NLRB Doesn't Show Favoritism, Counsel Tells Investigators

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23 (UP)—General Counsel Charles Fahy of the national labor relations board today informally presented his answers to eight days of testimony before a five-man committee in which several witnesses accused the board of favoring the Congress of Industrial Organizations. Presenting comparative figures on board cases to reporters, Fahy categorically denied complaints the labor board favored the CIO against the American Federation of Labor. He referred specifically to the "campaign" against the agency led by A. F. L. president William Green.

From July 1, 1938, to June 30, 1939, Fahy said, 434 A. F. L. unions representing 62,000 employees were recognized by employers as a result of board action, against 438 CIO organizations involving 55,000 workers. During the same period, he asserted, employers entered into 374 contracts with the A. F. L. and 347 with the CIO after board intervention.

These figures, Fahy said, conclusively refute assertions that the board has not been as vigorous in protecting the rights of A. F. L. unions as those connected with the CIO. The "real basis" for the A. F. L. campaign against the board, he said, is found in Green's statement of a year ago that the CIO had been accorded "the rights of belligerents" by the labor board. The board, however, had no other choice, he asserted, because the Wagner act was designed to protect certain rights of labor, regardless of its type of organization. The conflict between labor's warring camps, Fahy said, is not entirely a question of craft unionism versus industrial unionism. The A. F. L. has pointed out, he said, that the past fiscal year and only 68 craft units, although it is the predominant craft union group.

75 BASKETS ARE ADDED FOR NEEDY

Because a group of Twin Falls businessmen got busy this morning, 75 baskets were added to the list of families which wouldn't have Christmas baskets but have plenty of Yule dinner provisions by tonight.

The 75 families were those still remaining on the Chamber of Commerce clearing house list after various organizations and individuals had made their choice of names. Several prominent businessmen promptly went to work on a volunteer campaign. Donations from scores of other business and professional men and women mounted rapidly.

Salvation Army helps
With funds on hand before noon to provide meat and groceries for the 75 baskets, the Salvation Army solved the only remaining problem by agreeing to handle assembling and distribution of the gifts. Capt. Chris Thomas of the Salvation Army volunteered the offer, and his helpers were busy engaged this afternoon in carrying out the big assignment. They were doing it in addition to the 50 baskets filled and distributed by the Army today.

"We hope to have every basket given out by tonight," said Capt. Thomas.

Total Near 500
Steps to cure for the last 75 families brought the Christmas baskets through the clearing house to a figure between 450 and 500, according to Mrs. Vivian Carlson, chamber secretary.

Many individuals and scores of clubs participated in the basket project, while larger contributors included the Elks club, 100 baskets; the school, 20; Junior high 22; Lincoln school, 20; American Legion, 20.

Christmas Sad In Nazi Homes
BERLIN, Dec. 23 (UP)—Food and clothing ration cards and no hope for peace by Christmas have dampened Christmas spirit in Germany this year.

Few Christmas have been made but the government to provide a merry Christmas.

Every German woman was able to buy an extra pair of stockings and every man could purchase an extra tie without having the purchases deducted from the clothing card allowances. The husbands' holiday cooking problems were alleviated slightly when the government permitted purchase of an extra quarter of a pound of butter and two eggs for Christmas baking. Various apices also were placed on sale.

DAFOT TO RETIRE
TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 23 (UP)—Government officials informed today that Dr. Alan H. Dafford will retire from the Dominion government's board of guardians early next year but will remain as the "quintus" physician.

"Where's That Man Santa Claus?"

Santa, isn't due for about 30 hours yet, but southern Idaho youngsters, in the custom of children everywhere, are having a hard time waiting for the bearded old fellow to come down the chimney with his load of good things. Many a Christmas stocking is already hanging in front of the fireplace. Here is Gary (Knutle) Westergren, 3½ years old, 254 Lincoln street, Twin Falls, anxiously peering at the chimney opening. The biggest stocking he has been able to borrow is Santa's. Knutle is so concerned over the matter at hand that he hasn't gotten around to all the buttons on his pajamas. "Sleepy," the rat lying on the hearthstone, doesn't seem much interested. Knutle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Westergren. (Photo by O. A. Kellner-Times-Engraving)

Christmas Business Soars Up; Magic Valley Ready for Yule

Department Stores All Show Increases
Retail business in Twin Falls showed substantial gains ranging up to increases of 10 per cent, or at the worst "right along" with that of last year, an Evening Times survey of representative local business houses showed this afternoon.

The survey showed that in no instance, among the firms visited, was business below that registered last Christmas. One local department store manager, who showed that his firm had a gain of 10 per cent over the 1938 season, said that the record made last year was "very gratifying" and that the increase shown this year was "really not expected to be so great."

London
LONDON (UP)—The probability was not a tiny affair for sale in London today. One of the phenomena of the Christmas war was that in the last phase of Christmas shopping, soldiers, sailors and air force men, arriving home by thousands on holiday leave, shouldered their way into the stores and helped buy out the most popular goods.

600 Prisoners Taken in Gigantic Battle; Planes of Reds Bombard Cities

DEATH SUMMONS
ANTHONY FOKKER, PLANE DESIGNER
NEW YORK, Dec. 23 (UP)—Anthony Fokker, 60-year-old pioneer airplane designer and manufacturer, died today in Murray hill hospital. Fokker was stricken three weeks ago with pneumonia meningitis and had been in a coma for almost four days.

Fokker was born in Java, his father, Herman Fokker, was a wealthy Dutch coffee planter. The father retired in 1894 and the family returned to Haarlem, Holland, where the six-year-old Anthony almost immediately developed a passion for machines.

When he was 18, Fokker started building his first airplane. It was a simple biplane, but it was completed before he had ever seen a plane in actual flight.

Wine First Competition
Fokker entered his home-made plane in the Russian military competition at St. Petersburg and won easily. That first plane embodied most of the fundamentals which subsequently made his craft for more than a decade, the world's best in speed, flexibility and ease of handling.

At 24, Fokker was a vital part of the German military machine and his planes, with their streamlined fuselages and machine guns, dominated the air in the early months of the war. They were so superior to British and French planes that the allies were forced to copy his designs.

During the war Fokker built 8,000 planes for Germany and supplied the designs of 6,000 others. Invited to U. S.

"After the war," in Amsterdam, Fokker founded the Fokker Aircraft company, the success of which prompted the American government to invite him to this country.

Fokker came to the United States in 1923 and established the Atlantic Coast Aircraft Corp. in New York. He later affiliated with General Motors corporation as the Fokker Aircraft company.

Fokker built the first tri-motor plane ever manufactured in this country—the Josephine Ford in which Admiral Richard Byrd flew the north pole. Fokker was the Southern Cross, the Friendship, in which the late Amelia Earhart flew the Atlantic.

He created a deadly war machine and called himself "the master of peace." He made millions and made "money isn't important," he built a $500,000 home on the Hudson River at Alpine, N. J., and lived in the caretaker's house; he worked 16 hours a day for 25 years and was rarely idle; he was twice married and twice widowed and called himself "a lone wolf" and he broke off an engagement with a Russian girl whom he favored for a wife because she preferred a foreign plane.

To aviation he contributed brilliant ideas and a sense of direction. He was a ruder and stabilizer details to simplified methods of welding, wing-bracing and plant procedure, but he was a pioneer in the field of aviation.

He disrupted a Fifth avenue store's top department by testing every machine and mechanical device, giving the pavilions to interested children and footing the bill.

Varied List
In the survey, a representative of the Times visited four local department stores, two drug stores, one shoe store, one hardware store, one barber shop and one grocery.

The following reports were given by managers and owners in each case, to the question "how is business this year compared with that of last year?"

Drug store: Business is about the same as last year but today's sales are put us over that mark.

Shoe store: Our business, if anything, is a little better than it was last year.

Hardware store: Business this year has shown a good improvement over that of last year.

County Given Yule Gift by Railroad Tax

Arrival of a $41,274.48 check from the Union Pacific railroad today gave Twin Falls county a Christmas present and boosted 1939 tax collections to "very satisfactory" figure, Treasurer Cora E. Stevens said.

Simultaneously, figures released by Assessor George A. Childs showed that collections of the 1939 personal have soared far above those of last year. Collected through last evening was $58,783.52 as compared to $38,554.28 a year ago. Total personal tax for the year is $98,064, according to Deputy Assessor Jack Shrover.

Real property tax collections by Mrs. Stevens, turned over to the county auditor's office as of Friday evening, totaled $77,051.66. Hundreds of letters containing tax checks were piled high on desks at the treasurer's office and funds brought in through Tuesday.

The Union Pacific check, which covers the balance payment on the railroad's properties, brought the completed total to well over $300,000. The 1939 real property tax charge is $1,150,854.54, but this may be paid in two installments.

Wire Troubles Cause Blackout
A short-circuit of an 11,000-volt cable in the Twin Falls substation this morning caused all service in Twin Falls to be off from 8:40 to 9:40 a. m. and likewise caused a stop in rural service east to Kimberly and west to Piler for various periods ranging from 35 to 45 minutes, officials of the Idaho Power company said.

Cause of the short circuit had not been determined at 3 p. m. this afternoon, but it was believed the substation was not made.

Under the direction of Glenn Gee, division superintendent for the service was shifted swiftly to other circuits, thus holding the "black-out" period to a minimum.

Hal W. Carter, Idaho Power company division manager, said this was the first service interruption in the area for the present holiday season, despite the heavy added load, caused by home decorations, downtown Christmas lighting and festive displays.

He praised the fast work of Gee and other employees in transferring the service.

Some restaurants were probably the hardest hit by the service interruption. Likewise many homes, offices with electrical appliances, felt the brunt of the letdown.

Bethlehem Set for Christmas
BETHLEHEM, Dec. 23 (UP)—A warily watched holiday of the Church of the Nativity will peel out over more this year their message of "peace on earth, good will towards men."

The Holy Land itself is at peace this year. The battle of machine guns and the firing of the guns during the Arab-Jewish disturbances has gone to other fronts.

The only noticeable effect this year to the absence of the pilgrims from many lands who used to throng this hallowed where Christ was born to worship on the site of his nativity.

This Christmas it will be almost a local observance. It was not even in the last year, because of the state of the countryside kept quiet Christmas at home. Also, the bells will not be broadcast to the world by radio because of the war.

Deserter
CLEVELAND, Dec. 23 (UP)—Six children 20 years ago, said not year-old John Janowski deserted his home in Cleveland, Ohio, today, he had his family arrested on charges of "neglecting" him. Judge Perry today forced Janowski's family to pay a $100 fine and a $100 fine for each child in the household, 923 cents and dismissed the charges against his family.

WHEAT DECLINES CENT PER BUSHEL

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (UP)—Wheat prices were down a cent on the Chicago board today, as new and old wheat fell in wide areas of the drought-stricken western wheat belt.

Scattered short covering reduced the decline in wheat futures to 1/2 cent, with the May future at $1.01 1/2, down from $1.02 1/2. Corn was off 1/4 cent to $0.45 1/2, and soybeans unchanged at $0.45 1/2. May 1940 wheat gained 1/4 cent to $1.02, with May closing at $1.02.
