

REPUBLICANS WILL PROPOSE OWN FARM PROGRAM FOR 1940

HEADS HOPE TO BLOCK NEW DEAL EXTENSION PLAN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (U.P.)—Republican congressional leaders, it was learned today, have decided to limit to "essentials" their attack on New Deal farm policies at the next session. They plan to hold up their proposed substitute farm program until the 1940 presidential campaign.

Immediate Republican efforts, it was said, will be directed at blocking extension of the existing law which expires next year—under which the administration's reciprocal trade treaties have been extended. Some of the issues already negotiated have aroused bitter opposition from farm groups, and Republicans are determined, it was said, to take every possible advantage of the dispute.

Major Achievement Little doubt existed that the administration would make a strong fight to extend the law since Secretary of State Cordell Hull and other responsible administration leaders consider it as one of the major achievements of the Roosevelt administration. An analysis of farm reaction to the reciprocal trade agreements and other New Deal policies already in being made by a special house committee of congressional Republicans set up by Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., R., Mass. A subcommittee of the group, headed by Committee Chairman Clifford B. Hope, R., Kan., opens hearings in Denver, Colo., at which chief arguments for discussion will be those confronting livestock and wool producers, sugar beet growers and dairy farmers.

Plan Own Farm Plan Martin appointed the special committee during house debate on the neutrality bill and significance of that time was observed. It has been interpreted generally since, however, as a notice by Republican leaders in congress to write their own farm program, rather than leaving it in the hands of the national committee or other.

Chairman Hope shares the belief of Martin and Senate Minority Leader Charles McNary, R., Ore., that the national committee's agricultural studies to win in 1940 and must offer a liberal program to attract the vote of farmers.

TRIAL OPENS AS JURY IS PICKED

(From Page One) "Stuck by the two men a few minutes before Bracken was shot; Dr. Charles B. Benner, physician who attended both Bracken and Williams; Dr. James W. Creed, county coroner; and Dr. J. M. Murphy, county physician.

With testimony getting underway this afternoon, providing it is not necessary to call for additional jurors, court observers pointed out that the number of spectators would increase.

The state, it has been indicated, will contend that Williams fired the shot which took the life of the police officer last May. It will likewise contend that he was the individual who held up the service station and who, with Hale, stole the automobile. Hale is said, by the prosecution, to have been driver of the stolen machine.

Both Hale and Williams are charged with murder in the first degree. Swadley and Acee are handling the case for the prosecution while E. V. Larson and Bert Larson, both of Twin Falls, and George L. Hampton, Los Angeles, are defending Williams and J. M. Lynper, Boise, is defending Hale.

Rules for "Bike" Riding Outlined Parents of all children who ride bicycles, should instruct them in traffic rules and regulations, teach them the use of proper hand signals, and discourage bicycle riding after dark unless absolutely necessary.

This was the advice given members of the Twin Falls Lions club this noon by Patrick P. Payne, director of safety for the Interstate Transit lines and the Union Pacific stations, when he addressed Lions at a luncheon meeting at the Park hotel.

He cautioned that all bicycles should be equipped with front and rear lights, and that children under 10 years of age, were injured in traffic accidents of various types, he told his audience.

"Chick" Herbert, Burley, and Dan Gilbert, Twin Falls, local agents in their respective cities for the Union Pacific stages, were guests.

Funds donated by organizations and individuals in the Hansen community are to be presented to Mrs. Laycock, who will furnish information on the use of the iron lung to any person interested.

Brief Case Taken From School Head Mrs. Doris Bradley, county superintendent of schools, reported to police today the loss of a brown leather brief case.

London Wool Man Terms Market as Unusually Strong

BALTIC CITY, Nov. 24 (U.P.)—Dr. I. Cloupe-Hew of London, manager of the international wool secretariat, today described the present world wool market as "unusually strong," but said prospects after the European war are problematical.

On a world tour of wool markets, Cloupe-Hew said military purchases of this year's wool clip have done much to stabilize the market and encourage wool growers. However, "there is grave danger that surplus will be built up which will depress prices at the close of the present war," he added.

CHORAL PROGRAM COMPARES MUSIC

For music by Palestrina, written in the 16th century, to the modern composers, that part given by chorus students of the public concert planned by Twin Falls high school music department Tuesday in the auditorium will show the comparison between classic and modern music.

"And by modern music I don't necessarily mean music written yesterday," said Miss Marjorie Albertson, director, explaining that modern music is distinguished from older works by its form, by irregular or broken rhythms, different uses of harmony and overtones.

Churches first The first group of numbers to be written will represent music of the churches, because music written by old masters was for use in church services, since they were usually in the employ of cathedrals and churches. It will include music for the Roman Catholic church, written by Palestrina, among the first of the great composers; music for the Protestant church written by Bach about the time that church sprang into being in Germany, and a number by the slightly more modern composer Beethoven, a Russian, representing the Greek Orthodox church.

In the second group, consisting of folks songs, American folk music has been included by Miss Albertson. This includes the Indian, Negro and cowboy songs. She explained that folk music in general was the social and secular music of the people, growing up at the same time as the sacred music just before it on the program.

Swedish and Italian In chorus work it is necessary to have arrangements of this music, and among those whose works she will use are Charles Cadman, Max Krone and Noble Canby. Also being given will be a Swedish and Italian number.

In the last group of modern music, a Protestant song, "Thanks Be to God," and a Catholic song, "Praise Angelus," will be contrasted to the older church music of early masters. Two highly impressionistic numbers and a selection of modern humor, "Pierrot," will be sung. Among modern composers in the last group are Fritz Kreisler, Cesar Franck and Edward Elgar.

Deanna Gets Her First Kiss

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD — When "First Love" reaches the neighborhood theaters of the country, Robert Stack is destined to be the most envied man in America. He's the lucky lad who gives Deanna Durbin her first kiss, and he does it so well that even the press section was thrilled at the recent preview of the picture.

At lunch Stack, dressed in blue jeans and a training shirt and blushing to the roots of his blond hair, told all about it. "Deanna said she wouldn't kiss me when the picture was first started. She didn't know me and I didn't know her and she held out until about the fifth week of production when we started rehearsing the dancing sequence. After dancing together for three days we got to be pretty good friends. She's a marvelous dancer. That broke the ice, so when we came to the balcony scene where we were supposed to kiss, she went into the scene without blinking.

"Before that scene was completed, we had been kissing all day and had shot about 18 takes. Most of them were spoiled by Deanna breaking up and laughing. The crew and publicity boys who were crowded around behind the camera didn't do either of us any good."

Turned Down Offer Although "First Love" is Stack's first picture, he has been acting for several years in neighborhood shows, amateur theaters—Los Angeles high school and University of Southern California dramas. He quit college after two years because he had decided that he wanted to be an actor. He studied in dramatic school. It was in the Henry Druce drama school production of "Personal Appearance" that Stack was spotted by a talent scout from Universal.

The first time Universal offered him a general contract, he refused it. "I didn't want a general test," he said. "They're too risky. But when they offered me a test contract, I signed it."

Four Snorts for Science

Richard S. Kaplan: Martyred his testical principles to science... and paid with a headache.

(By NEA Service) GARY, Ind.—"Boy! I had a headache that was a corker!"

Thus Attorney Richard S. Kaplan looked ruefully back at his sacrifice of a lifetime of testical principles on the altar of science. Quite cold-bloodedly, and in the presence of witnesses, Kaplan took his first four drinks of whisky within seven minutes.

"I didn't feel so hot," is the way he described his personal reaction. "I took measures to get rid of it, too, as soon as we had completed our tests an hour later. The effect was immediately apparent in my eyes and speech."

Police officers who are expert in such things estimated from Kaplan's drunk-o-meter tests that he had had seven drinks. His test was 164 on the meter, and you're drunk at 15. The drunk-o-meter registers not how many drinks the subject has had, but how much of the alcohol has been absorbed.

"In a testicular like myself the percentage of absorption is higher and quicker than in a regular rum-pot," Kaplan pointed out.

"Therefore officers hereafter won't be so free in estimating the number of drinks a subject has had. And we won our point; the drunk-o-meter will be accepted as evidence in Gary courts."

"Understand, this was in the interest of science, in our determined effort to get drunken drivers off the streets of Gary."

UNITED STATES EUROPE ENVOYS HEADING HOMEWAR

FDR DENIES HE ORDERED RECALL FOR CONSULTING

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 24 (UPI)—Though the American embassy in London announced that Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy had been called home for consultation, a White House statement denied it today.

The statement, authorized by President Roosevelt, specifically denied that Kennedy and the ambassador to France, Belgium and Poland, had been ordered home. It said Kennedy had asked for a Christmas leave and it had been granted.

The embassy announcement in London said Kennedy had been called home for consultation by the state department. He will leave Lisbon by Clipper Dec. 3 and return soon after Christmas.

(In Brussels, Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy announced that he was leaving for Italy on Dec. 3 and that he would be returning to the United States and it was understood there he had been "recalled" for consultation.)

The White House statement was issued soon after Mr. Roosevelt expressed hope for European peace by next spring. Addressing 350 Warm Springs patients and friends at Thanksgiving dinner last night, he recalled that when he left here last spring, he had said "I'll be back in the fall if we don't have a war."

He said, "Well, I continued, 'we had a war, we have a war today. Of course there were columns written about just what I meant—of course I meant just what I said—and we have a war, but I managed somehow to get down here this fall and I hope that next spring there won't be any war—but, if the war is still going on, I still hope to be able to get down here, even if it is for a very much shortened holiday, even for a few days. Just to see how the Warm Springs family is getting on."

Mr. Roosevelt hoped to relax before leaving for Washington Tuesday.

GOP Calls Parley to Scan West's Farm Problem; Dworshak on Board

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (Special)—A special subcommittee of the Republican agricultural study committee was announced today to assist in the hearings relative to the problems confronting livestock producers, sugar beet producers, dairymen, wool growers, and other agriculturalists to be held in Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 1 and 2.

Because of the conditions obtaining in the western section of the country, Chairman Clifford R. Hope, of the study committee, and the members of the executive committee believe it will be more practical to hold general hearings covering the different subjects in which western agriculturalists are interested, with special attention to the effects of the reciprocal trade treaties, than to try to confine the hearings to narrower and more specific commodities.

Rep. Frank O. Horton, Wyoming, who is chairman of the subcommittee on livestock, is in charge of arrangements for the Salt Lake meeting. Both he and Chairman Hope anticipate that many producers of the commodities to be considered at these hearings will come from Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Montana and western Wyoming.

Those who will compose this special subcommittee to hold these hearings at Salt Lake, in addition to Chairman Hope, who himself will be there, are Representative Horton, Leo E. Allen, of the 13th Illinois district, and Henry C. Dworshak, of the second Idaho district. It is possible that some other members of congress may attend the hearings.

HOPKINS DRIVES TO CUT BARRIERS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (UPI)—Secretary of Commerce Harry I. Hopkins initiated a government drive today to remove interstate trade barriers which, he said, constitute a serious threat to the nation's economic life.

Hopkins has formed an interdepartmental committee to study and unify government activities for combating trade barriers to the free flow of commerce between the states.

In a letter inviting the appointment of representatives to the committee from the state, labor, agriculture and justice departments, the federal works agency, and the national resources committee, Hopkins said:

"For several years a number of government agencies have been giving attention to the problem of the increasing barriers to interstate trade. I have been concerned about the growth of these barriers and have had our division of industrial economics working on the problem. However, it would seem that the government might function more effectively if the various interested agencies were to join forces or at least coordinate their efforts."

Paul T. Truitt, of the commerce department industrial economics division, was appointed chairman of the committee. He will confer with Chairman Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D-Wyo., of the federal monopoly committee to arrange hearings for presentation of evidence of the economic effects of state laws obstructing interstate trade.

The set, consisting of a davenport and chairs, will be used for social affairs as well as for the stage. Until now the school has been forced to borrow furniture when it was needed.

Junior League Sounds "Call of Hobo Jungle"

Tramp, tramp, tramp, the hoboes will go marching next Wednesday night at 9 o'clock at the Elks ballroom. It's "Weary Willy's" might out, and also "Roaming Ramona's." Call to the "hobo jungles" has been issued by the Catholic Junior league of St. Edward's parish, and the entire community is invited to join in the fun, according to Ronald "Ski" Toward, president.

Only those who are garbed as hoboes will be admitted, the committee on arrangements announces, but specifies that costumes won't be difficult to find, as every household has discards of some type.

Refreshed stew will be served from the canteen and the rustic theme will be featured in all appointments. The quarters formerly occupied by the Twin Falls public library, adjacent to the ballroom, will be converted into a typical "hobo jungle" for the occasion.

Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock. Miss Madeline Moran is in charge of programs; John McCullough, refreshments; and Mrs. Sidwell, the ticket selling.

The entire league will assist in decorating for the occasion.

Air Raid 'Sirens' of Paris

Europe's current hostilities will probably go down in history as the world's smartest war. If costumes like this become popular, above are Schlappereille's black overall pajamas of soft, warm wool. Designed for night-time descents into chilly air-raid shelters, they feature big pockets for valuables. Gac mask and flashlight are extras.

So that hands which need to be free to handle gas masks in a hurry might not be encumbered, Hermes devised this handbag attached to a belt.

Hermes recommends this roomy, burnoose-like coat as a grand little number to fling on in a hurry when the siren sound in the wee wee hours. All-important chlo is preserved by the hood, which can conceal one's tousled coiffure. Ensemble is completed by canvas bag for gas-mask, purse, knitting and a good novel.

Juvenile Delinquency Discussed at P.-T. A.

Parents are largely responsible for juvenile delinquency because they do not spend sufficient time in child-training, John A. Brown, probation officer, told more than 200 parents who were present at last evening's meeting of the Lincoln Parent-Teacher association at Lincoln school. Speaking on "Juvenile Delinquency," the probation officer said that, whereas delinquency used to involve truancy and pilfering, many of our modern delinquents are faced with murder charges.

He spoke at the program and business session, following "open house" from 7:30 to 8 o'clock, when teachers received parents in their rooms. Home room mothers also assisted in greeting the parents and showing them the special exhibits and displays of school work.

Pupils of Miss Ida Allen's first grade room presented a group of Thanksgiving songs and nursery rhymes. Miss Clara Koser's first grade room gave a poem and song, "Sleepy Fingers." A group of Mexican songs were offered by the third graders of Miss Helen Stearns' room.

Miss Ruth McCullough's and Miss Blanche Kinnel's room tied for first attendance honors; second prize went to Miss Eleanor Grohowski's room, and Miss LaVonne Harrison's and Miss Helen Stearns' rooms tied for third place.

Claud Pratt led group singing to open last evening's program. Mrs. Lloyd Gilman, president, conducted the business meeting during which time the national and state P.-T. A. presidents' messages were read by Mrs. H. H. Soper. Mrs. W. J. Dix was in charge of the program.

Dinner Attended By Legion Units

Dancing and cards followed, and a number of attractive door prizes were presented.

Auxiliary committee on general arrangements included Mrs. O. T. Koser, Mrs. A. V. Williams and Mrs. F. M. Johnson. Legion committee included Grant Kunkle, U. N. Terry and Clyde Williams.

First prize and music was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Johnson. Mr. Terry was in charge of door prizes and Mrs. Williams was head of the kitchen committee.

Mrs. Ray Agee was in charge of cards, and Mrs. Earl Johnson and Ivan Balch, the tables. Mrs. J. L. Terry and Mrs. Otto and Mrs. J. E. Johnson were on the decorations committee.

NEVER TOO LATE, ARTIST DISCOVERS
NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn museum is exhibiting 35 drawings of a 71-year-old, half-blind retired cabinet maker whose work museum has hailed as a "discovery" in the field of modern primitives.

The artist, Israel Littwak, came to this country from Odessa, on the Black sea, in 1903 with his wife, who died 18 years ago, and two children. Two years ago Littwak offered two drawings to the museum, admitting he knew nothing about art but saying he thought his sketches might be worthy of acceptance as a gift.

The museum thought it was pretty nice of the old fellow but doubted there would be any wall space for his offerings. But Carl O. Schiele, curator of the department of prints and drawings, later studied Littwak's work and was greatly impressed with the results that the exhibition was arranged.

Littwak, a pleasant, square-faced man whose cabinet-making skill was reflected in his precisely joined frames, has made such things as "Harvest in Russia," "East River," and various Brooklyn and Manhattan scenes the themes of his drawings. He draws from memory.

FOUR TEAMS WILL RISK UNBEATEN RECORDS

Trojans Tackle Notre Dame in Day's Top Game

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (AP)—Four of the six survivors in the race for national football honors will see action Saturday, while Tennessee and the Texas Aggies are idle.

Southern California, Cornell and Duquesne face stiff opposition, while Tulane has a comparatively weak opponent in Sewanee.

Southern Cal's Trojans invade sturdy Notre Dame for the day's banner brawl. Cornell risks a perfect record in its final game with Pennsylvania and Duquesne risks its unblemished record against tough Carnegie Tech.

While the Trojans-Irish battle in South Bend, Ind., commands the spotlight, considerable interest will be accorded the midwestern Big Ten where the curtain falls tomorrow. Ohio State already assured of at least a tie tie, can clinch sole possession of the crown by beating Michigan. Ohio State can tie for the championship by defeating Northwestern.

Big Six Season Ends Tomorrow in the midwestern Big Six where Missouri can clinch sole possession of the title by beating Kansas. If Missouri loses it must share the title with the winner of tomorrow's tilt between Nebraska and Oklahoma, who are tied for second place.

In the east, Cornell makes its final bid for national laurels against Pennsylvania, while Harvard engages Yale, Princeton tackles Navy, and Columbia meets Colgate.

Tech Needs Win. Down in Dixie, Georgia Tech can take at least temporary command of the Southeastern conference lead by beating Florida while Tennessee is idle. Tech and Tennessee are tied for the lead. Unbeaten Tulane still a strong contender for the conference crown engages Sewanee.

Meanwhile, in the southern conference, Duke and Clemson, both unbeaten in conference play, are expected to wind up their seasons in a tie for the title. Duke meets North Carolina State and Clemson engages Furman.

Baylor, runner-up in the Southwest conference, encounters Southern Methodist, while leading Texas A. and M. is idle.

Brigham Young plays weak Wyoming in the only mountain Big Seven conference game.

Jay Graybeal's Work Fails to Halt Huskies

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 24 (AP)—Had Jay Graybeal been twins, the University of Oregon today might have boasted a win over its traditional enemy, the University of Washington.

But Jay is solo, so his frantic individual efforts avail and the Huskies went on to beat Oregon 20 to 13 here yesterday, thereby ending the Graybeal era off the Philadelia doorstep. The Wolves left for Palo Alto.

Graybeal, playing his final collegiate football game, went out in a burst of glory. Twice he put Oregon into front only to see the lead dwindle. The third time he tied the score, but the final Husky touchdown found Jay just too tired to come back. He kicked two difficult field goals and scored a touchdown, running his scoring string to half the Oregon season's total.

Washington, after dropping its first four games, can boast with four wins in a row, and in the climax yesterday simply outclassed the Huskies with a triple-overtime battle around Dean McAdams, Jack Spackpool, Ernie Steele and Bill Marx.

The last shoot was attended by residents of Buhl, Castelfield, Hagerman, Twin Falls, Piler and Kimbrell. Forty turkeys were given away.

Utes Soundly Drub Aggies By 27-0 Score

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 24 (AP)—University of Utah football gridiron today awaited outcome of a football game next Thursday between Denver and Colorado after a 27 to 0 trouncing of Utah State yesterday left them in the running for at least a tie for the Big Seven championship.

The Utes Thanksgiving game was a razzle dazzle, with speed, passes and fumbles featuring a victory which was certain after the first four minutes of play.

Utah scored on a march down the field after taking the kickoff. Ikey Spector went over from the four standing up after he and Tom Pace packed the mail most of the way. The conversion failed.

Early in the second quarter, Utah tallied the second time, taking the ball on their own 20 and going down the field fast.

Utah allowed the Aggies three plays, then began a passing and reversing attack from the Utah 21 to the Aggie seven. Pete Bogden scored around left end. Spector converted.

Scoring ended after 10 minutes of the second half when Utah took the ball 82 yards and Pace scored. Jack McKelick drop-kicked the extra point.

Score by periods: Utah State 0 0 0 0-0 Utah 27 0 0 0-27

Both Schools Boast Worst Teams in Gridiron History

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24 (AP)—From the outside looking in, the California-Stanford football game tomorrow, one of the two big games being played on the west coast, is the season's worst bargain.

It presents two teams whose aggregate production this year has been two victories, one tie, and seven touchdowns in 16 games.

California's eleven victories has established a new university record for defeats — with seven chalked against Stubb Allison's men as against two victories Stanford, also enduring its worst season, has yet to win a game, tying one and losing six. Yet 70,000 persons and possibly more are paying $4.40 each for seats for the contest between the two worst teams the rival schools ever had.

The paradox arises from the glamour and tradition surrounding this game, which in the west is comparable to the Army-Navy, the Yale-Harvard and the Penn-Cornell contests which pack them in back east.

The game of the day, so far as a football bargain is concerned, takes place in Los Angeles where U. C. L. A. and Oregon State battle for second place in the Pacific coast conference, in which Stanford and California are tailenders.

UCLA Has Bled Hopes. Unbeaten but tied twice, U. C. L. A. hopes to keep alive the dream chance of a Rose bowl bid by beating an Oregon State team which has bowled over seven opponents and has lost only to U. C. C. the conference leaders whom U. C. L. A. meets Dec. 9.

U. C. C. is in the east playing Notre Dame and there are only six games on the far western schedule for the day. Aside from the major engagements, Texas Tech and Montana meet in Lubbock; New Mexico and Arizona clash at Albuquerque; Wyoming plays Brigham Young at Laramie; and San Diego State and Santa Barbara State tangle in San Diego. On Sunday Portland and the Corns at Portland and Santa Clara takes on Loyola in Los Angeles.

SCHEDULE MAKERS DID GREAT JOB WITH 1939 GRID TILTS... BASEBALL PUBLICITY... COLORFUL CAGE STAR LEAVES

With the football season tucked away for another year we find south Idaho basketball nutters looking toward the coming cage season and by Monday most teams will be getting down to intensive study of intricate plays and general conditioning throughout south central Idaho.

However, before we go too far along that line, we'd like to point out three curious quirks that cropped up at the end of the season in schedules of teams from this section:

1.—The Bruins of Twin Falls battled the Bulldogs of Nampa for the Southern Idaho conference crown on Lincoln field, with both teams assured of a title by a victory.

2.—The Tigers of Jerome met the Pirates of Rupert on the Jerome field for the championship of the Big Seven conference—a victory for Coach John Nordy's outfit clinching a pennant for the team and a win for Coach Wes Shurtliff's team giving his club a tie.

PROFESSIONAL FOOTBALL Philadelphia Eagles 17, Pittsburgh Pirates 14, Los Angeles Bulldogs 63, Dayton Bombers 8, Cincinnati Bengals 23, Louisville Tanks 14.

Junior Boys Will Open Cage Practice

Twin Falls junior high school boys will start basketball practice during the noon hour on Monday, according to Larry Lundin of the school physical education department.

A schedule that will be completed by Christmas will be followed by a week by home room basketball managers. Games will be played at noon.

In charge of home room games for December will be Hollice Aldridge, Bernard Martin, Austin Wallace and Lundin.

Warner Eleven Overwhelms San Jose State

PRESNO, Calif., Nov. 24 (AP)—Foxy-Grandpa Glenn Scooby Warner has lost none of his cunning.

The San Jose State college eleven of which he is advisory coach had stamped itself as one of the most potent midwest teams in the country today by handing the previously unbeaten, United Fresno State Bulldogs a 42-to-7 lacing.

The victory gave San Jose 212 points for its 12-game season and boded ill for Drake university, which visits San Jose next Thursday night.

The Spartans, through their lopsided victory, maintained an unblemished record, and have had only 27 points scored upon them.

MARRIAGE COURSE
NEW YORK UP—As a result of growing dissatisfaction by college students, a series of four lectures on marriage, family relations, and the home is being initiated this term. The lectures will seek to meet the problem of "What is the honorable approach in thought and conduct to the union of man and woman?"

Over-inflation of an automobile tire causes rapid wear at the center of the tread by reducing the area of road contact. Under-inflation results in excessive wear around the edges, caused by pinching the tread in the center.

Mac Picks Kinnick as Player of Year for Heisman Memorial Award

By HENRY McLEMORE
HOUSTON, Ind., Nov. 24 (AP)—Even here, in the house of the lightning bolt, the football player who is talked about is Mike Kinnick of Iowa.

Mac would be just as sure as I am in Minneapolis, Champaign, Chicago, LaPorte, Madison or any other Big Ten football center. Kinnick is the player of the year far as the title is concerned, and after 24 hours of listening to accounts of his prowess I am convinced that if he doesn't get the Heisman memorial trophy for the standard gridiron performance of the season, then that award might just as well be split into knifing with to start somebody's fire.

Here is a man who weighs only 170 pounds. Yet he has played 300 consecutive minutes against six of the toughest football clubs in America. They haven't even had to call him out for him. He has run into and tackled the biggest guys in the biggest league without once landing on the flat of his back. He just ducks a should-

CHICAGO—The story book success of Dr. Eddie Anderson at Iowa, says Joseph Ralph Brandy to talking about coaching.

"Coaching," says Little Joe Brandy, the 100 per cent psychology and 5 per cent knowledge.

Brandy, now editing a newspaper at Cedarburg, N. Y., is right on the Canadian border, like Dr. Eddie Anderson's lucky pants.

When Eddie Anderson drew his equipment as a 17-year-old, 150-pound Notre Dame freshman in 1918, Knute Rockne said to him: "Here's a lucky pair of pants, Anderson. They need some patching, so take 'em over to the tailor and have them fixed. But don't lose 'em. They're lucky. I'll let you wear 'em."

"Dear me, if I didn't believe that luck business," recalls Dr. Anderson, "I'd be a doctor."

And he's been "lucky" ever since. "Lucky" as a player, "lucky" as a coach at Columbia college of Dubuque, DePaul of Chicago, Holy Cross and Iowa.

Dr. Anderson gets as much or more out of the Notre Dame system and his statistics than any other product of the plan.

"That," explains Eddie Brandy, "is because he came up in football's golden era of ideas."

Rockne Created Demand
The 1920 Notre Dame team... the best one Brandy ever saw and on which the then 17-pound quarter-back blocked for the immortal George Clipp.

On it were Dr. Eddie and Hank Anderson, Clipper Smith of Villanova, Buck Shaw of Santa Clara, and Michigan's St. Mary's. Chet Wynn, who went to Kentucky; Harry Mehm of Mississippi; Earl Walsh, the Fordham line coach; and Chet Groves, who is still a member of the Notre Dame staff.

Frank Thomas of Alabama, Curly Lambeau of the Green Bay Packers, Dutch Bergman and Tom Lieb played football at Notre Dame while Dr. Anderson, a Ph.D. in education, was in school. Jimmy Phelan of Washington captained the club in Brandy's freshman year.

"Lena was known about football then," explains Brandy. "There was a lot of money in it. A wonderful instructor in football. We knew it was college with little or no knowledge of the game."

Boys More Receptive
"Boys now go to college with considerable background. Many of them are coached by all-American men in high or prep school. I doubt that the majority of them are as receptive as we were."

"And Rock, fresh on the job, energetic and highly imaginative, was doing things in new ways."

"He was first to send deuces yards for the touchdown that meant the game."

After 300 minutes of bruising play, the majority of that team was the worst injury he had all year was a pair of red spotches on his shoulders.

He isn't just a football player. A senior, his four years' average mark in the classroom is a two percentage point higher than is necessary to qualify for Phi Beta Kappa at Iowa university.

He is a better baseball player than a football player, but refuses to go out for the Iowa college squad. He says it would take him from his studies.

Nile Kinnick is modest. When the townfolk of Iowa City tore him apart for that Iowa game after the Notre Dame and Minnesota victory, the hero wasn't there to see it done. He sneaked out of town to avoid being honored.

Iowa will tell you that there is only one thing to prevent his being elected governor of the state in the next election. And that is Iowa would hesitate to pay him such a slight honor.

SEA WAR BREAKS IN FULL AS TWO NAZI SUBS SINK

By WALLACE CARROLL

LONDON, Nov. 24 (U.P.)—Naval authorities today said they had means of combating "parachute" mines, "magnetic" mines which German fliers have been dropping along the British coast and ship channels, even in the estuary of the Thames river near London.

While he gave no indication of what the navy planned to do, a spokesman said that these mines, believed to have contributed to the loss of 24 ships in and near British waters since Saturday, did not take the admiralty by surprise and that "appropriate counter-measures" already had been devised.

"Secret Weapon"

It was encouraging news to Britons who during the past two days had seen "hull" mines splashing into the sea from black German bombing planes, within view of the shore, and to take the admiralty by surprise and that "appropriate counter-measures" already had been devised.

The report, made after expert study, that these mines came down in parachutes which seemingly dissolved in the water, that the mines sank to the bottom and were drawn up by the magnetic attraction of a passing ship hull, had heightened the alarm.

The sea war was now breaking in full force. On Germany's part it was apparently unprepared to do warfare, aided by submarine and airplane attacks—13 German planes were reported shot down in British waters in the past two days and two German submarines were sunk by a French destroyer, attesting to the general activity. To this, Britain was replying with a blockade of German exports, expected to be coming officially during the coming week-end to the harassment of the neutral shipping countries in the world.

Shipping Losses

Holland and Belgium most vitally affected by the British plan to seize German-made goods from all neutral ships, already had sent official protests to Britain.

The ship losses reported during the American Thanksgiving holiday were tabulated as follows: 2,408 tons; the British freighter Darino, 1,351 tons; British trawler Bulby, 287 tons; British freighter Lonsdale, 974 tons; British navy minesweeper, Argolette, 315 tons, an unnamed French trawler, sunk in the Atlantic.

Sale of the annual has also been urged in class meetings this week.

Police Link Coastal Murder to Racketeer

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24 (U.P.)—Police found a connection today between Louis (Lefty) Buchalter, America's "most vicious" public enemy who is in a New York jail, and the assassination of George Schachter, 48, in a Los Angeles street.

The nature of the connection was a police secret, but Los Angeles and New York authorities were collaborating to learn all its ramifications.

Schachter might have been killed because he knew too much and was going to talk. Police Captain Ed Edwards said.

Leaky goes to trial in New York federal district court Monday on charges of violating the federal narcotic law. When the federal government finishes with him, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey has charges of industrial racketeering pending against him which if he is convicted of all them, would send him to prison for several hundred years.

Police found a thin thread at once between the assassinated Schachter and the New York garment industry which Leaky terrorized for years, taking tribute that amounted to millions. He once had been a New York clothing manufacturer.

He found, had "faded." His widow, Ida, said he had been a pants presser and a part time chauffeur here, but she had no idea who employed him.

Mrs. Schachter said that her husband, for a reason unknown to her, had used the name of her first husband and that his real name had been Harry Gottelman. Police here and in New York were understood to be looking for Benny Gottelman, one time secretary of a New York waters' union, and once a witness in Dewey's racketeering investigations. He disappeared a year ago.

Married in Paris

Mrs. Schachter said she married her husband in Paris six years ago and he insisted upon taking the name of her first husband.

His past was a mystery to her, she told police.

Police entertained no doubt that Schachter had been executed by gangsters. The style was unmistakable. Two men in a black sedan

NEW ROMANIAN CABINET FORMED

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Nov. 24 (U.P.)—A new cabinet takes office today headed by George Tatarescu, friend of France and Great Britain, replacing the one that resigned yesterday rather than accede to Germany's demands for more Romanian raw materials.

The change in government at this critical stage of the German-allied economic and shipping war, caused excitement throughout Europe.

Tatarescu, "the man with the iron hand," and former Rumanian ambassador to Paris, as the new premier. Dispatches from Rome, on the other hand, were pessimistic. Fascist political circles believed it meant Rumania would definitely veer toward the allies and away from Germany; that it upset plans for a Balkan neutral bloc and divided the Balkans more definitely into opposing factions—Turkey, Rumania and Greece on one side favoring the allies; Hungary, Jugoslavia, Bulgaria favoring neutral Italy.

It was generally admitted the cabinet crisis had been caused by Germany's demand for more oil and grain.

Tatarescu had little difficulty forming the new cabinet, it was said, and had tentatively selected George Cafencu as foreign minister; Victor Samandru, minister of justice; Gen. Marinescu, minister of public order; Gen. Paul Teodorescu, minister of air and marine.

Prison Warden's Auto Wrecked by Pair of Guards

QUEEN'S PRERTY, Nov. 24 (Special)—The warden of the state prison at Boise still has an automobile—but it's a wreck.

Reason is that two prison guards, returning from a trip to Pocatello where they were supposed to pick up a convicted murderer and take him to Boise, wrecked the car near left the road.

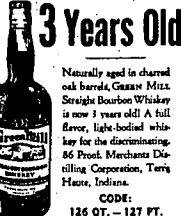

The two guards were operating the machine of Warden Pearl Meredith. They had been to Pocatello, they said, to take Britt Hargrave, Jr., to Boise. He was found guilty in district court at the state city of the murder of a village marshal. They did not return him, however, because he is being held in the Bannock county jail pending an appeal of the case to the supreme court.

The guards were not injured.
