

PRESIDENT ASKS SPIRIT OF PEACE

can be confined to the little neighborhood. Life has become too complex for that. In our own country neighborliness has been gradually spreading its boundaries—from town to county, to state and now at last to the whole nation.

Social Security
Amplifying his words, Mr. Roosevelt asked "who, a generation ago, would have thought that on Jan. 1, 1940—one week from today—tens of thousands of elderly men and women, orphan children, wives, widows and dependent parents will begin to receive old age retirement pension and insurance checks under the social security act."

Mr. Roosevelt expressed his wish on 24 hours after he had named Myron C. Taylor, former board member of the United States Steel corporation, as his personal representative to the Vatican to work in "parallel endeavors for peace" with the Catholic church. It was emphasized that this appointment was a routine resumption of diplomatic relations with the Holy See.

baskets and the distribution of toys was carried out on a scale which varied only with the size of the community.

Business Shuts Down
Routine business was shut down entirely today, with many institutions which ordinarily remain open on Sundays and holidays closing for the Yule observance. There were no official offices open in Magic Valley, whether city, county, state or federal.

Law Enforcement Divisions
The law enforcement divisions were on the job as usual, with holiday traffic mishaps providing the bulk of activities for officers.

Family Dinner Gatherings
Family dinner gatherings highlighted the social calendar for most residents. Several public dances will draw celebrating crowds tonight and motion picture theaters were already comfortably filled for matinee performances this afternoon.

WARRANT LOOMS IN LIQUOR RAIDS

the Kit-Kat club and Frankie Egan's place located on Second south. Records show that the Arbonne club had "quit business" and that both other places were closed when officers arrived.

Officers
Officers of them entered the Courtyard club by both the front and back doors.

Find Bottles
A report shows that lockers were located during the raid and none were locked. Bottles of liquor were on the bar under the bar and in the "so called" lockers. The bar was labeled with some name such as "Jim" or "Doc" while some had several names on them and others had none.

Bottles, numbering over 400, were set on top of the bar and were photographed.

The record of the investigation continues that many illegal acts were brought out and that a "strong case was built against the establishment."

Question Customers
All customers were questioned at length. It was also determined, police said, that employees, entertainers and musicians were "on the payroll" of Everett Rogers, manager.

"We were greatly surprised to find that a majority of the people in the place were not resentful in any way and appeared to be in favor of the officers," Gillette said.

"During the second visit to the club Sunday night the officers remained about an hour, and then the establishment closed up."

HABIT

O. H. Coleman has decided that this matter of breaking into his car is getting to be a habit.

He told police Sunday morning that someone had forced open a window of his coupe Saturday night and removed a box of 50 cigars. What hurt was that the night before the same thing occurred and a pair of deerhide gloves were taken. In both instances robes were not disturbed.

The window of the car was damaged both times.

400 AIR CADETS NEEDED BY ARMY

To meet the demand for competent military pilots for the army air corps, approximately 400 qualified applicants for flying cadet appointments are needed for each of the next three classes to be held in February, March and May. It was announced here this afternoon by Sgt. Frank Morris, local recruiting officer, after receipt of word to this effect from Col. B. E. Grey, chief of the army recruiting headquarters at Salt Lake City.

This information was received at Salt Lake in a telegraphic communication from the war department. Col. Grey said he considered it the best opportunity offered in several years for the early appointment of qualified candidates as flying cadets. Sgt. Morris said:

Flying Cadet Rank
Candidates who are accepted for flying training in the air corps are enlisted as "flying cadets." This grade in the army was created by the act of congress approved July 11, 1926. Flying cadets wear distinctive uniforms which differ from those worn by officers or enlisted men of the army, and they are quartered in separate barracks provided for them. The flying cadets of the air corps constitute a body of young men noted for their splendid character and excellent discipline. The base pay of a flying cadet is $75 a month with an additional allowance for subsistence while undergoing training.

Candidates for appointment must be unmarried male citizens of the United States between 20 and 27 years of age who have completed satisfactorily at least one half of the necessary credits leading to a degree, which normally requires four years of college or university study. In the absence of the necessary credits, an applicant must pass a written examination the equivalent of this.

Nine-Month Course
The course of instruction at present requires nine months, including three months elementary instruction given under the supervision of the army at a civil flying school; three months basic training given at Randolph field, Tex., and three months advanced training at Kelly field, Tex. Upon a successful completion of the course, a flying cadet is appointed a second lieutenant of the air corps reserve and receives his "wings" and rating of pilot. He is then eligible for active duty training in the regular army air corps.

Full particulars regarding requirements for enlistment may be had by contacting Sgt. Frank Morris at the city hall after the Christmas holidays.

POPE OUTLINES FIVE POSTULATES FOR EUROPE PEACE

CATHOLICS' HEAD PLEASED AS U.S. APPOINTS ENVOY

By REYNOLDS PACKARD
VATICAN CITY, Dec. 25 (UP)—Pope Pius XII, encouraged by the appointment of a "peace ambassador" from the United States, today has laid down the five postulates he considers the basis for any solution of the European conflict.

The pontiff made his plan known in his traditional Christmas address to the sacred college of cardinals in which he also praised President Roosevelt's appointment of Myron C. Taylor as personal Vatican representative as "a great contribution to a just and lasting peace."

The pontiff listed these peace postulates:

1. A guarantee of the right to existence and of the independence of all nations, big or small.
2. Release of all nations from the slavery of armaments.
3. Reconstruction of international institutions, apparently a reference to the League of Nations.
4. Satisfaction of the fair demands of minorities.
5. The leaders of all nations must observe faithfully their pledged word and international pact.

The Pope asked leaders of warring nations to state their demands which must be satisfied in order to achieve peace.

Declaring that "God wills it," his holiness called for an "eternal truce to restore peace. He also, without mentioning the countries specifically, called for Soviet Russia, "violence and illicit means of destruction of old men, women and children" in Finland.

The red-capped cardinals, gathered in the consistorial hall with the archbishops and parish priests of Rome, heard Pope Pius announce Taylor's appointment at the conclusion of the address.

Christmas Announcement
"We could not have received a more gratifying Christmas announcement because it represents a strong and promising contribution from the great head of a great and powerful nation toward the work of relieving the suffering of the victims of war," he said.

Taylor was named "to our parallel peace efforts may help each other." President Roosevelt had in a personal message to the Pope, a Vatican announcement said. The Pope appealed for a "just and honorable peace" in a 4,000-word address which recounted the tribulations and his own repeated efforts to bring about peace.

PAUL
One hundred and twenty-three enrollees left with Mr. Minarik, Jr., camp officer, for Camp McCoy, Wis., where they arrived Tuesday and were discharged or transferred to other camps in six days.

Paul CCC camp bowling team beat the Paul team at Burley Wednesday with a total pinfall of 2,110 to 2,090.

Ted Meyer, 21, and Mary Heins, 18, secured a marriage license recently at the court house in Rupert.

Camp Paul held the special observance of Christmas on Christmas eve with Rev. Albert B. Barrett, pastor of the Rupert Methodist church, and a company of young people presenting the program. Rev. Barrett spoke on the subject, "The Birth of Christ and Its Significance to Us Today." The camp presented a diversified program and there was a Christmas tree and an exchange of gifts.

Students of the University of Idaho arriving Wednesday to spend the holidays with their parents include Frances and Keith Hardin, Miriam Maier, Lee and Reid Merrill, Howard Royance, teacher in the university, and Velda Greenwell.

Contract bridge club was entertained Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Don Hardin, Mrs. Walter Toews, guest, substituted for Mrs. Charles Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Coon held open house Sunday afternoon to all their friends, honoring their golden wedding anniversary.

Thursday hours will be treated for the control of internal parasites at the Jean's Billington place at 9 a. m. and at the Bud Stockings place at 11 a. m. Men in this vicinity who wish to have their horses treated may take them to the place nearest their owner's farm. County Agent Delight instructs that horses to be treated may be watered but should be kept off feed for at least 18 hours prior to treatment and for two hours afterward.

Trying for Third Successive Grand Award

Again attracting scores of motorists, who stop in the street to scan the impressive effect, the Christmas lighting scheme at the A. D. Bobler residence, 335 Seventh avenue east, is making a strong bid for its third successive grand prize in the Times-News contest. Using the eaves of the house to outline the scene in lights, Mr. and Mrs. Bobler focus attention on a nativity scene (rightly lighted center portion). At right, the wise men ride their camels to Bethlehem. Judging in the contest will swing into high gear Tuesday night and committees will tour the city for the remainder of the week. Winners will be announced after Jan. 1.

Woman Recovers After Car Crash

JEROME, Dec. 25 (Special)—Although she suffered a broken shoulder and collar bone, Mrs. Phoebe Lamb, Jerome, was said to be recuperating satisfactorily today after a highway crash three miles west of Eden Friday night.

Mrs. Lamb was in the machine driven by R. B. Kisler, Jerome. The car struck a trailer behind the auto of Alfred Snow, Compton, Calif., when Snow stopped on the highway.

Deputy Sheriff R. H. Seelye said that Mr. Kisler was driving north and Mr. Snow had been going south. Apparently the trailer swerved outward on the road, into the path of the oncoming Jerome vehicle.

Mrs. Lamb was treated at the office of a Jerome physician.

Two P. T. A. Units Stage Appropriate Holiday Programs

Two local Parent-Teacher associations, the Junior-Senior high school, and the Bickel, presented Christmas programs at their regular meetings last week.

A Christmas pageant, "Noel," offered by the Junior high school speech and music departments under direction of Miss Winifred Poyer and Miss Lucille Norrell, was the featured attraction for the Junior-Senior group, attended by approximately 25 members of the organization.

The girls' chorus entered at the back of the auditorium and went through the audience singing an old English carol and a Welsh carol before going onto the stage for the opening scene of the pageant.

George Brennan, Orem Hyde, Miss Helen Tinker, Bruce McMillan, Robt. Blaser, Bob Jones, Shirl Knight, Grant Nelson, Glenn Jones, Miss Celestine Salmon, Wesley Bauer, Elaine Peterson, Kenneth Johnson, LeRoy McNeely, Miss Margaret Ryan, Miss Marie Robertson, Miss June Seaton, Miss Hazel Leighton and Miss Mary June Neely were members of the cast.

Minor speaking parts were played by Bonnie Smith, Pauline Moyes, Dahlia DeWitt, Irah Ball, Elma Exeter, Jean McClain, Margaret Povey, Nancy Hart, Alice Dee, Jeanne Carroll and Irene Arrington.

The girls' chorus and the boys' choir provided the music.

A tableau, "Bethlehem," directed by Miss Wilma Howarth, Miss Velma Morse and William Reiman, figured in the Bickel P-T-A. program.

The third and fourth grade boys' choir, directed by Miss Emma Wagner, sang a group of old English carols. The harmonica band, directed by Miss Morse, played "Silent Night" and "Joy to the World." Miss Caldonia Bailey offered a piano number.

A mixed chorus from the sixth grade sang program numbers during the afternoon. Marjorie Briggs was the medieval lady in the tableau and Madia Jean Hutchinson and Doyl Hull were the two tall angels. Stanley Greenwell, Jack Young and Rodney Gordon, shepherds; Dean "Dad" and Gordon Smith, wise men; Leper and blind, Kate Carlton, Dorothy Zacharias, Jimmy Young and Ray Gubb, oriental women. RITE-AWAY

YULE SPIRIT

It might have been the Christmas season but our Twin Falls baby didn't know anything about it.

Police Saturday at 11:37 p. m. received a report that a baby was alone in an automobile parked near the American Legion hall and that it was "crying."

The officers investigated, and today the following was written in the space for "result of investigation":

"Found baby in car, cold and crying. Went into dance (Legion hall) and called the parents and then had them go to the baby and take care of it."

Officers opined they could have said much more, as to what they thought of the case, but added "such thoughts have no place on a police blotter."

Pasadena Residents Will Move To "Pitcairn" in Bahamas

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Pasadenians are to have a "Pitcairn Island" of their own. If the plans of R. C. Irvine reach fruition next January.

The island chosen is that of East Caicos in the eastern end of the Bahamas group, and which is owned by a Pasadena woman. The colony will be composed entirely of Pasadena people, it is proposed.

Mrs. Grace Lake of this city inherited the island from her father, the late John New Reynolds, once known as the West Indies sailing king. Part is owned in fee simple (a deed from the crown) and the rest is leased for 99 years.

Irvine, who has plotted the plans for the expedition, and colonization, is a traveling salesman.

First Group to Have 25
The group of colonists assigned numbers 25. They are to be here in January and travel by boat to Miami where a chartered boat will transfer them and the supplies to East Caicos, 700 miles away.

Permission to colonize and exploit the abandoned island already has been obtained from the British colonial government, according to Irvine.

In about only one respect will the conduct of the island differ from that of "Pitcairn Island." The colonists will retain their American citizenship and will return to the United States every two years to have their passports renewed.

According to Irvine, the resources of the islands are numerous and will be easy to exploit.

The island is surrounded by excellent shark fishing waters from which the islanders are expected to derive from $5 to $10 a shark for the skin and liver oil.

The island is also inhabited by thousands of wild jackasses propagated by those left behind when it was visited years ago by a small fiber development company. The wild jackasses will be killed.

In addition, Irvine said, there are 2,000 acres of soil, now growing wild, which can be cleared and planted to papayas which has a value for medical purposes.

Stal also will continue to be grown, this being a variety of hemp, the fibers of which are used in the manufacture of rope, twine, mat-trass and upholstery.

Members of the colony will pool their resources in the venture, forming a closed corporation, with shares sold only to the colonists.

Irvine admits that every facility, except the water supply, will have to start from "scratch." Aside from three 20,000-gallon tanks for catching rain, and the ruins of foundations from former inhabitants, there is nothing on the island except what nature put there.

The children of the colony are to be taught by their mothers. It is expected eventually that electricity will be generated by wind-mills.

Boats will be built for communication with Turks Island, 35 miles away, where the nearest inhabitants live and which also has a doctor, dentist and drug store.

If the project succeeds, Irvine hopes to be able to make it also a center of tourist attraction, as there is a five-mile strand of white coral beach, said to offer excellent duck hunting.

FADING 1930s MATCH GOLDEN AGE IN SPORTS

Guldahl, Louis, DiMaggio at Top in Parade

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD
(NEA Service)

There are those who still speak of the so-called Golden Age of sports with reverence and awe . . . of the glittering 1930s and their Dempseys, Grangers, Joneses, Ruths and Tildens.

But go back over the fast-fading 1930s and you'll discover that the past decade more than holds its own by comparison . . . because how can you overlook such things as . . .

The development of baseball's greatest dynasty . . . the New York Yankees and their four straight world championships . . . An empire which seems to grow stronger with each passing season . . . Joe DiMaggio, who may go down in history as the greatest baseball player of all time.

"Me 'n Paul" . . . the irrepressible Dean brothers, who in their heyday won a National league pennant and ensuing world series for the Cardinals virtually by themselves.

Those dark days, immediately after the depression, with minor leagues folding on all sides . . . And night baseball arriving as a life-saver.

Rise of Babe Ruth . . . Mickey Cochrane beaten by Bump Hadley . . . hovering for days between life and death . . . The Landis purge . . . when the high priest of baseball cracked down on the chain-smokers . . . freed the baseball slaves . . . Johnny Vander Meer, Cincinnati boy wonder, hurling successive no-hitters.

The rise of rattle-dance football, and the southeast influence on the forward pass . . . That dark day in March, 1931, when Knute Rockne plunged to his death out of a Kansas sky . . . The reign of Minnesota.

The collapse of Michigan . . . That Knox college losing streak which got as much publicity as any winner.

Games they'll talk about 50 years from now . . . That amazing 33-3 tie between Yale and Dartmouth in 1921 . . . Southern California beating Notre Dame, 16-14, in the final quarter that year . . . Notre Dame coming from behind in 1935 to beat Ohio State, 18-13, in the wildest of all games.

Professional football mushrooms to a tremendous success . . . Davey O'Brien, the 100-pound mighty mite of Texas Christian who passed "em dimes" to Ben Swanner, Chicago's one-man riot.

Jacobs Takes Over . . . Joe Louis climbs the heavyweight championship throne . . . Michael Strans Jacobs takes over the boxing industry . . . A busy little man, Henry Armstrong, comes along; to become the first to hold three world titles at the same time . . . featherweight, lightweight and welterweight.

Reids, James J. Braddock unfolds a real Cinderella story by leaving a job as New Jersey dockhand to win a heavyweight title . . . And Max Baer, the "washed-up" German, scored the number one upset of all time by knocking out Joe Louis in June, 1936.

A great era in track and field . . . Jesse Owens in a single afternoon in 1935 tying the world mark for the 100-yard dash, and breaking those for the 220, 220 yard hurdles and broad jump . . . The following year scoring a remarkable triple in the Olympics at Berlin.

The rise of the mile to popular fancy . . . Iron-Man Glenn Cunningham and his 4:04 1 mile mile . . . Spec Towne setting his mark of 13.7 for the high stakes which might never be touched . . . Mildred (Babe) Didrikson, the feminine hero of the 1932 Olympic games . . . perhaps the greatest all-round woman athlete of all time.

Racing Returns to California . . . Red-headed Don Hudge returning the Davis cup to the United States . . . Alice Millie ruling women's tennis . . . A one-time auto sales man from Texas, named Ralph Guldahl, winning the National Open twice in a row in 1937-38 . . . and a freckle-faced kid from Minneapolis scaling the heights . . . Patty Berg.

The racing season of 1931 which saw the greatest crop of three-year-olds . . . Twenty Grand, Equipoise, Mate Jamieson, Sweep All . . . Top flight establishing a money record as a two-year-old filly . . . The return of racing to California, and the rich stakes at Santa Anita . . . The great match race between Blackout and War Admiral . . . A colt named Flight Commander, by Man o' War, out of Top Flight, bringing the Davis cup to the United States . . . Alice Millie ruling women's tennis . . . A one-time auto sales man from Texas, named Ralph Guldahl, winning the National Open twice in a row in 1937-38 . . . and a freckle-faced kid from Minneapolis scaling the heights . . . Patty Berg.

VANDAL CAGERS STAGE INTENSIVE DRILLS

11 Men Kept at School During Yule Holidays

MOSCOW, Dec. 25 (Special)—While the majority of the students at the University of Idaho packed their bags for a jolly Christmas vacation in their homes, the Idaho basketball team planned for two weeks of intensive drill on the home court.

Eleven Vandal hoop men have been named by Coach Forrest Twogood to stay and train during the holiday period. Practice suspends on the evening of Dec. 22 and starts again on Dec. 26, allowing the greater part of the squad to spend Christmas day in their northern Idaho homes.

The drill periods have been set for twice a day during the holidays with two games with Gonzaga university scheduled to break the monotony of practice. A game in Coeur d'Alene has been set for Dec. 29 with a game in the Spokane club's home gymnasium on Dec. 30.

Following the final Gonzaga appearance, Twogood heads the Vandal club homeward for more practice and polish drills before leaving Jan. 4 for Corvallis, Ore., to open the conference season against Oregon State college. First home conference game for Idaho is set for Jan. 10 when the Vandals meet Oregon State.

Men named to the squad for the holiday sessions include Otis (Hook) Hilton, Mena, Ark., and Don Nelson, Moscow, centers; Roy Ramer, Kendrick; Merlyn Anderson, Ada, Minn.; Milo Anderson, Coeur d'Alene, and Ronald Harris, Idaho Falls, forwards; Charles Atkinson and Irvin Hopkins, Pocatello; Kenneth Lynk, Alcona, Ia.; Bill English, Wallace, and James Foster, Coeur d'Alene, guards.

Globetrotters to Play at Caldwell Against Coyotes

CALDWELL, Dec. 25 (Special)—Caldwell and Boise valley fans are again going to be treated to a show by the nation's colored basketball celebrities, the original Harlem Globetrotters, when the colored boys invade the Caldwell high school court for a game with Glen Parberry's College of Idaho Coyotes Dec. 30. The opening whistle of the main event is scheduled for 8:30 while a preliminary will be held starting at 8:15.

Not only are the Harlemites known for their clowning and entertaining, but they also possess straight maple court ability that is seldom seen in these parts. It is roughly estimated that the Trotters played before 850,000 spectators last year in their 30,000 miles of traveling.

In a game for the "unofficial" world's professional title last year the Harlemites decisively defeated the New York Celtics, holders of the title for many years, at Chicago's White City, 37-24.

Heavy Fall of Snow Makes Skiers Happy

BOISE, Dec. 25 (AP)—Christmas day was celebrated by southern Idaho skiers with their first winter sport of the season on snow that fell heavily at scattered points on Christmas eve.

The snow blanket ranged from one inch at McCall, and two inches at Idaho City to six inches at Sun Valley.

Thousands of easterners arrived in Sun Valley for the Christmas celebration and were jubilant over a swirling snowfall that deposited a foot and a half on Baldy mountain, the location of a new two-mile ski lift.

Santa Claus arrived in a reindeer-drawn sleigh in the annual Christmas festivities held in the village square, and passed out gifts to the children, Christmas carolling and the reading of a Christmas story followed.

Guests at the resort included William Dieterle, Hollywood producer, and Christopher L'Amore, poet, of Sanderson, N. J.

Two feet of snow was available for skiers at Mt. Brundage, near McCall, and two inches added to four which fell earlier gave McCall six inches of white blanket. Payette lake was partially frozen.

Skiers from Boise went also to Cold Springs and Mora's creek summit. Other snow depths included Pocatello, one inch; Baker, Ore., two inches; Pendleton, Ore., one inch; Dubois, four inches.

Mac Sends Cheery Greeting

By HENRY McLEMORE

PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 25 (AP)—Merry Christmas to you and you and you, and if you've written me any nice letters during the year, a Happy New Year, too. If you've written any of the kind of letters that comprise most of my mail, you know, the sort that starts off "you bum"—I hope there'll be too much sage in your turkey dressing.

But to return to sport, the Tennessee football team came in yesterday and had its first workout on the Rose bowl game with Southern California on New Year's day. The band played Dixie as the Vols' special train pulled in the station. The Pacific Northwesters like George Cagney of Pennsylvania and Ed Molinski of Virginia, fight back the tears at the stirring music.

The Tennessee coach, Major Bob Neyland, was awfully glad to see me.

"Nice Things"

"My, those were nice things you said about us," he said. "You know, about us being penny-pinching and penny-wise for not bringing the band. Well, to bring the band would have cost us $15,000 and that amount would support the minor sport program at Tennessee for three years. Besides, what other team has ever brought a band out here?"

Warned by this greeting, I went with Coach Neyland to the practice field. Brookside park, which is just a whoop and a holler, from the Rose bowl. The Volunteers didn't have the light workout that a Rose bowl team usually gets the first afternoon off the train. The major kept them out there until the sun dropped beyond the mountains and they did everything but scrimmage. He won't work the boys today, however, but will take them to a party at the ranch home of Director Clarence Brown, a Tennessee graduate.

On Tuesday the team visits a studio, and from then on it will be work, work, work for the Rose bowl's a-coming. To judge from the comments of the hundreds of Californians who watched the Vols in their first workout, the Tennessee team made the least impression when his Wrecks arrived yesterday.

C. of I. Basketball Club Schedules 5 Games in 5 Nights

CALDWELL, Dec. 25 (AP)—The College of Idaho basketball team has scheduled five games in as many nights, Coach Clem Parberry announced today.

The schedule will include Saturday, Harlem Globetrotters; Monday, Utah State; Wednesday, Jerome; Thursday, Gooding; Friday, Shoshone.

Major Bob Neyland handed Pacific coast football fans a questionable Christmas present today when he announced that all of his Tennessee's football team's workouts during the next week will be secret.

When Major Bob and his Tennessee Volunteers arrived yesterday to prepare for their Rose bowl game with Southern California's Trojans, Neyland ordered an immediate and public workout at Brookside park. After their limbering up maneuvers, Neyland said the rest of their conditioning will be done behind closed gates.

Meanwhile the Southern California Trojans were observing Christmas but ready to plunge into final preparations tomorrow. The eastern squad is a slight favorite, but all bettors know that pre-game prices mean little in this annual classic.

KEARNEY, N. J., Dec. 25 (AP)—Edwin (Gip) Collins, 16-year-old prep school star, who lost a leg as a result of a football accident, decided today that he had something to be thankful for—a goal in the game.

Shortly after he hobbled from a hospital on crutches Collins told his family that whereas he had no particular aim in life before his accident conversations with doctors in the hospital had determined him to become a bona specialist.

SEALON PROPOSES GIANT WARSHIPS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25 (AP)—The ranking Republican member of the house naval affairs committee advocated today the construction of super-battleships—maybe as large as 80,000 tons and mounting 20-inch guns—to make the United States "absolutely invincible."

The proposal was made by Rep. Melvin J. Meas, R., Minn. Simultaneously, it was learned the house naval appropriations subcommittee already has asked the navy for estimates on battleships up to 65,000 tons—far larger than any warship now afloat and 20,000 tons larger than any planned by this country.

"In advocating that we forget 35,000 ton battleships and even 45,000 ton ships, and go to 80, 70 or even 80,000 tons—and forget the Panama canal," Meas said. "In other words have two fleets."

(Battleships of the size advocated by Meas could not pass through existing canal locks.)

"I'm satisfied an 80,000 ton battleship could have seven or eight turrets and mount 20-inch guns. It is safe to say 18 such super-battleships would be more effective than 15, 35, 40,000-tonners."

"If we had 12 of these ships in the Pacific and seven or eight in the Atlantic, it would make us absolutely invincible for our protection."

The largest battleship now afloat is Great Britain's Hood, 42,000 tons.

and up popped OLD ST. NICK!

Snow or no snow, cold weather or warm, clear skies or cloudy, you can't keep a good man down. For awhile it looked like Santa Claus would come to town in a sun suit this year, what with our balmy weather and all, so maybe that's why we felt so startled when Old St. Nick came bustin' right through the pages of our newspaper.

Yes sir, it's CHRISTMAS, and all the assorted weather from Palm Springs to the Perrine Coulee can't change the fact.

We guys and gals down here at the News and Times have the Christmas Spirit, too, but we've been so busy reminding other people that it's time to shop and time to mail out greetings, and time to hang up the old stocking, that we almost forgot Santa Claus would be stoppin' at our house, too.

Well, up popped Old St. Nick today to sort of personally jog us back to consciousness, and it's a good thing he did, too, else we might have slipped up on this important wish for . . .

BORAH REITERATES SUPPORT FOR JAPAN TRADE RELATIONS

SOLON OPPOSES SALES OF ARMS, ALL AMMUNITION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25 (UP)—Sen. William E. Borah, R. Idaho, veteran spokesman on foreign affairs, last night reiterated that he favors all "reasonable" efforts to maintain peaceful trade relations with Japan after termination of U. S.-Japanese trade treaty on Jan. 30.

He emphasized, however, that he will continue to oppose the sale of arms, ammunition and implements of war which the Japanese military can use in the war against China.

At the same time, Borah praised the work of U. S. Ambassador Joseph C. Grew in negotiations now being carried on with the Tokyo foreign office.

In a telegram to J. P. Herber of Seattle, Wash., representing a lumberman's group opposed to any serious dislocation of American commerce with Japan, Borah said:

"In reply to you wire, and speaking for myself, I stated some time ago that I favor all reasonable efforts to maintain our general trade relations with Japan, excluding all arms, ammunition and implements of war. I still hold that view and am ready to cooperate along that line."

After dispatching the wire, he told newspapermen he felt that Grew is "dealing with the situation with good judgment and my telegram should not be construed in any other light."

He added that "not only in the interests of business but in the interests of peace in the far east, we want peaceful trade relations with Japan."

"In urging this, I have no desire to work a wrong on China," he said.

In addition to hostesses to give the system "oomph," the Birmingham Electric company offered free coffee to its patrons.

Miss Pitt went to work yesterday and a few hours later Louise McConnell took over the hostess duties on another of the company's "runs."

The girls help people on and off cars, hold packages, open and close windows and take out the coffee.

A woman passenger told Miss Pitt, "All my life I've thought how wonderful it would be to sit by an open window on a trolley but I never could open the darn thing."

Miss Pitt opened it.

The hostesses wear uniforms with caps and Sam Brown belts.

FINNS KILL 300 OUT OF 900 ATTACKING RUSSIANS

SOLDIERS' FOOD RATIONS SMALL FOR CHRISTMAS

By WEBB MILLER
WITH FINNISH FORCES NEAR VILPURI, Dec. 25 (UP)—About 300 of an attacking Russian force of 900 Russian soldiers were reported today to be lying dead, frozen in 10 below zero weather in this sector of the Finnish Mannerheim line. The invaders rained shells at the rate of 200 per minute on Finnish defense positions here yesterday. But at the end of the attack the Finnish commander of the sector, which is less than two miles long, said:
"There now are 300 less Russians."
I find it difficult to convey in words to you people sitting in your warm, bright comfortable homes the suffering and fortitude of these men out here. The front lines are experiencing the bitterest cold yet on the latitudes.

Cigarettes freeze
The piercing cold struck through every layer of clothing and even cigarettes froze between puffs. Four inches of snow hung to the dense forest of firs.
Solid bean soup with bits of pork in it, porridge, bread and butter and four halves to each 100 men comprised the Christmas dinner for these soldiers. But they couldn't eat it until nighttime owing to the danger of air observation this bright sunny day. Bread, cheese and sausage was their fare until the field kitchens on sledges could go out to bring warm food. There was no liquor because of army regulations.

Together with three other American correspondents, the only correspondents who spent the evening on the front lines, we walked a couple of miles over the crests, glittering snow in the moonlight through narrow paths of dense forest. Since the attack in the morning the firing had died down. Coming to the lines we heard only the occasional six-inchers, reverberating through the otherwise silent forest.

City Bombed
But late last night as I wrote this message Vilpuri underwent a bombardment. Neither the location of the explosions nor the damage could be determined.

Presently we reached a six-foot high tent of the captain commanding this battalion. He was just returning from the Russian lines. The floor of the tent was covered with half-reclining men. They had made a rather pathetic attempt to evidence their thoughts of Christmas.

Hanging from a tent pole was a three-foot Christmas tree decorated with six little candles and a half dozen cheap celluloid ornaments. "We don't dare light the candles, because the light through the tent might draw a shower of shells," the captain ruefully explained.

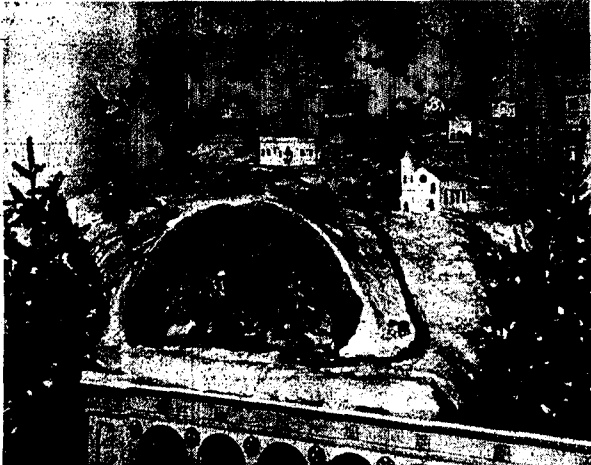

WORK RECESSES DECLARED ASSET

PITTSBURGH (UP)—When things seem to go right about the middle of the morning and again in the afternoon, it won't do to go around with a chip on your shoulder in the office or factory, wherever you happen to work.
Instead, try to relax, get your mind off your work for a few minutes because, says Dr. Russell B. Jones, industrial medical officer, chances are you're suffering from "occupational charityphobia."
The same thing can happen to industrial and office workers as occurs when an athlete is overworked without supplying his muscles with the proper nutrition, according to Dr. Jones.
"For some reason which scientists haven't been able to determine accurately, most people go into a slump somewhere between 10 and 11:30 a. m.," Dr. Jones said. "They'll repeat during the latter part of the day—usually twice."
Usually, the best remedy is rest or diversion which may subtract from the working day but which usually results in more being accomplished when quitting time rolls around. One Pittsburgh firm has found that it pays to give employees two recess periods a day.
"They were given 15 minutes off on company time in the forenoon and mid-afternoon, with the result productivity was stepped up 12 percent in the shorter day," Dr. Jones said.
Actually working one-half hour less time, 55 employees with recess periods were able to accomplish as much as 100 did under the former system of hanging away without interruption through the day."

There IS a Santa Claus!

(Editor's Note: Because many Twin Falls readers began requesting it as long as three weeks ago, the Evening Times publishes again today the most widely reprinted newspaper article of any kind in the history of the world.)
FOREWORD
In 1897, little Virginia O'Hanlon wrote the following letter to the editor of the New York Sun: "I am 8 years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in The Sun it's so.' Please tell me the truth—is there a Santa Claus?"
THE REPLY
"Yes, indeed! 'Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age; they do not believe except what they see—they think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. "All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little."
"In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge."
"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. "He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and self."

light. The eternal light which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.
"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus—the most real things in the world are those neither children nor men can see.
"Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there—nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.
"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, or even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside the curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond."
"Is it all real?—ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding."
"No Santa Claus! Thank God! he lives, and he lives forever—a thousand years from now, Virginia, may ten thousand years from now, he still continue to make glad the heart of childhood!"

WHEAT PLANTING SHOWS ADVANCE

BOISE, Dec. 25 (UP)—Federal Crop Statistician Richard C. Ross today estimated the Idaho winter wheat crop planted this fall for harvest in 1940 at 706,000 acres, or eight per cent greater than seeding last fall. This figure was contrasted with an acreage for the nation estimated at 45,014,000 acres, 2.9 per cent less than in 1939 and four per cent under the 10-year average from 1927-36.
Fall seedings were delayed and to some extent suspended because of shortage of moisture which is acute beyond precedent, Ross said. An abandonment of about one-third of the seeded acreage may be expected judging from the relationship between Dec. 1 conditions and fall weather factors to abandonment in previous years.

63 IDAHO MINE CLAIMS BOUGHT

BOISE, Dec. 25 (UP)—The Antimony Gold Ore company today reported sale of 63 claims in the Yellow Pine district of Valley county for $1,500,000 to the New York and Honduras Rosario Mining company, headed by William A. Pendergast, New York City financier.
The purchasing company also is engaged in mining silver and gold from property at San Juanito, Honduras. Under terms of the contract, $100,000 will be paid Nov. 1, 1940 and the remainder over a period of 11 years in regular installments.

Herd of Elk Grazes Near C.C.C. Camp

For a few minutes C. H. Ramage, projects superintendent at the Rock Creek CCC camp, thought Santa's team was grazing in the forest—but closer inspection revealed that the "grazers" were elk and not reindeer.
The superintendent said today that he saw, at a point only 11 miles above the camp, a herd of four bull and eight cow elk.
"I didn't know there were that many elk in this section," Ramage said.
"The point at which the elk were observed, Ramage points out, is accessible by automobile, the Rock Creek road being passable to that point. By the middle of January, weather permitting, it is expected that it will be a "double track" road for that distance.
The road into the area, opening up a primitive section of the automobile, is being constructed by CCC enrollees. Its completion will provide one of the most scenic drives in Idaho, officials declare.

NAMPA, Ida., Dec. 25 (UP)—An inquest will be held Tuesday into the death of James Leroy Pollock, 31, Nampa, who died Saturday in a Nampa hospital of injuries suffered in a bicycle-automobile collision, Coroner William D. Talley said today.

SNOWBALL'S SPORT SHOPS
In Twin Falls, Burley, Jerome, Idaho Falls and Boise greet you and wish you a Merry Christmas and a happy, joyful New Year!

For nearly twenty centuries the spirit of Christmas, as symbolized by the shining star, the wise men, the humbleness of The Christ Child's birth has survived to retell its glorious story once each year. Our observance of Christmas should never depart from that simple expression: Peace On Earth — Good Will Toward Men!
The star is still shining . . . It gleams over millions of homes — to all it brings a measure of satisfaction and peace with its eternal message. All the troublous events of history, past and present, are as fleeting shadows when compared to the spirit of Christmas unchanged and unchangeable: PEACE ON EARTH — GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN!
Let us all try to capture this Christmas Spirit and retain it throughout the year . . . let's all live it to its utmost by giving a thing we are richer for having given — GOOD WILL!

MANY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Burchard was to be discharged from the hospital this afternoon. Condition of the other injured persons was said to be good by hospital attendants.

The mishap occurred when cars being operated by Melvin B. Alfred and Miss Birch crashed. Police reports show that vision was not obstructed at the intersection and that the streets were dry. No arrests have been made, however. Miss Birch was alone in a car owned by William Bell while the Alfred machine was owned by the Magel Automobile company and was allegedly taken from the used car lot without permission of company officials.

In the hospital, unconscious and with a fracture at the base of the skull is Gerhard Klunder, 33, who resides near Clover. The man was en route to church Sunday morning when the car he was driving left the road and struck a power pole. His condition this afternoon was only "fair," attendants said. The mishap occurred one-quarter mile west of Trinity church, Clover.

Flur Men Critical

One of the two pedestrians struck by automobiles here Saturday night was in a "critical" condition today. He is E. S. Martin, Filer. He received a leg fracture below the right knee and also head injuries when struck by a machine which a police report shows was being operated by H. H. Mann, Twin Falls. The man was struck in the 300 block of Main avenue south early Saturday evening by an automobile being operated by Larry H. Arms, Twin Falls, a police report said.

Also sustaining a broken leg when struck by a car was W. C. Kistner, Filer. His condition was termed "good" at the hospital today. The man was struck in the 300 block of Main avenue south early Saturday evening by an automobile being operated by Larry H. Arms, Twin Falls, a police report said.

Murderer Wreck

Two girls and two young men, all of Hansen, were cut and bruised in a Christmas eve smashup near Murtaugh as another in a series of south Idaho holiday accidents.

The girls were Mildred and Maude Allen, sisters, and driver of the machine was Arlen Lebbe. The other young man in the car did not give his name. The machine hit U. S. 30 on a straightaway 50 yards from the canal bridge at the Artesian Junction, overran the road, dashed off one service pole and snapped another in half, and then overturned several times.

Arden Lebbe, 21, of Murtaugh, drove up to the accident scene five minutes after the crash. He assisted the four injured persons and then took them to their residences at Hansen.

One of the girls and the unidentified man were cut worse than the other pair. Kistner said the machine was a total wreck. The accident happened at about 10:45 p. m. Sunday.

At Ketchikan today, where six inches of new snow is on the ground, state policemen said a "couple of minor mishaps" have been reported up to noon today but that no one has been injured as a result of automobile accidents. The minor mishaps, they said, were caused by slippery road conditions but little damage was done.

THIEVES TAKE 2 GUNS FROM CAR

Police today were searching for several articles, including two guns, which were removed from the automobile of Russell Helfrecht, route three, while the machine was parked across the street from the Bickel school Saturday night.

The loss, according to the police blotter, was reported Sunday at 11 a. m.

Among the articles taken from the machine was a 12 gauge shotgun, double barrel type and hammerless. It was a new gun. The second gun was a 22 single shot bolt action type. Also missing was a grey overcoat, a black hat, a grey hat and a box of 12 gauge shotgun shells.

Chickens Stolen From Yard Here

Fourteen chickens—including 12 pullets and two roosters—were stolen from the yard of the Merle Metz home at 315 Harrison street, Twin Falls, according to a report given the sheriff's office today.

The theft occurred between 1 a. m. and 2:30 a. m. Dec. 24, the report said.

GERMAN TIMBER DEPLETION NEAR

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Prof. Nelson C. Brown of the New York college of forestry predicts that Germany will face a serious problem because it is over-cutting its forests and lacks foreign exchange for extensive purchases abroad.

Returning from Germany just as Hitler's army was moving into Poland in early September, Brown pictured the situation as being already serious because of blockades, an increasing demand for wood because of the war and the fact that forests in the reich are being over-cut by 30 per cent.

Determining Factors

"The extent to which Germany will be able to draw upon its forests to help meet the demands of its requirements, the balance with increased populations, on the other, remains to be seen," he said.

The length of the war and the scope of Germany's new knowledge in respect to chemical and mechanical uses of wood may be determining factors.

Brown believes that Americans have been led to believe that German forests provide all that is needed in the reich for all purposes. "This is not true," he said, "as Germany produces only two-thirds of its requirements. The balance must come from Russia, Finland and Sweden."

New Methods

Brown said methods for extracting sugar for both human and animal consumption from wood have been developed in Germany and many different chemicals, plastics and forms of plywood are being made from German forest products to overcome deficiencies.

"Scientific developments are designed not only to help relieve the import situation," he said, "but to release the strain on other resources."

"One of the most interesting attempts to devise means of substituting materials that must be important is the use of wood and charcoal to supplant gasoline. Various forms of alcohol extracted from wood, grapes, potatoes and sugar beets are being mixed with imported gasoline for motor fuel."

Brown said that "considering its unbound monetary system, its difficulty in paying for much-needed raw materials, the insufficiency of its domestic production and the serious over-cutting of its forests, there seems little doubt but that Germany is facing a most serious economic problem."

Martin Cameron, Jerome, was in Twin Falls county jail today under $200 bail after arraignment Saturday before Probate Judge C. A. Bailey on suspicion of issuing a fictitious check. He was arrested here by city police.

Average Dane Grateful for Peace, Quiet

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 25 (U.P.)—Jens Hansen, the average Dane, curtailed his Christmas celebration somewhat this year—both because of current tension throughout Scandinavia and a higher cost of living—but he reflected gratefully that no bombs would rain down from the sky to interrupt him in his beloved Christmas tree.

After coming home from church with his family this morning, Jens Hansen hurriedly set the table in the kitchen preparing the roast goose and red cabbage which are the main course of the Danish Christmas dinner.

But the first course in the meal was simple milk rice pudding in which a couple of almonds were hidden. The lucky one who found an almond in his dish received a small gift. "Vule beer"—sweet, black and almost non-alcoholic—was served and the meal was topped off with cheese and fruits.

Christmas Highlight

Then came the highlight of the Danish Christmas. Along, Jens went and lit the Christmas tree. He summoned the family and read the Christmas story from the second chapter of Luke. All joined hands around the tree and sang a carol.

Jens then distributed gifts that had been put around the tree. Friends or neighbors who already had had their tree festivities dropped in for a glass of Christmas wine and another Danish Yuletide was in full swing.

Prepares Dinner

While the children chafed with impatience to see the tree, Mother Hansen hurriedly set the table in the kitchen preparing the roast goose and red cabbage which are the main course of the Danish Christmas dinner.

PLANS TO BOOST ARMY REJECTED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25 (UP)—The administration has abandoned plans to ask congress immediately to increase the regular army and national guard to 600,000 men. It will seek instead funds to make the present 450,000 men perfect in equipment and training, official quarters said today.

Abandonment of the proposed increase, which would have raised the present force of 227,000 regulars to 280,000 men, and the national guard from 225,000 men to 220,000, is part of the administration's efforts to effect budget economies.

Abandonment of the plan for an immediate initial protective force of 600,000 men would mean the forthcoming congress will be asked to appropriate about $1,100,000,000 for the army instead of an originally contemplated $1,600,000,000 to $1,800,000,000—the $1,100,000,000 would include about $120,000,000 now in President Roosevelt's requested $775,000,000 deficiency bill to meet extra defense measures necessitated by the European war.

The balance of the appropriation will be for the regular items plus an "emergency" outlay. This latter will be for furnishing the army with so-called critical materials and weapons, which are on priority status and for which there is an urgent need.

2 NYA PROJECTS OPENED IN AREA

Two new NYA projects, including one opening in the city of Twin Falls in connection with the improvement program at the Jaycees baseball park, owned by the city, were announced here today by L. W. Polson, field representative for the youth administration.

Polson said that eight youths will be engaged on the Jaycees park project and that six have been selected to date, the actual work to start immediately.

Provides Experience
The project here has been set up to take over the work of preparing grounds and putting grass on the baseball diamond and outfield. According to the official project application it will "provide work experience in soil preparation and landscaping and also sign painting, carpentry and allied trades" for the youths engaged.

Charles F. Larson, city superintendent of streets, will have direct charge of the youths working on the project. The six selected to date are Floyd Lancaster, Kenneth Sherrill, Norman Stewart, Wendell Eller, Harold Erickson and Raymond Althouse.

The same boys, it was explained, will also be assigned to supervise work on the slaking pond as soon as it is ready for use.

Second Project
The second project is one at the state fish hatchery located at Gannett. This project will be under the supervision of M. K. Thornhill, hatchery manager. Four boys to work on this project will be Orville Byington, Wayne Byington, Dee L. Boudien and Willis Castle. All are residents of Gannett.

The boys will gain experience in the grading and feeding of fish as well as their packing for shipment, cleaning and pickling of eggs.

Polson also announced that by January, there will be 165 boys and girls on work projects in the eight counties of the Magic valley as well as 98 boys and girls at residential schools at Weiser and Pocatello, making a total of 263 engaged in NYA project work.

MISSOURI DAMS OPPOSED
SEDALIA, Mo., Dec. 25.—The conservation federation of Missouri has announced opposition to plans of the war department to build 30 flood control dams in Missouri. Leaders said such dams would destroy virtually every major clear water stream in the state.
