Williams Bases Defense on Injury

SKULL FRACTURE GETS BLAME FOR CRIMINAL TRAIL

By O. A. KELKER

A skull fracture received in an accident when a boy of six years, today was termed one of the contributing factors which sent Daniel Williams, 19, on a law-breaking trail and the subsequent shooting of Craig T. Bracken, a Twin Falls policeman.

Williams, along with William Hale, 29, in charged with Bracken's murder last May. The case is now in progress in district court before Judge J. W. Porter and the defense this morning opened its fight to save Williams from the gallows. The state rested its case Saturday evening.

By agreement, the defense of Williams will first be presented to members of the jury and then J. M. Lammert, Boise attorney representing Hale, will bring witnesses to the stand on behalf of his client.

First move in the defense of Williams was the opening statement to the jury, made by George H. Hampton, Los Angeles, one of three attorneys representing the murder charged youth.

Brief Evidence
Addressing members of the jury, Hampton told them that the "evidence will be very brief" and will pertain more to the history of the defendant Williams than to "the particular case."

During his talk to the jury, Hampton commented on several points which would be brought up, including the following:

- 1-That at the age of six Williams sustained a fracture of the skull.
- 2-That as a result of this accident, he would be normal at times but that at other times when he became excited the blood would rush to his head and form a pressure on the brain, in some cases causing him not to remember or know what he was doing.

Facial Change
3-That a short while after the accident he developed a peculiar countenance and changed from the "sweet, loving boy he formerly had been."

4-That Williams' mother went to work, not chiefly from the fact she needed the money, but because her mind was not so much on bringing up her children properly as it was on living a little better case of life.

5-That the defendant showed the disposition to do things that normal children did not do.

6-That when the defendant was about 12 years old he threatened other boys at school with a gun.

7-That he had served a period of 18 months in the state reformatory at St. Anthony.

8-That at one time in Nevada, Williams' mother told him that "like a wild boy" in the said state for a period of some eight days before he was found.

9-That he was sentenced to the Idaho prison on a car theft charge at the age of 18 years and had no attorney to represent him, nor were his parents notified.

10-That he spent six of the 18 months in solitary after he had painted his fingers, concealed in his pocket, at a board and used three.

Patience Kenneth Barclay (left) and L. A. Williams, Boulder City, Nev., Saturday and today testified as witnesses for the state and the defense respectively at the Daniel Williams-William Hale murder trial now in session in district court. Barclay was the tenth and last witness for the prosecution as the state rested its case. Williams, father of the defendant, took the stand today as the first witness in a fight to save his son from the gallows. (Times Photos and Engravings)

Onion Growers Start on Marketing Ballot Today

Southern Idaho and eastern Oregon's onion growing industry began today to cast the ballots which will decide whether the attack on low prices takes the form of a marketing agreement.

North side growers began voting after a meeting held at 2 p. m. today at Woods cafe in Jerome. Twin Falls county producers will vote after two meetings scheduled Tuesday. And onion farmers of southwest Idaho and eastern Oregon will vote today and tomorrow.

If the marketing agreement is approved, it will permit the industry itself—through an administrative committee—to regulate the shipment of onions out of designated south Idaho and eastern Oregon counties. The regulation will come by setting minimum size and grade which may be shipped.

Committee members of the proposed committee were picked Oct. 30 at a hearing in Twin Falls. They are Paul Dettweiler and John L. Peters, both of Twin Falls, as producers; Otto Steinberg, Twin Falls and Kimberly, as handlers; and alternates are W. A. Danner, Kimberly, and Glen Gould, Buhl, for the producers, and Carl Gibb, Twin Falls, for the handlers.

Remainder of the committee will be minimum size and grade which may be shipped. The plan is approved, consists of southwestern Idaho and eastern Oregon members.

Twin Falls action in the voting series will be at 2 p. m. Tuesday in Idaho Power auditorium. Buhl meeting will be at 8 p. m. Tuesday at Buhl high school. Growers will vote at the meetings or will cast ballots by mail in which case the vote must be received by County Agent Bert Bollingbrook by 5 p. m. Dec. 2.

Utah Has One
C. R. Tully, Portland, Ore., specialist with the marketing agreement section of the USDA, said here today before leaving for the Jerome meeting that a similar marketing agreement is now in effect in Utah, and referendum has just been completed in Colorado. In addition, Colorado voted also on a state agreement which would regulate intrastate movement of the fruit.

SOVIET CLAMORS FOR FINLAND TO WITHDRAW ARMY

By JOE ALEX MORRIS

United Press Foreign News Service
Soviet Russia stirred up a clamor among workers and soldiers for stern action against Finland today while Europe's swiftly spreading sea war intensified the conflict between Germany and Great Britain.

Thousands of mass meetings in Russian factories, parades and on ships at sea resulted in demands that the Finnish troops be hurled back from the Leningrad district frontier by force if they refuse to accept the Soviet demand for voluntary retirement.

Quick Showdown
In the Soviet radio outburst, the newspaper blasts and the mass meeting clamor there was striking evidence that Russia would attempt to force a quick showdown with the Finns on territorial questions by threat of military action.

The Leningrad military district frontier by force if they refuse to accept the Soviet demand for voluntary retirement.

On the sea, the struggle between Germany and British naval power continued to exact a mounting toll of ships and lives.

Twenty-two vessels and 326 lives were lost over the week-end.

Dutch Liner Sunk
The Dutch liner Spaarndam was sunk off the Thames estuary by a mine with loss of four lives including an American woman; the British armed merchant cruiser Rawalpindi was sunk with loss of about 283 lives; and the British-owned liner Finlandia was sunk with loss of 100 lives.

The sinkings boosted the toll to 40 ships sunk in the last ten days. Several other ships were lost in storms and half a dozen were damaged by mines or storms.

By United Press
A total of about 2,700 lives have been lost in sea warfare since the start of the European conflict.

Of this total, approximately 1,800 were naval losses, chiefly British. They include 973 lost in the sinking of the aircraft carrier Courageous and 810 in the sinking of the battleship Royal Oak. Approximately 223 were lost this week-end in the sinking of the armed British merchant ship Finlandia.

The two greatest commercial disasters were the S. S. Athenia with the loss of 121 lives and the S. S. Birkenhead (Dutch) with loss of 140.

The total tonnage lost since the war started, counted by estimated accurately pending further information concerning week-end sinkings. The known total, however, is well over 600,000 tons.

The losses appeared to be divided about as follows: British 337,000; German 123,000; French 45,000; neutral 170,000.

GOVERNMENT RETURNS
BOULDER, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—C. A. Boffelsson and the Idaho tax commission returned to the statehouse today from Kellogg and went to a meeting to discuss state tax structure revisions made at a meeting of the north Idaho Chamber of Commerce.

Dimpled Knees Bring Elsie Fame

Elsie Crabtree's dimpled knees didn't please the University of Nevada dean of women, but they went over big with the school's students. He now, a lot of publicity to back her, Elsie travels from state to state displaying her feminine charm. Last week she participated in Hollywood Christmas parade and a display during a Butte, Mont., football game. She has been signed to lead the parade in the New Orleans Sugar bowl on New Year's day. When not drum majoring, she is studying to be a civil engineer. As a matter of convenience to readers, the knees have been circled.

LONDON, Nov. 27 (UP)—King George signed an order for a blockade on German exports today, climaxing a week-end of furious sea warfare and storms that piled up a toll of 22 ships sunk, crippled or missing, at a cost of more than 350 lives.

The king held a council in Buckingham palace to sign the order, which goes into effect with publication in the official gazette tomorrow, empowering the British navy to seize German-made goods from any neutral ship, in retaliation for Germany's unrestricted mine warfare.

Great Britain Hardest Hit
In the chaotic week-end at sea, Great Britain had been hardest hit but the Germans had lost two ships to their own mines, three to British warships, and one to the storms.

An authoritative source here said that all the "parachute" mines dropped by German airplanes off the British coast, had been of the "magnetic" type, and the war office at Paris disclosed that French warplanes had gone to Britain's aid in the mine crisis. A British spokesman said the situation would be brought quickly under control and "you can be assured that the parachute-magnetic mines won't be a menace much longer."

The 22nd and latest week-end sea casualty was the British freighter Royston Grange, 5,144 tons, sunk in the Atlantic. The crew was reported saved but the nature of the sinking was not disclosed.

The admiralty announced the German merchant ship Borkum, 3,870 tons, had been captured by a British warship and while en route to a harbor in charge of a British prize crew, had been attacked and captured by a German submarine.

The Borkum was a light ship, it was a place not disclosed, and it was announced there had been no casualties among the British prize crew but that four of the German sailors had been killed.

The admiralty also announced a British warship had captured the German merchant ship Konrad Hendrik Flaser, 4,458 tons, and brought it to port.

German Trawler Strikes Mine
At 8:55 a. m. a 300-ton German trawler, Northbrook, struck a German mine off Langeland island, Denmark, and sank in one minute at the same place where a German mine layer struck one of its own mines and went down Saturday with a loss of 12 lives.

The fate of the trawler's crew was not learned. However, British naval circles said it was announced there had been no casualties among the British prize crew but that four of the German sailors had been killed.

Final plans are ready for the Christmas opening ceremony and inauguration of the downtown Yule lighting decorations. H. F. Jensen, committee member, told the merchants' bureau today.

The ceremony is planned for 8 p. m. Wednesday, and three musical groups will take part. Mayor Joe Koehler will be Santa Claus, Jensen reported. Committee chairman, Jensen is arranging the event in Robert H. Warner.

The bureau decided to send a ballot to all merchants regarding the specific days on which the hours will be observed just prior to Christmas.

Letter of appreciation will be sent by the bureau to Meritt Shovel for his work in supervising the Christmas decoration task, and to the Idaho Power company.

Safety Head Buys Liquor In Car Test

BOISE, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—State Safety Director Dan Banks had to buy his own liquor today for a test of the drunkometer, a device to determine the effect of drinking intoxicants on the automobile driver.

Banks asked the state liquor commission for a supply but was refused. Several liquor salarman delivered a frozen negage but no liquor when Banks appealed to them.

"I'll buy my own liquor," Banks said, "I won't be champagne or anything fancy. But I'll buy good stuff so it won't burn their stomachs out."

Eight men will undergo the tests tonight. Their vision, ability to measure distance through a depthoscope and their reaction time will be tested. When a red light flashes, they will be asked to push on a brake pedal. Clock measures the time between the light flash and the pressure on the brake.

Then each subject will take a stippled test. The test is a stippled to determine the effect of alcohol on vision and reaction time.

Eugene Riggs, technician of the physician and surgeon laboratory, will assist in the tests.

Judge Denies Mistrial Motions for Bund Head

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—General Sessions Judge James G. Wallace denied a series of mistrial motions in the Fritz Kuhn grand larceny trial today and announced he would submit to the jury five counts on which the German-American band leader, if convicted, could be sentenced to a maximum of 22 years in prison.

In a stormy session preceding summations, the judge, in the jury's absence, accused Sabhatino of "trying to goad the court into action to bring about a mistrial."

"At the proper time," he told Sabhatino, "I will deal with you on that score."

Wallace last week had dismissed five of the indictment's 10 counts which, on conviction, would have made the total maximum sentence 27½ years. At the conclusion of today's arguments, Kuhn stood charged with the theft of a $600 diamond ring from the band leader, Attorney James D. C. Murray and $717.60 in bond money used for moving costs for his one-time attorney, Mrs. Margaret Campbell.

Wallace rejected Sabhatino's argument that Kuhn's love letters to Mrs. Campbell were prejudicial and the attorney gave "too much weight to trifles."

"We're not going to convict this man because he wrote love letters or because the letters were illegible," the judge said. "We're not going to regard Mrs. Campbell as a third virgin. I'm sure the jurors can tell the difference between a letter and a love letter."

The defense had reopened the case before arguments to present additional testimony designed to show that the band leader had no strings to Kuhn's use of his legal defense fund and that he had paid attorney's fees in instances similar to the Murray case.

Chinese Committee Protests to Borah On His Trade Stand

CHUNGKING, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—The Chinese Peoples Foreign Relations association and five other Chinese organizations sent a message today to Sen. William E. Borah, ranking Republican member of the U. S. senate's foreign relations committee, asking:

"Are not the ruthless slaughter of our people and the devastation of our country sound enough reasons for the United States to throw Japanese trade aside?"

The message and the other Japanese use American materials to destroy China and to kill millions of "defenseless civilians."

A third disaster was the sinking by a mine of a British pilot boat off Southampton with a loss of 22 of the crew. A helpless crowd stood on the shore watching the boat go down 500 yards out. A raging storm kept them from sending help and overturned two lifelines on the way in.

RUSSIANS BLAME FINNS FOR FRONTIER ATTACK ON SOLDIERS

SOVIET DEMANDS NEIGHBORS QUIT BORDER POSITION

By HENRY SHAPIRO

MOSCOW, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—Workers were summoned to mass meetings throughout the Soviet Union today to be told that Finland was provoking war by attacking Red troops on the border.

The Moscow radio was heard in London broadcasting that "mass indignation had swept the Soviet Union" as a result of the alleged border attack.

It was charged Finnish artillery fire had killed four and wounded nine Soviet soldiers. Premier Joseph Stalin said in a radio address already had handed the Finnish minister a note demanding that Finnish troops be withdrawn "without delay" from the frontier on the Karelian isthmus.

(At Helsinki, Finnish officials denied Finnish artillery troops had attacked and said "in no case will there be a unilateral withdrawal from the frontier.")

Result of Long Dispute
The grave turn in Soviet-Finnish relations was the culmination of a long dispute over Russian demands for territorial concessions on the Finnish mainland as well as in the Gulf of Finland.

The outpouring of Soviet workers from factories to mass meetings indicated public opinion was being prepared for important measures.

At a typical meeting in a Moscow automobile factory, speakers said, "the Soviet Union should give the Finnish provocations a lesson and make the Soviet border safe from further provocations."

Molotov charged that at 3:45 p. m. yesterday Finnish artillery fired seven shells into the Russian line near the village of Muanila, killing three Russian soldiers and wounding two. He also charged that Finnish junior commander and wounding seven soldiers and two commanders.

Yesterday evening, Molotov handed the note to Baron A. G. Rylov, Kookkinen, the Finnish minister here.

Forward Note
The minister said he would forward the note to his government. Withdrawal of Finnish troops 12 to 15 miles from the border, as demanded by Molotov, would mean they would have to abandon their "Little Maginot line" on the isthmus between the Gulf of Finland and Lake Ladoga, and open the gates of their country to any invading Russian army.

Molotov said despite the Finnish attack the Soviet government had showed great restraint and had not ordered their men to answer the fire and thus enlarge the incident.

The alleged attack had followed a violent outburst in the Soviet press against the Finns, particularly Finnish Premier A. J. Kallander.

Sun Valley Gets Ready for Start

KETCHUM, Nov. 27 (Special)—The advanced Thanksgiving day in this old mining camp lifted by lick and other ordinary day on the calendar and there was little evidence of turkey or accessories. The liquor store had up a "stop" sign or closed for the holiday, but it was just another of those days.

At Sun Valley preparations are being made for opening the sports season, and improved rail service is presented this season. An official of the Union Pacific was here yesterday outlining a schedule.

It is stated the big resort will start operations Dec. 20, and that help for the establishment will report for duty about Dec. 15.

In the meantime many mining parties and prospectors are swinging into the hills.

Beet Group Reelects Leonard; Urges Reenactment of Quota Retains Post

With President Carl Leonard reelected, the Twin Falls County Beet Growers' association was squared away today to battle for objectives considered vital to beet growers of southern Idaho.

Leonard was chosen to succeed himself Saturday at a meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall here. The growers reelected some directors and reelected several new ones. The reorganization of the board saw Edgar J. Olmstead, Twin Falls, named vice-president in place of Vern Knight, Buhl, and J. D. Claborn, Kimberly, reelected secretary-treasurer.

The Board
Leonard, Olmstead and Claborn are also board members. Remainder of the 1940 directorate is Hyrum Pickett, and Glenn Briggs, Minidoka; Vern Knight, Buhl; L. E. Wilson, Hansen; Noel Bailey, Curry; Harold Hamilton and John L. Thomas, Elks, and J. C. Maxwell and Matt Schmidt, Twin Falls.

Featured action on the business program was the reenactment of a resolution to take before the national meeting a resolution of the Twin Falls group urging reenactment of sections No. 2 and 3 of the sugar act. These concern quotas, labor and benefit payments stipulated in the 1937 legislation and continuing to June 1 of next year.

Want Reinstatement
The sections have been "lifted" by the President, and the beet producers expressed belief that they are desirable provisions that should be reinstated.

UNION GROWERS DISCUSS PRICES

BUHL, Nov. 27 (Special)—Union growers of the west and have been notified of a public meeting to be held in the agriculture room at the Buhl high school at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 28. C. H. Tulley of the marketing agreement section, Portland, will be present to explain the proposed union agreement which was drawn up by the department of agriculture following hearings last October.

The general idea of the plan is to combat the present surplus and low market by restricting the shipment of certain grades. Hearings were held in Twin Falls and in Boise valley in October and evidence introduced at those and other similar hearings influenced the formation of the agreement on which growers will vote.

Elected recently to serve on the administration committee for this county are Paul Dewitler and John L. Peters, representing the growers, and Otto Sieberg, representing the shippers. Following the public meeting here next Tuesday, local growers will turn in their ballots that night or may send them to the county agent's office any time before Dec. 2.

Thomas, Elks, and J. C. Maxwell and Matt Schmidt, Twin Falls.

Featured action on the business program was the reenactment of a resolution to take before the national meeting a resolution of the Twin Falls group urging reenactment of sections No. 2 and 3 of the sugar act. These concern quotas, labor and benefit payments stipulated in the 1937 legislation and continuing to June 1 of next year.

Want Reinstatement
The sections have been "lifted" by the President, and the beet producers expressed belief that they are desirable provisions that should be reinstated.

NEGROES RETURN TO DODGE PLANT

DETROIT, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—Approximately 200 men, mostly Negroes, entered the Dodge main plant of Chrysler corporation today unopposed but under heavy police guard in a back-to-work movement.

The men passed through a picket line of an estimated 4,000 men who booted but made no effort to interfere.

The back-to-work movement had been sponsored by the United Automobile Workers union affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Pickets were members of the UAW affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations, the rival union which has been engaged in a production dispute with Chrysler for 33 days, and which Saturday officially ordered a strike in the Dodge plant.

Many of the Negroes said they were foundry workers. Police removed improvised weapons from some, including lead pipes and hammers. Six of the group that entered the factory were white men.

After the men had entered the plant, the picket line began to disperse and police were ordered off duty. Later, 40 of the Negroes walked out.

C. I. O. officials told factory heads they feared race riots might result if the Negroes weren't stopped from entering the factory.

Negotiations in the production dispute were resumed today.

IMMUNIZING TASK GETS UNDER WAY

Immunizations against diphtheria and smallpox began today for pupils in the Twin Falls public schools, according to Dr. J. C. Kretschmer, health unit.

Lincoln and Washington schools will be visited first with the work continuing Tuesday at the Bickel school and in the junior and senior high schools.

Written Consent
Children treated are required to present the written consent of their parents. Following inquiries on the part of parents desiring additional information, Dr. Kretschmer issued an explanatory bulletin.

"Diphtheria immunization for children is best given before the child is one year old. Given at this age, protection extends throughout infancy when it is most needed, and at this age, too, less discomfort from the inoculation is experienced. As early detection of diphtheria in children is always difficult, protection from the disease during childhood is of utmost importance. The family physician should be consulted about diphtheria immunization soon after the baby's birth.

"Protection against diphtheria is accomplished by inoculation of an immunization preparation under the skin. This may consist of one or more injections and should always be followed in six months by a skin test to determine the effectiveness of immunization.

"One satisfactory method consists of the use of diphtheria toxoid, a harmless preparation particularly suited for use with children. Best results are obtained from the use of this material by giving the child not less than two injections.

Two Months Apart
The injections should be given about two months apart. Whether or not immunization is then complete will be determined by a skin test six months after the second injection.

The diphtheria skin-test, sometimes known as the Schick test, is useful only to determine whether or not the child is susceptible to the disease and therefore in need of protection. This test should always be given children prior to a second skin test at immunization, and should be given especially to children before immunization.

"Some have a natural protection against the disease which makes immunization unnecessary. Some individuals respond more readily to immunization, and some retain their immunity better than others but once a child has been successfully immunized additional inoculations are usually unnecessary."

An original poem was presented with a pink and blue gift to Mrs. By Burton. Mrs. Marjorie Nelson gave a short talk on Americanism and the aims and purposes of the auxiliary. Mrs. Heselholt paid a charming tribute to mothers of American Legion boys.

Hard Worker

GORDON GRAY
As district court reporter he writes enough words to fill several novels, if the words were used for such.

Here Is No. 1 'Busy Man' at Murder Trial

Gordon Gray, district court reporter, is probably the busiest man at the Daniel Williams-William Hale murder trial which is now being heard before Judge James W. Porter.

Reason is that he has to take down—in shorthand—every word said while court is in session and lawyers and witnesses can find much to say during the course of a day. And when the day runs into a week, well, plenty is said.

Then, after the trial is over, Gray's work really starts. He must take all the notes of the trial and type them out into what are known as transcripts. These are kept for court records and copies are supplied the various attorneys. To hold such a job a man must be accurate, have a very good knowledge of law and also possess good hearing. Lawyers and judges alike agree that Gray has all three qualifications plus many more.

They likewise agree that his job, besides being extremely important, is the hardest.

But Gray just chuckles. He likes to work.

Robert Taylor and his actress wife, Barbara Stanwyck, put on grease paint again today and went to work after a delayed honeymoon. They were married six months ago, but had until now, opportunity to take a wedding trip.

An unsuccessful attempt was made to attach the bank account of Marjorie Daw, former actress and estranged wife of theatrical agent Myron Selznick. The sheriff's office sought to seize Miss Daw's bank account to satisfy a $50,000 claim by Attorney Jerry Greer for legal services, but the bank holding the account refused to permit the attachment because it claims a prior right to her assets.

TENNESSEE, USC RANK AT TOP OF GRID HEAP

Two Games Each Stand in Way Of Rose Bowl Call

By HARRY FERGUSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—Here it is almost time to put the 1939 football season away in mothballs and the two top teams of the nation still have two games each to play.

Until those games are over, no final ranking will be possible. Tennessee, generally considered the outstanding college team in the nation, still has to get past Kentucky and Auburn.

Southern California, deserving second place in the ranking at this stage by virtue of its victory over Notre Dame, has Washington and UCLA still in its path.

Considering Saturday's performance and the record against the entire season, the ranking should be about as follows:

- 1. Tennessee, unbeaten, untied and unscored on.
- 2. Southern California, unbeaten but tied by Oregon in the opening game of the season.
- 3. Texas A. and M. unbeaten and untied—a team with one of the strongest running attacks ever seen in the southwest.
- 4. Tulane, unbeaten but tied by North Carolina.
- 5. Cornell, unbeaten and untied.
- 6. Duquesne, which forced its way to national recognition by defeating a tough Carnegie Tech outfit Saturday.
- 7. Georgetown, unbeaten but tied by Syracuse.
- 8. Texas A. and M. seems a sure shot for one of the major bowl games despite the fact it still has to play a good Texas team.

UCLA, tied for the second time this season on Saturday in conference competition, had to scramble in the dying minutes of the game with Oregon State to get a 13 to 10 tie.

Tied earlier by Stanford, UCLA has the gigantic task of knocking off Southern California if it wants to stay in the running as the western representative in the Rose bowl.

Saturday highlights:

- Upset of the day—The way an upstart Yale team started a zip-rap attack on the Big Red and came out with a ridiculously easy victory, 30 to 7.

UCLA's great halfback, who, with one minute to go, sparked his team to a touchdown that tied Oregon State. He passed and ran the ends, carrying the team 32 yards in nine plays.

Mark of 191 Keeps Jones In Pin Lead

An average of 191 must be the mark at which Rolly Jones belongs in bowling circles.

The ace pinman of National Laundry today continued to lead all Twin Falls bowlers with that mark— for the third consecutive week. The last record he changed in the last three weeks of play and was good enough to top Fred Stone, who has played comparatively few games, by 10 points.

Wally Riggert, the other regular, was in third spot with 180. These averages are based on games by 10 points. Wally Riggert, the other regular, was in third spot with 180. These averages are based on games by 10 points.

City league play saw Paul Callis continue at the leadership with a 174 mark, closely followed by Roy Weller and Addy Adkins, each with 173.

Ten leading bowlers in each league are as follows:

- Commercial—Jones 191, Stone 181, Riggert 180, J. Ford 176, W. J. Johnson 176, A. Kitcher 176, Ray Price 174, George Hot 173, Charles Bruggemann 173, A. Norton 173.

2 Teams Will Tangle For Championship of Pacific Conference

By JAMES SULLIVAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—It's all over but the shouting and the Rose bowl goose hangs high at Troy. Only three Pacific Coast conference games remain on the schedule and Southern California should have through victory over their cross-town rivals, the Bruins of UCLA.

Southern California demonstrated its potent three-deep attack against Notre Dame Saturday for a 20 to 12 victory while the Bruins were lucky to get a 13 to 13 tie with Oregon State.

Thursday night the Bruins will entertain Washington State, while Southern California goes up against Washington on Saturday.

The southlanders should win, and that brings us up to Dec. 9 when the men of Troy and the little-sized Bear square off in what should be the toughest game on the coast this year. Neither team is defeated, but the Bruins have two conference ties against one for El Trojan.

Meanwhile the Indians of Stanford, who took a 32 to 14 licking from California, were en route to New York where they have but little hope of pulling the Ivy off Dartmouth on Saturday.

Another inter-sectional of interest will be the fracas between the Warner-DeGroot-coached San Jose Teachers and Drake university in San Jose Thursday night. Saturday the University of San Francisco, which reached maturity by beating St. Mary's, is host to Creighton university in Sacramento.

Arizona Meets Montana. Arizona, entertaining Montana at Tucson Thursday night, and other Saturday games send Fresno State against Hawaii in Honolulu, and Colorado college comes out of the Rockies to face Occidental college in Los Angeles.

San Diego Marines and College of Pacific meet in San Diego on Dec. 6, the Bruins and Trojans meet Dec. 6, Hawaii entertains the College of Pacific on Dec. 16, the Honolulu town team is host to Oregon State on Christmas day and California has a tentative date in Atlanta with Georgia Tech on Dec. 30.

Big Seven Conference Crown Still in Doubt

By LLOYD TUPLING

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—Although there is only one more game left to play, the final standings of the three top-ranking members of the Big Seven football conference remained in doubt today.

The game that is all important will be Thursday at Boulder between Denver and Colorado university.

There was only one game this week-end—at Larimer where the hapless Cowboys surprised even themselves by holding the highly-rated Cougars from Brigham Young university to a 7-7 tie.

With all teams through regular games except the Buffaloes and Pioneer, here's how the standings look:

Team Won Lost Tied Pts.

| | | | | |
|----------------|---|---|---|-----|
| Colorado U. | 4 | 1 | 0 | 800 |
| Utah | 4 | 1 | 1 | 800 |
| Denver | 3 | 1 | 1 | 750 |
| Brigham Young | 2 | 2 | 2 | 500 |
| Utah State | 2 | 3 | 1 | 400 |
| Colorado State | 2 | 4 | 0 | 333 |
| Wyoming | 0 | 6 | 1 | 200 |

Of course, if Denver and Colorado end their game with a tie, the rankings will remain the same, dividing the title between Colorado and Utah.

If Colorado wins the Buffaloes will have clear title to the championship with an advantage of 333 in percentage over Utah with Denver dropped .300 behind the Redskins.

But if the Buffaloes pull a surprise and come out on top, the crown will be split between Denver and Utah with Colorado .184 points behind in second spot.

Cold Forces Armstrong To Halt Work

NEW YORK, Nov. 27 (U.P.)—Well-known Champion Henry Armstrong, slumped petrel in boxing's latest hurry-bury, was suffering from such a "bad cold" today that he had to lay off training for Friday night's defense of his title against Lou Ambers, the lightweight king.

Manager Eddie Mead explained Armstrong would remain in bed all day.

But Ambers' manager, Al Henry, expressed no sympathy at Henry's expense. He said, "I expected this so-called cold. I predicted it last week. I think Armstrong's getting ready to take a run-out powder because he doesn't want to fight Ambers again."

The public health service says about 10,000,000 Americans are permanently incapacitated by illness or injury.
