FLR Would Delay Conventions

PRESIDENT TALKS OF HOLDING OFF UNTIL JULY, 1940

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20 (U.S.)—Democrats and Republicans appeared today to be maneuvering for pole positions in the 1940 presidential campaign.

After disclosure at Warm Springs, Ga., that President Roosevelt had discussed postponing nominating conventions of both parties to mid-summer, Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee said:

"It seems to me President Roosevelt is arrogating himself a great deal of authority when he undertakes to direct when the Republican party should hold its national convention."

"Of course, there is nothing novel about the suggestion that the national conventions meet later next year than usual. Republicans projected that idea many months ago. It is a matter which is receiving careful attention within our party."

Done to suit GOP

"Whatever we do, however, will be done to suit the convenience of Republicans and will not be done at the suggestion of Mr. Roosevelt or any other person outside of the Republican party."

Custom has placed the Democratic national convention last, largely because Republicans have been willing to make their selection regardless of the opposition choice.

Uncertainty regarding Mr. Roosevelt's intentions in 1940, and the possibility that conservative and liberal Democrats may have serious convention differences, have caused some informal discussion of postponing the C. O. P. meeting until Democratic nominees are known.

Foster Postponement

"Informed sources" at Warm Springs, Ga. revealed yesterday that Mr. Roosevelt had discussed with several persons there and in Washington postponement of the Democratic convention until July, 1940, or later. Speculation was inevitable regarding the possible effect postponement might have on third term plans, if any, and whether delay until July might be sought to enable Mr. Roosevelt to deal with a long congressional session without revealing whether he would be a candidate again.

But the Warm Springs "informed source" said the postponement objective would be merely to provide a short campaign in a year of international crisis and to obtain campaign economies.

JURIST TO OFFER DISCIPLINE TALK

"Discipline Without Regret" will be the topic of the address which Judge Raymond L. Givens, member of the Idaho supreme court, will give in Twin Falls on Wednesday, Dec. 6, during the year conference which will be held at the Rogers hotel. It was announced this afternoon.

Justice Givens will speak at the noon meeting, following a morning session at which several five-minute talks by Twin Falls civic leaders and businessmen and also Boise speakers will be heard.

The session later this afternoon that Eugene Chaffee, Boise, will be unable to attend the conference as one of the speakers and his place will be taken by C. E. Roberts, assistant superintendent of public instruction.

The session later is sponsored by the NYA in cooperation with Homer M. Davis, superintendent of the local school system.

Judge Givens, it was pointed out, is very active in affairs of Idaho. For 10 years he has served on the supreme court. He has resided in Idaho since 1887 and is a member of the state NYA advisory committee. He attended public schools in this state and also attended the University of Denver, where he was graduated in 1909.

Mr. Roberts is also a member of the NYA state advisory committee. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho with his first degree in 1921 and his second in 1922. He has studied at summer sessions at the University of California and the University of Oregon.

He has held his present position for the past two and one-half years and has served in the Orem county schools for 18 years. For 11 years he was superintendent of schools at Emmett.

In charge of arrangements for the conference, first of its kind to be held in Twin Falls, is W. W. Fulton, NYA field representative.

Orchestra, Vocal Students Set High Level in Concert

By MARGARET ELLSWORTH

An attentive audience last night heard the Twin Falls high school orchestra, under direction of Richard R. Smith, offer one of the best performances of recent years, and mixed chorus students and smaller vocal groups under Miss Marjorie Albertson received enthusiastic applause as the music department of the school presented a complimentary autumn concert.

In its first public appearance since Mr. Smith started directing it, the orchestra gave promise of becoming an organization of which Twin Falls will be proud. The musicians played with clear tone and in perfect harmony, following their director as if they were a single unit.

Varied Numbers

Numbers which they played ranged from the plaintive romance without words, "Voice of the Heart," to the arrangement of energetic and melodic Russian music, "Echoes From the Volga."

In "The Dance of the Elves," the violin section took honors for carrying the "perpetual motion" theme of the piece.

Starting the program was "Toy Soldiers March," a descriptive number by Fritz Kreisler. In Leonard's "Andantino," Grace Wegener played the familiar melody as a violin solo with an orchestral background.

Among the most interesting numbers was "Blue Bird" by Jean Sibelius, well-known Finnish composer, from Jernell's drama "Kullerna." Background for the music was explained by Mr. Smith.

Vocal Numbers

Most enthusiastically received of the vocal groups part of the program was a novelty number by the boys' quartet. It was "The Dying Cowboy," selected as representative of American cowboy music, sung in the way it should be sung by a quartet, as the cowboys sing it, then in grand opera style, and finally in swing. Boys in the quartet were Kenneth Rudolph, Homer Hayes, Ted Lake and Milo Pearson.

Outstanding vocal group was the cappella choir or mixed chorus, which sang music ranging from regrettably to a gay Italian folk-song, "Gloria," with equal ease. Love, best of the solo singers was Martin Weddle, contralto, who sang with the girls' sextet, "Pans Angelica."

Custom has placed the Democratic national convention last, largely because Republicans have been willing to make their selection regardless of the opposition choice.

Uncertainty regarding Mr. Roosevelt's intentions in 1940, and the possibility that conservative and liberal Democrats may have serious convention differences, have caused some informal discussion of postponing the C. O. P. meeting until Democratic nominees are known.

By LYLE C. WILSON

MURTAUGH, Nov. 20 (Special)—A large crowd attended the Sunday school conference Sunday night at the L. D. S. church. Cleve Egbert, superintendent, took charge of the program.

Authorities of the church were present for approval by Cleve Egbert, who also gave a short talk on Sunday school work. Class demonstration was given by the primary class and the teacher, Eva Goodman.

The church history class, composed of Naomi Christofferson, Leah Egbert, Naomi Adamson and Mae Egbert, gave the "Articles of Faith." The Old Testament class sang "Society Sing Society." Short talks were given by Duane Perkins, David Myers and Mr. Miller, Twin Falls. The congregation sang "Children's Praise." There is a Green Hill Far Away and "Praise to the Man."

Invocation was offered by Clyde Goodman and benediction by Bert Egbert.

During the meeting, Ivan Moyes was released from the position of assistant secretary on account of leaving for the winter and Geraldine Christensen was elected. Oration was released from chorister and Mae Egbert was voted in.

As a climax to the evening's entertainment of excellent music, the cappella choir sang the exultant "Rain and the River" and the beautifully harmonious prelude from "Cry of Life" by Landon Ronald.

Eastern Star Members Fete State Leader

Preceding the official visit of Mrs. Magda Stocker, Pocatello, worthy grand matron of the Idaho chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, to Twin Falls chapter last evening, a formal banquet was served in her honor. Among those seated at the honor guests' table were (left to right) Mrs. Bula Malone, past worthy grand matron; Mrs. Ray D. Agre, worthy matron of the Twin Falls chapter; Mrs. Stocker; Bert A. Sweet, toastmaster, and Mrs. Mae Cox, Hollister, grand Electa of the Idaho grand chapter. (Times Photo and Engraving)

Worthy Grand Matron Honored By O. E. S. at Formal Banquet

Perfection of detail marked the banquet at which Mrs. Magda Stocker, Pocatello, worthy grand matron of Idaho, Order of the Eastern Star, was entertained last evening at the Presbyterian church parlors, preceding her official visit to the Twin Falls chapter at the Masonic temple. Bert A. Sweet presided as toastmaster, and 60 guests were present from Twin Falls, Hollister and Filer chapters.

The table decor was especially striking. Clusters of deep purple grapes, pure white chrysanthemums, and waxy green huckleberry placed flat on the cloths down the centers of the three tables, arranged in triangular formation; flame-tipped white taper, gleaming in crystal candelabra.

Vase arrangements of white chrysanthemums lent formal dignity to the occasion.

At Honor Table
 Seated at the head table with the guest of honor were Mrs. Bula Malone, past worthy grand matron; Mrs. Ray D. Agre, worthy matron of Twin Falls chapter; Mrs. Stocker, toastmaster; Mrs. and Mrs. William Mitchell, worthy patron, and his wife; Mrs. J. A. Johnson, Twin Falls, chairman of the by-laws committee of grand chapter; Mrs. Mae Cox, Hollister, grand Electa of grand chapter; and Mrs. Aurora Brainin, chaplain of Twin Falls chapter.

Covers were marked with star point place cards. Women officers of the host chapter attended the banquet in pale gold satin formal, which they wear at all initiatory ceremonies.

A gift from the Past Matrons' club, of which Mrs. H. C. Dickerson is president, was presented to Mrs. Stocker during the banquet.

Mrs. Brainin gave the collect; Mrs. Frank Fonda, choir director, who conducted the choir in several numbers and led the assemblage in group singing, and Mrs. Stocker spoke briefly during the dinner hour.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Fonda in arranging the banquet.

Ceremony Presided
 Following the excellent address of Mrs. Stocker, and the exemplification of the initiatory degrees, at the dinner session, women officers of the lodge took part in an effective ritual ceremony, during which flowers and a gift were presented to the worthy grand matron.

Mrs. A. P. Oslund sang a special selection in connection with the ceremony.

Refreshments were served in the dining room during a social hour, while entertainers and chrysanthemums in a crystal bowl, flanked by lighted white tapers in crystal holders, centered the lace-covered table.

Mrs. H. C. Dickerson, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. A. P. Brainin arranged the decorations for the banquet, and Mrs. H. N. Chapman, Mrs. Catherine Putter and Mrs. A. S. Benson were in charge of arrangements.

The social hour refreshment committee included Mrs. Ella White, Mrs. Maudie Stewart, Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. George Butler, Mrs. Herman Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Florence Schumann, Mrs. Nellie Ormby, Miss Cora McCoy and Miss Irene McCoy.

WELFARE BOARDS HEAR STATE HEAD
 Explaining the purpose of county boards of public welfare and discussing the public assistance program, Bill Child, state director of the division of public assistance, addressed the first meeting of Twin Falls district county commissions of welfare at the American Legion Memorial hall last night.

Four board members are named to each county commission by the state chief of public assistance, one by the county commissioners. Eugene Pugh, Twin Falls district supervisor of public assistance, also spoke, declaring that the county commissions of public welfare are lay advisory boards that serve the departments of public health and of public assistance.

The Twin Falls district includes eight counties. Boards have not yet been completed in all of these.

Working on the advice of Child and Pugh, each county commission will meet in the near future to organize and make plans.

These counties were represented at the meeting last night: Minidoka, Gooding, Twin Falls, Blaine, Cassia, Jerome and Lincoln.

Music, played by Glen Bates and his Nite Hawks, featured the waltz and fox trot selections popular a few years ago, and having special appeal for the older married set.

Approximately 75 couples were present for the evening's festivities.

Mrs. W. C. Brown, Mrs. Harry Stephens and Mrs. Ruth Threlkeld were in charge of all arrangements for the event.

A midnight lunch was served. The benefit dance is an annual occasion for Good Will club members and their friends.

East Boasts 3 Undefeated Grid Teams

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—The east is completing one of its most successful football seasons this week, routing home three undefeated teams to take a modest edge over any other section of the land in this department.

Easterners can point with pride to Cornell, Duquesne and Georgetown when the subject of unbeaten teams comes up. Cornell has finished its season, undefeated and untied; Duquesne goes into its final game against University of Detroit Saturday without a blemish on its record; and Georgetown finished with only the Syracuse tie to mar a perfect season.

The football show of the week is Army-Navy at Philadelphia. Past records are meaningless when the two service schools meet in this traditional battle, and more than 100,000 will see it.

Fordham and Holy Cross, emerging as two of the nation's better clubs after early season setbacks, will meet Saturday at New Haven against traditional opponents where anything can happen. Fordham means New York University and Holy Cross, Boston college.

Stanford comes to New York to meet Dartmouth at the Polo grounds. On Thursday Brown meets Rutgers, and the George Washington-West Virginia tilt on Saturday will about wash up eastern football for the year.

Sego Milk Club Spills Laundry

National Laundry took a spill last night as Sego Milk bowlers, with the aid of 67 pins handicap, took three out of four points in Commercial league bowling.

The winners were led by A. Kirchner, who came through with a 585 total for three games and top single of 220.

High single game score of the evening, however, went to Rolly Jones, who got a 245 his second. His 503 for three games trailed A. Puglianio by six pins for the Laundry outfit.

STRIKES to SPARE With Fred Stone

Sego Milk took the league-leading National Laundry to the cleaners by annexing three out of four points.

Pa. Kirchner, with a 585 total, showed the way to all the rest of the bowlers. Pa. has games of 220-175-180. His 520 first game was Sego's best single.

Homing got a 245, a very nice total, and Rolly Jones, whose other aid is the grass wren, when an automobile interrupted its musing by smashing it on the head.

Result: cars headlight was broken and a fender crushed. And the horse was treated at a local veterinary hospital for a broken jaw.

The horse wouldn't tell reports of the name of the driver of the juggernaut, but they later realized that this was an act of chivalry for sheriff's officers said the operator of the automobile was a young woman.

Mac Says Too Much Burden Put On Shoulders of College Gridders

BY HENRY McILMOORE
NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—College football is a boy's game, but how often we completely forget the fact it is played by boys.

We back and bet on teams as if they were composed of hardened veterans with years of experience. We pick them to win as if they were invincible units and not groups of impressionable, excitable youngsters, subject to all the peculiarities of those their age.

Even the most ordinary football game arouses tremendous emotions in the players. Only those who are just getting old enough to gain poise and confidence when they are graduated and their Horse Won't Tell For It Was Lady Driving the Auto!

One horse had an awful headache today.

The animal was amiably contemplating the landscape from a vantage point in the middle of highway 93 southwest of Twin Falls (perhaps looking for a fence corner) today when the grass wren, when an automobile interrupted its musing by smashing it on the head.

Result: car's headlight was broken and a fender crushed. And the horse was treated at a local veterinary hospital for a broken jaw.

The horse wouldn't tell reports of the name of the driver of the juggernaut, but they later realized that this was an act of chivalry for sheriff's officers said the operator of the automobile was a young woman.

Can't Recall Shooting, Williams Testifies

Defendant Takes Stand At Trial; Hale Termed 'Imbecile' by Physician

By O. A. KELKER

Testimony by one of the two defendants in the murder trial now nearing its close in district court provided the feature highlight of the Thursday afternoon session.

The crowded courtroom hushed late yesterday as George L. Hampton, one of three attorneys for Daniel Williams, 38, called the defendant to take the stand in his own behalf. Williams is on trial with William D. Hale, 29, for murder of Patrolman Craig T. Bracken.

Hampton immediately started to question the defendant and the youth answered rapidly. The questioning followed:

Q—Did you hear Mr. Tarr (George W. Tarr, Jr.) say you were at his service station?
A—Yes.
Q—Did the occurrence happen substantially as he related it?
A—I do not recall.

Doesn't Recall Robbery
Q—Do you recall participating in a robbery on or about May 8?
A—I recall being at a service station but do not recall any robbery.

Q—Do you recall driving away from the service station?
A—I recall driving away from the station but I don't know whether I was driving the car or not.
Q—Did you have any reaction when you heard the shot?
A—My arms and legs went numb. Something reminded me and I thought of those times in the dungeon (at the Idaho prison).

Q—Do you recall anything else, if you remember?
A—Somebody opened the door next to where I was sitting. The car had stopped.
Q—Do you recall what happened at that time?
A—I jumped out and ran over a street or field or something.

Remembers No Gun
Q—Do you remember having a revolver?
A—No, I do not.
Q—Do you recall shooting anybody that day?
A—No, I do not. I don't recall having a revolver in my possession.

The defendant then turned over for cross-examination with Prosecutor Everett M. Sweeley asking the questions. The defendant's answers followed:

Q—On what side were you sitting in that car?
A—I believe on the right side.
Q—Which side did you get out of?
A—I guess I guess.

Q—What did you see when you got out?
A—Nothing.
Q—Do you recall seeing anything.
A—Who was driving with you in the car?
A—Well, I believe Hale was in the car with me at the time.

Q—Was he driving?
A—I believe I was on the right hand side. Because the steering wheel of a car is on the left hand side I guess Hale was driving.
Q—Do you know how you got to the station?
A—I imagine in the automobile.

Q—Do you remember the trip to the station?
A—I don't recall the trip.
Q—Where had you been before you started in the car?
A—I was in a hotel, I guess.

Q—Do you recall drinking anything on that occasion?
A—No, I don't.
Q—Did you see any persons there?
A—I don't recall seeing any persons there.

Q—What is the name of the hotel at which you stopped?
A—I don't recall the name of the hotel.
Q—Where did you get the car you were driving in?
A—I don't recall. All I know is what I heard about it right here (in court).

Tells of "Spells"
Prior to the time Williams took the stand, questioning of Mrs. Masie Chester, mother of the youth, continued for most of the session. She told of his frequent "spells" during which time he could not recall things he had done nor could he give any reason for them, and she also said that when he was "normal" he was doing good work in schools and was probably brighter than other children. She said cause of his condition on the accident he suffered when a child of six at which time he received a fracture of the skull. She also told of her knowledge of his life of crime.

Under cross-examination with Sweeley questioning, the mother recalled that her son had left Ely, Nev., May 6 of this year in company with Hale. They said at the time they were going place mining. That is the last she saw of her son until his arrest in Twin Falls after he was wounded by Patrolman Kenneth Barclay. She said that at the time he left home in Ely he was extremely nervous and restless and that apparently one of his "spells" was coming on.

No Talk of Injury
Concerning whether or not she had talked with her son regarding his injury, she answered Sweeley's question as follows:
Q—Did you have any conversation with him after the spells concerning the injury?
A—I don't recall. That was hardly the thing to talk about, I thought.

Following the questioning of the defendant Williams his defense rested his case.

J. M. Lampert, Boise attorney defending Hale, then made his opening statement to the jury.

Not Responsible
He said that he would show, by testimony, that Hale was not responsible for his actions because of the fact he was an imbecile who had spent a greater portion of his life in a home for this type of patient. He said he would also prove that defendant's mother was an epileptic and that his father was criminally insane.

"The offspring is here before us in that capacity," Lampert said, addressing members of the jury. He indicated that he would call only one witness in defense of Hale, that being Dr. Charles R. Lowe, at the present time superintendent of the state hospital at Shoshone, Idaho, that the testimony would show that Dr. Lowe knew Hale while Hale was an inmate for years in an Idaho home and while Lowe was in charge of receiving patients at that institution.

Claims Imbecility
He said that the testimony would show that at the present time Hale has an "f. q." rating of 46, termed an imbecile, and one "not responsible for his acts."
Dr. Lowe was then called to the stand by Lampert. The physician testified he was graduated from the University of Michigan medical school in 1911 and that he had spent practically all his medical life in the treatment of mental diseases.

Lampert questioned Dr. Lowe: Q—Among your duties at the Lincoln (Idaho) institution, did you have anything to do with the examination of inmates?
A—I had charge of receiving male inmates. In that work I was supposed to gather all the history concerning them that I could.

Q—Did you have under you one William Daniel Hale?
A—Yes.
Q—Was he there in April of 1918?
A—Yes.
Q—Over how long a period did he remain there?
A—I personally remained there until 1922 and he was there during all that time.

In later testimony Dr. Lowe said that the defendant had once run away from the home but had returned and that he was still "on case" there but had run away again.

six or seven years ago and had not returned.)
Concerning the parentage of Hale, Dr. Lowe testified:
Q—What do you know concerning his parentage?
A—His father was a feeble minded, criminal and a never-do-well and was deceased in his community.

Q—Was he in the same mental condition as the defendant Hale?
A—Yes.
Q—Do you recall the defendant while you were at that institution?
A—Yes, I recall him distinctly. One circumstance was because he was always imposing on the other inmates, even when he was a child.

Dr. Lowe then explained in detail to the jury how groups of persons who are not normal are rated. He said that at the age of 11 Hale had an "f. q." of 76; at 13 it had dropped to 64, and at the present time (taken from tests made by Dr. Lowe since Hale's arrest here) it is at 42. He said that an imbecile had an "f. q." rating of 35 to 50.

First Examination
Under cross-examination led by Sweeley, it was brought out that the doctor had never before examined the defendant personally until he did so at the county jail here. The other examinations of which he spoke were from institution records and the tests had been conducted by others.

Dr. Lowe said that he was not of the opinion Hale could take care of himself. Sweeley questioned him on this point as follows:
Q—Is he (Hale) able to take care of himself?
A—I believe not.

Q—Well, he has survived for the past six or seven years?
A—We don't know all the things he has done.
Q—If he was released now would he be a menace to society?
A—Yes, he would. When he gets older, say between 45 and 50, he'll quiet down. He should be placed in an institution (insane) where he could be managed.

After conclusion of the cross-examination Lampert rested his case. Sweeley announced he was going to present rebuttal testimony and Judge Porter ordered court adjourned for the day, the recess coming shortly before 5 p. m.

Jury Seen Auto
Under observation of the attorneys, the court and the bailiffs, the jury inspected the car which the state contends was used by Williams and Hale at the time they held up the Home service station and also Williams fired the shot which took the patrolman's life.

Each jurymen made his own individual inspection and did not converse with other members of the jury or anyone else concerning these observations.

Attorneys for both defense and the prosecution yesterday handed Judge Porter their list of suggested instructions to the jury. From those suggested, the judge will select those which will be read just before the jury retires to reach a verdict.
