MURDER OF GERMAN CONSUL'S AIDE CREATES MYSTERY

NO CLUES FOUND AFTER NEW YORK FICTION SLAYING

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—The brutal bludgeoning of the Nazi official connected with all the elements of a fictional murder mystery, a case fraught with possibilities of international complications.

Police announced today that 16 of his "friends," associates and neighbors had been unable to give them any information of value. The case was listed as having an "open motive, with robbery definitely out."

Engelberg was found beaten to death in his bed at his Brooklyn home shortly after 1 p. m. yesterday. Medical examiners said he had been dead at least 24 hours. Because he was in bed, clad in a nightgown, it was believed he was slain Monday night or early Tuesday. The position of the body and his unclenched hands indicated he was killed while asleep.

Detectives sought seven or eight men who had shared the five-room two-story house with him at different times during the last year. The bed of a room adjoining that in which he was slain had been slept in recently. Dresser drawers and the closet, empty, were open in the second bedroom, indicating that his occupant might have packed hurriedly. The back door of the house was unlocked, the key on the outside.

Engelberg Unpopular

Engelberg was unpopular in the neighborhood. Neighbors were suspicious of him and never reported that a trailer containing radio sending and receiving equipment had been parked in front of the house last summer. An aerial on its roof was seen to give off "blue sparks," suggesting to them that it was powerful.

Detectives were translating letters in German found in drawers and a chest in his second-floor study. Dr. Hans Borchers, the German consul general, declined to comment.

Engelberg came here from Chicago more than a year ago because he felt that the salt air of the coast would relieve a sinus condition. He had worked in the Chicago consulate only two months, having gone there from Athens, Greece.

Coffee plants must be shaded while young. To accomplish this, taller plants are grown between the rows of coffee plants, bananas, castor oil plants or Indian corn serve the purpose admirably.

Father Beery Gets More Fatherly

Wallace Beery, screen actor, proudly grins at his newly adopted baby, 1-month-old Phyllis Ann Beery, as his other adopted daughter, Carol Ann Beery, looks on.

Wallace Beery Maps Adoption Of 3 Children

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 7 (AP)—

Wallace Beery, the man who used to live alone and didn't like it, announced today he intended to adopt three children, assorted as to sex, and turn them into movie actors.

He already has two foster daughters and he figures one more daughter and a couple of sons should fill the bill.

If he is to get about five kids," rumbled Beery. "It kind of eases your conscience, taking in kids, and anyway, I love 'em."

Beery lives with Carol Ann, seven years old, and Phyllis Ann, seven months, in one of Beverly Hills' biggest houses, together with an assortment of tutors, nurses, and body guards enough to staff a gangster's headquarters.

"So I'm all set for about three more kids," he said. "Last week I got 25 letters from people wanting me to adopt their children and I'm going to look into all the orphanage situation."

Boise Boasts Biggest U. S. Air Runway

BOISE, Dec. 7 (AP)—The City of Boise now boasts an airport which city officials and airline executives contend has the longest runway of any port in the nation.

The area of the Boise field is 960 acres—more than 250 city blocks. Its prevailing wind runway is 8,800 feet in length, 1,000 feet in width. The east-west runway is 6,000 feet by 600 feet and the north-south runway 4,100 feet by 600 feet. The available landing area is 21,000,000 square feet, or equal to 112 miles of 30-foot standard highway.

The old runway area, when completed, will total 3,000,000 square feet, equal to 31 miles of standard 16-foot paved highway.

The field was built to take care of the airplane of the future. The plane of today of maximum weight is 65,000 pounds with a cruising speed of 220 miles per hour, compared to a plane with a maximum weight of 4,000 pounds and a maximum speed of 100 miles an hour a few years ago.

BIG SURPLUS OF TURKEYS FACES IDAHO GROWER

CALDWELL, Dec. 7 (AP)—Idaho turkey producers with a crop of 245,000 birds on hand, 25 per cent more than 1938 production and faced with national markets guided by a surplus, have opened a campaign to eliminate the idea the turkey is a feast day delicacy.

"We must educate the housewife out of the idea the turkey is a luxury," said A. E. Praedrich, Caldwell, chairman of the Idaho turkey growers' stabilization committee. "Consumer demand must be increased at least 25 per cent within the next three months if the turkey grower is to come out on top."

Young Bill Potoski's girl friend (or girl friends, for all I know) better be worrying.

When the doc gave Bill injured last night to fix up that injured elbow, I told William started talking a blue streak. When he came out of the other, all he could remember was that "I had beautiful dreams" and talked about them.

Now he's wondering what the dickens he said.

AND NO KNOCK-KNEES EVER GOT FAMOUS:

Dear Mister:
I guess you're tired to yourself a monopoly on headline commenting. I'd like to bust in with a remark. Said the Evilness the other day: "Famous Knees Fall to Click in Big Parade."

But if they HAD clicked, they'd have been knock-knees.

HE FIGURES INVISIBLE MEANS GET THAT!

Dear Pot Shots:
A group of adults was talking about the marvelous inventions of the past year, and invisible glasses came up for discussion.

A junior member of the family, who has been listening to the conversation, put in his "divvy."

"Suppose you lost them, how'd you find them?" he wanted to know.

RECENT RUMOR, EH?

Pot Shots:
It seems that the reporting staff in having a hard time getting all the news on the recent rumor of a sale of the town of Buhl. We have asked Jack Frost to be more careful how he heads his "Ten Year" ago happenings so the news won't be confused. The following recently appeared in "Looking Backward, Ten Years Ago": "C. D. Boring, pioneer engineer, announces the purchase of the town of Buhl from the Johnsons and announces that he will merge the two towns in the Bohrmann-Johnson location in Main street."

Dear Pot Shots:
Speaking of matters of common sense, I thought you might be interested in this. The fellow who was in the front row, when he asked the boy, got flustered, and blurted out: "Laddy, wouldn't it be a pretty good thing to buy a Red-Headed Ringer?"

CHAPTER XVIII
"JOHN, John!" Ara's appealing cry confirmed the truth of Dawson's statement. Douglas glanced down at his shoes. The gray-knuckled hand accused him.

"You were in the study, all right, listening to everything that Joey said to me," Dawson shot at him. "You heard us come out of the passageway, go into the living room. You stood right where you're standing now and when Joey peered around the corner, you killed him."

"Then you ran down the passageway to the street, doubled back and came into the study window. You ought to know your way along that route pretty well by now, Douglas. It's the second time you've been over it."

"HELLO, Captain! Sorry I'm late," Dan Flynn's greeting from in his throat, as he pushed through the front door, stared at the group gathered at the foot of the stairs. Before he could manage another word, he caught sight of all Doris's body.

"Joey!" he asked, softly.

"Yes," Dawson replied. "Murdered. Just like Benjamine. Joey knew too much."

"He could have been a good guy, if he'd been on the right side of the fence," Flynn blurted out. "I'll miss bringing you in, Joey."

"This man Douglas killed him," Dawson interrupted. "Put handcuffs on him. Don't let him out of your sight. And take them all into the living room and keep them there."

"Yes, sir," Krone, when did the coroner say 'head-be'.

"Captain," Flynn began, "this was a real fight. Not for hate, but for love. 'John Douglas was not in the passageway last night. I know it.'"

"I don't care about your hunches," Dawson shouted, his anger mounting. "Get in that living room and stay there. When I hear a sound, I'll listen. If you hunches, I'll send for you. Are you going to obey orders, Flynn?"

"Yes, sir," Flynn answered.

Dawson turned back to Krone and all Doris's body. "I want that"

"You're wrong, Captain," this was a real fight. Not for hate, but for love. "John Douglas was not in the passageway last night. I know it."

bullet first. How it checked against the one that killed Benjamine and you'll find they're the same. The gun was probably hidden in the garage study all the time. After you finish with the corner, have a look around outside for the revolver. Douglas probably threw it into the shrubbery."

"Maybe he brought it back into the study with him. I'll have a look. Get good pictures of all of 'em. He hurried into the study."

THERE was plenty of evidence against Douglas. He was in the window. Dawson's eyes picked up a moist outline of a shoe on the carpet by the window and outside. Douglas hadn't had the time to cover up his trail as he had last night.

The gun would be found soon. Douglas saw it in his hand. Maybe the Chief would give Dawson a vacation. ...

Seemed to be a nice boy. This Douglas came in all for an uncle he had never seen. And that girl—Ara—how deep was she mixed up in this. In this, too. Had a good break through. Douglas was only another one.

Dawson looked up, started as he entered the study. "I told Flynn the study."

"But I convinced him I had something important to tell you."

"I'll break that Irishman, so help me!"

"Really, Captain, I couldn't go far. Officer Krone is at the foot of the front stairs, Flynn is holding the door. I'm in a few minutes. I saw Mr. D. to come out here. He's waiting for me. I saw his face when he stopped beneath a street light."

"There's your killer, Captain. The man who killed my father is dead."

"I don't think so because—"

TEN minutes later she rose to leave.

"It will be dangerous for you, but I'll try to see that you are protected. Douglas assured her."

"I'm not afraid," she said, eyes shining. "I've a chance to have to take to John is innocent."

for it. He was going in the study window. He was to surprise Benjamine, threaten him, and force him to give up my proofs. John also wanted to make Benjamine know he was holding on to the corner. But John never intended to kill him.

"I've lived on hate so long, Captain. No one ever loved me, no one ever cared about me, except John. And I was fool enough to try to blame a murder on him. I know better now. I love John. He's the first, the only person I've ever loved. I've hated all the others, even those who tried to help a little. You—you can't blame him for this Benjamine murder!"

DAWSON admired this changed Ara. All the pretense, all the hardness, even the smoky, sultry light in her eyes were gone. Instead he saw the girl in love—a girl who has found love for the first time. She was willing to do anything to save the man she loved from the trap of a perfect footprints. Douglas hadn't had the time to cover up his trail as he had last night.

JAYCETTES TALK ON MEMBERSHIP

JEROME, Dec. 7 (Special)—Fifteen members of the Jerome Jaycettes gathered for their monthly meeting in the Jerome cafe Monday evening.

A lengthy discussion was held concerning the changing of the organization's constitution to allow membership to persons whose husbands are not members of the Jaycettes. It was decided to have the Jaycettes vote on the matter and report at the next meeting.

The Jaycettes will take care of the milk fund receipts and deliver them to the Jaycettes for purchase of candy and nuts and to purchase material to build toys for the annual Christmas "Kiddie party." Mrs. Frances Kinrade, Mrs. Dorothy Stafford and Mrs. Lois Weigle will assist the president, Mrs. Wanda Nixby in attaching labels to the 75 milk bottles which later will be placed at various points in downtown stores.

An invitation was read which had been recently received from the Buhl Jaycettes to attend the dance in the Buhl Legion hall at 9 p. m. Dec. 7. The dance will be held for the purpose of raising funds for Christmas toy benefit project.

Members voted to make a $5 donation for the iron lung fund.

Delinquent Taxes Set Paid Record

JEROME, Dec. 7 (Special)—Earl F. Kennedy, Jerome county treasurer and tax collector, stated today that the month of October showed the heaviest collection of delinquent taxes in the history of Jerome county.

There was collected during this month a total of $24,771.11 which included interest in the amount of $2,038.73. Mr. Kennedy also stated that apparently there are three factors responsible for this unusual collection: The fact that farm prices were fairly high during this period, many delinquent tax payers were taking advantage of the new tax law, providing for a reduction in interest if a large portion of the taxes were paid, and many mortgage companies were assisting their borrowers by adding them in re-financing.

September collection of delinquent taxes was somewhat above the average, amounting to $25,263.64.

Church Plans for Christmas Party

JEROME, Dec. 7 (Special)—Christmas plans for the Presbyterian church and Sunday school include a party Sunday for the primary children under the direction of Mrs. F. R. Mann, superintendent.

At 10 a. m. there will be a special missionary program and offering in the church groups. Regular morning service will feature special music by the adult choir, sermon by the pastor, Mr. J. E. Sutton, for uniting with the church. This is at 11 a. m. Dec. 24.

A musical pageant, "The Enchanted Candle," will be given at 7:30 p. m. the same day, under the direction of Mrs. Dean Ellis, with Mrs. M. F. Shanks as emcee. Following the evening program, the young people will go on a caroling tour.

BUHL

E. V. Molander, Buhl highway district commissioner who has served on the Buhl board for 20 years, was reelected Monday in an uncontested election.

Roy Falk, president-elect of Buhl Kiwanis club, Pres. D. D. Kallusky and Olin Smith, secretary-elect, attended the mid-year Utah-Triple convention last week-end in Pocatello.

Mrs. Ralph Bordewick and son, Jan, returned Monday from a visit in Pocatello, Ia.

Monday afternoon contract bridge club met with Mrs. A. J. Pinke. Mrs. James Shiloh, guest, received high score. Mrs. Franklin Orr, Mrs. Franklin Squires and Mrs. Bonnie Burdley were also guests.

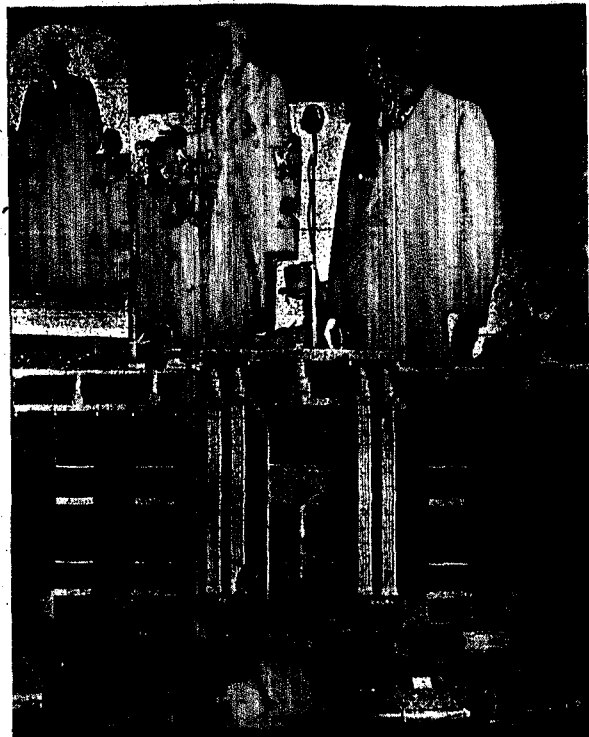

Buhl postmaster, L. P. Runyon, and Mrs. Runyon returned Saturday from an extended trip. They visited their daughter, Mrs. Stanley Skiles, in Boise; their youngest daughter, Janet, freshman at the University of Idaho at Moscow; and Mr. Runyon's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Runyon, Portland, Ore. They spent several days in Los Angeles visiting their son, George.

Millionaire-Philanthropist Dies at Colorado Springs

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Dec. 7 (UP)—Spencer Penrose, who spent millions of dollars in his mining fortune in making the picturesque Pike's peak region of Colorado one of the nation's tourist centers, died today at the age of 74.

Penrose, millionaire-philanthropist, died at his home, where he returned in November from Chicago. He left Colorado Springs in September for treatment of a lingering illness.

Penrose's last act was securing the Cleveland Ram-Philadelphia Eagle football game for Colorado Springs, first professional football game played in the Rocky mountain region.

Engineering Projects
Penrose conceived and developed many unusual engineering projects, including the world's highest automobile highway to the summit of Pike's peak; the famous Pike's peak cog railway, Mount Manitou scenic cable railway, and the Broadmoor-Cheyenne mountain highway. He was the son of Richard Alexander Pullerton Penrose and Sarah Hannah Bolea Penrose. He was the youngest of four brothers. One of his brothers was the late Bolea Penrose, for many years United States senator from Pennsylvania.

Attorney Refused Look at Records

BOISE, Dec. 7 (UP)—District Judge C. E. Winslow refused to compel Sam S. Griffin, Boise, secretary of the Idaho Bar association, and its board of commissioners, to allow J. H. Felton, Moscow attorney, to examine records of the commission in relation to disbarment proceedings against Felton, court records showed today.

The disbarment proceedings against Felton were dismissed by the state supreme court.

The judge held the files of the bar association were not public records and therefore were not subject to examination.

Group Hears Talk On Hebrew Faith

JEROME, Dec. 7 (Special)—Friday Nighters, young adult group sponsored by the Presbyterian church, heard an account of the development of the Hebrew religion, from its foundation to the present time, by Harry Friedman, Twin Falls businessman and leader of the local chapter of the B'nai B'rith.

Following a covered dish dinner at the Presbyterian church Mr. Friedman spoke on the Hebrew faith, then answered questions on his experiences in the Russian revolution, the history of the Zionist movement and present danger of anti-Semitism in America.

He stated that 500 organizations in this country are being investigated because of their efforts to stir up race hatred or to destroy present liberties. Federal bureau of investigation has information on all such groups.

Next meeting of the group will be a Christmas party at the home of Miss Dorothy Hopkins Friday, Dec. 15. All young adults, regardless of church affiliations, are welcome.

Brother Seeking Estate Authority

Petition asking administrator's decree in the estate of his late brother, J. E. Sutton, had been filed in probate court today by A. E. Sutton, Caldwell.

J. E. Sutton died Aug. 7 of this year in Twin Falls county, leaving an estate valued at $1,650 and including cluding Twin Falls city real estate. There are three brothers, a sister and two nieces. One brother and one niece reside in Twin Falls.

Judge C. A. Bailey set hearing for Dec. 19 on Mr. Sutton's petition. His attorneys are Scatterday and Scatterday, Caldwell.

GAINS NOTED FOR TWO RESERVOIRS

Two of the three main reservoirs serving this part of Idaho today showed gains in storage over figures a week ago, according to a report received by the Twin Falls Canal company from Lynn Grandall, watermaster.

The report shows that Lake Walcott is the only reservoir to register a drop during the past week, falling from 63,810 acre feet to 63,480. Jackson lake showed a gain from 242,530 to 247,740 and American falls reservoir from 560,780 acre feet to 601,720.

The report received at the canal company today shows no precipitation at Island Park, Ashton, or Mooring during the week ending Dec. 2.

Iddings Denies He Called Phosphate "Worthless Rock"

BOISE, Dec. 7 (U.P.)—Dean J. Idings, of the University of Idaho extension service, denied he ever had made a statement declaring raw rock phosphates were "practically worthless." Edward G. Rosenheim, attorney for the Teton Phosphate company, announced today.

Rosenheim said Dean Idings informed him that the statement on phosphates issued Oct. 12 sets forth experimental station and extension service policy regarding phosphate experimental and demonstrational work and is the only authorized and issued statement in recent months.

Rosenheim said Idings' statement "does not bear out an earlier press dispatch" carried by United Press.

At the sacrament meeting Sunday afternoon the following boys were ordained: Reed Earl and Donald Johnson, as priests; Dale Robert, Henry Stewart, Merle Brownson and Ralph Perkins as teachers, and as deacons, Devon Herbert. The following babies were blessed and named: Barbara Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ochoy, and Darla Ann and Joyce Ochoy, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bohm Steady.

How to Go Broke on $174,830 A Year

By GALLY RAND

Written for Idaho Evening Times

Through NMA Service

For several years they've been billing me as a sort of Babson of the Bubble, and, the fun-weaving financial wizard, the Nabob of Nudity. I look it big. I didn't see then that I was about to lose my shirt.

The report of my financial position was shocking off my garment or two now and then is nothing in my young life. But losing your shirt is something else again. It happened to me. When my bank folded in 1933 it squeezed to death all the savings I had up to that time.

The success I've had since, which built all that reputation as the Cyclops of Terrible Debt, came during the last six years. Now I can start over again. And I will.

Not Even a Rolls-Royce

Some of the writers made me out a sort of combination of Hettie Green and Balzac. I was supposed to have thousands of acres of land and insurance annuity contracts by the bale.

I was supposed to have the first nickel I ever earned tied up in blue baby-ribbon. Well, however much of that may have been true last August, it isn't true now.

No stocks, no automobiles, no annuities, not even a Rolls-Royce. Just $3,867.30 worth of clothes and jewelry for every dollar. Another $100,000 by night club appearances. This provides the money to go broke with. If you haven't got that, you don't go broke; you just are broke. I've been there both ways.

Then you open at tremendous expense, a show called "Gay Paree," an exposition which suddenly decides to close 35 days ahead of time.

Provides Doors

This enables you to take in just $146 net before the doors close and the creditors begin beating on them. You pay good money to the flock of girls who work in your concessions. Knowing that you are lucky yourself, you try to be generous to everybody. You keep your show changing, and costume them lavishly.

Somewhere you will find that it goes out faster than it comes in, and before you can say Lady Godiva it's all over.

But of course it isn't all over. Nothing ever is. I still have my fans, and while there's feathers there's hope. It all starts again.

But I've been broke before. I've slept on a bench in Central park, and I worked as a cigarette girl when I was 12.

And I didn't create my balloon "bubble" dance for nothing. I know that what goes up must come down, but also that it's likely to come up again if it's buoyant enough.

Jewelry Rests With Uncle

I've drawn $2,000,000 into the box offices during the past six years. Some have claimed I was a millionaire.

I wouldn't know about that. Maybe a million has passed through my hands, but people forget the expense that goes with these big shows. Usually the whole cost of my production and troupe came out of my pocket salaries.

All I know is that my best jewelry is with Uncle in New York, and that I have more pawn-tickets than platinum right now.

Going broke on $174,830 a year? It's easier than getting the $174,830 in the first place!

Minnie Moore Mine Refuses To Give Up Buried Treasure

HAILEY, Ida., Dec. 7 (U.P.)—The fabulous Minnie Moore mine, that shimmered with its timbers decaying for 30 years after it once led the world in silver production, still refuses stubbornly to give up its buried treasure to engineers today despite expenditure of more than $1,000,000 in an effort to redevelop it.

The Minnie Moore gave forth $10,000,000 worth of silver before the miners working its rich ore suddenly came to a halt in the one body where the earth's strata had shifted.

E. Rockwell, of Bellevue, general manager of the Minnie Moore when its ore vein pierced out, clung to the idea that the faulted vein could be rediscovered.

Shaft Fall

Some of the nation's leading mining engineers worked on the problem of locating the hidden ore body. They worked out the problem of finding it with all the geological science and geophysics at their command. But the numerous shafts failed to tap the ore body.

Rockwell believed he finally had located the faulted ore early in 1930. He set to work last July with more than 40 men to dig a new shaft through the earth to tap it.

The veteran mining engineer believed his 30 year search was near success after several months of work. But the Securities Exchange commission at Washington, D. C., questioned procedure used by the company in securing funds from its stockholders for development at a meeting held last May. Work was halted when Rockwell believed success was almost in his grasp.

High Assay Value

Rockwell said the ore body was located just where Eugene E. Bergman, of San Francisco, mining engineer, had calculated it would be. He said sample ore taken from the new shaft showed a good vein with 12 ounces of silver and the usual lesser gold and zinc content, with an assay value of $20 a ton.

The ore corresponded with 90 per cent of the mined area of the Minnie Moore during its prime, with the exception of the 10 per cent of the deposit that was milled with sensational values which made the mine internationally famous. Rockwell added.

Meanwhile, pending an SEC decision and more development work, the treasure of the Minnie Moore remains hidden.

STATE'S GENERAL DEBT $1,543,423

BOISE, Dec. 7 (U.P.)—The state general fund debt reached a total of $1,543,423 on Nov. 30, State Treasurer Myrtle P. Ething said today in a monthly report.

Registered warrants accounted for $1,221,281 of the total and $322,043 was an overdraft. Mrs. Ething said the debt would be reduced early in 1940 by county remittances of ad valorem tax money.

Talks to Rotarians

JEROME, Dec. 7 (Special)—Father P. G. O'Connor, New Orleans, who is conducting young people's retreat here this week, was the special guest speaker at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Rotary club and gave an inspirational talk on "The Philosophy of Life."

Visiting Rotarians were Ralph Carpenter and C. J. Sahlgren, Twin Falls; Lee Kennedy and Stanley Trefren, Shoshone; and guests, Roy Hendricks, Pocatello, and Father Eric A. Schmeun, of the St. Jerome's Catholic church.

BRAND

BOISE, Dec. 7 (U.P.)—A livestockman protested to the state bureau of animal industry when his cattle brand, the swastika, was taken from him. He wanted to know if he had to give it to Adolf Hitler, who uses it as the sign of the Nazi party.

"I had that brand since 1910, just 20 years before Hitler started using it," he protested.

The brand bureau explained the man failed to pay his brand dues, and therefore to another Idaho livestockman.

SUN VALLEY PREPARES FOR SKI OPENING.

Bartell Goes to Detroit Tigers in Exchange for Billy Rogell

Winter Sports to Get Under Way On Christmas Day

By WILLIAM MCGOWAN

SUN VALLEY, Ida., Dec. 7 (UP)—The Alpine mountains of Idaho's Sun Valley soon will be dotted with eastern socialites and film colony notables getting their winter bruises under the tutelage of some of the nation's top flight skiers.

The Sun Valley "Sitzmark" season when novices vie with the experts at falling down mountains starts Dec. 16 with the opening of Sun Valley lodge, the nation's most fashionable wintering place.

The first trainload of ski-crazed easterners will arrive on a special train with New York and Chicago passengers, Dec. 21. The festivities (and broken bones) will begin immediately.

First on the schedule of events will be an ice carnival, Dec. 23. Christmas day, featuring informal skating by the guests. The holiday week will bring collegiate skiers from throughout the nation, anxious to see how close they can come to breaking records without actually doing it in the Intercollegiate meet, Dec. 30, 31 and Jan. 1.

Bradley Cup
The meet will include Langlauf, downhill, slalom, jumping and team competition, for the Bradley cup, named in honor of the Bradley family, one of America's foremost skiing families. The Bradley family of Dartmouth won its last year and graduated. His younger brother, Joe Bradley, will compete for it this year under the colors of the University of Wisconsin.

The mid-winter sports carnival and interstate ski meet involving teams from the western states will follow in quick succession, Jan. 20 and 21. The Sun Valley ski club will hold its club meet, Feb. 22 and an ice carnival is on the tap for the same evening. The skating club will hold its competition, Mar. 18.

Red Letter Days
The national skiing skiers will also be competing in the national downhill, slalom and combined championships, the Harriman trophy competition and the Sun Valley open, on March 22, 23 and 24, the red letter days of skiing for the entire season.

While the cream of international skiers take half-racing chances on the slopes of Bald Mountain, Dollar, Round and Proctor, the mass of the socialites will confine their skidding to the gentler slopes near the lodge.

Joe Heller, recognized by the Federation Internationale de Ski as one of the world's greatest skiers, will lead the team from the Sun Valley ski school, assisted by Otto Lang, another name famed in international skiing circles.

The list of instructors reads like the international honor roll of ranking competitive skiers. They include John Litchfield, Ragnar Zval, Will Meyer, Fred Leitch, Harold Hillman, Sigfried Engle, Claria Heath and Dick Duranck.

For the first time, the winter sports season will be a real one, with the winter sports engineers providing new thrill for the experienced skier on the slopes of Bald Mountain. The Bald Mountain lift was constructed.

Three lifts carry the skier to the top of a 3,000-foot peak in 20 minutes. A circular ski lodge, complete with traplines and a restaurant is located at the top. New type ski lift chairs incorporating a foot rest and a blanket for the skier are in use. The lift is operated by a new type electric motor operated by a cable weighing seven tons.

Shoshone Rod, Gun Club Holds Meet
SHOSHONE, Dec. 7 (Special)—Shoshone Rod and Gun club met Monday evening at the city hall. The main topic was the question concerning the trapping of marmots. It was finally decided to build traps of their own and members of the club would hunt them.

The number of pheasants planted in Lincoln county the past year also came in for some discussion. With only a few pheasants present they discussed many other matters. Plans to attend the Inter-city meeting held in Coeur d'Alene Tuesday evening were also discussed.

Zip-Way Tips Over Laundry Club 4 in Row

Individual bowling averages slipped on the National Laundry test.

Only one man, Al Westergren, was over the 500-mark for the winners, but the losers were 'way below that mark and the team was a loss of three games in a row and total pins. Only man to do any real bowling for the evening was Sprouts Leichter, who turned in a 272 total and a 202 single for the losers.

In the City league the averages were considerably higher as Orange Transportation took three out of four from Perrine Hotel. Top bowling for the evening was by Dix, who had a 235 single and a three-game series of 556. Six out of 10 men in the City loop bowled over the 500-mark, only two out of 10 in the Commercial were over that dividing line.

For the losing Perrine Hotel club, Jimmie Mullins led the team with a 252 total. Top single in the Perrine squad was by Al Jones with a 207.

STRIKES to SPARE
With Fred Stone
Who do you think took the National Laundry out of the top for first time, the tall-tender Zip-Way. The counter-jumpers took all four points in their match—and with only one man in the 500 class.

Al Westergren, with 572, led the all the rest were under 450. Al had 152 his last game, got the zipper's best single.

Orange Transportation, with 572, was the big shot for the Laundry team. He put together scores of 101-180-202. Sprouts 202 was the best single for both teams.

Rolly Jones just knocked over the team with a 500 total. Rolly wasn't so hot.

A rookie tried out with the National Laundry team, but he will have to be farmed out for more seasoning. I won't mention any name, but he rolled in the middle position.

Orange Transportation got away with three out of four from the Perrine Hotel. Wait Dix led the winners with a 235 single and a three-game series of 556.

Orange Transportation, with 2554, took like the money for next week. Postponed game between Wilcox and the City of Boise will be played tonight on Alleys 1 and 2.

Horrell Raises UCLA from Doormat to Contender

By JERRY BRONFELD (NEA Service)

Pause for a moment, neighbor, before you mark your ballot for the best coaching job of the year and lend an ear to some propaganda for Edwin C. (Babe) Horrell.

Horrell, first full-time coach in U. C. L. A. history (Bill Spaulding doubled as a member of the physical education faculty), has brought the Bruins to the highest peak they've ever known.

And when mighty Southern California comes rolling into Los Angeles, Dec. 9, the big bad men of Troy will be playing a one-time conference door mat for the right to represent the west coast in the Rose bowl.

Not bad—not bad at all for a gent who this year became a head coach for the first time in his career. After winding up his active days as All-American center in 1924 as a member of Andy Smith's famed California Wonder Beas, Horrell assisted Bill Spaulding with the guards and centers, intermittently from 1926 to 1931, and then regularly until this year when he became head man.

Same Situation
True enough, Spaulding left him with some outstanding performers but he was faced with much the same situation. Eddie Anderson found at Iowa—had a whole of a first team but they'd have to do a lot of football playing because the reserve material just wasn't there.

The UCLA men four, lost four and tied one in 1938, which wasn't anything over which the alumni could glow. By way of preparation for Troy this year the Bruins beat Texas Christian, Washington, Oregon, California, Washington State and tied Stanford, Santa Clara and Oregon State.

Sparkling of the U. C. L. A. attack—and a true American if ever there was one—was the 1938-pound Kenney Washington, the 193-pound Kenney Washington, who does some really amazing things with a football.

A senior, Washington is a brilliant ball-carrier either at cracking a tackle or sweeping the ends. He's one of the best passers on the coast. Two years ago as a sophomore he completed one 50 yards to Hal Hersh for one of the longest aerials ever seen.

Speed Comes Naturally
Of course, help to his running-mate, Jackie Robinson, another colored lad who has as fast a pair of legs in football boots as you'll find anywhere on the coast. Buzling speed comes naturally to the Robinsons. Brother Mack was an end in the Bruins' 1938 team.

Red Mack is a smart quarterback and a good blocker. Fullback Bill Overlin is the best linecracker on the squad and is a consistently good punter for the Bruins.

Statuesque Woodrow Wilson Strode, another Negro brilliant, was a tackle at one end. He pairs up with a 200-pounder, defensive player, Don MacPherson, only 178 pounds but smart and fast, deploys at the other terminal.

The tacklers are corks. Madlin Zarubka at 220 pounds is as hard to move as a brick. He's a material of the Bruins. Del Lyman at the other side weighs only five pounds less.

Jack Sommers was a good enough guard to make all-out. He pairs up with John Frawley, 200-pounder who hails from Miles City, Ia.

Martin Matheson isn't a brilliant center but he's rugged and works awfully hard at his job.

As a Stimulant
Washington and Robinson might match anything Southern California has in brilliance, but on the face of things the Bruins have too much sheer power for the Bruins.

That Winning Combination

Babe Horrell, coach, who has done a great job in his first year as U. C. L. A. coach, hopes Ken Washington, triple-threat star, will have another big day Dec. 9, when the Bruins meet Southern California in Los Angeles.

Bank Looks to Great Grid Club for 1940

By WILLIAM MCGOWAN

MOSCOW, Ida., Dec. 7 (UP)—The best freshman football team in University of Idaho gridiron history combined with a veteran squad hit only lightly by the bugaboo of graduation were what Coach Ted Bank saw when he looked over the prospects for the 1940 season today.

Bank put the disastrous 1939 season as far behind him as possible and concentrated on his hopes to field a winner next fall. All but 11 seniors from the 1939 squad will be back in harness in 1940.

Earl Acitt, Chick Atkinson, Lorne Verne Bell, Rex Engelking, Ronnie Harris and Rudy Franklin, will be going to go in 1940 with more experience and a better chance to shine in the backfield. Line material among the freshmen in 1939 becoming returning will include Tony Aschenbrenner, Ivalo Gacila, centers; Len Zerkowich and Gordon Sanderson, guards; Dick Tauber, Tom Gollinsky and Glen Rathbun, tackles; Paul Ryan and Tex Harrell, ends.

Bill Mitchell was the standout among the freshmen in 1939 because of his vicious blocking, charging and broken field running. Pete Heacombe, George Nixon and Bill Van Amen are potential triple threats men in the backfield.

Up from the freshman line will come Crowley and Tomlin, two of the hardest charging youngsters to appear in these parts in many a moon. Koonpika, a 210 pound giant at tackle, had a record of no yards after his position all year. Vic Berilus and Ed Kelpner were standouts at end. Others included Joe Fitchum, tackle; Phil Pavlik and Crowley at center; Ken Cox, Ray Davis, Chet Long, Fred Nichols, George Nixon, Bill Van Amen, backfield candidates.

In addition to these prospects, Bank will have back two lettermen from the 1938 season who dropped out of college during 1939. They were Mac Bell and Fred Rottburg. Bell is a quarterback and Rottburg a guard.

ADDED TO ALL-STAR
HAMILTON, N. Y., Dec. 7 (UP)—Two more backs—George McAllen, Duke, and George Surinews, North Carolina—were added today to the list of eastern collegiate stars who will play in the east-west football game at San Francisco on New Year's day.

Waivers Obtained on Both Shortstops for Inter-League Trade

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

CINCINNATI, Dec. 7 (UP)—One of those rarest of baseball deals, an inter-circuit trade between the National and American leagues, ushered in the annual winter major league meetings today. The minor leaguers headed for home after holding the stage for three days.

Dick Bartell, who cost the New York Giants $90,000 a few years ago, was shipped to the Detroit Tigers by the Chicago Cubs for Bill Rogell. Both are veteran shortstops who were "washed-up" with their respective clubs. Waivers were obtained on each before the deal could be made.

Although the deal wasn't confirmed until nearly midnight last night by Walter O. Briggs, Detroit owner, it actually was made on Monday. Neither player is likely to be a regular but, if either should break into a steady job it may be Bartell, who is a whoop and holder guy who insals he is far from through.

Arrival here last night of Commissioner K. M. Landis caused new rumors about what "the judge" may be up to, but a visit to the baseball czar was unproductive of any official news.

"I never talk about those things," Landis said. "If I have anything to say, I'll say it at the joint-meeting Saturday."

Clark Griffith, the "old fox" of Washington, has gained at least one supporter for his proposal to prohibit pennant winners from acquiring a player in its own league, except by waivers, as long as it holds the title. Alva Bradley of Cleveland said he would vote for Griffith's proposal.

Will Terry finding no takers for Gene Bonura, Washington, willing to take the Giants' first baseman back for the waiver price of $15,000. If the Senators don't get Bonura he is doomed to go to the Giants' Jersey City farm club.

Conversation between Brooklyn and Cincinnati over a trade involving Eino Lombardi failed to make any headway.

With clubs almost tramping on each other in an effort to get Outfielder Max West, the Bees have just about decided to keep him. Leo Durocher, Dodger manager, cracked that the Bees wanted more for West than the Cards did for Joe Medwick.

Ex-Dodger Manager Burtleigh Grimes, who piloted Montreal last season, has been given his release.

Despite its obvious advantages, the Puett device was greeted by American jockeys with all the enthusiasm usually accorded a snake. The race track operators stared at it so fely that the horse was usually sent to the gate to Canada. They experimented with it on half mile tracks at Vancouver until they were sure of its value. It was then sent to Longacres in Seattle.

There the gate established its reputation by saving the jockeys the introduction of the totalisator. Post times were cut down to a minute and almost a flat 100 per cent was paid out. The device was taken by Ray Meadows and then to Pimlico in Baltimore where it was used by Cwynne Vanderbilt adopted it.

The gate idea is spreading now. A similar device, known as the "Wager" was introduced at Santa Anita and will be used during the coming meeting.

It was used by the late friend Morphine said. Morphine, you see, is of an older school. He should be electrically treated, of the same kind as the simonist horse.

Cotton Bowl Still Looking For Teams

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 7 (UPI)—Curtis Sanford, youthful oil magnate, had one team—Oklahoma—for his Cotton bowl game New Year's party. But he was "hot on the trail" for another today.

"I've sent feelers to Boston college, Clemson, Mississippi State, Duquesne, North Carolina and several others," Sanford said, "but I'm not going to announce Oklahoma's opponent 'till the game is 'in the bag.'"

Formal approval of the Big Six conference was still needed for Oklahoma to participate, but that didn't worry Sanford. He stepped into his custom-built automobile with brass trimmings, 14 horns, 16 bells and two whistles and drove away to telephone a man about a team.

Paul, together with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spradling, and his classmate, Bob Storchhouse, were on their way home from a three-day trip through Arkansas and Oklahoma. When Paul became too ill to travel and sought medical attention, he was taken to a hospital in Enid, Okla., where he underwent an emergency appendectomy operation at Enid, Okla., on Oct. 29.

Paul Spradling, Castleford senior underwrote the emergency appointment of Bob Storthouse as the club's captain at the end of 1981.

Paul, together with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Spradling, and his classmate, Bob Storthouse, were of their way home from a three-week trip through Arkansas and Oklahoma. They had planned to fly to the travel and sought medical advice. It was found to have a ruptured appendix and was taken immediately to the hospital.

Mr. Spradling and Bob Storthouse continued on their journey to their home in Castleford Sunday morning. Mr. Spradling and Paul were home as soon as he was able to travel.

Both Paul and Bob were members of the state championship boys' football team and Paul was named on the state all-star all-male team.

Chose Captain

VILLANOVA, Penn., Dec. 7 (UPI)—Aidy Chiehek, 21-pound center for the University of Pennsylvania, was named the 1981-82 captain of the team.

For several years Villanova has been a contender for the national title, and Chiehek, elected one of them at the end of the season for the honor.

California are bigger.

Tennessee has no back with the individual brilliance of Grenville Lunsford of Troy. On the whole, Tennessee's staff of officials are as good as any in the nation, even though the Trolans don't mix them up any too well themselves.

Offense, I would say Southern California has the better offense.

It is true what they say about college football. There are more go teams than in any other section of the land, and Tennessee is one of them.

But Dr. Jack Rutherford, former of Pittsburg, must have been feeling good when, following the Alabama game, he called Tennessee the greatest team he had ever seen.
