U. S. SHIPS ANGRY PROTEST TO ENGLAND

REDS' OFFENSIVE ON MANNERHEIM LINE FRUSTRATED

By WEBB MILLER
HELSINKI, Jan. 23 (UP)—A Russian offensive against the Mannerheim line on the Karelian isthmus and northeast of Lake Ladoga yesterday broke down in the face of stiff Finnish resistance, an official Finnish communiqué said today.

More than 1,000 Russians were killed at Kolanaajoki, northeast of Ladoga, the communiqué added. The offensive was described as "violent." The Finns believed fresh waves of Russian troops were thrown against the Mannerheim line in what the Russians intended to make a decisive battle.

The communiqué said heavy Russian attacks were being made against the Mannerheim line in the center of the Karelian isthmus. The Russians also heavily attacked the front lines of Lake Ladoga, but were repulsed.

Planes Shot Down
The communiqué said yesterday five Russian planes were shot down. One was seen over the Mannerheim line, but it was the first day that Russian planes were shot down, according to the communiqué.

Russian losses everywhere were heavy, the Finns claimed. An air raid alarm sounded in Helsinki during the night and a plane was given 20 minutes. No planes were seen over the capital but it was reported that the plane had been seen over Granulanka, where the foreign diplomatic missions, which evacuated Helsinki, now are located.

Heaviest Fighting
Some of the heaviest fighting at the front occurred near Kolanaajoki in the Laitila region northeast of Lake Ladoga.

Loud speakers in the Russian line blared out the challenge that the Russians would take Vilpuri, important seaport 20 miles within the Finnish line, within two days. It was believed that the main Russian attack would come at the seaport.

The Russians attacked at two unspecified points on the line today. In each attack they sent troops against several individual points. The attacks, from the point, then another was believed to be intended both to test the Finnish ability and to keep the front active and contact with moved troops could make a real attempt to break through.

Attacks at different points also might keep the Finns sending reinforcements to the lake area.

LEWIS ATTACKS MINING WORKERS GATHER

By WILLIAM L. LAWRENCE
TWIN FALLS, Jan. 23 (UP)—President John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America today denounced the presidential ambition of federal security administrator Paul V. McNutt, terming him "a political adventurer" who had used troops against labor.

Lewis said McNutt, former governor of Indiana, "likes to pretend he was a soldier, accompanied by a motley crew of two per cent bastards who he hoped would be able to buy enough votes to make him President of the United States. If he was a more honest man he would have gone more soldiers to play with, and be able to protect strikers who were taking the jobs of men who were hungry and whose wives were ill."

Links McNutt, Chandler
The "two per cent bastards" phrase was believed to refer to Indiana's famous Democratic "two per cent club" which purportedly collects money from state employees for political purposes.

Lewis linked McNutt with Sen. A. B. "Happy" Chandler, former Kentucky governor, comparing them with ancient kings of England "who sent troops to protect strangers in their own country when the governor of Kentucky sent troops to Harlan county to protect the strangers from the children of the displaced mine workers whose children were hungry and whose wives were ill."

Two Tasks in Life
Lewis declared two tasks were uppermost in life, "to achieve or acquire something desirable and to prevent some undesirable from taking it from you."

"The man, whether he be an industrial spy, a corporate agent, or a labor leader, who undertakes to limit or 'prescribe' your rights as a member of this union is an enemy of yours, your wife and your children. He is an enemy of democracy."

A prayer for peace was voiced when the Rev. James Thomas, Columbus Methodist minister, invoked God's aid that "evil may cease from the nation, and in delivering the convention's opening prayer."

Solons Slash Budget By Near $113,000,000

By United Press
Economy-minded solons had their innings Tuesday. Not only did the house appropriations committee keep its economy record intact by reporting a slashed $1,032,154,612 treasury-post office supply bill, but Chairman Carl Vinson of the house naval affairs committee indicated he may order a further cut in the proposed $800,000,000 naval expansion bill.

The supply bill as reported today was $1,491,000 below President Roosevelt's budget estimate, and brought savings run up by the committee to about $12,000,000—the amount which appropriation bills have been cut below budget figures for the fiscal year which ended July 1. Chief of the treasury-post office bill were in excess of a semi-defense nature. The treasury bill was cut $2,657,150 and the post office bill $4,344,750.

The slash proposed by Vinson would be so as to limit the new construction to warships which the navy could build within two years. Vinson already has made a $400,000,000 cut in his authorization proposal, which originally called for $1,300,000,000 in new ships.

Debate on Dies

Note Says Ships Deterred Longer Than Italy Craft

By ROBERT C. MONTE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (UP)—United States' official protests at British activities on the high seas took a stronger, even an angry pitch, today. The British government was accused of discriminating against American ships.

This government protested American ships were being detained by British contraband control officials at Gibraltar three times as long as Italian ships carrying similar cargoes and that, in some cases, American ships were being forced, contrary to the American neutrality law, to proceed to belligerent ports. It demanded "immediate correction" of the situation and requested a reply from Great Britain to that effect.

The protest was reminiscent of the memorandum written in 1936 over similar British activities before the United States entered the World War.

Interfere With U. S. Mails
During the last month, American official impatience has been increasing over what is considered high-handed British interference with American ships, cargoes and mail on the high seas.

The new protest was handed to British Ambassador Lord Lothian by Assistant Secretary of State Adolph A. Berle in the form of an aide memorandum. It requested Lothian to remind the ambassador of what he had been told orally in a conference in the state department.

The memorandum also pointed out that the British government was "seriously concerned" over the treatment meted out to American shipping in the Mediterranean area, and particularly at Gibraltar.

The American government protest also pointed out that British interference with cargoes moving from one neutral country to another.

British interference with American ships going to and from the Mediterranean area had reached such a point that it appears definitely discriminatory.

Ample time has elapsed since the British government was notified of the British government's action. The British government is urged to apologize for an alleged affront to Japan.

BOTT REFUSES TO DISCUSS SENATOR

BOISE, Jan. 23 (UP)—Gov. C. A. Botolphsen today refused to discuss the resignation of Sen. William E. Borah Thursday the possible appointment of a successor.

"This is a time for mourning, not political manipulation," Botolphsen said today.

The governor returned to his office early today for the first time since he was confined to the veterinary hospital more than two weeks ago with an attack of pleurisy. He found his office deluged with telegrams supporting various men for the senatorial seat.

MORGENTHAU SEES BALANCED BUDGET AS "VERY HEALTHY"

POINTS TO NEED OF EXPENSE CUT AND LEVY BOOST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. believes a balanced budget would have a "very healthy" effect on the country. It was revealed today.

Morgenthau failed to indicate how a balance between income and outlay might be achieved, but he suggested a budget surplus would be a desirable thing. He said public works expenditures might be limited and taxes boosted.

He proposed the public debt be raised from the present statutory ceiling of $45,000,000,000 to $50,000,000,000. President Roosevelt has forecast a budget surplus totaling more than $44,000,000,000 by June 30, 1941.

Morgenthau gave his testimony last December, three weeks before President Roosevelt submitted to congress the 1941 budget forecasting a deficit of $2,274,000,000 and asking for $460,000,000 in new taxes to finance emergency national defense spending.

"You think that a balanced budget would be a good thing for the country," he was asked by Rep. Louis Ludlow, D. Ind.

"Yes, sir, I certainly do," replied Morgenthau. "I think it would be very healthy."

Only One Plan

"Do you think the budget could be balanced now either through increasing taxes or through reducing or a reduction in appropriations?" continued Ludlow.

"No," said Morgenthau. "I think there are but two alternatives. One is to have the combination of a reduction in expenditures and an increase of taxes. Whatever the deficit is, we have to borrow. If so directed by congress, but I think that expenditures can be reduced and I think that taxes can be increased."

BOB REFUSES TO DISCUSS SENATOR

LET LEWIS, Gov. Donald S. Whitte, appoint him to the senate vacancy.

An unofficial pool of statehouse executives indicated John Thomas, former U. S. senator of Gooding, was the most favored compromise candidate. He was the only one mentioned.

Other possibilities still considered were Mrs. Bernice Lewis, the late senator; Byron Deffenbach, Townsend candidate for the senate in 1938; Donald A. O'Connell, Republican senate nominee in 1938; J. M. Lampert and Jess Hawley, Boise attorneys and Congressman Henry C. Dawkins.

The governor said he would announce his selection at a press conference, probably on Friday.

WOOL GROWERS OPEN SESSIONS

CANBY, Wis., Jan. 23 (AP)—The National Wool Growers' association convention opened here today with strenuous opposition to Roosevelt's reciprocal trade policies expected to be keynote of the sessions.

Such action would align the western billion-dollar stock industry against the program, as the American National Wool Growers' association approved a similar disapproval of the trade act last week in its Denver executive committee.

Reports coming from pre-convention executive committee meetings said sheep raisers would join the campaign in denouncing the pact which "discriminates" in the wool-grower industry.

Some 60 wool growers, buyers, packers and transportation officials from 20 states were registered at convention headquarters.

MERCHANTS VOTE 'TREASURE' HUNT

Twin Falls merchants chartered plans today to give away $250 in merchandise as a reward to a "treasure hunt" which will feature shopping of the Union Pacific potato train here next Saturday.

A four-man contact committee conferred with store operators to line up participation for the program explained Monday to the merchants' bureau meeting at the Rogerson hotel. Committee members are headed by R. P. Robinson, chairman, and include R. M. Kimble, Grant Thomas and R. Hoffmire.

2,000 Tickets
The "treasure hunt" program calls for issuance of 2,000 free tickets to farm and city residents to inspect the potato train during its presentation at the railroad depot Saturday afternoon. Saturday night the "hunt" comes downtown to determine whether they are entitled to receive a prize.

No awards will be distributed Saturday, the merchants decided. "Treasure hunters" will find the prizes mainly when they tour the stores Monday.

Stores participating in the event will be marked with posters. Chairman Robinson said.

Attractive shopping bargains will be featured in stores both Saturday and Monday. It was pointed out by John Hoffmire.

Two of the other 1940 projects of the merchants' bureau came in for attention at Monday's gathering. Voy Hudson, named a bureau chairman of the Magic City Jubilee planned for July 3-4-5, reported that the Junior Chamber of Commerce directors have accepted the proposal that Jaycees carry out the active work of staging the jubilee. The younger organization will be permitted to retain any profits from concessions to swell the jubilee fund, which now pays for the final six acres of recreational ground.

Robert H. Warner, Junior Chamber director, advised the bureau that he will select his committee to begin work on jubilee plans as soon as the full membership list is completed. Appointment of the day-care committees is expected later this week.

Van Engelen appointed R. J. Walling head of the merchants' bureau, appointed W. A. Van Engelen as chairman of the "father's day" which forms any other project on the list called for. The event will be held in connection with the annual Times-News and Lincoln celebration.

Merchants voted to hold meetings of the bureau every first and third Monday instead of weekly.

LEWIS ATTACKS M'NUTT RECORD

John Dunn, president of the Franklin County CIO industrial council, welcomed the delegates to Columbus and hailed Ohio UMW district No. 6 President John Owens as "labor's candidate for governor in the 1940 election."

Only three "outside speakers" were heard in the convention and one is a potential Democratic presidential candidate—Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Democrat of New York, who spoke of the possibility of the convention endorsing a presidential candidate. Four years ago it unanimously urged re-election of President Roosevelt.

Other speakers will be Hugh Johnson, newspaper columnist, and Josephine M. Chalmers, chairman of President Roosevelt's inter-departmental committee on health.

Signs Will Tell When Ice Ready

With indication that the ice on Jaycee skating rink may be ready by tonight or Wednesday morning, Chairman John Weaver announced this afternoon that signs will be erected at the rink "the moment skating can be resumed."

Use of the rink was halted yesterday while city workmen flooded the area again. Spraying was being carried out today. The ice was slightly "creaky" but skating but seemed to be freezing fast and was "fairly smooth," Weaver said.

Unless a thaw occurs the rink will definitely be ready by tomorrow afternoon.

It was understood the sign plans would be carried out for the rest of the winter so that would be skating, passing by on foot or in autos, will know when the rink is available on any given day.

"I have never urged cooperation of skaters in remaining off the ice until the rink is ready."

FORMER PREMIER OF HOLLAND WORKS ON WORLD PEACE PLAN

PROGRAM WOULD SOLIDIFY EVERY NATION AT WAR

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, Jan. 23 (AP)—Former Premier Hendrik Colln, Holland's "grand old man," is working quietly on a plan to solidify world peace after the present war. It was understood today.

Colln is believed to have the approval not only of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and King Leopold of Belgium but of other important personalities including some key figures in all countries now at war.

May Head Committee
It was expected Colln would be elected chairman of a league of nations "central committee" which is to meet here Feb. 7 and the first concrete work on a plan for future economic reconstruction would be started then.

Colln is 78. He started his career as a soldier and took part in army expeditions to the Netherlands East Indies. He entered politics 30 years ago. He has held every key post in the Netherlands cabinet including that of finance minister. He has been a director of the Royal Dutch, Shell Oil company, a member of the bank for international settlements advisory committee on German control and a delegate to international economic conferences.

Approve Work
Premier Benito Mussolini, with whom Colln has talked recently, was believed to be one who approved Colln's present work and it was believed that the plan was not unknown in Washington.

There seemed a real hope here that the work of attaining a secure peace would be accelerated as to bring in such figures as President Roosevelt, Pope Pius, Mussolini, former Premier Paul Van Zeeland of Belgium and well known persons in allied countries who, according to information here, are working quietly for a real peace without yet being able to make their efforts public.

NEW MOVE SEEN ON ELECTRICIANS

Twin Falls "junior grade" electrical ordinance has been withdrawn today and another, which will embody additional features, will be presented for consideration of the city council at next Monday's session.

The "junior grade" ordinance, which was to have come up for second reading and possible passage last night, was withdrawn on motion of Councilman Carl Ritchey after Fritz Bennett, attorney, announced that supporters of the move had asked that this step be taken. This proposal is backed by Claude Detwiler, local businessman.

May Not Materialize
An indication was seen, however, that a new ordinance may not be introduced next Monday but this depends entirely on whether certain individuals pass examinations for issuance of journeyman ratings which they will take this week.

Councilmen last night also authorized the city to expend a maximum of $60 for completion of the local low-cost housing survey. The survey would be directed by members of the recently appointed Twin Falls low-cost housing authority and was said to be the final step necessary before applying for government aid in a huge construction program which would not cost the city taxpayers "one cent" but which would be financed from $750,000 to $1,000,000 in federal money here.

Attend Airport Meet
Members of the city body also indicated that they would attend the meeting at the Park hotel Friday at 7 p. m. at which time a proposal to combine the Twin Falls and Jerome airports will be aired. A group of Jerome and Twin Falls citizens would have the local field abandoned and the city of Twin Falls aid in the development of the north side field, making it a two-city affair.

FEDERAL SILVER RATIO DECLINES

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Silver stocks of the U. S. treasury at the close of 1939 were smaller in proportion to the gold hoard than when the silver purchase act was enacted in 1934, attesting to the utility of the legislation, Handy and Harman, bullion dealers, reported today in the firm's 24th annual review.

During 1939, the review said, the U. S. government purchased 341,400,000 ounces of silver, including 60,000,000 derived from domestic ore lifting total treasury holdings to 2,930,000,000 ounces as of Dec. 31 compared with 2,388,600,000 at the close of 1938. In 1938 treasury purchases were 417,000,000 ounces, including 61,000,000 from domestic ore.

Holdings
The review pointed out, however, that because of the huge increase in gold stocks since passage of the silver act, that treasury holdings of the white metal at close of the year were smaller proportionately than five and a half years earlier.

"Once again the year end figures proclaim the futility of attempting to meet the requirement of the silver purchase act that one-fourth of the total monetary value of the gold and silver stocks shall be silver," the authority declared.

"After five and one-half years of operation and after more than 2,200,000,000 ounces of silver have been bought, the goal set by the act actually is 291,000 ounces further away than it was when the legislation was passed in June, 1934."

Handy and Harman estimated world silver production for 1939 at approximately 265,000,000 ounces, or about unchanged from 1938. Output was apportioned as follows: United States, 57,000,000 ounces; Mexico, 81,000,000; Canada, 24,700,000; South America, 34,700,000 and all other countries, 66,600,000.

Clever Theme Used At Kitchen Shower

Clever in all details was the dessert bridge supper and kitchen shower at which Mrs. R. P. Robinson, Mrs. C. C. Kingsbury and Mrs. R. L. Reed entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Robinson, 1410 Eleventh avenue east, in compliment to Miss Ruth Schwendiman, fiancée of Glenn E. Jenkins.

Intimate friends of the honoree and their mothers, numbering 24 guests, were bidden to the pre-nuptial courtesy. Climax of the evening was the presentation of the gifts in a kitchen utility box, covered with bright wall paper in a suitable pattern.

Guests were seated at six tables appointed in pottery of contrasting shades, and combination tables and place cards, the shape of rolling pins, coffee pots, tea kettles and stew kettles, featuring blue, yellow, green or orange to have with the pottery, marked the covers.

To further carry out the clever theme, candles in miniature milk bottle holders, also in tiny tea trays, frying pans centered each table, and cloths were unbleached muslin embroidered in lowels bearing the name of the guest. Cotton and cloth cloths, rolled like napkins, completed the "kitchen nappy."

Light copper and gold napery, among the guests were Mrs. R. P. Robinson, Mrs. C. C. Kingsbury and Mrs. R. L. Reed. Honoree, Miss Ruth Schwendiman, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Olen G. Jenkins, mother of her fiancé.

Romantic History of Glassware Delineated

Glass as an artists' medium, from earliest times, when it was first introduced as a glaze for pottery, and then graduated to glass beads, and progressed to the present day, when Swedish Orrefors and American Steuben are representative of the finest modern glassware, was fascinatingly chronicled by Mrs. P. B. Wilson for members of the Home and Garden department of the Twentieth Century club this afternoon at the American Legion Memorial hall.

Heightening interest in her address, was the colorful display of rare and heirloom glassware, exhibited at the request of the department by local women, and arranged by Mrs. P. R. Taber. Exhibitors were guests of the department.

Romance of Glass
In addition to the glassware display, Mrs. Wilson illustrated her comprehensive history of glass with numerous colored plates. Most esteemed among the Colonial glassware are pieces of Windsor and Stiegel. Mrs. Wilson pointed out, telling in detail of the pressed ware, which includes the Southwick glass.

Among items of historic value displayed were the President's birthday plate, the centennial and red paper napkins emphasizing the color scheme. Mrs. Arthur Kowatz was chairman of the refreshment committee, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Douglas, Mrs. C. E. Fox, Mrs. Harry Wilcox, Mrs. George Wilcox and Mrs. Carl Anderson.

BEEET GROWERS SEEK 60-CENT INCREASED SUGAR PAY

CHANGING SCALE IN PRICES ASKED AT U. S. HEARING

POCATELLO, Jan. 23 (AP)—A grower-process contract which would pay sugar processors approximately 60 cents more a ton for their crops than secured in 1939 was under consideration today at a hearing of agricultural officials conducting a hearing on farm labor wage rates and beet contract regulations.

The suggestion for a contract under which growers would receive a price for their crop equal to one-half the value of sugar processed from it, in addition to one-third of the gross returns from pulp sales, was made last October by Allen Johnson, St. Joe, Ind.

The grower asked conditions of the contract providing that expenses be chargeable against gross sales, "will not exceed 30 cents per hundred pounds of sugar, and value of the entire crop." This payment method was expected to boost prices over the 1939 total.

A proposal was made earlier to put beet workers' wages on a scale to vary as gross returns from beets to growers changed.

Jaycee Ice Rink Popular With Youngsters

Although the rink is temporary, it will be well attended. The skating facilities at Jaycee park proved an instant success, as this photo snapped Sunday proves. This group is all of school age, but older skaters were also on hand. Incidentally, the young man on the extreme right won't be covering on the ice with his sled when the rink reopens. Sleds and "roughhouse hockey" will both be barred. (Times Photo and Engraving)

Wendell Freshman Has Thriving Business as "Ghost Writer" for Other U. of I. Students

By BOB LERRICHT
UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Jan. 23 (Special)—Phantoms, specters, ghosts and other spirits supposedly came to an end with the medieval ages, but not on the Idaho campus.

Calling himself "The Ghost," Wendell, a freshman, has a thriving business of ghost writing for the papers and reference papers for thousands of students for $1 a thousand.

Writes "A" Papers

Although he poses as a "ghost," his chief haunting is done on the English department with a maze of "A" papers. He guarantees each of his themes or papers to be A or B paper or payment will be refunded. Not one has he had to refund for any work, and most of his papers have not his customers' A's.

Bavinger's favorite tale is the one about a graduate student who came in at 11:30 p. m. and wanted a 2000 word reference paper by 8 o'clock in the morning. At breakfast time, after an all night session plinking typewriter keys, the Ghost had the paper completed, with satisfactory results to the graduate's grade.

"Careful analysis of faculty members gives me an idea of what they wish in their assignments," Bavinger declares, "and therefore I'm able to give them the kind of work they want."

A Tough One!

The hardest job he's run across was writing six different papers on the same subject for the same class. Bavinger explained that he had a hard time getting them all to sound different.

Most of the ghost writer's clients are fraternal men, he finds, although he's had nearly every class of fellows on the campus—from freshmen to graduate students—for customers.

His income has averaged about

$1 a week from his ghost-writing and typing service. His business has become so large that he now has two girls typing for him steady and another ready to substitute.

Ghost?

"I haven't done any work for anyone since the southern Idaho freshman confided, 'Perhaps it's just as well, because I've had a hard time writing a theme to sound ghostly.'"

Oldest experience in his ghost-writing, he said, was typing a theme for a fellow to be used in classwork. Not knowing upon what subject the theme was to be written, the customer had him write four different themes, all of which would be suitable to hand in.

Bavinger is a music major, although he is contemplating changing his major to journalism. He is a reporter on the Arbonaut, student publication, and is a member of the freshman class spirit band.
