FINN ENVOYS HEAD FOR SOVIET TO DISCUSS DEMANDS

TWO MEN STUDY RUSSIAN REQUEST TO GET ISLANDS

HELSINKI, Finland, Oct. 21 (UP)—Finland's negotiators leave tonight for Moscow to discuss Russian demands that have caused this country to fear for her independence and other Nordic countries for their neutrality.

It was understood Finance Minister V. Tanner, former premier, would accompany J. K. Paasikivi, the previous negotiator, on this trip. They will go by train, arrive in Moscow Monday morning and probably will be received at the Kremlin the same day.

Paasikivi, Finland's ambassador to Sweden, who previously went to Moscow to hear the Russian demands, the nature of which have not been disclosed officially, was said to have asked that Tanner go back with him.

Islands Demanded

It was believed Russia had demanded concessions on Finnish islands as a sequel to military concessions obtained from Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania. Although Finland kept 300,000 soldiers mobilized and parts of the Russian frontier evacuated against an emergency, the general feeling here was much easier than it had been a few days ago. This was attributed to three factors:

1. The Russian alliance with the allies which, it was believed, would keep Russia's attention centered on the Black sea and the Balkans for the present.

2. The pledges of military support given by Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Finland at the Stockholm conference.

3. President Roosevelt's message to President Kalinin of the Soviet Union expressing hope that friendly Russian-Finnish relations would not be disturbed, and Kalinin's reply that Russia had no aggressive designs on Finland.

MORATORIUM

MONTPELIER, Vt., Oct. 21 (UP)—Gov. George D. Aiken today banned "propaganda artists" from his office after proclaiming a "moratorium" on the overproduction of propaganda. Aiken became irked by a constant flow of requests for designation of special days "for Young People's service."

He said that if only a small percentage were granted, the machine would be completely buried by the ridiculous.

TASTE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (UP)—The German embassy sent a letter to the state department today suggesting that the presentation of a play entitled "Margin for Error" was in "bad taste."

The play, written for Clara Booth, wife of Henry Lauger, played in the magazine, portrays intrigue in a German consulate against the American form of government. It is running only recently at the National theater here.

Classes will begin Sunday and continue Monday and Tuesday. There will be no denominational bias, and anyone interested in a better understanding of religion will find a cordial welcome. CHANGE NOTED IN CLAIM SERVICING

Although in the past persons living in towns in which there is no Idaho state employment service office or traveling representative have been permitted to file claims for unemployment compensation by mail to the central office at Boise, this method will be changed from Monday on. It was announced here this afternoon by W. Clyde Williams, local office manager.

"Effective Monday, all mail claims will be turned over to the proper local office of the employment service and will thereafter be handled by that office," Williams said after receiving a communication from J. C. Tovey, executive director.

"Mail claimants should file their claims with the office serving the locality in which they live and should make every effort to visit that office as soon as possible for a personal interview," Williams said. "Claimants should refrain from corresponding with the central office in Boise as the local office will have the complete history of their claims."

Skunk, Chapter

No. 2

Pot Shots, with a lot of inquiry at probate court, is now in position to give you the concluding chapter of that absorbing serial, "Judge Bailey,

The Dog and The Skunk."

Our article yesterday about the judge's dog "pointing" a skunk left one question unanswered.

We discovered that when a flood of inquiries jammed the Pot Shots telephone.

Our friend Judge Bill what he did about the skunk.

He must be reading these laconic

French war communiqués.

"Our forces did not come into contact. We beat a strategic re-treach." And as for the squib in the morning sheet about the mother—a full day slower than the Pot Shots scoop—by the way, Judge Bill said he feels flattered. He asserted he not only didn't get any skunk aroma on his hunting clothes, but is considering retribution against the morning sheet for saying so.

As a public official, quoth he,

"I'm a skunk—or disseminate the fragrance of a skunk—I demand satisfaction!"

Those answers weren't all hila-

No, sir.

SERIAL STORY

JOAN OF ARKANSAS

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD
COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Don clears the way for Keith to arrive against the odds, but the game played in mind is won by a single point. Little shows much interest in the game, but he is in the mood to see the game.

CHAPTER IX

LEAVING HER ROOM, Joan saw a couple of girls reading a notice on the bulletin board in the hall.

"What's up?" she inquired.

"Special meeting tonight . . . and I bet it's got something to do with homecoming queen election."

The hunch was correct, Carol

Reid explained that night.

Tech was a big school and politics were as much a part of the campus scene as football. Many a big-time politician could take a lesson in vote-getting and caucus work from the collegians.

There were two powerful companies—Blue and Gray, and Scarab.

Alpha Nu was aligned with several fraternities and sororities in the Blue and Gray. For years the Gammals had been spearhead of the combine.

"General election will be held two weeks from tomorrow," Carol announced. "At the caucus last night I managed to wangle a homecoming queen candidate for us. In order to do that, however, we pass up a chance of getting any class office this year. I figured it was worth it."

"The Gammals are stronger than ever, and with their support I think maybe we can get our candi-dicate elected."

There was an excited buzz throughout the room.

"Great stuff," Elaine Chesbro chattered. "We haven't had a homecoming queen since—since—"

"Since Lizzie Barnes back in

'02," someone in the rear piped up facetiously.

"Well, anyway, it's been a long time," Carol added, "and this looks like our chance."

"Now then, who's going to be our candidate? We've got to pull together, so let's be open-minded."

There was silence for a moment and then a muffled whisper here and there. Carol had purposely avoided giving the girls any previous notice. She wanted everything to be right out in the open.

It was Bonnie Harris who went into action first: "I nominate Kay

Granger," she said. "Kay's a senior, and—well, there aren't many more popular girls on this campus than she."

"My idea exactly," a dark-haired girl up front chimed in.

"And if anyone doesn't think Kay deserves photograph well, they can dash upstairs for a camera gander at that full-length photo she took in her purple evening gown."

The remark brought on a ripple of laughter, and Joan, glancing sideways at Kay, recalled the picture and mentally agreed with the dark-haired girl up front.

IT WAS MILDRED HOLMES who took the floor next. Mildred was a ball, studious girl from upstate.

She wasn't a pretty sort, but she had a lot of good, common sense.

Everyone listened whenever she spoke.

"It seems to me," she began slowly, "that either Kay or Joan would make a good candidate. To like, many others, I'm a little outstanding angle to the situation.

Either we capitalize on Joan's stand-in with Keith Rhodes and the Gammals consider the fact that Kay is a senior and has a last chance at something big. I move we get the thing over with and make a vote."

Mildred's motion was seconded and carried, and Carol called for a closed vote. There was such a hush as carrying open business as that.

"The other hand, the conference might not include any but the nations actually at war—Germany,

England and France. In that case the fortune of the other nations would to a large extent be settled by the negotiations between these three powers. Once again, it is easy to see the troubles which might be fall an American President who tried to help work out a settlement."

Helen handed the result to Carol.

"A tie at nine votes each," Carol announced, and the buzz went louder than ever.

"We'll take one more ballot,"

Carol ordered. "Perhaps some has reconsidered."

"No one had. The result was still 9-9."

"I guess it's up to me to call the deciding vote," Carol said.

She looked down at the pieces of paper in front of her. Just as she was about to slip them into her hand, she saw Joan spring to her feet.

"I'd like to withdraw my name in favor of Kay," she said in a low but firm voice.

"Be Seated," said a low but

firm voice.

"Be Seated," said a low but

firm voice.

"Be Seated," said a low but

firm voice.

"Be Seated," said a low but

firm voice.

Tired Hunters Still Believe That Wives Should Be Bird "Surgeons"

By JEAN DINKELACKER

"These birds I kill with skill and flourish. But wife just can't comprehend. I guess."

The pity of it all! Tired out from a day—well, at least a few hours—of clomping through corn and wheat fields; wading irrigation ditches and such, the avian male returns to the domestic cave, drops his feathered treasures at the feet of his queen, wanting praise, and a neat bit of surgery performed on the birds, and what does he get?

He gets told to "Go clean those foul things yourself." To hear the majority of the hunters talk, especially at the end of the day, you'd think they went hunting to get tired, not to get exercise or be out with "the boys."

Yesterday the women had their say about who should prepare the pheasants and the ducks for the cooking and then the men got to sleep. Most of the men queried admitted that they had the cleaning of the birds to do, all right, but that they did it grudgingly, "even after 10 years of it, because I began wrong at the start," one local benedict opined.

Sombody's Hero

If there's more than one ever-loving husband in the town who doesn't mind cleaning game birds, post his name in neon at the intersection of Main and Shoshone. I didn't meet him yesterday on my inquiring way.

One Lancelot was discovered, to date, however. Hear him, hear him, ye believers that chivalry is dead. Say hi.

"I don't have the time or the inclination to take my wife hunting. And I don't blame her for feeling the same way about cleaning the results of the hunt." And his wife wasn't around to prompt him, either.

Said another hunter: "It all depends on who's getting the birds. If the boys don't clean them, I leave 'em as is, but if I take them home, I expect to have to clean them."

Another offered this caustic bit: "I'll clean them, but I think the woman of the house should pick the feathers off before they get so darned expert at being picky anyway."

Nix on excuses

One of the young bachelors of town told me he stood on the subject. "My mother says she'd help me with the pheasants but added 'When you start plucking, you're absolutely on your own, and don't forget it.'"

Dang right, I clean my own skin. But I don't like doing it, though. Another tired hunter talks up.

Adult speaks next: "My wife's so soft with her fingers, and I'm such a clumsy lug. I just praise her for the job."

For the pay-off this came from a curly-topped husband: "I've never learned how, and I always cut my fingers. My wife says she'll rather do it than have me butchered—and I have hinted that I have a slight case of hemophilia. The lady replied, 'but that's the liar, for you're more of a liar than I am.'"

Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Meier celebrated at dinner and an evening of bridge for the couple. Prizes were received by Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hooker. A farewell gift was presented Mr. and Mrs. Meier.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Paul McIntyre entertained dinner and bridge also in the couple. Prizes for bridge was won by Mrs. Harry Forbes of Horelton. A gift was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Meier.

Farewells Honor Couple in Jerome

Jerome, Oct. 21 (Special)—Two farewell dinners honoring Mr. and Mrs. Burton Meier were given this week by a group of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Meier plan to make their home in Lewiston, where Mr. Meier will engage in the grocery business. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Avery have purchased the couple's home here.

NEIGHBORHOOD BATTLES TOP GRID MENU

Tennessee, 'Bama Contest Holds National Center

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (U.P.)—The neighbors fight it out in their own back yards on college gridiron today.

Few intercollegiate games are scheduled for this afternoon. For the most part, teams are staying in their own territory to play traditional rivalries.

The few exceptions among the major teams are Syracuse which goes south to meet Duke; Marquette which meets Southern Methodist in Texas; Navy which goes to Cleveland to play Notre Dame; Baylor which journeys north to meet Nebraska.

Heading the list of "backyard" games is the Tennessee-Alabama contest at Knoxville. This one may produce the eastern representative for the Rose bowl, and the eyes of the nation will be on the boys Tennessee won last year, 13 to 0.

Tulane vs. North Carolina.

The south has another good one in the Tennessee-Alabama contest. Alabama is favored, but North Carolina is pointed for this one and it ought to be something to see. Other good ones in the south: Georgia Tech vs. Vanderbilt; Kentucky vs. Georgia and Virginia vs. VMI.

The big show in the Midwest will be at Minneapolis where Minnesota plays Ohio State. Other midwestern games are Michigan vs. Chicago; Illinois vs. Indiana; Nebraska vs. Baylor; Northwestern vs. Wisconsin; Notre Dame vs. Navy; Oklahoma vs. Kansas; Purdue vs. Michigan State and Missouri vs. Kansas State.

In the east, Carnegie Tech, with a fine chance for the eastern championship, invades New York for the traditional game with the University of Pennsylvania. Other good ones in the east:

Western Attractions

Bozeman College vs. Temple; Brown vs. Holy Cross; Bucknell vs. Grove City; Columbia vs. Princeton; Cornell vs. Penn State; Harvard vs. Pennsylvania; Pittsburgh vs. Duquesne; and Yale vs. Army.

A mighty team from Texas A. & M. runs into Texas Christian, TCU, today. Texas A. & M. has not won a game this year, and is ready to go. In the other feature games of the southwest, Texas plays Oklahoma and Southern Methodist meets Marquette.

The headline attraction in the far west sends Santa Clara against St. Mary's Sunday. Games which will attract the crowds today: California vs. Washington State; Colorado vs. Colorado State; Idaho vs. Utah; Oregon vs. Gonzaga; UCLA vs. Montana and Washington vs. Oregon State.

Football Scores

Fontaine Loses to Armstrong

SEATTLE, Oct. 21 (U.P.)—The man who looks like a winner, Herb Armstrong of Los Angeles, retained his world's welterweight boxing crown today by virtue of a technical knockout over Ritchie Fontaine of Missouri, Mont.

Armstrong left little doubt of his superiority in battering the plucky Fontaine into a pulp in the third round of their scheduled 15-round fight. Fontaine was knocked out in the first round, Fontaine was knocked down five times in the second round, and each time came back without a cut and without declining to rest.

Groggy and almost out on his feet, Fontaine came up for the third round and Armstrong flailed away with both fists. Ritchie went down for counts of one and six, and finally after two minutes and three seconds of fighting, his handlers threw in the towel.

Armstrong weighed 130, and Fontaine 141.

Hailey Trips Dietrich to Win 7-0 Tilt

HAILEY, Oct. 21 (Special)—Blocked by fumbles several times in what looked like goal-wind coaches, Coach Don Johnson's Hailey Wolverines found the magic touch in the last quarter here today to defeat Dietrich, 7-0, in Class II football.

Hailey scored on a perfectly executed off-tackle attack early in the fourth quarter. Joe Bonasut, center, drove the line into the end zone, and the crowd's jubilation advanced in scoring territory, once around the 20-yard line.

Joe Donnan, Hailey's fullback, was dominant performer for the victors. Sammy Bartholomew, slippery quarterback for Dietrich, paced the invading club.

Hailey's game with Hagerman will be played next Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Hagerman, instead of Friday. The tilt was advanced one day because of the annual school central Idaho educational meeting in Twin Falls next Friday and Saturday.

WARRIOR TOP STAG

ETOCROFTON, Oct. 21 (U.P.)—Pop Warner triumphed over Ansonia's 10-0 today in the second meeting of the decade of football coaching in their grand old stadium of coaching at Ansonia, Conn. college, with Warner as a coach, defeated Stagg's Colts 10-0, 12-2.

SPORTS

As Albion Normal Gridders Halted UISB Advance

Here's action in the annual University of Idaho, southern branch, vs. Albion State Normal tilt at Albion yesterday afternoon, which the Bengals won 12-6. With the score tied 6-6 at mid-way in the third period, the eastern club was on a touchdown drive when the photo was taken and here the Panthers were holding the invaders back on the two-yard stripe for three successive downs. Pictured in the photo are Woody Lundberg, being slightly man-handled by an unknown Albion griddler. At left in the picture is Kievwon (65), UISB end; kneeling, with the "O" showing, is Bob Goodnight, UISB guard and former Twin Falls star; Number 17, falling forward, is Glen Vaughn, Albion fullback. Over on the right side of the picture are Doug Mahoney, former all-conference high school end from Albion (No. 11), now playing center for the Panthers; Williams, Albion end (20); Gibb, former Twin Falls ace, UISB end; and Powell, Albion back (9).

UISB Comes From Behind To Edge Albion, 12-6

ALBION, Oct. 21 (Special)—The "big" game of the season was a thing of history today, and the invading University of Idaho, southern branch, griddiron club held a 12-6 victory and revenge for a defeat handed them on their own field last year.

With the wind sitting in as a "silent partner" in the proceedings, a touchdown was clinched up for each team, but the game was not over. In the first frame, an exchange of punts between Regia and Lundberg resulted in the Panthers ending up with the ball on the UISB 20-yard stripe. From there Glen Vaughn pounded over center on a 10-yard strike, and then the UISB first and second quarters and then held Trojan thrusts at bay in the final half to tack the score away.

The wind was in favor of the visitors in the second quarter and they counted after a drive down the field last placed the ball on the two-yard line. From there Woody Lundberg, sparking backfield ace of the visitors, lugged the ball over for the touchdown.

With the wind still favoring them in the third quarter, an exchange of punts left the Bengals with possession of the ball on the Panther 10-yard stripe. At mid-way in the third quarter, the Panthers ended up with the ball on the 10-yard line. The Fighting Panthers held there for two downs, but Lundberg brought over the line for the winning counter. Turner blocked the attempted kick for the extra point and that ended the score for the day.

Lundberg outstanding

Lundberg was the outstanding man in the proceedings. He held the invaders back for a total of 13 first downs to seven for Albion. However, Regia, Albion ace, did some fine work for the Panthers backfield. Late in the fourth quarter he put Albion back in the game with a 10-yard strike. Vaughn and Hagerman both attacked the line. Chapman, Hagerman lineman, starred for his club.

Idaho Falls Appears Certainty in League

IDAHO FALLS, Ida., Oct. 21 (U.P.)—Transfer of the Lewiston club franchise in the Pioneer Baseball league to Idaho Falls neared achievement today as city officials and league executives conferred on terms of the transaction.

The Idaho Falls city council voted last night to approve entry of a team from this city to enter the league, under sponsorship of the New York Yankees.

The council authorized a contract for transfer of the Lewiston club franchise, beginning next season. Lewiston was expelled from the league under recent action of directors.

The relocation provided for a $100,000 investment in Highland park, the city ball grounds.

Acceptance of Idaho Falls into the league appeared almost a foregone conclusion when Jack Hult, league president, said he approved this city's participation in the league. Hult said he would notify league directors and ask them to ratify entrance of Idaho Falls beginning next season.

Hagerman Club Beats Wendell

WENDELL, Oct. 21 (Special)—The invading Hagerman Pirates made the Trojans of Wendell high walk the plank here yesterday afternoon by a score of 13-0 in a regulation Class II conference encounter.

The visitors, scored in each of the first and second quarters and then held Trojan thrusts at bay in the final half to tack the score away.

Initial counter came when Larry Hult, center, drove the line for the extra point.

In the second frame Guyton scored on a reverse to conclude the scoring for the day. Wendell countered in third and fourth frames, but couldn't click well enough to reach the goal line.

Frank Beveridge was the outstanding man on the field for Wendell, with his booming punts keeping the Trojans in the game most of the way. Lexie Strickland also played an outstanding game in the line. Chapman, Hagerman lineman, starred for his club.

Hildebrand Hurt In Auto Crash

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 21 (U.P.)—Oral Hildebrand, right-handed pitcher for the world champion New York Yankees, nursed a cut on his pitching hand today.

Hildebrand's automobile collided head-on with another last night. Six Indianapolis school teachers, passengers in the other automobile, were injured.

Burley Turns Back Buhl to Score 13-6 Win

BUHL, Oct. 21 (Special)—The invading Burley Bobcats won their second conference victory in a row here yesterday afternoon by downing the Buhl Indians by a score of 13-6.

The visitors raged up and down the field all afternoon, but a stubborn Indian defense when the goal line was close, cut down the size of the score.

Opening score came in the initial quarter when the Buhl line blocked a Buhl punt on the Buhl 25-yard line. From there, after a series of plays had put the ball in a scoring position, Tom Church, Bobcat fullback, ploughed over the line for the extra point.

Neither team was able to score in the second frame, but the Indians displayed a surprisingly effective offense in the third quarter and marched 60 yards for a touchdown, with Canine and Grimes packing the ball most of the time. The score came when Stielman, fullback, blundered over the counter, but the try for extra point failed and Burley led, 7-6.

In the last canto the Burley club put the game on ice when Silcock, fullback, circled end and did a nice job of open field running to scamper 52 yards for the counter. The try for point failed.

VANDALS, REDSKINS Renew Rivalry At Boise Today

BOISE, Oct. 21 (U.P.)—The University of Utah Redskins meet the University of Idaho Vandals today on Public School field in a renewal of a traditional grid rivalry with a close final score expected.

The Armstrong's Utes held the edge on the basis of two victories over Wyoming and Brigham Young university and a tie with Santa Clara. But the Vandals, one victory and twice defeated against much tougher competition, trampled over the Utah eleven last year.

Coach Ted Bank of Idaho expected his team to hit mid-season peak against Utah after fumbling around with a strong defense and a weak offense during early season encounters. The Vandal defense was the "strongest" in the west.

The Utah eleven has backfield drive, versatility and much reserve strength, Bank said. But he believed the Utah line lacked the power to withstand the drives of his rejuvenated backfield. Rex Engking and Rudy Franklin, were in the Idaho half-back positions on the starting lineup.

"We were too bruised and battered by Oregon State to come back strong against Gonzaga," Bank said. "But the boys looked good in practice this week and I have hopes they will kick against Utah."

The Utah team was rated the strongest in 15 years with competent men at least two deep at every position.

Glenns Ferry Tops Shoshone By 27-12 Score

GLENN'S FERRY, Oct. 21 (Special)—Glenns Ferry footballers, fans of this section are convinced, have just about tacked away the Class B crown from south central Idaho for another year.

The River Pilots yesterday handed one of their toughest rivals, the invading Shoshone Indians, a 27-12 licking and were all set for their annual invasion of Boise against St. Joseph's.

Coach Kenneth Barrett's club scored in the first, third and fourth quarters to lead the Indians. Center Phil Hull blocked and recovered a Shoshone punt for a touchdown in the initial frame.

In the third period the Pilots really started to click. Quarterback Lloyd Morgan scored on a splinter and Ken Golden, fullback, converted. Then Jay Rout, fullback, intercepted a Shoshone pass. Morgan lunged through the line for the touchdown and then tossed the pigskin to Vernon Farmley for the extra point.

The gladiators didn't score until the final frame when the local second team was in the field. The Indians' first counter came when Baumann reached half the length of the field for a touchdown. For the other touchdown, Bettis tossed a pass to McCall.

All-America Golf Title Envisioned For Bud Ward

SPOKANE, Wash., Oct. 21 (U.P.)—An all-American golfing title for Idaho's Bud Ward was envisioned today by the Athletic Round Table, a booster organization.

Ward this week defeated Ken Black of Vancouver, B.C., the Canadian champion, in an exhibition match at Vancouver. Round table leaders said today they hoped to arrange a meeting with Jose Arango, Colorado Salazar, Argentine champion, at Mexico City.

Mac Lists 24-Hour Schedule for Alabama's Gridiron Aggregation

By HENRY McLEMORE
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 21 (AP)—If you were an Alabama football player going out against the Tennessee Volunteers here today in the nation's top game, here is the routine you would have followed from the time you opened your eyes in the morning until you were either congratulated or consoled in the dressing room after the game.

You would have had nine hours sleep after seeing the movie, "Dancing Co-eds" which was prescribed for you by Coach Frank Thomas. Light and frothy, it was chosen instead of George Raft in "I Slew a Million," which might have increased your nervousness with its gun play and intrigue.

Your lights would have been turned out and a final tuck to the covers given by a student manager at no later than 10 p. m. This same manager would have knocked on your door at 7:30 a. m. and seen to it that you got up at 8 o'clock. The fact that you already were awake and playing Tennessee in your mind, would not stop the rap on the door.

At 9:30 a. m. you would tuck away a big breakfast, all you could eat. Steak, baked potatoes, eggs, all sorts of fruit juices, and more steaks. Alabama players used to get at 8:30 and at 11:30 have a light lunch. But this mid-morning meal was abandoned when the team was told that the game couldn't swallow from nervousness, and that the only players who were the substitutes who had not been on the field.

Breakfast over, you would be taken on a walk to loosen your muscles. Then, with your mind cleared by the exercise, you would go in a room of the hotel and have the final points of attack and defense drilled once again into you. If you happened to be a quarterback you would go from this meeting to still another, where Coach Thomas would stress one more field position, defensive and offensive strategy, weak and strong points of the opposition, and urge upon you coolness under fire.

By this time it would be nearing 12 o'clock and the trainer would tape and bind your ankles and fortify any of your weak points. Then, still in your street clothes, you would get in the Alabama chartered bus and, behind a police escort, go to Shields Stadium.

You would have time to leisurely put on your uniform. There wouldn't be a sound in the dressing room. No more talking, no more advice, no more review on the field, and run through signals, kick, pass, and generally lumber up. While you did this the coach would be talking with the officials, giving them any trick plays he had, discussing the shift and then, when the game was fast breaking play might run into them if they were not forewarned.

You would be back in the dressing room 15 minutes before game time. To an outsider the silence of the room would be like that of a sanctuary. Deep friendships are bred at this time, a guard who will work with a tackle puts his arm around his comrade and whispers, "They can't lick us today, butch." Not until this quiet communion among the players is finished will the coach appear and if the team is ready he will send it out with a "Let's get going, fellows." If the team is low or discouraged he might say almost anything to lift it up.

Firestone Pin Club Rallies To Gain Draw

Firestone bowlers came back from a disastrous start to win the final game from the Iron Firemen and thereby win total pins and get an even split for the evening in the City League bowling last night.

The Iron Firemen, sporting a 45-pin handicap, easily won the first two pins, but the Firestone club took the last one by a 16-20 margin to gain the split for the evening. The two-pin win sent them into a four-way tie for the league leadership.

Top man for the winners was Ray King, who had a 354 three-game total, but he was only three pins better than Al Timmon, who had a 351. High angle was rolled by Art Timmon, who tossed a 215 his second game.

John Bieber led the losers with a 302, but high single for the Firemen went to George DeWetter with a 185.

Hubbell Slashes Own Salary by $7,500 for '40

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Carl Hubbell's signed contract for 1940 was on file in the New York Giants' office today.

President Horace Stoneham announced that Hubbell, veteran of 13 years with the Giants, had signed at his own figure. Stoneham sent Hubbell a blank contract and told him to write in his own figure. Hubbell did, cutting his own salary. The size of the cut was not announced, but the team had Hubbell cut himself from $23,000 to $15,500. He won 11 and lost nine last year.

King Hill Club Cops North Six-Man Title

KING HILL, Oct. 21 (Special)—Turning back a 22-man team that flared to the danger point in second and third quarters, King Hill's six-man football speed merchants clinched a place in league playoffs here yesterday by capturing a 21 to 20 triumph over the Brunson club. The game was replete with passes and spectacular group plays and Virius Higgins, who looms as one of the top men in six-man football ranks, elicited four touchdowns to spark the King Hill drive.

Score Two Touchdowns

Coach S. A. Mettler's team went into high gear in the opening period, chalking up a pair of touchdowns for a 13-0 edge. Brunson came to life in the second quarter, however, outscoring the home club two touchdowns to one. The third game was a thriller, ending with King Hill's long and of a 25 to 20 count. Mettler's smooth-working outfit clinched theirs in the closing period with another pair of touchdowns.

Lester Hall scored twice for King Hill and John Wheeler once. Brunson touchdowns were made by Andy, Clute and Grover, who scored on a pass from Clute.

Crown Clinched

Although King Hill must play Grandview in its final game, Friday's victory made it certain that the leaders can't be toppled out of the playoffs.

King Hill will now tangle with Heyburn, Minn.-Casia champion, for right to meet the winner of the Central district for the south Idaho six-man crown. At the present time Castleford looms as the Central champion.

HITLER TO CONSULT DUCE ON ALLIED-TURKEY PACT

GERMANY ANGRY WITH TURKS FOR SOVIET REFUSAL

By JOSEPH W. GRIGGARD.
BERLIN, Oct. 21.—Adolf Hitler intends to consult Benito Mussolini on the Turkish-British-French pact which the Turkish-British-French coalition aid pact as soon as it is completed and his own analysis of it, it is understood today.

Reports were circulated that German-Italian consultations, handled by Hitler and Mussolini personally, will be started tomorrow. But it was believed Hitler intended to study reports of his ambassadors at Rome, Moscow and Ankara, Turkey, before he initiated formal negotiations with Mussolini.

Clarification

Whatever else may happen, Nazis said, it was certain both Germany and Italy would press Turkey for a clarification of her attitude.

Hitler conferred for several hours yesterday with Baron Franz von Papen, his ambassador to Turkey, who hurried home as soon as it was made known the three-power pact would be signed.

It was expected von Papen would start back to Turkey within a few days, with a number of specific questions drawn by Hitler for a clarification of her attitude.

Hans Georg von Mackensen, ambassador to Rome, was expected to come here to report to Hitler, and it was believed Count Frederik von der Schulenburg might come from Moscow.

Nazis Angered

Nazis disclosed, however, that intensive diplomatic maneuvers are being conducted with Italy and Russia on the potentialities of the Turkish-British-French pact.

Whatever the eventual effects of the pact, it had certainly angered Nazis thoroughly. Responsible informants used such phrases as "Turkey is 'playing with fire' and Turkey is 'abandoning neutrality'" and said that a retreat from Germany and Italy—still linked with Germany as the southern end of the axis—would not be long in coming.

Second Cast Earns High Praise in Lincoln Play

By MARGARET ELLSWORTH
Equaling the splendid performance of the first cast, the second cast of the Twin Falls high school all-school play, "Prologue to Glory," directed by Miss Florence Rees, again last night presented the story of the young Abraham Lincoln in New Salem, during which he "lived a whole lifetime in one year."

In the same difficult role as the night before, Jess Williamson as Abraham Lincoln, turned in one of the best emotional scenes ever seen on the stage here. In all his varying moods, from great sorrow to light heartedness, the character of Lincoln was truthfully portrayed, as he again stood out over the entire cast.

Portrays sweetheart

Opposite him, Ann Rutledge, his sweetheart, was Betty Durling. Among his close friends who helped him after Ann's death were Squire Bowling Green and Aunt Polly Green, taken by Fred Bacon and Jane Douglas, and Granny Rutledge, played by Lark Tyler. Colonel Rutledge and Mrs. Rutledge, Ann's father and mother, were capably taken by David Wilson and Mary Lou Gilman.

Lincoln's young cousin, Denny, was played by Ben Slaty. His loving father was taken by Virgil Peronette, and his ambitious stepfather, Thomas Lincoln, by Kelsy Tyler. Sporting Shakespeare and Burns on the other, Jack Kelsy, cast as Gene Harrington, was Lincoln's close friend.

The Braggart

The braggart, Denton Offutt, taken by Allen Parrett, took Lincoln to New Salem to clerk, only finally to leave Lincoln saddled with the debts of the store. Schoolmaster Mentor Graham, who recorded votes at election, was Dee Jenkins, and Dr. Young, who attended to the sick, was Russell Smith as Dr. Young.

Appearing capably in smaller roles were Neil G. Baldwin, Sherman Beck, and Kenneth Baily as Mattie, Lloyd Leclair as Heister, Marie Lockhart as Mrs. Taylor, Milt. Brooks as Tom O'Connell, Dick Salladay as Salladay.

NAZI LOSS SEEN HIGH IN POLAND

LONDON, Oct. 21.—German losses in Poland in men and materials were much greater than German official statements admitted, the British foreign office said in a statement today.

"Information reaching London from a reliable neutral source reveals there is every reason to believe that German losses in men and materials in the Polish campaign were much heavier than those reported by German official statements," the foreign office said.

In his latest speech to the Reichstag, Adolf Hitler said that during the Polish campaign Germany lost 10,000 killed, 30,322 wounded and 3,400 missing.

Barbers' Bottles Collection Shown

JEROME, Oct. 21 (Special).—Displaying a number of embossed barbers' bottles, bearing intricate floral designs and other fanciful patterns, Mrs. Clyde Bacon gave a talk on the subject of collecting barbers' bottles at the Civic club meeting Tuesday.

As one of her hobbies Mrs. Bacon collects these old bottles. Among her collection is an especially lovely pattern in cranberry glass. Some of the exhibits shown are as much as 60 to 75 years old, and it is difficult for the observer to believe that such delicate designs were made by the lowly barber's bottle, she commented.

During the business meeting, presided over by the president, Mrs. E. Connor, three new members were accepted into the organization. They were Mrs. J. R. Connor, Mrs. Pat Burns and Mrs. Ram Chidambur.

For a table centered with late autumn roses in pale yellow, refreshments were served. Presiding were Mrs. Marie and Mrs. William Peterson. Hostesses were Mrs. Helen Norris, Mrs. Albert E. Martin, Mrs. John Nims and Mrs. John Parkinson.

REVEAL PARLEY, BORAH DEMANDS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Sen. William E. Borah, R. Ida., Friday called upon Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D. Ky., to reveal the record of the White House conference on neutrality last summer.

The veteran isolationist made the request after calling attention to a portion of Barkley's neutrality speech in which Barkley said that his faith in Borah's ability as a prophet would have to be reestablished because of Borah's alleged prediction that there would be no war in Europe this year.

Borah, Barkley and Republican and Democratic leaders of the senate attended a White House conference with President Roosevelt last summer at which it was decided to delay neutrality legislation despite administration protests.

"I desire to say that I would be exceedingly pleased to have that entire interview stated in full," Borah said, adding that he did not wish to take the responsibility of such action by himself.

"I think those who refer to it in part should refer to it in full," Borah said.

Barkley rose to say that he had merely cited information used in the press without denial from Borah.

Analysis Made of Red Cross Giving

JEROME, Oct. 21.—(Special).—That Jerome county is fourth from the lowest of chapters of American Red Cross in per capita giving in the state of Idaho, was the finding of a fact learned by Rev. W. F. Wills, when he represented the county in a regional conference of 10 southern Idaho counties in Boise Tuesday.

Average per capita giving from the 44 chapters was 4.5 per cent of the population. Highest givers are in Clark county, with 11.4 per cent, and Boise chapter with 10.38 per cent. Jerome county's membership last year was 2.8 per cent of the 8,258 people in the county.

In an effort to uplift the level of giving in the county, an attempt will be made to enlist enough workers so that every city and rural family will have an opportunity to join the Red Cross this year. J. R. Dancy, San Francisco, roll call representative for the entire Pacific area, was in Jerome about 10 days to meet all volunteer roll call workers of the county.

All Jerome civic, business, fraternal and social organizations will be asked to send representatives to the next meeting of the chapter Wednesday at 4 p. m. at the court house. At this meeting a report will be made on the highlights of the convention of the local Red Cross chairman, Rev. W. F. Wills. The general public is also cordially invited to attend.

COSSACK SINGERS TICKETS ON SALE

Tickets for the performance of the Don Cossack choir and dancers, famous Russian group on its second tour of America, went on sale today in the Perrine hotel lobby. The choir will appear in the high school auditorium Oct. 28, next Saturday.

Divided into three sections, grave, glamorous and gay, the program ranges from a melodic "Ave Maria" to a lively barcarole ballad that pretends a sword dance. In fact, the dancing swordsmen, shown a dozen dancers about his person and tosses them unceremoniously with his teeth into a neatly impaled serpent circle about him, is one of the most spectacular dances of the program.

Colorful costumes of the singers are changed at intervals to suit the mood of the music. Director of the musicians is Nicholas Kostrovsky.

After the performance in Los Angeles, the Evening Herald and Express critic expressed the opinion that the group should be called a "main symphony choir," for its music is of the highest quality and of that varied perfection, though there are but 23 of them. Their songs range from stirring Cossack marching songs to impressive religious selections and ballads, with instrumental imitations.

SOUTHSIDE ACRES LAUDED BY WOOD

J. D. Wood, consultant for the state planning board, today was on record as favoring improvement of the southside extension homesteads, an area of 150,000 acres north of Oakley, Charles Brown, president of the Oakley Valley Chamber of Commerce, said here today.

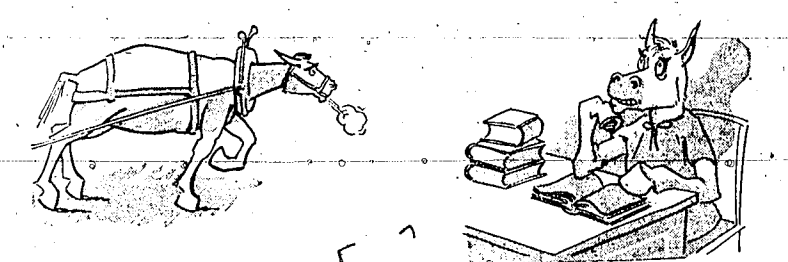

Brown quoted Wood as saying that the acreage would be turned into a "garden spot" with irrigation water. He added that a southside extension of the Minidoka project would provide the water necessary to make a fertile farming community out of the area. He pointed out that the soil of the region is exceptionally deep.

A committee from the Oakley Chamber of Commerce recently conferred with Wood and other officials regarding possibility of securing water for the area.

HORSEPOWER and HORSESENSE

Theoretically speaking, horsepower is a standard unit of work indicating the power required to raise 33,000 pounds one foot high in one minute.

Practical farming demands that Engine Horsepower be transmitted to "drawbar-pounds-pull"—to move the big loads encountered regardless of adverse ground or weather conditions.
