GOODING MAN GETS BORAH'S SEAT IN SENATE

Death Takes Orr Chapman, Prominent Idaho Attorney

Demo Leader Of Idaho Dies During Sleep

W. Orr Chapman, 49, prominent local attorney and conceded to have been the most influential Democratic leader in Idaho, died today at 7:30 a. m. at his home, 117 Seventh avenue east.

Death came to Mr. Chapman while he slept. A heart ailment was the contributing cause and the veteran attorney suffered an attack at about 5:30 a. m., after which he never regained consciousness.

Only yesterday Mr. Chapman had returned from Boise where he attended funeral services for Sen. William E. Borah, his close personal friend for years, though both were of different political beliefs. Last evening he attended a supper club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thorp and commented to friends that he felt in the best of health. With his wife, he returned to his home shortly after midnight and retired.

Death Takes Prominent Attorney

W. Orr Chapman, prominent local attorney and Democratic party leader, died this morning at the family home here. Death came as a result of a heart ailment. Only yesterday Mr. Chapman had returned from Boise after attending funeral services for his close, personal friend Senator William E. Borah.

Funeral Monday
Funeral services will be held at 4 p. m. Monday at the Christian church with Rev. Inis L. Jenkins, pastor of the Ascension Episcopal church, officiating. Burial will be in the Twin Falls cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the White mortuary chapel from 1 to 3 p. m. Sunday and from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. Monday.

Mr. Chapman, always active in Democratic circles, had attended every state convention of his party since 1908. In 1928 he campaigned over practically all the western states. He was instrumental in the national committee naming him for the western speaking tour in both 1928 and 1932. He was also instrumental for his keen sense of humor.

Made Senate Race
In 1932 he ran for public office for the first and only time, seeking the nomination of United States senator. He was defeated by James F. Pope who won from the primary to the general election and was sent to Washington.

In 1928 and 1932 Mr. Chapman attended the national conventions of his party at Houston, Tex., and Philadelphia respectively, as a delegate from Idaho. In 1932 he was chairman of the Democratic central committee for Bingham county and also served several years as Democratic state committeeman for Twin Falls county.

To Idaho in 1899
Mr. Chapman was born March 11, 1891, in Clark county, Missouri, while his parents, J. W. and Mrs. Orr Chapman, both now deceased, were there on a visit from their

3,000 See Spud Train in Display at Four Towns

With approximately 3,000 visitors thronging its displays at showings in Buhl, Jerome, Rupert and Burley, the Union Pacific's unique "potato train" moved into Twin Falls about 1 p. m. today.

Doors were opened at 1:30 and the vanguard of a throng that is expected to exceed 1,000 persons and may pass the 2,000 mark began to pass through the train.

The "later special" was shown at Buhl from 8:30 a. m. to noon today, and 700 persons inspected its varied exhibits and demonstrations, read the information contained in illustrative layouts, and conferred with University of Idaho and Union Pacific experts who form the staff.

Travelers hold the high attendance mark thus far, according to Joe L. Fred, Jr., railroad public relations representative who accompanied the train. The Minidoka county seat provided a throng of 806. Jerome topped 701 persons through the train and Burley 634.

Free spuds, potatoes, with butter, were given out this afternoon to the visitors who flocked to the railroad siding near the depot. Coffee and cream completed the "treats."

Two Men Admit Burley Perjury

BURLEY, Jan. 27 (Special)—J. L. Henry, Alton, and Harry Clifford Wilson, Twin Falls, pleaded guilty today in probate court to the felony of perjury on the witness stand yesterday. They await preliminary hearing and will go before the district judge Monday. Their bonds were set at $1,500 each.

At 2 a. m. today the jury found Henry guilty of swearing a thrashing machine belt, valued at $40, from H. O. Christopherson, DeW. Henry had previously been found guilty in probate court but appealed to the district court.

E. T. Lewis was attorney for the defense and Adonis Nelson prosecuted for the state.

Henry, P. D. Hays stated this morning that he "tried to succeed in getting to the bottom of additional instances of suspected perjury in other cases at this term of district court."

Detective Sues Film Executive

NEW YORK, Jan. 27 (AP)—Daniel A. Kerr, police detective, charged today in a suit in city court, that Jack Olson, vice-president of Columbia Pictures and Harry W. Johnson, former promoter, owe him $2,317 for his work in spying on Prita Kuhn and the German-American bond.

Kerr said he was engaged by the defendants in August, 1938, and for the next five weeks he spied on Kuhn and Johnson and their associates and sent Mrs. Virginia Costello, who figured in the recent Kuhn trial.

RUSSIANS BATTER AT FINNS' LINES FOR SEVENTH DAY

HELSINKI, Jan. 27 (AP)—Russian troops which yesterday renewed their offensive against the Finns northeast of Lake Ladoga suffered heavy losses and some attacking detachments were entirely cut to pieces, an official Finnish communique announced today.

The communique said also a Russian submarine had been destroyed in a Finnish mine field.

Finnish sources, relying in confidence on Finnish sources in throwing back the Russian attacks northeast of Lake Ladoga, said today they believed the battle was developing into a Russian defeat.

This was the seventh day of the Russian attack. It had not gained three miles, according to reports from the front, despite heavy expenditures in men and machines.

May Be Failure
Commenting on the apparently renewed preparations which the Russians made, and the weight they threw into the battle in an effort to flank the Mannerheim line, the Finns suggested the offensive must now be regarded a failure.

Several military observers expressed belief that even if the Russians continued their attack they would not now be able to break through since the Finns had taken and withstood the first shock of attack. They said they believed the Russian attack would continue to serve, and that the Finns could replenish their own materials and men because their communications are better.

Men 42, Called
Men of the first category of the class of 1898, now 42 years old, were ordered today to report to the colors Feb. 2. Those affected are men who have had military training.

An official statement said Russian planes dropped 140 bombs on eight Finnish cities and villages in northern Finland yesterday, killing one person and wounding three.

It was asserted the Russians used machine guns against civilians at several places and that in at least one case explosive bullets were used.

Senate Group Votes $10,000 For Mrs. Borah

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—A conservative appropriations subcommittee voted today to pay $10,000 to Mrs. William E. Borah, widow of the late Idaho Republican.

The payment, equivalent to a year's salary for Borah, is customary when members of congress die in office.

Mrs. Borah's fund will be carried in the $58,502,600 urgent deficiency bill, which was approved by the sub-committee today. Widows of nine deceased members of the house also will receive $10,000.

WHEELER GIVEN NORRIS SUPPORT FOR PRESIDENCY

By RONALD G. VAN TINE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—Sen. George W. Norris, Ind., Nebraska, today announced that he had named today that Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., was his choice for the presidency if President Roosevelt does not seek a third term.

"If President Roosevelt isn't the Democratic candidate and Wheeler is, I'd support him," Norris said. "I think Wheeler has made a wonderful record since he's served in the senate. He is fully qualified to be President."

Norris previously had announced his belief Mr. Roosevelt should seek a third term if an international crisis threatens the peace of this country.

Follows Lewis
Norris' endorsement of Wheeler came after the Montana senator was taken under the political wing of President John L. Lewis of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, and after indications that high American Federation of Labor officials and the railroad brotherhoods, independent unions, might support him for the Democratic nomination.

Wheeler addressed delegates at Lewis' United Mine Workers convention at Columbus, O., yesterday. He said then that he was a candidate for reelection to the senate. He did not mention the presidential race.

The Norris statement was his second during the past week on potential presidential candidates. In the first he praised the appointment of Robert H. Jackson as attorney general and said Jackson possessed qualifications not only for the cabinet post but for any other within the gift of the American people.

Jackson in 1944
Despite the warmth of that endorsement, friends of Norris said it was not aimed necessarily at producing Jackson into the forefront of the 1940 campaign. Norris is said to believe Jackson could run a stronger race in 1944.

Wheeler, whose arrival at the miner's convention was greeted by a band and much fanfare, kept the

City of Flint Skipper Tells Nazi Seizure

BAITMORE, Jan. 27 (AP)—Capt. Joseph G. Galt, skipper of the 4,963-ton freighter City of Flint, through 113 days of war time adventure, told today how his ship was seized by the Nazis in the Atlantic. He said the ship was taken with a German prize crew to regain possession of the vessel.

The City of Flint sailed into Baltimore harbor, American flags painted on both sides and its name in white letters three feet high inscribed on both sides of the hull. Galt, in an interview with the ship lay at anchor at quarantine, said that he had to admonish the crew to fight it out with the Germans but aboard the freighter by a Nazi sea raider, believed to have been the pocket battleship Deutschland.

"The officers and crew during the time the Germans were aboard," said Galt, "behaved splendidly under trying circumstances. If they had not held themselves in restraint we would have had plenty of trouble—there probably wouldn't have been a City of Flint."

Galt looked grim and was reluctant to discuss all the details of the strange "warfare" he said the Germans who seized the Flint Oct. 9, carried side arms and brought aboard in bags, which were unpacked, a machine gun, bombs and hand grenades. In one respect, his story varied slightly from that told by his first officer, Warren Rhodes, 40, of York, Penn., who said the Germans who guarded the Americans were side arms and carried two hand grenades each.

Galt said tribute to the Norwegian government and for the "gentle way" the Norwegians treated the City of Flint and its crew.

LEWIS ATTACKS DEMO PROGRAM

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 27 (AP)—President John L. Lewis of the Congress of Industrial Organizations said today that the action of labor he represented was working to provide more bread for the common people of America instead of "toadyism" to President Roosevelt and following the "half-baked" ideas of some Democratic party leaders.

Lewis renewed his demand that President Roosevelt summon a national economic conference to solve "America's No. 1 problem," unemployment, and said that only the Democratic leadership can tell the country why it has not solved the important question is not who will be the next President, but rather what does the Democratic party propose to do to solve acute national problems.

The CIO leader told a press conference that the Democratic leadership was making "a fatal defect" in assuming that labor had no other party to support, and he added that the Republican party "at least is frank in serving those who finance it, and does not profess to be friendly to labor."

Lewis said that to him the important question is not who will be the next President, but rather what does the Democratic party propose to do to solve acute national problems.

Governor Names John Thomas to Important Post

BOISE, Jan. 27 (AP)—John W. Thomas, a Republican, farmer and banker, prepared today to assume the senate seat of William E. Borah.

Unlike Borah he is an old-guard Republican, but he is an isolationist.

"I pledge myself to an undying fight in behalf of Senator Borah's often expressed determination to keep our nation out of war," he said. "I dedicate my services to those ideals of good government for which he so courageously and valiantly fought."

Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen appointed Thomas yesterday. It was the second time in 15 years Thomas had been named to the seat of a deceased senator.

He under Idaho law Thomas can serve by appointment only until this fall's general election. It was not known if he would be a candidate.

Statue of Borah Urged in Capitol

BOISE, Jan. 27 (AP)—A statue of the late Sen. William Edgar Borah, Idaho's greatest citizen, should be placed in the statutory hall of the national capitol in Washington, D. C., it was urged today by the Idaho Republican national committeeman, praised the selection.

Close Friend of Borah
"Thomas was a close associate of Borah and I often heard Borah express a high regard for Thomas," Whitlaw said.

Mr. Thomas was born on Jan. 4, 1874, at Prairieview, Kan., one of a family of nine children. He is 66 years old now and is the only man in the history of Idaho ever to receive an appointment as U. S. senator twice.

He has a varied background and among other things has been a counterman.

DOUBLE

BOISE, Jan. 27 (AP)—T. W. Gillison, Boise farmer, was a proud man today.

Mrs. Gillison presented him with a daughter at 5:45 a. m. His eldest daughter, Mrs. Joan Allen, gave birth to a girl at 9:15 a. m. the same day, making him both a father and grandfather within four hours.

"It is the hard way to do the job but it will save money, and we will get a better product," he declared.

O'Mahoney Urged As Candidate for Vice Presidency

BOISE, Jan. 27 (AP)—Sen. J. C. O'Mahoney, D. Wyo., should be the Democratic party's 1940 vice-presidential nominee, Rep. Compton J. White, D. Ida., said today.

"The nation needs a vice-president who can advise the President with first-hand information on western conditions and needs," White said. "O'Mahoney would be an ideal man for the job."

White left for his home in Clark's Fork, Ida., where he planned to stop briefly before returning to Washington, D. C.

BOISE, Jan. 27 (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey, Republican presidential aspirant, will find a full program awaiting him when he arrives in Boise on a western tour. Feb. 15, Ralph R. Breshers, Boise attorney, said today.

The program: 7:15 a. m. delegation of Republican notables meets Dewey and party staffers; 7:30 a. m. informal reception, Owyhee hotel; 11 a. m. visit to Caldwell for conference with farmer groups; 1:30 p. m. conference with state dignitaries; Boise; 6:15 p. m. Young Republican dinner, Hotel Boise.

DIRECT CONTRACT URGED BY EDISON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Charles E. Wilson today advocated direct negotiation of naval construction contracts which he said would cut the costs of warships now built by competitive bidding.

Wilson charged the requirement that contracts be given to lowest bidder results in "an unworkable ship" and huge wastage through alterations in plans and duplications.

He said the present law should be revised to allow the navy to negotiate contracts directly for standard types of ships on an overall basis after considering all proposals. He added, however, competition, as essential and that outside concern should be encouraged to promote new naval designs and ideas.

"It is the hard way to do the job but it will save money, and we will get a better product," he declared.

JAPAN ASKS BRITISH TO RECONSIDER PROTEST ANSWER

NOTE DETAILS TO BE KEPT SECRET AWAITING REPLY

By H. O. THOMPSON

TOKYO, Jan. 27 (Special)—Foreign Minister Hiroto Ariga was reported today to have asked Britain to reconsider her reply to the strong Japanese protest against action of a British warship in stopping the Japanese liner Asama Maru and taking therefrom 21 German seamen.

The British reply, handed to Ariga today by British Ambassador Sir Robert Cranley, was described officially by the Japanese as a "lengthy, legalistic document."

That Ariga asked the British to reconsider was reported by the Japanese Domei news agency and its report was supported by announcements in the British press which would not be made public immediately.

The cabinet was called for Monday to consider the statement on the Asama Maru incident which Premier Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai will make to parliament when it reconvenes next week.

An announcement regarding today's foreign office conference said: "The British government note handed to Foreign Minister Ariga by British Ambassador Cranley, although a copious one, contains nothing but legalistic expostions of British views. In today's interview Foreign Minister Ariga, without dwelling on the legal aspects of the case, strongly reiterated the British ambassador of Japan's position and demanded reconsideration by the British government from a broad viewpoint."

The foreign office indicated the British reply would not be published until next week and it would be released simultaneously in London and Tokyo.

THE CAPTAIN'S DAUGHTER
BY HELEN WORDEN

CHAPTER III
The telephone rang in Lynda Martin's library.
"Dorrit," she called, flinging down the morning paper, society side up, "will you answer that?"

At Varnet's signal, Marie stepped through the white velvet curtains. She was wearing the gown Lynda had chosen.
"Dan leaned forward. 'Don't change it. I have a good idea of the dress.'"

Today Dan's parents, could they have seen him, would have scented with conflicting emotions. Mrs. Donovan would have been proud of Dan's acquiescence. Mr. Donovan would have spluttered because Dan was not downtown at Donovan & Company.

You May Not Know That—
Fur traders sometimes called the Owyhee river the Sandwich Island river. The stream's name is a reference to the murder on its banks of two Hawaiian employees of the Northwest company in 1819, and at that time "Sandwich Islands" name for the islands—was used interchangeably with "Owyhee" the latter being the original spelling of "Hawaii."

Lynda settled back in her chair and puffed on the cigaret Dan had lighted for her. Varnet, I thought Mr. Donovan might get a kick out of seeing your place. He tells me he's never been here before.

Lynda gave Dan a bird-like glance, her face paling. "I wanted to try it on myself, Varnet," she said sharply. "The girl isn't exactly the type."

Once an infection of this type has occurred, there is little to be gained by methods of treatment.

FLYING PRODUCERS
MUSIC LOVERS,
FILM REGRETS
"A Smattering of Ignorance" by Oscar Levant (Doubleday, $2.50) sheds the light of an X-ray on modern music and musicians and further proves the wit and versatility of the author, whose "Information, Please" radio appearances have delighted the nation. Here is a brief excerpt, kind of the Levant's evaluation of music appreciation in Hollywood: "The level of musical perception among Hollywood producers is, if anything, slightly lower than their perception of values associated with the other arts. Curiously, the humble artists who are great music lovers (meaning that they will stand for six hours to hear Gligli in 'Pagliacci') never seem to be the humble artists who become movie producers."

Gooding Chamber Nominates Staff

Illustrated Talk on Famed Windows Set

An exceptionally interesting program is planned for the Fine Arts department of the Twentieth Century club next Tuesday afternoon at the American Legion Memorial hall, when Mrs. H. L. Hogsett will give an address on "The World's Great Stained Glass Windows."

Illustrating her talk, colored slides of famous cathedral windows will be projected on a 6x8 foot screen, and Fred Bell will operate the projector. Mrs. George Ward, speaking on the subject "Why This Picture Is Great," will discuss Leonardo da Vinci's "Last Supper," famous painting, which has also been duplicated in stained glass.

In addition to a general discussion of the subject, Mrs. Hogsett will refer in detail to the most famous cathedral windows, such as the great Rose window in England and France; the Eye windows of Italy; the windows in Rheims cathedral, Westminster abbey, Notre Dame, the great East window, Winchester cathedral in England; the famed window of Exeter and the Five Sisters window in Yorkminster.

As an example of modern technique, the stained glass window, "The Last Supper," at Forest Lawn Memorial park in Los Angeles, will be discussed in connection with pictures which Mrs. Hogsett has collected.

Mrs. R. A. Sutcliff will be chairman of the hostess committee, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Beaver, Mrs. F. B. Thompson, Mrs. A. A. Tamm, Mrs. George W. Torg and Mrs. E. M. Wolfe.

Finnish Benefit Card Party Set

Twin Falls Grange will sponsor a benefit card party Wednesday, Jan. 31, proceeds to go to the Finnish Relief fund, officials of the organization announced today.

Local of the party will be the Odd Fellows hall, and the play will begin at 8 o'clock. Pincushion bridge and Chinese checkers will be provided.

Attractive prizes will be presented and refreshments will be served. The home economics committee, Mrs. J. E. Feldhusen, Mrs. Nellie B. Crigg and Mrs. A. A. Miller, is in charge of arrangements.

Plans for the affair were made at a business session this week, preceding an address on the "History of Plastics" at a meeting of the Catholic Women's league this week at the parish hall. It was a repeat performance.

"Musical Mixer" Highlights Event

More than 100 persons attended a get-together this week at the First Presbyterian church, a "musical mixer" following the program, and games in the nuptial room completing the evening's festivities.

J. H. Glendon was chairman of arrangements. The program opened in the auditorium, Bill Pomeroy singing two songs followed by group singing with Mrs. Gerald Wallace at the piano.

Arnold Peterson played two cornet solos and the mixer followed, conducted a spelling match, word and marbling contest while the music stopped, when they stopped, introduced themselves, and resumed marching when the music, played by Mrs. Wallace, began again.

Rev. O. L. Clark, as a pedagogue, conducted a spelling match, word and marbling contest while the music stopped, when they stopped, introduced themselves, and resumed marching when the music, played by Mrs. Wallace, began again.

Buhl Keglers Lead Doubles Pin Tourney

Jerome Fisher and Rolly Homing of Buhl today held the lead in the race for the championship in the handicap doubles tournament at the bowling alleys.

However, only six pairs had rolled to date out of a probable 20 to 25 entries and the race was not too high, so it is doubtful how long it will stand.

Homing and Fisher had a 1,117 total for a three-game series with a 110 handicap.

In the singles handicap tourney, Fred Schmitt tops the list with a 582 total after a 36-pin handicap.

Manager Fred Stone announces that all entries must be in by the deadline of 4 p. m. Sunday and all games must be rolled by midnight Sunday.

Second Half Tees Off in Golf Tourney

DEL. MAR. Calif., Jan. 27 (UP)—The second half of the first round of the fourth annual Bing Crosby golf tournament teed off today in the field.

The field was so large that half the players posted their first round scores yesterday and the rest of the entries teed off to meet their qualifying round today.

John Thoren of Woodland, Mass., and Paul Gardner of Los Angeles, Calif., scored a best ball of 84 in the initial round. Jim Curran of Providence, R. I., and J. O. Earle of Hollywood, Calif., were tied for Charles Klein of Albee, Tex., and Bob Campbell of San Diego, Calif., with 86.

Cliff Spencer of Washington, D. C., topped the first half of the field in individual honors by carding a 68 for the first 18 holes.

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
(INEA Sports Editor)

NEW YORK — Although twice adjudged the international all-star shortstop and last year the league's most valuable player, Mickey White is happy to be starting at second base for the Giants this spring.

With all the honors heaped upon him in Newark, White has never wanted to play the shortstop. It is by inclination a guard, and he has been playing there since he was an all-star in the minors.

Although a product of the Yankee system, White did not believe he could make the world champion.

"If I did it probably would be as a utility man," he explained. "I'd be an old man before Joe Gordon would be moved. I'm not a superstar, so I don't get even thought of Frank Crosetti."

But White no doubt gave some thought to Gerald Friddy, who is coming up from Kansas City a year hence to replace Gordon, who is to be switched to shortstop, which position experts declare he excels even better than he does second base.

Bill Terry asserts that White, who has batted 24, will bounce his second base for the Polo Grounds even though the New Yorks had Jimmy McGee, the Detroit infielder, released a free agent by Judge Landis.

Mitch-Hillard to Camp. The Giants gave to the Camp club $25,000 and second baseman Alex Kampouris and catcher Tommy Padgett for White.

The Reds snuffed an opportunity to sign White in 1934, when he appeared at their Beckley, W. Va., spring training.

"When three of my friends were released without even being given a chance, we decided to go home," says White, who resides at Lakeside, Pa. "An excursion that night to Washington, D. C., helped us make up our minds."

White wasn't so sure of himself the following year, either. Admitted that he would receive his money if it made the grade, White and a fellow androider hitchhiked to the camp site. He got more out of the trip than his expense money, which he never received.

White was selected as the circuit's all-star second baseman... was sold to Norfolk, where he was the first baseman, Johnny Neum,

Thirteenth of 28 bowling articles.
By JOHNNY CRIMMINS

Another man of Detroit, Goebel, A.B.C. five-man team champion.
Bowlers place themselves on left side of alley in fourth spare position.

For "A" in accompanying diagram, face straight forward.
For "B," turn toes to right about one inch more than for "A."

The usual run should be taken.
At the conclusion of his first year, a bowler should average between 160 and 170. A year later he should have raised his average to 190. By this time he is in championship tournaments.

There are more than 90,000 alleys under the jurisdiction of the American Bowling congress, and no two are exactly alike.
Many things contribute to the difference in alleys, their finish and the temperature of the room among them. There are slow and fast alleys.

Some proprietors use a plain that practically emulates alleys. They call it oil.
What should be used is a dry solution, free of resin and oil.

This makes the alley level and is a safeguard against the ball skidding. The ball takes a grip... rolls naturally.
It is the difference in alleys which makes it imperative for a bowler to quickly find the spot 12 or 14 feet in front of him and which he must hit to obtain a respectable score.

Once a bowler is ready for the upper flight, the game is a question of breaks. If a bowler or 10 pin refuses to go down, well, that's what makes the sport, and has a star looking like a champ today and a clump tomorrow.

Temperament is as important in bowling as it is in golf. You must be able to laugh off bad breaks.
The more you fight the pins the worse you get.

WE PRACTICE FOR HANDICAP PIN TOURNEY

Those of you who have been hanging around the local bowling alleys in the past couple of weeks will have noticed this department getting in a little strenuous keep-er exercise in the bowling alleys.

Now, it's not because we're in dire need of the exercise that we're over there hitting one of those 10-pin balls and hearing it down the alley, it's not because we particularly enjoy the environment, and it's not because the air is so particularly refreshing in the bowling alleys.

Rather, the reason is that we've entered in the handicap tournament and with the handicap we've got, we're trying to make up for some 28 years of not bowling by getting in some extra practice.

We like the handicapping system—it gives everybody a chance. We won't say what kind of a chance—but we'll admit it's at least a chance to bow!

This is our "crab" day—so we'll offer these:

Why doesn't the high school get something that will start and stop a game without everybody on the bench getting up from their seats and shouting and whistling at the officials. A good buzzer could be installed that would cut an end to all the trouble there has been going on to date. Some day the lack of such an "instrument" is going to cause serious consequences.

While the Kimberly school board was fixing the gymnasium, why didn't it find some way to get some fish into the building?

Why doesn't somebody do a little sports promoting in Twin Falls—bowling, wrestling, skating, etc., would be just as enjoyable here as any place else.

And why doesn't Fred Stone give this department news of a bowling handicap?

Maybe we should start a one-man strike.

CLIPPED DOG SEEN AS LION ST. JOHN, N. B. (UP)—Drivers coming in from Newuigewak, a district in the north, have reported the presence of a lion running out on the roads during the evenings. The "lion" never was reported, but it is thought that it was a heavy-coated sheep dog which a farmer had clipped for the hot weather.

When a camel gets a stone hole in its foot, its driver puts in a leather shoe, sewing it firmly to the tough sole.

His favorite tutor and current Newark invader, he hit 316, stood out on double plays, was picked as an all-star and assigned to Birmingham's reserve list.

Foot Blinked The Yankee organization even considered moving Wick up to AA, for he worked out with Newark in the winter. He was the only man who was best out Gordon. It could not do, so he wound up in Birmingham, where competition forced him to the bench.

Wick was shipped back to Norfolk, where he hit 320 and was named the first all-star second baseman.

In 1924 Wick took Ham Bobbita from Kansas City, with Double A experience, at second base, and became the Yankees' handy man.

When an injury gave him a crack at shortstop, he batted .295, and much to his surprise was named as the Yankees' all-star shortstop for the season.

Although Neum spent hours drilling Wick in the throw from shortstop, he was not named as the second base assignment in 1929. But on a double play ball, the shortstop hit the ball, and through the ball, so there was Wick back at the position he disliked.

Yes, he played it so well that he was named as an all-star, but the most valuable athlete in the circuit. And it will be quite all right with the Giants if at second base he keeps in the habit of making the all-star bow!

Mac Warms Up For Annual Crosby Meet

By HENRY McLEMORE
DEL. MAR. Calif., Jan. 27 (UP)—

As a sort of guarantee to my tournament partner, Jimmy Thomson, that I would be at my very worst form when we tee off today in Bing Crosby's $50,000 national golf tournament, I took a final tune up over the Rancho Santa Fe course.

My playing partners represented everything but golf. One of them was Ty Cobb, still the best baseball player I ever saw.

One of them was Clarence Buddington Kelland, the novelist whose te ahola make you understand where he got the character of Scudder Baines. One of them was Grantland Rice, probably the surest man on a fourth put in America. Another was Broderick Johnson, the man who created the role of Lenny in Mice and Men, and another was Freddie Corcoran, tournament manager of the P. G. A.

Establish Records We established numerous records on our round. The first record I bagged was on the second hole when I had surpassed the number of hits he had made in 24 years in the major leagues. On this hole he bagged the ball for the 4-442nd time.

On the fifth hole Mr. Kelland perceived what the late King Carter said was the hardest and most spectacular shot in golf, an explosion shot off the tee. The ball went straight up in the air, far higher than either of the Ricards ever got in a balloon.

Mac Does His Bit On the seventh hole I did my bit by hitting a drive from a bad lie. I dug up a divot that was so large and so life-like that a large crowd of spectators gathered around to see me hit it. I hit it so hard and so fast that it flew into the air, and I was the only man to have a hole-in-one on this hole.

This did not dismay Crawford, because he is the only man to lose a new-re-paint ball without a scratch. Taking his snake with him from the next hole, he discovered he had drilled a bit of Rancho Santa Fe turf right between the eyes.

On the fifteenth hole Crawford, who is a city of "are we nice or are we men?" attempted to cut off the curve of a dog-leg. Needing only a drive of 400 yards, he whammed into the ball. For the first 125 yards it looked as if he might succeed. Then like a strike-malder, the ball dropped into a swamp into which no white man had ever set foot.

Corcoran, as tournament manager of the P. G. A., and whose association is normally with the Nelsons, Woods, Gulihah, Little and Searia was distressed and bewildered by the whole thing. Only 14 over par going to the sixteenth hole, Mr. Corcoran was a bit on the sneaky side. He was the only man with a par, and had the match gone 32 holes I have a sneaking feeling he would have been unbearable.

44 Entered in Ping-Pong

A total of 44 entries today had been posted for the annual city ping-pong tournament and 25 entries will be accepted up to 4 p. m. today, Jan. 20. It was announced today by Miss Verla Richards, city recreational director in charge of the event.

Play is scheduled to get under way on Wednesday and up to that time entries may be made by Miss Richards at 210 of the Times and News at 32 or 38.

Entries in the entry list to date are 17 in the boys' division, seven in the women's and 22 in the men's section. Trophies will be awarded champion by the Times and News.

WHEAT INSURING TASK SIMPLIFIED

Twin Falls county wheat growers can insure their spring wheat crops in a single operation—in most cases at the same time they sign the farm plan which indicates their intention to participate in the 1940 agricultural conservation program—Walter Reed, chairman of the county AAA committee, said this afternoon.
 "Federal crop insurance can be put into effect simply by indicating the number of acres to be insured, filling out the application and paying the premium. Growers already have been notified by the county committee of the cost of the insurance and the coverage allowable on their individual farms."
 The cost and coverage of crop insurance take into consideration production of the individual farm has had last year.
 "If a grower makes crop insurance a part of his yearly farming plan, over a period of years he may expect to receive indemnity for his premiums, and he will be safe from crop failures that otherwise might be too heavy to withstand. Crop insurance is easy to finance because premiums may be paid in cash or check, in warehouse receipts for actual wheat, or with a charge against payments to be earned under the agricultural conservation program."
 Feb. 29 is the last date on which applications for crop insurance will be accepted at the county AAA office.
