Judge Denies Defense Objections

PORTER SPEEDS JURY SELECTION IN MURDER CASE

After hearing arguments for and against the move for nearly one and one-half hours, District Judge J. W. Porter today denied and overruled an objection made by defense attorneys for Daniel Williams, 19, and William D. Hale, 29, against a disputed peremptory challenge directed at a prospective juror by the prosecution.

Looms as One Key Witness

W. W. Tarr, Jr., shown above, operator of the service station claimed to have been held up by Daniel Williams and William D. Hale, is expected to be one of the key witnesses in the trial of the two men for murder of a policeman they encountered after the armed robbery.

The jury was brought before the court yesterday just before adjournment by J. M. Lampert, attorney for Hale. The case is in the third day and court observers expected that a jury would be selected by 5 p. m. on Thursday.

HOLIDAY DINERS GET MEALS FOR SMALLER COSTS

By FRED BAILEY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 (AP)—An abundance of good things to eat is available for old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinners tomorrow—and at the lowest prices in years, an agriculture department survey showed today.

Turkeys, the traditional main dish, are the most plentiful in record. Farmers raised 32,000,000 this year—enough to supply one for almost every family table in the nation. Prices generally are the lowest in four years.

The number of turkeys is about 7,000,000 larger than last year, according to agriculture department estimates. Cold storage reports showed twice as many pounds dressed for the Thanksgiving trade as a year ago.

Average Retail Price
Wholesale prices of turkeys are slightly below a year ago, the department said. Retail prices will vary considerably, but generally with average between 27 and 34 cents a pound.

The quality of turkeys has improved steadily in recent years, due in part to breeding methods developed by the department to produce a "streamlined" turkey with more white meat. It has produced more 12 to 15-pound "family size" birds.

A survey by the department showed that all the things that go with a turkey dinner are the most plentiful, and generally cheaper, than in several years. Cranberry production was about 40 per cent larger than last year and prices have been considerably lower.

The commercial crop of apples was estimated to be about one-fifth larger than last season. Prices have been exceptionally low. The supply of grapes is slightly smaller than last year, but there is no shortage.

Supplies Larger
The supply of California oranges is slightly less than a year ago, but the Florida crop is larger. The grapefruit crop is somewhat smaller than last year but still the second largest on record.

Total supplies of raisins and prunes are slightly smaller than in 1938, but because of reduced exports the quantities available for domestic use are larger than a year ago. Supplies of most other dried fruits are more plentiful than in 1938.

Domestic puts of all kinds are in ample supply, and in most instances larger than in recent years. Production of filberts is 15 per cent higher than last year; almonds 25 per cent higher; pecans 20 per cent and English walnuts about 15 per cent higher.

MUSIC PROGRAM FOR BOYS' CLUB

A musical program, under direction of Glenn Boren, was given for boys' club of Twin Falls high school at a meeting yesterday afternoon.

With the musicians who played during the program was Ethel McCleary, who sang several numbers. Others taking part in the program were Hubert Peck, who gave several clarinet and saxophone solos, Frank Bates and Ellis Gardner, who beat the drums. Glenn Boren played the piano.

A business meeting was held, presided over by the president of the club, Brice Evans. Announcement was made of the dance to be held during December, sponsored by the boys' club, at which members of the football team will be special guests.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to our kind friends who extended their sympathy in so many beautiful and practical ways in our recent bereavement.

Heber Grant, L. D. S. Head, Celebrates 83rd Anniversary Thinking of Future

By MURRAY M. MOLES

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 22 (AP)—Heber J. Grant, venerable president of the Latter Day Saints (Mormon) church, celebrated his 83rd birthday quietly today thinking not of what has happened in these four score and three years but of what is yet to come.

Grant's only variance from the schedule he has followed in the 21 years he has headed the far-flung Mormon denomination will be a birthday dinner tonight in the Salt Lake City home.

The 10th hour is part of the home built many years ago by Brigham Young, second president of the church and the man who led the Mormon pioneers on persecutions in the east to the unexplored west.

During an exclusive United Press interview in his study-furnished office in the L. D. S. church office building here, Grant spoke quietly as he reminisced over the many and varied activities of his long and colorful life.

83 Years Old

HEBER J. GRANT

Talks Over Plans
Not once did he mention the possibility of his activity lessening as the years pile on his shoulders. Instead he talked over his plans for the coming winter as though he had not already far surpassed the life span allotted to the average man.

These winter plans include a trip to "the east" to speak on Dec. 15 at a New York convention of the National Association of Life Insurance company presidents. Grant is president of the Beneficial Life Insurance company as well as a director of the Union Pacific railroad and an executive officer of numerous other business concerns.

Grant may go to southern California after the first of the year to escape the violent Utah winter—but he isn't sure.

Grant's only trace of excitement came when asked what he considers the outstanding event of the many years he has been a western civic and religious leader. He instantly raved out of his chair and pounded on his souvenir-covered desk as he thundered:

"Unquestionably the 'outrageous' treatment of the sugar beet industry by the United States government."

Killed Sugar Industry
He explained that in 1891, he backed establishment at Lehi, Utah, of the first sugar beet factory in the United States. "This factory operated only 10 years before it shut down with a large financial loss."

"The government first passed a law giving a two-cent a pound bounty to underwrite establishment of a domestic sugar factory," Grant declared. "Then it killed this industry with trade deals with foreign countries, particularly those permitting tariff-free export of huge volumes of sugar produced by breech-loading labor in island possessions."

"Forced closing of this factory practically wiped me out then," Grant asserted angrily. "For the next 10 years I was just getting even with the world again financially—and it's no fun carrying a dead horse."

Highlight of church activity during his presidency was summed by Grant in these words:

Friends Throughout World
"Twenty years ago I and other Mormons were met with animosity and vilification wherever we went."

Now, throughout the world, I meet friends instead," he said.

Also during those 20 years, the L. D. S. church has built three of its seven temples—and made plans for four more. "Countless thousands" of meeting places worth millions of dollars have been dedicated by Grant. More than 50 "stakes" or church subdivisions have been added, making the total now 128. Church membership has practically doubled from around $50,000 to "more than 750,000."

The unique Mormon welfare plan was placed in operation in 1935 to take church members off federal relief—to which Grant has always been opposed.

Plan Has Been Successful
"This plan has been reasonably successful," Grant said today. "We are well pleased with the patriotism of our people in contributing labor to help themselves."

Grant has also been opposed to such "wildcat" pension schemes as California's "rain and eggs" and the Townsend plan. Before the recent California election, Grant urged Mormons in that state to oppose the proposition.

"It has been defeated for now," he said, "but its backers will keep reviving it as long and as often as they can. And if the occasion arises again when it is taken to the polls, I will urge our people to oppose it again."

Pup Enraptures Buyer; He Pays With Bad Check

Mrs. Cecil Brown, Piler, today found herself "holding the sack."

Mrs. Brown raises and sells bulldogs, and when a man telephoned her yesterday, eagerly inquiring about her pups, she courteously invited him out to view the same.

Soon a tall, red-haired young man was knocking at her door. He introduced himself as "Mr. McOnly," her recent telephone conversant.

At the kennel, "Mr. McOnly" was enraptured when he beheld Mrs. Brown's frisky pups. Choosing one little rascal that particularly took his fancy, "McOnly" started to talk price.

They agreed that $5 was a reasonable tag for the pup, "Mr. McOnly" wrote out a check for the amount, and bade Mrs. Brown goodbye.

And "thereby hangs the tale," as the poet was wont to say; for the check turned to be worth no more than the scant slip of paper on which it was written.

Mrs. Brown guessed today that she would have to do business in the future on a cash basis.

YOU'LL BE INTERESTED to know that we have just received a complete shipment of eight new and entrancing styles gauged to winter wear in one of your favorite shoe names...

JOHANSEN SHOES
$6.95 to $7.50

BIMBO
A new pattern featured in an all black alligator pump. Also shown in the voguish antique tan. With the new pyramid heel and the heavy gold buckle, this gore pump is destined for style leadership.

FRANKIE
Johansen's newest and one of their drestest ties—black or brown lizard calf with the roomiest of cut-around ankle to prevent gaping and flare. Admirably suited for street or sports wear, Frankie will prove a high favorite.

PICADILLY #2
Sportish platform sole in a combination of black alligator and dull calf. You'll love its smooth lines which have an unusual flare for style and smartness. The variation of the keg heel this model shows is an outstanding feature.

MANUELA
A dull black baby calf gore pump. This dressy style will appeal for most dress-up occasions. Note the unusual treatment over the instep.

ADLER
A "sippy" model in black alligator calf. Its nobby appearance makes it something especially important for dressy afternoon and semi-sports wear. Note the pyramid heel and the slanted black collar.

RUGBY
Not illustrated but one of the smartest of this new shipment. A light weight, sports tie with four large brass eyelets. The antique calf lends it a dressy appearance though its importance will be expressed by popular all around wear.

LOOK TO OUR MAIN FLOOR SHOE DEPARTMENT for the best in shoe fitting. Experienced clerks plus our X-RAY machine always assures you of a comfortable and highly satisfactory shoe fitting.

FALLS CITY BOY GETS PRIZE CALF

JEROME, Nov. 22 (Special)—A grade Guernsey calf from the L. C. C. Guernsey farm at Burley was delivered last week to Dale Kuhn of the Falls City district, high individual 4-H dairy club entrant in the Jerome county fair held last August.

The heifer calf is the daughter of Tiny, a grade Guernsey, who made 300 pounds of butterfat, and 5,331 pounds of milk in 244 days with her first calf. Sire of the calf is Jaden Guernsey's Julian, a purebred Guernsey from the H. A. Steele herd at Gooding. Julian's dam made 570 pounds of butterfat, as a mature cow, while Tiny's dam made 447 pounds of butterfat and 12,229 pounds of milk.

The heifer is a member of the Twin Falls-Mini-Cassia cow testing association and is also regularly tested for Bang's disease and tuberculosis. The calf was delivered by T. E. Speedy, fieldman for the Jerome Cooperative creamery.

The award is being made an annual affair by the creamery in connection with calves offered similarly at the Twin Falls and Cassia county fairs. Four-H club dairy members from the counties in the north Idaho territory of the creamery are eligible to compete, it was announced.

Waterfall Lends Pictorial Touch To Senior Dance

CASTLEFORD, Nov. 22 (Special).—More than 200 guests attended the annual senior ball, a formal dance, at the high school gymnasium Friday evening.

The grand march was led by Miss LaVerne Houk and Jim Cook, followed by the rest of the seniors and their escorts.

The building was decorated with green and white streamers, the classic colors, while the stage was made to resemble a garden with shrubbery, flowers and potted plants.

In the center of the building was a tiered waterfall with the water flowing over glass steps and surrounded by artificial grass, plants and Japanese barberry.

Green and white lights and red and blue colors were played on the waterfall interchangeably throughout the evening.

Elliot McDermid, class adviser, and the whole senior class worked to make this a memorable occasion.

The midnight lunch was served by the mothers of the seniors.

Music was by Glen Bates Night-hawks.

Holiday Observed By Appleton Club

JEROME, Nov. 22 (Special).—A pre-Thanksgiving luncheon was enjoyed by 18 members of the Appleton club and their guests last week when the club held its meeting. The occasion was under the sponsorship of Mrs. Ha Hancock, assisted by Mrs. Mary Otto; Mrs. Myrtle Swainston, Mrs. Agnes Reed, Mrs. Irene Appel, Mrs. Florence Gill, Mrs. Jessie Osborne, Mrs. Lydia Otto and Mrs. Flora McCandless.

As members and guests found their places, music was played and Mrs. Margaret E. Harry read the thought for the month, followed by the doxology. Greetings were extended by the Appleton club to Westfield club members who were special guests for the occasion. Mrs. Jewel DeWitt told the history of Thanksgiving and Mrs. Milly Webster gave the background of the turkey, little known with its odd shapes and how it serves in both practical and ornamental ways. Mrs. Florence Gill read a Thanksgiving poem by Edgar A. Guest and the program was concluded in singing "dahn."

Music was by Glen Bates Night-hawks.

THANKSGIVING MADE HOLIDAY BY WOMAN EDITOR OF GODEY'S

By RUTH MILLETT

Whether you live in one of the 22 states which have declared that the old Thanksgiving date is good enough for them, or whether your state is going along with the President in his better-for-business choice of a Thanksgiving day—chances are you are a bit hazy about the origin of Thanksgiving as a national holiday.

You know the Pilgrims started the Thanksgiving idea. But who carried it on from there?

Well, it was a woman.

From the time of George Washington to the time of Abraham Lincoln, Thanksgiving was celebrated in bit or miss fashion.

But along about 1848 Sara Josepha Hale, a New England widow and the most influential "lady" of her time, began a 17-year campaign in Godey's Lady's Book (she was its editor for more than 40 years) to make Thanksgiving a national holiday.

Called "Radical"

Mrs. Hale—who had a lot of radical notions like dropping the Female from Vassar Female college and insisting there should be such a thing as domestic science—finally believed that a national Thanksgiving day would be a step toward a better understanding between the north and the south. The war came before she had her way and in '61 her plea was that "we lay aside our enmities and strive . . . on this day." The plea was overlooked in the bitterness of war.

But in 1863 President Lincoln proclaimed the first national celebration of Thanksgiving since Washington's time. Mrs. Hale had won her long campaign.

From 1863 until 1939 the President of the United States each year set aside the last Thursday in November as a day of Thanksgiving.

The governors of the various states dutifully followed the President's example by making their own proclamations.

This year, however, find the country once again unable to agree on the date of Thanksgiving. Sara Josepha Hale, who worked 17 years to get a nation to sit down as one family to a feast of Thanksgiving, might not mind a great deal.

Sara Josepha Hale. . . "Mother of Thanksgiving."

For her reason for a national celebration was to tie the union more closely together. Now America is together—and will give thanks as a nation, whether those thanks are given on the last or the next to last Thursday in November.

Camp Fire Girls Arrange for Tea

JEROME, Nov. 22 (Special).—Six Camp Fire groups, including girls from the high school, under the leadership of Miss Mary Marshall; the eighth, seventh, sixth and fifth grade groups, under the leadership of Miss Edna Hoffman, Miss Lillian Scott, Miss Virginia Cooke and Miss Frances Halbert, all of the Lincoln grade school, and the sixth and seventh grade groups of the Washington school under the leadership of Mrs. Katherine Russell, entertained at tea for their mothers Saturday at the Civic club-snoons. Girls from the group under Miss Hoffman and Miss Marshall served refreshments to approximately 80 mothers and members.

The program presented included a group song, "Burn, Fire, Burn," the Camp Fire law, by Mrs. Russell's group; song, "We Are Campfire Maidens," by Paye Esther Russell and Margaret White; "The Beginnings of Camp Fire," by Helen Jessi Terry; Wobelo cheer by the girls; explanations of life seven honor crafts by the group under Miss Cooke; "Some Things Trailseekers Do," by Geraldine Russell; "Trailseekers' Desire," Jean Welter; piano solo, Sylvia Smith; "Woodgatherers' Desire," Joyce Cooke; "Firemakers' Desire," Joyce McLaughlin; "Torchbearers' Desire," Nora Alwater; "Credo," Mary Burk; "Camp Life," by Barbara Speeth, and camp songs and taps.

SUIT FILED FOR ESTATE CLAIMS

Asking judgment for $2,955.45, Mrs. Mae Helen West, widow of a late Kimberly rancher who was the county's first auditor-recorder, had filed district court suit today against two step-daughters and their bondsmen.

Mrs. West seeks the judgment to cover what is termed in her complaint the defendants' share of claims against the West estate. Named in the suit are Marguerite West Evans and Helen West Macaulay, C. P. Oliver and J. P. Coughlin were sureties on bond of the two women for payment of their portion of estate claims.

Marguerite West Evans is named also in the action as administrator for the brother of the two women, Harry T. West, Jr., who was killed in the crash of an air "stratoliner" in Washington state.

Stephen and Blandford are counsel for Mrs. West in her action.

STUDENT SAFETY PUT WITH PUBLIC

Preserving the welfare of children in transit to school is largely up to the motoring public, said commissioners who met last night in the office of Mr. Doris Stradley, county superintendent of schools.

The group convened to draft a code of safety rules to regulate bus drivers and school children.

The 10-man committee stressed the fact that motorists must bring their automobiles to a halt when passing a school bus that is loading or unloading school children.

Either Direction

Whether approaching the school bus from the same or the opposite direction, the motorist must stop, asserted an officer of the law present.

Drivers will take down the license numbers of cars that pass their stopped school buses and refer them to law enforcement officers, it was brought out.

Stipulations of the safety code to be organized by Mrs. Stradley from the suggestions of the committee will include the following:

1.—That in the unloading of children from a bus, the children will walk in front of the bus if they intend to cross the highway and the bus driver must not leave a parked position until the children have safely crossed the thoroughfare.

2.—That part of the regulations adopted by the state-wide bus safety meeting at Boise early in November will be incorporated in the Twin Falls county code.

Fewer Stops

3.—That school district trustees will be urged to reduce the number of bus stops in congested districts.

The committee which met with Mrs. Stradley last night was as follows: Elmer Annis and Scott Ellsworth, bus drivers in the Union district; Chief of Police Howard W. Cilleite; Homer M. Davis, superintendent of the Twin Falls public school system; Ora Graves, Kimberley; F. T. Kellogg, Twin Falls; Lieut. A. E. Perkins, Buhl, state police officer; B. W. Goff, Buhl; Earl Hamney, Plier high school superintendent; and Lester McGregor, Jerger.

Auto Recovered

Twin Falls police officers recovered last night a 1929 model Ford car owned by Walter Legge of this city.

Stolen between 7 and 11 p. m. Monday, the automobile was found in a borrow pit on a side road more than two miles east of U. S. highway 93 from the point where the department of entomology building is located.

That the car had been there all day yesterday was the information given police by Al Hankins, who lives near the spot where it was recovered.

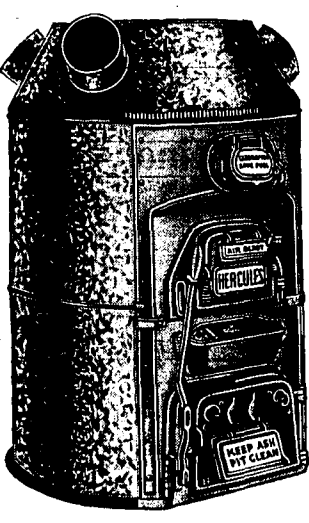

Castleford's Aid Arranges Bazaar

CASTLEFORD, Nov. 22 (Special).—The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church enjoyed an all-day meeting and covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Roy Gager, Thursday.

The day was spent in hemming new table cloths and dish towels and perfecting plans for the Christmas bazaar to be held in the church Dec. 7.

Mrs. James Spencer and Mrs. Del Hudson are chairmen for the bazaar; Mrs. Ed Conrad, chairman for the luncheon; Mrs. H. A. Kinyon, chairman for the dinner; and Mrs. Grace Kinyon, chairman of the program to be given in the evening.

U. of I. Head Raps Nazi Propaganda

POCATELLO, Nov. 22 (UPI).—The propaganda of Germany is stupid and obvious compared to the clever methods employed by the western powers, President Harrison B. Dale of the University of Idaho told southern branch students in a speech last night.

Allied propaganda rather than the honesty of their cause turns American sympathy to western powers, he added.

COACHES PICK SIX-MAN ALL-STAR CLUB

Lester Hall of King Hill Named as Captain; 2 Castleford Aces Chosen

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

With power very evenly distributed over the 14 teams participating in the South Central Idaho Six-Man league, the annual all-star team for the small-school conference today showed players from six schools represented on the first two teams.

The clubs were picked with the assistance of coaches, players and officials and show a fairly representative group of stars on both the first and second outfits.

The team, second annual group of all-stars chosen by the Idaho Evening Times, will get special rewards in the form of inscribed gold medals for the first six and scrolls to those making the second club.

Hall Chosen Captain
Captain and fullback chosen on the first team was Lester Hall, the driving spark that carried the King Hill outfit to its second consecutive crown in the Western division. He was the only man to make the club two years in a row and was named on every all-opponent team chosen by players. While his club was eliminated by the Kings in the semi-finals of the play-off, he was outstanding in defeat—even as he was in the 1938 title playoffs against Kimberly.

A senior, Hall played against Heyburn in his last high school grid game. He is 18 years of age and weighs 165 pounds. He received more votes than any other single player in all the six-man competition.

For the end position the honors went to Burt Berlin, Heyburn, and Leland Gough, Kimberly—but by the slimmest of margins. The balloting for these positions was widely scattered and 18 men were mentioned for the posts.

College Possibilities
Gough, incidentally, didn't play end on this year's Kimberly team, but, as Referee Jack Numan of Piler says, "it can't leave him off the first team and you can't put him in the backfield. He's a hard tackler and an aggressive ball player." Says his coach, Max Kimberly, "He's got college possibilities."

Gough (pronounced "Goff") is a senior and is 19 years old. He tips the scales at 165 pounds.

Berlin, the other end, was one of the mainstays in taking the Heyburn club into the championship playoffs against Castleford. He is a junior, weighs 130 pounds and is only 18 years of age.

For center, Robert Hoffield of Hansen noted out John Norris of Kimberly. He and Troy Smith, who made the second team backfield, were largely responsible for a good year at the Hansen school. Hoffield weighs 165 pounds, is 17 years old and a senior.

Castleford Sparkplug
With Hall in the backfield and Paul Spradling at quarter—both from Castleford. They were the main spark in the drive that brought the south central Idaho crown to Coach Paul Jones and were consistently good from the start of the season to the end. Both are light, but pack the oval with a lot of drive and are hard to stop. Spradling, especially, is exceedingly shifty and he turned in such feats as scoring his last touchdowns against Heyburn in the championship game.

It was particularly hard to keep some of the men named on the second outfit off the first. The players were Lyle Hall of King Hill, for instance. He got votes from nearly every opposing team played—in his opinion every possible position. Hoffield also had a lot of votes as did fullback Slim McCombs of Heyburn. However, only six men composed a team in this game and somebody had to be on the second.

Of the 14 members coaching in the six-man league, 10 participated in the voting—the other four falling to answer queries and send in their selections. However, participation by officials who covered the games from one end of the sector to the other gave a complete view of the situation.

Central Division Dominates
While the Central division continued to dominate play again this year, the Western region of King Hill, Hammett, Brunette and Grand View showed to better advantage than in 1938. The other division, the Mini-Cassia area, was playing its first year in six-man football competition and will probably put up a stiffer battle next season with a year of experience under its belt. As Coach Bush of Paul writes, "We had no particularly outstanding players this year. They were all beginners."

The Paul team, incidentally, picked the whole Heyburn club as its all-opponent first team.

Missouri on Pitt Schedule

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 22 (UP)—Turning westward in a re-alignment of its football schedule, the University of Pittsburgh announced it has added Missouri to its football schedule and will open its 1940 season with Ohio State University.

Despite its traditional rivals, Carnegie Tech and Penn State, Pitt will play Purdue, Duke, Southern Methodist, Ohio State and two schools in the Big Six, Missouri and Nebraska.

Pitt's Ohio State game, 26 in the opening game for both teams. The schedule also includes games at West Virginia, Temple and Princeton.

Bowl Game Proposed For Top Minor Teams

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 22 (UP)—Paul B. Williamson, football prognosticator, suggested "one or more" post season games to settle supremacy among the minor gridiron powers. "Some of these so-called minor teams have enviable records, some undefeated and untied and would be tough opposition for their big brothers," Williamson said. "They are the teams that have large followings, teams that draw crowds up to 40,000."

It obviously would be impractical, he pointed out, to lump the teams below the "majors" in one classification.

For instance, it would be impossible to get a fair contest by matching Pop Warner's San Jose State and Slippery Rock, both undefeated and untied in their own leagues.

San Jose State and Fresno State, out on the west coast, are football powers for reckoning in any man's appraisal," Williamson said.

These teams, just outside the realm of the "majors," meet at Fresno Thursday night.

Williamson suggested the winner be matched in a "bowl" against some eastern teachers' college—such as Maryville, Mo., Teachers or Louisiana Normal, both undefeated and untied.

Williamson listed St. Anselm's, Colorado Mines and Marshall college of West Virginia as other leading "minor" teams.

AL REID IN DRAW
NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (UP)—Al Reid, 120½, New York, drew with Barnie Friedman, 134½, New York, (8); Lew Jenkins, 130½, Sweetwater, Tex., technically kaymed Mike Heislone, 129½, New York.

BECKLEY, Colo.—Bear hopes for a big game victory Saturday against Stanford were dampened with the report "hard luck" Ted Hubert, fullback, had injured his left shoulder during tackling assignments, and Louis Smith, halfback, had suffered aggravation of a previous leg injury.

HEATLE—Coach Jimmy Phelan of the University of Washington Huskies shifted backfield men today in an attempt to fashion a ball-toting unit to start against the University of Oregon here Saturday. "Work Horse" Dean McAdams was being tried at both the halfback positions. Phelan indicated McAdams would start at right half, with Fritz Steele in the fullback slot.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—The Walt Johnson, star Heaver kicker of Oregon State college, will be in condition for the U.S.A. game Saturday, from Indiana said today. The rest of the squad, although bruised and battered, is in good shape.

MINNEAPOLIS, Mont.—The University of Montana football team today for a 14-day southern grueling jaunt to meet Texas Tech Nov. 25 and the University of Arizona in Tucson on Nov. 30. The football will work out at Denver en route.

WED, Nov. 22—Nehilla vs. Idaho Power.
THUR, Nov. 23—National Laundry vs. Hells.

WED, Nov. 22—Orange Transp. vs. Halls (Tucson) (4).
THUR, Nov. 23—Firestone vs. Twin Falls Flour Mill (22).

Can't Accept
LORAIN, O. W.—Ohio unemployment compensation officials here still are talking about the honor of a 61-year-old citizen who, when presented with his first check for $15.00, refused it, saying he was bothered with a heart ailment and was not entitled to the money under the law.

College Skiers Map Tourney At Sun Valley

SUN VALLEY, Ida., Nov. 22 (UP)—Collegiate skiers of the United States and Canada will gather on the slopes of Sun Valley mountains for a national intercollegiate ski competition for both men and women, Dec. 28 to Jan. 1. Friedl Pfeiffer, Sun Valley skiing director, announced today.

Pfeiffer said 30 skiers from six colleges were registered for the meet and more than 100 skiers from 20 colleges were expected. A giant slalom downhill race on Bald mountain will be held Dec. 31. A slalom race on Round mountain and jumping will be held Jan. 1.

Top flight skiers already registered for the meet included: Joe Dunford, Dartmouth; Carl New Washington; Dave Quinney, Utah; Whit Miller, Dartmouth.

The University of Nevada, Oregon, Colorado, Wyoming, Oregon State, Cornell, McGill, Harvard, Yale, Idaho and Stanford have indicated they would send teams.

PLAN FOR LODGING WORKS
NEW YORK (UP)—John Grodzowski, 75, explained to Magistrate Frank Glavin that he ran the fire alarm so he could get put in jail for the winter. He said he had no relatives, no home and no means of support. Magistrate Glavin gave him a six-month term in the home for the aged.

USC Picked to Down Notre Dame's Irish

By HARRY FERGUSON
NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (UP)—A final gap in the dying days of the season in an attempt to pick the week-end football winners:

Southern California over Notre Dame—reserve power will wear down the Irish. Game of the day, Ohio State over Michigan—in a close, tough one. Power vs. Tom Harmon's tricks.

Iowa over Northwestern—Kinnick leads the "iron men" to another one. Good game to see. Minnesota over Wisconsin—20 to 0.

Purdue over Indiana—and maybe a big score. Missouri over Kansas—marching on toward the Big Six title. Illinois over Chicago—well, well, well.

EAST
Carnegie Tech over Duquesne—an undefeated record goes bloozy. Princeton over Navy—Allerdice's power sink the Sailors.

Colgate over Columbia—in the chance that an in-and-out team will get hot. Harvard over Yale—in one of those try league games where form means nothing.

Cornell over Pennsylvania—closing out a glorious season for the boys from high above Cayuga's waters.

Thomas Silent On 'Fake' Fight

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (UP)—The boxing business, which began "mopping up" action after an alleged confession by Heavyweight Harry Thomas that he had thrown two fights, received two more coats of whitewash today.

The Pennsylvania and New York boxing commissions reached a working agreement for the conduct of the fight game in both states. Boxers or managers suspended in one state for violations will not be permitted to operate in the other.

Thomas, who has filed an affidavit in Chicago to the effect that he had thrown fights to Max Baer in New York and Tony Galento in Philadelphia, declined to discuss it at a commission meeting here yesterday.

UCLA over Oregon State—staying in the running for the Rose bowl honors. Oregon over Washington—13 to 0. Stanford over California—a couple of weak ones have it out.

HIDES KEYS IN PORCUPINE
COLVILLE, Wash. (UP)—W. K. Somers now knows that where there's a quill—there's a porcupine. Somers went deer hunting. He parked his truck in a deserted farmyard, then hid the keys in what appeared to be a box full of dead grass.

The "dead grass" was a porcupine. Somers' companions had to use pliers to extract a dozen deeply-embedded quills from his hand.

90 GRUFFEST WINTER HOURS

Lamb-like to your OIL-PLATED engine

A record-breaker world flier sped his plane around the world in little more than 90 hours.

best you could get out of any Winter oil that only flows freely. But free-flowing Conoco Germ Processed Oil does a whole lot more. It OIL-PLATES. That is, as soon as you're leaving your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station, this patented Germ Processed oil "magnetizes" to the inner engine surfaces in the form of drain-proof OIL-PLATING. Just as the bumpers can't lose their chrome-plating during parking or overnight, the engine parts can't lose their OIL-PLATING. They're never dried off; they're always slippery—ready to start without even a 90-second chance to drag.

You could drive your car across most of this continent in less than 90 hours. 90 hours, you'll admit, is quite a stretch in the career of any engine.

Would you care to run yours for anything like 90 hours, on sparse lubrication or worse?

Do you say you wouldn't think of it? Yet if your old car starts scarcely a dozen times daily, and if you could expect completely normal engine operation in a brief 5 to 8 minutes, your total Winter warm-up time might total 90 hours!

You don't want to be wondering where your oiling is for 90 crucial hours of starting, when you can be certain by changing today to OIL-PLATING.

OIL-PLATING simply cannot let your cold engine start up with all your lubricant clear down in the crankcase—a long way from where it's needed. That's the

That is how you know you're skipping the worst 90 hours of Winter with your engine OIL-PLATED by Conoco Germ Processed Oil. Besides, it skips you past many a stop you used to make for oil. Change today—to Your Mileage Merchant, Continental Oil Company

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
(KNA Sports Editor)

CHICAGO—Because Illinois long has been respected for its ideals of clean amateurism, its new plan for recruiting football players is likely to be adopted by other institutions. The clean Illinois system is seen as a happy medium in the running of athletes.

The Champaign institution was placed on a sensible footing along this line by the late George Huff and has been kept there.

The new plan unites the university and alumni behind Robert C. Zuppke . . . means help for the famous coach at last.

L. W. St. John, Ohio State athletic director, hints that there may be a showdown between amateur and semi-professional philosophies and practices at the meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic association in Los Angeles, Dec. 28-29-30. St. John, dean of western conference athletic heads, is a member of the executive board of the association, the governing body of inter-collegiate athletics.

With the question due to be at least an extended discussion, the Illinois plan gives the colleges something in the way of guidance.

The "I" men's association of Illinois has resolved to help Illinois players help themselves . . . thus placing its team on an equal footing with those of the majority of other schools playing major football, including those of the Big Ten.

Making Things Easier

Here the rubrics of the program which was proposed by Harold Poppe, a member of the board of trustees and renowned coach at Illinois:

1. The board of directors of the athletic and alumni associations put into effect a specific plan whereby the alumni may become an active, interested, potent factor in helping through all proper means consistent with Western conference rules, to obtain athletic material.

2. Restore the former status of the coaching school, and co-ordinate the activities of the athletic association and physical education departments as they formerly existed, and in the belief that such action will result in added incentives to athletes to athletes and coaches to attend the university.

3. Study, and if necessary, alter eligibility rules for participation in athletics to the end that Illinois does not place a greater handicap on athletes than the majority of other Big Ten universities.

4. Unless it is contrary to the policy and practice of the majority of Western conference universities, give student athletes such concessions as are possible at games and gatherings of all sorts on the campus as will enable them to assist themselves financially at the university.

5. Maintain cooperation between the N. Y. A. faculty committee and the director of athletics in order that as much assistance as is proper be given deserving athletes.

6. Give "Em in Fair Way

At Illinois it is much more difficult to stay eligible than at a number of other Western conference schools.

Illinois gets only about half as much N. Y. A. assistance for athletes as some other members of the Big Ten.

To hold our own in athletics we must penalize our own boys," says Poppe.

This six-point program is now in use to help Illinois athletes.

Under Western conference rules, a student athlete must be fitted up to accommodate 20 freshmen athletes. They live under the supervision of a married couple and pay board and rent on a cooperative basis of from $15 to $17 a month.

The athletic staff endeavors to find summer jobs for athletes where the boys can make about $175 to pay for college, tuition and his fee the coming year.

High school coaches of the state are contacted to try to bring them closer to the university.

Program of coaching clinics and invitations to these men to attend home Illinois games as guests of the Big Ten.

Beavers Burrow in, Down Bears

It looked like a good moment for the Golden Bear when Tony Firpo broke loose in Oregon State territory at Corvallis, but Beaver Morris Kohler was on the job, and brought him down after a short gain. Oregon State's 81-0 victory marked the Bears' seventh defeat this year.

Mac Outlines Improvements for Vanderbilt at Racing Plant

By HENRY McLEMORE
NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (U.S.)—It was with much gratification that I learned of Alfred Owyne Vanderbilt's acceptance of the presidency of the Belmont race track.

Indeed, it gave me a thrill, because we are so much alike. Save for a few minor traits possessed by him and not by me, such as youth, good looks, personality, wealth, and a love for hard work, there is very little difference between us.

Because of what I consider to be a great bond between the young millionaire and the Morris family's most constant customer, I feel no hesitancy whatsoever in suggesting to him ways and means of bettering Belmont park when it opens with pari-mutuel machines next year.

Two-Bit Windows

The first thing he wants to install are 25 cents or "two-bit" pari-mutuel windows. This idea of having two dollars as the smallest bet is no good. Vanderbilt will object to this, and so will lots of other misanthropic persons, on the grounds that a man who can't afford to bet more than 25 cents shouldn't be given a chance. But take it from a man whose one principle is to bet more than he can afford, there is no sense to their argument. The only thing that a 42 minimum does is to make 25 cent bettors bet 25.

Vanderbilt should see to it that there are more winners at Belmont park. To hell with improving the athletic association are the main factors in this work.

4. A committee of faculty advisers has been set up to keep a constant check on the scholastic standings of athletes.

5. County committees have been set up to legitimately encourage good athletes to go to Illinois.

6. Business men of Champaign-Urbana have been organized to find jobs for athletes while they are in school.

There is no low against going out and getting 'em.

Helping a boy through college is commendable.

The Illinois plan will do until a better one is submitted.

ing the grounds, by such means as putting birds of paradise on the infield lake, or planting rare and exotic flowers, or adding two or three paved entrances and exits. Let's have more horses that do what the form chart says they are capable of doing. No one goes to a race track to enjoy the scenery. I would much rather stand in an ash heap and watch a winner come home than sit in a replica of the Taj Mahal and watch the horse I had wagered on come staggering in fifth or sixth. The only thing really pretty at a race track is your horse's nose in front of the judges' stand.

False Faces

By all means let Vanderbilt see to it that all customers of Belmont park are equipped with Hallowsen costumes and false faces when they enter the place. These are to be slipped on when anyone is lucky enough to get a winner and go to the cashier's window. There is nothing so disheartening as to be recognized by a tried and true friend while you are cashing a ticket. Because nine times out of ten the T. and T. friend will approach you and put the bile on you for a few dollars to bet on the next race.

There is no refusing such a request as this, because you are caught ready-handed, so to speak. Imagine the joy of smirking behind your Hallowsen mask as you see the dear old pal line up to watch the cashiers' windows in the hopes of seeing someone they know.

Free Lunches

Of course, this lunch business will work both ways. I'm not so sure I could spot my pals through their eye slits. Are you?

Free lunches should be a part of every well run race track. All touts should be belted like cats. There should be one fixed race on every card, and it should be announced early enough in the day so that you have time to add Junior home for his pig bank.

I am forwarding these suggestions to Mr. Vanderbilt with a particularly plaintive postscript asking that he get a photo finish camera that, just once in a while, will take a picture of yours and my horse coming in first.

the athletic association are the main factors in this work.

DRIVER BLAMED IN TWO DEATHS

IDAHO FALLS, Ida., Nov. 22 (UP)—Leroy Purser, 33, Rigby truck driver, today was blamed by a coroner's jury for "careless" operation of a truck which caused the death of Orville Evans, 47, and his son, Orval Evans, both of Rigby.

A truck driven by Purser left the highway, overturned, and the two men were crushed beneath it, last Saturday on the Roosevelt highway 10 miles east of Rigby.
