years old. Young Parker then lived with relatives near Effingham, Kan. and on Sept. 3, 1910 he married Goldie Eber at Beaver City, Neb. Mr. and Mrs. Parker then moved westward to Nevada in 1913. Mr. Parker operated a store at Corbin, Nev. for three years and then moved to Idaho. He was killed at the same time deputy sheriff under Sheriff Harris of Elko county.

He turned to the Utah Construction company and for three years was foreman of a stock ranch for that company. After coming to Idaho in 1920 he was employed for four years with the Farmers' Grain and Milling company, near the town of Buhl. He then went to work for the Buhl Seed and Grain company. He operated his own transfer concern for a time, then became concerned with a Cattlefeed seed and grain firm.

When Sheriff E. F. Pratt named Parker as deputy sheriff, he remained in the county seat until taking over the Buhl city of police post for a three-year period. He again accepted a deputy's position here and located once more in Twin Falls, retaining that post until the death of Sheriff Pratt. He then ran for sheriff on the Democratic ticket and was elected in 1938 over Milton Lierman, Republican.

The plan was originally outlined by R. H. Snyder, president of the Albion Normal school, from which courses and lecture work will come. OPENING ASSURED AT FOUNDATION

Officials of the Warm Springs, Ga., foundation for the cure and treatment of infantile paralysis, this afternoon had informed leaders at the county hospital here that they were "quite sure that satisfactory arrangements can be made for admission of Mrs. LaRilla James."

Mrs. James, a Kimberly resident, has been in the hospital here since Oct. 18 suffering from the effects of the disease. Donations from friends and the general public have made it possible for her to make the trip east if she is accepted.

Mrs. Martha Hansen, superintendent of nurses here, said this afternoon that the full case history on Mrs. James has been sent to Warm Springs as they requested.

To the letter received from foundation officials, it was also shown that Mrs. Rose Lundy, Hansen woman who was sent to Georgia from here earlier this year, is improving. She too is suffering from infantile paralysis.

Regarding Mrs. Lundy the foundation officials wrote: "It is true that Mrs. Lundy is able to walk quite a few steps with the aid of braces and crutches. By the middle of January we will have completed for her all that is possible at this time." From this statement it is apparent that Mrs. Lundy may return here shortly after the middle of January and then go back to the foundation at a later date for additional treatment, including the changing of braces.

Four Warning Signs Now at Death Corner

No less than four distinct warning signs now are in place on both sides of the perilous Cedar crossing, "death" corner east of Buhl, Lieut. A. J. Perkins, state police officer, said today.

A latest sign to be erected is a "checkboard" warning. It is the farthest removed from the crossing each way and is clearly visible at a considerable distance, Lieut. Perkins said.

In the effort to check fatalities and injuries at the dangerous highway-valley crossing, the state highway department now has this lineup of signs on both sides of the tracks:

- 1) Slow sign.
- 2) Curve sign.
- 3) Railway warning sign.
- 4) Checkboard danger sign.

One man was killed at the crossing late in October and several others have been injured there in November and December, both by trains and because motor cars failed to negotiate the sharp turn.

Because of the minuteness of car load, it takes 227,000 grains to weigh a pound.

Seen Today

John Boden, checking his auto tires to see if they're marked for speed, leading up in time to see the fire-marking patrolman grinning at him. . . A. I. Ross walking slowly out on courthouse lawn to lower flag to half mast in honor of Art Parker. . . Short story: Bird dog mistaking auto for its owner, chasing car three blocks, surprising driver as the man gets out of auto to order dog back, standing five seconds as car drives away, then following machine another two blocks after which driver again gets out and finally convinces animal it's on wrong trail. Two gray-headed men having time of their lives as they stand for five minutes to watch a miniature train perform in store window. . . And mute reminder: leather wine which Art Parker had been wont to snap good-humoredly at friends who came into his office, now hanging limply on office wall.

MUTUAL FIREMEN HALT CAR BLAZE

Because the wiring in a Twin Falls automobile became short-circuited, members of the Kimberly mutual fire department were called out of duty at 4 a. m. today.

The volunteers extinguished flames in the auto belonging to Roy Cederburg, 204 Washington south, when the fire broke out at a mile and one-half west of South Park. Cederburg was driving, members of the volunteer department said they understood.

The flames gutted the inside of the machine, causing damage estimated at about $300. The auto was a 1938 Ford V-8.

PAIR ELECTED IN RESERVOIR VOTE

A Buhl banker and a Springfield farmer today were apparently assured posts on the board of directors of the American falls reservoir district following elections held yesterday.

The two are J. H. Barker, Buhl, present secretary of the board and director of precinct one; Robert Houghland, Springfield, running for the first time for the post of precinct seven.

The vote, officials of the district said, was extremely light and as there was no evidence of "write in" votes, the election of Barker and Houghland was assured. Only 12 votes were cast in both Jerome and Wendell. The vote in Twin Falls was 25 going to Barker and the balance to Houghland.

Complete returns will not be known for several days.

was so willing, so strong, so dependable. We'll miss his deep, steady, sound common sense. Being big himself, he could, and he did, handle big things in his quiet effective way, and only one who worked with him knows how he really was.

Walter C. Musgrave, clerk-auditor-recorder: "We felt a distinct loss at the untimely death of our absence. We are going to feel his absence keenly in county administration. We knew him to be a true friend and a fine officer."

Terror to Lawbreaker
Mrs. Cora E. Stevens, county treasurer: "Art, as we all called him, was a fine fellow, big hearted and kind to friends, but a terror to the evil doer. We around the courthouse will miss his pleasant greetings."

George A. Childs, county assessor: "I have known Art C. Parker personally for a great many years, and I feel deeply the loss of a personal friend. The county has lost one of the best law enforcement officers that it has ever had."

Arthur Parker was a man of fine character and personal charm. He won the confidence and friendship of all who knew him. An honest, trustworthy officer, he was a friend on whom I knew always that I could rely.

Walter W. Lowrey, deputy sheriff: "Art Parker's death leaves a void that no one can fill. As friend and as his associate, I knew him intimately, and only one who knew him in that way can understand his feelings. Ed Hall, Harold Halverson and Kenneth Hargrove join with me in saying that his co-workers have lost the finest friend a man can have."

R. G. Wilson, Kimberly, chairman of the Democratic county central committee: "Everyone liked Art Parker. He was an efficient officer and yet a very human officer, who dealt sternly but wisely with law violators. Every citizen in this county suffers a keen loss in Parker's death."

Twin Falls Police Praise
C. H. Ritchey, chairman of the Republican county central committee and Twin Falls police commissioner: "The county has lost a valuable man and a good citizen in the death of Art Parker. CITY INVITED TO HOUSING PARLEY

Twin Falls city officials this afternoon received an invitation from H. R. Flint, director of highway work headquarters at Boise, to attend a statewide alum clearance meeting which will be held at the Overhill hotel there next Sunday from 2:30 to 5 p. m.

The meeting, Flint explained, will be participated in by a representative from the United States housing authority who will explain the government's program in detail and who will answer questions concerning ways and means for the cities and villages to obtain federal assistance.

The state of Idaho, to date, has spent several thousands of dollars in determining the need for decent housing, and in the enactment of enabling legislation, Flint pointed out. Through this legislation "we now have a legal channel through which the cities and villages of Idaho may receive federal help in adjusting their inadequate housing conditions."

If you are unable to attend in person, please send a representative in order that all cities and villages may be given a better understanding of the governmental program for adjusting the inadequate housing among our cities in the lower income bracket," Flint wrote the officials here.

Old Folks at County Farm Get Ready for Christmas

Dean of the county farm is Uncle Joe Gordon, (left) who will be 102 year-old next March. In the picture above he and William Sharp, 82, have a little discussion as to whether or not they should appear as they are arguing when the Times reporter gets ready to "snap it." In reality, however, they are close friends and many a topic is thoroughly discussed between them. For Christmas, Uncle Joe likes cigars while Sharp would appreciate personal radio—but adds "he'd be 'wound' settle" for the cigar. (Times Photo and Engraving)

County Farm Folk Have Simple Wishes for Yule

By O. A. KELKER

Since it won't be long until Christmas, an Evening Times reporter journeyed out to the county farm, southeast of the city, in an attempt to discover just what the "old folks" would want for the year it should they be granted their every wish.

And, if you've any thoughts that the articles requested would be of the "the hard to furnish" variety, you're due for a surprise as you talk both to men and women and ask them this question:

"If you could have anything you wanted for Christmas, what would it be?"

Surprising Reply

This question was first asked to Mrs. Clara Greaves, 84, known as "grandmother" to other residents. She came to the farm the year it opened, 1934, and has resided there continuously since that time. Although very deaf, she takes a keen interest in what is going on and answered the Christmas question after it was written on a sheet of paper.

"There isn't a thing in the world that I'd wish for," grandmother said. "I have so much here now. There is not a place on earth as comfortable for old folks as this place is."

She added that she was writing her friends telling them that she needed nothing for Christmas.

Cigars for Man, 101

Next was Uncle Joe Gordon, dean of the home and a man who will be 102 years old next March. He was busily engaged in conversation with William Sharp, 82, whose full beard is impressive. But Uncle Joe stopped long enough to answer the question put to him.

"Aw, you're kidding," he said. "Then Uncle Joe added: 'Cigars will suit me if anything.'"

On the other hand, Sharp said he would appreciate a radio for his room. However, he said, he would "settle for a few cigars."

"Wishes" of the rest of the inmates ran just about the same.

W. C. Blipman, superintendent, said that plans were already on foot for Christmas festivities at the home.

Turkey Dinner

A turkey dinner "with all the trimmings" will be served Monday, Dec. 20. Strawberry short cake will also feature. Fresh strawberries being furnished through courtesy of A. M. Burns. Nightcap favors will be set at each place by children of the Bickel school. Townpeople are expected to bring out many gifts and various organizations will aid with programs before and after Christmas day.

Golf Club Owners Approve Transfer

Members of the Twin Falls Country club today had ratified action of the directors in deeding the golf course property to the city of Twin Falls at a dinner meeting held at the Park hotel last evening.

The affair was attended by 60 members and a unanimous vote of confidence was given the directors for their action. The property includes 100 acres and equipment which will be turned into a municipal golf course.

President Asher B. Wilson presided at the meeting and reviewed a history of the club up to and including the transfer of the property to the city.

Directors of the organization elected last night were Carl Ritchey, J. J. Winterholer and H. C. Edmunds.

SHORTAGE LOOMS ON PRISON FUNDS

BOISE, Dec. 13 (U.S.)—A shortage of prison funds threatens the state administration. Warden P. O. Meredith reported to Gov. C. A. Boteloff in a monthly survey studied by state prison board members today.

The report, compiled by Ed Daley, prison chief clerk, said that $4,688 remained on Dec. 1 of the $46,870 appropriated for the 1939-1940 fiscal period.

Prison board members indicated that an exceptionally large prison population during recent months was the cause of the shortage. It costs 85 cents per day per inmate to feed prisoners and the inmate body has averaged about 400 during 1939. Administrative officials pointed out the prison also receives funds from endowments and other sources periodically.

BATTLE LOOMS IF NEW DEAL CONTINUES RECIPROCAL TRADE

WEST SENATORS BAND TOGETHER TO FIGHT PACTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Both Republican and Democratic western senators predicted today President Roosevelt would fail if he seeks to continue the administration's reciprocal trade treaty.

Representatives of a Republican-Democratic coalition opposed to the trade treaty program indicated they were ready to fight to a finish to kill the program that the president said yesterday he would undoubtedly seek to extend beyond its expiration date, June 12.

Senate minority leader Charles McNary, R., Ore., leader of the senate Republican forces who have opposed their attack against the program this fall and plan to make it a major issue in the 1940 presidential campaign, said:

"I predict the administration will fail if action is taken. Many Democrats will oppose extension of the agreements, and practically all Republicans."

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, D., Colo., who recently criticized the program in general and a proposed reciprocal trade agreement with Chile which would waive the tariff on imported copper, indicated there would be a bitter battle on the issue. Referring to the President's statement, Johnson said:

"We'll be ready for him (Mr. Roosevelt). I hope."

Express Opposition

Other western senators who have expressed opposition to continuing the program include Chairman Key Pittman, D., Nev., of the senate foreign relations committee, and Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., William E. Borah, R., Ida., D. Worth Clark, D., Ida., and James E. Murray, D., Mont., and Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont.

Borah and Pittman plan to raise the question of constitutionality of the program, and most senators criticizing the agreements believe they should be subject to senate ratification.

FINLAND CLAIMS IMPORTANT WIN

HELSINKI, Finland, Dec. 18 (AP)—Finland, fighting for its national life against aggressive Russia, claimed an important victory today on the mid-Finland front where two great Red armies are reported driving for the Gulf of Bothnia to cut the country in two.

It was asserted the Finns killed more than 2,000 Russians in a battle on the Toljajev sector about 140 miles east-northeast of the top of the Gulf.

Machine guns, rapid firing rifles, machine pistols and other materials were captured, and Russian tanks destroyed in an engagement which resulted in the annihilation of three Red army battalions, it was claimed.

Admitting the enormity of the task which confronts them in combating the Soviet Union—3,700,000 people against 1,600,000—Finns said they had forced at least a temporary stalemate on the Karelian Isthmus in the south and were prepared to fight to the end of the 800-mile front to the north.

RAF AIR PATROLS HALT NAZI CRAFT

LONDON, Dec. 18 (AP)—An air ministry announcement that Royal air force security patrols had been maintained continuously last night over German mine layer and aircraft bases was believed today to mark a new British anti-mine campaign.

British planes flew repeatedly over Heligoland Bight, the water between the German fortified North sea base, and the German coast, it was said authoritatively, ready to attack any enemy planes which might be encountered.

It was believed the air ministry announcement revealed tactics to halt mine laying by German aircraft—trying to catch enemy planes as soon as they left their bases, before they got out into North sea steamship lanes, instead of waiting in hope of driving them off the British shores, perhaps after they had laid their mines.

LICENSES

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 18 (AP)—Amazed and baffled by mathematical equations, Secretary of State Ray F. Kelly agreed today that something must be done about accumulating Michigan's 1941 license plates.

Kelly was figuratively rapped across the knuckles by Prof. F. W. Jane Douglass to Compete for DAR National Honors

Chosen this week as the Twin Falls high school representative for the state competition for the annual pilgrimage of the national society of the Daughters of the American Revolution was Miss Jane Douglass, president of the Girls' league. It was announced at the meeting of the league yesterday. Among the state winners to go to the annual meeting of representative girls from high school from each state in the union, held in the spring at Washington, D. C. Miss Douglass, as president of the league, holds the most important position in the organization. She is a member of the student council, and prominent in other activities. Last year, during the first year of her high school career, she was president of the Girls' league. The senior class elected three students which it considered outstanding in citizenship, and a faculty committee selected Miss Douglass from that list. Among the qualities which the D. A. R. lists as essential for the girl who is chosen are dependability, including truthfulness, loyalty and punctuality; service, including cooperation, courtesy and consideration of others; leadership, including personal, self-control and ability to assume responsibility; and patriotism, unselfish interest in the family, school, community and nation.

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—Will the growing professional game ever hurt college football?

There may be a slight reaction in some centers, such as New York, but there is ample room for both the rah rah and money varieties.

Fifty per cent of the regular professional fans never saw a game until they adopted the New York Giants, Washington Redskins, Green Bay Packers or some other team as their "fame" mascot.

Watching a good share of the $3,000 who saw the Giants edge the Redskins enter the Polo grounds, you realize that at least 50 per cent of them never saw the inside of a seat of higher learning.

An average of 6,000 high school boys, most of whom never get to college, see the Giants' home games. The colleges can learn much from the professionals.

During the season just closed a number of eastern schools which started at peak prices were forced to put in lowered seats. The average price for a professional game is $1.30, which includes refreshments and a parking space. Seats at $1.10 and children's tickets at 40 cents.

Corresponding college prices are $1.10 to $1.50 and in the case of Yale, Notre Dame, Columbia, the service schools and some others, $4.40.

Attendance Records

Better football at lower prices is the reason that 50 per cent of the national league of professional football clubs this year established new attendance records. The pros make the colleges look like just what they are.

The customers prefer the professional rules with these major differences:

1. Goal posts on the goal line, not 10 yards back. This puts the foot back in football.
2. Forward passes permitted from any point to the line of scrimmage... do not have to be thrown from five yards behind the line. The college coaches' only objection to this is that it would make their game very wild indeed. The pros want the game to be wilder the better.
3. The penalty for a forward pass thrown behind the line of scrimmage is loss of five yards. The varsity from the spot such pass is made. The entire play does not go back.
4. A forward pass on fourth down is not a touchback if it goes over the goal line providing the pass is caught outside the 20-yard line. In other words, if the pass was thrown from the 25-yard line and thrown down it reverts to the defense team at that point.
5. On a kickoff the receiving team is not required to have five players within five yards of the kicking line. Kickers are permitted to use feet in kicking off.
6. Attempt to Pass. The penalty for clipping is 20 yards, not 15.
7. The ball is not dead when the carrier touches the ground unless the runner is definitely in the grasp of an opponent and all forward progress is stopped. In college games the carrier is through when he stumbles and falls.
8. Substitutes may talk to teammates immediately on entering a game. Do it in college, any way.
9. Any two players of either team may confer at any time during the fourth quarter. This permits stars to do their specialties.
10. When a penalty is inflicted inside the 10-yard line, only half the distance to the goal line. This prohibits referees from penalizing a team with a touchdown.
11. A fumbled ball which strikes the ground may be advanced by an opponent.
12. On out of bounds kickoffs the ball is put in play on the 40-yard line, not the 30. This causes almost constant kicking out of bounds.
13. The professionals are making a strenuous attempt to please... and give somewhere with it in a hurry.

Deer

COLUMBIA CITY, Wis.—Deer are having a hard time of it here. The turning out of 70,000 acres of brush and range land where the deer usually feed, has left nothing green for them to eat except the alfalfa fields. Farmers have been given permission to kill all five-pointed deer but few are doing so, owing to the difficulties of finding the deer most to market.

Mine Workers Charge NLRB Bias

AFL HEAD CLAIMS RIGHT DENIED TO 80,000 MEMBERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (UP)—Joe O'Connell, president of the AFL Progressive Mine Workers of America, charged today the national labor relations board had denied 80,000 of his members "their moral and legal rights" under the Wagner act.

O'Connell, first of 15-PMAWA members called by the house committee investigating the NLRB, charged board bias in favor of the rival CIO United Mine Workers of America.

Approximately 80,000 mine workers in various coal fields have been denied their moral and legal rights under the provisions of the national labor relations act to belong to an organization of their own choosing, he said.

"These mine workers were, against their desires, compelled by their employers and by the officials of the CIO-UMWA to join and pay dues to the CIO-UMWA Mine Workers of America as a condition of their continued employment."

O'Connell said his union was formed by 35,000 Illinois miners who seceded from the UMWA in 1932 because of the "unjust policies" of President John L. Lewis.

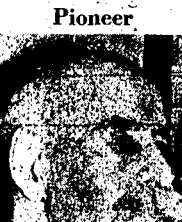

The PMAWA head mentioned case after case filed by his organization with the NLRB to wrest bargaining rights from the United. He said the board dismissed most of the cases, or took no action on them.

Pioneer, 92, Has Birthday; Tells of Chase by Indian

By JEAN DINKELACKER

Keen-eyed and able to read without glasses; alert to the present and appreciative of the past, these dramatic pioneer days of the building of the west, in which he played a vigorous role, W. E. Johnston, route his members "their moral and legal rights" under the Wagner act.

Nine of his 10 living children were present at the anniversary dinner arranged at his home in the honor of Mr. Johnston, whose knowledge of the early days of southern Idaho and whose thrilling personal experiences provided much of the material for "Reminiscences of Early Days" which Charles Walgamott, was in joyful mood for the occasion.

W. E. Johnston, resident of Idaho since the '30s, who yesterday celebrated his 92nd birthday anniversary.

Reporters who marveled at his vitality in 1917 when he and the late Mrs. Johnston celebrated their golden wedding anniversary here, would have been awed had they seen him yesterday. In a resonant voice, that is entirely devoid of quaver, he told fascinating tales of Utah in the '60s and of Idaho in the '80s and '90s.

"So you're the boy who used to chase the Indians?" he was asked. "No, I never did—they chased me. The white-mustached and broad-shouldered retired frontiersman and cattle rancher adjutant, and launched into a hair-raising adventure experienced when he was 12 years old. But more of that later.

Johnston was born at Red Oak, Knox county, Ill., Dec. 11, 1847. He crossed the plains to Utah at the age of 12. The father died suddenly just before they were to start the journey, but his mother, a young widow with two sons, determined to carry out the plan and she joined the Mormon emigrants on their trek to the "land of promise" that offered them so many hardships before it extended to them their rewards.

and insurance. All other costs are paid for by the authority. It will pay to flight instructors the standard fee of $200 for each student and a lump sum of $200 to each institution giving the ground course.

The 10 students to take flight training in each community will be chosen on a strictly competitive basis as the result of examinations at the end of the ground course. Ground courses, exactly like those given in the colleges, will be started in the immediate future. Flight training will start April 1 and run until Sept. 1.

"Selection of the students, institution for the ground course, and flight instructor will be left absolutely to local hands, except that the qualifications of the school and instructor, curricula and examinations must meet the strict requirements of the Civil Aeronautics authority."

STILL NO TRACE OF WINNIE JUDD

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 13 (UP)—Hapless law enforcement officers turned crimson beneath their desert tan today as the escape of Winnie Ruth Judd, trunk murderer, became a public joke as well as a political scandal.

Winnie Ruth, who cut up her two best friends and shipped them to Los Angeles in a brace of trunks, has been at liberty nearly 10 days, and Sheriff Lon Jordan, who picks two rates to be departing of finding a trace of the "tiger slayer."

The one-time buxom blond, who fled the state asylum for the second time on the night of Dec. 3, armed with a straight-edge razor, seemed to have disappeared into thin air, possibly into her native land of Idaho, where she resided with her husband, Dr. William Judd.

WHEAT MEN ASK RAIL RATE SLICE

GRANGEVILLE, Ida., Dec. 13 (UP)—A committee of Idaho wheat growers and warehousemen forwarded to Washington and Oregon grain producers today a request for cooperation with Idaho farmers in a campaign for reduction of grain freight rates to coastal cities.

The committee asked Washington and Oregon farmers to persuade the public utilities commissions of their respective states to file a complaint with the interstate commerce commission calling for an investigation of rates on grain shipments from Idaho to Oregon, Washington and California. The Idaho commission already has filed such a complaint.

AID IS ASKED TO BUILD RESERVOIR

IDAHO FALLS, Dec. 13 (UP)—An appeal was sent today to Idaho's congressional delegation to secure an $18,000,000 federal loan to finance construction of the proposed south fork reservoir on Snake river.

The project was drafted by more than 200 irrigators in a conference held here earlier in the week. Lynn Grandall, district watermaster, estimated present water facilities were not sufficient to meet demands received for purchase of 1,327,000 acre-feet of water from existing projects and 1,000,000 feet of water for new lands.

The upper Snake river valley faces a possible water shortage because of successive dry seasons. John E. Kelley, Snake river water user, protective union chairman, asserted.

POOL UNIT MAPS BUSY 1940 YEAR

With three new directors on the board and with President George J. Bull re-elected, the Twin Falls County Livestock Marketing association had outlined today extensive plans for a busy 1940 shipping season.

Members convened at the fairgrounds Monday in annual meeting, which heard full reports of the past year's business. J. H. Jacob, Producers' Livestock Marketing association of Salt Lake City (the distributing unit for south Idaho pools under their new setup), addressed the meeting with an outline of prospects in large pools. He cited import costs and marketing problems.

Specialist Talks

C. O. Youngstrom, extension livestock marketing specialist, Boise, discussed the marketing outlook. He said there has been a considerable increase in hog shipping.

County Agent Bert Bollingbrook told of the year's operations, and outlined the net return figures printed earlier in the Evening Times.

Ed Rothfork, San Francisco stockyards, also spoke briefly.

Treasurer C. O. Thomas, Filer, submitted the audit prepared by Frank J. Smith, covering the period from last March to November.

Elected to Board

Elected as directors were Paul Bald, Twin Falls; E. V. Morrison, Murtaugh; J. P. Helling, Castleford. Mr. Lehn was re-elected and then at the reorganization session of directors was re-named to the presidency. Other officers were also re-elected—Tom Parks, Filer, vice-president; Mr. Thomas, treasurer, and Mr. Bollingbrook, secretary.

Lehn, Thomas and Orville Greed, Filer, were chosen as executive committees.

COVER ERROR

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A young man, temporarily out of cash for the evening, put a glass tube into the ribs of a prospective victim and told him to "stick 'em up!" The proposed victim laughed, brushed the glass tube from his ribs and clapped handcuffs on Walker. It was Police Inspector Ignazio Zaragon.

Col. William Ross paid $53 for a ticket to hear Johnny Lind sing, and then did not attend the concert.
