NAZIS SINK 3 MORE ALLIED BOATS; FIRE ON SURVIVORS

40 Persons Killed, Wounded; Royal Oak Casualties Hit 786

By LEON KAY

LONDON, Oct. 16 (U.P.)—Survivors of the French liners Bretagne and Louisa said today that German submarines attacked their ships without warning and killed or wounded more than 40 persons, including women and children, by shelling them as lifeboats were being lowered.

Five members of the crew and two passengers were lost with the Bretagne, and more than 30 persons including 10 women were wounded.

The first mate of the Louisa was killed and six crew members were wounded.

Only quick rescue work by British warships which went to the rescue prevented a larger casualty toll.

As it was, some survivors swam for two hours after the ships were sunk—one man, a French colonial soldier, holding his seven-year-old son.

400 Persons Landed

More than 400 persons were landed at Plymouth yesterday from the Bretagne, 10,108 tons, en route from the West Indies to Great Britain; the Louisa, 6,903 tons, bound from Great Britain to Havana, and the British freighter Lochaven, 9,203 tons, bound for Britain from the Pacific ports and the Panama canal.

The Louisa was attacked at 3 p. m. Friday, the Bretagne at 3 a. m. Saturday and the Lochaven sometime Saturday.

Survivors were landed as the attack announced here a probable final survivors' list of the battleship Royal Oak, torpedoed probably early Saturday. The list has been brought to the attention of the British government.

Approximately 1,200 officers and men in the ship, leaving 786 unaccounted for.

More than 30 survivors of the Bretagne and Louisa were brought ashore at Plymouth on stretchers, seriously wounded by German shell fire.

Survivors said that men, women and children among the Bretagne's 124 passengers were wounded by shells fired deliberately at the boat as lifeboats were being lowered.

The shells smashed into lifeboats and wrecked several of them.

Many passengers in the Bretagne thought that the alarm sounded after the submarine had been sighted was a practice one. As a result, many women went to the boats with coats drawn over their night clothes.

"People rushed on deck when we were struck but there was no panic," the captain of the Bretagne said. "We got away as soon as we could and were picked up about 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The submarine fired shells at us deliberately, aiming at the upper works, the bridge, our wireless and the lifeboats."

IDAHO WOMEN MEET

CORPUS DALRINE, Ida., Oct. 16 (U.P.)—The annual state convention of the Idaho Women's Christian Temperance union was in session today. Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, national president, was the guest speaker.

Speakers planned to honor Frances Willard, the organization's founder, on the centenary of her birth.

WEST

BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 16 (U.P.)—For a few moments the old west came to life in Butte last night.

A group in a local night-life establishment was amazed to see a band of citizens draw six shotguns and fire at a telephone dial when he was unable to operate it.

Tackling his revolver, the man walked out the door before the proprietor could stop him.

CLARK OPPOSES EMBARGO REPEAL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (U.P.)—Ben D. Worth Clark, opposing repeal of the arms embargo, contended today in the Senate that public mind has been confused over the issues involved in the neutrality debate.

He felt that the public was made to believe that the repeal of the arms embargo was inconsistent with imposition of a cash-and-carry system on other countries.

He denied that such an inconsistency existed.

"If the outside," he said, "the public was advised that it must choose between the arms embargo and the cash and carry."

Alford's accident came as a surprise to the public.

Clark stated that the "holier than thou" attitude on the part of England today is a pretext and a pretense.

You can paint me a picture of persecution of Jews and Catholics in Germany," he said, "but I can paint you a picture ten times as brutal, ten times as savage, ten times as bloody, of 500 years of British rule, pillage, destruction and bloodshed in Ireland."

"It is between England and France, with their records of persecutions within their own borders, to new refuse to at least treat for peace."

Clark turned Great Britain the "most outstanding example of aggression represented has ever known," and said that Hitler's never stopped.

Jerome Youth Wins Citation At FFA Meet

KANAWHA CITY, Mo., Oct. 16 (U.P.)—Calvin Grady, Jerome, and James Ellsworth, Lewisville, Ida., were selected today from among 207,000 men students of vocational agriculture for outstanding awards at the national FFA convention.

They were awarded the "American Farmer" degree for earning more than $500 in high school agricultural project work, to be invested in permanent farming.

Rayburn, Hayburn and Smith are counted for the primary win in the tobacco corpus action.

Four Outstanding Teams Chalk Up Saturday Victories

By HARRY FERGUSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (U.P.)—There's a sweet smell of roses floating across the great Smoky mountains today, for only five touchdowns away is the football game of the week and maybe of the entire year—Alabama vs. Tennessee at Knoxville.

The winner of this battle of the Titans Saturday afternoon is as good as a bet as anybody to go to the Rose bowl. Both teams are well rested and ready to go. Alabama had a breather against Mercer Saturday and Tennessee had one against Chattanooga. Neither has been beaten this year, although Alabama had a close call in winning from Fordham, 7 to 6.

In the mid-west, Minnesota and Ohio State collide in a game that will have a vital effect on the Big Ten race. Notre Dame, still winning games by hair-line margins, takes on Navy and Baylor to see which to try its luck against Nebraska.

Eastern Headlines
In the east, the best ones appear to be Cornell vs. Penn State, Carnegie Tech vs. New York University, Yale vs. Army, and Brown vs. Holy Cross.

The southwest offers Texas Christian against Texas A. and M., SMU vs. Marquette and Texas vs. Arkansas.

Down south Tulane goes against North Carolina, Duke takes on Syracuse, Georgia Tech meets Vanderbilt and Kentucky.

In the far west, the three best appear to be California against Washington State, Oregon against Gonzaga and Washington against Oregon State.

Week-End Features
Here are some of the features of the week-end:

Outstanding player—Tom Harmon of Michigan who scored every point for his team in his 27-1 victory over Iowa.

Tough luck guy of the season—Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian, national champion last year, who lost his third straight game by a narrow score when Temple beat him, 13 to 11.

Worst licking—Chicago's 61 to 0 defeat by Harvard.

Most disappointing team—Villanova, rated among the nation's best until it took a 23 to 7 shellacking from Texas A. and M.

Upset of the week—Stanford's game, uphilly fight to get a 14 to 14 tie with UCLA.

C. of L. Wins
Caldwell, Oct. 16 (U.P.)—The College of Idaho Coyotes turned their attention today to a grid game with the Linfield college team of McMinnville, Ore., to be played there next Saturday. They defeated Eastern Oregon Normal school, 20 to 6 last Saturday.

RECORD
GIG HARBOR, Wash., Oct. 16 (U.P.)—Introducing the Chieftain of the sprinting rooster world: Dot, a three-year-old White Leghorn.
Dot showed his spurs of a narrow field of three yesterday to retain his title as the world's champion racing rooster.

He covered an 80-yard course in 15 seconds flat to equal his record time in the fifth annual championship. Eight elimination races had cut the field to all but three White Leghorns. Deane and Super Shell chased him from the starting box to the finish.

Outstanding Player of Week

Tom Harmon, University of Michigan's ace backfield man, today was singled out as the outstanding player of the week after scoring all of his team's points in the Wolverines' 27-1 victory over Iowa.

120,141 Watch Four Pro Grid Contests

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (U.P.)—Professional football's big four—the New York Giants, Washington Redskins, Detroit Lions and Chicago Bears—today were riding through the National league like the four horsemen of fiction and fancy.

Playing before 120,141 in four major league ball parks Sunday, the "big four" slashed and smashed their way to triumph.

The champion Giants cut down the Philadelphia Eagles in the Polo grounds yesterday, 27-10, before 34,471.

O'Brien Stopped
Little Davey O'Brien, Texas Christian's 150-pound all-American passing wizard, making his New York debut as a pro, was a tragic, inefficient figure trying to get off his famed aerials. Once the Giants pressed him, three times straight for losses totaling 25 yards as he tried to get off a bell-ringing pass.

Keeping pace with the Giants in the east, the Washington Redskins crushed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 44-14, before 29,982 fans at Washington. The Giants and Redskins are tied for the eastern division lead, each with three victories, no defeats and one tie (against each other).

Record Maintained
Out west the Detroit Lions, only unbeaten, united team in the league, maintained their perfect record by scoring a 15-7 triumph over the Cleveland Rams before 30,066 persons at Detroit. It was the Lions' fourth straight triumph.

Lack of Course Puts End to Field Trials

GOODING, Oct. 16 (Special)—It looked today in this section as though the field trials that have been such a success here for the past five years may be moved to a new sector for the 1940 season.

The Western States Pheasant dog championship stakes, set to be run Saturday, were called off. When owners of visiting dogs refused to run their scores over the remaining available courses for the meet.

The refusal to use the only courses left resulted in the abrupt ending of what had started out to be one of the most successful meets in the history of the state. Now things point to a new site for the trials—where more courses would be available for the dogs to display their talents.

The Gun Dog stakes, set for Friday afternoon, was also eliminated due to lack of good courses, with the result that the state officials are now considering moving the trials next year to Pocatello or some other available site for 1940.

The Graham family of Tacoma, Wash., ran off with the major money in the trials held on Thursday and Friday. Their success was largely due to the fine performance turned in by "Golden Callender," owned by Mrs. Frank Graham and handled in the field by her husband. The dog took first place in the Open Derby stakes on Friday and in the Open All-Age stakes on Thursday.

Sportsmen

Story of the week:

When nearly every other sportsman in south Idaho was preparing for the opening of the pheasant hunting season at day-break Sunday morning, two Kinnery sportsmen were also preparing to spend the day in the out-of-doors.

The two men were Earl Ridge-way and Bert Cook. They went fishing on upper Rock creek and returned at night with well-filled creels.

Estimated 16,000 Birds Taken by Inaugural Barrage on Pheasants

The loud crack of shotguns at close range and the distant "boom-boom" of guns could be plainly heard all over south Idaho yesterday morning as the annual war against the pheasant population got underway with an army of an estimated 4,000 nimrods.

Early reports today pointed to the heaviest killing in the history of the state, with most hunters from all sections coming in with the bag-limit of four. At that rate it was believed that about 16,000 birds were killed in the opening 12-hour onslaught.

While a good many hunters did their shooting on the south side of the Snake river, the major portion participated in the killing in Jerome and Gooding counties.

Break Hour Business
While the night was still pitch-black, restaurants in Twin Falls were doing a "rush-hour" business and Main avenue of Twin Falls at 8 a. m. on Sunday was just as packed with cars as it is on a Saturday afternoon. On the outskirts of town, heading toward the north side, a steady stream of lights made traffic heavy—all going one way.

At the first crack of dawn the artillery fire got underway in the thousands of acres of fields in which the pheasants abound. Early in the morning the birds were reported exceptionally tame, but as the day wore on and they were chased from one field to another they became wilder and by nightfall it took a good shot to bring them down as they usually started flight at a good distance away.

Hens Predominate
Parties of four came into town with 16 chickens and parties of five and six would report in with 20 or 24 birds. Sportsmen expressed amazement in some sections at the predominance of hens in the kills—and the lack of roosters. One group of six coming in with 21 birds found that 13 of them were females.

Others found the division even more drastic. In most cases the birds were reported in good condition—at, with their crops well filled.

2 Injured on Opening Day Of Hunt Season

BOISE, Oct. 16 (U.P.)—The pheasant season opened Sunday in most Idaho counties and two youths were nursing painful wounds today after the first day of hunting brought reports of excellent luck.

One death for which hunting was indirectly responsible was reported. Otto Heuck, 24, Boise sportsman and businessman, died Sunday of a heart attack while pheasant hunting north of Meridian.

Steve Carter, 16, Boise, suffered from facial injuries when he walked into the line of fire from a shotgun. Pellets struck his eye but he was expected to retain his sight.

Jack Wheeler, 10, Boise, was struck in the great toe by a .27 caliber bullet from a gun discharged accidentally. The pheasant season remains open until Nov. 15.

Jones Leads in Commercial Pin Averages

Rolly Jones, ace man on the National Laundry club, today led the bowling stars of the Commercial league, averages released by Fred Stone revealed.

Jones had a score average of 194 for the season to easily top his nearest rival, Corky Carlson, who has bowled just one series, was in second place with a 183 mark.

In the City loop, Addy Adkins led all bowlers with a 181 average. Second place went to Roy Weller with a 177.

Standings were as follows:
Commercial league: R. Jones 194, Carlson 183, Bruggemann 190, G. Kirchner 180, J. Ford 179, N. O. Johnson 179, W. J. Johnson 179, Jennings 179, Norton 178, Raggert 174.

City league: Adkins 181, R. Weller 172, Childs 172, Frank Vostka 172, Galls 171, J. Mullins 170, Dix 168, Ross 167, K. Coleman 167, A. Timmons 166.

that excel in 3 ways

1 They are smarter! They have colorful, rugged distinction. The worsted twist yarn is really 3 yarns in one—each usually a different color.

2 They last longer. The 3-ply twist also accounts for the unusual durability of these suits. They look new many months—hold a crease.

3 They're better values. When you consider the individuality and long wear of this Kuppenheimer suit, you'll admit it's a rare value.

BUSINESS BOOM MAY RESULT IN BUDGET BALANCING

CAUTION URGED FOR PURCHASING BY DISTRIBUTORS

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (UP)—Business is booming today at a rate which might entice the treasury to balance the budget next year, but there are cautious warnings of bumps to come.

There is considerable alarm here over the accumulation of inventories—large stocks of merchandise and commodities—in hands of distributors.

Secretary of Commerce Harry L. Hopkins a week ago warned of too rapid expansion of inventories. The administration's study of the situation is continuing and some economists here foresee a sharp recession.

Fear Possible Recession
If the economists are right, provision for orderly liquidation of overstocked distributors probably will be before the Roosevelt administration within a few months along with other recession problems. If they are wrong, some of the administration's pressing fiscal problems will begin to take care of themselves as taxpayers pay on their fall income. First paydays for their 1939 income, first paydays will be March 15, next year.

Another recession would duplicate some recent years in business history. In 1937 and 1938, business recovery collapsed in the autumn of 1937, and business recovery collapsed in the autumn of 1938. The administration is now trying to avoid a similar collapse.

Budget Prospects Cheerful
But as of today's immediate business and treasury prospects are entirely cheerful. The income tax receipts for the first nine months of 1939, according to government estimates, probably have exceeded 1938 by now and may reach 1938 by the end of the year, reversing the tide.

That is the biggest business news in 10 years. The highest industrial production index in 1929, a boom year until the collapse of October and November, was 110.

That year, "the national income was $81,000,000,000, so a production index for 1940 of 120 might result in a national income of $97,200,000,000 or even $90,000,000,000 for 1940."

SUGGESTED TABLE TRIMS FOR WILD GAME DINNERS

By JEAN DINKELACKER

Father and son—and of course, the dog—had their dinner yesterday, guns popping and pheasant feathers flying, and now it's mother's and sister's turn to show themselves equal to the hunting season.

It's a festive board for a festive bird, and the centerpiece for the first wild game dinner of the season, whether it be tonight, if your hunters were lucky, or anytime you serve pheasant, duck, snipe or other game, should be as vigorous and lavish in color as the days that are October.

Miss Agnes Schubert, who does much things with flowers and foliage, has a suggestion for a centerpiece for the benefit of some 50-odd women who attend the flower arrangements class, has some suggestions for wild game dinner decorations.

Fruits and Flowers
If you have an old-fashioned decorated cake plate, or a modern replica of one, you can use it to advantage. Either the milk-white lustrous china variety or the type made of glass will do.

Fill the tiers with oranges, red apples, bananas, purple grapes, yellow-green pears and nuts. Another variation of this treatment, if you have a matching vase, is to make a three-tier arrangement, using the vase as "topping," filled with marigolds.

You who have the resources of a flower garden at your command will appreciate Miss Schubert's floral recommendation.

Beginning with very deep purple and the deepest of red flowers, such as asters, at the base, shade the bouquet through the red-orange and the oranges to yellows at the top. A few yellow snapdragons are good for the point. This bouquet will be most striking in a pewter bowl.

Pyramid of Color

A pyramid arrangement that Miss Schubert favors may be arranged effectively with autumn leaves forming a mat at the base. Employment of a mirror base makes the same arrangement one of formality.

Beginning with the base and outward part of the pyramid, use this combination of fruits and vegetables in the center named:

Orange persimmons, yellow lemons, yellow-green pears, green apples, small crook-necked blue-green squash, red apples and as the final touch in the center, a bright purple eggplant.

Any of these arrangements would be equally suitable for the Thanksgiving feast, even though you don't send Butch into the woods to shoot the turkey for the occasion.

Airmen of 2 States Claim New Records

MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 16 (UP)—California and Indiana claimed the world endurance record for light planes today, following a long-standing problem for the civil aeronautics authority.

Both agreed that Kelvin Baxter and Robert McManis, Muncie, and Clyde Schellinger and Wes Carroll at Los Angeles, had broken the old mark of 343 hours and 46 minutes but it appeared there would be a prolonged battle over which crew should receive the credit.

The old mark was set Aug. 7 by Hovener and Humphrey Mowdy at Springfield, Ill. Early today, Baxter and McManis had been almost 300 hours and 46 minutes and Schellinger and Carroll had been almost 342 hours and 30 minutes.

The fliers claimed the record, although Schellinger and Carroll had been aloft 72 hours longer, because the Californians' plane was equipped with engines, they said. The record was for light land planes, not seaplanes, Californians said. The record was for light planes, land or sea.

The CAA is expected to hand down an official ruling after both sides have laid out their case. There may be another claim.

Troy Colburn and Jerry Kelly, flying over Santa Ana (Calif.) airfield, are trying for the record. They started their 12th day today.

U. S. VETERINARY EXAM SCHEDULED

The United States civil service commission today announced an open, competitive examination for the position of junior veterinarian with the bureau of animal industry, department of agriculture. Annual salary is $2,000.

Completion of a full course of study in a recognized veterinary college is required. Applicants must not have passed their 45th birthday. Applications for this examination must be on file in the commission's office at Washington, D. C., not later than Nov. 6 if received from states east of Colorado and not later than Nov. 9 if received from states west of Colorado.

The commission today also announced an examination for the position of junior graduate nurse in the U. S. public health service and the veterans' administration. Salary is $1,620 a year.

Because of the demand for qualified eligibles, applications will be accepted at the Washington office until further notice. High school study and completion of a specified training course in a recognized nursing school are required, except that applications may be accepted under certain conditions from persons now in attendance in their final year of training. Applicants must not have passed their 35th birthday. Full information can be obtained at the Twin Falls post office, at any other post office, or at the commission office in Washington.

TREATY TERMED FARM DRAWBACK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (Special)—Rep. Frank O. Horton, Republican of Wyoming, at a hearing today before the committee for reciprocity information, contended that tariff concessions on the farm and ranch products listed for consideration in negotiating the proposed reciprocal trade treaty with Argentina would be "unwarranted, unjust and indefensible."

The committee is composed of two representatives of the department of agriculture, two from the state department, one from the commerce department, one from the treasury department and one from the tariff commission. The hearings which began today are preliminary to formal negotiation of the proposed treaty.

Mr. Horton asserted that tariff reduction on the Argentina products listed for concessions would be not only contrary to the theory of the
