

FINNS SCORE MAJOR VICTORY OVER SOVIET URUGUAY INTERNS BIG GERMAN FREIGHTER TACOMA

Failure to Conform With Order to Leave Port Brings Seizure

MONTEVIDEO, Jan. 1 (UP)—The German freighter Tacoma, supply ship to the scuttled German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee, was ordered interned by the Uruguayan government today following its failure to comply with a 24 hour order to leave port because it was adjudged a German naval auxiliary vessel.

Officials announced that the Tacoma will be interned for the duration of the war, coinciding with conferences aboard ship and ashore to work out final details of internment.

The Uruguayan gunboat La Valdeja, carrying an armed party of 15 men, put the Tacoma under harbor to the Tacoma's anchorage outside the breakwater to supervise internment procedure.

The 8,268 ton German ship was ordered interned despite strenuous German efforts to obtain extension of the government's order.

Seven members of the crew of the Tacoma who acted as hostages were not found. They had been missing from the vessel last night when it moved from the inner harbor to the outer port where it anchored pending further clarification of its status.

Capt. Hans Knorow made new protests against the Uruguayan government's detention order, issued yesterday.

Capt. Knorow said he would submit to international arbitration an attempt to intern the Tacoma in the case of a further seizure.

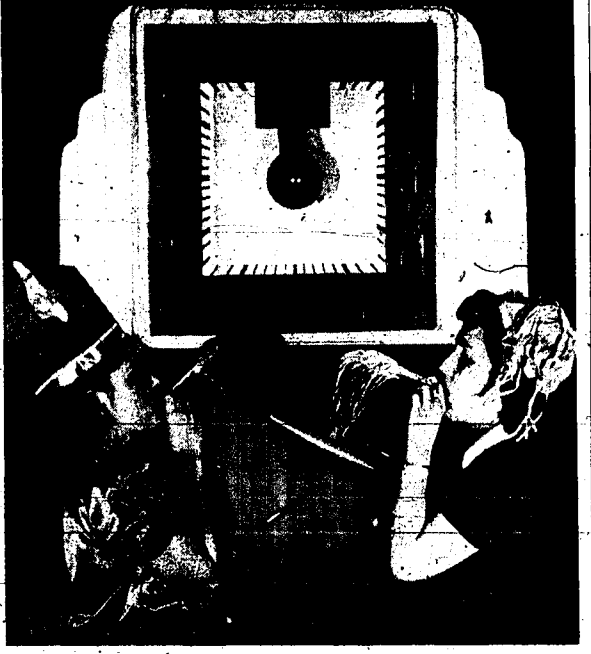

It was understood Knorow had contended the government's 24 hour time limit, especially in view of the New Year holiday was too short to permit him to unload part of his cargo.

Discussions about the Tacoma, it was reported, involved Capt. Knorow's desire to unload certain cargo described as "delicate" or "dangerous" before submitting to internment.

The Tacoma is manned by about 45 officers and men, most of whom will be taken to the Valdeja.

As "Happy New Year" Marched in

Typifying the gala greeting accorded to 1940 as the New Year displaced the old, these two attractive Twin Falls girls gained a head-start on the clock with a minute to go.

Death on the highways struck down 14 persons in Twin Falls county in 1939 to achieve for the county the "honor" as state leader in traffic fatalities.

Greene's increase in deaths, however, was shown in Cassia county where four were killed in 1938 and 12 in 1939.

NEW EARTHQUAKE ADDS TO BURDEN IN TURKEY AREAS

ISTANBUL, Jan. 1 (UP)—New earthquake shocks in Anatolia, devastated by successive temblors last week, today increased the suffering of thousands of homeless and added to the burden of relief workers.

Messages from the Tokat area of Anatolia said the new shocks toppled buildings and buried refugees.

Heavy snows caused great hardship, but the main stores of relief crops kept the railroad open to Anatolia.

The ministers of health and interior, Dr. Huluis Altas and Paik Ozek, visited Erzurum, a center of the earthquake zone, to direct relief operations.

550 Towns Hit: Officials here said preliminary surveys of the devastated area showed that in addition to the destruction at Erzurum, 550 villages, with normal populations totaling 135,000, had been damaged.

Similar reports were received from Zaza, Ispah and Eshelir, Ispah being one of the worst areas that had been killed.

18,000 Russians Reported Killed, Injured in Fight

Helsinki, Jan. 1 (UP)—Finnish troops fought today to capitalize on their reported major victory over a Russian division which official dispatches said was wiped out yesterday in the central sector near Kiantajarvi (Lake Kianta).

Entering the New Year with what military experts said was the most important triumph of the month-old war, the Finnish 20th division reported destroyed. While their troops were in the Kiantajarvi area, official announcements claimed that since the start of the war 129 Russian planes had been shot down.

The battle of Kiantajarvi, experts said, had definitely halted a Russian attempt to cut across the center of Finland to the gulf of Bothnia.

During operations conducted in the Kiantajarvi area, Finnish troops were bombed yesterday, including Turku (Port Abo), Tampere and Hyvinkaa, 35 miles north of Helsinki.

IDAHO AND UTAH BATTLE TO SLICE ROAD ACCIDENTS

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 1 (UP)—Utah's efforts to cut down traffic deaths during 1940 in answer to a challenge from the governor of Idaho received a severe setback today when one man was killed and six persons injured in a spectacular collision on the Salt Lake-Ogden highway shortly after midnight.

Mrs. John Parrish, Jr., Farmington, was killed instantly. Her husband and two other occupants of the Parrish machine Mr. and Mrs. Howard Mann of Bountiful were injured.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Westbrock, Salt Lake City, and their infant son, occupants of the second machine involved, were also injured but reported resting comfortably in a hospital here today.

The challenge from Gov. C. A. Bottelton of Idaho for Utah to match or beat Idaho's safety record in 1939 was accepted by the governor of Utah, L. W. Hootch, at a news conference.

Blood stains should be laid to Utah and Idaho and declared "the campaign in either state, vigorously waged, will be great, either way or not the bare statistics at the end of the year give a tie picture.

The Utah governor congratulated the people of Idaho on reduction of traffic fatalities during 1939, but said that Idaho in 1939 had a reduction of 10 from the 174 deaths in 1938.

HUNT SEEKS TRIO IN LOCAL KIDNAP

State police, sheriff's officers and city police of this section of Idaho today continue a widespread hunt for three men who late Saturday afternoon kidnaped and robbed a bakery truck driver.

The victim, police reports show, was George M. Lonsdale, 41½, Walnut street. The three men, he told Buckley officers, stopped his truck four miles south of Kimboe and forced him to get into a sedan.

Week-End's Death Toll Reaches 168

The nation counted at least 168 dead today from violence on the three-day New Year week-end.

A survey by United Press showed automobile accidents had taken 97 lives since Saturday night. The 48 states and District of Columbia reported 36 suicides and a dozen slayings, while other fatalities were caused by fire, drowning, explosion and train-car collision.

Pennsylvania and Illinois—each with 17 deaths—headed the parade of states in holiday toll.

On the credit side of the survey were 20 states which could report no traffic fatalities for the two days. These were: Alabama, Delaware, Georgia, Idaho, Kansas, Kentucky, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming.

THOMPSON TAKES POST AT BURLEY

F. C. (Frank) Thompson, former secretary of the Twin Falls Chapter of Commerce, will take over active management of the Speer's Club cafe at Burley Tuesday, he said here today.

Thompson said that Willard Wood, prominent Jerome business man and owner of Wood's cafe in the north side city, has bought out the Burley Speer. Name of the restaurant at Burley will be changed Jan. 2 to "Oregon Trail cafe."

Fifteen months ago Thompson resigned as Twin Falls C. of C. manager and moved to Jerome to become associated with the late A. O. (Shepherd) Latham at the North side Inn. Since then he has been active in Jerome civic affairs, was made manager of the Jerome county fair, was on the state board of the Idaho Junior Chamber of Commerce, and was elected a director on the board of the Jerome Jaycees.

ONLY $6.10 DUE ON CANAL WATER

Uncollected 1939 water charges totaled only $6.10, it was shown here today after a report to this effect had been filed at the county recorder's office Saturday by officials of the Twin Falls Canal company.

The amount of the lien set a record for the company. The previous low mark for uncollected assessments was $9.19 and was noted in 1937.

Total charge amounted to $207,563, being computed at $1 an acre. Maintenance charges must be paid in advance of water delivery. This year only 10 pieces of land were listed in the lien, the amount due ranging from 20 cents to $2 in each case.

MANSSION GONE; SHANTY SERVES

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Alone with his family heirlooms and memories in a three-room shanty on the Mississippi river flats—lives the last of the Broomes of Broome county, N. Y.

"A 'shantytown' who once lived in a mansion in Binghamton, N. Y., once studied at Syracuse university, and once knew Theodore Roosevelt intimately is 66-year-old Oscar Broome.

With his brown eyes smiling, he is "just tinkering around and getting things along." He lives in a battered and worn shack—the home of the last of the Broomes, of antiquities "from the old estate" and memories.

"I was cleaned out in 1929. I sold whisky for the last couple of years, but I got laid up last winter and lost my job. I hope to get work next month," he says.

Living almost in the shadow of the University of Minnesota, Broome has his share of visitors. He likes to show them his "fortune."

"This salt-shaker contraption here was made in 1882. The date's marked on the side. That four-poster bed bed over there is solid mahogany. It was built in 1648.

"That chair you're sitting on is over 100 years old," he continues. "That's a picture of Lincoln when he was President. That footstool's solid cherry. This lusterware has quite a history."

Broome takes pride in pointing out the pictures of his parents.

"My father in that portrait up there died when I was 11. He was Scotch and English, a gentleman who didn't have to work. That pastel is of my mother. She died over a year ago, although I didn't learn of her death until some time afterward."

And so lives the last of the Broomes, although he is "down on the uppers," in a home of plenty.

Philadelphia is the home of pepper pot, a dish unknown to most people outside that city. Here, also, originated scrapple, a by-product of the pork-raising industry, and the cinnamon bun.

GOODING STAGES NEW YEAR RITES

GOODING, Jan. 1 (Special)—The Gooding Ministerial association sponsored a special New Year's service at the Episcopal church on Sunday evening. Rev. Theo B. Mitzner delivered the sermon and Rev. L. A. Cook was in charge of the program. Congregations of the Baptist, Methodist, Christian and Episcopal churches joined in the service.

The Assembly of God church held a special service at their church beginning at eight and continuing until midnight.

Watch night parties were held by the Christian Endeavor at the Christian church and by the Epworth league and Men's club at the Methodist church.

Gooding Girls Give Party for Mothers

GOODING, Jan. 1 (Special)—Gooding Girl Scouts held a Christmas party, with their mothers as guests, at the Scout club house Friday afternoon.

The girls had a gift exchange and each mother received a gift made by her daughter. The rooms were decorated with a lighted Christmas tree. All joined in singing carols around the organ, which the Scouts recently acquired, and in playing games.

RUPERT

A wire received Wednesday by Mrs. J. P. Murphy told of the death of her mother, Mrs. Tullus, Cambridge, O., Tuesday.

As a courtesy to Mrs. Elizabeth M. Johnson, home from school near Cascade, Mrs. J. I. Trenhale entertained Thursday.

Wallace Rolfe, San Jose, Calif., who spent the holidays with his brother, Rev. E. Leslie Rolfe, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, and family, left for his home recently accompanied by his nephew, Fred Rolfe, who will enter Polytech college of engineering at Oakland, Calif., Jan. 2.

EDEN

A group of I. O. O. F. and Rebekah members went Wednesday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Porter, who have been recently married, for a house warming. Pinochle and Chinese games were played. Mr. and Mrs. Porter were presented with a gift from the lodge.

Mrs. Cora Woodward entertained at bridge Thursday. Mrs. Lois Knifong was guest. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Arch Miller, Mrs. Herbert Cooper, Mrs. Lloyd Barnett and Mrs. Maude Richards. Mrs. Knifong received guest prize.

Lillian Sholes, daughter of Christopher Latham Sholes, was the world's first typist. Her father invented the first successful typewriter, but the machine wrote only capital letters.

CRASH

Total number of automobile wrecks investigated by Twin Falls police during 1939 was 228 as last year total, a record today shows.

During the 12-month period there were 28 persons injured and one was killed, all within the city limits.

Police describe the record as "one of the worst" in the history of the city.

... for more than memories.

To us, the passing year, 1939, means far more than memories. It has been a banner year for our organization, and we are thankful for the public's recognition of our efforts.

The success we enjoyed can only be due to the acceptance of our products by the people of Magic Valley and the merchandising cooperation of their retailers.

The continued — and even greater — popularity of Butter-Krust; the immediate and astounding enthusiasm for Sid's Old Fashioned and Germ O' Wheat, two brand new bread products introduced this past year, are the kind of reward that is gratifying. For this success, we wish to thank you — consumers and retailers, alike.

You may be sure that 1940 will bring you even better bread products from our bakery, ready for your selection at your favorite grocers. We — our entire staff — join in pledging our best efforts towards continued quality and flavor in the breads we bake and deliver to you. We promise to serve you well during 1940!

New Year Dance Of Tri-C Club Ends Yuletide

An elaborate intermission program, arranged under the direction of Miss Pat Smith, will be high point of interest at the Tri-C holiday dance in honor of alumnae this evening at the Elks ballroom, marking a finale to the major dances of the Christmas-New Year season. The reception line will form at 8:30 o'clock, and dancing will begin promptly at 9 o'clock. It was announced today. The timing of school bells tomorrow, will make it necessary for the young hostesses and their guests to conclude their "other to the New Year" at midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Benoit will be patron of the evening. Charles B. Beymer, junior sponsor of the club, and Dr. Beymer, who are out of the city until tomorrow, will be unable to attend.

House Mother of Betas Honored

Mrs. Adam B. Barclay, house mother at the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house at the University of Idaho, who is spending the holidays at her home in Twin Falls, was presented with the flowers which decorated the tables for the Beta dinner, preceding the Panhellenic ball last week. Alumni, active members and pledges, their wives and partners attended.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blandford made the presentation to Mrs. Barclay following the dinner at the Rosson hotel. Present at the luncheon in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Blandford were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Mr. Nelson is a member of the Junior Statesmen of America; is on the cabinet of the Y. M. C. A. and the Wesley Foundation, and is a member of the American Friends' service committee.

RESOLUTIONS GIVEN BY B. AND H. MEMBERS

Roll call responses for members of the B. and H. club, when they met last week at the home of Mrs. Berna Lester, were New Year's resolutions. Mrs. Shirley Dwight was guest hostess.

The club planned a pot-luck dinner for Jan. 28 at the home of Mrs. Anna Lambers, since the scheduled hostesses for this meeting are visiting in the east. Meeting originally planned for Jan. 12, has been postponed, unless further announcement is made.

We've just closed a very successful year considering everything, and we want to thank you folks who have supported this store in such a mighty fine manner.

A business grows only in accordance to the service rendered the public. We have added quality lines to our fast growing Merchandise Mart, not only for our customer's good, but for our own good, because we stand behind the merchandise we sell.

Depression Baby

We started out July 13, 1933 as a "Depression Baby" with nothing to sell, nothing to lose and all to gain; and today we take pride in making the statement that we have one of the largest stocks of home furnishings in this part of the country—three floors chock full of home furnishings for your approval.

ME AND MY GANG WISH YOU ALL A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR!

Hoop-Rah Salutes New Year of 1940 Throughout City

How's it in a who? Think nothing of it. So is everybody's. With hands by a moment of respite between Christmas and New Year, the social week practically achieved perpetual motion.

From the Cinderella hour until early this morning Elks and their ladies welcomed the New Year in with a carnival dance at the Elks ballroom, the Hoop-Rah ball living up to expectations.

It was the beginning of 1940, and the entire town did something about it. As the hour was striking midnight, fireworks were set off lighting up the immediate vicinities in several sections of the residential district, their reports adding to the din of sirens, whistles, horns, blowing and general noisemaking.

The holiday mood was upon the land and theaters, the coffee shops and dance pavilions throughout southern Idaho reflected the general spirit of gaiety.

Lights burned long after midnight in local homes, as festivities in connection with the heralding of the New Year came to a conclusion with early-morning breakfasts. Some hosts and hostesses timed their parties so that treatments were served just after the beginning of the new year.

Predominating in New Year's day celebrations will be dinners for families and intimate friends. Buffet suppers as a windup to the most sparkling holiday week in a decade, and left minute courtesies for students before they return to colleges and universities.

HONORS AWARDED AT BRIDGE LUNCHEON Mrs. Ernestine Keilard and Mrs. Ernest Jellison won contract honors at the luncheon at which Mrs. C. G. Hall entertained Saturday at her home, 321 Seventh avenue north, a farewell courtesy to her daughter, Miss Waverly Hall, who returned to Los Angeles, Calif., where she teaches school. All-out honors went to Mrs. Donald Genick of Hazelton. Guests in addition to the honoree and prize winners were Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Mrs. Helen Madland, Mrs. Robert Winterlor, Mrs. William Slimp, Mrs. Alma Hobson, Mrs. Keith Hunter, Miss Verne Richards and Miss Edna Richards.

CYCLISTS SEEK NO. 1 PLATE

LORAIN, O. (AP)—Bicycles, like automobiles, now require license tags here, and sons, like their fathers, prefer the low numbers. There's plenty of applications for the low ones—especially No. 1.

Five Queens to Rule At Annual M. I. A. Ball

Each year the Gold and Green ball of the Twin Falls stake, M.I.A., becomes more pretentious in beauty, more spectacular in pageantry, and the one for 1940 will be no exception. Details for the elaborate event of Jan. 17 at Radioland, were outlined by a special committee, meeting yesterday evening at the home of Mrs. Juanita Hull.

Five queens, representing the wards of the stake, will rule over the ball, which is scheduled to begin at 8:30 o'clock, with the floor show and presentation of queens set for 9 o'clock. The reigning queen will be titled the Goddess of Light. The other four will be designated as the Queen of Youth, the Queen of Beauty, the Queen of Power and the Queen of Growth.

New Year's Eve Parties Honor Coast Visitors

Two courtesies were arranged yesterday in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Benson and their sons, Emil Benson and Robert Benson, former Twin Falls residents, now of Berkeley, Calif., who are spending the holidays in Twin Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lindsay entertained at a breakfast at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning in their honor, appointments being indicative of the New Year.

Present in addition to the hosts and the honorees were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Benson and their daughter, Miss Mary Virginia Benson; Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Langevalier and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Dyzer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ryan entertained informally at a dinner at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the Bensons, who will return the middle of January to Berkeley, where their sons are students at the University of California.

PAIR TO WED IN SALT LAKE TEMPLE

Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Hulet, Wendell, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Maureen Hulet, Twin Falls, to William M. Rappley, son of Mrs. Carrie Rappley, Twin Falls. The wedding will be solemnized Wednesday, Jan. 3, at the Latter Day Saints temple in Salt Lake City.

Bon Voyage Party Arranged to Fete Members of K. T.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Teater, Hansen, members of the K. T. club, were given a farewell party in connection with the New Year's celebration staged last week by the club members and their husbands at the home of Mrs. Freda Swearingen, Kimberly, mother of Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor, hosts of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Teater are leaving this week to make their home in Amarillo, Tex. A farewell gift was presented to them.

Serpentine and balloons formed a false ceiling for the living and dining rooms, and the dinner table was centered with a red cellophane plaque, on which a miniature figure of the New Year, bearing a 1940 banner, chased Father Time, who carried a 1939 banner. An hour glass centered the plaque and red tapers twinkled an ether-wide. Place cards were the New Year theme.

Mrs. O. M. Tucker, Mrs. James Alastra, L. C. Satterlee, Jr. and Willard Teater win honors at contract, and were bidden to find their prizes, wrapped as Christmas gifts, upon the branches of a brilliantly decorated Christmas tree.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Malory Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Satterlee, Jr., all of Twin Falls; Mr. and Mrs. James Alastra, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Jones, the host and hostess, Swearingen, Miss June Swearingen, Kimberly, and Mr. and Mrs. Teater, Hansen.

TIME ON HAND MYSTERIOUS BOSTON (AP)—Fireman Timothy J. Donovan had time on his hands but didn't know what to do with it. He told police he was standing in the fire station door when a stranger stepped up to him, thrust a watch in his hand and said, "Hold this." The stranger never returned, so Donovan turned the watch over to police.

To Further Improve Your Electric Service We Will Expend Over $1,400,000.00 in 1940

Idaho Power Company faces the year 1940 with confidence in the future development of the territory we serve. This confidence is expressed by the fact that our 1940 budget calls for the expenditure of over $1,400,000 in addition to our regular operations.

1. Provide employment for more people.
2. Pay wages to the employed sufficient to keep up our American standard of living, which is our heritage.
3. Meet the cost of necessary government and begin the liquidation of our collective national indebtedness.

Such a program is only possible when all business is conducted on a "live and let live" basis.

The Idaho Power Company pledges itself to do its part in the attainment of such an objective.

We have always attempted to keep the development of our facilities for service ahead of the requirements of our territory. We have cooperated with agriculture and we have endeavored to supply all of our customers with an adequate and dependable electric service at the lowest possible cost.

In the passing of 1939 another chapter of American business has been written. And this chapter reflects the record we have made.

We start the New Year with a common objective; that the orderly conduct of business and exchange of products, wares and services will equalize the inequalities that exist in farm prices and other products and obtain a national income sufficient to:

Just Between Us Girls: Leap Year Opens Today

By JEAN DINCKELACKER

Today's the beginning of Leap year, girls, and you know your privilege. You can ask him, if you can get him to listen.

No Winifred Nam 1, and I don't intend to be, but I conformed with the town's girls—girls—girls—one at a time—at one of the holiday dances last week, and asked them in my direct way why they hadn't joined their brethren in contributing "sparklers" as Christmas gifts.

Three years' diamonds rivaled the distribution of shining lights on Yule trees, as you probably observed. And every one admitted that he hadn't as yet found that charming somebody he was looking for.

"Charming" was the adjective that cropped into each of the five comments. Wasn't it Barry who wrote, "If a woman has charm, she doesn't need anything else?"

This isn't a thesis of "Charm and How to Get It." It's just a questionnaire to tell you what your C. Q. (Charm Quotient) happens to be. It's not guaranteed to get you a man, even in Leap year, but it may help you to keep some of those New Year's resolutions of yours, and it's a yardstick to estimate your charm.

For every question to which your answer is "yes" you rate two points. Add up your score. If you rate 16, you're pretty nice, with loads of charm. Between 56 and 76 means that you have charm, but you aren't making the most of yourself. If your score is below 56, it means that a program of self-government must be started.

Your Health

1. Is your figure well proportioned, neither too fat nor too thin?
2. Is your health so good that you read the news?
3. Do you wake up early in the morning keen on another day?
4. Do you get some exercise every day?
5. Do you hold your head up, your chest raised, abdomen in, and back flat?

Your Looks

6. Is your skin smooth and unblemished?
7. Is your hair glossy and well groomed?
8. Do you appear early in the morning with your hair neatly brushed and combed?
9. Are your eyes free of strain from overwork, from glasses in need of re-fitting?
10. Are your street shoes comfortable enough to permit you an easy, graceful stride?
11. Can you feel proud of your hands?
12. Do you choose your cosmetics with care, so that they are the cosmetics for you?
13. Do you give your face a thorough cleansing with soap and water and with final cold water rinse?
14. Do you apply your makeup so cleverly that it could pass for natural beauty?

Your Neatness

15. Do you have your clothes cleaned frequently?
16. Are you particular about keeping your clothes pressed?
17. Do the lint-free touches on your dress bespeak the fastidious woman?
18. Do you wear fresh stockings and underwear daily?
19. Do you wash your girdles frequently?
20. Are your slips well fitted so that they never show below the hem of your skirt?
21. Do you don your stockings always with an eye to straight seams and unwrinkled ankles?
22. Do you keep your shoes in such good repair that there's never a run-down heel?
23. Do you wear light gloves that show no unseemly soil?

50th Anniversary Observed by Pair

PAUL, Jan. 1 (Special)—In recognition of a half century of wedded life together, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Coon were honored guests at a golden wedding celebration Dec. 24 given by their children at the Coon home west of Paul.

Dinner served to 24 guests was followed by a reception with over 200 callers in the afternoon. The anniversary was Dec. 25, but the anniversary party was given one day in advance.

Married in Doniphan, Neb., Dec. 25, 1890, Mr. and Mrs. Coon came to the MINIDOKA project as successful farmers in 1909 and farmed and improved their present place a mile and a half southwest of Paul. Their family of three sons, Everett, Payne and Lynn Coon, and two daughters, Mrs. R. R. Bartholome and Mrs. Willis Reed, with their families, were all in attendance at the anniversary, except Mrs. Hazel Bartholome, Los Angeles, and Miss Winifred Coon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Coon, Los Angeles.

All 11 other grandchildren were present.

Beautifully decorated for the occasion with a gold and silver motif, offset by Christmas greenery were the spacious rooms of the Coon home. Preceding the dinner, Mendelsohn's wedding march was played by Mrs. Leslie Harper, while the dinner guests, headed by Rev. and Mrs. Albert B. Parrett, Rupert, and the bridal couple formed by a match.

Three banquet tables were spread, two of them carrying pyramid wedding cakes and the third table held an old-fashioned bouquet sent by members of the Paul Ladies Aid society. The cakes were beautifully decorated, the one for the anniversary couple being surmounted by a pair of love birds.

When all guests were in the places designated for them, Rev. Parrett offered a prayer. As the company was seated, Mrs. Harper played a piano solo and during the dinner hour a program was given. Program numbers included a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Payne of Burley, who sang "Two Crown So Fond of You."

Washington Skier Goes Into Top For Point Lead

By HAF WOOD
Evening Times Sports Editor
SUN VALLEY, Jan. 1 (Special)—Carl Neu, University of Washington's speed-demon on skis, today held the national intercollegiate slalom championship for the second year in a row and had as good a chance as anybody else in this national meet to take the all-around crown.

Running over the slippery slalom course laid out by Fried Pfeiffer, Sun Valley pro, on the north side of Baldy, Neu negotiated the distance in a combined time of 76 2/5 seconds. On his first run Neu had a time of 34 and 3/5 seconds and on the second 41 4/5.

60,000 to See East-West Shrine Game

SUN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1 (UP)—Football fans representing the east and west met today before 60,000 fans in the 15th presentation of the "East-West Shrine charity game" at the stadium here.

The easterners, coached by Andy Kerr of Colgate and Bernie Elyman of Minnesota, entered the game 10 to 8 favorites over the westerners headed by Babe Hollingbery of Washington State and Bill Jones of Nebraska.

The game was chosen from the nation's college seniors. The Mississippi river was the dividing line for the teams.

The game preceded by a picnic in which Shriners, bands, military organizations and other marching groups participated. Proceeds of the game are devoted to maintenance of the Shriners' hospital for crippled children here.

Following Blazer to the slalom results were Oils Lanson, University of Washington; and Harold Ojome, University of Washington.

In the total points a tally Neu and Ojome had a total of 183.25, while after that came Ring Thorndyke of Washington State with 179.24; Dave Quinney, University of Washington, 174.21; and Tom Cushman, University of Washington, 173.21.

As a result of the slalom up to date, it appeared that western skiers would hold a monopoly on first finishes in the four-day event for the Bradley trophy, and with the downhill and jump yet to be staged, Quinney of the University of Washington appeared to be very much in the running for the national collegiate all-around championship.

Southern California Giants Meet Tennessee Today

Shoshone Redskins Upset Touring House of David Club, 32-30

SHOSHONE, Jan. 1 (Special)—Scoring a field goal as the final whistle blew, Shoshone's fast-moving Redskins in a dramatic upset defeated the touring House of David Club, 32-30, today in a thrilling overtime game.

Lee Betts, who tosses them one-handed from all angles, dropped the ball through the hoop for the winning points in the extra period after Bob Haddock and Bill Thornton had tied the score at 28-28 to match the House of David, led by Halley, star of the bewhiskered quintet.

The upset victory for the south Idaho club kept its undefeated record intact for the season thus far. A substantial crowd thronged the Shoshone high school gymnasium to watch the game.

The Daviddes did not clowning as is their usual custom against home talent, because the Redskins kept the barnstormers too busy for foolishness.

With the game in its closing minutes the Bearded Aces stepped into a 24-22 lead. But Shoshone's Jacked-Batters at 24-24 and then went ahead with a field goal.

The game was exceptionally fast and clean, and only 12 fouls were called as the total on both clubs.

Shoshone drew first blood in the overtime period on Haddock's foul shot. Halley caged a field goal to put the House of David ahead, but Thornton dropped in his free throw to tie the game at 30 and 30.

Betts speared under the backboard on a rebound shot to score the winning points as the timer's gong sounded.

At the end of the first quarter the Redskins led by 9-5. They made it 18-14 at the half. The score was tied at 22-22 at the end of the third stanza.

Betts topped all scoring with nine field goals for a total of 18 points. The game was exceptionally fast and clean, and only 12 fouls were called as the total on both clubs.

Summary: SHOSHONE FG FT TP Haddock, 1 2 2 6 Betts, 9 0 0 18 Thornton, 2 2 0 4 Berriochos, 1 1 0 3 Chless, 0 0 0 0

H. OF DAVID FG FT TP Wall, 1 0 0 2 Seising, 2 0 0 4 Currie, 1 1 0 2 Livingston, 3 0 0 3 Halley, 5 5 1 11

When I look at the roses (which I just borrowed from a florist and must get back before they wilt) I see thorns for Southern California.

A Tennessee team that is hard to miss, lightning fast, and well worked up as a nation's outstanding amateurs who are still young enough to be in school competing for top honors.

We stood on the sidelines and watched the action. Fauds a tumble—and many an older winner as the skiers went "headlong" into the banks up to come out with a smile.

In the slalom events we saw a streaked piece of lightning on skis negotiate the treacherous distance without the possible trace of a fall—through flags so close together we doubted they would go through for one of the skis to go through let alone a skier with a couple of poles.

From south central Idaho were dozens of ski fans and skiers, mostly on hand to see "how the experts did it."

In the crowds watching the various events were some of the nation's better known celebrities: film stars Mr. and Mrs. Fauds, Claire of stage and screen fame; Alexander Woodruff, the famed "Movie Crier"; Richard Dix, the film star; and Mr. and Mrs. Fauds, Berman, the former motion picture producer, and many others.

Of those really enjoying the proceedings, we noted Dix. Claire, she participated in all events to the fullest extent. Besides that, she was constantly being asked to pose for the amateur photographer and when that one and then a professional. Her publicity man would catch the scene.

Miss Claire posed graciously for one and all—ever smiling and with a slow-motion act of living Joe Dunford, the Seattle boy who is representing Harbortown and who was seen in the slalom event on Saturday, a drink of water.

We got our first thrill of the holiday season, and that is that there is nothing to be sneezed at. The Billy bit at a cost of $200,000, the Billy bit at the longest ski lift in the world, has a drop of 2,500 feet in two miles of running and has a capacity of taking 300 people to the top in one hour.

Built in three sections, the giant lift is one of the most thrilling parts of a ski resort. It did a break business men of the day with skiers and onlookers taking the journey to the top in a few minutes that, in contrast to a foot, would take several hours.

CIVIL SERVICE BOHEM, Jan. 1 (Special)—The Idaho folk and some neighbors will be operating on a complete civil service basis, effective Tuesday, Jan. 2, State Game Director Owen W. Morris said today.

Some Europeans have an old superstition that animals receive the power of speech at Christmas.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 1 (UP)—Donald McNeill, of Oklahoma City, unseated a dazzling series of shots in the finals of the Sugar bowl tennis tournament. Sunday to blast his opponent, Bobby Riggs, Chicago, from the court in straight sets, 6-8, 6-3, 6-2.

To complete a bad day for championship tennis, the winner of the Portland, Ore., Wimbledon doubles title holders, led in Gardner Mulry, of Miami, Fla., and Henry Brundage, of Seattle, Wash.

There they have the makings of a fine four-team-parlay—Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Tulane and Clemson. The price of such a parlay should be considerable, and I have no much faith in it that I am going out right now and see if I can find a bookie who will handle my bet of exactly one farthing.

I sucked an Orange when I finished peering at it, and while it may have made a sucker out of me, I take Georgia Tech over Missouri for the high-scoring game of the day. In a battle between two brilliant offensive elevens, Johnny Beach will shine the fanned banner over Missouri, with the King of Christmas, and make the Missouri even brighter for the Clemson backers. This game will be good for four or five touchdowns.

No hell ever applied itself more industriously to cotton than I did to my line to get the results of the Cotton bowl business in Dallas. This one will be a close one, but I have to go along with Clemson because of Banks McFadden, a great back, and because of the Clemson team of last year (and this one is practically the same unit) and the strongest club the Volunteers played in 1939.

So there they have the makings of a fine four-team-parlay—Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Tulane and Clemson. The price of such a parlay should be considerable, and I have no much faith in it that I am going out right now and see if I can find a bookie who will handle my bet of exactly one farthing.

Wendell Club Wins King Hill Outlaw Meet

KING HILL, Jan. 1 (Special)—Championship of the second annual King Hill outlaw basketball tournament, today was in the hands of the Wendell club after the final game here Saturday night which saw the new champions soundly beat a Fairfield College five by a score of 47-23.

By Barrett, who looped the ball in from all angles, the Wendell club was in front all the way, with the count at the half-time, 28-14. Barrett collected a total of 26 points. Packman/Field with six.

In an exhibition clash preceding the championship game, the King Hill girls defeated the Fairfield maidens by a score of 31-22.

Other final results follow: Fairfield Collegeians 41, Clennas Ferry 28. Bilsa Faculty 46, King Hill 31. Wendell 42, Fairfield Faculty 40. Fairfield Collegeians 24, Castelfield 02 (three overtime periods). Wendell 40, Bilsa Faculty 37. Fairfield Collegeians 37, King Hill 33. Fairfield Collegeians 25, Bilsa Faculty 33.

There wasn't an awful lot of snow covering the slopes of Baldy today, but the skiing was still good. The slalom races during the weekend, but there was plenty for local skiers and well as the nation's outstanding amateurs who are still young enough to be in school competing for top honors.

We stood on the sidelines and watched the action. Fauds a tumble—and many an older winner as the skiers went "headlong" into the banks up to come out with a smile.

In the slalom events we saw a streaked piece of lightning on skis negotiate the treacherous distance without the possible trace of a fall—through flags so close together we doubted they would go through for one of the skis to go through let alone a skier with a couple of poles.

From south central Idaho were dozens of ski fans and skiers, mostly on hand to see "how the experts did it."

In the crowds watching the various events were some of the nation's better known celebrities: film stars Mr. and Mrs. Fauds, Claire of stage and screen fame; Alexander Woodruff, the famed "Movie Crier"; Richard Dix, the film star; and Mr. and Mrs. Fauds, Berman, the former motion picture producer, and many others.

Of those really enjoying the proceedings, we noted Dix. Claire, she participated in all events to the fullest extent. Besides that, she was constantly being asked to pose for the amateur photographer and when that one and then a professional. Her publicity man would catch the scene.

Miss Claire posed graciously for one and all—ever smiling and with a slow-motion act of living Joe Dunford, the Seattle boy who is representing Harbortown and who was seen in the slalom event on Saturday, a drink of water.

We got our first thrill of the holiday season, and that is that there is nothing to be sneezed at. The Billy bit at a cost of $200,000, the Billy bit at the longest ski lift in the world, has a drop of 2,500 feet in two miles of running and has a capacity of taking 300 people to the top in one hour.

Built in three sections, the giant lift is one of the most thrilling parts of a ski resort. It did a break business men of the day with skiers and onlookers taking the journey to the top in a few minutes that, in contrast to a foot, would take several hours.

CIVIL SERVICE BOHEM, Jan. 1 (Special)—The Idaho folk and some neighbors will be operating on a complete civil service basis, effective Tuesday, Jan. 2, State Game Director Owen W. Morris said today.

Some Europeans have an old superstition that animals receive the power of speech at Christmas.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 1 (UP)—Donald McNeill, of Oklahoma City, unseated a dazzling series of shots in the finals of the Sugar bowl tennis tournament. Sunday to blast his opponent, Bobby Riggs, Chicago, from the court in straight sets, 6-8, 6-3, 6-2.

To complete a bad day for championship tennis, the winner of the Portland, Ore., Wimbledon doubles title holders, led in Gardner Mulry, of Miami, Fla., and Henry Brundage, of Seattle, Wash.

There they have the makings of a fine four-team-parlay—Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Tulane and Clemson. The price of such a parlay should be considerable, and I have no much faith in it that I am going out right now and see if I can find a bookie who will handle my bet of exactly one farthing.

Wendell Club Wins King Hill Outlaw Meet

KING HILL, Jan. 1 (Special)—Championship of the second annual King Hill outlaw basketball tournament, today was in the hands of the Wendell club after the final game here Saturday night which saw the new champions soundly beat a Fairfield College five by a score of 47-23.

By Barrett, who looped the ball in from all angles, the Wendell club was in front all the way, with the count at the half-time, 28-14. Barrett collected a total of 26 points. Packman/Field with six.

In an exhibition clash preceding the championship game, the King Hill girls defeated the Fairfield maidens by a score of 31-22.

DEATH ENDS WORK OF ROBERT FECHNER, CCC LEADER

PRESIDENT PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD MAN FOR ABILITY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1 (UP)—Flags were at half mast at civilian conservation camps throughout the nation today as enrollees paid final tribute to Director Robert Fechner, 63.

Fechner, former labor union official chosen by President Roosevelt to head one of the New Deal's most successful social ventures, died yesterday at a hospital of a heart ailment.

Born in Chattanooga, Tenn., March 28, 1876, the official had supervised approximately 2,000,000 CCC enrollees—mostly jobless youths with a sprinkling of war veterans—since start of the project in 1933.

He will be buried in Arlington National cemetery Tuesday. Burial will be from two nearby CCC camps will be pallbearers.

President Roosevelt, in a message to Mrs. Fechner, paid tribute to Fechner.

"As director of the civilian conservation corps, the president was the one who brought to the public service great administrative ability, vision, indefatigable industry. His death is a loss to the CCC and the nation."

SAVINGS & LOAN SETS NEW HIGH

Showing the greatest increase since the association was organized in January of 1916, assets of the First Federal Savings and Loan association of Twin Falls today stood at $1,382,716.79. It was announced by H. R. Grant, manager.

The increase during the year 1939 amounted to $228,718.79, records show.

Members of the disincorporate today announced that a two per cent dividend, totaling $23,518.55 on all classes of stock for the six months period ending Dec. 30, 1939, was paid today to 1,822 saving members in the community, bringing to four and one-quarter per cent the amount paid during the year. Total dividends for 1939 amounted to $48,356.94.

It was shown in the report by Grant that during the year just passed, the association made 297 loans totaling $41,410 for home building and improvement. At the same time there were 281 members added to the list of shareholders.

A substantial sum was added to the association's reserve accounts. Stuart H. Taylor is president of the association.

The U. S. government printing office is capable of printing a book the size of the Bible within 24 hours.

Indiana Marriage For Paul Couple

PAUL, Jan. 1 (Special)—Howard Easton, farmer, this week announced his marriage to Lena Adams, Charlotte, Mich., widow of the late Dr. H. F. Adams, former practicing physician in Paul. The marriage took place Oct. 21 in Angola, Ind., while Mr. Easton was spending a few weeks in the middle west. Both Mr. and Mrs. Easton are well known here. He has farmed northwest of Paul for many years. Mrs. Easton and her former husband, Dr. Adams, built the brick home and the physician's office in Paul, now the property of the Paul post, American Legion. Mrs. Easton was unable to accompany Mr. Easton on his return to Idaho, as both her aged parents were ill and under her care.

NEW FOOD GOES IN BYRD LARDER

WASHINGTON (UP)—A d m i n i s t r a t o r Richard E. Byrd carried with him to the Antarctic several new food concentrates prepared by agriculture department food experts to add variety to the diet of his expedition.

Some of the foods have not been placed on the market as yet. In a year or two they probably will be a staple grocery in commonplace use, food experts predicted.

Most of the foods were developed in the federal bureau of dairy industry laboratories and represent the efforts of dairy specialists to devise new ways to utilize skim milk and whey as human food.

The list includes a new kind of dried pea soup, made with whey powder, a new kind of water which is a mixture of potatoes, swim milk and salt, and new kinds of candies which contain whey solids.

Skim milk and whey are waste products of dairies. Millions of pounds of the two milk by-products now are thrown away or fed to hogs. Use of them in foods would open up a vast new market for the dairy industry.

The dried soup is a pre-cooked dry powder which makes a complete soup when one can of the powder is mixed with four cans of water and boiled. It contains 85 per cent split pea solids, 25 per cent whey solids and 10 per cent fat.

The whey milk potato wafers are similar to potato chips, but contain no fat and therefore do not become rancid. The wafers are made by drying a toasting a mixture of boiled potatoes, skim milk and salt.

Two kinds of candy—caramels and butters—are made by formulas that include 25 per cent whey solids. The whey candy is superior in food value to ordinary candies because the whey adds to some of the cane sugar and corn syrup. It is slightly less sweet than ordinary candy.

Mother Keeps Up Continuous Diary of Children 30 Years

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 1 (UP)—Thirty years ago today, Mrs. John P. Carlisle started her first diary. Her husband, an attorney, has the 1910 diary purchased because it is a foregone conclusion she will want one.

When their first child, John G., now 30, was born, Mrs. Carlisle started keeping a day-by-day account of his weight, his feeding and crying habits, and so on.

When his sister, Jennette, now Mrs. Robert Allen Monroe, was born about two years later, the diary became a record of both their doings.

Only About Children
And all these years, almost every night just before going to bed, Mrs. Carlisle has written what has happened to her two children that day.

There have been few breaks in her self-imposed task. At one time she was ill in a hospital for a time, and the daughter kept up the record. But the mother resumed just as soon as she could.

The children were away she copied parts of their letters into the diaries to keep the record complete.

The early volumes abound in anecdotes about the children, such as the time they were racing to see who could get to bed first, and when Jennette announced triumphantly she had won, her brother accused her of not saying her prayers.

She denied, upon which, according to the mother, the brother announced "Well, she didn't say them with as much earnestness as I did." They were baptized, their starting to school, their graduation from Ohio State university here and their weddings are some of the milestones of which the diaries tell.

Mrs. Carlisle's "copy" is handy these days, as the son, his wife and the daughter are all at the Carlisle home. Monroe, the son-in-law, is in New York at present.

Mrs. Carlisle says keeping the diaries is no task at all now that she simply writes in them as a matter of course. She likes to write, and thinks perhaps she will go through all her diaries and try to compile a book from them.

She belongs to Verse Writers Guild, University Mothers' club, Delphian and several other organizations.

Rotary at Rupert Hears Violinist

RUPERT, Jan. 1 (Special)—Rev. Father D. L. McMillan, pastor of St. Nicholas Catholic church, entertained Rupert Rotary club with a violin concert of favorite melodies, Scotch numbers and Christmas carols at the luncheon Wednesday in the Caledonian hotel.

He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Edna Sinclair, Rotary pianist, who also played for group singing. Another feature of Wednesday's program was a talk by state game commissioner, George Booth, Burley, who advocated stocking Idaho streams with warm water fish, such as bass and catfish. He also suggested screening canals and rebuilding the dry lake at Carey and told of the hatchery project at Hagerman.

The program was under supervision of Albert W. Fiske, with the club president, Tracy Cole, presiding. Mr. Booth was introduced by H. V. Cresson of the Blinnock county fish and game association.

Graveside Rites For Davis Infant

Funeral services were held Sunday at the Buhl cemetery for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford O. Davis, route 2, Twin Falls, who died that morning at the Twin Falls county general hospital.

Interment was under the direction of the Twin Falls mortuary. The parents, a sister, Shirley May Davis, and the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Shriver, Buhl, and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Davis, Twin Falls, survive.

C. OF I. STUDENTS GET AIR TRAINING

CALDWELL, Jan. 1 (Special)—Latest addition to the ranks of College of Idaho flyers is Prof. A. K. Steuenberg, director of ground school training under the government-sponsored civilian pilot training program in effect at the Caldwell school. Prof. Steuenberg began actual flight training Tuesday afternoon under John Vickers, Caldwell alumnus and instructor for the ten College of Idaho C. P. T. students. He expects the actual flying experience to give him valuable aid in teaching ground school courses.

Six of the ten students are continuing their flight training during the College of Idaho vacation period. They are Mark Baum, Ashton; Peter Dunham, Caldwell; Charles (Tark) Harschberger, Filer; Angus (Gus) Knudson, Glenns Ferry; Jim Van Clief, Parma; and Jerry Whitmore, Montrose, Colo.

Several students are expected to complete the eight hours of dual instruction required before soloing by the latter part of next week and will take their first solo flights at that time.

Political Griddle Sizzles as Jack Garner Returns to Washington

HEAVY BATTLES PREDICTED WHEN CONGRESS OPENS

By RONALD G. VAN TINE WASHINGTON, Jan. 1 (UP)—John Nance Garner now an avowed candidate for the 1940 presidential nomination, today returned to the capital as the nation awaits opening of the 76th congress.

The vice-president, rested by hunting and fishing excursions to favorite haunts near his Uvalde, Tex., home, will signalize opening of the session when he raps the senate to order Jan. 3.

Garner, who recently broke a long silence in public statements to make a front-porch announcement of his availability to Democrats booming him for the presidency, "isn't talking politics" publicly, but, as usual, he is expected to be a central figure in cloakroom political discussions destined to become more numerous in this campaign year.

Battle Loom Even as Garner returned to the national scene the political griddle sizzles in the capital, and no hope is held out that there will be an adjournment of politics such as that which marked the special session summoned by President Roosevelt to enact neutrality legislation.

Returning congressmen were treated to a sample of the campaign year fare when started Republican congressional leaders were invited to the Democrats' $100-a-plate dinner. The fare will become spicier as platform issues are developed in floor debate and by hustling through of candidates in the field.

The battle lines will be drawn after congress hears President Roosevelt deliver his "state of the union" address Wednesday and studies the budget message due on Capitol Hill Thursday.

Plan Conferences Senate Republican Leader Charles McNary, of Oregon, and House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, of Massachusetts, will meet in conference Friday to determine the party's attitude toward the program outlined by the chief executive.

Meanwhile, it was understood western senators are grinding for a contest against sharp cuts reportedly made by President Roosevelt in the federal budget.

Leap Year Fat's in Fire for 18 Million Men

Don Budge Jack Sutherland Frank Murphy Chas. Gehring Kay Kyser Sam Rensd J. Edgar Hoover Jimmy Stewart Edgar Bergen Tommie (Marville)

Four goes into 19 four times, carry the three... into 34, eight times, and the two gives you twenty, and four g's into 20 five times.

Yea! She divides by four, and none left over. Which means, in our language, that you'd better look before you leap year, or the fat's in the fire for single men this year of 1940.

It was we around four years ago—last time we had a leap year—you know that any unattached male's fair game for any girl who wants to up and pop the question.

Couldn't hardly expect a girl to propose to 18 million, leap year or no. But suppose we get it down to 18 million men in a million—now any girl's likely to at least look over the field if it were sifted down to 18.

Matrimonial Reach A cross section like that on the really good catches gives a fair idea of the kind of husbands out there to be plucked by a girl with a matrimonial reach.

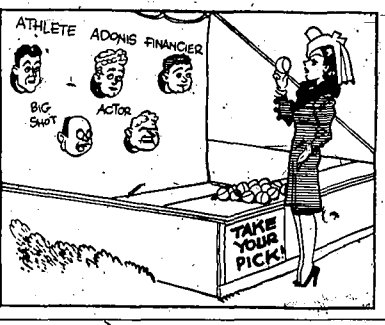

When you land him no other girl's going to take him away. Better start with Hollywood.

No. 1 bachelor there is JIMMY STEWART, beautiful-looking kid of 31. He's 6 feet 3, has unruly brown hair, a yen for chewing gum and sleeps in pajamas. He plays the flute and accordion.

RICHARD GREENE is the handsomest bachelor left in Hollywood, as most of the pretty boys have left circulation. He is 25, and has big hands and feet.

Mary a Phonograph? In Congress, RUSH JONES is the best offering. Before he finished his first term as the youngest U. S. senator since Henry Clay, he became the original Mr. Smith in the matter of speaking to empty seats.

Another gobby boy is EDGAR BERGEN. He owns a new house, lives on a hefty income earned by a couple of dummies, Bergen is 36 and can do patter tricks.

On every leap year girl's list is LAWRENCE P. FISHER, whose business is bodied-for automobiles. He is 31, vice-president of General Motors, is listed in Who's Who and has six married brothers, including there's nothing in his family against matrimony.

Want to try Fighting Irish? A couple of fighting Irishmen on the loose are BILLY CONN, the light-heavy champ, and red-headed FRANK MURPHY, U. S. attorney general. Billy is 21 and a champion actor. Murphy is 46 and doesn't smoke or drink.

If you like 'em original, there is BOB HART, Broadway playwright and psychologist pal. He wears the party responsible for the screw-ball comedy, "You Can't Take It With You," and currently lives in an ultra modern home full of antique Victorian furniture.

JOHN EDGAR HOOVER would be a capture. He is 42, and once looked as though High Society, 219 Eighth avenue north, had lost his "honey" for a while Sunday night but like the story book ending, everything turned out fine.

"Honey" it so happens, is the name of an automobile which the youth purchased only recently from a local motor dealer. It is a Chevrolet coupe without a top and is yellowish orange in color.

Deed recorded for golf links Corporation deed transferring the extensive grounds of the Twin Falls Country club to the city of Twin Falls has been formally recorded today in county archives to complete a transaction by which the municipality undertakes to maintain a public golf course.

The deed was filed Saturday with County Recorder Walter C. Musgrave by W. H. Eldridge, city clerk. It was signed by Asher B. Wilson, president of the country club organization.

As stipulated in the negotiations which resulted in city acceptance, the corporation deed grants the club's acreage southwest of Twin Falls to the city on provision that the city "maintains and improves a golf course of not less than nine holes." Members of the club (not to exceed 18 in all) receive the right to play the course free of charge for 10 years from next March 1. Their minor children also receive that privilege.

The deed includes not only the nine-hole golf course, but also additional land in Rock creek canyon and the buildings situated on the golf property.

The canyon land, it was felt by club members, will enable the city to establish an ideal picnic grounds.

Two men, loitering in the shadows in the 300 block of Sixth avenue east at 8 p. m. Sunday, and at the same time acting in a suspicious manner, caused local police to dash to the location after the incident was reported by a resident of that section.

Today the "result of investigation" column on the police blotter reads: "Just two boys walking on a girl they had a date with."

GLUB SHUT-DOWN ASKED IN COURT

As announced in Saturday's Evening Times, application for an injunction to "padlock" the Courtney club in downtown Twin Falls was filed in district court late last week.

The application names E. L. Roberts, assistant attorney general of the club, and Mrs. Catherine M. Braun, owner of the property. The club is located on the second floor above 124 and 125 Main avenue west.

Mr. Sweeley asks a court order to restrain both operator and owner from using the premises for any purpose for one year, and requests an order to the sheriff for removal of furniture and fixtures assertedly used in salting and abetting the liquor nuisance.

Hearing will be set by Judge J. W. Porter.

The padlock move followed two criminal misdemeanor actions against Rogers in probate court. One names a public nuisance by reason of liquor law violation from May 15 to Dec. 24, and the other charges sale of liquor to a 20-year-old youth.

The injunction request is based on the former of the two misdemeanor charges.

Millions Join To Help Usher In 1940 Year

10 years. More orchids were purchased—and the general "whooping-it-up" was expected to provide a mass check approximating $3,000,000.

At Pike's peak, the Old-A-Man club today its annual celebration, calling it the highest party in the land—and shot off fireworks 15,000 feet above sea level.

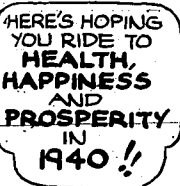

St. Louis estimated 10,000 celebrants jammed its hotels and clubs on New Year's eve where, despite the Sunday ban on liquor sales, "cheer" was readily available.

Detroit was forced to move a special detail of police into main traffic arteries to handle the crowds.

Public New Year's parties in Pennsylvania were damped by the law which forbids public sales on the Sabbath. Thousands nevertheless came to Philadelphia to witness today's annual Mummers' parade in which 20,000 will participate.

At Miami, Fla., found the annual Orange bowl football game today an added incentive to celebrate.

At New Orleans, where the Super bowl football game was the day's drawing card, natives almost put the Mardi Gras to shame with their boisterous behavior.

HEAD-ON CRACKUP DAMAGES 2 CARS

No personal injuries, resulted early this morning when two automobiles crashed head-on at a point on highway 30 two and one-half miles east of Twin Falls, a report made by Ed Hall, deputy sheriff, shows.

One of the two machines was operated by Berry Preston Kimberley, who was returning home from Twin Falls. The name of the driver of the other car was not immediately learned but the machine carried license 6H-7030.

The crash occurred by about 4 a. m. Both machines were damaged.

In Twin Falls, police, records showed no crashes recorded up to noon today.

At Ketchum and Sun Valley, state policemen reported only two minor mishaps, both caused when automobiles "slid off the highway."

Here Are Private Film Awards For Top Movie Events of '39

By PAUL HARRISON (NSA Service)

HOLLYWOOD—After solemn deliberation over the momentous events of 1939, this department presents its own list of special awards in the motion picture field.

Lightest blow at moral liberalism—the profanity by the staff of office of Bally Rand's movie bubble.

Most nonchalant defiance of historical verities—Fox's version of the story of the times.

Event most disillusioning to fans: The incident of George Burns' Boyer flicker, "They're Always Tomorrow," which was told over in the family.

Most spectacular coup of modern transportation: Delivery by airplane of the golden spike used in Cecil DeMille's re-enactment of the completion of the transcontinental railroad.

Most effective safeguarding of kiddie morals: The elaborately conceived anti-child labor and child pipe of peace for Shirley Temple in "Sunshine of the Mountains."

Most pitiable year: "The Godless Girl" which was tried to walk out on it, but was slapped back into line with a $150,000 damage bill.

Most praiseworthy costume: Eleanor Powell's hula outfit in "Hula Hoop" which was worn for those black light nights and refuted the growing notion that she had no sense of the word "modesty."

Most felicitous anniversary: May Robson's 75th birthday.

Most complete example of negligence: The picture of Joe Yule, who as the star comic in "Los Angeles" dirtiest burlesque picture was handled prominently as "Mickey" by the studio.

Most astonishing financial revelation: That 40 of the 63 highest paid stars of the year were paid to movie men. And that William Holden, chosen as the "Golden Boy" of 1939, was paid to work in the picture for $50 a week.

Greatest architectural triumph: Paramount's new $40,000 cafe, with such British architects as William Dawson, Marshall, Inc.; Bob Zimmerman, Merrill, Inc.; Bob Miller, and the late Lowell McCaughy, Marshall, Inc.

Each student must be on duty three half days a week, every other night and every other week-end, from Saturday night until Monday morning.

The two regular firemen—Sam Hollen, assistant chief, and Bill Horley—are on duty for a 48-hour period and then are off for 24 hours.

The regulars share one room, while the students have adjacent quarters. The "litter" quarters are furnished much like the average dormitory rooms, with study desks, lamps and a radio.

All six men eat their meals in the fire station. The students by the food—with their own money—and plan the menu. But the regulars prepare the food and wash the dishes.

A seventh member of the station is Mike, a four-year pointer belonging to Henry, a locally attended fireman and rides on the driver's seat.

The students are not permitted to drive the engine or man the pumps, and they perform all other fire fighting duties.

The fire station answers all calls from the city and the surrounding area and calls at public buildings.

WIRE PUTS CURB ON RIVER COURSE

EL PASO, Tex. (UP)—Ordinary flow features are bottom flow in the world's first wire dam.

Scientists have halted the discovery as the only one of its kind in the world. Dr. Paul Keet of Columbia University, New York, recently conducted a lengthy investigation into the deposit in collaboration with the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation.

First Use of Pitrite
Pitrite has been used so far have been used almost exclusively in the ceramic industry. Laboratory technicians here said that tests of pitrite brick in a high-temperature furnace showed that the material has a high resistance to chemical and acid action as long as any other type brick.

Other uses of pitrite are seen in the manufacture of glass, paper and other industries where there is rotary smelting to be done. Because the material has a high resistance to light, it can stand up under terrific abrasion, at the same time resisting chemical action. Pitrite fuses at a high temperature of 3,000 degrees.

Engineers said pitrite was nearly as hard as the hardest material next to the diamond. It is harder than glass and steel, they said.

Company officials said there was little likelihood of large scale operations in Pershing county this year, from the college program and the large-scale possibilities for use of pitrite bricks and compounds. Industries that large-scale operations in the long period can be expected soon.

TRAIN SCHEDULE GETS 2 CHANGES

Schedules of two Union Pacific trains serving Twin Falls on the Buhl to Minidoka runs had been changed today, giving 20 minutes additional time to patrons.

Trains changed were No. 363, westbound, and 364, eastbound, according to J. L. Fuller, ticket agent in Twin Falls.

Effective Now

Effective at once, the westbound 363, will arrive here at 1:35 p. m. instead of the former 1:15 p. m. Train 364, headed eastward, will depart at 2:55 p. m. instead of the former time of 2:30 p. m.

With the change in schedule the train lineup for Twin Falls daily now shows:

No. 328 westbound arrives at 6 a. m. and departs for Buhl at 6:45 a. m.

No. 363 westbound arrives here at 1:35 p. m., connection from the east.

No. 364 eastbound departs at 2:55 p. m., connects for east at Minidoka.

No. 332 eastbound departs at 7 p. m., connects for St. Lake City and California.

Wells Run

On the Wells run, the schedule remains as follows:

No. 339 southbound leaves at 6:15 p. m. for Wells and northern California.

No. 340 northbound arrives at 2 p. m. from California and Wells.

RATE BOOST FOR POTATOES HALTED

BOISE, Jan. 1 (UP)—The interstate commerce commission Saturday suspended increased railroad shipping rates on potatoes from Idaho points to points outside the state. J. C. Bruce, public utilities commissioner, announced.

Bruce said the ICC was asked by shippers and growers to suspend and investigate the rate increases which would have become effective today.

The proposed increase would total $21 a car on shipments east of the Idaho-Illinois line. Bruce said Idaho farmers shipped more than 2,000 carloads to that area in 1938.

The suspension will remain effective until a hearing to determine validity of the increase, Bruce said.

Man Accused of Liquor Violation

Charged with supplying liquor to a minor, Dell Jenkins, Twin Falls, was free on a bond of $100 today and will appear tomorrow at 10 a. m. before Municipal Judge J. O. Pumprey to answer to the count.

The alleged offense, according to a complaint signed by Chief of Police Howard Gillette, occurred Saturday night. The chief said that the department was in possession of a signed statement from the minor which named Jenkins as the man supplying liquor for him.

The arrest was made by local police.

Radiator's Leak Sets Car Afire

A fire, resulting from a broken radiator hose onto the hot motor, Saturday afternoon set fire to the automobile of I. O. Prescott, 404 Main avenue north.

Although firemen were called the blaze was almost extinguished on their arrival. Little damage resulted to the car, a report at the fire station shows. The blaze occurred after 4 p. m.

The radiator was of the inflammable variety.

BOTT POINTS TO TAX REFUND CUT

BOISE, Jan. 1 (UP)—Gov. C. A. Bottorff today attributed a reduction of gasoline tax refunds in 1939 to closer supervision and investigation of tax refund claims.

The governor said reports showed a decrease of 34 per cent from last year, despite an increase of $350,000 in collections. Total 1939 gas tax collections were $4,893,029 with refunds of $440,813.

RAINS MELT SNOW

BOISE, Jan. 1 (UP)—Moderate temperatures and light rains today melted most of the snow in southern Idaho.

Rain was reported falling at McCall, central Idaho skiing center, and Sun Valley was reported cloudy with a maximum temperature of 37. Moderate temperatures and occasional rains are forecast for tonight and Tuesday. Snow is expected in the mountains.

Graveside Services Honor Mrs. A. Hawk

RUPERT, Jan. 1 (Special)—Simple graveside services for Mrs. Andrew Hawk, who died Tuesday at Craigmont, were conducted here Thursday by Rev. Eugene Stump, pastor of the Christian church.

Interment, under direction of Goodman nursery, was in Rupert cemetery beside the body of Mr. Hawk, who died several years ago.

Mrs. Hawk is survived by her son, Donald Hawk, Craigmont, who accompanied the remains of his mother to Rupert by train Wednesday.

Spurs on emerging from their hibernation, still are fat in spite of several footless months, but exercise soon makes them gaunt.

GAIN IN INCOMES SENDS TRADE UP

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1 (Special)—Retail trade in the metropolitan area since the last summer were reflected in a general expansion in retail trade in the federal reserve district during November. Increases were evident in almost all lines for which data are available, with the most marked taking place in new automobile sales which, for several months, have been increasing considerably more than is customary at this season.

Expansion in production, employment and payrolls in district industry, which had been stimulated considerably by the wave of buying that followed the outbreak of war in Europe, continued in November. Gains were more widespread than in the preceding two months, although the increases were smaller than in the district during September and October.

Building Soars

Residential building, which has fluctuated narrowly with little net change since late winter, seasonal influences considered, increased sharply. Value of new contracts awarded for nonresidential private construction declined considerably from the unusually large total reported in October.

Lumber production decreased much less than is usual in November, and on a seasonally adjusted basis was only 1 per cent under the peak attained in 1937. Orders received by district mills continued to decline, and at the month-end unfilled orders had been reduced to the total held on June 30.

Activity in the Auto

Activity in the auto district industry expanded further and local automobile assembly plants increased their operations in response to continued active demand for new cars. Output of rubber tires and tubes likewise increased. Activity in the district steel and pulp and paper industries, which had expanded considerably in September and October, was well maintained in November. In the petroleum industry, production of crude oil remained unchanged while refinery operations, which had gained momentum from the start of the year, declined somewhat more than seasonally.

Factory Job Index Up

Factory employment in November was reported to be higher than in October, although a decline is customary at this season, and the adjusted index advanced four points to 118 from 114 in the 1923-1929 average where it was only 8 per cent lower than the record month in 1937. Factory payrolls also declined somewhat more than seasonally.

Stocks Weather Outbreak Of War But Fail to Gain

By ELMER C. WALKER
United Press Financial Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1 (U.P.)—The outstanding feature of the stock market in 1939 was its ability to function at the start of what might be another World war in contrast with its 1914 performance.

Unfavorable features of the market were inability of prices to rise in 1938 and a drop in volume to the lightest level for any year since 1923.

It did little on average although the stocks they had wide intermediate fluctuations. An avalanche of selling of United States government issues when war broke out sent the sales total above a year ago. Had it not been for that, the market for the year would have been the smallest since 1917.

Commodities did better than either stocks or bonds and business outlooks for all the year. The Press-Dun & Bradstreet daily commodity index late in the year crossed into the highest levels since 1937. The Federal Reserve index of production in November reached 125 per cent of the 1923-1929 average in the highest ever recorded in history in June, 1929.

Inflation Background Developed

A tremendous background for inflation was developed. Banks bulged with deposits. Gold holdings shot above $17 billions to record high. Excess reserves of member Federal Reserve banks reached records. The dollar appreciated in terms of foreign currencies which is another way of saying these units are very weak.

What did not happen in 1939 interested market men as much as what did happen. Business did not overdo the market for government. The capital markets did not open. The hoped for big utility exodus did not occur. The stock exchange and the securities and exchange commission did not get together as closely as many had hoped. There was no modification of rules against business, although there was less governmental pressure than in 1938.

Of course there was vast interest in what the year 1940 will bring. It is presidential election year, and hence market experts do not expect anything from congress or from the administration that would stop business expansion. As this is written, the financial picture is a dull in business early in 1940, although it has been steadily rising estimates from the depths of pessimism upward to a fringe of optimism as industry reports more and more orders for the first quarter.

War's the Idea of March

Wall Street likes to set dates. March 15 is a good one. The old saying, "Beware the Ides of March," has been the writings of the street. For 1940, therefore, many market experts have set this date as the day the market will set its low for the year. There is no modification of the market's course will depend on the outcome of the voting, these the summer months, total farm cash income increased more than usual in October. In that month it was more than 11 per cent higher than a year earlier. Preliminary estimates indicate a smaller year period gain in November than in October. Continued lack of precipitation in the district during the fall months has lowered prospects for crop production next year. Grain crops have been sown in dry soil and all crops were badly in need of rain in mid-December. Pastures and ranges deteriorated during the past month and shortage of range feed is acute in some areas. At present rain or snow is also urgently needed to replenish stock water.

WOOL INDUSTRY ABOVE NORMAL

By ROBERT J. MURRAY
Pres. of N.Y. Wool Top Exchange

NEW YORK, Jan. 1 (U.P.)—It is probable that 1939 will be recorded as one of the banner years for the apparel wool industry in the United States. Except for a brief period in April, the combined operating schedules of woolen and worsted mills were well above normal and, consequently, the consumption of apparel wool was unusually heavy throughout the year.

Preliminary trade reports indicated that consumption in December was above normal, and if so, it will have been the 17th of the last 18 months when consumption was above average. In 1939 consumption of apparel wool in the United States totaled about 870,000 pounds on a greasy short basis, compared with 500,000,000 pounds in a 10-year average of 520,000,000 pounds. One must refer to the up 4%. Other openings that morning included Anaconda, 23,000 shares at 40; up 10; Amstar, 21,000 at 7 up 1; Inspiration Copper, 20,000 at 21 up 8; Callahan Zinc, 20,000 at 27 up 1; Kennecott, 18,000 at 44 1/2 up 1/2; and Standard Oil (New Jersey), 9,000 at 46 up 3/4 points.

High-Grade Bonds Break

What was good for stocks especially the war babies, was bad for high grade bonds. Turnover in them was at a tremendous pace on Thursday, the day for the first time all previous records at $58,610,000 of which $48,880,000 was in United States government issues. The government bought heavily of the latter to support the market. Next day the bond record was broken again when turnover reached $63,830,000 of which $71,220,000 was in United States government issues. A further pace came thereafter and finally the market for government bonds became orderly enough to permit the federal reserve to sell some of the bonds it bought to support the market.

Contrast this with July 31, 1914, when the London stock exchange closed and left New York almost among world markets to bear the brunt of selling. Then governors hurriedly called together. Speculators and their pools and the brokers assembled on the floor long before the opening, while the governors met in a historic session. The market then was in a state of chaos, they flooded in from all over the world.

A few minutes before the time for opening the opening gong back on that black Friday of 1914, the floor was apprised of the governors' decision, namely, "The Exchange will be closed until further notice."

As a matter of record, trading was not restored fully until April 1, 1915.

This time, the market is ready for any contingency and still is prepared to see to it that trading continues even if the world's affairs enter war. A war will bring restrictions. Great Britain keeps its market open but everything is under governmental control. The result was that the glamour soon wore off and reaction came, but business held so well that the subsequent decline failed to take the course of a rout.

War Stock Buying Overdone

As on most occasions when there is a sharp change in the market, the market operators overdid the thing this year. They overbought the war babies and every stock that might become a war baby. The result was that the glamour soon wore off and reaction came, but business held so well that the subsequent decline failed to take the course of a rout.

Most attention was paid to such lines as the steel, copper, chemicals, airplane makers, sugars, drugs, railroads, and the motors. The utilities were neglected but they did well and this group made the best showing of any major one for the year. Railroad issues had their good markets because their earnings were rising. Moreover, the issues were mixed with the civilian and mail order shares the favorites.

The biggest obstacle before the market for the coming year is foreign liquidation. The total overhauling the market is greater than it was in 1914, but the selling is being handled scientifically by the central banks. They treat out stock when the market can absorb it and stop sales when there is a decline. The very fact that this selling hangs over the market has been making for caution. Efforts are reportedly under way to remove the stock by some expedient but thus far the Johnson act which prohibits loans to debt defaulting nations seems to be a formidable obstacle.

Tree Lists Ready

After Jan. 15th

JEROME, Jan. 1 (Special)—New 1940 price lists on trees available at the Clarke-McNary nursery at the University of Idaho can be obtained after Jan. 15 from the county extension agent's office.

Each price list includes a complete list of farm forestry trees with diversified prices for various quantities; an order blank and instructions for ordering; recommendations for tree planting in this county as well as in other parts of the state; and brief instructions for planting of farm windbreaks and farm woodlots. Additional information is available at the county extension agent's office.

Word received here indicates a wider selection of tree varieties of larger size will be offered next spring, in keeping with the program of gradual improvement in nursery services.

Three sizes of two year old black locusts are available to fit the plans and pocketbook of every farmer. Black locust is still the most widely used tree for farm woodlot and windbreak planting at elevations below 5,000 feet.

For woodlot plantings at elevations between 4,000 and 5,000 feet, green ash and thornless yellow locust are recommended. Russian olive and Siberian larch trees are offered for hedge rows in windbreaks at all elevations, including high altitude dry farms.

Use of Siberian elm in windbreaks is recommended only in high altitude dry farm plantings or as a temporary tree in head windbreaks between 3,500 and 5,000 feet. Where there is an abundance of moisture, golden willow is recommended for protection plantings and where frost is likely to occur during the growing season, such as in elevations above 5,000 feet, silver poplar is recommended.

Five varieties of evergreens are offered for windbreaks, Christmas trees or restoration use. Blue and Norway spruce are recommended for all elevations; Ponderosa pine is recommended for elevations up to 5,000 feet in counties north of the Snake river, and Scotch and Austrian pine for plantings up to 6,000 feet. Orders for planting should be accepted until March 15 when they will make deliveries early, depending on the season. Orders will be filled according to the date they are received, unless orders being given first attention.

WPA SITE UP TO COUNTY'S BOARD

Whether the WPA site office which is to be established in this section about Jan. 15 will be placed in Twin Falls—or will go to some other community such as Buhl or Jerome—remains today with the county commissioners, it was learned.

At the present time, about the only aid which the Chamber of Commerce could give, it was explained by A. J. Peavey, would be to donate a portion of the funds necessary for temporary quarters until the county could construct an office building for the WPA. Such a building, if constructed, would be through aid of WPA money. Peavey is chairman of the committee named to search for office space for the WPA and to report as to the probable cost of providing the same.

Members of the city council announced no funds are available under city budget for office rent on behalf of the WPA. Likewise, members of the chamber board of directors Friday voted against such a move on behalf of their organization.

So today the matter rests with the commissioners and observers believed it is not probable that the county is in a position to construct an office building at this time. Neither is it in the position to assume the burden of paying rent for the WPA offices, which will be placed in the community where rent is free.

At a special session Friday, members of the council, the chamber and the commission discussed the matter but no action was taken because Commissioner G. B. Livert was not present, being ill at home. The matter will probably be settled on Tuesday, Jan. 2, at 10 a. m. when the same group gathered at the commissioners' office.

Bankruptcy Hearing Reveals Tale of How Small Town Teacher 'Took' City

"Life" is always going to a party so the other afternoon the Evening Times went to meet the "party" which was in the form of a hearing before Judge O. P. Duvall, referee in bankruptcy.

The Times reporter had never really "sat through" such a hearing, and so on a recent date arrangements were made to be present at the next hearing—regardless of the individual involved.

Small Town Teacher

As it happened, the hearing yesterday afternoon revealed the story of a "small town" school instructor who came to the "big city" and, according to his own admission through testimony given at the hearing, "took in" the boys from the big town.

For instance, according to the man's testimony, he walked into the Fidelity National bank in Twin Falls one day and in a short while walked out with $100 which the bank loaned him. Walking across the street, he entered the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company and, a few minutes later, walked out with another $100—being a loan from this bank. Then he walked again—this time into the Idaho Department store where, the list of liabilities shows, he charged on open account no less than $70, making a payment at that time of $5 on the bill.

And right around that same time the same man walked again—this time into the local offices of the Cash Credit company—and came out with $50.

His Liabilities

On the list of liabilities reviewed at the hearing, it was found that the following notes were among those outstanding:

- A bank at Soda Springs about June 1, 1939, for $75.
- The First Security bank of Shoshone, the first part of October, 1939, for $100.
- D. D. Neelen, a citizen of Pocatello, $40.

Adjudged Bankrupt

The man had filed a schedule of liabilities and assets before the U. S. district judge at Boise and on the face of that he was adjudged bankrupt.

The case then came before Judge Duvall, the referee, and at yesterday's hearing the creditors, or their attorneys, had the right to come in and examine the bankrupt and question him concerning any assets he may have.

If the assets are sufficient to warrant it, a trustee is appointed but in this particular case Judge Duvall ruled that no such assets had been brought out and therefore no trustee was to be named. The matter was continued pending further order of the court.

Leading questioning of the man was Edward Babcock, local attorney representing at least two of the creditors.

A part of the questions put to the man by Babcock, and his answers, follow.

Q—Do you recall at the time you obtained the loan from the Fidelity bank of making out a property statement and signing it?

A—No, I don't recall.

Admits Signature

(Babcock showed the man the statement and he identified the signature as being his.)

Q—Do you recall representing to the bank that you had household fixtures and furniture all paid for and valued at $1,000?

A—No, I do not recall the amount.

Q—Did you represent to them that it was paid for?

A—As I recall it, part was paid for.

Q—Would you say now that you didn't make that statement to them?

A—I don't recall whether I did or didn't.

Q—Were you asked if the Dodge car was paid for?

A—I don't believe he asked me that. I don't remember.

Q—Do you recall him asking you whether or not you had any notes due at the bank?

A—No, I can't remember of saying it.

Asked About Debts

Q—Or his inquiring as to what debts you owed?

A—Yes, I remember his inquiring about $50.

Q—Do you remember saying that all you owed was a grocery bill and other small items?

A—I don't recall saying that.

(The questioning continued along the same lines.)

Q—Then that wasn't a true statement as to what your assets were?

A—I suppose not.

Q—What did you do with the money from the Fidelity bank?

A—I paid off other bills and bought some clothing.

Q—On that date you borrowed money from the Bank and Trust?

A—Yes.

Q—Do you remember what kind of clothing you bought?

A—Clothing for kiddies.

Q—Quite a large order for the kiddies for winter.

A—$135 a month.

Q—Based on the year around?

A—Ten months.

At conclusion of the testimony, Judge Duvall expressed the opinion that there was no representative appointed in the matter. And so J. E. Sorenson, superintendent of schools at Ketchum, walked out of the office with his attorney, Ross B. Hudlock, Shoshone.

Thus the Times completes your first full bankruptcy "party."

STUDENTS' UNION LASHES AT DIES

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 1 (AP)—The American Student union's fifth annual convention denounced the department of Justice for its activities against the Communist party and branded the Dies congressional committee on un-American activities a "national menace."

The convention made the denunciations in resolutions adopted after it had rejected, 222 to 29, an amendment branding Russia the aggressor in the war with Finland.

The Dies resolution had been expected. The committee had branded the union as a "breeding ground for communism." The resolution condemned the committee for "its attack upon all progressive organizations including the American Student union" and urged congress to put an end to this national menace and appropriate funds instead for the LaFollette civil liberties committee.

The department of Justice resolution was adopted after the convention had rejected a similar resolution which referred specifically to government prosecution of Fritz Kuhn, Bund leader, and Earl Browder, general secretary of the Communist party of America.

Finland Donation Can Be Deducted On Income Taxes

NEW YORK, Jan. 1 (Special)—Replying to scores of inquiries regarding deductibility of contributions to the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., from income tax returns, Edwin T. Shattuck, of Shattuck, Haug and Davis, the fund's attorney, today said that "such donations may be deducted to the full extent of the law."

Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue J. Mooney informed the fund that "contributions made to the fund by individual donors are deductible by such individuals in arriving at their taxable net income in the manner and to the extent provided by section 23 (c) of the internal revenue code. The deductibility of contributions by corporations is governed by section 23 (d) of the internal revenue code."

Mr. Shattuck authorized the following interpretation on the above ruling:

"Individuals may deduct up to 15 per cent of taxable net income for charitable purposes, as computed without benefit of this deduction. Corporations can deduct up to five per cent of net income for contributions to non-profit, charitable corporations such as the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., as computed without benefit of this deduction."

PARK MAY MARK FAILURE OF IDEA

LANCASTER, Ind. Jan. 1 (AP)—One of the most unusual educational enterprises in the history of the nation, founded in this obscure Indiana village, soon may become a show place.

It is the crumbling Elutherian college constructed in 1849 by the Rev. J. C. Greck Anti-Slavery society. The name was derived from the Greek word "elutherous," interpreted as free and equal.

Records show that Thomas Craven, a soldier in the War of 1812 and an itinerant Baptist preacher, moved to Lancaster from Oxford, O., because of the strong abolition sentiment in Madison county, Ind. By 1844 he had obtained a small fund and a site for Elutherian college.

When the doors of the main building opened, John J. Craven, son of the founder, was the first teacher. John C. Thompson, the elder Craven's brother-in-law, was added to the faculty, but the school soon proved too costly to maintain a two-man staff.

Soon southern Indiana became more pro-slave and the school became the center of heated controversy. Slavery advocates burned three holes under the building which later were used to house students of Negro blood.

"Black laws" in 1850 jeopardized the institution and the Rev. John Craven was prosecuted for aiding runaway slaves, but a circuit court jury released him.

The school reached a peak enrollment of 200 students in 1880, but when other schools and colleges accepted Negroes following the Civil war, the school was deserted.

In 1878 it was reestablished as a normal school and continued as such until 1920, when the township acquired the building for a grade school.

A group of alumni of the institution, headed by C. A. Dryden, Haver, Ind., now seeks to purchase the building and grounds, restore the structure and offer the site to the state for an Indiana park.

SACRED TABLEAU GIVEN TO GRANGE

BUILD, Jan. 1 (Special) — An impressive tableau of "Silent Night" was presented from the stage set with a crude manger filled with hay at the meeting of Bull Grange last week in the city hall.

Parts of the Mother Mary and Joseph were taken by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kent. A bright northern star illuminated the hall as the cut from Dickens' "Christmas Carol" was read by Paul Kille, and by Rev. Leroy H. Walker, pastor of the Methodist church, read the "Christmas" story from the Bible. During his reading Charlotte Smithson played very softly a violin number, "Silent Night," accompanied by Marjorie Smithson.

Margaret Phillips sang "Jingle Bells," accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Elmer Phillips. Charlotte Smithson, accompanied by her sister, played a violin solo, "Barefoot." W. J. Ripplinger sang a solo, "The Infant Jesus," accompanied by Mrs. Ripplinger.

Santa in the person of Harry Barry called numbers for the gift exchange. Presents were distributed by Arthur Barry and Margaret Phillips. As closing number the entire Grange sang "Hark the Herald Angels Sing."

A committee, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Worley Old and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Peters, served refreshments.

An announcement was made that Bull Grange would join with the other Granges of the west in a joint installation service Jan. 3 at Fairview Grange hall.

SHIPYARDS HUM AGAIN IN TAMPA

TAMPA, Fla. (UP) — Tampa—a city that 25 years ago led the nation in shipbuilding—is making a comeback.

One new vessel already is afloat, and seven more are under construction.

When the Sea Witch—a big, fast cargo ship—slid off the runway a few weeks ago, it brought the actual revival of the city's greatest industrial operation.

Approximately $16,000,000 worth of contracts for ships to be built have been signed. More are in sight after first orders are filled.

Big Program Outlined

Tampa Shipbuilding & Engineering company was the first contract in 1938, when the maritime commission began a gigantic program of construction of 100 battleships.

In its first order the next 10 years to rebuild the American merchant marine.

During the world war the company delivered 15 ships and held the highest rating for efficiency among all shipyards in the country.

In its first order the next 10 years to rebuild the American merchant marine.

Before the first was finished, a second contract for four more was signed.

Job to Last 2 Years

The company now employs more than 3,400 men, who are working on 20 shipways, and the number will be increased when keels are laid for two more ships. The present contracts will mean continued work until 1942.

Ships under construction are of the C-2 type, 450 feet long, with a displacement of 13,000 tons and a cruising range of 13,000 miles. Features of their construction include enlarged and modernized quarters for crews, a smoke-detecting system and an "iron milk," or automatic steering device.

The first four ships have been assigned to the American Pioneer line for service in the far east.

COMMODITIES AT TWO-YEAR HIGHS

NEW YORK, Jan. 1 (UP) — Commodities advanced late in 1939 to the best level in more than two years, but are likely to decline to the lowest point since 1934.

A September war boom induced a sharp spurt in the general price level. The last of the turnover established in several staples, but a series of adverse factors, including government intervention, currency fluctuations regarding duration of the war and failure of any large foreign orders to develop immediately, brought a reaction.

Prices Advance

Following this set-back, however, a revival of war psychology stimulated by the spread of hostilities abroad, influence renewed speculative support and hopes on the average advanced beyond their September tops.

Measured by the United Press-Dun & Bradstreet index, commodities established a bottom for the year when they last traded in December of the 1930-32 average, the lowest since Jan. 1, 1934.

The index closed 121 early in November to the highest level since Nov. 1, 1937, representing a gain of 18.5 per cent from the year's low. In the last trading day before start of the war—the index stood at 104.14.

Sugar an outstanding war staple—prices advanced 22 1/2 per cent on Sept. 14, the December market option soared to 228 cents on Sept. 8. President Roosevelt's order to break sharply the trade views with uncertainty the possibility of early restoration of quotas.

Silk Futures Up

A sharp rise in Japanese markets, a high price for the silk in the year which is a tight Japanese position, brought an advance in silk futures here to the highest level since June, 1939.

No. 1 contract advanced above $3.77 a pound early in December from a low of $1.975 on April 20.

Wheat prices at Chicago, under the stimulus of poor crop prospects both for here and abroad and extension of hostilities in Europe, rose to the best levels since 1937. December contracts advanced to more than $1 a bushel early in December. The year's low was 62 cents on July 24. Private estimates on the United States winter wheat crop are 2,000,000,000 bushels. Traders believed that if this estimate is realized and a normal spring crop of 2,000,000,000 bushels is produced, next year's harvest may be approximately 10,000,000 bushels under consumption requirements. Argentina also was expected to produce a sharply reduced crop.

Cotton advanced substantially on indications that a shortage of free cotton is produced next year's harvest the current crop, July 31. All of the cotton options rose above 11 cents a pound in mid-December from a low of 7.25 cents. With domestic consumption estimated at 8,000,000 bales and commercial exports at 5,000,000 bales, the season offake, exclusive of better cotton, would approximate 13,000,000 bales. In order to maintain an end-season carryover of 100,000,000 pounds to last year's small figure, it would be necessary to repossess some 3,000,000 bales of loan cotton. Many growers indicated they were unwilling to repossess loan cotton, indicating that a free supply may NOT be maintained.

Rubber Climbs

Rubber rose to a high, for the year of 22 cents a pound in the December market from a low of 10.02 cents, cocoa to 6.75 cents a pound from 4.05, hides to 16 cents a pound from 9.78, wool tops to 125 cents a pound from 77, cottonseed oil to 7.75 cents a pound from 5.33, and copper to 12.75 cents a pound from 8.78. But all were down substantially from the peaks in mid-December.

Volume of trading in blues, copper and rice to be noted. Gradually for September and the fiscal year ended Nov. 30 on the Commodity Exchange, Inc. For the year high volume was 2,040,000 pounds compared with 1,717,000 pounds the previous fiscal year. Copper sales totaled 465,000 tons against 307,223, and straits the 4,120 long tons against 2,200.

Declines

All of the 30 listed commodities used in the United Press-Dun & Bradstreet index, lard and coffee were

INDIAN CULTURE AT EARLY DATE

NEW ORLEANS (UP) — Traces of a prehistoric race of Indians, the oldest yet found in the Mississippi valley, have been discovered on the banks of Lake Pontchartrain by Prof. J. A. Ford of Louisiana State university, in a steel survey.

The new culture has been named the Tchufuncta horizon. This culture, Prof. Ford said, antedates the Marville culture which previously was the oldest civilization established in the Mississippi valley—about 1,200 years old.

In ancient times, American Indians living along the Gulf coast apparently subsisted upon shell fish and small mammals, birds and fish, Prof. Ford said. "Our observations indicate that they camped on beaches near their principal food supply. Gradually the mussel shells and refuse from their camps accumulated into a big dump heap. From this we obtained fragments of pottery and implements which they used."

Prof. Ford said the Tchufuncta culture seemed closely related to cultures found in Alabama, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia, and apparently was intimately related to cultures in the northeastern United States.

"They had decorated pottery vessels, often with four added legs," the professor said. "They hunted with the antler-tipped throwing board or atlatl, or spear. These spears were fitted with chipped flint projectile points, or hollow bone points made from the long bones of large birds or small animals."

"They used bone fishhooks, shell gorges, bone gorges and elabors, and notched fish line stikers," he continued. "They used bone and shell drinking cups, and smoked clay bular pipes which often had the stem slightly flattened to form a mouth piece."

BALKAN CO-OPS HELP PEASANTS

BUDAPEST, Jan. 1 (UP) — Instead of being granted to unemployed or needy farmers in the Pecs and Szatmar districts of southern Hungary by the local cooperatives.

These are among Hungary's poorest and most backward regions. The miners in the Pecs coal pits usually own or rent strips of land which are worked by their families.

It is recalled that five years ago, because of unsatisfactory working conditions and wages, the miners staged a phreatic underground strike which was among many rural strikes in Hungary. Conditions now are said to be little better.

Cost Is Small

At the suggestion of the mayor of Pecs, the local agricultural cooperatives started the experiment of giving in kind which costs virtually nothing, since the beneficiaries repay the cooperatives likewise in kind. The scheme has been so successful that it is to be developed on a large scale.

For instance, an unemployed or needy farmer who receives a goat must return two kids from within two years; for a sow he must return three suckling pigs. For a cow, he must furnish daily, for 27 months, between two and five quarts of milk.

Furniture Also Provided

In other cases, 20 pullets or young geese are given of which the beneficiary must return half after fattening them. In most cases, the loans are supplemented by furniture, livestock, fodder, and so on, also repayable in kind. The aim of the venture is to increase the beneficiary's income.

In some cases, the cooperatives grant loans of clothes or building materials, repayable in agricultural products. Still others have employed or taught home industries such as basket-making, brick-making, rope-making, weaving and spinning, by which they can make a bit of money in winter when there is no work in the fields. The cooperatives furnish the raw materials and undertake to market the products.

The profits are not returned to the unemployed, who are compensated in the form of food or clothing.

Dispelling the Fog

By CHARLES NICHOLSON Director of Publicity, Democratic National Committee

"The Republican party," said District Attorney Dewey of New York when he threw his hat in the ring and announced his willingness to lead the Republican ticket next year, "has always stood for good government."

Might a Democrat be permitted to ask whether he had in mind the Harding administration with its Ohio gang, and the Fall-Teeput Dome scandals, not to mention the traffic in liquor permits that was the nearest equivalent to a business revival? Or did the prosecuting attorney of New York county have in mind the Hoover administration, whose high lights were the Smoot-Hawley tariff and the fall-spill of our whole financial structure, which wasted Mr. Hoover out of the White House?

Mr. Dewey is full of confidence in his party which he says is to "give, hope and courage to a nation which is now in despair as a result of the Roosevelt administration headlined 'Industry output hits 2-year peak.'"

The New York Herald-Tribune, most raucous among the scolders of the administration, not only notes the Chrysler dividend but mentions that the corporation's net profits for nine months aggregated $1 million dollars. The New York Times incidentally recorded recently that profits of 220 companies for the year just ended showed 95 per cent increase, and that 1,500,000 of the unemployed got jobs during the past year.

The unemotional statistics on agriculture record that the farmers' cash income for that year approximated eight billion dollars; it was about four and a half billion in 1932, when the last Republican administration was demonstrating what Mr. Dewey refers to as a stand for "good government and stable business."

Headlines Tell the Story

With this demonstration of Mr. Dewey's familiarity with political history and the business situation, doubtless his adherents will have a gauge of his skill in matters more national than the extent of racketeering in the New York underworld. It might be wise if the young man read the authoritative financial publication in his own home town, before he assays the state of business.

When the corn country exploded at that astonishing declaration, he modified it by telling the west that it was a question that had to have the most careful examination, and a little further west, pleaded that he didn't know anything about it.

Dispelling the Fog

that he didn't have any special agricultural policy but was out studying it.

Dividends Now

The business instability to which Mr. Dewey referred was pictured in headlines in the same newspapers that carried the declaration of his candidacy. The New York Times heralded "Dividends voted by corporations," listing a dozen big industries that were passing on profits to shareholders. The Philadelphia Inquirer, conspicuous against the Roosevelt administration headlined "Industry output hits 2-year peak."

Even the anti-administration press is getting away from the sort of stuff its possible candidates are presenting. The Kansas City Star and Journal, for example, expresses its weariness, its comment is addressed to Senator Fair, but Mr. Dewey might note it with profit. Says this newspaper:

"To begin with, the thoughtful voters out there are heartily sick of this eternal viewing with alarm" by the Republican leadership... As for the rest we have been told many things that the trend of the New Deal is dangerous. We want to hear something else. It would be a relief, wouldn't it, if the Republican applicants did not tell how bad the Democrats are and tell the country for a change, what they propose doing if the miracle they are looking for should occur, and if one of them should get to the White House?
