Nazi Craze in Dutch Protest Order to Seize German Exports

BRUSSELS, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—An official announcement tonight said that the Belgian government had decided to protest against German orders for seizure of German exports at sea.

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—The Dutch government today strongly protested to Great Britain against the allied order for seizure of German exports on the high seas which would "severely hit the neutral powers." A similar protest was expected from Belgium.

The Netherlands government through her majesty's minister at London today strongly protested against the reprisals the British government considers taking against their enemies but which also severely and particularly hit the neutral powers—those who receive German goods as well as those who transport German goods.

The government's protest was announced in a press service statement.

"Attention is being drawn to the fact that the contemplated British reprisals are very unpleasant as far as Holland is concerned, and that they are taken after some shipping disasters, of which loss of a Dutch passenger ship (the Simon Bolivar with 34 dead) was by far the most important."

It was believed the Netherlands exports to Great Britain would be reduced proportionately with a decrease in exports to Germany due to the blockade.

Shipping quarters already are being taken over by the British and French intelligence of the blockade.

Some quarters it was expected that every reduction in Dutch trade with Germany forced by the allied blockade there would be a similar reduction in the Netherlands.

"Angel Woman" Testifies in Bund Head's Trial Tomorrow

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—Mrs. Florence Campbell of New York, the "angel woman" upon whom Fritz Kuhn is charged with lavishing funds of the German American Bund, testifies tomorrow at the last day of the romantic bender.

Kuhn, admitted on the witness stand yesterday he had lied when he said he would marry the blond Mrs. Campbell when the time was opportune. Mrs. Campbell will tell her side of their alleged romance as a witness for the prosecution.

Five letters Kuhn wrote to Mrs. Campbell, urging her to obtain a divorce, and replete with warm but misapplied words, were read by the prosecution to bolster its charges that Kuhn used funds to pay the "angel woman's" furniture moving bills.

Typical of the love letters was one dated May 20, 1933, addressed to "my most beloved darling Florence."

Selection of Full Jury Looms by Friday Night

Indications were today that selection of a jury to hear the case of Daniel Williams, 22, and William Hale, 22, who were charged with the murder of a juror, would require at least three and one-half and perhaps a full four days. Final choice of the jury would be made by Friday afternoon or evening.

Selection of the panel started abruptly yesterday afternoon in the court of District Judge James W. Porter after attorneys for both the defense and the prosecution conferred with the judge during the afternoon recess and had decided to recess court at that time in order that the prospective jurors might be assured of today (Thanksgiving) as proclaimed by President Roosevelt.

Day Longer Already

Already, records show, selection of the jury in the case now being tried has taken a day longer than that in the case of the "Dancer" who was charged with the murder of a juror.

At the present time the state has 12 prospective jurors in the box—12 men in the jury box—12 men in the jury box—12 men in the jury box.

23 Ships Go Down in Sea Since Saturday; Magnets Claimed in Use on Bombs

LONDON, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—German airplanes are dropping sea mines by parachute into the Thames estuary, naval sources said today, in intensification of sea warfare which has taken a toll of 23 ships off the British Isles and in the English channel since Saturday.

The parachute mines—a startling new Nazi development in modern warfare—was disclosed by British sources as reports were received of five more ship sinkings.

Two Nazi airplanes were believed to have sown sea mines in the Thames estuary last night, either as an experiment or as part of a broad program. Naval sources said they believed the mines to sink to the bottom.

Experts said they believed the parachutes dropped from the planes dissolved in the water, permitting the mines to sink to the bottom.

The parachutes presumably were designed to prevent damage to the delicate mechanism of the mine.

Naval experts claimed that the sowing of the parachute mines had been responsible for a large part of the recent shipping disasters. A new form of "magnetic" mine also was blamed for the sinkings.

The British navy has been responsible for the English coast shipping disasters, naval sources said today. The last two reported were the trawler Sully, sunk by a mine, and the steamer Donner, sunk by a U-boat earlier in the week. Three others had been reported earlier today.

ZIPPER

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 23 (U.P.)—Mrs. Norbert A. Pfaffenbach, a Zipper-equipped turkey.

The ingenious bird of last June hit upon the zipper idea to keep the bird and stuffing intact. She sewed one of the slide fasteners around the entrance to the gobbler's stuffing cavity, inserted a drawing, slipped the zipper and placed the modernized bird in the oven.

Zipper Statement

It was believed the Zipper-equipped turkey would be reduced proportionately with a decrease in exports to Germany due to the blockade.

Shipping quarters already are being taken over by the British and French intelligence of the blockade.

Some quarters it was expected that every reduction in Dutch trade with Germany forced by the allied blockade there would be a similar reduction in the Netherlands.

BORAH URGES NEW TRADE AGREEMENT WITH JAPANESE

SENATOR CLAIMS U. S. NEEDS POINT FOR EXPORTATION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Sen. William E. Borah, R.-Idaho, of the senate's foremost experts on foreign affairs, took issue today with an apparent state department decision to defer negotiations for a new United States-Japanese trade treaty until Japanese treatment of Americans and U. S. business in China is improved.

Borah, former chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and leader in the unsuccessful fight to retain the arms embargo, believed that negotiations should be started to bring about a "fair and reasonable" trade treaty between the U. S. and Japan, replacing the present agreement which expires Jan. 26 as a result of this government's renunciation.

Japanese Trade Increases

Notice our trade with Japan is increasing and we are going to have so much trade on our hands that we can safely throw any of it away without a sound reason for doing so," Borah said.

His statement came less than 24 hours after an unusually brusque state department spokesman had said that negotiations now are in progress, and an assertion that the new treaty depends upon future developments.

Opposes Pittman

Borah placed himself in opposition to Chairman Key Pittman, D.-Nev., of the senate foreign relations committee who has announced he will press for action next session on a resolution authorizing the U. S. to embargo exports to Japan. Pittman said he anticipated approval, with the necessary amendments, of the act.

Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles denied that negotiations now are in progress for a new treaty, and said the government was in no position to make any statement of its policy in China where Japanese military forces are in control.

Japan is the third largest U. S. customer. She imported $229,820,000 worth of U. S. goods in 1938, while this country took $125,820,000 from Japan.

JAYCEES TO ASK YULETIDE FUNDS

"Christmas party" milk bottles will soon be placed on various counters in downtown business establishments, for the purpose of raising funds to aid in defraying expenses of purchase of oranges, candy and nuts which will be distributed to needy children of the city, officials of the Twin Falls Chapter of Commerce said this afternoon.

In charge of the distribution of the bottles, and also collection of the money, is Robert W. Hertzog, vice-president of the organization.

The "goodies" purchased as a result of the donations made in the milk bottles are added to boxes containing toys which are repaired by local firemen and distributed Christmas eve and day. The Jaycees also plan at least one "toy show" at a local theater with admission to a toy which, if broken, can be repaired and given away Christmas to a needy youngster.

Date for this year's toy show has not yet been decided, but decision is expected in the immediate future. Date on which the milk bottles will be placed in the various stores has likewise not been set.

ACCOUNTING FOR ESTATE SOUGHT

Asking that an accounting be ordered from the administrator of an estate which includes an 80-acre shooting range, the heirs of the late Francis K. Forest, filed a petition for a citation directed to the administrator, Mrs. Ruth Yeaman, Buhl, had been filed today in probate court.

Bissell and Bird, Gooding attorneys, filed the petition on behalf of Miss Mary Lee Forest, one of the heirs to the estate of the late Francis K. Forest.

Hearing was fixed for 2 p. m. Dec. 12.

Accounting is sought for funds received and spent, for crops or property received from the 80-acre shooting range, for other transactions. The administrator, according to the petition, was appointed in the Forest estate Sept. 3, 1937, and filed an inventory March 11, 1938. That showed assets of $2,023.35 in cash plus the mortgaged ranch, making total value of the estate $3,999.19.

CHOICE OF JURY SEEN BY JURY

afternoon came Carl Boyd, a Twin Falls farmer who had been passed for cause by both sides and seemed to sit on the jury, stood up in the box and told the court he "did not think" he could "serve fairly to the state" because of this statement. Judge Porter ruled that both the defense and the prosecution could question the man again.

Sweeney stated the questioning and three times asked for dismissal "for cause" of the jurymen but each time Judge Porter upheld the objection placed by the defense.

Death Opinion
Under questioning Boyd indicated that he had, since getting into the jury box, formed a new opinion as regards the death penalty. Such an opinion, he indicated, was against finding the death penalty in the case of a youth, apparently meaning Williams, who is 19 years old.

The jurymen was finally dismissed, however, as Sweeney named him as the jurymen's ninth peremptory challenge.

Court observers, after close of sessions yesterday, expressed the opinion that selection of the jury "may" come by noon Friday afternoon. Such an opinion, they indicated, was against finding the death penalty in the case of a youth, apparently meaning Williams, who is 19 years old.

The jurymen was finally dismissed, however, as Sweeney named him as the jurymen's ninth peremptory challenge.

KIMBERLY ADDS ADULT COURSES

KIMBERLY, Nov. 23 (Special)—Kimberly schools are planning an extension of the adult program which was offered last year, to include during the present season several new fields. Miss Ruth A. Reed, who conducted well attended classes last year in basketry, psychology and personality development.

Katharine Brayton, Kimberly Smith-Rutgers home economics teacher, has already organized two classes for adults. One class meets from 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon every Wednesday and Friday and the other class meets once a week on Tuesday from 3:15 to 4:15 p. m. Unit subjects for study are selected by the women attending.

Both groups are now studying "Planning Three Meals Per Day." Units which will be studied after the completion of the present study will include, "Consumer Education," "Child Care and Development," "Clothing Construction" and "Family Relationships."

Miss Reed, Jerome, will begin her classes for the year early in December. These will probably include basketry and other forms of handicraft, and also academic subjects. Plans are underway to extend the adult program into the field of commerce and also recreation. It is quite possible that a class in typewriting will be given if a class of 15 or 20 interested persons registers for it early next month.

A community recreation program for out-of-school youth and adults is one of the biggest needs of the community during the winter months, the season of unemployment. It is possible that an inter-church basketball league will be organized if the four Kimberly churches show sufficient interest. The "M" Men of the L. D. S. group have already formed a group and requested an evening for practice at the local gym.

Volley ball or hand ball for business men of the community will be offered if a sufficient number are interested.

"The school is the community educational center," says Supt. L. A. Thomas, "and we are anxious to extend its services to the community. It should serve the community educationally, both youth and adult."

Guard Unit Ends Training Period

JEROME, Nov. 23 (Special)—Thirty members of 148th ordnance company of the National Guard, stationed at Jerome, completed the second period of field training activities Sunday and returned to their homes.

Training was given under direction of Capt. Ward C. Howard, and Lieut. James S. Keel, Jr. The men worked at scouting and patrolling, rifle marksmanship, filed stripping and assembling of United States rifles and pistols. The group was inspected by Major George C. Halley and Col. Lauterbach, both of Twin Falls.

Third and final period of the seven days' field training maneuvers will be completed Nov. 30, Dec. 1, 2 and 3. Capt. Howard said Tuesday at the fairgrounds and at the armory. More of the same activities will be participated in, he said.

Work Continues On Carey's Road

CAREY, Nov. 23 (Special)—The Hoops Construction company, which is building the new stretch of road from the Welch ranch to the George Thompson corner here in Carey, will put on a big shovel Tuesday. They have started hauling gravel to fill in the road bed to be built across Carey lake.

The rest of the grading along the right-of-way has been pretty well worked in and now the crew is waiting to wait for the telephone company to move their poles. Very little of the grading will be done through the village of Carey, as about all the fill needed will be hauled in.

Majority of Nation's Families Observing Thanksgiving Today

27 STATES WITH BIG POPULATIONS BACK PRESIDENT

A majority of the nation's families, following the lead of President Roosevelt, observed Thanksgiving day while the others looked on, awaiting the traditional date next Thursday.

A survey showed most of the heavily populated states, with the exception of New England where the first Thanksgiving was established 313 years ago, were observing the holiday today. Twenty-five states, including four that decided to observe both dates, will celebrate Nov. 23, the last Thursday of the month.

The split was caused by the President's decision that an earlier Thanksgiving would help Christmas shopping. It left most of the larger cities shut down for the turkey festivities while others carried on business as usual.

Observe Today

States observing the holiday today were: Illinois, Louisiana, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Ohio, California, Indiana, New York, Maryland, Georgia, Michigan, Oregon, Missouri, Utah, Montana, New Jersey, North Dakota, South Carolina, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wyoming, and Nebraska, Colorado, Texas and New Mexico. The latter four, because of legally binding gubernatorial proclamations that coincided with the President's and other reasons, will celebrate next Thursday also.

It was an official holiday in New York, Washington, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, San Francisco, Atlanta, Cleveland and Philadelphia, the major business centers. Boston, Hartford, Des Moines, Minneapolis and St. Paul and other major cities, were observing the holiday today.

Cities Fail to Follow

Many cities, in states which officially had proclaimed the observance for the 30th, celebrated today. Others, in states celebrating today, said they would wait until the 30th.

The state of Washington celebrated today—except the town of Clarkston, across the Columbia river from Idaho, which will observe the 30th.

SYPHILIS

When examining for syphilis it is very important to make a careful general physical examination, noting especially a scar or a chancre. If present, deformities of the bones, the activity of the nervous reflexes, and the condition of the mouth and eyes. In any of these organs one may find the tell-tale evidence of syphilis infection.

If the patient has an unhealed chancre, the discharge from it should be examined with the microscope for organisms.

The most generally reliable method of diagnosing syphilis are the blood tests commonly known as the Wassermann and the Kahn. The blood tests become positive about six or eight weeks after infection.

However when the nervous system has been invaded by the disease, the blood may show nothing while the spinal fluid (drawn from the spinal canal) will be positive. It is always wise to have the spinal fluid examined when the blood tests are positive.

These tests are as nearly positive as anything human can be. Positive reactions in the absence of syphilis are extremely rare in well-conducted laboratories.

Prevention

The best way to prevent syphilis is to avoid exposure to it. In ordinary life there is comparatively little danger of non-venereal infection if the usual hygienic precautions and cleanliness are observed.

When exposure is known to have occurred, the application of calomel to the chancre, if done within two or three hours afterward, is of considerable value.

Outlook

Syphilis is by no means incurable. If treatment is begun in the first few weeks or months and carried out properly, permanent cure can be expected. If it is not begun until two or three years after infection, cure is much more uncertain, and in those cases treatment is not undertaken until many years have passed cure is often impossible, for the reason that by this time the poisons have been hidden in the body in places where they are difficult to reach with the drugs we use in combat the disease.

Treatment of congenital syphilis is always difficult, because of this syphilis women should be treated energetically during pregnancy. If this is done during the last four months of more of the pregnancy a healthy child will usually be born.

Syphilis is a disease which spreads over the entire body and therefore its treatment must be thorough and prolonged. Many patients come to grief either because (1) they think that absence of symptoms means cure or because (2) they believe the doctor is only trying to get more money out of them when he urges them to continue treatment.

There are certain symptoms of syphilis which make treatment easier and more effective—e.g. avoidance of overwork and fatigue, careful attention to the hygiene of the mouth and teeth, and abstention from alcohol.

The drugs used in the treatment

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Get Out of the Liver Trouble

The liver should get two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If it doesn't, it's a sign of liver trouble. It's not just a sign, it's a warning. It's a warning that your liver is not working properly. It's a warning that your liver is not doing its job. It's a warning that your liver is not keeping you healthy.

A more powerful medicine than Calomel, and one that doesn't hurt your stomach, is the best way to get your liver working properly. It's the best way to get your liver back to work. It's the best way to get your liver back to work. It's the best way to get your liver back to work.

Veteran Mountain Flier Has Hazardous Idaho Mail Route

By WILLIAM McMENAMIN

BOISE, Nov. 23 (UP)—Robert Johnson, 35, veteran mountain pilot, flew his tri-motored plane over one of the most hazardous flying jobs in the world.

Johnson flies daily over jagged mountain peaks where a forced landing would mean certain death, to carry supplies to 600 snowbound families in Idaho's primitive area and give them their only contact with the outside world during six long winter months.

The pioneer families live in small communities or simply spread over 1,000,000 acres of mountainside, heavily timbered wilderness, inaccessible by any road, located in the central section of the state.

Miners, trappers, forestry workers and their families rely on Johnson's skill and daring to provide mail, food and medical supplies through the winter. These modern frontiers are snowed in from October through March, each year, unable to reach civilization except in Johnson's plane.

Dog Team Competition

Their only other means of travel is by dog team, snowshoes, skis or an occasional chartered plane. A dog team driven by a grizzled old frontiersman provides Johnson's Star airline with its only competition.

Johnson is called upon frequently to come to the rescue of a wayward laborer, a hunter, or a woodsman injured by a falling tree. His plane carries them out to civilization and a hospital.

The forest service provides the airports. The landing fields are usually mountain meadows with the stumps cleared off or rimmed with the rocks removed. He frequently lands on these with a capacity load of mining machinery.

Johnson loses one or two planes each year in crashes. He used Ford bi-planes because they will carry a tremendous load and land short. To fly down narrow mountain gorges and over snow-capped peaks every day of the winter months period isn't easy, he admits.

Supplies are dropped from the plane in parachutes. Fliers assert Johnson can hook a parachute onto a crate of eggs, bail it out without a protective packing and not break a single egg. Sides of beef, mail, clothing, vegetables, four, canned goods and even dynamite are tossed unceremoniously from the plane to be picked up by a snowbank below.

Supplies are ordered by forest service short wave radio or telephone. A trapper who runs short of supplies goes on snowshoes to the nearest forest lookout station and sends in a note. Johnson drops it out of the sky a short time later. Johnson knows every mountain and valley from Cascade and Lemmon to Mackay bar, Stuyvesant and over to the Montana border. He bases in Missoula, Mont., and flies to the Idaho border.

Virgil Adair, Lewiston pilot, started the airplane winter delivery service into the primitive area in 1928. Ray Fisher, Missoula, Mont., had it a week and then was killed when he flew into the side of a mountain. Bill Gower of Boise held the U. S. mail contract, anchor of the business, for a time and then lost it to Johnson.

Files for Forest Service

Johnson spends his summer months flying for the U. S. forest service. He flies through smoke and ash to bring supplies in an hour to fire fighting crews far up in the mountains where it would take days to bring in supplies by pack horse.

Tired of an early barnstorming career in aviation, Johnson settled down to a quiet life running a gasoline station and battery shop in Missoula, Mont., when he decided to start a private flying service. He bid for the mail contract into the area and went into his hazardous job.

Practical demonstration of benefits received locally as the result of tuberculosis Christmas seal sales, was given today by Dr. L. C. Krotchke, director of the district health unit, when he pointed out that lung X-rays will be made possible for school children who reacted positively to recent skin tests conducted in schools of this district through funds accrued from the annual seal sale drive.

The X-rays will be given in the Twin Falls county general hospital in the near future, Dr. Krotchke said.

This week the health director has been concluding the skin tests with schools at Murtaugh and Hagerman. He also helped Dr. S. Hopper administer tuberculosis tests at Hamilton and Eden.

HONEY INDUSTRY HOLDS MEETING

JEROME, Nov. 23 (Special)—Over 40 members of the Idaho State Honey Producers association and their wives attended the annual convention at Idaho Falls Friday and Saturday.

An election of officers was held in which members named Robert E. Miller, Twin Falls, as president for the coming year. Other officers named included Clyde Gault, Buhl, vice-president; Frank Beach, Jr., Buhl, secretary-treasurer. Twin Falls was named convention city for next year. Theme of this year's convention and for the coming year, it was decided by members, is to "make America more honey conscious." It was decided to inaugurate a campaign to reach this objective.

After an analysis of the industry by J. A. Redfield, manager of the Superior Honey company, Idaho Falls, need for such action was decided. Redfield explained that at the present wholesale price of four cents a pound, 80 pounds of honey are needed to meet production costs, almost 100 pounds to meet production costs and on the basis of seven cents, 45 pounds would be needed.

Possible Aid
Redfield quoted three possible remedies to aid the industry. They included larger crops, uniform standardized product by commercial packers and corporations in the support of any organization for the creation of greater consumption. The third point was deemed most feasible.

It was pointed out that if the national consumption of one and a quarter quarts could be increased to one and three quarters, the half pound increase will be the difference between profit and loss for the industry. National consumption of sugar is 17 pounds per capita and honey consumption in the upper Snake river valley averages about 10 pounds per family per year, almost 10 times as much as the national average, statistics showed.

In line with the campaign to make America more honey conscious, Frank Beach, Jr., Buhl, suggested the erection of bee and honey exhibits for county and state fairs.

Discusses Association
Kennedy Stuart, Jerome honey producer, spoke on the South Central Idaho Honey Producers Association, a local cooperative which he stated promotes good fellowship, county inspection and new ideas for the improvement of the honey industry.

C. F. Peeler, superintendent of bee inspection for the state of Idaho, reported on the honey industry as a healthier one this year, explaining that out of 8,000 colonies which had been inspected, only 288 were found diseased. Inspection of only 4,000 colonies last year showed 288 diseased.

Friday's activities of the association, including an attack on state trade barriers, were brought to a close with a banquet at the Rogers hotel. A complimentary luncheon given by the Superior Honey company, for the members and their wives, highlighted the use of honey in foods.

An auxiliary organization was also formed with Mrs. Ben Nealey, Aberdeen, being named president.

Jerome Residents Gain Citizenship

JEROME, Nov. 23 (Special)—Appearing before Senior District Judge T. Bailey Lee Monday were several persons to receive certificates of citizenship.

Mike Melody Chrenko, Jerome, was granted his certificate of citizenship and was also granted privilege of changing his name to Itchin. He was born in Russia.

Mrs. Grace Mae Shirley was granted a certificate of citizenship by repatriation. Mrs. Shirley was born in the United States and married an Englishman. It became necessary for her to go through the procedure of repatriation in order to retain her citizenship as an American citizen. Her husband had already obtained his certificate as a citizen of the United States.

HISTORY OF BUHL METHODIST CHURCH TOLD PIONEER DAY

BUHL, Nov. 23 (Special)—A committee of the church of the Buhl Methodist church from the date of its establishment to the present time was given in a detailed report compiled by Mrs. C. W. Aldrich at the "Homecoming and Pioneer Day" Sunday, Nov. 19.

Leroy Walker, pastor of the church, welcomed the visitors, old members and friends, who came from all the southern Idaho towns and from Boise and Nampa.

Dr. C. F. Helman, who served the Buhl church for seven years, brought the message of the morning. Mrs. Nellie Ostrom, Twin Falls, a former choir director of the church, sang a solo, "The Ninety and Nine." The present choir, under the direction of Harold Packer, sang several special numbers.

Old Times Conference
The informal Old Times' meeting was held in the church sanctuary at 2 p. m. Dr. W. H. Hertzog, former pastor and now district superintendent, who was to preside, was called to Portland to attend the funeral services for Bishop Wallace Brown, who held the pastorate of the Buhl church from 1900 to 1930.

In Dr. Hertzog's absence Rev. W. H. Hertzog, who was the following old timers present during the informal hour spoke briefly: Rev. Helman; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ludlow, Nampa; Mr. and Mrs. Uttermark and son, Robert, Boise; Mr. and Mrs. Don Kilburn and daughter, of Kimberly; Oala Hengen and two sons, Peter, Mrs. W. H. Hertzog and daughter, Helen, Mrs. Stifford; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Palmer and Mrs. Nellie Catron, all of Twin Falls; and Mrs. Margaret Yeaman, Mountain Home.

Conversations were given Rev. and Mrs. Phil F. Bertlett on their 55th wedding anniversary, which they celebrated last week. Rev. Bertlett preached the first sermon in the village of Buhl in July, 1900.

First Pastor in 1907
In the early history of the church, read by Mrs. Aldrich, the first resident pastor was Rev. Hotchkiss, who served both the Buhl and Piler congregations from September, 1907, until September, 1908. He was the pastor of Rev. Charles F. Wheeler, the Buhl church was incorporated as the First Methodist Episcopal church of Buhl, July 10, 1909.

The first trustees of the church were T. T. Davis, R. W. Alford, H. O. Taylor, H. B. Hobson and Robert M. Hays. In 1910 the small bungalow style church that was used for 10 years, was converted into a parsonage, and ground was broken for the present church but on account of the financial stringency following the war, the program lagged and the cornerstone was not laid until November, 1920.

The cornerstone was laid by Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, Asahi, the pastor was Rev. Sherman Hawk, Dr. G. W. Tenney, president of Gooding college; Rev. J. W. Miller, field secretary of the Idaho college, and Rev. Charles Evans, local Presbyterian church pastor and Rev. W. A. Shanks of the Baptist church. R. L. Smith acted as mason.

Church services were held by Rev. Helman from September, 1921, to the

Hemingway Will Cover War if And When It Gets Interesting

SUN VALLEY, Ida., Nov. 23 (Special)—Ernest Hemingway, novelist, war correspondent and outdoor enthusiast, is resting up between wars at Sun Valley lodge, writing a new novel and including his love for hunting and fishing.

Hemingway took time out from his pleasurable efforts to announce he would cover the European war as soon as it became interesting, and not any sooner. Meanwhile, he has a novel to finish and a lot of fishing to do, not to mention taking pot shots at ducks.

Typical of the war correspondent, Hemingway is scheduled to be in England using his traditional policy of attempting to blockade her army and sending out a small land force to the continent. The same blockade brought the Spanish war to an end and it may well be the means of defeating Germany.

Hemingway covered the Spanish civil war for the North American Newspaper Syndicate. He is scheduled to cover World War number two as soon as his novel is finished.

"It is hard to believe we will become involved, out here in peaceful Sun Valley," the author said. "I feel our President is determined to keep us out of it. Only organized propaganda might conceivably whip up war hysteria in this country sufficient to pull us into the conflict."

Hemingway said he thought Europe's leaders were having a twinge of conscience and didn't want the world to know what they were doing, hence the strict censorship of war news.

But the noted novelist was not inclined to talk of his fly fishing, trap shooting and hunting than of wars and politics. He said he rises at an early hour, drives the morning to writing and spends his time bird hunting, or at other sports in the afternoon. He refuses night engagements which, he says, would interfere with his work.

"I never saw anything like this Indian summer climate," he said. "I have been here since September and only three days were cloudy."

Hemingway planned an airplane flight into the Idaho primitive area for a look at the Sawtooth range and the White Cloud peaks.

The two girls were named Barbara Hadden and Leona Caldwell to state police Officer James Brown when the accident was reported but the correct identification was made yesterday.

POULTRYMEN HIT AT TARIFF SLICE

GOODING, Nov. 23 (Special). — "Unalterable" opposition to any lowering of the tariff on turkeys, poultry and poultry products was voiced here by hatchery men of south central and southwestern Idaho, meeting at the fall session of the Idaho Poultry Improvement association.

The resolution against a suggested tariff cut on imported turkeys and poultry said:

Large Crop

"In view of the fact that we have one of the largest turkey, poultry and poultry products crops on record, that American producers are well able to supply the demand, and that any lowering of the tariff would be ruinous to American producers, and inasmuch as present prices are below cost of production, we therefore go on record as being unalterably opposed to any lowering of the tariff as proposed by the national administration, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the press and to our congressional delegation, asking them to use their influence to protect this very important and basic American industry."

The association discussed at considerable length the improvement and disease control program now underway. Fred Peters, extension poultryman and supervisor for the organization, outlined the regulations for cooperating in the national improvement program.

Pick Caldwell

Caldwell was named for the annual meeting and three-day school next July.

Aimed at improvement of Idaho poultry, the association is composed of breeders and hatchersmen throughout the state. About 25 attended the fall session here Nov. 17. Dispelling the Fog

By CHARLES MICHELSON
Director of Publicity, Democratic National Committee

If there is anything more difficult to understand than the Republican policy program it is the Republican statistics.

According to the output of the G. O. P. statistics mill that has come out, the farmers are appalled at "the devastating result" of the New Deal handling of the agricultural problem. The strange document even attempts to show that it has cost the individual farmer $1,600 a year.

For instance, at this writing, runs this amusing compilation, "the price of wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade is about 45 cents."

For instance, let me mention that in the last year of the last Republican administration the price of wheat was 38 cents.

The farmers' net income during the four years of President Hoover diminished from nearly seven billion dollars in 1929 to less than two billion dollars in 1932. This year the total net income will be nearly five billion.

Don't ask me the logic of the discrepancy. It may be found that if the discrepancy of a fourth forced us to import enough beef, for example, to feed the American people, and that could be compared with a normal year, we could get an extraordinary result.

Or if any group's income during a boom period was lined up against the same group's income during a depression such as were bequeathed when Mr. Hoover went out, it would be surprising if it decreased.

What was not recorded, however, the fact remains that the farmers have been better off by a billion dollars during the last four years of Republican rule.

Chief G. O. P. Worry

When Republican friends are not among these amazing statistics, they are worrying about a possible third term for Franklin Roosevelt. I don't know anybody with authority to speak who has said that the President wants or is considering a third term. We are positively informed by the official spokesman for the minority party that "the White House—the President's immediate family—his close associates, and an assistant attorney general are carrying on plans to bring about a third term."

Put the ignorance of the publicity director of the Democratic national committee, but he has heard nothing on the subject from any of the President's family except a hope mentioned in the newspapers, that the President would be spared from a third term. If the President is to be held responsible for the desires of government officials on a subject on which he only hears in a position to speak, it is something new in politics.

"Evidence"

As evidence of the authority for the third term talk, there is adduced that Mrs. Roosevelt had to see certain liberals, who are described as Communists—a statement she met with the mild response that she did not inquire into the political tendencies of her guests.

In the next paragraph, the Republican hand-out recites that Paul McNutt's political manager has been active. Presumably the political manager is working for his chief's nomination, but just what bearing that circumstance has to the third term is not elucidated.

Rather Puzzling

Previous utterances from the same source assure the minority party that Mr. Roosevelt is the easiest candidate for them to beat. If they really believe anything of the sort, one would think they would encourage the idea, instead of arraigning the President for failing to accept.

BRITAIN ASKS NO GAINS, SAYS KING

LONDON, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—Great Britain seeks "no material gain" in her war with Germany, King George said today in a speech on the proposition of parliament.

Parliament was adjourned today and will reconvene next week.

The king said that "despite the efforts of my government to preserve peace, Germany, in violation of her solemn undertakings, wantonly invaded Poland. This new instance of German aggression and bad faith was a challenge which we could not have declined without dishonor to ourselves, without peril to the cause of freedom and the progress of mankind."

"We seek no material gain," the king added, "liberty and free institutions are our birthright which we like our forefathers, are resolved to preserve."

Long Time

The Democratic national convention is eight months away; nobody knows what may happen in domestic politics or in the war situation abroad. Why on earth should the President do something that would start the political pot boiling furiously, and complicate what the country is trying to do to keep us out of the conflagration?

The constant agitation of the Republican side is merely another evidence of the uneasiness and confusion among the minority control—if there is any such thing. If I might hazard a guess, the President has too much on his mind right now in his effort to keep America at peace to be giving any serious consideration to political developments. Some day, I suppose, he will have to deal with himself and figure out the course he must pursue, which not necessarily is the course he would like to pursue.

It might be noted that the clamor for the President to decline a nomination that may never be offered him comes only from his political foes.

The only incentive for him to do it would be to oblige these—a proposition which I am afraid, would not appeal to him very strongly.

Mercury Mine Provides Idaho With Million Dollar Industry

WEISER, Nov. 23 (U.P.)—A sheepherder's chance discovery has provided Idaho with its first mercury mine and a new $1,000,000 industry, state mining officials disclosed today.

A sharp price rise in the quicksilver market gave new impetus to the venture when the European war broke out and now the Almaden mines developed by L. K. Regua, veteran Santa Barbara mining engineer, are producing an estimated 400 pounds of pure quicksilver a day.

The current market price of the liquid metal is $140 a flask of 70 pounds. National production last year was only 1,500 flasks. Use of the metal in the manufacture of arsenic of war strengthened the price.

Discovered by Sheepherder

The mine was discovered when Andy Little, a young sheepherder, with a flask for mining, chased a lost sheep across the mountains. 20 miles west of Weiser in 1936 and noticed an outcropping of reddish ore at his pony's feet. He came back the next year and staked out 18 claims.

Regua visited the area on one of his periodic tours of western mining districts and examined the sheepman's claim.

The mine is an open pit operation and ore is blasted out of a hillside, rolled in cars to a bin, carried by conveyor to a crusher and thence to a kiln to be roasted. Enough ore is present to last an indefinite period, Regua believes. Production is going ahead at the rate of about 45 tons a day.

40 GAMES ON FDR THANKSGIVING MENU

Idaho-Denver Tilt One of Nation's Best

By HENRY SUPER
NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (UP)—There'll be quite a few football games around the country today on the first of this year's Thanksgivings but none will mean anything as far as the race for the mythical national championship is concerned.

About 40 games will be played today and only six of them pair teams of equal caliber. The best games are Denver-Idaho, Maryland-Syracuse, Richmond-William and Mary, Utah State, Virginia Poly-Virginia Military and Washington-Oregon.

All of the seven perfect-record teams are idle but on Saturday most of them go out again and try to maintain the striding pace they've set all season.

Saturday Games
Two of them, Tennessee and Texas A. & M., are idle this week-end while Georgetown, unbeaten but tied by Syracuse, finish its season with an upset victory last week over New York University.

Saturday's big games will be played in Philadelphia and South Bend, Ind.
In Philadelphia, it's unbeaten Cornell against Pennsylvania in one of the east's traditional games.

Southern California, heading for the Rose bowl, stacks its perfect record against Notre Dame and that's another battle in which anything can happen.

The Trojans, led only by Oregon, are tied for the Pacific Coast conference lead with U.C.L.A., which is tied in conference competition by Stanford and by Santa Clara outside the conference.

U.S.C. Plays Oregon State
U. C. L. A. faces a tough Oregon game this week-end and it is when the chances are the Rose bowl will be at stake when it plays Southern California on Dec. 8. A defeat by U. S. C. would mean there will be no bearing on the western Rose bowl situation because only the team that finishes first in the conference will enter into the figuring.

U. C. L. A. still would have to get by Washington State next Thursday, however, to make its game with U. S. C. one for the Rose bowl.

Tulane, unbeaten, but tied by North Carolina, goes up against Sewanee on Saturday. Duquesne, unbeaten and untied, faces a tough game in Carnegie.

Tennessee has off until next Thursday when it plays Kentucky and after that it still has to meet Auburn before it can check with a perfect record. Texas A. & M. goes into battle for the last time next Thursday against Texas.

Hockey League Formed in Eastern Idaho
By JERRY RYAN
IDAHO FALLS, Ida., Nov. 23 (UP)—Organization of the only ice hockey league in Idaho is under way in the upper Snake river valley towns of Idaho Falls, St. Anthony, Rigby and Rexburg.

Teams will cross sticks in an Idaho Falls city league. Games will be played on an indoor natural ice surface. A sextette from Logan, Utah, has been chosen to play an inter-state series in late season with all the Idaho teams.

Baseball chat ripens with speculation on the identity of a manager for the first Idaho Falls Plains league team, to work with Baseball Manager L. L. Garland, Archie Miles, former Chicago White Sox twirler. The fans are getting anxious.

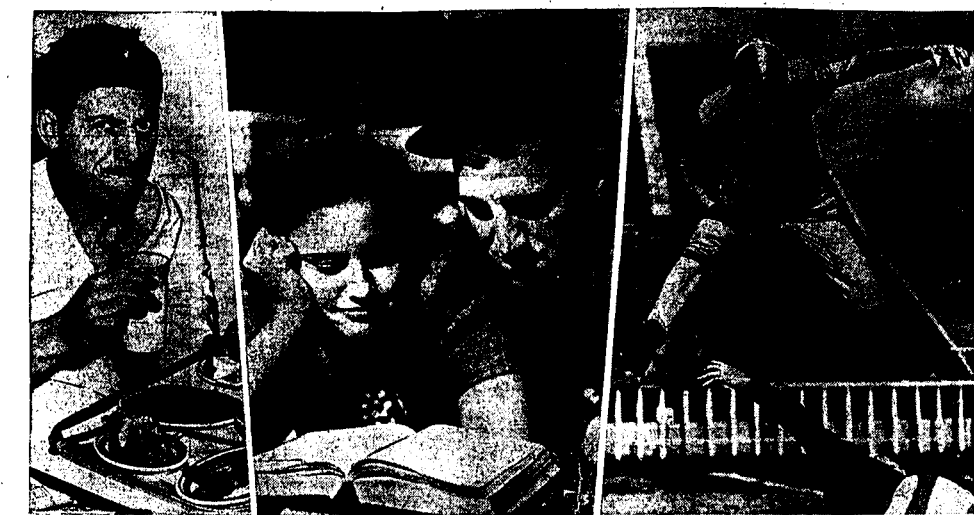

Maine may beat Idaho in potato picking contests but she provides little state with some of the best football material. Tony Klemmeyer, regular guard for the Vandals, hails from Portland. Another high school, Me., where he won tackle honors and was the state's best 12-pound hammer thrower. Paul Ryan, left end at the University of Idaho, played prep school ball at Auburn, Me. On the freshman team in Hank Crosby, center, Lewiston, Me.; Bill Griffin, guard, Portland, Me.; and Tony Pevecker, end.

Woodrow Wilson High School backfield ace, had his most impressive game at Rexburg on an 80-yard broken field run for the clutch at his jeans, blushed and when his melon hit the goal line began to slip. Wilkes slowed down was tackled. Hicks lost an otherwise sure touchdown.

Vandals Retain Cross-Country Title for Coast
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23 (UP)—The University of Idaho for the third successive year won the Pacific Coast intercollegiate cross country championship yesterday over a "four-mile-plus" course at Hill Military academy.

Idaho's low total score was 22, Oregon State college was second with 26 and the University of Washington placed third with 77 points.

Tennessee Didn't Have to Bargain for Great George Cafego

George (Bad News) Cafego, Tennessee's all-America quarterback, freckled plenty when they had him in the hospital with a knee injury. Once released he caught up in his studies with the aid of pretty Ann Haynes, his co-ed girl friend from Chattanooga. Ann is his first romance.

By JERRY BRONFIELD
(NEA Service)
Nickname of George Cafego is "Bad News," which is most appropriate handle the opposition could hang on him. Considered greatest all-around footballer in Tennessee history, Cafego hails from small mining town of Seaboard, Va. Twenty-one years old, stands 5 feet 11 inches and weighs 172 pounds.

But runs with power of a 200-pounder. Strangely enough, Cafego wasn't sought after by big-time colleges. High school coach called Tennessee grid heads, told them he had placed George on bus bound for Knoxville and asked them to look after him and see what he could do when he got there. Didn't show much in fresh practice until he got in scrimmage. . . . and then coaches' eyes popped.

As sophomore he suited for Babe Wood. Then best Wood out as junior to make All-America. . . . A senior this year, Quarterback Cafego is majoring in education, hopes to coach after he graduates. . . . He's the type of boy the pros like. . . . Tough and durable as his native

West Virginia hills. . . . Raged when they sent him to hospital for observation after suffering knee injury in Citadel game.

A Hungarian, Cafego longs for his native Poughat, but the only time he gets his fill of the dish is when he goes home. . . . Never has been much of a ladies' man and just recently started to dance. . . . Currently seeing a lot of Co-ed Ann

Haynes of Chattanooga, which explains the transformation.

Rooms with Fullback Len Coffman, the Vols' battering-ram fullback, and the two are almost inseparable. . . . George has a swell singing voice. . . . Is a conscientious student and the campus hero. . . . which is clearly understandable when you see him in action.

Last year the circuit operated successfully with Jerome, Murtaugh, Gooding, Burley, Rupert and Shoshone Redskins won the league crown. However, the strong Burley club won the tournaments at Oodling and Burley, only to see the Redskins cop the state amateur title at Boise to divide honors for the year.

The 1939-40 season, things look even more prosperous than that of the past year. While John Savage has indicated that he will not sponsor a team in Murtaugh this year, independent basketball has made strides in other towns and it is expected that there will be other additions to the league.

Last year the league directors voted to keep the membership in the league at a minimum and restrict it to the larger cities of the area. The same proposal will probably be offered this season to assure a financial success.

There is talk of a team representing Piler in the loop this season, with Coach Bill Rogers of that city, a former member of the champion Murtaugh Savages, as the backbone of the club. There is also a possibility of a Twin Falls entrant if the high school gym can be obtained for Saturday night contests.

It was reported here that two or three business firms have agreed to back an independent team and it is possible that this city may join the loop. Other possibilities are Buhl, Kimberly and Wendell, but it is doubtful that the league would be extended beyond those cities.

Outlaw Cage Loop Schedules Meet At Jerome Nov. 28

Annual organization meeting of the Snake River Outlaw Basketball league will be held at Jerome on Tuesday, Nov. 28, it was announced here today by John Savage, Murtaugh, president of the loop. The meet, scheduled to start at 8 p. m. in the basement of the North Side Inn.

The proposal for this year, as outlined by Hal Wood, executive secretary of the loop, calls for participation of from six to 10 teams in the organization; two games per week; a deposit guarantee to assure carrying out of contracts, as was the case last year; pre-agreement on officials and completion of schedules before tournament time rolls around.

Last year the circuit operated successfully with Jerome, Murtaugh, Gooding, Burley, Rupert and Shoshone Redskins won the league crown. However, the strong Burley club won the tournaments at Oodling and Burley, only to see the Redskins cop the state amateur title at Boise to divide honors for the year.

THE PAYOFF

by
HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

CHICAGO — Carl Brumbaugh was released once by the Chicago Bears before he finally mastered George Halas' shrewdness of plays.

It took Bertie Masterman two years to reach full efficiency. So it is little wonder that Coach Halas marvels at the fact that Sidney Luckman has memorized most of his volumes in less than a season.

Sid Luckman says that counting all the variations the professional Bruins run something like 300 plays. He believes that one more fall in a training camp and he will be in command of the situation.

Master Mind Halas figures that a quarterback is doing all right if he masters the Bear system in two years.

Luckman is way ahead of schedule even though he never before had played "under center" as the Bear signal-caller must do.

Learns Assesses First Luckman was always a tail-back in high school in Brooklyn and at Columbia. When he first joined the Bears he learned the left-halfback assignments. Before he reported to the College All-Stars in Chicago in August he spent lots of time with Halas going over plays, so that when he finally reported to the Bears' camp he had a good mental picture of what the left half had to do.

So when he was switched to quarterback, he had the advantage of knowing what the left half should do, when he handed him in motion and all that sort of thing.

"But the business of taking the ball under center and handing it to the carrier was puzzling," he explains. "I had a terrible time with the pivots."

Practiced them at home. Every day I'd spend hours in my hotel room spinning, pivoting and practicing handling the ball. I'm getting the knack of it now, so that I won't haven't got it down pat.

"It was my fault Joe Maniac was hurt in the first Detroit game. I didn't get the ball to him just right and as a result he was off balance trying to keep from fumbling it when he was tackled, and his knee buckled. I figure that broke the game because we had the spark then... were just starting to roll."

Concentrates on Faking Passing from the quarterback position also was new to Luckman when he switched to the money ranks.

"At Columbia, passing from tail-back, could spot my receivers at a glance," he asserts. "But taking the ball under center and faking backward, I have to turn my back and as a result I can't see my receivers until I turn around to get ready to throw. Then there is the tendency to look first for the receiver I want to find instead of taking to a decoy."

"That's something I've got to overcome because if you take to a decoy properly you help the receiver to get into the clear."

Luckman contends that the great number of pass completions in the professional ranks is due, not to faulty defense, but to perfect offense as carried out by such renowned pitchers as Sammy Baugh, Ace Parker, Davey O'Brien and Arnold Heber — not to mention a fellow named Luckman, and perfect receivers like Don Hutson and Bobby Seisler.

"Why," concludes Sid Luckman, "we had three men covering Don Hutson in the Green Bay Packers game at Wrigley field and he caught the ball anyhow."

"What can you do with a fellow like that?"

In the City League, Halas' Conoco took three out of four from Orange Transportation. Capt. Halas, with 525, led the victors and also the Orange team for three games.

Best single for the loop was turned in by Martin Coleman with a 202. Archie Anderson, with a 521 score, was the best for the losers, with both three-jane total and single game. Archie got 181 his middle game for top single for his team.

The Orange club was all decked out in new bowling shirts. Maybe that had something to do with their scores.

The Twin Falls Lumbers' 2470 is still top in the City league for this week.

Idaho Power, Halle's Take Bowling Games

Idaho Power company bowlers last night knocked over the Schilz team four points in a row and pushed the beer boys down the ladder in the Commercial league standings. The winners were led by Graf Self, who got a 570 total for three games. However, high single score went to Johnson with a 211 his first game. For the losers, Walker Bertsch was high with a series of 531.

Halle's Conoco took three out of four from Orange Transportation in the City loop. High man for the contest was Halle of the victors with a 528—seven plus higher than Archie Anderson registered for Orange.

STRIKES to SPARE With Fred Stone

Idaho Power bowlers really gave us Schilz's a lesson last night by taking all four points—and they would have taken more, but that's all we bowled.

Graf Self was "it" with a 578. Johnson was also hot with a 550. Tanner was next with 547 and then came Sol Neaky and Reed with 497 and 494, respectively.

W. L. Johnson, with 211, took the high single game honors although Graf Self got a 206, Neaky a 203 and Tanner 201.

All in all, the Power company turned on plenty of juice. Walker Bertsch, with 531, led the losers. He also got high single of 187. That, we had four men over the 500 mark, but that didn't worry the Power boys any.

Idaho Students Back Move To Aid Vandal Athletes

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Nov. 23 (Special)—The proposed Junior Vandal booster plan introduced on the campus of the University of Idaho last week is gaining impetus and popular appeal; five of the university men's dormitories indicating that they were in favor of the plan whereby money would be raised to support athletes in college.

Willis Sweet hall and Lindley hall favored the plan with an almost unanimous vote and Chairman Hall, Idaho club, and Campus club indicated that they were in favor of the plan.

The plan provides for the sale of booster buttons and subscription of money from the university students in order to provide board and room for athletes. The idea came as a result of shortage of funds to be raised by the Vandal booster organization throughout the state.

Alpha Chi Omega sorority indicated that if the plan were adopted at the school, that it would boycott all students not possessing membership in the organization and refuse to date non-members.

Action will be taken on the plan at the next meeting of the Interfraternity council the first part of next week, according to President Fred Zamboni, Wallace.

Speaking in behalf of the executive board, campus legislature, Eddie Lowe, McGregory, said that the consensus of the board was heavily in favor of adopting the plan and figured that it would go over with a little support.

POWER INDUSTRY VIEWED AS VITAL

Declaring that no industry touches the "home life" of the nation as does the electrical industry, Dr. George W. Allison, New York City, field representative of the Edison Electrical Institute, spoke here last night.

Allison spoke to 125 electrical appliance dealers and salesmen, members of the Electrical Equipment Sales Association. The session, preceded by a banquet, was held at the Park hotel.

Officials of the E.E.S.A. declared that "no man in the nation is better qualified to speak on the problems confronting the electrical industry" than Dr. Allison.

During the course of his talk he pointed out that the average American, including salesmen, do not realize the extensive field of electrical appliances, being not a side-line but a "billion dollar" industry. He further pointed out that the modern, equipped electrical kitchen costs about $500 and added that the major part of the family budget is spent in that kitchen for food and other necessities.

Opening remarks were made by H. Polke, Twin Falls, who also served as toastmaster. Speaking briefly was Anson Thompson, Oodening, president of the E.E.S.A.

W. H. Gale, general secretary of the E.E.S.A., who gave a report on progress and plans for 1940; Carl Baldridge, Boise, dealer sales manager of the Idaho Power company; A. S. Gilbert, Twin Falls, commercial manager of the Twin Falls-Jerome division of the same concern; R. W. Carpenter, Twin Falls-Jerome division manager of the company.

Ex-Idaho Girl Receives Post With Airlines

Pretty and capable, a former Kimberly and Gooding girl is flying the airways today for United Airlines.

She is Frances M. LaSalle, who has just earned her wings as a stewardess.

Miss LaSalle is 22 years old, is five feet five inches tall and weighs 115 pounds. She was born in Kimberly and moved to Gooding as a child. After her graduation from Gooding high school she entered St. Alphonsus hospital school of nursing. She graduated in January, 1938. She was graduated in July of 1938. Practicing her nursing profession as Gooding for a time, she then went to Cheyenne, Wyo., for general duty work. And since Cheyenne is the home port of United Airlines, Miss LaSalle soon became interested in flying. She entered the company's school for stewardesses and has just graduated.

This Idaho flying stewardess will be stationed at Salt Lake City.

ECONOMY PLANS BRING ARGUMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—A White House economy program for all except national defense drew support today from a conservative Democrat and protest from the workers' alliance, which represents some of the organized unemployed.

Sen. Millard Tydings, D., Md., who beat President Roosevelt's attempt to "purge" in 1938, said he believed Congress should spend less next session to avoid raising the present national debt limitation of $45,000,000,000. He said business improvement made an easier approach to a balanced budget next year.

Workers' alliance President David Lasser asserted that White House plans to reduce relief expenditures and provide jobs for the unemployed on national defense work was "either their good economics or good social policy," and charged it was inconsistent with the New Deal.

White House sources refused to estimate the total of Mr. Roosevelt's next budget, but said that conservative Sen. Pat Harrison, D., Miss., gave a pretty good picture of the tax outlook when he remarked after a conference with Mr. Roosevelt that an increase in revenue and a hoped-for slash in governmental costs, would make it unnecessary to overhaul the tax structure in the next Congress.

Tables Groan At Burden as C.C.C. Feasts

Everything from roast turkey to sweet cider was on the menu today for the Thanksgiving feast of CCC enrollees and leaders at the Rock creek camp.

Observing President Roosevelt's proclamation, Company 1246 laid aside routine tasks to enjoy a festive dinner at the camp. Anthony Quezada, company commander, presided at the heavily-laden table. Grouped with him were Cleveland E. Ramague, project supervisor; Dr. Joseph Frisch, camp surgeon, and Philip E. Van Arman, education officer.

As for the menu that brought smiles to the faces of the enrollees from the east, it sounded like this: Fruit cup, cream of pea soup, Waldorf salad, roast turkey, mashed potatoes, candied sweet potatoes, mashed parsnips, creamed turnips, green pepper and chestnut dressing, giblet gravy, cranberry sauce, bread and butter, mince pie and pumpkin pie, coffee, apples, oranges, pears, tokyay grapes, celery, rice, olives, pickles, hard candy, mixed nuts, bean, mint, sweet elder, cigars and cigarettes.

Speakers Will Point to Future Trends in Beets

Two major speakers, in addition to USDA plant breeding experts, will address the annual meeting of the Twin Falls County Beet Growers association, officers of the organization announced today in a statement outlining goals of the association and problems facing beet producers. The meeting is set for 2 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 25, at the Odd Fellows hall in Twin Falls.

Authoritative speakers will include Monty Taylor, Boise, sugar beet specialist for the AAA, and Roy Cottrell, Ogden, official of the Associated Sugar Company.

Gives Federal Angle
Mr. Taylor will present the latest authentic information in regard to the future government payments; the increase in beet acreage allocation, whether or not the USDA will set the minimum wages as it did last year, and whether the soil conservation measures required last year will be dropped or retained.

Taylor also is expected to tell whether new growers will be adequately taken care of.

Mr. Cottrell will be present to answer questions, to explain the outlook for beets as the sugar company sees it, and to bring latest information as to what growers may expect from the company in regard to future payments for beets.

Plant breeding experts, according to Carl Leonard, Piler, president of the association, will outline "some very interesting information on progress in the development of blight-resistant seed this year."

Elect Directors
The Saturday meeting will also see election of the board of directors, in a prepared statement today the 11-man board said:

"It is the duty of the board of directors of the Twin Falls County Beet Growers association to keep local beet growers informed of what is taking place in the sugar beet industry, and what effect those factors might have upon the producers. Likewise, it is also the directors' duty to inform the growers as to what the local county organization, the state organization and the national organized beet growers' associations of the U. S. have done, and are now trying to do, to protect the growers' interests. Therefore, in accordance with the association's by-laws, at least one annual meeting of all beet producers in this county district must be held to discuss matters of general interest to growers and also to elect a board of directors."

Future Vital
"In the light of recent happenings on our national sugar front, the domestic beet grower has more cause than ever to wonder what the future holds. There is a big job looming ahead if we are to make progress in the sugar beet industry. It will take strongly organized and cooperative effort of all beet producers in the nation to solve the problems at hand."

"Fortunately, domestic beet growers have friends in Congress, and these friends have assured us that a 'new deal' in sugar will be forthcoming at the next session of Congress. Self-preservation demands that the beet growers continue their insistence that this new legislation be enacted as quickly as possible next year and that the U.S. imposed in the Lincoln highway is more than 3,300 miles long."

MURDER POINTS TO GANG TACTICS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 23 (AP)—Police today characterized as a "gang retaliation" the murder of George Schachter, 48, a former New York clothing man. Two men in a black sedan crowded his car to the side of a Hollywood street last night and killed him with four point-blank bullets.

"We don't know the motive," announced Detective Lieutenant Leroy Sanderson of the homicide squad, "but we are unanimous in the opinion that the killing was a gang retaliation. The methods are unmistakable."

Schachter left his hilltop home a few blocks off Hollywood boulevard to buy a newspaper last night, his wife, Ida, told police.

Heard Shots
Ten minutes later she heard four explosive reports in the street in front of their flat. She found her husband's old coupe slowly coasting backwards down the street, which slopes to Hollywood boulevard.

Breaking open the door, she found Schachter slumped over the wheel covered with blood. His feet still pressed against the clutch and brake pedals, letting the car ease back slowly. He was shot in the head, chest and throat.

"We have found a witness," said Lieut. Sanderson, "who saw a black sedan apparently crowding Schachter to the side of the street as he drove up the hill."

Part-Time Work
Howard Polanski, 18, was the witness, police said. He is a neighbor of the Schachters.

Schachter's wife said he had been in the clothing business in New York and at one time had been fairly prosperous. After they came to California he was forced to find work as a pants-presser, and more lately as a part-time chauffeur, after rolling over four times, Rodney Reed of Gooding must have felt that fate was on his side as he walked away from the accident without a scratch.

A house bounded up out of the darkness as Reed was driving west. Believing last week-end. Careening to one side of the highway to avoid striking the animal, Reed lost control of the car and it spun over four times.

He is "only" out a new automobile.
