ENGLAND CLAIMS 2 TO 4 GERMAN U-BOATS SUNK WEEKLY

CHURCHILL SEES BIG LOSSES FOR GERMANY'S NAVY

By WALLACE CARROLL.
LONDON, Dec. 6 (UP)—Destruction of German U-boats continues at the rate of two to four a week, First Lord of the Admiralty Winston Churchill told the house of commons today.
Churchill said the allies are destroying German submarines faster than Germany can produce them. He said he believed the allies had sunk five German submarines this week.
Churchill said Germany was concentrating her attacks on the British navy and merchant marine. He said the allies had been practicing against U-boats and lately many mines have been dropped from airplanes or laid by submarines on the approaches to her harbors with the intention of destroying British and still more, neutral commerce.
"Two so-called pocket battleships and certainly one other cruiser have been sunk for many weeks past in the north and south Atlantic or near Madagascar in the Indian ocean," Churchill said.
Churchill said the allies have been using their immense worldwide traffic despite this opposition. He said the allies had already sunk more than 1,000 merchant ships for self-defense. More will be armed shortly, he said. Less than one ship in 100 has been sunk in convoy, the admiral chief declared.
Churchill said other German submarines had been sunk to indicate the feat of Commander Pien in penetrating the British naval base at Scapa Flow, and had entered other British ports.
Several graves of U-boats lie in the approaches," Churchill said.
Chain Belt Building
When Pien penetrated Scapa Flow, he torpedoed the British battleship Royal Oak and then escaped.
"When I see statements, as I have lately, that the Germans in 1940 will have as many as 400 U-boats in commission and will be producing these vessels by the chain belt system, I wonder if they are producing U-boat captains and crews by a similar method," Churchill said. "It seems likely that our rate of destruction might well undergo a similar expansion," Churchill said. "It is repeated his earlier warning of a steady flow of losses must be expected."
"It is, however, my sure belief we are getting the better of this menace to life," he said.

It was suggested that Twin Falls needs greater recreational facilities including tennis courts in various points of the city, and rubbish containers down town.
It was recommended that the club lend every assistance possible to the Junior Chamber of Commerce in improving and developing Jaycees park.
The entire program was adopted with the idea of encouraging city officials and civic organizations in bringing about the fulfillment of the project.

TOY PICK-UP TO BE ON THURSDAY

Because old and discarded toys are needed as once so that city firemen can repair their annual Santa Claus repair job, Twin Falls residents were urged this afternoon to have contributed playthings available for collection Thursday afternoon.
Chairman Bob Dickard, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of the Christmas "kids" project, urged householders to telephone the Chamber of Commerce at 579. A truck will pick up toys Thursday afternoon.
The "big push" in collection of the old and abandoned toys, Dickard said, will come next Sunday, Dec. 10, and will start at 11:30 a.m. Volunteer trucks manned by Jaycees and Boy Scouts will cover the entire city. They will pick up all playthings deposited on front porches or front steps by householders who want to aid underprivileged youngsters.
Fire Chief Fred Perry and his men were already completing plans today to start on toy repairs in a big way.
The repaired toys—which will be shiny in new paint by Christmas time—will be distributed by the Jaycees just before Dec. 25. Funds collected in the milk bottles now displayed in downtown stores will go toward purchase of repair materials and toward buying candy and nuts for the children.

EVOLUTION OR REVOLUTION?

Editor, Times:
This perplexing and alarming dilemma in which we seemingly find ourselves in this modern age, has never been experienced since time immemorial. On all sides are the cries of poverty, want and distress, which seems so ridiculous in a land of overflowing abundance. And still we stand back and do nothing about it, thinking, maybe our President or congressmen will find some new idea which will perform a miracle.

We've been waiting for that miracle now for 100 years, and seen one President after the other go in and out of office, each one trying to perform the wonders that he talked so enthusiastically about when he started for the high seat, and each time both his and our dreams have faded away, still we fail to wake up.

Surely we have had enough experience by this time to see that it is a problem that no miracle-working politician can solve.
All the billions that are being spent on pump-priming is putting us under a load of debt that we, our children, nor our great grandchildren will ever be able to pay. Do we want our progeny saddled down under such an immense burden of debt?

Or do we prefer a war-prosperity and send our fine young manhood to die in agony in the filthy mud-trenches of some foreign land in order that our "merchandise of death" may reap a few more blood-stained dollars which will increase their power to dictate a bigger debt for us to pay?
Nature and technology are waiting to produce abundant supply for all, with a minimum of labor, which would permanently relieve this slavery under the old price system. The price system which is fast leading us down toward more alarming poverty, crime and revolution, and we most assuredly have a problem before us that no political bumbling or bluffing can possibly solve.

Charity, Community Chest, Townsend relief plan, they are all fine stop-gaps. But why keep chafing at the other fellow when an abundance of goods and services are waiting and even being destroyed in order to maintain scarcity?
America has come to the forks in the road. One reads Evolution, the other Revolution. It's time to decide which one we prefer to take.

Some are shouting Americanism. In order to avoid any form of dictatorship. But we are most assuredly headed toward some sort of dictatorship, which would be the final outcome of a mob of hunger crazed humanity, unless we are willing to act in time, and change our time-worn system.

There will have to be an end to continued spending even from Uncle Sam's pockets. And then what? Can we expect our army of unemployed and underemployed to mention the millions of college youth—to starve to death gratefully? While jump suits rot in warehouses?

We certainly must have noticed the forward march of technology which is burning more and more labor into the bread lines. And we surely can reason enough to know that our tremendous modern power machines do not eat the products that we have to sell in order to pay our taxes.

Some one may suggest that it would be unthinkable to allow the underprivileged to come forward and have the same equal advantages as some of us have enjoyed all our lives. Wouldn't that have been a grand and glorious feeling to us, or our poor parents—when in some distant past we had to live in the hovels of poverty and want—to think that the more fortunate and so-called intelligent wanted us to remain under those conditions. That is absolutely not following the American precepts of freedom.

Let us not imitate the mule who stood back stubbornly, with head held too high to enter the barn door when his master tried to lead him under cover from the approaching hailstorm. Remember "condemnation prior to examination is fatal to progress."

Science and technology in the name of Technocracy, Inc., stands ready with proof and blue-prints to solve this complex problem. Technocracy, Inc., invites all, and especially the youth of America to join its study classes and learn to fight a war here on our own continent to eliminate poverty, disease, crime and ignorance, and Technocracy, Inc., stands prepared to lead the way in that fight toward the only goal that is worth fighting for, THE NEW AMERICA.

Russia Opens Land, Air and Naval Attack on Finns

FINLAND

Out of a total population of 3,667,000—half the size of New York City—Finland has 300,000 men now under arms. Peacetime army strength is only 25,000, and military men estimate war strength at 125,000 trained men. The others now bearing arms are older men, youngsters, and possibly the physically unfit. Up to 100,000 of Finland's women are enrolled in the Lotta Svärd to back up the men. The normal army strength consists of three infantry divisions, one cavalry brigade and a tank company. The air force consists of 50 hydroplanes and 100 land planes marked, strangely, with swastikas. The navy, aside from the training ship shown, consists of two coast defense battleships and five submarines.

RUSSIA

The army of the Soviet Republics draws from almost unlimited manpower. Military authorities put the potential trained men at 14,000,000 out of a population of 168,000,000. Practically, experts believe, Russia can keep in the field only a few more than 2,000,000. The peacetime army is 665,000 men, including 26 infantry divisions, 14 cavalry divisions, three mechanized divisions, 50,000 fortress troops and 28 mobile regiments. The air arm is a mystery, but 5,000 ships is considered a conservative estimate and it may run three times that number, including many obsolete planes. The navy is headed by five old battleships, backed by 11 or more cruisers, 23 or more destroyers and 200 or more submarines.

O'Williams, Oem; Kenneth O'Leary, Ada; Randall Wallis, Valley and F. M. Rettig, Jerome. MORE ABOUT GLASSES
What Are Glasses?
Glasses are simply mechanical instruments for the correction of defects of size and curvature in the tissues of the eye. They not only produce clear vision but also prevent or relieve eye strain. The lenses used for short-sightedness are concave; those used for far-sightedness are convex. Those required in astigmatism are cylindrical. All must be ground carefully, to specifications for each individual patient by a competent mechanic. There is much more to the proper examination of the eye than merely fitting glasses to improve the patient's vision. The tissues of the eye are affected by many diseases of distant organs—among them, sinus and tonsil infections, gonorrhea, syphilis, arteriosclerosis, high blood pressure, diabetes, kidney disease, anemia, brain tumor. It is therefore important that the eye be studied by a doctor who can recognize the signs of such conditions. Often times tell-tale changes occur in the eyes of persons who have no idea they are suffering from serious disorders of other organs. The early detection of that dangerous eye disease, glaucoma, also depends on competent examination by an expert oculist. An instrument called the ophthalmoscope makes it possible for the doctor to see and study the interior of the eyeball, the retina, and the lens. Trial lenses placed before the eyes are used to secure the exact correction needed. Dilating the Pupils
"Drops" are put into the eyes in order to dilate the pupils during the examination. Their action is to paralyze temporarily the muscles which control the size of the pupil and the accommodation apparatus. Properly used, they do no damage whatever to the eye. The few conditions in which they should not be used are easily recognized by a competent oculist. "Drops" are not absolutely necessary, but without them the examination of the eye is more difficult. After the age of 45, it is often possible to fit glasses without them.

COASTAL GUARDS TO TOUR SOUTH

NEW ORLEANS (U.P.)—The coast guard—America's police force on the high seas—has been assigned to make a "friendship tour" of the Central American republics. Late this winter, one of the service's large, new cruisers and a 16-foot patrol boat will leave New Orleans for various ports on the southern republics. The larger cutter is equipped with an amphibious plane and the newest equipment for navigation, communication and life-saving. The coast guard is seeking to give a wider understanding of its activities, both at home and abroad. It hopes to acquaint the southern countries of its peace-time mission and at the same time promote friendly relations between the United States and its neighbors. The trip also is expected to result in the selection of appointees to the coast guard academy from the countries visited. Demonstrations of how the guard works, shooting of live lines and rigging breeches buoys and the life of the crew on board the ship will be made at every port visited. Moving pictures will be used to supplement the actual demonstrations. Plans for the voyage are being worked out by Commander Eli Reed-Hill of the coast guard, who visited the capitals of the countries to be visited and made arrangements with government officials and United States attaches. The coast guard's peacetime function is to provide for safety at sea. It aids vessels in distress, operates schools for the instruction of merchant service officers and seamen. In wartime, it is a part of the navy. During the past year, the annual report showed, the coast guard saved 9,881 persons from death and peril, boarded 32,853 vessels and either warned, seized or reprimed 1,850 others.

STATE COLLEGES GET NEW DESIGN

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U.P.)—The model university of the future, President James D. Hixson of the University of Tennessee, believes, will be one in which a large majority of the students never appear on the campus. Instead they will be going to school in their own community under a highly developed extension service plan which will send teachers to them. To Be Focal Point
"After all," Hixson said, "a state university has but one reason for existence, and that is to create for its state. One of the days when a university was merely an institution for classical learning where knowledge was regarded as its own reward. It is not enough to train a person to be intelligent. He must be intelligent for some useful purpose." In an agricultural state like Tennessee, he said, the state university should be the center of research with its functions spreading out into the rural districts through adult classes. He said the University of Tennessee had made a start in that direction with a constantly expanding extension service. Electric lights counteract the effect of damp salt air on pianos. Pianos at the seashore have lights burning around them for this reason.

PAIR RETURNS TO FARM CREDIT UNIT

Rejection of Harvey R. Shoultes, Chehalis, Wash., and reappointment of William A. Schoenfeld, Corvallis, Ore., as directors of the farm credit administration of Spokane were announced today by J. W. McDowell, Twin Falls, secretary-treasurer of National Farm Loan associations in this district.

The associations participated in the election which resulted in Shoultes' return to the board, casting ballots equal in number to the number of stockholders in the associations, McDowell said.

As members of the board, Shoultes and Schoenfeld will be directors of the federal land bank, in which the local associations are stockholders. The same board also serves the federal intermediate bank of Spokane, the Spokane bank for cooperatives and the Production Credit Corporation of Spokane.

Schoenfeld was reappointed by P. F. Hill, governor of the farm credit administration, to represent agriculture and the general public. He is dean of agriculture at Oregon State college, and a member of numerous boards and commissions concerned with agriculture.

Shoultes is a breeder of purebred Holstein cattle; president of the Lewis County National Farm Loan association, and the Southwest Washington Production Credit association.

Both begin their new terms Jan. 1, 1937. Other members of the board are Neil F. Boyle, Blackfoot, Id.; Ervin E. King, Pullman, Wash.; Carl K. Malone, Cheney, Mont.; W. H. Ragadale, The Dalles, Ore.; and John A. Wilson, Stanford, Mont.

Maine Seems to Be Skeptical of Coyote Air Hunt

At least one Maine editor is pretty skeptical about these stories drifting eastward concerning coyote hunting from airplanes.

Anyway, the editor of the Calais Advertiser, Calais, Me., takes a couple of left-handed slams in passing along to his readers the story of southern Idaho's stream-lined hunting, his article reads:

HUNTING BY AIRPLANE

What sounds like a tall story of hunting coyotes with an airplane comes from Idaho, but it is told convincingly by a writer in the Farm Journal, so we pass it along.

In the Twin Falls district of southern Idaho, farmers have long suffered losses from coyotes, which kill their sheep and sometimes even attack children. Other methods of combating this menace have proved unsatisfactory, shooting the coyotes from an airplane was tried with success.

Sheepmen hired L. A. McInnis, a local pilot, to fly over the hills and shoot the coyotes with a sawed-off shotgun as equipment. McInnis pilots the plane, flying low at slow speed, while K. L. Bourne liquidates the coyotes with charges of buckshot.

When possible the plane is landed near each dead animal, which is then skinned, the pelts bringing from $5 to $10 each. Working over several counties, the aerial hunters killed more than 600 coyotes during the last two winters.

In addition to the practical benefits of this coyote war from the air, it must be great sport for any who care for that sort of thing.

Returned to Farm Credit Board

William A. Schoenfeld (left), dean of agriculture at Oregon State college, Corvallis, and Harvey R. Shoultes (right), Chehalis, Wash., chairman and cooperative leader, begin new terms in January on the board of directors of the farm credit administration of Spokane and Ninth credit units. Both are members of the present board. Shoultes was elected by federal land bank borrowers of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana. Dean Schoenfeld was appointed by Gov. F. Hill, of the FCA, to represent agriculture and the public on the board.

JIMMY STEWART FIDGETS AT SIGHT OF SELF IN WESTERN

By PAUL HARRISON (NEA Service)

HOLLYWOOD—Short takes: They may as well quit making super-westerns. Marlene Dietrich and Jimmy Stewart have wrapped up a movie cycle with "Destiny Riders Again." It has everything, including, notably, the new Dietrich. "I sat next to her and Stewart at the preview, and it was interesting to see how they behaved. The actor, firmly established and with every reason for confidence in this picture, fidgeted and slumped and leaned forward. Toward the end, he sat with elbows on knees, a hand on each side of his face like blinders, and was almost breathing down the neck of the girl in front of him as he peered at the screen. Hands clasped in lap, Miss Dietrich mostly just sat, though she laughed moderately at her poker game sequence with Mitcha Auer, and at her fight with Una Merkel. She leaned forward a little during the scene of her death in the arms of Stewart.

Ordinarily it's a pretty harrowing experience for an actress to watch herself die. But Miss Dietrich was pleased, for by that time she knew that her fiery personality was a bit and that, instead of a death scene, she actually was watching the rebirth of her career.

Here's a blow

One of the highest-paid young scenarios in town, Jerry Wald, is going places with a card at U.C.L.A., and when she had to write a theme for an English course he generously offered to dash it off for her. She was pleased with it, but the professor wasn't. He gave the student a C on the paper.

There's bad news for mothers who want to bring their talented youngsters to Hollywood. The state department of labor has taken over jurisdiction of juvenile players from the board of education, and the list of work permits for children has been cut from 5,000 to 2,000 names. Before a permit will be issued now, a parent must present assurance from studios that work will be given the minor. And it's very hard to get such promises from studio directors, who like to use only kids with experience.

Mike Curtiz shrouded up on the set the other day grubbing about a house throat. "How can I direct good," he whined, "when I can't scream at the actors?"

"The Life of Dr. Euclid" has brought out the pseudo-scientific strain in Warner's publicity department. It seems that there was a sequence using a lot of white rabbits, and that Eddie Norris is acutely allergic to rabbits. So he passed out cold while trying to work near them, and only adrenalin brought him around. You can't say that press agents don't believe in publicity. The Screen Publicists Guild has hired a press agent. The talk of a Joan Crawford-Franchot Tone reconciliation doesn't sound convincing to those who know of the interest in singing Mary Parker. Kay Francis, Claude Rains and Ann Sothern spend many of their afternoons at the West Side Tennis club, rolling bandages for the Red Cross. And Miss Francis demonstrated her bandaging technique on guests at parties.

Another of those sad signs, this one on the marquee of a closed night club: "No Cover Charge—No Minimum Charge—No Customers."

Spirit of Christmas Prevails at Luncheon

The spirit of Christmas prevailed at the December luncheon meeting of the Twentieth Century club yesterday afternoon at the Park hotel, the table decorations making a dramatic setting for the seasonal program arranged by Mrs. D. L. Alexander, with Mrs. O. P. Duval in charge of the music.

Simulated cathedral windows, with 18-inch illuminated tapers reflecting through the clear cellophane that suggested leaded glass, before which were placed groupings of Mary and Joseph and the infant Jesus in a cradle, were arranged at the end of each large table, against the wall, Christmas figurines, including the Three Wise Men, and their camels, the shepherds and their sheep, were arranged at intervals along the length of the tables. Mrs. Ronald Graves, Mrs. Hugh MacMillan and Mrs. V. C. Ballantyne arranged the striking decor.

Traditional Holiday
Observance of the birth of Christ was gradual, and it was not until the fourth century that Christmas was generally celebrated. Rev. J. L. Jenkins, vicar of Ascension Episcopal church, and guest speaker of the afternoon, told his listeners, "To the Christian mind, the glory of the birth of Christ is reflected in the fact that he was born in the fifth century calculated a calendar that would accurately mark the birth of Christ, but that he has now been learned that he misdated the calculations about five years."

Other Speakers
Mrs. Ray Weaver, Buhl, member of the Lenth club of Buhl, which is sponsoring the project to purchase an iron lung for the Twin Falls county hospital, told of the various uses of the iron lung, and enumerated the endorsements of various medical authorities and institutions throughout the United States.

Mrs. J. W. Newman, president of the club, presented the Duval collection of the iron lung, which was presented to the hospital by the club members.

Worthy Matron Feted by Staff At Supper Party

Mrs. Ray D. Agee, worthy matron of Twin Falls chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was presented with a handsome gift, a bowl and matching centerpiece in the early afternoon at a supper party given by the staff of the chapter, which was held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Clamond and Mrs. Dale Waken, wives of men who hold office in the chapter, were also present.

Mrs. Winona Merritt presented Mrs. Agee with a cleverly-arranged scrapbook, a newspaper clipping record of her administration, which was compiled by the officers of the chapter, and contained their pictures.

Each officer was responsible for one month, arranging the record to suit her individual taste, and using the colors appropriate to her station.

Mrs. Agee won honors at bridge, following supper, Mrs. Helen Taylor won the all-out prize, and at pinocle, Mrs. Waken won the prize.

Single red tapers with clusters of red sweet peas and amaranthus at the bases, formed the central trim for the quiet tables and the room was also in keeping with the Christmas season.

Mrs. H. N. Champlin, Mrs. Bobler and Mrs. Carl Schlegel were in charge of the arrangements.

Between New Zealand and Suva the steamship on which she and her son, Claude Brown, Jr., returned to the United States, was within 100 miles of two German submarines, but they were not informed of this until after the ship had got on the last lap of the journey, and in consequence no "passenger panic" occurred, she said.

Mrs. Brown told the Australians the most courteous people in the world, adding that they take time to answer the questions of travelers, she said, and even the smallest children "take pains" if they brush against you in the streets or stores.

"The minute you are confronted by the U. S. custom in an American port, you are geared up to a different world," she laughed, but added that she preferred this country, even with its hustle and bustle, to any she had visited on her recent cruise.

Only about a foot and a half in size, they are protected in the public parks of Australia and Queensland it is not at all uncommon for park attendants to haul dogs to them from miles and miles away.

Dorothy Lamour has nothing on the natives of Suva, they've got second prize, she said, to Mrs. Brown, who brought one of the collection arrangements back, she called it the native costume of the men of Suva, and demonstrated how they double-tie them on the left hip. Policemen wear white coats to distinguish them from the rest of the natives, she said.

Australia Feels U.S. Could End War By Entering Now, Local Woman Finds

By JEAN DINKELACKER

"America could stop this war if she would enter the conflict now," said Mrs. Claude Brown, local woman, who over by the numerous Australian girls, Claude Brown met while in that country recently, she said yesterday in an interview with the Idaho Evening Times.

The repeal of the neutrality act, brought forth such enthusiastic comments as "It is the first victory for the allies," "the storehouse to the world is open," she said.

"There is no doubt the first ship to land at Sidney, second most beautiful port in the world, following Great Britain's declaration of war on Germany."

"America going to help?" was asked her repeatedly. At first she would say, "I hope not," but she learned to evade the issue with the comment, "I have four sons," and change the subject, she added.

The United States is in high regard in Australia, and it is the desire of the homes of this country, the styles and any number of things Americans that the country is adopting, getting away from the British pattern, Mrs. Brown observed.

Between New Zealand and Suva the steamship on which she and her son, Claude Brown, Jr., returned to the United States, was within 100 miles of two German submarines, but they were not informed of this until after the ship had got on the last lap of the journey, and in consequence no "passenger panic" occurred, she said.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (U.P.)—Administration leaders met Monday to discuss the question of the foreign policy of an "offensive defense" today.
President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Assistant Secretary of State Adolf Berle, Jr., all attended the meeting.
Mr. Roosevelt vigorously defended his foreign policy at a press conference late yesterday. In response to questions concerning the probable future of this government's relations with Soviet Russia, he said he had no new news on the question of diplomatic relations, but could not say what might happen.
He then castigated the critics of foreign policy in general, saying the principal opposition and criticism fall into the general categories of (1) the Soviet press; (2) portions of the Nazi press; (3) the publicity agent of the Republican national committee; (4) the Hearst newspapers.

Groups in Accord
He said these groups were substantially in accord in their criticism of foreign policy.
He added certain statesmen in Germany and Russia and a small number of solidly-minded persons and politically-minded members of the house and senate also had faulted the manner in which the American foreign relations are conducted.
Hull, invading the middle west where is centered a large portion of the criticism of his reciprocal trade treaty program, defended the trade treaties at the annual banquet of the American Farm Bureau Federation in Chicago last night. Hull said that while the present European war is in progress, the United States must continue to exert its influence in shaping the peace which must eventually follow. In that case, he said, the mistakes which the world made after the close of the World War must not be repeated.
By adhering to the trade policy which we now follow, we can throw our influence on the side of economic progress and of peace and order to our immense benefit," he said.

Contrasts Events
Berle, speaking at the George Washington University conference on inter-American affairs, reviewed this government's relations with the other American republics and contrasted events in this hemisphere with those in the old world.
The department officials revealed the United States is willing to participate in a joint declaration of the 21 American nations denouncing Soviet Russia's invasion of Finland, providing all American governments participate. The move, he said, was suggested by Uruguay.
The United States' own attitude was indicated when President Roosevelt announced he had instructed the secretary of the treasury to place Finland's semi-annual debt payment—$224,000—due Dec. 15, in a special account with view diverting it to some service in behalf of the Finnish people.

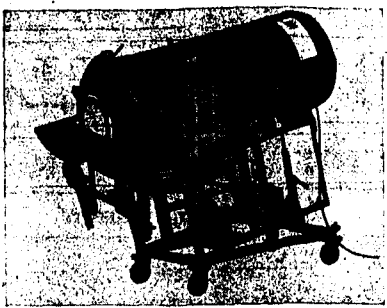

RAILROAD CHIEFS CONFER IN IDAHO

Conferring in Twin Falls, Buhl and Jerome yesterday concerning the potato exhibit train coming to south Idaho Jan. 26 and 27, two high officials of the Union Pacific railroad met with various city leaders.
They were W. H. Guild, general manager of the south central district for the U.P., and A. J. Belz, assistant traffic manager for the same district. Both men have headquarters at Salt Lake City.
While in Twin Falls Mr. Guild and Mr. Belz emphasized the need for additional use of the air-conditioned train which the Union Pacific put on the Twin Falls-Buhl run as a convenience south side traffic. Patronage has been low and it is feared that the modern service might have to be removed in future if passengers and freight shippers do not take advantage of it. It reaches here at 8 a. m. daily and leaves at 7 p. m. Through sleeper accommodations are provided.

Local Sportsmen Attend Meeting

Those attending the Fourth District Sportsmen's association meeting at Gooding last night from here were as follows:
Representing the B club—Dr. George P. Scholer, Lud Drasler, Jim Moore, Charles K. Davidson and George D. VanDusen.
From Southern Idaho Fish and Game association—W. I. Tanner, I. A. Appell and Rex Warren.

Here's How 'Iron Lung' Looks

Photographed above is an "iron lung," artificial respirator such as the family club of Buhl, with the cooperation of this section of the state, hopes to purchase for the Twin Falls county general hospital, and for the use of all southern Idaho residents who might need its facilities. The end device is a fitting-rotating model of the Drinker-Collins respirator, which is widely used in hospitals throughout the United States.

Blaine County Support Pledged for Iron Lung

Blaine county church and school organizations, judges and clubs pledged full support of the campaign to purchase an iron lung for southern Idaho. The Evening Times was informed today by Mrs. P. C. McVicker, Halley, at whose home a meeting of 19 representative men and women's organizations of the county was held last evening.
"Enthusiasm for the project is running high, and it is the hope of the county have agreed to an assessment of $3 or more for each group, collections to be made by Dec. 20," Mrs. McVicker said today.
Named Chairman
Mrs. McVicker, member of the Halley American Legion and auxiliary and the Halley Civic Club, two of many participating organizations, was appointed Blaine county contact chairman by the family club of Buhl, sponsor of the campaign to secure an artificial respirator which would be the property of the Twin Falls county hospital, but which would be available to anyone in southern Idaho having need of its services.
Youths Assist
Boy Scouts and Camp Fire girls of Blaine county will be in charge of the placing of collection boxes in schools and business houses throughout the entire county.
Junior Neil, employed at the First Security bank of Halley, has been named treasurer of the iron lung fund for the county, and trade organizations will deposit their collections with him as soon as possible, so that the Blaine county contribution may be sent on Dec. 20, Mrs. McVicker said.
Mrs. Ray Weaver, member of the iron lung fund committee of the family club in Twin Falls yesterday to address the Twentieth Century club concerning the campaign, said: "Resisting to provide an artificial respirator is like failing to provide respirators on a boat because there is little chance of the boat's sinking."
Mrs. F. E. Stansel is president of the family club, and Mrs. J. J. Brennan is chairman of the iron lung fund committee.

For Entire Area
It is the intention of the sponsor club that the iron lung shall become the property of the Twin Falls county general hospital, and shall be available for use in emergency throughout southern Idaho, according to Mrs. Weaver who added:
"In the two years the iron lung has been in possession of the Salt Lake City hospital, it has been used 20 times, and has been the direct means of saving seven lives, the hospital authorities of that city have informed us."
Mrs. Weaver quoted H. T. Price, medical director and chief of staff of the Children's hospital at Pittsburgh, Penn., as having this to say concerning the need on occasions:
"I have a young pupil who has been a victim of paralysis. He is unable to get about. Consequently he must travel from his chair. He collects match covers as a hobby and gets a tremendous amount of pleasure from them. Would you be kind enough to send several from Paralytic Blue in vicinity to add to her collection? I assure you it would be greatly appreciated."

Paralyzed Student Would Like Idaho Match-Box Covers

Stricken by infantile paralysis, a small schoolgirl of Berkeley, Calif., would be mighty happy to add some match covers from Twin Falls and south Idaho to her collection.
That was the simple plea received by the Chamber of Commerce today from the little girl's teacher, Miss Jerry Wilson, 2926 Shattuck avenue, Berkeley.
And here's the letter:
"I have a young pupil who has been a victim of paralysis. He is unable to get about. Consequently he must travel from his chair. He collects match covers as a hobby and gets a tremendous amount of pleasure from them. Would you be kind enough to send several from Paralytic Blue in vicinity to add to her collection? I assure you it would be greatly appreciated."

TOWN HALL WILL HEAR WAR FACTS

Bringing a first-hand account of the new war in Europe—and what's behind it—U.S. veterans war correspondents will arrive in Twin Falls tomorrow shortly before his lecture to Town Hall club.
He is Arno Doeh-Fleuret, who has been "covering" foreign battle fronts for more than 25 years. He speaks at 8 p. m. Thursday at the T.H.S. club to the Town Hall organization.
From Twin Falls Mr. Doeh-Fleuret will go to Boise, where the Knife and Fork club has scheduled his talk for Friday evening.

Magic Valley Camera club held practically the entire session of the Monday night meeting in the dark room of the club quarters, where Victor Goertzen and Howard Wiseman demonstrated the proper method of making contact prints.
The negatives were furnished by the club members and at the close of the meeting, finished contact prints were given as souvenirs.
At a later meeting, the same procedure will be used to demonstrate enlarging technique. Members' enlargers have been making progress at the next regular meeting, Monday, Dec. 18, the annual election of officers will be held. It is urgent that all members attend this meeting.

Long Used
"Artificial respiration in some form or another has probably been used by man for ages and has been used to resuscitate victims of asphyxiation. Records of the past several years show that many devices and methods have been invented and devised only to be discarded when proven ineffective.
"During the past 75 years, postural methods were developed of which the most important and the most commonly used today is the Schaefer prone pressure method developed in 1907.
"The use of artificial respiration has been so important to mankind that the Red Cross life-saving stations, Boy Scouts, army, navy and most well-organized medical concerns have developed this technique to a very efficient degree."

Iron Lung History
"Because existing methods of providing artificial respiration for long periods of time were not satisfactory, the New York Consolidated Gas company contacted Dr. Philip Drinker of the Harvard school of public health in 1927 to try to solve this problem. In 1928, Dr. Drinker, with the help of the Warren E. Collins, Inc., produced the first 'iron lung.' When the vital function of respiration is disturbed, the iron lung is indispensable in maintaining life, and its use must be continued until the natural process of breathing is reestablished, or life will cease."
The iron lung has many uses besides cases of infantile paralysis, such as carbon monoxide poisoning, drowning, lockjaw, food poisoning, gas asphyxiation, drug poisoning, electric shock, snake or scorpion, diphtheria paralysis, brain tumor, cerebral hemorrhage, heat prostration, alcoholic coma, temporary failure of respiration due to accidental causes or after surgical operations, as in post-anesthetic collapse.

IDAHO FOREIGN SERVICE MAN EXPECTS PEACE IN 3 MONTHS

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Dec. 6 (U.P.)—There will be peace in Europe within three months, predicts Fred C. Pickell, a graduate of the University of Idaho, until recently employed in the United States consular service in Germany. Mr. Pickell was back on the campus last night and visited old friends before returning to the foreign service.
Peace will come to Europe soon without Hitler's help, says Mr. Pickell. He prophesies, Hitler will call a conference and the first step will be the repudiation of the Russian pact. The next day the future will announce that the war is over—Germany has won and conquered all the land that she needs.
German Skeptical
The German people are becoming skeptical of Hitler's policies," the Idaho graduate declared, "and are beginning to see the fallacy of his ideas since the Munich conference."

Mr. Pickell spent a year and a half in Europe attending the University at Heidelberg and working in the American consulate in Germany.
"Hitler is just like Napoleon—crazy with power," Mr. Pickell believes. "He will continue his policy of aggression until he is killed."
England is trying to undermine the confidence of the German people in the Führer and possibly establish Göring as the dictator, according to Mr. Pickell. Goebbels is the closest of Hitler's aides, but the propaganda minister is losing the confidence of Hitler and is "all washed up as far as power is concerned."

Italy Anti-Hitler
Italy, the Balkan states and the rest of the neutrals are definitely anti-Hitler, the consul confides. Italians are " jittery " about the European situation and continually plead to Hitler to keep them out of the war. Italy and Germany can never achieve a military pact, because of their conflicting interests in the Balkans—both countries seeking territorial and economic control over the Danubian basin.
If the United States is drawn into the war it will either be because of the pressure of economic interests or the fighting for a "lost cause," such as the " absurd " policy of the "United States of Europe."

"Such a policy would never work."

Boise Police Raid Drinking, Gambling Spots; Hold Three

BOISE, Dec. 6 (U.P.)—The Boise police department continued its raids on gambling and illegal drinking establishments last night, arresting three more persons.
Mayor James L. Straight announced three of seven operators of Boise clubs and bars arrested Nov. 23 for violation of liquor laws would be given hearings by the city council on whether their beer licenses should be revoked.

TWIN FALLS DOMINATES BIG SIX ALL-STARS

Cartney, Anderson, Patton Named By Coaches, Players of Conference

By HAL WOOD
Evening Sports Editor

Twin Falls grid players topped the selections of coaches, players and officials of the South Idaho conference, a compilation of results showed today for the annual all-star team.

On the first two teams the Champion Bruins placed six men and of these three were on the all-star club. Pocattello and Nampa, who tied for second place in the conference, each garnered two spots in the first line-up, as did the Caldwell, Boise and Idaho Falls, experiencing disastrous seasons, each placed one man.

End spots on the honor club went to Ira Cartney of Twin Falls and Gene Peterson of Pocattello. They were nearly unanimous in the voting, with Bill Folson of the Bruins getting the only other first place vote from the entire loop. Cartney, a 171-pound senior, was an outstanding defensive player and when the going was tough he was a giant on a great Twin Falls line.

Peterson of Pocattello, state hurdler champion, was just about the best man on Coach Jimmie Hillman's club this year. He played a whole of a game on both offense and defense, besides doing some kicking and ball packing. He weighs 173 pounds and is a senior.

Anderson at Tackle and Patton at End were the two tackle spots went to Don Anderson, 190-pound Twin Falls line man, and Ernest Patton, 173-pound Caldwell man. Anderson, while considered a strong lineman, was a surprise vote receiver, getting chosen on every first or second team in all the balloting. During the last three games of the season he did the Twin Falls kicking and was the best surprise package of the season. Coach Hillman said when the going got tough—especially in the championship game against Nampa when he consistently kept the Bruins in the hole with out-of-bounds bunts inside the 20-yard line.

Frankie was the choice of the coaches and was the malotusky in a not-too-strong team.

The guard spots went to Dick Crabtree of Idaho Falls and Gene Collins, Caldwell. Both are seniors and are playing their final high school seasons. They were outstanding in the championship game, respectively posts and Coach Joe Call of Idaho Falls stated that Crabtree was the most consistent man on the Tiger club.

Center Choice

For center, without a struggle, the choice was Fielding Abbott of Caldwell. He was the only man on the team and a near unanimous choice. Although he didn't play quite as steady as he has played of Twin Falls, he was the only man to win several games and therefore came through with votes from opposing coaches and coaches in four out of six games.

Big Bob Patton, Twin Falls backfield ace, draws the fullback assignment and was the choice of the coaches and players. He is the heaviest man on the all-star lineup and the only junior to make the club. All the rest are seniors. Patton is a big, strong, hard-hitting player with his great punting ability, line with his great punting ability, Patton was the choice of the coaches and players. Texas A. & M. Meets Tulane in Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 6 (UP)—The Sugar bowl stole a march on the Cotton bowl today and obtained one of the nation's choice teams—the Texas Aggies—for its game New Year day.

The New Orleans Midwinter Sports association announced the Aggies would meet Tulane here. The financial guarantee, if any, was not stated, but the Texans turned down an offer of $85,000 to play in their own state's Cotton bowl.

The announcement came in the midst of frenzied maneuvering by Cotton bowl officials in Dallas to stymie the Pasadena Rose bowl by lining up the two outstanding teams—Tennessee and Texas Aggies. The Aggies claimed they would have been willing to play in the Cotton bowl if they could be sure Tennessee would be their opponent, but Tennessee was unwilling to make a decision last night and so they rejected New Orleans' bid.

They left undefeated, unscathed upon, until Tennessee was available for the Rose bowl and the Texans had been invited to play in the Orange bowl at Miami and also in the Cotton bowl at Dallas.

A virtual 70,000 sellout was assured for the Sugar bowl match. Fans had begun buying tickets weeks ago.

The Boston Bruins, aided by their veteran defense line, Eddie Shore, were in a National Hockey league second-place tie with the Montreal Canadiens today after whipping the New York Rangers for a second time in three nights, 2 to 1. Toronto heads the ice circuit.

Milwaukee of the American association has purchased pitcher Jimmy DeShong from the Yankees. DeShong was a free agent, who formerly played with the Chicago, Phillies, and Pacific coast teams.

William B. Langford of Trinity college has resigned as secretary of the football rules committee because of ill health. Ernie Plunkett of the Washington Redskins football team and Mildred Patterson of Los Angeles, who were married in Alexandria, Va., are in New York today.

The national A.A.U. will investigate the indoor track at Dartmouth on which Clem Cunningham ran his record 4:04 1/2 mile. Someone claimed the track was not constructed properly.

Blake invented the microphone in the form we know it.

Chain Clubs Fear Landis Attack

Cut Suggested On Pheasant Hen Limit

GOODING, Dec. 6 (Special)—Suggestion that the bag limit on pheasants be retained at four with only two hens allowed in the group was made as members of associated sportsmen's club from throughout south central Idaho gathered here last night for the formation of the Fourth District Sportsmen's association.

W. R. Priebe, Twin Falls, was elected chairman of the organization, retaining the post he had held as temporary head of the organization. A. D. McMahon of Jerome was also re-named as secretary-treasurer. Lee Hill of Shoshone was elected vice-president.

The organization is composed of representatives from the various sportsmen's organizations from this area and is a "banding" club, meeting only for the purpose of submitting suggestions from these clubs to district game and fish representative George Booth of Burley, who is also chairman of the state group.

Each sportsmen's club in the district will be allowed two delegates for membership in the organization and each club will be allowed only two votes.

The following resolutions were recommended to Mr. Booth for presentation to the game and fish commission:

1.—Uniform date of not earlier than Nov. 1 be set for opening of the pheasant season to southern Idaho and discontinuance of shipping permits.

2.—The daily bag limit should consist of not over two hens out of the permitted four birds.

3.—The Jerome game farm be kept up to the maximum production.

4.—The age hen season be closed next year and that fenced areas be provided for breeding sanctuaries.

5.—Propagation of Chukar, large partridges, be continued next year.

6.—That the commission hold open season on buck antelope each year.

7.—The commission investigate the feasibility of planting antelope in Idaho and Twin Falls counties and that the special Minnesota deer hunt be continued next year.

8.—Fishing in all irrigation reservoirs be opened the year round, and that the fish and game commission allow the snagging of salmon in the Snake river on eggs for salmon and that spearfishing be discontinued.

For the next meeting, Burley was selected as the host city and the date will be decided upon by Chairman Priebe.

Target for Trojan Tossers

Glove-fingered Al Krueger, 165-pound end here of Southern California's Rose bowl victory, is one of the big reasons why the Trojans are favored to beat U. C. L. A. in Los Angeles, Dec. 9, and again claim the right to represent the west in the Pasadena classic.

Owners Gloat Over Success Of Minor Rules

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
CINCINNATI, Dec. 6 (UP)—Chain store baseball today was at its peak as a result of streamlined legislation passed at yesterday's National association meeting but some of the major league clubs with minor league holdings were nevertheless more than trifle apprehensive of Commissioner K. M. Landis' possible counter attack.

Landis, long a bitter foe of chain store systems operated by major league clubs, was due to arrive tomorrow for the opening of the annual winter major league meetings. Meanwhile, the prominent chain store operators, Safeway, Cardinals, Red Lobster and Saks, had a full day to gloat over their decisive victory in the minor league legislative hall.

Termed "Marvelous"

Branch Rickey, father of chain store baseball and head of the Cardinals' vast farm system of 29 clubs, characterized the new legislation as "marvelous." He particularly was happy because the Cardinals didn't have to sponsor any of the new amendments.

Two of the most important, one of which provides that each club in the chain system must be considered as a separate unit and the other which states that all baseball laws must be construed in strict accordance with the letter of the law without interpretation, were introduced by Cincinnati and Brooklyn. These two amendments to the major league agreement still have to be ratified by the majors at their joint session Saturday, but that was expected to be a routine matter.

Major Ed Beatty

While the minors moved into the last day of their three-day convention, the majors cleared decks for action in the trading market. The New York Giants became favorites to pull the first major deal of the meeting when they shipped outfielder John Mauer to the Boston Braves for a minor league pitcher and a minor league infielder. The Chicago Cubs are seeking a shortstop, and are supposedly sweet talking the Cardinals for a pitcher. The Cincinnati Reds might wind up with a pitcher from the Cardinals or Morris Arnovich of the Phillies for their weak left field spot.

Wilson's and Dell's Win Bowling Tilts

Dell's bowling team members all rolled over the 500-mark last night and the result was a 3-1 win over Elks. High honors for the evening went to McDonald with a 581 total and a 224 top single. Low score on the club for the evening was by Bruggemann with a 512.

For the Elks, John Ford had a 212 top single and Hof had a 531 three-game series.

City league play saw Wilson's store of Kimberly knock over four in a row from Twin Falls Flour Mill as Paul Cullen and Roy Weller showed the way. Weller had a 564 total and Cullen a top single of 242.

Garber led the losers with a 542 count, while Clark had a high single of 195.

STRIKES to SPARE With Fred Stone

With every player going over the 500-mark, Dell's team took three out of four from the Elks, with Bill McDonald, who turned in a 581, showing the way to all of them. Single high game also went to Bill Williams again with a 224.

Ray Pierce turned in a 534 total. N. O. Johnson got 520 and the doghouse battle was between Charles Bruggemann and Walt Riegger, with Walt finally coming out on top with a 512.

Hof, with 531, led the Elks. J. Ford was next in line with 524 and the rest of the Elks were down. Ford had a high 212 for his side game.

Seniors Clinch Cage Crown

The seniors today held the Twin Falls high school inter-class basketball championship after yesterday's triumph over the juniors, 21-8, at the gymnasium.

The last-year men held an 11-2 advantage at the half time and were never in danger. Monday the seniors advanced to the finals with a 34-4 victory over the sophomores.

With the seniors' triumph came the way, the variety basketball practice will get underway with probably 10 men trying out for first string before the 1940-41 edition of the Bruins. Included from last year's squad are Bill Folson, center; Eric Evans and George Davidson, forwards; Ira Carney and Herb Larsen, forwards. Other seniors are Wells, D. Smith, Schumacher, C. V. Stone, McGee and Gene Hales. On the junior club, and in all probability candidates for the varsity club will be Pat Wallace and Crut Trez, forwards; Randy, center; and Tolson and Farmer, guards. Those on the junior outfit were West, Pearson, Kyeleson, Robertson and Hilde.

Yanks Pay Heavily For Youthful Hollywood Hurler

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (UP)—The New York Yanks today obtained a promising young Italian pitcher for their New York Yankees. They gave four players to Hollywood for Rinaldo Arditico, who went 14 and lost 10 last season. Pitchers Hiram Blalock and Paul Andrews went to Hollywood outright, Shortstop Claude Orsbit on option, and one amateur player will be sent there later.

Dukes Turn Down Bid to Sun Bowl Tilt

HALFBACK posts to George Miller, Boise, and Bob Simmons, Nampa. Miller was the sparkplug of the down-trodden Drive eleven that finished last season with a record of 1-5 for the first time in many years. A speedy man in the open, he made much of the Boise attack throughout the season and was dependable from game to game. Simmons was the best of a very good Nampa backfield, and he was the current champion of the championship game against Twin Falls without a defeat.

The quarterback post was awarded to Dale Dykeman, Pocattello, a general and one of the fastest men in the conference. He weighed only 150 pounds but packed dynamite when carrying the ball and was considered one of the smartest field generals in the loop. He sparked the Bruins to a victory over Caldwell, despite the fact that they dropped their final game to Idaho Falls to get knocked out of the conference title.

The second team measures up nearly as well as the first and in fact is a 4-5 choice to win over the No. 1 club.

Second Team Ends

At ends are Bill Folson, Twin Falls, and Lee Johnson, Idaho Falls. Johnson was an all-star wingman in his junior year, but injuries kept him out of the current season. He was the star of the time this year, however, he is very capable and when performing was outstanding. Folson is probably the best offensive end in the conference and his pass-catching ability was one of the main weapons in the Twin Falls attack.

Tackles chosen were Frank Sander of Boise and Bill Stewart, the senior, of Caldwell. Stewart was a star in his junior year, but injuries kept him out of the current season. He was the star of the time this year, however, he is very capable and when performing was outstanding. Folson is probably the best offensive end in the conference and his pass-catching ability was one of the main weapons in the Twin Falls attack.

Cornell Accepts Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (UP)—Cornell university, unbeaten and untied in the eastern college football season, accepted the Lambert memorial trophy at a dinner in Jack Dempsey's restaurant last night.

Presented to Coach Carl Snavely by the Lambert brothers, Henry L. and Victor A., the trophy is emblematic of supremacy in eastern football.

On the Block

Announcement that all but two members of Philadelphia Phillies are material for trading block at annual major league baseball conference in Cincinnati, Dec. 4-6, may result in spirited bidding for Morrie Arnovich, above, hard-hitting outfielder who led National league in batting for first half of 1939 season before he suffered a slump.

Farm Sale of Old Days Was Bit Different

Back in 1840—being nearly 100 years ago—when a resident of Versailles, Ky., had a public sale it usually meant but one thing and that was that the resident was going to move to Oregon territory and start life all over.

A sale of this type recently formed the basis for a feature story in the Sedgewick Pantagraph, published at Sedgewick, Harvey county, Kansas. The copy of the "ancient" sale bill was presented to the owners of the paper by a Kansas resident who found it among old effects. The paper was received here by E. L. Rayburn, local attorney.

Kept Ox Teams
The sale was to include everything—with one notable exception, that being "Ben and Buck and Tom and Jerry," two ox teams.

"Having sold my farm," the sale bill reads, "and am leaving for Oregon territory by ox team, will offer on March 1, 1840, all ox teams except two teams, Ben and Buck and Tom and Jerry."

But animals and general farm equipment were not the only items for sale, as the sale bill shows. It continues:

"At the same time I will sell six Negro slaves, two men, 35 and 50 years old, two boys, two mulatto wenches, 40 years old."

But the owner "had a heart" at that, as evidenced by the following sentence:

"Will sell all to same party, as will not separate them."

Cash Terms
Terms of the sale?—Well, they were cash.

"Terms of sale: Cash in hand or note to draw four per cent. interest, with Ben McDaniel as security."

Perhaps it was an after thought but the last sentence read: "Plenty to eat and drink."

Included among the items offered at the sale were the following:

One iron plow with wood mold board, 500 10-foot fence rails, a 60 gallon soap kettle, ten gallons of maple syrup, 100 split hoops, 100 empty barrels, 32 gallons of apple brandy, a 30 caliber rifle, bullock horn, and powder mold and powder horn, soft made by Ben Miller, 50 gallons of soft soap, six head of cow hounds, all soft mouthed except one.

HULL PACTS ARE TERMED WRONG

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 6 (U.P.)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade treaties are a "cockeyed idea" which can ruin farming, Frederick Breckman of Washington, legislative representative of the National Grange, said today.

Addressing the New Jersey State assembly's 67th annual convention, Breckman said farmers were menaced by the "cockeyed idea of trying to pay farmers $750,000,000 a year out of the treasury to reduce crops and at the same time lowering tariffs to flood the market with these same crops."

Postal "Santa" Gets Busy

The old guy behind the mass of whiskers in the above photograph is not the "real McCoy" so far as Santa Claus is concerned, but he feels like it. Reason is that he is reading letters sent by local youngsters to Santa Claus, expressing their wants for Christmas. Even at this early date they have started to pour into the postoffice here—the "north pole" for this section. The postoffice worker opined that he might as well look the part as well as feel it and so he donned the above Santa suit. (P. S., if Ed Libert's boy will look behind the beard shown above he'll recognize his dad.) (Times Photo and Engraving)

Here's a Lad Who Puts Gift Choice on Santa!

You might not believe it—but a youngster has been found who isn't taking Santa Claus for anything, but rather is leaving the gift situation squarely up to the bewhiskered gentleman from the North Pole region.

Such a situation was uncovered today at the local postoffice when a letter addressed to the postmaster was received. The letter read: "What do you think would be good for a good little boy that minds his mother and teacher?"

Letters Coming In
This, the postmaster explained, is only one of several letters which the department has received to date. It nearly all cases no stamp is placed on the letter and they are found in neighborhood mail boxes. All such letters are turned over to local organizations and, if an address is given, the case is investigated to determine if the parents are of the needy group. If the parents are not needy then the note is given to them and the "tip off" is thus complete, enabling them to do their Christmas shopping early.

Before Christmas comes, officials point out, there will be 20 or more such letters received. Some they can read but so far as others are concerned, sometimes the youngster hasn't yet learned to write.

For instance there was a letter received today. The mother had evidently answered the envelope to please the child but the child "wrote" the letter. On close inspection it looked very much like the recording tape of an early talkie machine located in a laboratory. It was just a series of "ups and downs."

Wants "Machine Gun"
One youngster wrote "Dear Santa" asking him to "please give me a machine gun."

Another asked for a truck and added: "P. S. Make truck full of cream."

Another was a "three-in-one" letter, with three children putting down their wants.

They wanted: (1) drink and wet doll (2) baby carriage (3) clothes trunk.

"Belle" (1) fire truck (2) toy machine gun (3) bread set.

"John" (1) fire truck (2) toy machine gun (3) poppy toy.

"Eleven" (1) microscope (2) chemistry set (3) movie projector.

While discussing the letters the postmaster said:

"Some of them are full of humor. While others are pitiful. The organizations which investigate these letters, when addresses are given, are to be commended for their work."

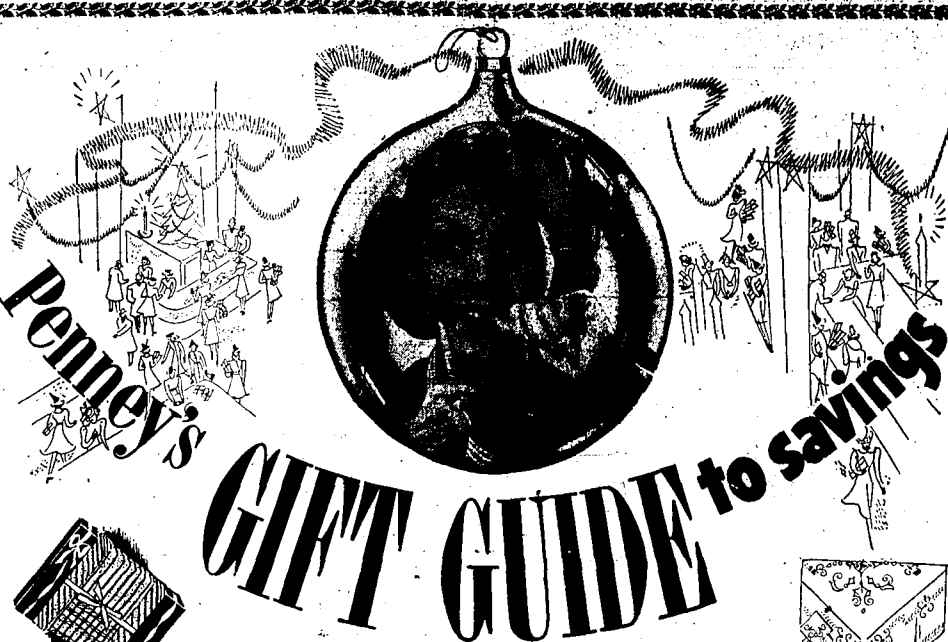

They Want This
"We want the following for Christmas:

"(1) drink and wet doll (2) baby carriage (3) clothes trunk.

"Belle" (1) fire truck (2) toy machine gun (3) bread set.

"John" (1) fire truck (2) toy machine gun (3) poppy toy.

"Eleven" (1) microscope (2) chemistry set (3) movie projector.
