EIGHT WITNESSES PARADE TO STAND IN MURDER TRIAL

Sheriff, Patrolman Recount Capture of Hale and Williams

Events in the murder trial of Daniel Williams, 19, and William Hale, 29, being heard in district court here, moved swiftly today and by noon the prosecution had paraded seven witnesses to the stand, bringing to eight the number giving testimony since the jury was selected and sworn in during yesterday's session.

Hale and Williams are charged with slaying Craig T. Bracken, a Twin Falls police officer, last May following an asserted attack of a service station located one mile west of the city on highway 30.

Highlight of the session this morning came shortly before the noon recess as the gun which the state contends was used by Williams to shoot Bracken was introduced in evidence.

It was offered by Everett M. Sweeley, county prosecutor, as Sheriff Art C. Parker was on the stand. The defense did not object to the gun being introduced. Likewise the defense did not object as the state placed in evidence four empty shells and a loaded shell which Parker testified were taken from the gun as it was picked up by him near where Williams was on the ground after being shot by Patrolman Kenneth Barclay after he is alleged to have mortally wounded Bracken.

Parker at Police Station

The sheriff testified that he was in the police station when the shooting was reported and immediately went to the scene "about 2 a. m. the morning of May 7, 1939."

Questioned by Sweeley as to his actions after he arrived at the spot where Williams was on the ground, Parker testified as follows:

Q—When you reached that point what did you do?

A—The first thing I did was to pick up a .38 Smith & Wesson automatic, mately 20 feet from where the man (Williams) was shot.

Q—What time was it when you pointed your gun at him?

Q—How did you see the gun?

A—Mr. Barclay threw his flash light on it and called my attention to it.

Q—What then did you do?

A—I picked it up and opened it. There were four empty shells and one loaded shell in it. I asked the man on the ground if that was his gun and he said it was.

Parker then told of searching Williams and of finding a "crammer" in the 400 block of Fourth avenue west, better known as the Truck lane. He told how Officer Barclay assisted while they were searching the wounded youth to the curb and how he (Parker) turned his car around, loaded Williams into it, and drove him to the hospital.

Winterholer on Stand

As court recessed this noon, Patrolman Robert Winterholer was on the stand. It was Winterholer who shot Sgt. Paul Morris of the U. S. army, captured Hale at a point near Filer. The officer said that he placed handcuffs on Hale as Morris kept him covered and that at that Sheriff Art C. Parker, of Twin Falls county, is shown above holding the gun which the state contends Daniel Williams, 19, used to fire the shot which "took the life of Craig T. Bracken, a Twin Falls police officer, last May. Parker today testified that he had found the gun near where Williams was on the ground the shooting scene and that the "man on the ground" told him it was his weapon. The gun, together with shells found in it by Parker, was introduced as evidence for the prosecution with the defense not objecting.

Famous Knees Fail to Click In Big Parade

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 25 (UP)—Eale Crabtree, the co-ed with the dimpled knees, bade a tearful farewell to Hollywood today and headed for Butte, Mont., where she said she understood a girl—and her knees—would be treated respectfully.

She and her knees received no acclamation here, despite the glowing reports of her "crammer" and her leadership of Hollywood's Santa Claus parade was something of a fiasco. The parade was fine, but Eale was afraid of those 20 girls behind her. Their feet interfered with her dream of marching.

When Eale flew here from the University of Nevada where she caused more excitement than the school's football team when she marched between halves, she expected a first class Hollywood reception.

Chinese Deny Nanning Fall

CHUNGKING, Nov. 25 (UP)—Chinese officials tonight said Japanese had occupied Nanning, capital of Kwangsi province.

The Japanese officially announced two days ago they had occupied Nanning, which was a "heap of ashes" after four days of artillery and machine gun bombardment.

Officials here said they had telephone communication with Nanning today.

Japanese suffered heavy losses in attempts to take Nanning, the Chinese said.

Germany 'Admits' Loss of 7 Planes

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (UP)—The German official news agency, D. N. E., admitted today the loss of seven airplanes on the western front in France.

The French and British claim to have shot down 33 German planes this week and to have downed three German submarines. Another submarine was reported to have been captured while attempting to enter the Firth of Clyde.

BRITAIN REVIVES "Q-BOA" USAGE, GERMANS CLAIM

(By United Press)

First official claim in the war that Great Britain has revived her World War anti-submarine tactics by using Q-boats—heavily armed but innocent appearing merchant ships disguised as neutrals—came from the Berlin high command today.

A German communiqué said a Nazi U-boat, "in the area of submarine operations" had destroyed a British Q-boat off the coast of Scotland. This time, the communiqué said, the Q-boat was disguised as a Dutch ship.

Claim Sub Destroyed

The communiqué claimed also a submarine had destroyed a 1,000-ton British naval auxiliary vessel.

Those claims from Berlin were countered by assertions in reliable private quarters in London that the British had captured a German submarine while it was making an audacious attempt to enter the Firth of Clyde, on the southwest coast of Scotland.

It was believed it was the same U-boat which last month entered Scottish seas and torpedoed the British battleship Royal Oak.

Battle Mine Warfare

The British for the moment concentrated on meeting the menace of German mine warfare. The admiral, after disclosing that on Thursday it had been necessary to partially close the port of London while the Thames estuary was swept clear of mines, called for volunteers to assist in widespread minesweeping operations.

The British admit to the loss of 58,692 tons of naval vessels and 286,663 tons of merchant ships in the first 33 days of the war. Those figures do not include 11,000 tons of British naval vessels immobilized, 200 ships seized by German submarines and planes.

POLSON PRISON, Calif., Nov. 25 (UP)—With 15 men in solitary confinement on bread and water, Polson's 2,500 convicts today were back to normal routine after food strikers began last Tuesday.

The 15 sent to the "back alley" were given 30 days in solitary.

Chrysler Dispute Goes Into Recess

DETROIT, Nov. 25 (UP)—Negotiations in the 51-day old Chrysler production dispute were suspended today until Monday but individual efforts were being made to bring the company and the United Automobile Workers (UAW) closer together on the question of wages.

When yesterday's conference adjourned Chairman Arthur Flanders, the state labor board said that wages again had been discussed. This time, according to negotiators, it was the only blocking settlement.

Awaits Divorce

Mrs. Beatrice Veryl Panagiotis, shown above on witness stand, awaits decision of Los Angeles court in her suit for divorce against her theater-husband, who is also suing her, she denies infidelity and asks custody of their two children.

Music in abundance will feature the Santa Claus and street-lighting event, the committeemen said. Three musical organizations will take part—the Twin Falls high school band, under direction of Charles McDonald; the Boy Scout drum and bugle corps and the American Legion and auxiliary drum and bugle corps.

Plans for unusual marching arrangements will be announced later. Santa Claus will arrive officially in Twin Falls as part of the Christmas celebration of the city.

Estuary Reopens After Shutdown To Clear Water

By WALLACE CARROLL

LONDON, Nov. 25 (UP)—The admiralty called for volunteers today to help combat the German mine warfare and disclosed that conditions had become so bad that the port of London was partially closed Thursday while mines, dropped by German airplanes, were cleared out of the Thames estuary.

Meanwhile there was a report, neither confirmed nor denied officially, that a German submarine had been captured in a hold attempt to enter the lower reaches of the Firth of Clyde, southwest Scotland, and it was believed to have been the same submarine and crew that sank the British battleship Royal Oak at Scapa Flow with loss of 810 lives six weeks ago.

The port of London was completely reopened yesterday. One channel never was closed and all were reopened when an inbound convoy arrived. A little later the American Merchant, the last American ship still in British waters, left the port.

JUDGE PONDER'S ACTION ON KUHN

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (UP)—Judge James G. Wallace deliberated today on whether to dismiss a charge that the $717.02 which Fritz Kuhn asserted he was "golden angel" furniture across the country was embezzled from his German-American fund.

He had dismissed five of the 10 grand jury charges and forgery counts on which the father is being tried, announcing he would "sleep on" the two counts involving the furniture money and the $717.02 charge.

The three counts which Judge Wallace refused to dismiss, which will go to the jury Monday or Tuesday, are based on $200 in bond funds which Kuhn asserted were paid to Attorney James D. C. Murray, who denied he embezzled the money.

Charges that Kuhn stole an additional $4,424 from the bond funds were stricken from the indictment on the ground the state had "failed of proof."

The total of the theft charged to Kuhn thus far was reduced by the court to $121,092, and may be limited to $500 if Judge Wallace throws out the furniture counts.

WOO

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (UP)—The turbulent romance of Romeo and Juliet was back to where it was 10 days ago when it landed in supreme court—George Lowther III was threatening court action to force the parents of his daughter, Ellen Herlick to produce her.

Lowther got a writ of habeas corpus 10 days ago and was granted permission to woo the glamorous girl without parental hindrance, providing she agreed—after 8 p. m. today.

He announced he would propose as soon after the deadline as he could find her, but by mid-day he decided her departure from New York hospital yesterday was a move by her parents to keep her from him.

Unless she is produced by Monday, he will appeal again to Justice Louis Brandeis for a declaration of his rights, Lowther said.

The steamer was bound from Holland to Norway with a cargo of oil. The sinking was the best evidence to date that the Germans had been using at least one small, unrestricted submarine warfare.

WEST END CRASH FATAL TO DRIVER

Injuries sustained when his motor car overturned and landed in a canal early Friday brought death today to a Nevada carpenter who was en route home to spend Thanksgiving with his wife and two daughters.

The accident victim—14th traffic fatality in Twin Falls county this year—was Stephen L. Lewis, 41, of McCall, Nov. 21, who died at 8:30 a. m. today at Twin Falls county general hospital.

Landed in Canal

The Nevada, driving alone, was injured at 12:30 a. m. Friday when his machine failed to negotiate the U. S. 30 curve a mile north of Black Bear service station, which is three miles west of Tuli. The car hurtled off the highway, overturned and landed on its side in an adjoining irrigation canal.

Hicks suffered fractures of the fifth and sixth cervical vertebrae; both legs and his right arm were paralyzed. He sustained also severe bruising and lacerations.

A passing motorist called Duff officers, and Ed Cunningham and then Lundy sped to the scene to remove Hicks from the wrecked car. He was taken to the hospital where he died.

Utah Man Kills Wife, 3 Children and Self

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 25 (UP)—A Salt Lake City father gassed, strangled and shot his wife and three children this morning and then took his own life.

The father, 31-year-old Grant Wentz, was found in the midst of a macabre death scene—a 22 caliber rifle by his side, a bullet through his head and his family dead in their beds.

Sheriff's officers said the children had apparently been strangled by a clothes line, beaten with a hammer, and shot. Officers also found gas in the home turned on but unlit.

Brendes Wentz, the dead included his wife, Anton Wentz, 27, his daughters, Doreen, 12, Marie, 6, and Beth, 5.

The murder and suicide was discovered by Miss Troy Francke, 19, an employee in the luncheon room operated by Wentz, when she came to work this morning. The story told by Miss Francke indicated the slayings were premeditated, police said.

She said Wentz had told her to take the night off last night, apparently to allow him time to commit the murders.

Wentz was believed to have gone completely berserk. A bloody hammer gave evidence of the blood-greasy before he jarred them. Finally he shot them and then turned on the gas.

Wentz's body was still warm when the coroner arrived.

Miss Francke said she sensed something was wrong when she smelled gas as she entered the luncheon room this morning. She saw the body of Marie on a couch and Mrs. Wentz dead in her bedroom.

She ran to a nearby gas station to call police. Sheriff's officers had to turn off the gas from an outside valve before they could enter the apartment, above the luncheon room.

Except for the marks on the children, officers said they found no evidence indicating that a struggle took place.

Police were at a loss for a motive, particularly since neighbors said everything was apparently going well with the family. This was attempted to reconstruct the slayings from bits of evidence picked up in the bloody household, and to find any employee or customer who had been in the luncheon room last night.

Wentz was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Wentz of Oriskany, Utah. He murdered wife was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Angus of Provo.

TAX LIFT URGED TO AID DEFENSE

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 25 (UP)—Chairman Carl O. Vinson, D. Ga., of the house naval affairs committee, suggested after a conference with President Roosevelt today that the country's defense budget be financed by increases in income, inheritance and gift taxes.

Vinson advocates adoption of a "pay-as-you-go" policy in meeting the costs of the expanded national defense program which will cost at least $20,000,000,000 more during the next fiscal year than the $12,000,000,000 appropriated for this fiscal year.

As chairman of the naval affairs committee, Vinson is the administration's spokesman in the house on the navy. He has pushed through the house the administration-sponsored bill under which the navy had been asked to increase its budget to $12,000,000,000.

He presented the first major congressional reaction to Roosevelt's suggestion that the country now whether to finance the increased defense budget by borrowing or by special taxes for this fiscal year. Vinson voted for taxes.

HULL OPENS FIGHT IN DEFENSE OF RECIPROCAL TRADING

OPPOSITION FOR TREATIES GROWS IN U. S. CONGRESS

By HOBART C. MONTGOMERY, Nov. 25 (UP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull began tonight his fight against the reciprocal trade treaty program against increasing congressional opposition to it by members of his own Democratic party.

Solid Republican opposition, coupled with that of the Western Democratic states, threatened to make Hull's trade program a major issue in the 1940 presidential campaign. Democratic senators predicted it would precipitate a "very serious controversy" in the next congress.

Murray Joint Opposition.

Sen. James E. Murray, D. Mont., a New Deal supporter, was the latest member of congress to announce he would oppose extension of the trade program beyond June when the present reciprocal trade law expires.

Murray said he would join a group of western state Democrats led by Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D. Wyo., Alva Adams, D. Colo., and William H. King, D. Utah, to prevent extension of the program which Hull claims is a cornerstone of a new world peace.

"I will support nothing that might endanger western livestock, agricultural and mining interests," Murray said. "Reciprocal trade agreements are all right as long as they enable us to dispose of our surplus, but there must be no extension of any one economic group in the interest of another."

G.O.P. Support.

The growing rift among western Democrats to allow the trade program to lapse rather than fight for it in a presidential election, will receive powerful support in both houses of congress from Republicans.

The 1938 Republican party plank opposed the program and already G.O.P. Republican congressional leaders have announced they would fight its extension.

It was recent indication that the administration would not get full support of its party members in the senate on that point that caused Hull, upon his return yesterday from a week's vacation, to rush to the defense of his trade treaties.

TROUBLES ENGULF FATHER OF FOUR

Troubles—in the form of a battery trial and a divorce suit—piled up today for James Sonberg, Twin Falls father of four children. Three of the youngsters were taken away from Sonberg and his wife Nov. 10 and placed in custody of the Children's Home Finding society, Boise, and the fourth was ordered sent to the society today.

A misdemeanor trial on a charge of battery faced Sonberg in probate court. The divorce action was filed in district court by his wife, Mrs. Elvora Sonberg.

Trials Set
Judge C. A. Bailey set battery trial for 10 a. m. Monday, Dec. 4. Sonberg is accused of hitting his brother-in-law, E. E. Simpson, in the face. The missile used was allegedly a rock. Sonberg pleaded not guilty at arraignment.

The divorce action by Mrs. Sonberg claimed cruelty and asserted that the husband had beaten her and driven her out of the home built by her sister. She said she occupied the home since she came to Twin Falls while her husband was serving a California jail sentence for wife-beating.

Mrs. Sonberg asked possession of their four children, including the 10-year-old boy whose custody was temporarily given to her husband at the time Judge Bailey committed the three girls, ages 7, 8 and 9, to the Boise home. Sending of the girls to Boise came after a probate court hearing on a battery charge filed against Sonberg by his wife.

Neglect Cited
As result of that hearing, Probation Officer John A. Brown filed a neglect action in district court in custody of the parents on grounds of neglect and improper home atmosphere. Then came the order sending the three daughters to Boise and temporarily leaving the son with the father.

Mrs. Sonberg's divorce petition today seeks a court order to restrain her husband from disposing of his property. The couple married March 17, 1921, at Provo, Utah. O. C. Hall is counsel for the wife in the divorce action.

GENEROUS

As a result, a leather brief case containing a great deal of material from the county superintendent of schools didn't want to lose, was deposited on her doorstep not many hours after it was reported stolen in a downtown store.

The case belonged to Mrs. Doris Stradley, the county school chief. It disappeared when she laid it down while shopping. When Mrs. Stradley arrived home after working hours, the brief case awaited her. Nothing had been taken—checks, school records, etc., were intact. There wasn't any cash in the case to begin with.

BONNEVILLE DAM HEADS STUDY STEEL PLANT PROPOSAL

PROBE LOCATION OF IRON ORE AND COAL IN SECTOR

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Establishment of steel plants in the Pacific northwest is being studied by the Bonneville power administration.

Bonneville Administrator Paul J. Rava's report to Ickes will evaluate the factors that determine possibilities for the industry's locating in the region, it was said.

EIGHT ROTARIAN CLUBS AT MEET

JEROME, Nov. 25 (Special)—Jerome Rotary club members played golf Tuesday at a banquet and inter-city meet to more than 200 Rotary members from Buhl, Twin Falls, Burley, Shoshone, Gooding, Halley and Rupert as they gathered here at the I. O. O. F. hall.

Director of Rotary International, Dick Wells, Focattello, was the principal speaker of the evening telling of the aims of the objectives of the Rotary service organization.

Also in attendance was George Henry Dvorshak, Burley.

During the evening, a unique feature was presented in the form of a "Freddie show," from President Roosevelt. The presentation was in the form of a recording, brought to the audience through the sound system of A. E. Connor, Jerome radio shop.

The record had been made by a Rotary member in California whose voice was an excellent impersonation of that of the President, and Rotarians deemed it the most highly entertaining as the voice admonished two prominent Jerome men for their shortcomings and unfair practices.

The golf club of the high school also gave two numbers, followed by two flute duets played by grade school pupils. Everett Main of the grade school also played guitar numbers and sang. The Rotary club quartet composed of H. Maine Shoun, Harry Carubuh, William Speth and Eugene Whitman, allured in hillbilly costume, sang and enacted "The Old Apple Tree in the Orchard." Accompaniment was by M. L. Whitman at the piano.

Jerome Places 4 Men On All-Star Eleven

Rupert Takes 3 Spots, Oakley 2 in Annual Balloting by Loop Coaches

By HAL WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor

Jerome Tigers, a Class A team so good that it went through the entire 1989 gridiron season without a defeat, placed four men on the Big Seven all-conference team, a poll of coaches (in conjunction with their players) and officials revealed today.

With every coach in the conference participating in the voting, plus five officials who handled most of the games during the regular season, the Jerome club dominated the balloting from top to bottom—including the first and second teams and honorable mention.

However, Rupert, which finished in second place, put three men on the first team and Oakley had two. The other two spots went to Gooding and Buhl. Filer and Burley failed to land a man on the first eleven.

Named Co-Captains
Named as co-captains of the all-star team were Charles Plasto, the pass-throwing Jerome backfield ace, and Cummins of Oakley. The two were the only near unanimous choices in the balloting, each one receiving almost perfect records on the coaches.

Plasto, a Junior, was outstanding for his team throughout the entire season and was one of the most feared passers for Jerome capturing the title. Only 15 years old, he still has another year to play in high school circles before trying his hand at college warfare.

Cummins is playing his fourth year at Oakley. He is 18 years old and weighs 145 pounds. Says Coach Dode Cranney: "He has been one of my key men for three years and nobody ever seemed to notice him until this year. Now everybody thinks he's great."

On the receiving end of many of Plasto's passes, he was one of the main scoring threats on the Tiger attack.

Meuser at Other Wing
The other end post went to Meuser of Jerome without too much opposition. On the receiving end of many of Plasto's passes, he was one of the main scoring threats on the Tiger attack.

Guard Wins Guard Post
The guard position appears to be in hand for this club with Jack Meuser of Rupert. Both were good first and second teams—which are all the regulars on the seven teams except four. Wayne Page of Rupert led the way, closely followed by Warren Berry of Buhl, who in turn just needed out Hardisty of Filer and Shaler of Jerome.

Backfield Balloting
The backfield balloting after Plasto was a close-up until the final vote between Wright of Gooding and Chapman of Buhl. The latter boy may have won out had he not broken his wrist and been unable to play in the last two games. However, Wright got two votes for tackle, one for guard, plus his backfield balloting and deserved a place on the team. Wright was one of the biggest men in the league and one of the toughest to stop. He is 17 years old and is a senior.

Collins Forward
The fullback post went without opposition to Cecil Winn, the plugging fullback from Buhl. He was one of the near-unanimous choices and was regarded as one of the best college prospects in the Big Seven by officials who handled the game.

A team that would put up nearly as good a battle composed the second team. Earl McLean of Rupert, for instance, was nearly a unanimous choice for a second-team berth at end of the line. He was one of the best players in the Big Seven by officials who handled the game.

The guard post went to first-team guard, plus his backfield balloting and deserved a place on the team. Wright was one of the biggest men in the league and one of the toughest to stop. He is 17 years old and is a senior.

Collins Forward
The fullback post went without opposition to Cecil Winn, the plugging fullback from Buhl. He was one of the near-unanimous choices and was regarded as one of the best college prospects in the Big Seven by officials who handled the game.

European War Stops Salt Flat Rivalry

By LLOYD TUPLING
SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 25 (AP)—Many years may pass before Utah's Bonneville salt speedway sees another racing car and the present land speed record may stand for a long time, Gus Backman, president of the Bonneville racing association, believes.

Europe's war is the primary reason for these predictions, Backman declared. "It was pointed out that after John Cobb's British speed record, made a new world record of 352.85 miles an hour, he said his return to the salt speedway—the only place in the world fitted at present for speed runs—would depend on whether war broke out in Europe."

Backman said that in only one other car in the world that could even come near to breaking Cobb's mark and that is owned by another Briton, Capt. G. E. T. Eyston. Neither he nor Cobb wish to risk their high-powered and high-priced speedsters in crossing an ocean infested with German U-boats.

Cobb Without Rival
Cobb, who now holds all records between one kilometer and 10 miles in his and at weight. The manager indicated last summer he would not return to the salt if he started. "My future plans depend entirely on the actions of Herr Hitler," he declared. That was on Aug. 26, a week later his nation was at war with Germany.

Exactly what Eyston is doing has not been announced, but a recent news report showed a new British record being set by the crafty driver at the wheel. The man at the wheel was Eyston.

With Cobb and Eyston removed temporarily from the world's Big Three of racing, only Ab Jenkins, American holder of all standing mile and half-mile records, is a possibility for runs on the salt flat during war years.

No Motors Available
But Jenkins' Hammer Motor III does not have the power of Cobb's Rallion Red Lion. Nor is there a motor in the United States—a motor adaptable to high speed racing—available to power an American contender for the land speed record now held by the English fur broker.

"In all, it would cost about $100,000 to put a car on the salt flat and it would be a possibility for runs on the salt flat during war years."

Unlucky American Motor
Unlucky American motor manufacturer becomes interested in the speed record, it looks like we won't have any American racing in the flying mile group for some time," he said.

Cobb was fortunate in obtaining his twin Napier engine to power the turtle-shaped Red Lion. The motors were borrowed from the British government after they had been used in England's Schneider cup air races. Converted for land use, the motors proved to be the best possible for high speed racing.

During medieval times, it was the custom in libraries and churches to fasten books to shelves with huge chains, to prevent theft.

PRISON SILENT GAME
IONIA, Mich. (AP)—The hunting season opened in the farming area adjacent to the Ionia reformatory, two boys pleasantly hustled on the prison wall and took refuge in a cool shed. Prisoners obtained permission to keep the birds as pets until the season is over.

USC, Irish in National Spotlight

The PAYOFF By HARRY GRAYSON (NEA Sports Editor)

Representative Ambrose J. Kennedy, D-Md., is the latest to profess a keen desire to "have" boxing. Representative Kennedy announces quite solemnly that when congress convenes in January he will introduce a bill to place the door on back busing business under government control.

The gentleman may introduce the bill and have it tossed into the hopper, but it will get no farther than the committee to which it is assigned. There it will be forgotten like a lot of other unnecessary legislation.

It is just barely possible that congress will have something more important to consider, such as $500,000 unemployed, relief, keeping the nation out of war, a defense program and the farm problem.

A decade or so ago, when conditions were vastly more tranquil than they are today, congress wouldn't take time to discuss a bill to regulate boxing in its own District of Columbia.

That gives you a rough idea of how far the effort to control the doge nationally will get. And as well.

Customers Not Forced
Professional boxing needs more good fighters, not more supervision. The principal complaint of Representative Kennedy seems to be that championship bouts are now controlled by one man.

He means Michael Strassus Jacob, of course. But Mike Jacob scarcely can be called a protector of himself the clinches by tying up what little first-rate talent there is. Nor is there any law against the practice.

Jacob charges the best pugilists productions obtainable and cries for more. He has a tough time filling the void of the best pugilists. And when anybody squawks about the monopoly the old Broadway ticket scalper holds it is well to remember that he does not offend customers into the arena, or ball yard.

If the trade doesn't fancy his size and shows, it only has to remain away in great numbers to make its protest felt.

There is too much supervision as it is. The boxing world is under control of state commissions. Supervision Hills Promoter.

These boards still see boxing outside of the last of the official opportunity for employment at very nice salaries or fees for henchmen of the powers that appointed them.

The fixed odds of officials many of whom are totally unnecessary, not to say incompetent. It's the back of the small fry promoter.

Things were much more satisfactory in the old days when there were no commissions — no political red tape.

The manager of a fighter did not require the protection of a commission when a "fix" was made. Jim Coffroth, an Uncle Tom McCarry or a Jim Kennedy made a man's guarantee.

And when a manager agreed to bring in his fighter in shape and at a certain poundage, the fighter came in fit and at weight. The manager realized it paid to live up to the articles of agreement. Failing to do this meant a bad reputation.

He would get no more fights for his fighter, and that meant he would have to go to work.

Referes like George Earl, Eagle, Charley White, Bill Brown, George Eyston and George Blake named publicly as "fix" men assured patrons and participants that there would be no monkey business.

Professional boxing has been "rescued" so often that it really should be in robust health by now. But it isn't.

Perhaps it would be well for the lawmakers to give boxing back to boxing men.

Maybe they could find some good fighters.

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan's 600,000 small game and deer hunters announced bringing back next week a butcher-shop value of nearly $2,000,000. The state conservation department estimates that 13,947,476 pounds of game are taken annually.

Mac Finds Coaches, Not Players, Take Worst Beating During Season

By HENRY McALMURE

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 25 (U.P.)—Who takes the toughest beating during a football season, the players or the coach?

After talking to Elmer Layden, in his office in the athletic department of Notre Dame, I am inclined to believe the coach does. Not because of anything Elmer said, mind you, but because of the way he looked after absorbing the fighting Irish through eight tough games on as many Saturdays.

Thinner than the thin man, down to 151 pounds, he looked more in need of a rest than any of his players I saw taking their final workout on Carter field for today's game with Southern California. He seemed to have withstood the shock of Purdue, S. M. U., Georgia Tech, Iowa, Northwestern, Carnegie Tech and the other bruising teams the Irish have met this year, much better than their coach.

Perhaps this was because human arms, legs, shoulders and backs are less vulnerable than the human brain, and the last mentioned is where a coach takes his beating, didn't realize what a terrific job it is to handle a football team, especially during a game, until I talked to Dr. Jack Sutherland, the former Pittsburgh coach, who is making his winter home in the press boxes of the country this year.

Here for the game today, Sutherland sat at a table at the Notre Dame smoker last night and, without undue consideration for the tabloids, outlined a few of the one thousand and one things that a coach must do while his team is engaged in battle.

A coach must ready his team for a game to start with, and that means bringing each individual to a point where he is willing and capable of giving his best.

Once the game starts he must watch two games, not one. When his team is on the offensive he must see every action of every one of his own players, but more important, he must catalogue in his mind every move of the defensive team. It is the defense of the enemy that is of first importance. This once was a simple task, as Sutherland pointed out, because there was a time when a team had but one defense. Now a team will use 45, seven, or even a dozen defensive formations in one game, and it is the duty of the opposing coach to analyze each of them.

When the opponent has the ball the chief task is the study of the offense. This, too, was a simple task at one time, because offenses were simple. Sutherland explained that when he was playing for Pop Warner, the offense consisted of three line backs, a reverse, an off-tackle play, and two or three forward passes. Now the average high school team has a repertoire of ten times that scope. And while studying the offense a coach must keep a careful eye on his own defense.

The coach is in charge of all substitutions. He must make them at the right time and the right place. He must keep a careful watch on his players to detect weariness, injury or lack of fight.

The coach must watch the weather like a sailor. Changes of wind, changes in the condition of the turf, changes of temperature must be met with changed tactics.

The coach must hold consultations with his assistants during a game, condense their reports and utilize or discard their suggestions.

A coach—but by the time Dr. Sutherland had reached this point I was so worn out just from being about so much work that I called for a doctor.

Michigan Man Raps Gridiron Over-Emphasis

HOUSTON, Tex., Nov. 25 (U.P.)—Dr. Alexander O. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan, said today he was "rather shocked" by the emphasis placed on football, especially in the southwest.

Ruthven, a onetime player, said he was not opposed to intercollegiate football but would like to see the sport kept "in its place" merely as one of the educational opportunities offered by colleges.

The balance between athletics and education values is upset by subsidization and professionalism, he said, adding that a school was not justified in maintaining a football team unless it was coached properly. Otherwise, he said, the game falls to offer any educational value.

AFL UNIONS READY TO CALL MOVIE STRIKE TODAY

CLOSING OF ALL 15,000 OF U.S. THEATERS LOOMS

By FREDERICK C. OTTMAN
HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 25 (AP)—Twenty-seven American Federation of Labor unions were expected to call a strike today that will paralyze the motion picture industry and close every movie theater in the country.

Only the grant of a 10 per cent pay raise to 22,000 union members in Hollywood—today—could forestall their walkout and an immediate sympathy strike by some 15,000 projection machine operators, their leaders said.

The producers, led by Joseph M. Schenck, president of the Producers' association, said not a cent more would be forthcoming for the technicians and other workers in their studios. They said, in fact, wage cuts would be more appropriate at the moment.

Gus O. Paulson, pioneer Burley business man and Cassia county commissioner, who was paid final tribute Friday afternoon at Burley.

U. of I. Hears Senator Warn Of War Peril

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Nov. 25 (Special)—Two and a half billion dollars will be spent by the United States next year to act as a force to pull us into another futile war, or walked out of the studios. Asked what he intended to call the strike, provided he got no promise from the movie makers, Blot said:

"We won't say. That will be the producers' surprise."

He added he believed Schenck and his associates were responsible for his embarrassment yesterday when he was forced to appear in public on a 17-year-old charge of misconduct in the back room of a Chicago saloon. Released on a $10,000 bond, he intended to fight extradition to Illinois and battle the men he believed were responsible for reviving the charge.

Wants to Fight

The movie makers wanted to fight Blot to a showdown, yet they hesitate to risk cutting off their revenues from theaters which sell almost $1,000,000,000 worth of tickets last year.

Particularly did they shrink from the possibility of theaters being darkened over the week-end. Saturdays and Sundays are the biggest days for the industry.

There was little doubt the studios would be closed tight should the strike be called. In 1938 when the movie makers struck, more than 25 films in production. Although the three organized "labor" groups—screen writers and directors—would not be affected by the strike call, it would be impossible for them to work, and few were expected to risk passing picket lines.

3 AUTOS CRASH; WOMAN INJURED

A three-car auto crash jeopardized the lives last night of the wife of a Kimberly minister and five girls who were returning to Kimberly after attending a mid-winter Epworth league dinner and banquet at the Twin Falls Methodist church.

One mile east of Twin Falls on highway 30 the car containing the party and driven by Ben S. Taylor, Kimberly, was allegedly by one driven by Frank (Frankie) Karna (Frankie) Karna, at 10:45 last night near Twin Falls cemetery, according to statements made by Sheriff Art G. Parker, who investigated the accident.

Clarke's Wife Hurt

Mrs. T. W. Bowman, wife of the Kimberly Methodist minister, incurred a possible neck fracture, knee injuries, possible shoulder injuries, and shock. The girls, Barbara and Alice Emerson, Eleanor Niel Parks, Regina Urvan and Florence Bowman, suffered no injuries.

Their driver, Mr. Taylor, was treated at the Twin Falls county general hospital for arm and hand lacerations, and was discharged.

After hitting the Taylor auto, Karna's car, in which he was riding alone, was deflected into the highway and met with a further collision with one driven by Arthur Saxton, Kimberly, according to Parker.

There were no arrests.

Army, Navy Draw Five of 19 Children in Family at Hansen

The John O. Heacock family of Hansen holds a record which is hard to best—in more ways than one.

In the first place 19 of their 20 children are still living and, in the second place, five of these children have served or are serving in the United States army or navy.

Two enlist

This fact was revealed here this afternoon by Sgt. Frank Morris, officer in charge of the army recruiting station, as he announced that two Heacocks, namely Jerry Claude Heacock and Fred Roy Heacock, have been accepted for service with the 11th cavalry at the Presidio of Monterey, Calif., and will be forwarded to Salt Lake City within the next few days for final acceptance.

A brother of the youths who have just joined the army served in the same branch of service from 1919 to 1922. He is Alfred William Edgley Heacock. Another brother, Frank Albert, first enlisted in the army, the Fochelle in 1926. After serving three years he married and returned to civilian life for two years. In 1931, after the death of his wife, he reenlisted and has served continuously since then. At the present time he is with the air corps at March field, Calif.

One in Navy

The family came west from Grinnell, Ia., to Roy, Ida., in 1913 and in 1931 they moved to Twin Falls, Idaho, to Hansen in 1932. Of the family still living there are 11 boys and eight girls, one boy, Clyde (twins) having died.

The children born to the Heacock family, and their birth dates, follow:

Alfred William Edgley, April 15, 1901; Walter Edwin, April 14, 1902; George Lee Roy, Sept. 13, 1903; John Robert, Feb. 8, 1905; Sara Elizabeth, Sept. 2, 1907; Frank Albert, Nov. 20, 1908; Martha Lane, March 11, 1910; Mary Ellen, July 19, 1911; Ernest, Dec. 27, 1912; Selma Gertrude, Sept. 13, 1914; Charles Wesley, March 28, 1916; Claude and Clyde (deaf), twins, April 23, 1918; Dorothy May, Feb. 20, 1920; Fred Roy, Aug. 20, 1921; Selma Edna, May 8, 1922; Katherine Leola, Oct. 9, 1924; Dora Belle, May 8, 1925; Gladys Bernice, Aug. 3, 1927; Thomas David, Nov. 1, 1931.
