

TINY COUNTRIES WARNED TO STAY NEUTRAL

Bund Leader—And Friend

Telegrams offering "love and kisses" written by German-American Bund "fathers" Fritz Kuhn and sent to Mrs. Florence Camp, were produced at his New York trial for alleged theft of Bund funds. Prosecution said Bund money paid for them. Above: Kuhn and Mrs. Camp are pictured together.

Dewey Asserts Kuhn Is Threat to Liberty, Community Nuisance

By MARTIN KANE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (UPI)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey testified as a defense witness at the grand larceny trial of Fritz Kuhn today he considered the German-American Bund a "nuisance to the community and probably a threat to civil liberties."

Dewey, prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, was called to the stand by Peter L. F. Sabbatino, Kuhn's counsel, who indicated he hoped to prove that the prosecution of the bund leader had a political motivation.

Kuhn, 40, a man of commanding 6 ft. 7 in. of the bundle's money, "the chief of the German-American Bund," testified that under the "leadership principle" of the bund, Kuhn had absolute power to use its money as he saw fit.

No Personal Animosity

Sabbatino asked Dewey, who is responsible for bringing Kuhn to trial, if he had any personal animosity against the "bundishness" against the "bundishness."

"Never having seen the man before," Dewey replied, "it would be impossible for me to have personal animosity. And yet, on the other hand, I have considerable animosity to the community and probably a threat to civil liberties."

Sabbatino said he intended to show a spirit of hatred had been created against the defendant.

"It is difficult to call it hatred," Dewey said. "When it is really contempt."

Sabbatino tried to bring out that Kuhn's records, used by the state in the prosecution, had been selectively seized. From those records he stated arrived at his charge, Kuhn had spent bond money to pay medical bills and moving costs of women friends.

Office Procedure

Dewey said he did not know in advance that bund headquarters were to be raided on May 2, 1939, when the records were seized.

"I am afraid, then, that day he said, 'The raid was just office procedure.'

Subhanno obtained from Dewey a letter Mayor P. H. Letcuhard had written him on May 2, 1939, the day the records were seized.

The letters turned out to be an offer of evidence of city tax violations by the bund and Dewey's grateful reply.

Subhanno brought out that the records went to Dewey and forwarded to Letcuhard by the mayor of Portland, Ore., which showed the district attorney and Letcuhard tearing Kuhn apart, each shouldering half the blame.

In Asylum

Kuhn had appended a note saying, "You can have him, Tom," and Dewey had replied, "I don't want him." Then the two men had to be the best of friends.

Assistant District Attorney Herman J. McCarthy, who is prosecuting the case, took his chief under cross-examination and Dewey was denied his personal healthiness against Kuhn.

LAGUARDIA ASKS FOR UNION PEACE

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (UPI)—Major P. J. Laguardia, the leading peace movement today in an address to the second annual convention of the New York Industrial union council, state body of Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The major said the strife between the American Federation of Labor and the CIO worked only to the advantage of selfish union leaders and urged a peaceful peace to prevent permanent impairment to the cause of labor.

CAPONE GUARDED AGAINST FEARED GANGLAND DEATH

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 17 (UPI)—Heavy police details guarded the Union Memorial hospital today where Al Capone, former Chicago gang leader, began a struggle to recover from pneumonia.

Detention and plainclothesmen of the local police department augmented federal agents who have guarded the ex-convict's suite of rooms here since his release from federal custody.

The police detail was not explained, but it was understood to be a "precautionary measure" against the possibility that some of Capone's powerful enemies might seek to administer "justice."

Malaria Fever Treatment

The federal agents, too, were there to guard Capone, presumably against "certain personalities" referred to yesterday by Attorney General Frank Murphy, Washington. He admitted they would know Capone under surveillance at least while he is undergoing treatment.

Baltimore Police Commissioner Robert Murphy refused to say whether three arrests had been made against the one-time king of Chicago's underworld.

Meanwhile, doctors prepared to submit Capone to a malaria-fever treatment, which is often used to check the ravages of syphilis, a softening of the brain resulting from syphilis.

Capone is under the care of Dr. Joseph E. Moore, one of the nation's experts on treatment of syphilis.

Capone's Health

Despite official silence about Capone's health and his chances for recovery, some examining physicians said privately that his condition bordered on hopeless.

Capone was admitted to hospital yesterday, he plans to go to Chicago, where his family now is based, a fact having been disclosed by his imprisonment for income tax evasion.

Plans for a Comprehensive Survey

Plans for a comprehensive survey to determine whether or not the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce should inaugurate a special membership for "smaller" businesses and for professional persons were presented to the chamber by its directors, held at the Rogerson hotel. Chairman John Boden, of the membership survey committee, reported that a survey ballot will be sent to all business and professional men as to their move for enlisting a considerably wider enrollment.

Ray J. Holmes and Mel Dalling, who would follow the survey with personal contact work.

Iron Lung

The chamber voted to contribute $100 toward the purchase of an iron lung for the Twin Falls campaign initiated by the Lamb Club. Funds raised by the club will install one of the automatic respirators at the county hospital.

Carl N. Anderson advised the directors he would be well pleased to attend the C. of C. meeting for discussion of matter highway designation for Twin Falls.

CAA Leaders May Stretch For This Girl

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 17 (UPI)—National CAA leaders yesterday stretched herself to 5 feet 2 inches and qualified for the junior college flying course. The decision solved for civil aeronautics authority a difficult problem.

WHEELER URGES PARTY UNITY TO ASSURE VICTORY

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 17 (UPI)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., regarded by some as a possible compromise candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940, advocated party harmony at next year's election.

In an address last night before the United Democratic Women's club of Maryland, Wheeler said that election of a Republican would mean the loss of social and economic gains because the "dead hand of blind reaction still is the controlling factor" in GOP ranks.

A Democratic victory, he added, would perpetuate "safe and progressive" liberalism.

No Candidate Hint

Wheeler gave no hint of the possibility of his own candidacy and professed general agreement with President Roosevelt's program of domestic legislation. His only remark was that he would support the 1940 candidate was:

"The choice of a candidate is always of vital importance and next year will be no exception. But even more important than the choice of the candidate is the making certain that the next President of the United States is a Democrat, elected to office with the full weight of a united and militant party behind him."

Fought Roosevelt

Of his relations with Mr. Roosevelt, who had nominated him for a third term and whose bill to expand the membership of the supreme court, Wheeler fought vigorously.

"I am one of those members of the Senate who vigorously opposed the nomination advanced by President Roosevelt to the critical conditions which faced the nation during the past few years.

In voicing the opposition, I was convinced that the bill I was co-sponsoring would not help him. It coincided very closely with my views.

It was a difference of method that separated us and not a question of fundamental beliefs. But, while differing with him on some questions, I was not in any way disloyal to him or to his administration with whole-hearted enthusiasm."

MASS SAID FOR JUSTICE BUTLER

WHEELER URGES PARTY UNITY TO ASSURE VICTORY

SENATE VETERANS SEE MURPHY AS SUCCESSOR TO BUTLER

EX-GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN LOOMS CERTAIN CHOICE

BY LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 (UPI)—Congressional sources here believe that General Frank Murphy as the most likely successor to Supreme Court Justice Pierce Butler. They predicted speedy confirmation if his name is submitted to the Senate.

Sen. George H. Rauch, D. Ia., George Norris, Ind., Neb., and Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., all named Murphy first in calling the roll of potential associate justices. Butler died yesterday at the age of 75.

Congressional opinion seemed to be that Mr. Roosevelt would be likely to postpone nomination of a successor until Congress meets Jan. 3. The Senate, however, already is sufficiently represented on the high bench to make it a controlling factor in decisions. And caution and custom would require a long time for the president to nominate a court nominee until Congress meets again next week before a new session.

Six Jackson Advance

Promotion of Solicitor-General Robert H. Jackson to the attorney generalship generally could be expected if Murphy were shifted to the Senate.

Murphy's name was not alone in supreme court speculation. Some senators suggested Wheeler. Former Dean Wiley B. Rutledge of the Iowa law school, who was a member of Stevens' circuit court of appeals for the District of Columbia, Rutledge recently was named to the district court of appeals for the District of Columbia. Judge Sam Gompers, of the 10th circuit court of appeals, also was being considered.

Sen. William King, D. Ia., said he had been told that the judiciary committee believed there was a need of a "real westerner" on the court and advocated the nomination of Stevens to replace Butler. King backed Stevens for the last court vacancy by Associate Justice William O. Douglas. Stevens also is from Utah.

Borah, Wheeler and Norris, representing progressive Republicans independent of the anti-new deal Democratic wing, are in agreement today with the liberal faction which has controlled the court for some time.

FOUR WIVES WIN DIVORCE ORDERS

Desertion, non-support and cruelty won divorce decrees today for four Twin Falls county wives.

Mrs. Lula Ethel Vaughn, Buhl, was freed from Curtis Albert Vaughn, her husband, after three years—May 3, 1907 in Missouri. There are no minor children. Mrs. Vaughn claimed desertion Dec. 5, 1934.

Mrs. Phoebe Hutchings, a graduate of divorce from W. J. Hutchings, whom she married July 1, 1929 at Buhl. She charged desertion. The couple has no children.

Mrs. Nettie Dobbs was divorced from her husband on account of non-support. They married May 31, 1924, at Buhl. Mrs. Dobbs was custody of a son, 12.

Grueling brought a decree for Mrs. Alma Mae Ball against James Henry, Jr., of Twin Falls. The suit was filed April 26, 1937, at Joslin, Mo. The couple has no children. Mrs. Ball won return of her former name, Alma Mae Ballou. Her cruelty did not include the statement that her husband once pulled her hair so hard that he dislodged some of it.

Judge J. W. Porter granted all four decrees after uncontroverted hearings.

Read Wins Store Remodeling Work

General contractor on work which will see the local Walgreen store doubled in size through occupancy of space in the Eridge building now occupied by Fred W. Read. Twin Falls, it was announced here this afternoon.

The improvement is estimated to represent an expenditure of $5,000 and will be completed throughout the space which the Walgreen store will take over was formerly occupied by Showball's Sport shop, which moved next door.

Sub-contractors for the work were also announced. The work will be done by the Idaho-Nevada Electric company; plumbing by the Home Plumbing and Heating company, and electrical work by Detweller's Inc.

An application for permit to start the work was made with the city clerk today by Mr. Read.

Unemployment More Important

The barometer of national income is heading upwards again after its ascent was halted temporarily by the 1938 recession. With the aid of the war boom, it is expected the income will hit the 70 billion mark predicted early this year.

This is cheerful news to everyone but the unemployed. To them statistics of national income don't mean very much. Before the war began, it was estimated that 10,500,000 persons were still without employment in private industry. This figure may have been reduced some by the spurt resulting from conflict abroad, but it is still too close to the 10 million mark.

The average national income in the United States during the past 20 years has been 63½ billion dollars annually. The average number of persons unemployed each year during the same period is six million. In other words, the apparent national income for 1939 will exceed the average by about six billion dollars. But the number of unemployed, which should respond to income figures conversely, is still about four million above the average.

National income figures have never been a faithful indicator of employment. Even during the years before 1929, income figures reacted independently of employment statistics because of a variety of almost incalculable factors which entered the picture.

For instance, in 1922 unemployment jumped sharply from 1½ million the year before to 4½ million; but, instead of declining, national income showed a slight increase. The national income increased 10 billion dollars in 1923 and employment gained from 1½ to 2½ million. The relationship, if any, seems to be somewhat distant.

Greatest discrepancies between the two sets of figures are reflected during America's black years after 1929. Both employment and national income settled down nearly to rock bottom after the Big Crash. The national income reached its lowest point of 40 billion dollars in 1932 when unemployment reached its peak of 12 million. But from that point, income figures began their steady rise while unemployment remained virtually the same.

What has been happening since 1932 is that the people who have jobs have enjoyed the full benefits of increased national income while the jobless have noticed no difference in their financial status. No matter how high income may go, no matter what steps the government may take to provide relief, there will never be security until a greater percentage of people is employed.

One factor in the country today is in favor of "soaking the rich" to dole out contributions to the jobless. That is no solution. There is only one answer: Work must be found for the 10 million.

The unemployment planks should be the most important in 1940's political platforms. Most other matters will hinge on this single issue.

Americanizing Menus

The day may not be far off when an honest citizen can enter a swanky restaurant without running smack into a menu that looks like page torn out of a French textbook—and may just as well be. Chefs from all over the country, meeting in New York, are considering a resolution to Americanize all bills of fare.

To many people, ordering from a foreign menu is just a shot in the dark. It is enough that some restaurants demand dress suits without requiring a working knowledge of French and Italian. Patrons who say, "I'll take that," and point to blanmange are surprised when they get ordinary gelatin. Eggs benedictine are always a let-down when they turn out to be eggs and spinach. And diners who thrill to the sound of puree should be forewarned they are getting nothing more exotic than soup.

This new movement will find its heartiest endorsement among the thousands of Americans whose only fault is that they can't pronounce hors-d'oeuvre. If the resolution is successful, many more people will be given an even chance to get a square meal when they go out to dinner.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace says he is not sorry for saying he wants Mr. Roosevelt for a third term. One could hardly expect the secretary to apologize for saying he would like to keep his job for another four years.

Only tall men are being accepted for United States Army duty in Panama because of the heavy underbrush. It can be mighty embarrassing losing an army somewhere in the grass.

Lisburger cheese is losing some of its aroma in new manufacturing processes. It will soon be strong enough to appear in decent company.

POT SHOTS

WITH

The Gentleman in the Third Row

EXPLANATION OF WHERE THOSE SHELLS WENT!

My Dear Pot Shots:
I have some amount of your column, so here goes. I would like to enter the following as only necessary in the interest of my defense, because of the last signed by G. N. T. (otherwise known as G. N. Y.)

At the start of the hunting season this year I had exactly one box, minus one, of shells remaining from last year. Of this amount I have used exactly 10 shells that were given to me by other members of the family upon different occasions. I did buy another box of shells, and can account for all shells now missing from the box in the way of five dead rabbits.

The results of the seven shells from the first box are as follows:

- 1. Missed bird at 25 yards.
- 2. Missed bird on wing.
- 3. Ditz.
- 4. Missed bird on wing, fell in canal full of water, hence lost.
- 5. Winged bird on ground.
- 6. Missed bird on wing.
- 7. Killed bird on ground.

As far as the ability of G. N. T. is concerned, all I will say is that he is a good marksman. (Whose name I will not mention in return for this information) went out with a dog one Sunday and worked the dog most to death (the dog even got up 10 birds at once and bagged one bird.) This is gotten by G. N. T.

—TUT TUT FOR MR. WOOD!
Some of the boys (not Twin Falls boys) were wondering what line of reasoning your sports editor uses in declaring the winner of the Twin Falls High football game as state champion.

The Southern Idaho conference is made up of six of the state's larger schools, but Mr. Wood must admit that there are other towns in the state with football teams, too. Please remind Mr. Wood of this fact, will you?

We were wondering if it is taken for granted that the Southern Idaho conference champion can defeat the State champion. We hear there are some pretty good teams in northern Idaho, too.

Please tell Mr. Wood that we would feel much better—and it would be more accurate and proper—if he would speak of the State champion as the Twin Falls-Nampa game as Southern Idaho conference champion.

Faith in Peace and Government Asked by D. A. R. National Head

Calling for maintenance of a strong faith in representative government by all Americans during the present world crisis, Mrs. Henry M. Robert, Jr., Annapolis, Md., president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, this afternoon addressed approximately 90 members of Idaho chapters of the D. A. R. and guests at a luncheon at the Park Hotel.

Mrs. Robert, speaking on "Living Traditions," warned that unless faith endures our national hopes will crumble, and declared:

"The American people are united in their desire for peace. Let no Daughter of the American Revolution, therefore, be heard to say, 'I'm afraid that well be drawn into it.' There is no conflict today between loyalty to God and God that we can see. The force of right will replace the material force of arms, between patriotic effort and a wish for peace."

Graceful Leader

Tall, slender, young woman of commanding presence and gracious friendliness, the president general radiates the qualities that make for wise and successful leadership, that account for her popularity with this national organization.

She was introduced by Mrs. T. F. Warner, Twin Falls, state regent, who was presented by Mrs. E. M. Sweeney, Twin Falls, general arrangements chairman. Mrs. Warner also welcomed the out-of-town regents who attended the luncheon.

The assembly sang "America" as the opening number on the program. Following the invocation and salute to the flag, one verse of "Iowa" was sung.

Mrs. Frank Fonda directed the singing, and Miss Edith Clark accompanied at the piano. Concluding number was "God Bless America."

Worshipfully conducted by Mrs. E. M. Sweeney and Mrs. Warner, Mrs. L. W. Yoehres and Mrs. T. M. Robertson were members of the luncheon committee.

Chrysanthemums formed the principal decor for the luncheon tables.

Always for peace

Mrs. Robert, now making a tour of 13,000 miles during which she will speak before many state conferences in the east, midwest and the northwest, stressed the point that the cause of peace has maintained a stand for peace.

"While actively supporting the nation in the emergency of war, the society has consistently upheld every sound effort toward peace for peace and lasting peace," she declared. "The Daughters of the American Revolution counted it a privilege that the Conference Upon Limitation of Armaments in Washington in 1933 was held in its annual meeting. Continental headquarters dedicated as it is to the perpetuation of the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence."

Continuing the discussion of the principles of the D. A. R., Mrs. Robert commented that for many years the society had emphasized the need of education for citizenship within a republic, and "it is to be recognized that in declaring principles of freedom and equality, the founders of the nation were expressing ideals to be attained rather than conditions already existing, and that ideals could be achieved only through conscious effort of many generations."

Educational Defense

"Equal in importance, therefore, with military protection, were country's educational needs. In this respect the D. A. R. became pioneers. They discerned the beginningnings of a movement designed to undermine the principles of democracy by presenting the views of America with the idea of antiphilosophy."

"The society's effort toward national defense, therefore, was combined with one toward patriotic education of our citizens. We endeavored to emphasize the importance of the fact that the state will rise no higher than the judgment and thinking levels of its citizens, that under the systems of government allowing the greatest degree of individual freedom the nation which has the greatest return for his efforts, that dangers may arise within as well as from without the country and that liberties and privileges dearly bought in the past must be carefully maintained and protected in the future."

To Sun Valley

Mrs. Warner and Mrs. Wilbur B. Hill will accompany Mrs. Robert to Sun Valley tomorrow for a day's stay, after which she will take the train to Billings for Salt Lake City, her next visiting point.

During her stay in Twin Falls, Mrs. Robert is the house guest of Mrs. L. Breckinridge, last evening she was honored to have dinner for 10, arranged by Mrs. Warner at her home on Eighth avenue east.

THURSDAY CLUB

Mrs. Stanley Carr was hostess to the Thursday Club yesterday at her bridge club yesterday at her home. A cleverly arranged dessert luncheon was served preceding the games. Mrs. Robert Stevens and Mrs. E. H. Scofield won honors at cards.

Magic-Y Gives Egypt-to-U.S.A. Tour for Clubs

Alice Peavey Is Party Honoree

Mrs. Alice Peavey, whose marriage to Charles E. Groll, New York City and San Francisco, was last Friday and Saturday, was honored at Christmas day at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Peavey, 101 Seventh avenue north, was honor guest at a 1:30 o'clock luncheon yesterday.

Her daughter, Miss Margaret Davis, twelve years old, and her mother were entertained at the home of the W. O. A. as they were guests of Magic-Y, other business girls' group of the W. C. W. A. at a progressive party during which they visited homes representing different industries.

Guests sat at the club room at 8 o'clock, and were given their tickets and divided into groups to be escorted by special guides.

Camp Fire Guides

Guides were Miss Lois LaChair, Miss Vicki, Miss Lane, and Miss Charlotte Richardson, members of the Chippahabkong group at Camp Fire Girls which the Magic-Y sponsored. Each of the small groups visited a different industry.

Guests stopped off in the "Cafe de Paris" in France, really the home of Miss Lucille Long. In the cafe were quarter tables covered with colorful cloths, and waitresses were dressed in French aprons, pouches, and cookies were served at the tables.

Sponsors of the event were members of the Afternoon Guild, an auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. George H. Trull, Hansen, is president.

Another destination was Egypt, complete with the mystery of the east. As guests entered the home of Mrs. Lloyd Martin, with Miss Helen Swope assisting them were ushered into a circular chamber where slaves fanned them with palm fronds and a torch was passed around a crystal bowl.

Fortunes of each girl were told by the fortune-teller, Miss Wilma Rabe. Providing atmosphere in the room were palm draperies on the walls, palm trees on the floor, and a dummy resting on a tall stand.

Holland was another of the countries toured during the evening. Bright-colored tulips and scenes of Holland were painted and colored decorations filled the room. On table was a typical Dutch countryside scene, with a windmill and small house and grounds. Hostesses wore full-skirted costumes and the typewriter was a typewriter.

White chrysanthemums, flanked by lighted tea tapes, centered the lace-covered tea table, and dozens of lighted papers were grouped around the room.

Asking in the tea room were Miss Shirley Smith, Miss Eleanor Lou Bowman and Miss Jacni Pink.

Shower Arranged

For Recent Bride

ACEQUIA, Nov. 17 (Special) — Mrs. C. M. Wheeler and daughter, Elsie, entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edna Peavey, 101 Seventh avenue east.

Mr. and Mrs. Peavey, with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peavey, were the hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Peavey's program was "Silver Bells," or "A Call to Stewardship," led by Mrs. Edwin Wells. Mrs. Tucker talked on "It Is Worth It," and Mrs. Salisbury on "Two Helping Hands." Miss Alice Gibbs closed the meeting.

PREMIUMS, too!"

A treat in themselves, tender PREMIUM Crackers also make soups, salads, appetizers, cheese or creamed dishes taste doubly delicious.

If you're one of those shoppers who think all crackers are alike, do this:

COMPARE THE FRESHNESS: When you open your triple-wrapped, air-tight carton of PREMIUM Crackers, notice that fresh-from-the-oven aroma. They're rushed to your grocer from nearby National Biscuit Company ovens. They reach your table with all their freshness sealed in.

COMPARE THE TASTE AND TEXTURE: You can tell PREMIUM Crackers by their "finer ingredient" taste. And you know that delicate, open texture means baking timed to a split second.

In three convenient sizes. Your grocer has them.

SUGGESTION OF THE WEEK: For a nibble at bedtime, try PREMIUM Crackers and a glass of milk or a cup of hot chocolate.

Water Users Approve Land Rehabilitation Practices

DELEGATES HEAR
SEN. O'MAHONEY
AT FINAL MEET

DENVER, Nov. 17 (UPI)—Governors, congressional representatives and conservation experts of 17 western states headed home Saturday from the annual Western Rehabilitation Association convention after approving a program designed to expand national land rehabilitation practices.

There were more than 1,200 delegates who closed their three-day convention here last night, approved 27 resolutions calling for national and state extension of reclamation activities, and called for national resources and rehabilitation of western agriculture. One supported by the American Legion, termed expanded reclamation of American land "important and necessary as national defense measures."

Step to End Civilization

U. S. Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D-Wyo., who has been pushing westward expansion and European war-waging nations in the closing speech that abandonment rural areas marked the first step toward dissolution of civilization. He insisted that the best guarantee of future happiness represents the basis of continuation of life as it is known today.

Reclamation, through its vast projects of water storage, irrigation of land and soil conservation, Sen. O'Mahoney continued, constitutes the life-line by which rural areas are keeping pace with the spreading industrial and business world.

During final plenary sessions delegations from all 17 western states left and chose Great Falls, Mont., as the 1940 convention site. The board of directors—composed of one delegate from each of the 17 member states—elected O'Mahoney as president; Orr Bundy, Oregon, Utah's first vice-president; Robert W. Sawyer, Bend, Ore., second vice-president; A. J. Ford, Spokane, Wash., treasurer; and Floyd G. O'Gorman, Washington, D. C., secretary.

Bret Group Formed

In a supplementary meeting, 11 western sugar beet raising states organized in cooperative action to insist present federal sugar beet acreage quotas and to seek emergency legislation to permit reclamation western land to be used for the cultivation of beets.

Representatives from Montana, South Dakota, Colorado, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Nebraska, Wyoming, New Mexico and Nevada pledged their states to cooperate in a campaign to raise the federal acreage quotas as needed by the sugar beet organization. The new organization was named the Western Sugar Beet association.

Frank T. Morgan of Nysa, Ore., was elected president of the newly formed group. W. Rialing of Napa, Calif., was chosen vice-president and Blaine Ferguson of Great Falls, Mont., secretary-treasurer.

Defenbach Sues Chain Store for Delinquent Taxes

BOISE, Nov. 17 (UPI)—State Tax Commissioners Byron Defenbach sued Gamble-Skogmorn, Inc., of Del Norte, Minn., for $39,494 in taxes in Minneapolis, for alleged evasion of fees in a suit in filer in district court today.

The company concedes its stores are individual units and not a chain. The suit is expected to become a test of the entire chain store tax act.

Scientist Foresees Vast Changes in Near Future

BY WAYNE FITCH

"The effect of gas warfare, however, is often greatly overrated. In the event of a true war, the gas will be cleared of a concentrated section but the danger of gas to civilians is more psychological than lethal. More people would be killed by panic than by the gas in a tank."

Dr. Wendt paused and then summed up the theme of his address with one concise sentence:

"Changes have come and will continue to come. We have reached the peak, that there can be no more great discoveries."

"And sometimes you and I wish that progress could stand still so that we might take an inventory, see how we are progressing."

But Progress

"But progress cannot be stopped," he declared, and the consequences of scientific development, such as economic collapse and devastating warfare, must be faced and adjusted.

Students of the high school science classes attended the meeting in a body.

How can the scientist point the way out of woods? "He is too specialized and too intent on his work to deal successfully with the world outside," Dr. Wendt said. "It is up to other men to solve the problems created by science," said the noted chemist.

To substantiate his early statements, he showed the results that will be in the coming years. Dr. Wendt gave his audience some glimpses into the science of tomorrow's world.

With considerable showmanship, he demonstrated a number of articles of synthetic manufacture, some of which have yet to reach the market. Various qualities of rayon all made from wood; gloves also made from wood; train cars that don't dent and nylon stockings that do not run, all the products of coal; light, strong substitutes for steel, made from soy beans; and synthetic wool made from skimmed milk were some of the plastics paraded by the visiting scientist.

Conducts Light

Lutite, a substance that looks like glass, is unbreakable, more durable than steel and possesses of miraculous refractory powers, it was explained by Dr. Wendt. Just wires conduct electrically, so does lucite conduct light, he allowed.

"Coal wood and petroleum are the basic for the new plastics," he said. Headlight glass will be eliminated and three dimension motion pictures will be brought into being by the use of light filters that strain out the colors of light.

The amazing properties of ultraviolet and fluorescent light were demonstrated.

Chemical Warfare

"In the future chemical warfare will undoubtedly be used," the doctor in anticipation of audience questions as his talk drew to a close.

MARIONETTES TO OPEN SATURDAY

First showing of the new marionette show presented by the Twin Falls recreational department will be at 2 P.M. Saturday in the recreation center. Director Vern Richards announced today.

The show is "The Wizard of Oz," adapted by recreation leaders. Story written by Paul Smith and Jim Bellamy, stage manager. Miss Linda Cutler, costumes, Mrs. Cutler, Mrs. Smith and Phoebe Hutchins.

Handling the marionettes as they move will be Mrs. Cutler, Mrs. Smith, Beverly, Pete Smith and Charles Joslin. The marionettes were made at the recreation center.

The "Wizard of Oz" and other marionette presentations planned by the recreational division are available to various community organizations and schools in Twin Falls or elsewhere. Miss Richards said. The only requirement is these:

"That the audience will be interested in the stage for a closer view of the subjects demonstrated.

Students of the high school science classes attended the meeting in a body.

Busy Cross-Country Jaunt Is Just Vacation for Scientist

"I'm simply taking a vacation," said Dr. Gerald Wendt as he folded up fabrics just demonstrated in his Town Hall talk.

Dr. Wendt, director of education and recreation director of New York's World War II, and his wife, a local author and actress, are goodwill ambassadors for the United Nations of today and tomorrow.

"Yes, I'm going to have the same job in 1940. I will do what I can do. Help, advise and assist commercial and foreign exhibitors on the scientific points of their displays; help them to present in a clear as well as interesting manner the behind-the-scenes processes of the finished product."

Dr. Wendt is an intense, affable man, slightly under average height, with a distinguishing mustache and nose.

During the World War he was commissioned as a captain and did special work as regards chemical warfare.

He was at one time a professor of chemistry at the University of Chicago, and was once with the Standard Oil Co. as a research scientist.

He is an "hor" of scientists, the latest—now in the press—is titled "Science for the World of the Future."

In the education branch of his World's fair work, Dr. Wendt and his staff write pamphlets discoursing on the educational value of the fair, prepared for visiting teachers, and arrange tours for New York school children.

The scientist left Twin Falls today for Pocatello. After a lecture there he will go to California where he will commence a tour by addressing a state teachers convention.

But it's all "vacation" for Dr. Wendt.

Recent attack, but Coroner Payne and Espe rendered judgment and are as yet undecided as to whether an inquest will be held.

Hoff was unmarried and no known relatives survive.

The body is at the Payne mortuary.

Owner of World's Shortest Solvent Railway Succumbs

CASSVILLE, Mo., Nov. 17 (UPI)—David Dingler, owner of one of the nation's shortest railroads and a solvent one-died at his home here. Dingler was president, engineer, passenger agent and conductor of the four-mile Cassville Express railroad.

With two other employees, Dingler had made the road return dividend for many years hauling fruit from Cassville to Exeter to connect with the Frisco.

Hoff was a dry farmer who recently moved here from Alma.

Mr. Spencer, who had found the dead man lying on his bed fully clothed, called Coroner J. P. Payne and Dr. G. E. Espe, county physician.

Recent illnesses and his advanced age seemed to indicate that Hoff had met a natural death from a

Colorful Idaho Yarns Revive in Volume of Lore

You won't know your Idaho and its colorful background of other days until you've seen a forthcoming volume, "Idaho Lore," scheduled for publication Dec. 1.

That's the reaction to the first advance copies of the book received by the author, Mrs. Pauline Caldwell, "Yardia Fisher," and assembled under the federal writers' project.

The forthcoming volume adds to the general history of the state which included the Idaho guide and the Idaho encyclopedia.

The book gave the factual story of the Gem state.

The author's new presentation outlines the colorful yarns, songs and experiences of early day Idahoans. Some of those yarns—and some of the odd beliefs harbored by pioneers back to the '60s and beyond—will surprise you.

So varied is the content that it even includes the prayers of yesterday.

Now being printed by Caxton's, Caldwell, "Idaho Lore" is presented in fine wood-cut illustrations on one fine wood-cut illustrating the pages. The front cover is also highly unusual.

ROTARY DIRECTOR JEROME

JEROME, Nov. 17 (Special) Final arrangements were completed at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of Jerome Rotary for the inter-city meeting at the 1 O. O. F. hall Tuesday evening, Nov. 21. Special speaker will be Dick Wall, director of Rotarians International.

More than 250 Rotarians from seven towns including Burley, Rupert, Twin Falls, Buhl, Shoshone, Gooding, Hailey and Pocatello, are expected to be the guests of the Jerome club.

At the Tuesday meeting, Scout Executive Gordon H. Day, Twin Falls, was a special guest and gave a talk on the Boy Scout organization. He gave a detailed report of the Scout organization's set-up.

Rotarians gave a donation to the Jerome health council here to aid that group in carrying on its work in the community.

Walter Weigle, Jr., manager of the North Side Lumber and Mercantile company was introduced into the club as a new member.

Health Director Speaks at Jerome

JEROME, Nov. 17 (Special) — Dr. C. Krotcher, Twin Falls, south central Idaho district health unit director, special guest speaker at the meeting of the Jerome Civic Club Tuesday, delivered a talk on general health.

Special music was offered by Mrs. Malcolm Stuart and accompaniment by Mrs. Krotcher.

Other numbers included a group of two clarinet duets, played by Betty Eastep and Lorene Hawley, who were attired in Mexican costume. Accompanying was Jacqueline Hartman on the piano.

Honorees were Mrs. A. E. Gould, Mrs. Frank Daley, Mrs. E. M. Churchman and Mrs. G. F. Sturgeon. Mrs. Fred Kennedy and Mrs. E. M. Snodgrass received.

At theumba next meeting the fall music festival will be held.

Red Cross Shows Gain Over 1938

JEROME, Nov. 17 (Special) Approximately $100 was contributed to the opening day's drive for Red Cross membership. It was reported by Rev. W. F. Wills, chairman of the local Red Cross. Efforts will be made to increase the canvass of business district. The hope is that those who visit the residential areas will know what business men have contributed.

Response this year has been well ahead of that of a year ago. It is good to report that a goal of 400 members will be reached, if every individual and organization will cooperate.

RANGE MANAGING STUDY COMPLETE

(By NEA Service)

OGDEN, Utah, Nov. 17 (Special) - Increased results for the cattleman resulting from better calf crops and heavier range calves are positive indications from a five-year range management study at the City, Montana, where various degrees of grazing use and its effects on the stockmen's production costs were studied.

Conducted cooperatively between the state, the U.S. Forest Service and range experiment station, Montana agricultural experiment station, and the bureau of animal industry, the experiment was started in 1933 on typical short grass range pastures where the main grass species were wheatgrass, big gramen and buffalo grass predominated. The study object was to find the best utilization and management practices for such ranges.

The experiment area was subdivided into three portions. Each grazed at a different degree of intensity. In the heavily grazed portion, but 23% acres were allowed per head, the acre yield was found in the moderately grazed portion, 36.8 acres per head in the lightly grazed. Twenty breeding cows, which were high grade Herefords of uniform age and breeding, and their calves were used for this test, and this number was placed in each experimental pasture.

The drought during the 1934 and 1935 seasons reduced the density of the range temporarily. The study is continuing, and the first two favorable seasons of 1938 and 1939 resulted in increased growth. The total density is still somewhat below the pre-drought level of 1933, but there has been a marked increase in the growth of the drought-thinned ranges during the past two favorable seasons which has partially compensated in volume production for decreased density.

Estimated per-acre trends of forage density under these three intensities of grazing, the penalty exacted by heavy grazing, has been consistently evident from the beginning. The yield of lower, well-cared and lighter weight cattle overgrazed as compared to more conservatively grazed ranges. During the five-year period of this experiment, the 20 cows in each lot produced an average of 50 pounds of additional weight annually for each cow on the moderately and lightly grazed pastures over and above weights the heavily grazed.

Because the cows on overgrazed ranges had to be fed greater amounts of hay, the cost of feed for each pound of weaning calf weight was increased to 8¢ cents per pound or more than twice the cost per pound either the moderately or lightly grazed lots. The lighter calves from the overgrazed lot had a lower market value per pound. The cows of this lot were also thinner and sold for less when replacement were necessary.

Thus, the range operator who by heavy grazing reduces his calf production by 50 pounds or more per breeding cow, at the same time is forced to feed more hay to supplement cheap but inadequate range forage, places himself under a penalty of increased feed cost and greater risks that tend to prevent profitable production.

Current Topics to Interest Auxiliary

JEROME, Nov. 17 (Special) - Junior American Legion auxiliary, meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Joyce and Molly McManus, held a meeting on a general topic of interest at each meeting, and Miss Ida Kard was named to select a topic which she will discuss at the next regular meeting.

Other topics discussed membership and several articles on the history of the organization.

It was stated that there are at present 14 paid up members.

This group was urged to pay up membership dues in order that the organization here might receive mention in the telegraphic roll call of Nov. 12.

Due to the inclement weather last month, the organization was unable to have the Halloween party and decision was made to have a party during this month.

Bazaar at Paul

PAUL, Nov. 17 (Special) - The Ladies' Aid society of the German Congregational church, Paul, will hold the annual bazaar at the Grange hall Friday, Nov. 17, opening at 1 p. m. There will be fancy gifts, a silent auction and other articles for sale. It is announced by Rev. K. K. Maier.

GERMANY WARNS BELGIUM AGAINST AIDING BLOCKADE

NAZIS PROPOSE TO PUT END TO BALTIC SHIPPING

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG, Jr.
TWIN FALLS, Nov. 17 (UPI)—The Nazi press warned Belgium today against cooperating with the British blockade of the Baltic Sea. German warships were going to put an end to secret shipments of timber to Great Britain from certain Baltic states.

Volkischer Beobachter, the Nazi organ, said Germany henceforth must convince herself that neutral cargoes were not destined for Britain and that "this goes primarily to the British." Cargoes of timber weeks have been, in striking manner and great quantities, being gone from the Baltic to neutral countries where they have never gone before.

Trade Routes Suspicious
"If these sudden new trade routes are suspicious, there are also other grounds for suspicion," the newspaper said. "There are many cases of ships which probably are destined to Britain. These ships now give as their destination even the United States, although they are not equipped for Atlantic voyages. In certain cases, cargo has been given to neutral countries and secret organizations for timber trade have been created which only exist from inventing new methods to cheat German warships."

Admiral Goebel, German government, has watched the Belgian port on several weeks. It is determined now, however, to put an end to them.

Admiral Goebel Cooperation
In the case of Belgium, Volkischer Beobachter said, the Nazi editor Hitler once was editor, referred to a recent request made to Belgium by the British ambassador at Brussels, urging that the country help speed up Britain's contraband committee.

"The British ambassador thus admits that Belgium's cooperation in British measures would include support of the British economic war against Germany," the newspaper said.

Volkischer Beobachter and all other newspapers today redoubled their angry threats of a "war to knock out England."

Worry

CLEVELAND, NOV. 17 (UPI)—Mary Rankin, 23, worried today about her new business venture—“worry business.”

"Most people don't like to worry, but I don't mind it," said Miss Rankin, who also is secretary of a suburban duet group. "I've got a club of women who are roller skating and the worry of their children, while they went to the show. Many folks want information—particularly about auto problems—as the price of admission to buy, or what to wear to a party."

Miss Rankin said she's not running a dating bureau, but since getting a date sometime is a worry, it is important.

"I charge them what they think the worry is worth," she said.

LONG TERMS FOR BLAZE-SETTERS

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 17 (UPI)—Long prison terms faced two New York residents today who confessed they set 45 fires through the north west "for a thrill."

Fred Blime, 47, of Rochester, N.Y., and his 16-year term by Superior Judge G. A. Studebaker, and Robert Walzer, 22, of Rome, N.Y., was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

Snake in Motor
BEDFORD, Ind., Nov. 17 (UPI)—Five men say they will find and investigate the peculiar sounds coming from under the hood of his automobile before returning home. The engine turned over much more smoothly after he had removed a 40-inch cow snake curled around the engine and fan belt.

Fears Worst
GALESBURG, Ill. (UPI)—G. C. Alfred didn't protest a one-year prison sentence after his conviction for illegal sale of unregistered oil leases—until Judge R. L. Butler, 65, told him the family of Vandals. One of the victims of Alfred's lease scheme was George E. Ray, superintendent of the Vandals institution.

SIX ACCEPTED IN LEGION'S RITUAL

Six veterans of the World War today had joined the Twin Falls Legion.

The veterans were admitted into the organization at a special meeting held last night at the Legion hall. They were J. W. Lewis, Lynn F. Corry, Paul Hutchinson, Jack Allen, Roy Small and Robert Schell.

Members of the ritual team at the session were R. V. Jones, Tom Bucklin, George Chirico, John Day, J. Edward Warner, post commander, and Ivan Johnson. Members of the initiation ceremony were Jack Kiefer, Harry Taylor, W. Clyde Williams, Harry Benot, Marshall Chapman, J. H. Blandford and Mr. Chapman.

Speaking on membership following the initiation ceremony was L. G. Nelson, Buhl, district Legion commander.

A chili supper concluded the evening.

ROAD SIGNS TOP 'BOOSTER' SLATE

Completion of junction road sign discussion, with probable action as to recommendations for such junction markers, will feature the November meeting of the Western Idaho Inc., scheduled for next Monday at 7 p.m. in Shoshone.

H. R. Flint, highway director, has been invited to attend by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce had a telephone call from someone asking whether Mr. Flint will be on hand. About six or eight Twin Falls men will be in the local delegation.

I. H. Harris, Burley, president of the Southern Idaho Better Business Bureau, said he reported from the state C. of C. tax forum, held at Burley, will be presented Monday night.

Junction road sign matter, which was thoroughly discussed at the October session in Twin Falls, will be the subject of discussion as to advisability of the state directing towns either to north or south side highways.

ACEQUIA

Oren Nelson left for his home in Hyrum, Utah, Sunday after a month here working with his uncle, August Quanstrom, in potato and beet harvesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Orr and sons, Robert and Larry, left last week for Eugene, Ore., where they plan to spend the winter. They expected to stop at Boise to visit their sister, Gertrude Dell, before continuing.

Mr. G. C. Johnson, who teaches at the high school, will be in town next week with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. T. Kidd, Barnes, in Glenwood Ferry.

Miss Martha Dewald left Saturday for Woodland, Calif., where she plans to spend the winter with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Kidd.

MAGAZINES GIVEN TO H. S. CLASSES

Issue of the National Geographic magazine for the past year has been presented to the service entrances of the elite homes of the community. The magazine is free to those whose employers usually pay, and whooped it up mildly until 1 a.m.—everyone had a night off. "We're the elite among Hollywood celebrities," explained Mrs. F. T. Chapman, for example.

The chauffeur for Mr. and Mrs. Edward, president of the Staff Services Bureau, and we're celebrating."

The affair was billed as "informal," but the men and women who attended were dressed formally and went the limit. More than half the males were in tuxedos, and there were half a dozen tails. Every maid and cook wore the élite of evening gowns. There were rumors that the most brilliant film queen sent a dress or two from their high-priced wardrobes.

HOWARD HUGHES GETS AIR TROPHY

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (UPI)—Howard Hughes was awarded the Collier trophy today for the "greatest achievement" in aviation during 1938. His round-the-world flight in 91 hours and 41 minutes.

The trophy will be presented at a later date in formal ceremonies by President Roosevelt, who gave Hughes because the flight "involved notable advances in aerial navigation, communication and engineering, demonstrating the possibilities of organization and planning in long-range aerial operation and afforded a world-wide demonstration of the superiority of American aircraft and aircraft technique."

The trophy was established in 1911 by Robert J. Collier, son of the founder of Collier's weekly, and is awarded each year under the auspices of the National Aeronautic association.

10,000 MOTORISTS DRIVE THEIR CARS WITHOUT LICENSES

BOISE, Nov. 17 (UPI)—Ten thousand Idaho automobile drivers are driving their cars without licenses, Harry Rayner, state director of law enforcement disclosed today.

Motorists carrying temporary licenses now expired, changed their addresses without notifying the department, and thus could not be mailed their permanent license.

OAKLEY

Mr. Chris Armstrong, Pocatello, visited her sister, Nyla Huntman, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. and Mrs. Joseph McLaw, Saturday. Mrs. Velva Stapeley, who teaches at a Pocatello kindergarten, accompanied her and spent the day at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stapeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Moeller and their daughter, Jerome, visited Mrs. Moeller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mathey, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Jr., and children, Wayne and Delphine, visited the family of Bert Hale, sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Qmant Cainlin last week.

HOLLYWOOD'S ELITE MAIDS AND BUTLERS CAVORT AT BILTMORE

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 17 (UPI)—"I'm the only phony in the crowd," remarked Treacher, "they let me into the gate."

Myrna Loy buttoned her own waistcoat, and every star in movieland got along without a servant last night.

It was the night of the first Hollywood dinner-dance of the season, and it was held in the swankiest ballroom in town—at the Biltmore.

The only phony in the crowd was the guest of honor, Arthur Treacher, who portrays a butler on the screen and employs his own staff.

Present were about 1,000 of the men and women who have an AA blue book rating at the service entrances.

The dinner-dance, which has been presented to the service entrances of the elite homes of the community, was free to those whose employers usually pay, and whooped it up mildly until 1 a.m.—everyone had a night off.

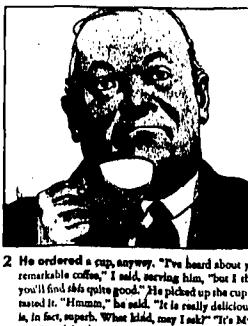

"We're the élite among Hollywood celebrities," explained Mrs. F. T. Chapman, for example.

M.J.B WHY?

"It got me a $10 tip..."

2. He ordered a cup, anyway. "I've heard about your remarkable coffee," I said, serving him. "But I think you'll find this quite good." He picked up the cup and sipped it. "Humm," he said. "It is really delicious. It is, in fact, superb. What kind, may I ask?" "It's M.J.B. sir," I explained.

M.J.B.'s

RICHER FLAVOR

Drip or Regular Grinds
Your drip or plunger coffee maker.

1. Believe me, folks, a waiter on the streamline has to hump to keep everybody happy—like on our last trip. We had a rolly-poly Dutchman from Java and I took special care of him because he seemed kind of finicky, especially about coffee. "Only Java knows something about good coffee," he said.

3. I continued: "Our passengers come from all over the world so their tastes in coffee vary. We use M.J.B. because its Richer Roast gives a rich coffee flavor at any strength we make it." The gentleman from Java was impressed. "Wholesome," he said, "scrupulous little roaster of appreciation from one connoisseur of good coffee to another." It was a $10 bill!

CRIPPLED TEAMS PLAY FOR COAST HONORS

UCLA Club Meets Santa Clara as Bears Tackle OSC

By JAMES A. SULLIVAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17 (UPI)—Saturday's football program on the Pacific coast should be called the tape and liniment parade.

Practically every major team engaged in combat tomorrow is depending on liniment, tape and braces to hold together key players long enough to put across the victories they seek.

The big game of the day finds Santa Clara, king of the independents, and U. C. L. A., still in the running for the Pacific Coast conference title, battling in Los Angeles.

Much depends on the ability of Jackie Robinson, U. C. L. A. right half, and Jimmy Johnson, Santa Clara, to hold out through most of the game. Robinson hasn't played for two weeks. Johnson worked only for a short time against Michigan State last week. In addition Santa Clara quarterback, Ray McCarthy, is on the casualty list.

OSC Crippled

Oregon State comes up to the game with California at Corvallis smelling like a hospital ward. Six Bear players are listed in the injury list, including Raymen Jimmy Kinselburgh, Al Olson and Morris Kohler. Their ailments give California, itself wrecked by pre-season and early season injuries, a chance to avoid its seventh defeat.

The situation was serious at Stamford, where Tiny Thornhill was wondering whether he would have to reach into the reserves for variables. The Cardinals, right half, quit for the season this week because of a shoulder hurt. Norm Standifer, the Cardinals' best bet in the backfield, was carrying around a sprained knee and a sprained foot. George, the third quarter end, was not expected to get into a suit. Washington State also reported Halfback Jim Emerson out.

Unbeaten Teams Play
The two teams on the coast still unbeaten and united set aside to night.

Fresno State takes on Whittier and San Jose State plays Loyola in southern California. The two teams, 10-0, lead in the West. The drums play in New York against Fordanham.

The rest of the Saturday schedule—Georgia East; Washington; Arizona College; Pacific; Wyoming; Utah State; College of Idaho; Whitman; Colorado State; Utah; Temple; New Mexico; Santa Barbara; Grey; Whitworth-Montana Mines.

Firestone and Studebaker Win Pin Tils

Bowling fans today were starting to wonder just what was the "senior circuit"—the City League or the Commercial in the local bowling competition.

While the Commercial loop is supposed to be the senior circuit, for the second evening in a row, the third time in the week, the City bowlers walked away with high honors on the Stone alleys last night.

Competitors set a new season high-total record for three-game series of 2,387 pins for the City loop and took three out of four points from Halle's Conoco. Art Timmons led a top single with a 918 series and a top single of 307. Jim Cox, his individual single game was policy by Cole Coleman of the lowers, 207.

In the Commercial loop, Studebaker took three out of four from Bego Milk, with Cox leading the winners with a 324 total. However, top single for the loop went to Bob Kirker and Holly Horning of the loopers—each with a 208 score.

Suggestions Offered

A number of suggestions were made against the annual bird hunt against the same birds raised in this vicinity, several suggestions were offered in regard to the overrunning of this section of the state by hunters from Lincoln County especially.

It was suggested that the opening day of the pheasant season be delayed until Nov. 1 to coincide with the opening date in eastern Idaho, with the hope that many of the hunters will go to the birds in this section at least as fast as the birds in this section will have become wild enough so as not to be an easy prey to dogs and hunters who infest this area. As to the apparent unnecessary killing of pheasants it was suggested that a restriction be placed upon the use of shipping permits of resident license holders even though hunting is now allowed to non-resident hunters.

A committee was appointed to study both of these problems and to make a report to the club at its monthly meeting in December. A nominating committee was also appointed to nominate candidates for officers for the coming year, election to be held at the December meeting.

At the close of the business meeting, two excellent films on wildlife resources were shown.

Few Gridiron Tilts Listed For Nov. 23

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (UPI)—The chiselers of the gridiron have created an extra day of football this season but the fans won't have many choice games to attend on the first of the two turkey days.

Less than 50 games will be played Nov. 23, the latest date ever.

Denver-Idaho at Denver, Maryland-Syracuse, College Park, Md., Richmond-Williamsport, and Mary, Richmond-Utah State, Salt Lake City, Virginia-Poly-Virginia Military, Boston, and Washington and Washington-Oregon, Seattle.

Most of the games now scheduled for Nov. 23 either were pushed back from Nov. 25 or Nov. 24, and a few additional games made to the Saturday Nov. 25 program as well.

Newcomers to the Nov. 25 lay-out are Furman-Ole-mond at Greenville, S. C., and Kansas-Missouri at Lawrence.

Other games which will be played Nov. 30 are Colorado-Denver; Kentucky-Tennessee; Auburn-Florida; Louisiana Tech-Centenary; North Carolina-Coloado State; North Carolina-Army; Penn-Agness; Texas Tech-Aransas; Pitt-Beth-Rutgers; Arizona-Montana; UCLA-Washington State and Wake Forest-Davidson.

The big game for Saturday, Nov. 24, is between the University of Tennessee-Carnegie-Duquesne, Columbia-Colgate; Furman-Clemson; Florida-Georgia Tech; G. Washington-Bucknell; Harvard-Yale; Chicago-Jesuit; Cornell-Princeton; Ohio State-Manhattan; Villanova-Kansas-Missouri; Michigan-Ohio State; Nebraska-Oklahoma; North Carolina-State-Duke; Northwestern-Iowa; Notre Dame-California; Penn-Pittsburgh; Princeton-Navy; Southern Methodist-Baylor; Stanford-California; Texas Christian-Rice; Tulane-Evansville; Texas Tech-Montana; UCLA-Oregon State and Auburn-Gorgia.

Jerome Club Hopes to Cut Bird Slaughter

JEROME, Nov. 17 (Special)—At the regular monthly meeting of the Jerome Rod and Gun club here in the court room of the new courthouse, a lengthy discussion was held among members in regard to the hunting season on pheasants which has just closed.

It was announced by President William N. Hardwick that never before have there been so many hunters in the section of the country. They have been here from all over taken from Jerome county as has been the case this season.

400 Cars Checked

It was reported that between the hours of 4 p.m. and 9 p.m. 400 automobile drivers, circled and passed leaving this section of the country returning to eastern Idaho and each of the hunters had his bag limit of four birds. It was also stated that the birds had evidently come out of this section under shipping conditions.

While the commercial loop is supported by the commercial, for the second evening in a row, the third time in the week, the City bowlers walked away with high honors on the Stone alleys last night.

Competitors set a new season high-total record for three-game series of 2,387 pins for the City loop and took three out of four points from Halle's Conoco. KIMBERLY LIFTS BAN ON MEETINGS

Craters of Moon Lava May Flow Again, Say Scientists

KIMBERLY. Nov. 17 (Special) — With the assurance from Dr. L. C. Krotcher, county health unit head, that "he was off" and all meetings for restricted areas have now been discontinued, two important events at the Kimberly high school calendar were rescheduled.

The senior class play, "The Yankee King," will be presented Saturday evening, Nov. 18, at 8 p.m. The members of the Drama Club, Bill Claborn, Junior Morgan, Darrell Bower, Hay McKinstry, Arlow Freestone, Leeland Gough, taking the male parts, and Nedra Thomas, Lois Olin, Nadine Stover, Betty Blaine, Mary Lee, Dorothy Staley, Betty Bowyer and Frances Carroll, Le Roy Wilcox, teacher of English and speech, is coaching this production.

Resumes Moon The Craters of the Moon was also postponed because of the infantile paroxysm scare, will be held Wednesday night, Nov. 29.

The attendance in the elementary grades is now about 90 per cent and the high school and junior high attendance approximates 90 per cent.

Friday Nighters Talk Democracy

JEROME. Nov. 17 (Special) — The Friday Nighters, young adult group sponsored by the Presbyterian church will have Professor O. F. Merrill as guest speaker at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ellis. Following the discussion on "Democracy," led by Prof. William S. Bronson of the high school faculty at the group's last meeting, an interesting forum discussion is anticipated. The meeting begins 7:30 p.m. and anyone who is interested is welcome, regardless of religious affiliations.

During the winter the Friday Nighters will also consider the three great religious faiths—Christian, Roman Catholic, and Hebrew. This series will be followed by other vital modern problem forums.

farming, the area is barren and desolate.

A great series of fissures known as "The Great Rift" was formed in the United States, will suddenly burst forth with a new flow of lava. Craters of the Moon national monument, they indicated today.

For thousands of years the volcanic craters have belched forth their flow of molten rock, laying waste the countryside. The last eruption occurred approximately 100 years ago. But the tradition of lava in the area has led geologists to believe these periods of quiescence were followed in the past by periods of violent activity.

Resumes Moon

The Craters of the Moon was so well known to the scientists as to resemble what the scientists are led to believe by telescopic examination of the surface of the moon looks like. Located in a sagebrush desert some of which has been irrigated for as it cooled exploded, forming cones around the vents, throwing off rock, dust and masses of lava.

Littered with lava cones and atmosphere filled with carbon dioxide that has the appearance of par poured from a barrel.

As the lava subsided, the Great Rift contained several pit craters, some of which have collapsed on the surface along the rift.

The area has become a mecca for tourists, drawn to the area by a curiosity and desire to examine the unique geological features.

'LEAK' HANDICAPS INSURANCE QUIZ

WASHINGTON. Nov. 17 (UPI) — "Leak" in the securities and exchange commission staff which is conducting an investigation of insurance companies for the federal monopoly committee has seriously hampered the committee's activities, it was reported yesterday.

An authoritative source disclosed the "leak" already has enabled some insurance companies to learn in advance the type of questions to be asked by the committee.

The committee resumes its inquiry sometime next month.

Earlier hearings were held last January.

"Wally" will be one month old next Monday.

One of the newest "citizens" of Twin Falls, "Wally" is a monkey owned by H. G. Hayes. He is the third "child" to be born to two adult monkeys at the Hayes hatchery. The first just "wheeled away" and died while the second named mother after Idaho's government got too tired and hung herself in her own nest.

"The third, or present one, was named 'Wally' after Wallace Heery, the screen star who was phase one hunting in this section of the time."

"We have hopes that 'Wally' will grow up," Hayes said today.

TWO RESERVOIRS SHOW GOOD GAIN

Two of the three principal reservoirs serving this section of Idaho today showed gains in the amount of water stored at the last reading taken a week ago. It was shown this afternoon in a report received by the Twin Falls Canoe company from Lynn Cranford, water master.

Only reservoir showing a decrease in the past week was Lake Walcott, the report shows. Reading one week ago was 64,360 acre feet against the last reading of 60,740.

American falls reservoir showed a substantial gain, going from 450,- 270 acre feet last week to 525,940 this week. Likewise Jackson lake now impounds $20,000 against 25,000 last week.

Precipitation during the past week included .10 of an inch recorded at Moran. None was noted at Island Park.

EMERSON

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Remsburg and family left Saturday for Washington to make the wedding of their son, E. Corliss, in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Lundby and son, Corral, have moved to the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shaffer.

Bob Larkin, Mrs. Peterson, Jack West, Arista Larsen, Glen Moon,

Ellen Short and Melida Morgan accompanied Herbway band to Ruett Saturday where they played for the benefit of the band.

Mrs. Edith Corliss went to Superior, Idaho, where she sang on the program given by the American Legion for Armistice day.

George Craft received word Sunday of the death of his cousin, Delores Whits Burley, who was killed Saturday night when struck by a car.

Last week members of the old band here had a get together party and dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ira T. Short.
