probably by mail package) with an offer of $100,000 to fight Joe Louis.

There under the tree, jabbing the wand of making the long trip north for the purpose of getting into the boxing ring, he even worse state of disrepair. I imagine he thought the 17th percent of the gate guaranteed him would run into his own money to allow him to buy his own tree, under which he could sit until his head swelled with the branches and afforded him even better shade for the 34 hour stasis he hopes to spend.

The day won't last long with Louis, but he is likely to draw a full house into Madison Square

Three Stakes Feature Second Day of Field Trials

Bruins Tackle Oakley Club Here Tonight

Out-weighted on an average of 10 pounds to the man, the Oakley Bruins, lightweight threat of the Big Seven conference, tackle the undefeated Twin Falls Bruins of the Northwest conference under the lights at Lincoln field tonight at 8 p.m.

While Coach Hank Powers' club is not expected to have too much trouble with the Hornets, the visitors may present a tricky enough offense to cause the Bruins plenty of worry.

Show Power.

In early season games the Cassia county club lost to Rupert by a 6-2 count and to Burley by a score of 7-6. Then the Dodge County team came back to wallop the inexperienced Bruins—by a 19-0 score to show their surprising offensive power last week-end.

So far this season the Bruins have played two games. In the first they defeated the Gooding Senators by a 40-0 count and then last week ran rough-shod over a winless Boise eleven.

Coach Hank Powers tonight will put a lineup in the field that will average 175½ pounds to the man. The heaviest man on the club is Bob Patton, quarterback, who tips the scales at 198 pounds. The lightest will be C. Malone at 158.

In the Oakley lineup, Coach Cranney's club will average 142 pounds to the man. Heaviest will be Hooper at center, who weighs 165 pounds. Lightest are Raoul Sever and J. Martin, the two halfbacks, who each weigh 129 pounds.

The game for the Bruins will be the last non-conference tilt during the month of October as the local club then will dig into the local Idaho group in an attempt to capture the coveted state crown. Next week the team plays Pocatello at Pocatello in what may prove to be an all-important and deciding contest, followed by Idaho Falls here on Oct. 27 and Caldwell there on Nov. 3.

C. of I. Club Picks New Officers

The powerful C. of I. organization is open only to athletes who are members of college teams in sports competition during their college career.

Isolator Takes $10,000 Handicap

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (U.P.)—The Belair stud's Isolator galloped to a three-length victory in the first running of the $10,000 limited Oakleaf Fox hunt at Jamaica as C. S. Howard's gambler finished out of the money.

Isolator, which set a new North American record on his last out, broke down in the first half mile and went home. The Howard stable did not announce whether he seriously the horse had been injured but he was limping badly as he was led away.

Los Angeles has spent $125,000 for each man, woman and child living there in developing its water supply.

Bruin vs. Pocatello Grid Date Changed

Date of the football game between Twin Falls Bruins and Pocatello Bruin scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 20, from Friday, Oct. 20, the game is at Pocatello.

Champion Dog and Owner

Here is Golden Cocker, 11-month-old dog yesterday captured the Open All-Age state at the Idaho state field trials in Gooding. With him is his owner, Mrs. Frank Graham of Tacoma, Wash. The victory placed the young dog near the top in the ranks of western state field trial dogs, he having already captured the championships at Pocatello and British Columbia and taking second in the Utah meet.

SMU Tries Air Attack Against Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 13 (U.P.)—Southern Methodist throws its aerial circus at Notre Dame's indifferent pass defense tomorrow and expects to keep pitching until the newest winning streak of the methodical Irish is brought to an abrupt end.

This team of huskies, which tied Oklahoma's Big Six champions, reportedly has been keeping under wraps one of those wild pass attacks only the southwest can produce.

Coach Matt Bell definitely is pointing S. M. U. for this one and the advance guard is taking of a pair of marksmen named Preston Johnson and Ray Mallott who can belt a bullet with the accuracy of another Davey O'Brien.

If this is true, Notre Dame has reached a critical stage in its 1936 campaign. The Irish were undefeated defeating Purdue 34 to 0, and barely outdistanced a Fair Georgia Tiger eleven, 17 to 14.

The major question likely to be asked tomorrow is whether Notre Dame is still an ordinary ball club or a really great team making a deliberately slow start to conserve both energy and strategy for the long haul. Since the Irish always have been slow starters it is a good bet that Elmer Layden may more than make good his reputation as the mythical national champion.

Little Team Looms Power In Southeast

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 13 (U.P.)—It's a bit early in the season to be talking about unbeaten teams, but if Coach Glenn Thistlethwaite's University of Richmond eleven can get past Rutgers tomorrow they will have just about as good a chance as the next fellow to wind up the season without a defeat.

Richmond is one of the second-ranking schools in the Southeast conference both in size and potency of its football team. It was admitted, along with five other small schools, three years ago when the conference's expansion. Since then Thistlethwaite's teams have been usually just good competition for the bigger Virginia teams.

Richmond is a different. The Spiders have one of the best centers in the conference in Capt. Ed Erick and a defensive back in Flashy Art Jones. Filling in around these two stars are nearly two dozen big and capable performers, giving Richmond something that has never had before—reserve power.

The Spiders breezed through two early season opponents, rolling up 83 points in two games and then knocked off Washington and Lee university, many times Virginia state champion, last week by a 7-0 score.

Senior Girls Win Over Sophs in Softball Opener

In the first softball game for Twin Falls high school girls this season, the seniors defeated the sophomores 6 to 5 in a game in which sophomore girls' fielding far out-classed the seniors.

Sophomores were held scoreless until the fourth inning, when they scored five points. Best hit of the game was by Virginia Williams, soph, who made a three-base hit to drive in three runs. A catch by Hazel Terry, senior first baseman, in the last inning, saved the game for the seniors.

Monday sophomores and juniors will play each other Tuesday and seniors, to conclude the games. It was planned to play more than the single round, but weather has not permitted play to start soon enough. Next sport will be volleyball ball.

Tacoma Dog Captures Inaugural Events On Gooding Courses

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

GOODING, Oct. 13 (Special)—The second day of the Idaho State field trials got under way here today with three events on the schedule for the working hours—daylight to dusk.

The specialties were the Open Puppy stake; Open Derby stake and the Open Gun Dog stake.

Bob Provo of Tacoma, Wash., walked off with the major honors yesterday when her dog, Golden Cocker, came through with a first place in the Open All-Age stake. The dog went through the trial without an error to easily annex the title.

Second place went to Brigand Creek, owned by Harold Day of Salt Lake City, while third was awarded to Arvaler Knopert, Dox, owned by Harry Taylor, veteran Pocatello trainer. First place was good for a cash prize of $425, second for $25.30 and third for $16.80.

A total of 24 dogs participated in this event, with the groups working over fields south and west of Gooding in 12 races.

Handlers yesterday scared up birds galore on the fine pleasant fields surrounding here and every dog entered in the event had no trouble making stays.

17 Months Old

Golden Cocker, the winner, is 17 months old and has shown championship form in every meet this year—failing to make a single error. Despite this the dog has awarded only second place in the Utah championships last week after making five perfect stays in the 30 minute trial.

Golden Cocker's owner, R. J. Reynolds and A. L. Davidson of Pocatello.

Saturday the Western States Pleasant dog championship is expected to attract still more entrants from out-of-state competition. Entrance fee in this event is $10, with the winner being returned to the winner and runner-up, divided 75 and 25 percent. Cash will probably total between $100 and $150 for the winner.

Lewiston Asks $6,000 for Loop Franchise

PROVO, Utah, Oct. 13 (U.P.)—Bob Bullock, chief sponsor of the move to obtain a Pioneer baseball league franchise for Provo, revealed today he had turned down an offer to buy the Lewiston, Ida., franchise for $6,000.

Bullock said a telegram from the Lewiston club presented the offer "in view of the fact that Pioneer league directors would to move our franchise, giving us our choice of either Provo or Idaho Falls." The secretary, E. A. Springer, added that "we will locate in either town and operate ourselves with a major league working agreement or sell our franchise, players and equipment for $6,000."

Bullock replied he was unable to furnish the $6,000 but that he could furnish a league-standard lighted ballpark if the Lewiston directors should transfer their club here.

Father Kills Blind Son-13

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (U.P.).—Mrs. Bernard Reppelle returned home from shopping today to find her eleven-year-old son standing over the prostrate body of their blind and crippled 13-year-old son, Raymond, pressing a chloroform soaked rag to his face.

Rushing downstairs, Mrs. Reppelle got a neighbor, and together they ran back and struggled to pull Reppelle away from the body of his son. When they did, he sat down to wait for police.

While an emergency squad and an ambulance surgeon worked frantically over the body, Reppelle confessed to police that he had committed the "murder killing" to save his son from further pain. The Reppelles have five other children.

Twin Falls — "A SURETY OF PURITY" Buhl

MAYOR TO GREET BEERY AT FIELD

Mayor Joe Koehler will be on hand to welcome Walter Beery, famous screen actor, to Twin Falls tomorrow, it was announced here this afternoon.

Beery is scheduled to arrive at the municipal airport between noon and 1 p. m. He is flying in his private plane from Hollywood by way of Salt Lake City. He is coming for the pheasant hunting season which opens Sunday.

This will be Beery's first trip to Twin Falls, according to Ted Welker, whose brother, Herman Welker, is the screen star's personal attorney. Fact that Beery would arrive was announced earlier this week when Welker received a personal letter from Beery to that effect.

Reservations for Beery have been made at the Hotel Idaho, and it was also learned today, and he plans to spend several days here. Welker will lead Beery and members of his party on a pheasant trip to the vicinity, all in quest of pheasants.

State police will be at the airport to greet Beery, and the crowd expected to witness the arrival.

Past and Today Contrasted by School Display

Yesterday as a prelude to today is the theme of a display advertising the Twin Falls high school play, "Prologue to Glory," contrasting artists of old times and the present, shown now in the window of Glas book store.

The display is the old fashioned tiny black velvet nook, pointing toward one of the most modern plays for this season. An old time watch, of the large silver kind which could be opened only by the key, is displayed with a modern wrist watch. Old time pictures are contrasted with a modern primer, with full color illustrations.

Outstanding among displays is the contrast of family records. The old time record which is displayed belongs to the family of Miss Florence Rees, director of the play, one of many families which migrated from the territory where Abraham Lincoln lived to the northwest during his lifetime.

The record is white satin, embroidered with a border of chrysanthemums, and made about 80 years ago. One of the names on the list is William Hall Rees, grandfather of Miss Rees, who came west in 1844 to the Oregon territory. He was present at the organization of the first territorial legislature of Oregon.

His son, David Crawford Rees, born in 1855, is one of the few persons living in Twin Falls who can remember when Lincoln was assassinated.

Students Paint Travelers From Chaucer's Tale

A painting of Chaucer's Canterbury Pilgrims, in water colors, has been finished by three English students in Twin Falls high school, during their study of "Canterbury Tales."

Verna Shinn, Vera Babel and Virginia Goodhue painted the 10 travelers whom Chaucer described. There is an exceptionally well-executed picture, correcting several mistakes the girls noted in other portrayals of the pilgrims which they saw.

"This large picture shows the 10 as they traveled, then, mounted on beautiful horses, passing on in the green rolling countryside of England, on their pilgrimage to Canterbury. It is accurate down to the finest detail and so far the girls have found no discrepancies between their portrayal and the story."

"One of the changes the girls made from other pictures they saw was in having the wife of Bath ride a mule, instead of a horse, since no lady in the fourteenth century would have ridden a horse in the open country which the English department uses, the wife of Bath is shown wearing boots. But in the new painting she wears red stockings as Chaucer described. Her other minor details have been changed."
