FINNS MASSIVE RED OFFENSE ON MANNERHEIM

Silver Shirts' Head Testifies Letters Forged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—William Dudley Pelley, mysteriously missing leader of the silver shirts, emerged from hiding today to testify before the house rules committee in the controversy between Rep. Frank Hook and the Dies committee.

NEW DEAL HEADS BACK PRESIDENT FOR THIRD TERM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt's cabinet associates and others, including such notable New Dealers as Sen. Claude Pepper, D. Fla., Sen. Joseph P. Carey, D. Penn., and National Committeeman Patrick Nash of Illinois today are beating a hasty third term.

Both From Carolina

Asked how he had found Pelley, Clark said, "Well, we both from North Carolina." Pelley was questioned by the Dies committee also regarding the letters, but later will explain the whole scope of the Silver Shirts activities.

Starnes told the rules committee, "It will remain here until we can hold an open hearing, before the press, in his activities and give him a chance to explain the charges made against him and his activities."

After being sworn in Pelley was handed the letters used by Hook for his testimony. "Gentlemen," he said, "None of these letters were written by me, composed by me, or signed by me. Pelley denied he had ever met Dies, talked to him on the telephone, or communicated with Dies since the continuation of the committee.

He said he had written to one member of the Dies committee, Rep. Jerry Voorhis, D. Calif.

Mr. Pettigrove will discuss Idaho agriculture generally, including all problems confronting northern Idaho farmers at the present time. He will "get down to brass tacks" in relation to marketing, transportation, inspection, advertising, statistics, research and future possibilities of Idaho crops.

Afternoon gathering will open at 2 p. m. at Idaho Hall and will present the talks by the other three speakers. Although full announcement of the speakers' names has not been made, it was indicated that the additional list will probably range from public utilities to political economy.

CO-OPS PROVIDE 22 Tanks Taken As Soviet Troops Fail to Advance

The cooperative efforts in America have come because the producer and the consumer "have had nothing to say about their own affairs," William A. Shullberg, president of the Utah Egg Producers' association, and also the National Grain Growers corporation said this afternoon in speaking at the fifteenth annual meeting of the Twin Falls County Co-operative Dairyman's association.

The session this morning was occupied with the reading of various reports and late afternoon resolutions were to be offered for adoption and two directors were named, one for the local unit and one for the Jerome Co-operative Dairyman's association.

"Through cooperation they have a voice in their own affairs. They learn of their own responsibility, which should bring them more intelligent toward their own independence."

"This movement permits them to control themselves and to standardize their products. It permits them to own their own marketing machinery and to establish their credit and to keep earnings and profits otherwise lost."

"The speaker also pointed out that such movements would also give power to the united efforts to select men for legislative positions who would have an understanding of the needs of the community and in turn will give consideration to the laws which are beneficial to agriculture."

"To improve buying power. This movement will give them an opportunity to improve their living conditions for themselves and their families by increasing the power will increase the market of all American industry."

"In fact the American farmer has lost in every part and in every section of the world. An American agriculture must be saved. It must be saved by the farmer himself."

"The speaker also pointed out that such movements would also give power to the united efforts to select men for legislative positions who would have an understanding of the needs of the community and in turn will give consideration to the laws which are beneficial to agriculture."

HELSINKI, Feb. 6 (AP)

today said the Finns had turned back powerful new Red army attacks on the Mannerheim line, on the central front and north of Lake Ladoga, where Russian forces were reported attacking desperately in an attempt to avoid being isolated from their own lines.

The communique indicated the Red army was attacking on all central and southeastern fronts yesterday in greater force, using more than 100 tanks in new thrusts at the center of the Mannerheim line on the Karjalain isthmus.

Several hundred Russian dead were left on the field north of Lake Ladoga, the communique said, in relating equipment and the most critical battlefields of the war. Officials continued silent on reports to Scandinavian newspapers that the Russian Red army had been cut off north of the lake and that another Red army division was in danger of being trapped there.

Fierce Fighting The fiercest fighting, according to the communique, appeared to be on the field before the Pukarila islands and along the shores of Lake Ladoga, where the Russians had been reported pounding at Finnish lines two weeks in vain at an attempt to encircle the lake and flank the Mannerheim line.

(AP Stockholm) The official Swedish news agency reported today that it was "confirmed" that the 18th Red army division had been cut off and was in a critical position. The fighting continued northeast of the lake in the Kizilear sector where the Russians were said to have suffered heavy losses in men and material.

According to the communique, yesterday's fighting was on these fronts:

22 Tanks Captured Mannerheim line—A terrific Russian attack was launched between Summa and Haplanhahinjervi, with long artillery barrages and heavy losses twenty-two Russian tanks were captured.

North of Lake Ladoga—The Russians left several hundred dead on the field before Pukarila islands and on the coast.

Lieksa-Kuhmo sectors—Russian attacks were repulsed.

Salla north central sector—The Russian central sector in the Salla area and near Harjavalta.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Feb. 6 (AP)—Finnish troops wiped out a detachment of 50 Russian parachute troops who landed in the Rovaniemi area in northern Finland.

The Finns were using in dynamite a bridge. It was asserted, when Finnish troops attacked them and wiped them out.

Anti-aircraft gunners saw the parachutists descending. It was said, and a swift attack was launched to wipe out the British fighter. The Finns tried to drive through the valley to blow up the railway bridge and were usually warmly clad for Russians.

Coaching King

Speaking of successful coaching, George W. Phelps' lightweight football teams at Colton, Calif., whose high school have been undefeated—and were tied—in 24 games during three seasons. His varsity basketball teams have lost one of 136 games. He never played football, was awarded a gold medal by Harms Athletic Foundation for "successful coaching."

His Pluck Carried Team to Win

Thirty yards from the finish line in the downhill race at Sun Valley, Jimmy Worden, Tahoe City, Calif., skier, broke a leg. Gammely he struggled up and fought across the finish line to take sixth place. These points enabled the California team to win the Jeffers cup, which Worden holds in a Reno, Nev., hospital.

STRIKES to SPARE With Fred Stone

Dell's got away with three-out of four in their battle with the Zip-Way boys. Elmer Hagler topped down 502 of those pins for high three-game total. Hag's 225 middle game was the top single for both teams.

N. O. Johnson got 568—a very nice total. Bill McDonald turned in a total of 562 with a third game of 205. Hag's 225, Bill's 205 and Cokan's 216 were the only 200 scores of the evening.

Ray Fret got 518 for his share. Clancy Bruggemann is "it" next week.

Les Cowan, with 561, led the losers—crowded all the way by Johnnie Wagner who got himself 542 for his share. Gish and Paulson tied with 508 and Mr. Westergren was way behind.

Not so good in the City League match between Halle's Conoco and Perrin hotel. Lots of spills. Coly Conoco led both teams by a large margin with 556 to his credit. His middle game of 200 even was the only 200 for both sides.

Keith Coleman collected 503 pins for his three games. These were the only 500 or better totals for either team.

Tops for Perrine was a 404 by Switzer. However, low for the hotel boys was a 400 by N. Sack. Twenty-five pins between high and low, which is consistent bowling.

Perrine had free bowling last night.

Irish Extremists Blast New Bombs at British

PROTEST STARTS AGAINST HANGING OF TWO MEMBERS

LONDON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Terrorist retaliation against death sentences imposed on two bomb throwers of the Irish Republican army began today with explosions in postal and railroad centers.

Explosions at the Euston railroad station were followed by explosion of a parcel in the Birmingham post office. A postal worker was injured in the Birmingham blast, which was similar to past IRA outrages.

A third bombing occurred at Manchester when a parcel in the post office shortly after exploded. None was injured but some mail was destroyed.

Mail Explosions

The explosions at the Euston station were in two mail pouches consigned to Birmingham, where they were opened by James Richardson, IRA terrorist, who had tomorrow for a Coventry bombing.

Meanwhile the home secretary received urgent, last minute appeals for clemency for the two men condemned for the worst in a long series of outrages attributed to the IRA in their fight for the union of Eire and North Ireland.

The appeals, came from Eire's prime minister, Eamon de Valera, the protestant archbishop of Dublin, and political and civic organizations throughout the Irish free state.

The British attorney general ruled yesterday there was no basis for appealing for the men's release, and refused them an appeal to the House of Lords, their last resort.

Threats Given

Some of the appeals from Eire contained vague threats that British would be held responsible for "what may follow" the executions, and extraordinary precautions were being taken against a new outbreak of terrorism.

British authorities said there was no basis for leniency because no mitigating circumstances had been shown and furthermore the Coventry bombing, in which five were killed, was the third instance in which I. R. A. outrages had taken lives.

ENGLAND, JAPAN RELEASE VIEWS

TOKYO, Feb. 6 (AP)—Japan and Great Britain today published their diplomatic correspondence covering a series of exchanges between the two nations in the Japanese seizure of German seamen from the Japanese steamer Asama Maru, which rejected the legal arguments of the Japanese and Japan reiterated her demand for release of the sailors.

The Japanese foreign office merely made the notes public while the British government in London released them as a government white paper to parliament.

The British reply of Jan. 27 to a strong Japanese protest argued that removal of the seamen was justified because German law made them liable to military service. Their training, combined with the circumstances of their return to Germany, indicated they were destined for submarine service.

Explanation Rejected

On Feb. 1 the Japanese rejected the British note and replied to the British explanation as contrary to international law.

Britain, the Japanese said, had not submitted proof that the 21 German seamen seized by the British were members of the German armed forces. Accordingly, Japan "requested" their return.

On Feb. 5 Britain reiterated her inability to accept the validity of the legal arguments of the Japanese. Feb. 1 note. The British reaffirmed their right under international law to remove the Germans.

Not for Military Service

An investigation at Hongkong had disclosed the British said, that the seized Germans were relatively unsuitable for military service. Accordingly, the British offered an amicable settlement while covering all legal bills. Britain said she was prepared to release nine of the seized Germans at a time and place to be fixed later. Foreign Minister Hachiro Arata said this was not satisfactory and his government would continue negotiations to effect release of all 21.

Patriotic Song On Program for Town Hall Club

Because the theme of Thursday's Town Hall lecture will stress a "better America, the expected audience of more than 200 persons will chime in with community singing of "God Bless America."

The noted American philosopher and traveler will speak on "The Fight for a Better America." The lecture is scheduled for 8 p. m. Thursday at the high school auditorium in Twin Falls.

Three hundred copies of "God Bless America" will be distributed by Town Hall officials as the audience files into the hall before the lecture.

The government regulated international mail in Mexico City is down as the Monticute Period, or Mount of May.

How Stage Positions Are Mapped

Arranging of stage positions and location of "props" for the Twin Falls play "Cello Zero" is no haphazard guesswork. Here you see the miniature stage used in studying stage position and directing in the play production class. Miss Florence M. Reed, director of the dramatics department, is standing at left. Confering with her are John Babcock, left, electrician for high school productions, and Larry Arma, right, stage manager.

proven himself competent and has passed "a proper" examination covering the field in which he is engaged.

The businessmen also offered a list of "suggestions" which they asked those applying for junior grade certificates. Submission of these questions caused Clay Smith, a member of the electrical examining board, to say that "the questions worried" slightly that a man knew anything about wiring.

It is Detweiler's contention that a junior grade should be provided and that the examination there should cover only certain, specified work.

Kochler Dies

At one point during the lengthy discussion, Mayor Joe Kochler said that the present ordinance tends to "regulate people out of their jobs" in that it does not provide for any type of worker but the journeyman.

"We are not asking for any part of a particular individual in this matter but I have always figured that everybody had a right to make a living," Kochler said.

WPA Pays Salaries

He declared that the WPA would pay the salaries of the recreation leaders, amounting to $10,272 a year. He pointed out the popularity of the unit and asked that the council reach a decision as to whether or not it would aid by paying the unit and another, the popular council, notified of this decision by March 1.

'BACK TO FARM' MOVEMENT GAINS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—The "back to the farm" movement of recent years still is in progress, but those returning to the "land" are not farming.

That is one of the major results the decennial census, beginning April 1, is expected to show. Others are:

Secrecy of jobs for persons in "teen" ages.

Sharp increase in the number of unskilled women at work or seeking employment.

These advance predictions were made by the commerce department today on the basis of a test census taken last summer in what is considered two representative counties—St. Joseph and Marshall counties, Ind.
