Police Decide to Drop Charges on Forrest Richter

Because there is not sufficient evidence, at the present time, to bring Forrest Richter, 42, back to Twin Falls from Denver where he was arrested last Sunday, local police this afternoon had telegraphed officials in the Colorado city to release the man, a suspect in the "accidental" death of Y. (Fate) Arrascaeda, owner of a Twin Falls beer parlor, in February of 1938.

Arrest of Richter, formerly a musical entertainer here, was made by Denver police on a charge of intoxication but local police were notified immediately because it was believed "he was wanted for murder in Twin Falls." Arrascaeda died at the county general hospital here in February, 1938, as a result of injuries received to his head on Jan. 21, 1938. Until his death he maintained that he had fallen from his bar while attempting to turn out a light and had struck his head on the foot rail.

Not Accidental
Local police were of the opinion the injuries which caused his death were not of an accidental nature. It was disclosed that his wallet, containing an unknown sum of money, had been taken from him when he was found on the floor of the hotel.

That afternoon Olliette wired Denver to follow up on the information sufficient for complaint at this time. Please release Forrest Richter, Thomas for cooperation.

Adults Connected
To Denver, Richter admitted connection with the case.

Inside Tip
"We got an inside tip that some might be in Idaho so we checked and he was admitted."

Olliette this afternoon said police here knew all the particulars regarding the fight between Richter and Arrascaeda in the tavern.

"We know all about that fight, but that is not the particular fight we believe caused Arrascaeda's death," Olliette said. He would not elaborate on the statement further.

Billowing Funeral Pyre of Graf Spee—Suicide Vessel

This spectacular picture shows the great clouds of smoke streaming from the abandoned, exploding Admiral Graf Spee and was taken just a few moments before the vessel settled to the bottom off Montevideo. The crew was removed in lifeboats before the ship was left to the fate of fire and time bombs to prevent it from falling into enemy hands or being interned for the duration of the war. Picture was taken from a special plane.

PILOT CLASS TO OPEN IN JANUARY

Actual ground school classes, in connection with the civilian pilot training program, will get underway in Twin Falls shortly after Jan. 1, it was announced here this afternoon by Joseph Christensen, aeronautics instructor with charge of supervision of both the college and civilian programs in the Pacific northwest.

Christian made the announcement after conferring yesterday with the members of the Chamber of Commerce aviation committee and also various flight schools in the area.

Under the plan, 10 non-college persons between the ages of 18 and 25 would be trained as private pilots. A ground school will be held first and anyone, male or female, is eligible to attend. At completion of the ground course, and before April 1, tests will be given and the 10 highest passing will take the flight course at the local airport, after also passing the required physical examinations.

Christian said today that the sponsoring institution (the Chamber of Commerce) will select the ground school location and also the flight instructor. Both the ground and flight instructor will pay an additional $20.

Finland Calls Added Troopers to Colors

HELSINKI, Dec. 20 (U.P.)—Finland called men born in 1899 to the colors today as the Russians began the third week of incessant pounding on the Karelian isthmus and were reported launching a new attack on central Finland near Salla.

No air raid had been reported today although an extended false alarm was sounded at Aabo, on the southwest coast, and another one at Helsinki. Both cities had been bombed yesterday.

The most encouraging news to the Finns came from Svanik, on the Norwegian border, where a blinding snowstorm was reported to have swept the whole far-northern front, stopping all fighting in the one area where the Finns had been giving ground.

Fin Line Holds
The attacks in the Karelian isthmus had failed to break the Finnish defense line anywhere, Finns said, but the Russians threw a constant stream of men and tanks against it, drawing from reserve main-power to replace the thousands killed or wounded.

Forced to fight at positions chosen by the Finns as best suited to defense, the Finns said the Russians rushed headlong into the fight, alternating their thrusts at various points along the line to keep the Finns occupied or alert at all points, thus hoping to wear them out.

The latest attack, as described in Finnish communiques, was in the center of the isthmus. It was preceded by an artillery attack that blasted away many acres of forests, straddled the river in a central Argentine province.

New Pressure in North
The most fighting continued to center on the Mannerheim line, although reports from the central front indicated that the Russians had put new pressure on the Finns north of Salla, where the Finns had a major victory last week. The battle front in narrow, central Finland now extended 275 miles. The Russians were reported to have made a thrust toward Nurmes and Lekska, in the southeast part of that front, striking from the direction of Itopii.

Russian planes were in action all over south Finland yesterday. The three largest Finnish cities, Helsinki, Viipuri (Viborg) and Aabo (Tampere) were attacked. The Finns announced seven Russian planes had been shot down during the day.

Luxury Liner of German Merchant Marine Scuttled

NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (U.P.)—The United States cruiser Tuscaloosa nosed through a defense fog today to the entrance of the New York harbor with its cargo of German sailors from the scuttled liner Columbus.

The 10,000-ton warship dropped anchor off the Fire Island lightship and awaited a rift in the fog which reduced visibility in the harbor and New York to a few feet. Later the Tuscaloosa was due to anchor off Ellis Island and transfer the Germans to the immigration department.

The Tuscaloosa was conveniently close yesterday afternoon when a British destroyer came boiling over the horizon 480 miles off Cape Hen.

There had been no intention of Langsdorff's decision. Even after he had sent his $200,000 ship to the bottom of the Plate estuary Sunday night, he had appeared debonair and cheerful. Upon arriving in Buenos Aires he had said:

"I am happy that all of my men are safe."

In his letter Langsdorff said that although he had decided upon scuttling the ship, he had decided to postpone the act long enough to assure the safety of more than 1,000 young men in his crew.

Body Discovered
The body was discovered by one of Langsdorff's officers.

Since the Graf Spee was scuttled Sunday night Langsdorff has been criticized by the British and French who said that as long as the guns on his ship could fire he should have gone out fighting against the allied warships that were waiting for the Graf Spee at the mouth of the Plate.

Orders to scuttle the Graf Spee, it was understood, came from Adolf Hitler and there was great speculation as to why $200,000, 800 worth of battleship was sent down rather than submit to internment or risk a fight against allied warships in which it might have inflicted serious damage before being disabled.

Langsdorff was regarded by his countrymen as one of the ablest commanders in the German navy. He fought hard against the order of the Uruguayan government that the Graf Spee would have to be interned or leave Montevideo harbor Sunday night, insisting that he required more time to make his vessel seaworthy.

CHEER
MIDDLETON, N. Y., Dec. 20 (U.P.)—Christmas cheer arrived unexpectedly and early for folks along the railroad tracks when an express train ripped into a tractor-trailer truck carrying 15 tons of beer.

The truck driver was not injured; the train was not damaged—and neither was the beer.

The weather bureau officials attributed the change to a storm moving northeastward out of the Missouri valley.

WINTRY WEATHER
HITS MID-WEST
CHICAGO, Dec. 20 (U.P.)—Winter gained a foothold in most midwestern states today, temporarily smothering spring-like temperatures that had prevailed since the first of the month.

Clouds and wind brought temperatures down as much as 23 degrees in 24 hours to some sections.

The weather bureau officials attributed the change to a storm moving northeastward out of the Missouri valley.

War Declaration Picked
As No. 1 Story of Year
NEW YORK, Dec. 20 (U.P.)—Declaration of war on Germany by Great Britain and France on Sept. 3 was the number one news story of 1939, in the opinion of more than 1,000 United Press editorial writers who voted on the "12 best stories" of the year.

In the final tabulation today the allied declaration of war was selected as the best story of 1939.

The Columbia Broadcasting system announced today that on New Year's eve it would carry over the radio a dramatization of the war.

The dramatization would be a 10-hour production of the war, with the United Press as the story line.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Each year, during the Christmas season, tuberculosis Christmas seals are sold throughout the United States to secure funds for the National Tuberculosis association and the several state associations. The work of these organizations is the study and prevention of tuberculosis.

The treatment of the disease is the responsibility of state and local governments and of physicians.

Research

To understand a disease is the first essential in both its prevention and its treatment. With the 5 per cent of the seal sale proceeds which is its share, the National Tuberculosis association supports research in tuberculosis in many hospitals and laboratories all over the country.

From this study will eventually come the weapon which will conquer this infection.

State Associations

Every state and territory has its own tuberculosis association; 95 per cent of the money raised during the seal sale remains in the state. Counties with organized tuberculosis societies receive a direct return of 60-70 per cent of the funds raised in the county (50-60 per cent in cash for use in local health projects, plus 30 per cent in service from the state association). Counties without such an organization receive an equivalent in service from the staff of the state organization.

Things the Idaho Association Does

1. It furnishes health education material to any school in the state.

2. It sponsors a summer health camp in Buhl and another in Coeur d'Alene.

3. It maintains a field nurse who works in the counties that have no health units (34 at present). During the last school year this nurse organized tuberculosis tests in 11 of these counties; 5,000 school children and high school students were given the skin test and 404 were X-rayed.

4. Sponsors and helps finance the X-ray examination of these students in the colleges of the state. In normal schools, and in the southern branch of the university who react to the tuberculin test. Last school year 230 students in these institutions were X-rayed in this program.

5. Maintains in cooperation with the state division of public health, a consultant service in tuberculosis available to all physicians in Idaho and to the health units, schools and colleges. During the first 11 months of 1939 this consultant read 2,478 X-ray films; 710 of these were films of university students at Moscow, 878 were films of children, 387 were sent in by private physicians.

6. Finances X-ray examinations when needed in the opinion of the various health units, for persons who are unable to pay for their own films.

GOODING, Dec. 20 (Special).—Gooding's White Way down Main street now sparkles with Christmas colors, due to the combined efforts of the merchants' bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and the city.

proved cases of active tuberculosis in Idaho. There is provision for hospital care of only 40 of these patients. Health education and early discovery of tuberculosis in young people are even more important here than in neighboring states where far better facilities exist for the care of tuberculosis persons.

Tuberculosis is a disease of young people—in their teens, 20's and 30's. There is a family in Idaho where the young mother is dying. In the same house with her two tiny children; there is another family where a young mother and all her children have active tuberculosis; there is another where a parent is losing a brave fight against this disease and there are four children to be left behind. These children are defenseless; they can not avoid infection. Help the tuberculosis association to help them—and others all over the state who can not help themselves.

If you have a child in school in Idaho, if you have a son or daughter in college or normal school or university in this state, or a child in the School for the Blind and Deaf or in a nurses training school or the N.Y.A. school, buy Christmas seals so that there will be funds enough for this child of yours to be examined, too.

Mrs. Santa and Nursery People Greet Children

Simple Simon, We Willie Winkle, the Queen of Hearts, and other familiar Mother Goose characters appeared this afternoon in dramatizations of nursery rhymes at the Christmas party for underprivileged younger children given by the senior unit of the Girls' League in the high school auditorium from 2:15 to 5 o'clock.

After the program, Santa Claus passed out gifts from two large bags, one for boys and one for girls, and Mrs. Santa Claus passed out bags of candy. Acting as Santa Claus was John Platt, and Mrs. Santa Claus was Miss Dorothy Call.

To start the party, senior girls divided into three groups and called at the grade schools to bring their gifts to the high school.

Decorating the auditorium were two large Christmas trees on either side of the stage, and other holiday symbols.

Presenting the program were students of a junior high school speech class of Miss Winifred Taylor, working under direction of Miss Dorothy Kregel. Jack Be Nimble and Wee Willie Winkle were depicted by Zenas Field, and in a sketch of Simple Simon, he took the part of Simple Simon, while Arthur Becker was the penguin.

Miss Mary Quill Contrary was Miss Martha Barnett, and the lad who asked the question was Gilbert Field. The girls sang "All in a Row," looking over a garden wall and singing were Miss Bobbie Gene Douglas, Miss Virginia McBride, Miss Faye Hoover, Miss Agatha Barry, Miss Velde Schamp, Miss Phyllis Reynolds, Miss June Newcomb and Miss Verla Bell. These girls also sang all during the program.

Queen of Hearts was Miss Celeste Salmon, the King was Junior Moseley, and the Knave Clarence Lyda.

A play, "Rumpelstiltskin," based on that story, was presented, with Patricia Goodyear as the queen, Bill Iron as the king, Clark Robertson as Rumpelstiltskin, and Kenneth White as the soldier.

Announcer for the program was Bill Henderson. Directing musical numbers was Miss Lucile Jackson. Group singing was led by Miss Martha Weddle, who also sang a solo "Up on the Housetop."

Senior girls in charge of arrangements were Miss Virgil Jean Knight, Miss Nelda Wagner, Miss Dorothy Baynor and Miss Doris Fisher.

TRAFFIC DEATHS MOUNT IN IDAHO

Local police this afternoon were informed by Harry M. Rayner, commissioner of law enforcement, that Idaho's "record" for the first part of December was eight deaths in seven days.

In a communication received here, Rayner said: "All the work of peace officers throughout the state, all the effectiveness of the safety campaign waged during the year—making possible a bare nine per cent reduction over last year—all may be swept away in a few moments by careless, reckless, or drinking drivers."

In the communication, the commissioner called attention to the failure of many to conform to the law requiring all accidents to be reported to the department of law enforcement.

It was pointed out that, compared with the average of all states, Idaho only reports one-quarter of those injured.

Britain Points to 'Rule of Seas'

Scuttling of Luxury Liner Raises Hopes

By WALLACE CARROLL

LONDON, Dec. 20 (U.P.)—Blazing newspaper headlines told the British public today that the German luxury liner Columbus had gone to the bottom of the Atlantic joining the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee in a suicide death.

The scuttling of the big liner and the pocket battleship and the flight of the Port Everglades, Fla., of the German freighter Arauca were held to be clinching evidence that Britain not only ruled the sea, despite German claims, but that German merchant as well as belligerent shipping was being driven rapidly off it.

Typical of jubilant newspaper "banner lines" on first pages was that of the Daily Express: "Sinking-own ships? Adolf does it again."

Largest German Victim

It was pointed out the Columbus was the largest German victim so far killed at sea warships. Her tonnage was the liner Watussi, 9,521 tons, scuttled in the Indian ocean after having slipped out of a port on the way. She was believed to take supplies to the Admiral Graf Spee at an ocean rendezvous.

Unofficial estimates were that the Columbus brought the total of German merchant marine losses since the war started to 41 ships, aggregating 224,000 tons. Eighteen of these ships had been scuttled. Four had been sunk, as the admiralty put it, "in other ways." Sixteen had been captured at sea by allied warships and made prizes. Three had been seized in allied ports on the outbreak of the war.

Defend Scuttling

Navy men defended the scuttling of the Columbus as a reasonable means of preventing British ships from capturing and using it. But they maintained their first reaction from the Graf Spee scuttling—that the ship had met an "inevitable" end while it still possessed guns capable of firing back.

Added to the Graf Spee scuttling, and reports that British submarines had sunk one and damaged two German cruisers, besides sinking a German submarine, the scuttling of the Columbus was taken as some counter balancing the new German airplane attacks on trawlers. Nine ships, most of them trawlers, had been sunk in recent days and others damaged by airplane bombing and machine gunning attacks. A more serious loss was that of the British liner City of Kobe, 4,873 tons, believed to have been torpedoed.

SCHOOL VACATION OPENS THURSDAY

Ready to lay aside such matters as lessons and textbooks for the more pleasant affairs of Christmas fun, the 3,800 public school students in Twin Falls will begin their holiday vacation Thursday.

Students in the system will start vacation at conclusion of classes Thursday, it was announced this afternoon by Homer M. Davis, superintendent.

The superintendent said that the holiday vacation would last until Tuesday, Jan. 2, at which time classes will be resumed in the morning at the regular hour.

Calendar Shows Sawtooth Scene By Idaho Artist

Further recognition today had been accorded the artistic ability of Mrs. Jennie M. Nicholson, Plier, already known throughout the state for her oil portraits of Idaho scenes.

Latest recognition came when three firms chose her painting, "Morning on Trinity Lake, Sawtooth Mountains, Idaho," as frontpiece for the 1940 calendar which they are distributing. The firms are the Packer National bank of Twin Falls, the Curtis Chevrolet company of Packer, and the O. J. Childs Seed company of Packer.

The painting, reproduced in color for the calendars at a size of nine and one-half by 12½ inches by Caxton Printers, shows Sentinel mountain and Ford peak rising above the lake level which is 8,500 feet above sea level.

It is pointed out that the printing is strictly an "Idaho product," being of an Idaho scene by an Idaho artist and reproduced in the same state.

Selection of the painting was made because it was the favorite of 27 shown at a "one man" show, all being done by Mrs. Nicholson. The artist is a member of the Idaho Art association.
