INTERSECTIONAL TILTS TOP GRIDIRON MENU

Seven Games Bring Clubs Together From All Sectors

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (U.P.)—College football teams hit the road today in an intersectional program topped by the game at Columbus, Ohio, between Cornell, best in the east, and Ohio State, powerhouse of the Big Ten.

Seven major intersectional games are scheduled: Most of them are here in the east—against southern teams.

The game at Columbus matches two powerful, resourceful teams that are unbeaten and untied. Ohio State has won over Missouri, Northwestern and Minnesota. Cornell has defeated Syracuse, Princeton and Penn State. The other intersectional game in the midwest is between Yale and Michigan, and Michigan is not looking for too much trouble.

Unbeaten teams also collide at Philadelphia where Pennsylvania takes on North Carolina. Other intersectional contests in the east are Villanova-Arkansas, Columbia-VMI, NYU-Georgia, and Navy-Clemson.

Some of the closest games will be between neighbors and one of the best of those is the Carnegie Tech-Notre Dame contest at Pittsburgh. Others on the east:

Harvard-Dartmouth, Holy Cross-Colgate, Fordham-Pittsburgh, Princeton-Brown and Syracuse-Penn State.

The best game down south appears to be the one between Tulane and Mississippi State, which has been beaten, although Tulane played a 14-1 tie with North Carolina. Others in the south:

Good Games in West

Alabama-Mississippi State, Centenary-Texas Christian, Duke-Wake Forest, Georgia Tech-Auburn, and Vanderbilt-Louisiana.

Unbeaten Nebraska has a job on its hands in the midwest where it goes against a strong Kansas State team. Wisconsin-Iowa is another close one in that section. Northwestern is favored to defeat Illinois, but no one is sure with confidence that will. Missouri seems ready to take Iowa State in its stride.

The best game west of the Rockies probably will be UCLA against Oregon. But there is a good program out there, including:

Southern California-California, Denver-Utah, Idaho-Coyotes, Oregon State-Washington State, Utah State-Colorado State, Washington-Stanford and Wyoming-Colorado.

In the southwest the Texas A. and M. meets Baylor. Texas plays Rice.

COYOTE WIN

COWELL, Ida., Oct. 28 (U.P.)—The College of Idaho Coyotes defeated Boise Junior College 20 to 13 in a chilly but fast football game at Hayman field last night.

Air Conditioned

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 28 (U.P.)—The city of Phoenix, easily ranked as the "most completely air-conditioned city in the world," only about 10 per cent of the homes have air conditioning. In the home, the city has a device, every store in the downtown district is air-conditioned.

Mid-West Grid Players Leave for South Schools

By HENRY McLENNON

COLUMBUS, Oct. 28 (U.P.)—Football footnotes concerning the Big Ten: That long morning when you hear on quiet nights comes from the coaches of this section when they think of the talent the southern schools are taking from them. No fewer than 50 midwestern boys who should be dining on roast beef and corn on the cob this time of year are away from home in the state capital, looking for a job in the big city.

This year's plague for popping-off and self-assurance goes to Tommy Harmon, the point-a-minute halfback from Michigan. He already has told the all-star officials in Chicago the size of his arm and the size of his head. He is a star in the 1941 game. He is a star in the 1941 game. He is a star in the 1941 game.

Up until this year Francis Schmidt, Ohio State coach, could have any popular contest in this town or in any other midwestern football center. But last week at Minneapolis, after his team had licked Minnesota, the Ohio State players and fans lifted him to their shoulders and paraded him about the town. Schmidt himself is this year's "underdog" himself to this city yesterday when he curiously told the Colum-

Bruins Re-enter Titular Race With Idaho Falls Win

Upsetting Moment in Bruin Victory

Here's Chuck Thomas, ace Twin Falls ball packer, getting dumped on his noggin after completing a nice 12-yard gain for the Bruins last night in the 20-14 victory over Idaho Falls at Lincoln field. An unknown Tiger tackler is sliding Thomas' feet high in the air in this play as Baumann (14), Idaho Falls rushes in to assist. In front, No. 27, is Rex Wells, Twin Falls tackle, while in the background is H. Malone, Idaho Falls center. (Times Photo and Engraving)

CLOSING OF SILVER CREEK
HITS BLOW AT FISHERMEN;
COWBOY INFELD WILL PERFORM FOR INDIANS IN '40

To many a south central Idaho fisherman, it was a story that came out of the office of the state game and fish department yesterday.

The story was to the effect that Silver Creek, probably the most famous of Idaho trout streams, and one of the best known in the west, would be closed for fishing from Nov. 1 to July 1, 1940.

We can see Director Owen Merriell's point of view, however, in closing the stream. For many years now the popular thing to do has been for fishermen to head for Silver Creek the night before opening day in the spring. They will camp on the banks and at first crack of dawn fishermen are thicker than mosquitoes along the banks of the stream.

During the last few seasons the fishy population has dropped off by the thousands and we expect that Mr. Merriell was of the opinion that now was as good a time as any to get a little re-stocking done.

Stories of fishing on Silver Creek are famous throughout this section—especially stories about opening day fishing. We've heard tell of fishermen being line up so thickly along the bank on opening morning that they couldn't cast without getting their line tangled up. This, however, may be a slight exaggeration.

We've heard the story of THREE or two men hooking the same fish at the same time. The truth was that by the time they all reeled in they had a little left of the said member of the fishy tribe.

There'll be a lot of people who'll say that it's for a good cause. Silver Creek was about to become just another stream with water in it—not a fisherman's paradise.

Montana Club Favored to Whip Vandals

MOSCOW, Ida., Oct. 28 (U.P.)—The University of Montana Grizzlies met the University of Idaho Vandals in a homecoming football game on the soggy turf of Neale stadium today with possession of the traditional "little brown stein" at stake.

The stein lay in the Idaho trophy case where it was placed after the Vandals' homecoming day game at Missoula last year by trouncing the Grizzlies.

The cold, wet weather gave the Montana team an advantage because of superior weight and they ranked favorites, the first time since 1921 when they beat the Vandals in the stein clash of the Big Seven conference.

But the Bruins came back strong and went to work the hard way to get their score. They pounded the line and scored three first downs on a march up the field, with Thomas and Glick packing the ball. Then on the 10-yard strike, Bob Patton sliced inside tackle and then cut back for a touchdown without a hand touching him. Thomas passed to Bill Polson to knot the count.

Twin Falls went ahead in the second frame when another drive brought the ball to the 22-yard line. From there Chuck Thomas did a neat bit of wriggling by shaking himself loose from the grasp of several Idaho Falls tacklers and squirming 22 yards for the counted yard.

The same old combination, Thomas to Polson, was good for the added yard, and at the half the count stood 14-7.

Neat, After Fumble

The Bruins apparently had the game tucked away in the third frame when they added their first score after a Tiger fumble. Thomas puffed and blew fumbled on his own 10-yard strike. Ira Carney, captain of the Bruins, was Johnny-on-the-spot and recovered for the Bruins. From there in the first score to make the count 20-7 as the try for extra point failed.

However, the "breaks" of the game were evened up in the fourth frame as the Bruin backfield fumbled the ball on the 23-yard stripe and Idaho, Falls recovered.

Here the Call club presented the weakest bit of gridiron football ever seen here in many a year. Aikman looked the ball from center, moved to the line of scrimmage and tossed it to Schwarzenberger, who was about five yards away. A flock of Bruin tacklers swarmed in on the big Tiger back, but he lateraled the ball out at end to Wilson, who crossed the goal line standing up. Early kicked the point to make the count 20-14.

The Bruins threatened twice more during that final frame, but couldn't make headway when they got in close. Thomas intercepted and pass into the period on his own 40 and raced it back 40 yards to the 10, but in the 10-yard count no yardage and as the game ended Idaho Falls had just taken over control of the ball.

Goodwin of Idaho Falls was probably the outstanding man on the field, doing a good share of the ball-packing for his club and playing a great all-around game. However, Ira Carney of the Bruins from his end position played a great defensive game. And Chuck Thomas, taking over the major ball-carrying duties, did a fine job of ground gaining, collecting 118 yards net in 26 tries for an average of 4.5 yards per try.

The game featured a total of 23 first downs, with Twin Falls getting 13 of these. The Bruins counted 230 yards from scrimmage and 23 from completing two out of three passes for a total of 253 yards.

Idaho Falls had 12 first downs, made 131 yards from scrimmage and 93 from passes for a total net gain of 224 yards. The invaders presented a passing attack that completed seven tosses in 15 tries.

Hank Powers' Team Gets 20-14 Victory Over Tough Tigers

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

The Twin Falls Bruins today had definitely reentered the ranks of contenders for the south Idaho conference championship after handing the Idaho Falls Tigers a 20-14 lacing at Lincoln field last night in one of the greatest offensive battles staged here in years. About 1,400 witnessed the contest.

To win Coach Hank Powers' club had to come from behind after the Tigers struck first in the opening frame and pushed across a counter in the first three minutes of play. But they had the stuff to come back and at half time had the situation well in hand.

The Bruins now will start preparation for their next conference tilt—against Caldwell here next Friday, Nov. 3. After the Tiger comes to Armitage, day, Nov. 11, and then the tough Nampa Bulldogs, who did everything but mop up the field with Pocatello yesterday to gain a 0-0 tie. The final game is against Burley on Thanksgiving day.

Score Bruin Backers

Last night's game saw Coach Joe Call's boys put a scare into local backers. After Twin Falls received and failed to make any headway in the attempt, Chuck Thomas kicked to the Idaho Falls '40. On the first Tiger play Schwarzenberger dashed off tackle for 23 yards to the 22-yard line. Then Thomas lined twice with no appreciable gain and then Aikman tossed a 10-yard pass to Goodwin and he scampered over the line for the initial counter.

To make things worse, Goodwin kicked the extra point to make the score 7-0.

But the Bruins came back strong and went to work the hard way to get their score. They pounded the line and scored three first downs on a march up the field, with Thomas and Glick packing the ball. Then on the 10-yard strike, Bob Patton sliced inside tackle and then cut back for a touchdown without a hand touching him. Thomas passed to Bill Polson to knot the count.

Studebaker, Lumber Pin Outfits Win

Studebaker's pin club came back strong to take three out of four tilts from Idaho Power last night in the Commercial league play after dropping the first tilt by a margin of 1-0. The Orange club won the first game but couldn't keep up the pace.

However, the power bowlers fell away badly in the next two games as W. J. Johnson was the only man on the team to go over the 500 mark. He had a top single of 241 and a three-game series of 871.

For the winter Fargo was high man with a 205 single and a series of 854.

In the City League Twin Falls Lumber took three out of four from Orange Transportation—with a 55-pin handicap figuring nicely in the totals. The Orange club won the first game but couldn't keep up the pace.

With a 544 series, was the top man for the evening although Ridge of the losers had a high single of 215.

NEW PLAN WOULD HAVE BRITAIN CEE ISLANDS TO U. S.

PROPOSAL ASKS SECTORS AS PAY FOR WAR DEBTS

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (UP)—Another plan for holding the United States flag over war debtors' possessions in the West Indies to make the Caribbean sea in fact an American lake is before congress today. A move in that direction also would allow the United States to defend South America against European aggressors.

It is significant because the weight of American military opinion would support such a program if it were presented under circumstances which would permit easy talk.

That would require either administrative interest in obtaining additional War Indian bases or a call from congressional committees for expert military information. At least some army and navy officers would endorse acquisition of British and French West Indian possessions with robust enthusiasm.

Demanded Settlement
Sen. Robert F. Wagner, N. Y., raised a tempest tonight last week with a demand for seizure of the islands especially if they were to improve our defenses. No one expects the administration or the military services to support such a settlement.

But Rep. Francis Haverdine, D., Calif., has introduced a house bill to authorize seizure of the islands with a view to their assignment of western hemisphere territory as part payment. Something could come of this especially if the powerful pressure here or abroad to relieve France and Great Britain of the borrowing restrictions of the London act.

Great Britain and France own hundreds of islands, bays and rocks in the Atlantic and Indian Oceans which extend from off the coast of Florida to the northern coast of South America.

Great Britain owes $3,340,000,000 and France $4,141,000,000 in defaulted war debts.

Would Remove Restrictions
Such adjustment on the basis of seizure of territory would restore our creditors to good standing, remove the prohibitions of the London act now operating against them and permit them to borrow money in the United States. Those who are against the plan may need that additional credit when their existing dollar balances are exhausted.

Sample opinions from army and navy men indicate that the military strategists would consider such a seizure for some of the British and French islands to be good business. They would avoid mixing into the question at all unless the administrative and military departments were to give expert advice.

Heads Meeting

Gerald Wallace, president of the South Central Idaho Education Association for the past year, has been in general charge of arrangements for the annual "institute" which closes today. Members were to elect successors to Wallace and the other officers by afternoon.

Score of Cash Prizes Listed In Soap Event

More than a score of cash awards will be given to Twin Falls boys and girls winning prizes in the unique "Hallowe'en Soap" contest in the downtown area Oct. 31, committee members explained today.

The window drawings will be divided into two general classifications, comic and artistic. Prizes will be awarded as follows: Grand prize, $5; first prize in each division, $1; and 16 honorable mention awards of 50 cents each.

In addition to the cash awards, each contestant who completes all the rules, will be given a free ticket to a special Hallowe'en matinee at the Orpheum theater, Saturday, Nov. 4, at 9:30 a. m. Participants will receive their tickets the following morning from the business firms on whose windows they drew their pictures.

Any youngster up to and including 16 years of age is eligible to compete and ages will be taken into consideration by the judges. Each contestant must confine his drawing to one square. He must sign his name and give his age and address to satisfy the judges in determining the winners. There will be plenty of squares for everyone and all taking part are urged to select their pictures for the beginning of the contest.

No methods are barred in producing the drawings, provided they are drawn with soap. Participants using any other material will not be eligible for either cash prizes or free theater tickets.

The contest will be confined to downtown store windows two blocks each way from Shoshone street on Main avenue and one block south and two blocks north of Main avenue on Shoshone street.

Rules Given Out
"Merchants in this area have been provided with contest instructions and a supply of free theater tickets," said E. C. Cook, chairman of the merchants' bureau committee, announced today. "If any have been overlooked they may secure their supplies by calling the Chamber of Commerce."

Cook urged that all merchants in the contest district have their windows squared off not later than 6 p. m. on Hallowe'en and that they provide as many squares as possible within the size limitations.

"All the merchants will be co-operating," he said, "this promises to be an outstanding event from which everyone will derive lots of amusement."

EXPERT PRAISES SCHOOLS IN CITY

Dr. Thomas R. Cole, professor of school administration, University of Washington, Seattle, said here today in an interview with the Evening Times that he considers the local elementary schools, with their equipment for health programs, lunch room facilities and other attributes of a well rounded school, to be "among the best I have seen anywhere in the country."

Dr. Cole is here as a featured speaker and discussion leader during the teachers' institute. He is a recognized authority on schools and their needs.

Points to District
"I think the Bickel school, for instance, is about as good school as I've seen for years for the amount of money spent for its construction," the expert said. "The rooming is spacious and well lighted and all necessary facilities are available."

Turning to the high school, Dr. Cole said that he was "especially pleased" to see the renovations made there. He stated the new building (Lincoln field) "is one of the most attractive I will find anywhere."

"After all there is no index to a city like a school facilities," Dr. Cole said, "and I wouldn't say that I have about the Twin Falls schools if I didn't mean it."

Praises Board, Davis
The visitor praised the work of the school board and also Supt. Homer M. Lines. Through the board, Dr. Cole made a survey of the local system on behalf of the school board members who were present.

"It was necessary to improve the local system and what should be done," he said. "I can look now and see my suggestions practically 100 per cent complete." Dr. Cole said, "and it has been done at an economical figure."

Death Summons Pioneer Who Braved Indian Peril

BELLEVUE, Oct. 28 (Special)—Mrs. Ora May Calhoun Duffy, 68, one of Idaho's pioneer settlers, Apache and Indian memories with stories of burning sands and heat and the lurch and sway of a covered wagon crossing the wild and Mexican desert, died Oct. 21 at the home of a daughter, Mrs. William Meyers, Bellevue.

A Christian Science funeral was conducted at Halley, and interment was in Bellevue cemetery.

Mrs. Duffy was born at Waco, Tex., Feb. 21, 1871. With her parents, Orlando F. Calhoun and Clara Calhoun, she came over the Oregon trail in 1884 to Idaho.

Braved Indian Peril
The family emigrated from Texas to New Mexico when Jeremiah, the oldest son, was a child. The people of that sparsely settled country, swooping down on helpless travelers and isolated ranch houses, killing the people and burning the property.

BANQUET CLOSES CLEANERS' MEET

With a pleasant banquet set for the Park hotel at 7 p. m. today, delegates to the annual convention of the Idaho Dry Cleaners association met this afternoon prepared to vote on officers for the coming year.

The convention opened this morning, held at the T. O. P. hall, included a spotting demonstration by Leonard Hopkins of the T. O. P. hall, a talk "Merchandising Dry Cleaning" by Fred Anderson of the Broadway cleaners, Boise.

This afternoon John Bald, of Birds Cleaners at Boise, discussed the future of the dry cleaning business. He said that the future of the business was in the hands of the cleaners themselves. He said that the future of the business was in the hands of the cleaners themselves.

Delegates to the Southern Idaho Laundrymen association convention concluded sessions last night at a dinner at the Old Fellows hall. Many of the delegates remained over today to attend the dry cleaners' convention.

Elections for both groups were set for late this afternoon.

Widow Asks for Estate Authority

Petition asking that administrative authority in the estate of the late W. A. Glavin be granted to his widow, Mrs. Mary E. Glavin, Hollister, has been filed in probate court.

The petition states that executors named in Mr. Glavin's will have requested that the widow be given administrative powers in the estate of Mr. Glavin, three sons and four daughters.

Valued at $2,400, the estate consisted of property in the Golden Rod addition, Mr. Glavin, who died Aug. 28, 1938, at Provo, Utah, left a will dated July 31, 1938. The will has already been probated in California. Judge C. A. Bailey set hearing for Nov. 8, with him and Kinney are attorneys for the widow.

Score of Cash Prizes Listed In Soap Event

More than a score of cash awards will be given to Twin Falls boys and girls winning prizes in the unique "Hallowe'en Soap" contest in the downtown area Oct. 31, committee members explained today.

The window drawings will be divided into two general classifications, comic and artistic. Prizes will be awarded as follows: Grand prize, $5; first prize in each division, $1; and 16 honorable mention awards of 50 cents each.

In addition to the cash awards, each contestant who completes all the rules, will be given a free ticket to a special Hallowe'en matinee at the Orpheum theater, Saturday, Nov. 4, at 9:30 a. m. Participants will receive their tickets the following morning from the business firms on whose windows they drew their pictures.

Any youngster up to and including 16 years of age is eligible to compete and ages will be taken into consideration by the judges. Each contestant must confine his drawing to one square. He must sign his name and give his age and address to satisfy the judges in determining the winners. There will be plenty of squares for everyone and all taking part are urged to select their pictures for the beginning of the contest.

No methods are barred in producing the drawings, provided they are drawn with soap. Participants using any other material will not be eligible for either cash prizes or free theater tickets.

The contest will be confined to downtown store windows two blocks each way from Shoshone street on Main avenue and one block south and two blocks north of Main avenue on Shoshone street.

Rules Given Out
"Merchants in this area have been provided with contest instructions and a supply of free theater tickets," said E. C. Cook, chairman of the merchants' bureau committee, announced today. "If any have been overlooked they may secure their supplies by calling the Chamber of Commerce."

Cook urged that all merchants in the contest district have their windows squared off not later than 6 p. m. on Hallowe'en and that they provide as many squares as possible within the size limitations.

"All the merchants will be co-operating," he said, "this promises to be an outstanding event from which everyone will derive lots of amusement."

EX-SAILOR GROUP EYES OLD TIMES

Following no set program, "old times" were discussed here last night as former members of the United States navy, principally sailors, gathered during the week before an entire wagon train had been completely wiped out, without a survivor left to tell what happened.

It is believed that the Indians thought the Calhoun family was a "ghost" camp, probably as a result of the fact that the two "sheeted" wagons were filled with soldiers.

When Ora was about seven years old, the family emigrated from Texas to New Mexico when Jeremiah, the oldest son, was a child. The people of that sparsely settled country, swooping down on helpless travelers and isolated ranch houses, killing the people and burning the property.

At the high school, Dr. Cole said that he was "especially pleased" to see the renovations made there. He stated the new building (Lincoln field) "is one of the most attractive I will find anywhere."

"After all there is no index to a city like a school facilities," Dr. Cole said, "and I wouldn't say that I have about the Twin Falls schools if I didn't mean it."

Praises Board, Davis
The visitor praised the work of the school board and also Supt. Homer M. Lines. Through the board, Dr. Cole made a survey of the local system on behalf of the school board members who were present.

"It was necessary to improve the local system and what should be done," he said. "I can look now and see my suggestions practically 100 per cent complete." Dr. Cole said, "and it has been done at an economical figure."

Cartoonist Wins Right to Buy His Sausage at $1.50 a Pound

By JOHN R. BEAL
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (UP)—The New Deal's department of agriculture retreated today before the indignant onslaught of a cartoonist's demand on presidential authority to right to pay $1.50 a pound for sausage.

On receipt of a letter from cartoonist J. N. (Ding) Darling, the department's D. E. G. Joss threw up his hands and said it would be all right for Chief Shaffer, president of the Big Link, Nohkink, Pure Pork, Old-Fashioned, Pennsylvania Sausage Co., Hickory-Smoked Sausage Co. of Three Rivers, Mich., to continue shipping sausage to Darling, to Vice-President W. W. Wagnack of the Des Moines, Ia., Register and Tribune, to Paul Hollister, New York department store executive, and certain other prominent citizens.

Things had looked black for a time.

Due to change in the meat inspection law, the department revoked Shaffer's permit to ship his sausage in interstate commerce.

Shaffer's sausage, however, is no more commercial product and is freely rushed to the rescue.

Shaffer makes his living as grand conductor of the Grand Old of Purpose Organ Pumpers, and sausage making is a mere sideline with him—a labor of love.

He produces "roses" out the hickory wood for smoking and, come hog-killing time, he supervises the processing of about 250 pounds, and his friends prize the cost of the meat that it figures out to about $1.50 a pound doesn't bother them one whit.

Well, Mr. Darling, being a member of the organ pumpers, wrote himself a letter to Joss.

"Cause for War
"I had thought," said Darling, "that perhaps the New Deal had a certain amount of justification for its lamping with our civil liberties in the interest of a benevolent distribution of this world's goods, but when they cut off the pigures from their supply of hickory-smoked sausage, they interfere with one of the sacred rights of American citizens."

"Wars have been fought and thousands of lives have been lost as a consequence and I am leading an individual rebellion whether anybody else does or not."

Thereupon Darling outlined plans either to (a) fight the case to the Supreme Court, or (b) personally employ a blunder to make sausage for him.

But by this time Joss had read Shaffer's letter, and gave up without a struggle. He notified Shaffer he could keep his permit.

Junior Stock Show Studied By Ag Chiefs

Initial step looking to the long-proposed junior livestock show in Twin Falls for Magic Valley's Future Farmer and 4-H club boys had been taken today by vocational agriculture teachers here for the S.C.I. Education association's institute.

The group named a committee to look into feasibility of the show. J. V. Briggs, Twin Falls, heads the study committee. Tom Moberly, Rupert, and Don Carter, Gooding, are associates. Questionnaires will go to all F.F.A. and 4-H members, and the committee will work with county teachers in determining what the show ought to be held and what date would be best.

Election of district officers by the ag teachers saw Mr. Briggs succeeding Henry Schodde, Filer, as chairman. Schodde presided at the meeting here. Jess Tremmeling, left in this city, was elected secretary.

Regarding the junior show for choice cattle raised by the youthful farmers, the instructor said that building a show and a market in Twin Falls would prove more beneficial than shipping the stock to Salt Lake City or San Francisco.

Speakers at the meeting were Stanley Richardson, Boise, superintendent of vocational education in Idaho, and Orville Paglin, Boise, educational field man for Idaho's A.A.A.

Buhl Women Discuss Present-Day Alaska

BUHL, Oct. 28 (Special)—Alaska was the subject of a paper given by Mrs. Rgy Weaver Thursday at the meeting of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid society at the home of Mrs. John Anderson.

Mrs. Weaver discussed present economic conditions of the country, outlined in detail its main resources and gave a clear geographic outline of the territory, and lastly gave the work being done by the Presbyterian mission, at the present time. Devotional service was led by Mrs. C. E. Rudy.

DEFENBACH WILL DEFEND HIMSELF

BOISE, Oct. 28 (UP)—State Tax Commissioner Byron Defenbach said today he would defend himself in a suit before the district court filed against him by State Forester Franklin Girard to test the right of electric state officials to exemption from payment of state income taxes.

Atty.-Gen. J. W. Taylor refused to defend Defenbach on the grounds the commissioner failed to consult him on legality of his action before he attempted to tax Girard. Taylor said a supreme court decision upheld Girard's exemption from tax payment.

Defenbach charged certain state officials had not paid income taxes since the law was enacted in 1931.

"There are entirely too many loopholes in our tax laws and I am trying to patch them up," Defenbach said.

Hoops Low on Highway Bids

BOISE, Oct. 28 (UP)—J. W. Whiting, construction manager of the Utah, offered a low bid of $28,000 for building a roadbed and surfacing with crushed gravel 207 miles of highway between the state industrial school and Parker in Fremont county, highway officials announced today.

Construction of Twin Falls bid $38,072 for construction and graveling 426 miles of the Idaho county highway numbered 10 in Blaine county. Estimated cost was $40,145.

Suit Asks $253 In Overdue Rent

Because he claims that rent totaling $253 is in arrears, Charles E. Bruggeman has filed civil suit in district court against B. C. Beetham.

The property owner stated that Beetham had rented the location in question under an oral lease at $36 per month. He asks restitution of the premises.

J. Myers is attorney for the plaintiff.

BEETS

Yield of 28.24 tons per acre in a five-acre field at the B. C. Van Ausdale's farm, northwest of Filer, ranks among the highest yields yet reported by Twin Falls county sugar beet producers, sugar factory chiefs said today.

Although figures have not been compiled as a whole, it was known that one or two growers between Klamath and Twin Falls also had yielded in the high 20s per acre.
