Death Calls First Film Comedienne

Flora Finch, 'Silent' Era Queen, Dies

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 5 (Special)—Flora Finch, first of the movie comedienne-actresses who appeared on the Nickelodeon screen, died here today of pneumonia, which she contracted while working to be funny—carried with her to the grave today the secret of a lady.

Nobody knew the date of her birth. She might have been 60. Possibly she was nearer 80.

Miss Finch, long lean and lanky woman who made the late John Bunny's life miserable on the screen one week for years, died in the Good Samaritan hospital. She scratched her arm last week, apparently with a can opener and a streptococcal infection set in.

Always Got Kicked Her death recalled to Hollywood's old timers the almost forgotten days when the movies were young and a lady in the films had to be killed where it hurt the most, at least twice in any real scene.

Born in England Miss Finch came to America in the gay nineties and soon achieved fame not as the toast of Broadway but as the queen of its greatest laugh provokers.

David Wark Griffith brought her to Hollywood to play the tough girl in his silent comedies. She was known to the public as the "Silent Queen" and her name was on the lips of moviegoers everywhere.

One Picture Per Week In 1910 she began her historic association with John Bunny. For five years she and Bunny made one picture a week. This wasn't fun for Miss Finch. Bunny weighed almost 200 pounds and customers always felt cheated if he didn't fall upon her at least once during the show.

Here Are Secrets of Health Factors in Your Idaho Spud

MOSCOV, Jan. 5 (Special)—What's in an Idaho potato? Why are energy-giving secrets are hidden under its fair, brown skin? Why has it—assertedly the most highly developed tuber on the market today—become a permanent part in the daily diet of such football teams as those produced by Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill.?

Fights Diseases What part does it play in staving off such diseases as scurvy, and in insuring the health of its consumers the world over?

Dr. Leo M. Christensen, head of the department of agricultural chemistry at the University of Idaho here, furnished the answer in an analysis requested by the Idaho state advertising commission, of which E. N. Pettigrove, state commissioner of agriculture, is chairman, who recently said:

"The Idaho Russet is conceded to be without a peer in the potato world, because of the time and effort that have been expended in developing it."

Dr. Christensen, in analyzing one of them, said he found these ingredients, chemically speaking, in percentages: Water, 74.78; ash, 1.20; crude protein, 2.39; crude fiber, .55; nitrogen-free extract, 20.92, and fat, .09.

Essential to Health In common terms, virtually all of the ingredients, except water and fat, furnish chemicals that are essential to the maintenance of healthy blood, sound bones and produce heat that the body must generate to perform its digestive functions.

Dr. Christensen reported tests had shown that the average Idaho Russet potato "furnished 24 calories per ounce, or 285 calories per pound and is a good source of vitamins C and B."

JUNIORS SELECT AVIATION DRAMA

Selected as the Twin Falls high school junior class play is "Clinging Zero," written by Frank West. It is one of the most thrilling dramas about aviation of recent years. It was announced today by Miss Florence Rees, dramatics director.

Story of the play concerns two ace fliers, Texas Clark and Dixie Davis. Dixie has his license taken away because of heart disease, and is further grief stricken when Texas is killed in a plane crash while taking his place, as he planned to entertain a young air hostess.

Other characters are Jake Lee, superintendent of the air lines, eastern division pilot, mechanics, hostesses, a radio operator, a meteorologist, and other persons connected with aviation.

Scene of the play is the operations office of the Federal Air lines, Hedyfield, Newark, N. J. Included in the stage setting will be the window charts, panel board, broadcasting equipment which would be included in a general office. Costumes will include regulation flying uniforms.

It has been called a "crackling melodrama, with one of the most exciting second act climaxes of recent history" by the New York Sun, when it was produced there, and the New York Herald Tribune called it "the most thrilling story that has been written about aviation."

BURK, MARBLE LEAD FOR AMATEUR AWARD

U. S. Will Open Nation-Wide Sports Campaign for Finnish Relief

New Sport Certain To Be Added to List of Winners

By JERRY BRONFIELD
NEA Service

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The James E. Sullivan Memorial trophy, awarded annually to the athlete who by performance, example, and influence as an amateur, has done most during the year to advance the cause of sportsmanship, very likely will find a new sphere of activity added to the list of previous winners.

In one of the closest races since Bobby Jones was first named in 1930, critics the nation over are expected to honor Joe Burk, the New Jersey sculler, Alice Marble, women tennis champion.

There are five eligibles for the honor, but consensus is that one of two new will be named when the poll is completed within the next few days.

The other three candidates in the poll conducted by the National A. U. are Al Patnik, Ohio State's triple diving champion, Marvin Ward, National Amateur golf titleist of Springfield, Mass., and Chuck Fenske, ace miler, formerly of Wisconsin.

"If Miss Marble wins it will mark the first time the award has gone to a woman. A triumph for Burk will be extending a couple years."

For the benefit of those who don't believe any such poll could be complete without Nile Kinnick being eligible, there is this explanation: Nominations for the award closed Nov. 10, and the Iowa All-American had not yet captured the fancy of the sports public as he had by the time the football season closed.

It might have been a different story if the nominations had been extended a couple years.

Pretty Miss Marble, who a couple of years ago got out of a sketched to scale the heights when doctors told her she was to die, has won the Diamond Sculls in the New Jersey Royal regatta in 1938 and also made two straight in 1939. He also received American singles sculler champion.

New Interest

Burk has had a tremendous influence on rowing and is responsible for new-found interest in the sport, in the east especially. Few athletes in the United States have ever won the Diamond Sculls in the New Jersey Royal regatta in 1938 and also made two straight in 1939. He also received American singles sculler champion.

Four Changes Listed for 1940 Gridders

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Jan. 5 (UP)—Four football rule changes affecting forward passes, "huddle" time went into the books today after a three-day meeting of the National collegiate association rules committee.

Forward passing was liberalized, and clear specifications were changed for safety's sake. The change allowed for putting the ball into play was cut from 30 to 25 seconds.

"In the future," the committee said, "the penalty when a forward pass touches an ineligible player behind the scrimmage line will be the loss of 15 yards and the loss of a down."

Cleats of conical pattern will be three-eighths of an inch instead of one-half inch in diameter, and the point parallel to the base.

Penalty for fouling a passer will be enforced from the place of the previous down. Formerly, the pass was completed or intercepted, the penalty was enforced from the line of scrimmage.

Nelson Picked To Capture $5,000 Open

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5 (UP)—A field of 49 of the nation's finest golfers started down Sunday's ways today in the initial round of the Winter's first major tournament, the $5,000 Open.

As the field tumbled off at six-minute intervals the odds were short that Johnny Nelson would capture the $5,000 prize in this year's tournament with the first prize of $1,000.

Nelson, who turned in brilliant sub-par practice rounds which have made him the pre-tournament favorite in a field that boasts all the former Los Angeles open champions, including Bobbie Cruickshank and Harry Cooper.

Nelson, the big Texan's heels are the two who tied him in the race for the national open crown, DeWitt Smith and Craig Wood, and defeated them in the final round.

Other veterans in the race are Ralph Guldahl, Vic Thompson, Olin Dutra and Jimmy Henson.

John Oerter, who finished in 1937 and Dennis Lavender of Dallas both carded 70 for the double round to lead the pack into the tournament.

Elimination will continue until Sunday, and finals will be played Monday.

For the losing club, A Kircher went top man with a 537 and 4 single game of 200.

In the City league play Firestone took victory out of four from Twin Falls Lumber with Al Fillmore showing the way. He had a three-game series of 538. His single, however, went to Art Timmons with a 208.

Ken Allan topped the losing club with a 484 series and a top single of 191.

Proposal Will Seek Pro Competition For Amateur Net Aces

NEW YORK, Jan. 5 (UP)—A nation-wide sports campaign has been launched for the Finnish relief fund, under direction of former President Herbert Hoover.

Plans provide for the first open tennis tour (with amateurs playing professionals), the first all-star tennis tournament, the first all-star tennis tournament, the first all-star tennis tournament, the first all-star tennis tournament.

One-Night Stars

If the tour is permitted, Williams hopes the initial open matches will be staged at Madison Square Garden in late February and then continue for one-night stands in the country's major cities. In this manner, the fans may see Bobby Riggs, the No. 1 U. S. amateur, staking up the open tennis tour.

Preliminary plans for the first all-star racket game call for a contest at Madison Square Garden, N. Y., in April between the best National and American league freshmen on the 13 clubs training in the south.

Promoter Mike Jacobs of New York's 20th Century club, will stage a 15-round battle between "Two-Ton" Tony Galento, the No. 1 heavyweight challenger, and Maxie Baer at Madison Square Garden, probably March 22, in the New York commission approves. Jacobs announced all profits would be contributed to the fund.

Oliver Hardy Withdraws From Racing Tracks—Horses Were Too Funny

By HENRY McLEMORE
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5 (UP)—America's biggest racing owner is through.

No longer will the unfamiliar green and white silks come tearing across the finish line—last and "huddle" time went into the books today after a three-day meeting of the National collegiate association rules committee.

Oliver Hardy has disbanded his stable because of jealousy.

His horses finally became "funny" than he was.

Mainly, pride of the Hardy stable and the only horse ever to be quoted at $10,000 in 1939 in the Kentucky derby, his horse, Colongie is Crete, who only lacked blanket disqualification to win several gages. And gone, too, is Schottland, who taught plenty of bettors and Jessamy, and Miss Chase, who went to the post six times and losing it so well, stayed there six times.

Hitting in his Hollywood home today, Oliver Hardy smiled on the sugar he had hunted for the use of his thoroughbreds and kept going with old carrots that wouldn't have passed muster in the third act of "Follies Road."

Have a Critic Sent

"If the critic sent to your house," Oliver said, "help yourself to a saddle or have a bite of a bit, or wrap yourself up in a blanket. There is only one thing you can have." "That is my racing silk."

Then, like a man exhibiting a great respect, Hardy unbuttoned his coat and showed a white shirt and a safe, took a peek to see that the laugh alarm was in order, and tenderly, earnestly, lifted out a bit of racing silk.

Girl Athletes Widen Basis Of H.S. Awards

New constitution for the Girls' Athletic association at Twin Falls high school, which bases girls' athletic awards on participation in several sports and not on excellence in one, was approved by the executive board at a meeting yesterday and will be submitted to the association at a general meeting Tuesday.

On the board which adopted the constitution are Irma Gooding, president; Irene Terry, vice-president; Janet Coleman, secretary; and Helen Gee, sports manager. Adviser is Miss Madeline Schovin.

Formerly the only awards provided for girls in the high school were for participation in basketball. The new constitution, it added, will base awards on participation in several sports, not on points. A membership in the association, a girl must have taken part in two sports already this year. To retain active membership, she must take part in at least three a year.

Used as a model was the constitution of the Women's Athletic association of the University of Idaho, southern branch, Pocatello, which was modified to the needs of high school girls.

Approximately 20 girls are expected to be eligible for membership after the basketball season. Girls' tournament get underway on Jan. 15, will double elimination play.

The purpose of the association is to further interest in girls' athletics, in true sportsmanship and healthful living. To encourage a feeling of good fellowship among girls of the high school and the district by sponsoring play days for the joy of playing. Mrs. Schovin said.

Ghinoly rallied in the second and third rounds and landed several ineffective blows. The challenger was saved by the bell in the fourth round after being down for a count of six.

The knockout blow, a short right hook to the jaw, was placed just 34 seconds after the start of the fifth round. Ghinoly had been bewildered by a series of windmill rights and lefts.

Senate Leader Proposes Cut in Upper Bracket Taxes

WAR DOOMS ON FDR PLANS FOR DEFENSE FUNDS

By Lyle C. Wilson
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5 (AP)—Chairman Pat Harrison, D. Miss., of the senate finance committee, countered President Roosevelt's $400,000,000 national defense tax plan today by suggesting a cut in upper bracket surtax taxes which, he said, would increase revenue, encourage hospital and foster employment.

Harrison indicated doubt that the emergency national defense expenditure was justified. He said he would introduce in the senate next week a resolution calling for creation of a joint legislative committee to examine Mr. Roosevelt's fiscal program with the idea of drafting a congressional budget for 1941. He felt the President was "pretty optimistic" if he thought Congress would remain within the budget limit of appropriations proposed to the house and senate yesterday.

Clips 15 Per Cent
Harrison's tax move would clip 15 per cent from surtax levies on individual income, holding the maximum rate at 60 per cent instead of the current 75. The 60 per cent surtax now begins at $100,000 in effect until it is stepped up to 62 per cent on $250,000 incomes. The rate is graduated upward to 75 per cent on $500,000 income and over.

Mr. Roosevelt's 1941 budget to collect $6,150,000,000 in tax revenue including old age pension taxes and spend $4,824,980,000 got a mixed reception in congress. But most comment was wholly general with the details of opposition and support still to develop.

His request for $400,000,000 in election year taxes called congressional aid and the early winter book quotations are against so much of a hike, it may.

Senate Minority Leader Charles L. McNary, R. Ore., said he thought "normal activities of the government should not be crippled" to provide funds for an unnecessary defense program.

"If super-appropriations for national defense should await the result of experimentation in wars now being waged," he said.

Apparently in the minds of all hands was that the President had congress at a disadvantage because the legislative branch is along with his major tax and appropriation plan or accept responsibility for pushing the national debt over the $45,000,000,000 limit ahead of schedule—and the schedule definitely provides that it shall not go over until after the presidential elections, if it must go over at all.

EXHIBITS MAPPED FOR 'SPUD TRAIN'

Downtown window displays by scores of merchants—plus a possible outdoor display by implement dealers—topped plans under negotiation here today for the arrival of the "Idaho Pacific" potato train.

Following conference between Twin Falls committeemen and Joe Jarvis, railroad operations agent, Chairman Bert Bollingbroke and Carl N. Anderson, C. of C. president, were mapping plans for exhibits as a 24-hour event for rural and urban residents of this area.

Longest Stop Here
The 10-car train, packed with every type of exhibit and material relating to potato production and usage, will make its longest north central Idaho stop in Twin Falls. It will be here from 1:30 p. m. until 10 p. m., with a two-hour closed interval from 5 to 7 p. m. to give the train's personnel time for dinner and a rest after a vigorous day.

The train comes here from Blain, where it will be displayed to new exhibitors from 8:30 a. m. to noon on the preceding day, Jan. 26. It will stop at Jerome from 8:30 a. m. to noon, Rupert from 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m., and Butte from 7 to 10 p. m.

Mr. Bollingbroke said that the make-up of the train is "Prat car, Pacific Fruit Express refrigerator car, seven descriptive display, three exhibits of experimental stations and extension service, with certified seed spuds, varieties, cultural practices, fertilizer data, bacterial wilt (potato rot), and other spud diseases, fourth car, displays of agricultural colleges and state departments of agriculture.

Personal Conferencers
Since personal conferences among farmers and the agricultural experts are regarded as one of the major offerings of the train, cars and seed, several will be devoted to that purpose. The exhibits will show industrial and table use, spuds, plus exhibits on livestock feeding and terminal markets.

The final two cars will be the traveling homes of officials accompanying the train.
